TWO HONORED UPON GOLDEN WEDDING DATE

By CHARLES P. ASHCRAFT
Fitting homage was paid to Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Browning of the Cheaney community Wednesday, Oct. 30, when more than 100 relatives and friends met at their rural home to celebrate their Golden Wedding Anniversary. Fifty years ago near Desdemona, in Eastland County, these two people plighted together in holy wedlock. There are six living children, who grew to manhood and womanhood at the place where their home was established 42 years ago.

There were present for this commemorative event six persons who had attended their wedding in those early years of this county.

Their many friends massed a collection of useful and lovely gifts which more than overflowed the main centerpiece of the living room.

But perhaps most impressive of the ceremonies was that which came at the dinner table that had been arranged on the lawn of the home. Here a meal of delicious food had been placed. When all had gathered about the table, Rev. H. B. Johnson of Ranger spoke briefly, extolling most impressively the faith and virtues of God's ordained estate of life, climaxing the event by having the honored host and hostess renew, and rededicate their love, confidence, and devotion in a beautiful ring ceremony. Grace was then spoken.

Invited for the occasion were six persons who had attended their wedding, as follows:

Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Cheaney, Snyder, Okla.; Mrs. Ed Cook, Snyder, Okla.; Mrs. Atticus Jones of Mountain Park, Okla.; R. Lee Yardley of Ranger, and Mrs. Ora Gentry.

Children and families: Mr. and Mrs. Leander Browning and three children, Bakersfield, Texas; Mrs. Nancy Mason and Bobby Ann, Crane, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Thomas and children, Clyde and Clarence, Pep, New Mexico; Mr. and Mrs. Obie Elrod and two children, Ranger.

Other relatives: Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Browning, Whiteflat, Texas; Mrs. J. H. Morton, Mrs. Mae Scott and Coy Scott, Murchison, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. Jay Nelson and son, Albany, Texas; Mrs. Catherine Carter and two children, Albany, Texas; Atticus Jones, Mountain Park, Okla.

Local: Messrs. and Mesdames A. H. Dean, G. D. Barton, B. E. Thomas and four children; A. R. Lawrence, J. P. Strickler, Jim Howard and three children; Hollis Snell, Oscar Strickland and son; E. M. Campbell, F. E. Ferrell and two children; J. M. Robinson, Jid Blackwell, Joe Blackwell and two children; R. J. Taylor, J. A. O'Donnell, John Love, W. A. Love, R. Y. Lindsey, Chas P. Ashcraft.

Mesdames Veta Perry, G. O. Smith and three children; E. E. Blackwell and two children; C. E. Dean; Lena Thomas; Sallie Rogers, Dick Weekes and baby; Mrs. Alice Cook, J. U. Elrod, T. L. Scott, J. B. Griffith, E. D. Patterson, B. F. Herrington, S. R. Rodgers, Mattie Walton.

Messrs. J. E. Bryan, B. C. Weekes, R. E. Harper, Geo. Harper, Harold Ham, W. G. Slater of Crane, Texas; Rev. H. B. Johnson.

The host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Browning.

Two sons and families, Henry A. Browning, Exeter, Calif., and Horace A. Browning, Compton, Calif., could not be present, but sent remembrances.

Ranger Girl Is In Scholastic Society

ABILENE, Tex.—Vivian Fulbright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Fulbright of Ranger, has been selected by a faculty committee for membership in Abilene Christian college's Alpha Chi, national scholastic society.

Only students in the upper ten percent of their classes scholastically are eligible for this honor which also considers character and leadership. Scholastically, this is one of the highest honors achievable.

Leon Reese, senior of Abilene, is president of the club this year with Paul C. Witt, head of Abilene Christian College's science department, sponsor. Dr. Witt is also regional president of the national group.

BULLDOGS AND MAVERICKS TO PLAY FRIDAY

The Ranger Bulldogs invade Welch Field, Eastland, Friday afternoon at 2:30 for a continuation of the annual grid battles that have marked friendly rivalry between the two schools for the past two decades.

The Bulldogs, defeated in every start this season, and who have not scored a touchdown, are going into the game as underdogs, but there is plenty of determination among the team members, and a good game is in prospect.

With a better showing so far this season, the Mavericks are rated by most followers of the game as having an edge on the Bulldogs this year, for the first time since 1937, and they, too, are looking forward to a victory on their home field Friday afternoon.

Although they have been trampled in every game this year, the Bulldogs have gone down fighting and are gaining in badly needed experience with every game. Because of their determination some rate them as having an outside chance of winning over the Mavericks, or at least a chance to break their streak of scoreless games by sneaking over a touchdown.

On the other hand the Mavericks, too, have gained considerable experience since some of their early season defeats, and are expected to be as much, if not more improved than are the Bulldogs. And thereupon hangs the basis for predictions that it should be a good game, with the Mavericks favored to come out the winners.

Both teams are in pretty good physical shape, with few minor injuries, and the full strength of both teams should take the field at the beginning of the game.

BEAN 30 INCHES LONG
By United Press
AUBURN, Neb.—Gardeners take note. Mrs. Roy Harrison lays claim to some sort of prize when she grew "two beans, one 27 inches long, 24 inches around and the other 30 inches long and 24 inches around—and she has pictures to prove it."

GREEKS HOLD ITALIANS ON ENTIRE FRONT

Surprising Greek resistance to Italian forces continued today as the invaders of Greece, hampered by bad weather, seemed stalled along most of the mountainous fighting line.

Both sides made bombing attacks, the Greeks presumably having British aid. Russia denied, officially, that any Russian planes were being used by the Greek fliers.

Greek-German relations continued delicate but no direct break was indicated. The Greeks watched carefully for any possible fifth column outbreak of German "tourists" in that country.

The Italians claimed to have penetrated 17 miles into Greece at one point, but both sides agreed that the main Greek defenses had not been engaged as yet. Rome newspapers said that Greece can expect no help from her Balkan neighbors.

German and British bombers continued to swap aerial blows, despite bad weather, and London's anti-aircraft defenses went into action on a large scale again tonight. The worst damage reported in London was a bomb hit on an apartment house. No reports of casualties were issued.

A Berlin source declared that all occupied European countries have ample food for this winter, with the possible exception of Norway, although all the countries lack fats.

Vice Premier Laval of France said in Paris that the French-German collaboration agreement does not include the use of French bases by the axis forces for the purpose of "aggression." He did not explain his statement further.

Cotton Receipts For Year To Be Above Last Year

AUSTIN, Texas—With cotton valued at $100,000,000 still to be ginned in Texas, Texas farmers may expect total receipts from their 1940 crops to climb above those of 1939, a University of Texas economist predicts.

Cash income from the sale of farm products during the first nine months of 1940 was estimated by Dr. F. A. Buechel, statistician for the University's Bureau of Business Research, at $264,940,000, or about 8 per cent under the first three-quarters of 1939.

Only 1,500,000 bales of an estimated crop of 3,500,000 bales had been ginned this year to October 1, he pointed out, while of an actual crop of 2,800,000 bales last year ginnings to October 1 had cleared out all except about 832,000 bales.

"Thus, assuming that the value per bale of cotton and cottonseed continues to be virtually the same as during the corresponding period a year ago, the value of cotton still to be ginned this year is about $100,000,000, whereas last year the value of the cotton and cottonseed ginned after September was only about $40,000,000," he concluded.

"It is less certain, but highly probable, moreover, that cash income from Texas livestock and livestock products during the remainder of the year will be well above that received from these sources during the last three months of 1939."

Receipts from the sale of farm products during September totaled $76,227,000 compared with $80,074,000 during September last year, a decline of 4.8 per cent.

NYA To Construct Residence Center

AUSTIN, Texas—Continuing its program for the expansion and establishment of NYA Projects along national defense lines, the National Youth Administration is constructing a workshop building, 192' x 64', in Cuero, according to J. C. Kellam, state NYA administrator. Sixty local boys are employed on the construction job.

Kellam said the City of Cuero, in cooperation with the NYA, will also construct facilities for an NYA Full-time Resident Center for boys. This Resident Center will include a dormitory and a dining room in which to house and to feed one hundred boys.

At its completion the one hundred boys who will be quartered in the NYA Resident Center will receive, under competent foremen at the workshop, basic work experience in the fundamentals of radio technique, sheet metal work, metal work, woodworking, and automobile mechanics.

O'Daniel, Like Former Governors, Has Been Plagued By Problems Of The Present State Prison System

By GORDON K. SHEARER
United Press Staff Correspondent
AUSTIN, Tex.—Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel, like many former governors, has been plagued by prison problems.

Each governor is confronted with inquiry why an institution with 73,128 acres of land, the equipment of the prison system, and free labor, can't show a profit but needs about $1,500,000 a year to make ends meet.

Twice efforts have been made to swing the prisons from farming to manufacturing. Both times the movement has failed. Governor O'Daniel's announcement that experts from Agricultural and Mechanical College now are working on plans for "production plantations" for diversified farming, indicates that the prison board has decided to do the best it can with farming as the principal prisoner occupation.

Denver Chesnut, Kenedy newspaper publisher and member of the prison board, said recently that the principal draw-back to successful operation of the prison system from a financial standpoint is its many scattered units.

How difficult a problem this presents is shown by the latest prison report which reveals that for a year an average of but one fifth of the prisoners were "within the walls" at Huntsville prison. The others were scattered among farms at Hobby, Sugarland, Sandy Point, Brazoria, Weldon, Richmond, Otey and Snipe, except for about 100 women and 480 invalids in farms near Huntsville, detached from the main prison.

An industrial prison has been recommended in two surveys made in recent years. In 1929 the prison board accompanied by a committee from the state legislature spent three weeks visiting various prisons and reported that an industrial prison could be made self-sustaining.

Cools Off Hot Texas Aggies

George (Monoplane) Blackburn, Texas A. & M. water boy, appears to be only one capable of cooling off Aggies, who haven't lost since late in 1938 season. Blackburn does it with water-filled spray gun, tank for which is strapped to back.

This is Jinx Faikenberg, model and magazine cover girl. What did she do? Well, she not only appeared mysteriously as a guest at the East's most difficult-to-crash debutante party, the Tuxedo Park, N. Campaigns Getting Up Full Speed As Election Day Nears

Presidential candidates kept up a grueling campaign pace today as Wendell Willkie, republican nominee, said his administration could speed up armament production until an order of 12,000 planes by Great Britain "would not even be news."

President Roosevelt announced such an order last night. New York republican leaders said that Edward Flynn, democratic campaign manager, was trying to "suspend" Secretary Stephen Early, who kicked a negro policeman during an altercation, until after the election, because of the bad effect upon the negro vote.

Railroad Places a $21,000,000 Order For New Equipment

CHICAGO, Oct. 31.—Santa Fe Railroad officials today announced a $21,000,000 equipment buying program as a "part" of its 1941 expansion.

The order includes 2,800 new freight cars, 20 all-steel passenger coaches and two locomotives.

Dallas Texas Joins United States Navy

By United Press
DALLAS, Tex.—Dallas Texas joined the navy. Not that the nearly 300,000 residents of this city marched up to the recruiting officer for a "hit" on Uncle Sam's battle wagons—just a youth from Sapulpa, Okla., named Dallas Texas Bane enlisted.

Bane said he did not know of any reason he had been named for the Texas city unless it was because his parents had lived near here when he was born.

Gunners On RAF Planes Send Own Missiles for Nazis

LONDON, Oct. 31.—Rear gunners of British bombers love to send "messages" of their own on bombing trips over Berlin. Squadron Leader R. Collard told the press today.

The gunners, who get bored sitting through the long trip waiting for attack from enemy planes, often drop bricks as their contribution to the raids.

One such "personal calling card," he said, was that of a gunner who dropped home-made bricks marked: "Love from Harry."

Other gunners make their own incendiary bombs, sometimes in tin cans from the squadron mess. One, a textile clerk in civilian life, showed great inventive genius in making his "private" bombs which he tossed out with his own hands, Collard said.

Rains Fall Over a Portion of State; Cold Weather Due

Rains fell over most of Texas last night and colder weather was forecast for tonight.

Fort Worth had 1.32 inches of rain, Wichita Falls 2.75, Waco .91 and Brownwood .49. The rain at Fort Worth was the heaviest in four months.

Poultry Shipments Ahead of Last Year

AUSTIN, Texas—Five million carloads of Texas chickens were shipped to interstate points in month than during September, 1939. University of Texas statisticians reported today.

Working in conjunction with the Agricultural Marketing Service, the University Bureau of Business Research reported cars of dressed chickens were shipped out during September in comparison to 9 for a similar period last year. No turkey shipments were forwarded.

Out-of-town egg shipments increased from 44 to 76.5 cars.

Forward March of the Common People

Speeches made in wartime by the statesmen of nations at death grips are not always distinguished by temperate and balanced reasoning. They run to bluster and bluff, to intimidation and deception and the phony phrase. You have to weigh a bushel of counterfeit coin to find one that rings true.

But when a sentence or a phrase really rings true, it stands out of the mass of phrases like a rocket fired upward into the dark of night.

Such a phrase was uttered by Winston Churchill in his broadcast to the people of France. "Vive la France!" he cried. "Long live France, and long live also the forward march of the common people."

The forward march of the common people!

What else is worth striving for in our common activities banded together as society, as government? Churchill is speaking American language here, language that might have come from Tom Paine, or Andy Jackson, or William Jennings Bryan, or Abe Lincoln.

There have been many questionings about the British war aims. British leaders have been remarkably reticent about just what they are fighting for. What about the class-bound Society of England, people ask; what about a free India? British statesmanship answers not, intent only on the battle.

Thus it is like a ray of the rising sun to hear Churchill thunder a pledge to the forward march of the common people.

That is what the world fears might be halted by new philosophies which stripped the common people of their manhood and left them mere senseless cogs in a state machine rolling relentlessly onward to national glory and the aggrandizement of an elite few daring to call themselves alone fit to rule. The world fears that this long forward march might be nullified and halted after all the bloody centuries.

Every country is democratic while engaged in an overwhelming military effort. England is democratic today in the bomb shelters.

Will Churchill dare to allow resumption, after the war, of the onward march of the common people? Will he dare NOT to allow it?

The office blond is a bit confused in her world news. She understands Adolf and Benito have been in a huddle and are going to try a Brenner pass.

Confederate Still Seeks Yankee Who Hit Him on Head

DALLAS, Tex.—It's only been 76 years, but R. P. Scott, Confederate veteran, still is looking for the "damnyankee who slugged me on the head."

Scott, a resident of Seagoville, 12 miles from here, was one of the old settlers and pioneers of Dallas county who met recently in their 65th annual reunion.

He joined the Confederate army in Arkansas in 1864 and fought in one of the last battles of the war at Mansfield. It was there that he lost an eye and got the knock on the head.

"I'm still looking for the left-handed damnyankee who hit me over the head with a rifle butt after I had fallen to the ground wounded," the 93 year-old veteran said.

This year's reunion, attended by old-timers of the county who remember the days when there used to be a toll bridge over the Trinity River and the curse put on the courthouse clock by a condemned man, was held a month later than usual.

"I figured it was a better time to have it," President Epps G. Knight said, "on account of the young 'uns who used to spoil our reminiscing and square dancing are either picking cotton or going to school."

It was at an early-day lynching that the clack was damned.

"When they hung that feller he said the old courthouse clock never would strike again, and by gosh it never did," mused one of the old timers. "Always did figger he was innocent."

mops, soap, paint products, cement, and tobacco products. A cotton oil mill also could be operated, he said. Net profit of $28,075 was shown last year for mechanical operations.

An attempt to abandon the old prison system with its scattered farms and build a modern single-unit prison near Austin caused one of the biggest fights in the legislature during the administration of Governor Dan Moody.

Backers of a central farm at a new location said a site near Austin would be desirable because it would make supervision easy and because it would be practical to supply many of the state eleemosynary institutions in the Austin area with dairy, and other food supplies from prison farms. A minority report of the 1929 survey committee opposed the approach to Austin and recommended that a new prison be built on Imperial Farm about 20 miles south of Houston. So wide difference of opinion was found that the prisons remained in their old status with some small appropriations for improvements.

Some idea of the extent of farming operations in the prison system at present can be gained from the last annual report. The prison farms supplied 5,393 bales of cotton, 2,775 barrels of rice,

Home Missions To Receive Attention

HOUSTON, Tex.—A new missionary program, which would emphasize religious work in the United States instead of in foreign fields, will be proposed at the Baptist General Convention in Houston November 12 to 15, it was indicated today.

"Foreign work will not stop in any nation where our mission projects are in force," Dr. R. C. Campbell, executive mission secretary, said "but special emphasis will be put on religious work in the home land... among negroes and foreign speaking people."

Campbell said a great deal of this work would be concentrated in Texas, where several hundred full time workers supported by the organization operate among Mexican, Chinese, German and Czech districts.

"War conditions in Europe, the Orient and Africa will undoubtedly affect foreign mission plans for 1941," he added.

Other business before the convention will include discussion of an enlarged budget for 1941, providing for an increase in apportionments for eight convention-owned schools, four Baptist hospitals and supplementary support of religious workers at many small churches and mission points in the state.

RANGER, TEXAS

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

By Boyce House

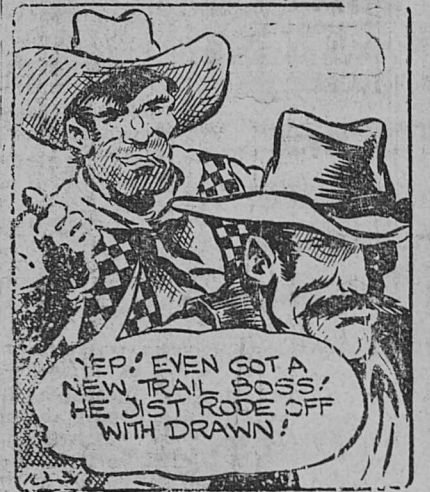

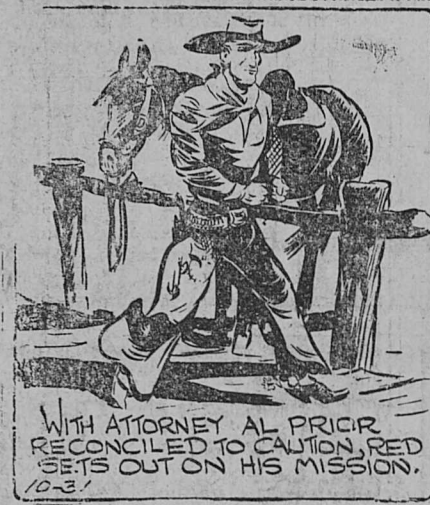

Mose vivid memory brought away from Laredo on a visit last summer during the American Legion state convention was the sight of a gray-haired veteran, seated at a piano in a hotel lobby, his eyes sightless but a smile on his features as he played "Romona" and lifted his voice in rollicking song with the words of a parody, "Kinono." That example of cheer and courage, in the face of a night that will not disappear until life ends, should make any man-blessed with eyesight, hearing and sturdy legs and arms-ashamed at having allowed petty troubles to dismay or anger him.

Reference to the recent election of a former schoolmate, Clifford Davis of Tennessee, to Congress brought to mind the fact that another schoolmate of mine has served in that august body. Webber Wilson and I went to school together in Coldwater, Miss., through he was a senior and I was only in the seventh grade; but we became comrades as we waited down at the depot in the late afternoon for "Ole Miss" (the I. C. train) to arrive with the evening News-Scimitar from Memphis and he quoted the poems of Poe and of Tennyson.

All of us knew that Webber was going to be a statesman or a

Rev. Thomas Taafe of Mineral Wells is the speaker at each of the meetings and he has brought subjects of interest to all. This evening he will speak on "Confessions of Sins, Good for Soul and Body." Friday evening his subject will be "Why I Am a Catholic."

The public, whether Catholic, Protestant or Jew, is invited to attend.

Aviation Students To Be Lion Guests Thursday, Nov. 14

In order to promote more interest in the Ranger Airport and in the student instruction that is being given through Ranger Junior College, the Ranger Lions Club will be host to all aviation students and all prospective students at an evening meeting to be held Thursday, Nov. 14.

Each club member will each have one or more students, or prospective students, as guests at the meeting, at which aviation and its possibilities in Ranger will be stressed.

Adolf is reported getting himself in Dutch with the Dutch. Possibly because the Dutch want the food problem to be on a Dutch tread basis.

great lawyer, or both. Once, a mock trial was held and he was the prosecutor. He made such a ringing speech that some of the students took the rope from the school bell and threatened to "lynch" the "defendant".

When the village miser died, somebody asked, "How much did he leave?" My Granpa said, "He left it all."

School furniture and theater seats made in Texas are shipped to Mexico, Puerto Rico and almost all parts of the United States. Only recently, a Texas manufacturer located in Temple provided the seats for a new theater in Salt Lake City. Of the five big trucks owned by the concern, one is on the Temple-Chicago run continuously, some 20,000 desks a year going to the latter city.

The only plant of the kind west of the Mississippi River or south of Chicago, the Temple concern is locally owned and is actively directed by two native sons of Bell County A. P. Brashear, manager from the beginning, and C. V. Griggs, assistant manager. These two men and two others comprised the entire personnel when the factory was started just 12 years ago. At the height of the season now, 200 workers are employed, besides the office and sales force.

A market for many Texas products is provided (Texas hardwoods, Texas cotton and Texas paints. This observer found a trip through the big factory a revelation. Wood is curved into all sorts of shapes by means of water and steam and pressure. Solid sheets of steel are cut in strips and fabricated into chairs, desks and tables by skilled workers using powerful machines and, by means of a paint gun, the pieces are colored with amazing speed. Just another proof of the industrial possibilities of this State.

This-and-that: A Fort Worth coffee shop menu lists a "Farm Hand Special" consisting of "seven eggs, ham steak, fried potatoes (heaps), loaf of bread, toasted, and coffee till you say stop."

One Texas hotel if you leave a call will ring you at the designated time and then, five minutes later, call you again to make sure you've gotten up. Imagine no more confidence in the guests than that! They had the effrontery to do me that way, doggone 'em. Yes, I had gone back to sleep.

THE PAY OFF

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Service Sports Editor

ARMY appears down, but Navy is definitely up, and Maj. Swede Larson doesn't mind saying so. In praising his material and being optimistic about his prospects, Major Larson violates the first rule of the coaches' association, but the Marines were never short-handed in their publicity bureau, and the old center doesn't see any percentage in keeping the news from Yale, Pennsylvania, Notre Dame, Columbia and, least of all, West Point.

The Midshipmen first served notice on Princeton, which beat them, 28-0, a year ago, by coming from behind to prevail, 12-6, and to demonstrate that they easily could have made the margin wider.

This evidently convinced Major Larson that all isn't going to be tea and crumpets for three other outfits—Pennsylvania, Notre Dame and Columbia—which repulsed the Middies in his first season in command.

Impotent Yale, judging by Navy's performance against Princeton and what the major says, will be taken in stride.

MAJOR LARSON holds that Bob Zoeller, who weighs 190 pounds and broke hurdle records in the Indiana high school league, is the finest natural athlete to try for a Navy end berth since Tod Sloan. He has football reflexes. Relaxed hands enable him to hold any pass he can reach.

Howie Clark, 20 pounds lighter, comes from San Pedro, Calif., and steps like Buzz Borries. He is fast enough to outrun defenders without blockers.

Bill Busik, a yearling from Pasadena Junior College, is a nifty passer and a driving runner.

Alan Cameron, a transfer from the University of California, is a fine yearling fullback.

The worst is yet to come for the opposition, too, according to Major Larson, who did not lose to Army as a midshipman and trimmed the Cadets, 10-0, in his first year as coach.

HE points out that the Asiatic situation has helped Navy football . . . that the Pacific coast, where he held forth for stretches at various times, is fleet conscious now, with outstanding California boys striving for Naval Academy appointments.

Navy has two regular teams this autumn, and Major Larson contends that there is nothing to choose between them. This permits him to substitute en masse, and wear the opposition down.

And now that the service tide has changed, Maj. Swede Larson, who knows what to do with midshipmen who play football, won't hesitate to pour it on.

"The HUDDLERS" . . . two's a crowd around such a lamp.

Don't Be a "HUDDLER"

"Huddling" is perfectly proper on the football field, but it isn't so nice when all the family has to huddle around one small lamp, just because someone forgot to get a fresh supply of lamp bulbs.

Light is one of the smallest items of household expense. Really, there is no reason to crowd around one lamp when you can have at the light you need for only a few cents a night.

REDDY KILOWATT SAYS: Electricity is cheap. A 150-watt lamp costs less than one penny an hour.

SOMETHING TO REMEMBER: Nearly every store sells lamp bulbs. Phone for a supply or buy them the next time you go to the store.

PUPS TO PLAY IMPROVED B TEAM FRIDAY

The Ranger Bulldog Pups will take the field Friday night, at Bulldog Stadium, in an attempt to return to the win column. They will take on the Strawn B team, which the Pups defeated once this season by a score of 30 to 0, but which has been greatly improved since that time.

The Strawn team has been augmented by new players, Coach Head has reported, and he feels that his charges can hold, if not defeat, the Pups. When the two teams met early this season it was the first game for Strawn and the second for the Pups, with many of the Strawn players having only a few days of practice.

Since that time the Strawn team has had time to work out its defects, and to work on new plays, which they expect to use against the Pups Friday night. Too, they have secured additions to the squad, which are expected to bolster its strength considerably.

CHEST COLD MISERY

FIRST—rub throat, chest, and back with Vicks VapoRub at bedtime.

THEN—spread a thick layer of VapoRub on the chest and cover with a warm cloth.

RIGHT AWAY, VapoRub goes to work—loosens phlegm—eases muscular soreness or tightness—clears air passages—relieves coughing. And often by morning, most of the misery of the cold is gone.

SERIAL STORY NEW YORK JUNGLE

BY WRAY WADE SEVERN

YESTERDAY: Sidney leaves more of Adam's unusual actions from the past. In his anger, Langdon had locked himself in the jungle. Togi watched him take a gun from the rack, aim it. Later, Sidney trails a man through the woods, watches him climb a tree. The man comes sliding down, drops to the ground.

THE MAN IN THE TREE
CHAPTER XXI
THE moonlight was bright. Breathlessly, Braitwood watched the man drop from the lower branches of the oak. There was no mistaking that dagger figure—Ferry Barkes, Adam Langdon's chauffeur!

Breathing heavily, Barkes stood in the small clearing, brushed leaves and bits of bark from his clothes. Next, he walked around the tree, glancing up to make sure his secret was invisible from below. Apparently assured that it was safe, he re-entered the trail.

When Barkes' footsteps had faded into silence, Sidney left his own hiding place, tagged the oak with his pocket knife and a leaf from his notebook, and followed the chauffeur.

Reaching the edge of the thicket, he sighted Barkes again. The man moved like a tired shadow, head sunk in collar, dejected arms lost in the pockets of his coat. At the edge of the orchard, he slackened his pace still more, peered into the garden, lighted a cigaret and trotted nonchalantly toward a bench.

Preferring that Barkes should believe himself safe, Sidney moved cautiously forward and waited for a few minutes behind a lilac bush. He wanted to keep Barkes in sight and at the same time get in touch with Plowman's man so he could end him for the bundle.

As he stood there, trying to figure how to manage both, the trooper emerged from the thicket with Barkes' bundle under his arm.

WITH the quietness of a cat the officer approached Sidney, indicated he was to keep guard on the chauffeur, then moved noiselessly toward the back door.

Taking the hint, Sidney strolled toward the bench where Barkes sat.

"Good evening, Barkes," he said, sinking down beside the man.

"Good evening, Mr. Braitwood."

"I'm sorry I told you that Togi had shot Mr. Langdon," he said after a moment of depressed silence. "I've changed my mind. You'll think me a nut when I tell you why."

"Perhaps not," Sidney smiled. "Togi could have done the murder exactly as I reasoned," Barkes said. "But now I've concluded such an act would be out of character for him."

"I agree there. But what changed your opinion?"

"A small act of kindness on his part. Oh, not to me. He hates me. But to a poor little mutt of a dog. A hound. Its bones stuck out like ridges. It couldn't have smelt meat for days."

"A dog?" Sidney's interest quickened.

"Togi made a lot of that poor mutt. He fed it, even though Mr. Langdon had never allowed a dog on the place."

SILENCE again. More stars came out until the heavens had jeweled the dark leavings of the moon. But the beauty of the night instilled no peace in Henry Barkes, so far as Sidney could read. Dejection emanated from him.

Yet try as he would, Braitwood could not place the chauffeur with the murder gun in his hand. Why hadn't the poor devil come out into the open about his mysterious bundle? What had it contained? The headlights of a police car pointed into the driveway and Plowman stepped out. The trooper on guard met him and after a few words of whispered conversation they crossed to Sidney and the chauffeur.

Barkes rose. "You want to talk with Mr. Braitwood, Captain?" he said courteously.

"Not so fast, Barkes," Plowman detained him. "We want you to go with us to headquarters tonight."

"I've told you everything I know," Barkes argued desperately, as the trooper's fingers clamped his arm. "I have to be here. I'll lose my job. Can they make me go, Mr. Braitwood?"

"I'm afraid they can, Barkes," the lawyer advised. "Better not talk too much."

"You'll talk plenty," Plowman broke in. "There are some things you may be able to explain, Barkes. Now about that package you hid in the tree . . ."

"That was my dog, just a little Pumi. I've had him for years," Barkes stammered. "I had him with me until Mr. Langdon came home. Even Togi didn't know it. I took him to the inn, to the village. Yesterday he came back. I locked him in my rooms over the garage and took him to town with me. I thought a lot of that dog."

He paused, swallowed, then hurried on. "I'd driven as far as the first turn when I remembered

Mr. Langdon had told me to take the electric percolator in to be repaired. It was in the storeroom. I had taken off my rubbers, but the dog's feet were wet. I had to put him down while I unlocked the door . . ."

"What became of the dog?" Plowman demanded.

"I took him in to town, but the inkkeeper wouldn't let me leave him. Said he disturbed the guests, especially at the dog barking. So I had to bring him back. I tied him behind the garage, but he got away. He's afraid in storms."

"He came back, though, jumped in the drawing room window and cuddled up beside me on the divan. I knew you had found his paw prints and I was afraid I'd be accused of the—of the shooting. I figured if I could get him out of the house, I'd tie him up again, then take him to some farmer to keep for a while."

"There was a trooper at the front door and Murphy in the kitchen. I thought maybe I could get out unnoticed, through one of the Jungle windows. But there was a chance of the dog barking, especially at the troopers. Then I remembered seeing some chloroform in the third floor bathroom."

"I SLIPPED upstairs, gave the Pumi a whiff of chloroform. Mr. Braitwood almost caught me in the billiard room, but I managed to get down the fire escape and into Mr. Langdon's room. You see, I knew about that passage next the flue. Old houses interest me and I'd heard a lot of stories about this one. I just happened to discover it."

"Go on. So you picked up Adam Langdon's dressing gown and a pair of socks, and climbed down the Jungle," Plowman prompted.

The chauffeur nodded. "When I reached the Jungle I found the dog had stopped breathing. I'd given him too much. I reached out through a window, stuffed the body behind some vines, hid the dressing gown and socks, and . . ."

"Sounds like he's telling the truth to me," Sidney said. "Possibly," Captain Plowman conceded. "But one thing more, Barkes. Mr. Langdon had you cash a check for $500 for him yesterday. You wouldn't know what happened to that money now, would you?"

"And you wouldn't know that the man in the green sedan was Brabant, the man you said would support your alibi? You wouldn't know anything about that, would you, Barkes?"

POET'S CORNER

MOTHER
There's some one who is sweet and kind,
So patient when you bother,
She's tender and you all love her,
She is your own sweet mother.

She plans your meals and make your clothes,
And keeps your home so clean,
You boys and girls don't hardly know
Just what a mother means.

Tell your mother that you love her
If it's only in a while,
And in place of that loving patient look,
There'll come to her lips a smile.

Now boys you'd better mow the lawn,
And girls you wash the dishes,
For if you don't, when she is gone,
You'll have regrets and wishes.

—Betty Gean Cook.

Children Asked To Be Careful With Halloween Pranks

Chief of Police Guy Pledger today issued a plea to all children who will be celebrating Halloween tonight, to be careful that they do not destroy property.

Chief Pledger stated that extra police would be working tonight, especially in the business section, to see that as little damage as possible is done.

"We are not going to interfere with the children as long as they are having innocent fun," Chief Pledger said, "but we are going to make a concerted effort to see that as little property damage is done as possible. Most of the damage on Halloween is done because the children do not think,
