Everybody In Town to Be Involved

Years' Biggest Events Coming Up This Week

By NORMAN WRIGHT

Once upon a time there was group of men determined to embarrass and destroy the reputation of Jesus.

They brought an adulteress to him and posed the question wheth-er or not she should be stoned as the law at that time required. State Rep. Jerry Sadler of Precilla, got fed up down stone casting that had been going on among the high and mighty in the seat of government and offered this same little piece of advice to some of his fellow lawmakers, one Price Daniel in particular.

Daniel had been strutting around like a banty rooster with his chest stuck out and crowing about all the corruption in state government that he had inherit-ed. Not being able to crow loud enough with the facilities at hand, he mustered a whole network of television stations earlier in the week and crowed some things he charged that at least one per cent of the state's 40,-000 government employees were rotten apples. Representative Sadler reminded him that one per cent of 40,000 was 400, and challenged him to name the 400 or shut up. Sadler said he would also be enchanted to know how much money Daniel himself, got from the now infamous ICT Insurance Company dur ing his campaign for Governor.

That was a good question. Daniel admitted he did get $100 from James G. Cage, president of the company, but that was Cage's money, and not ICT's. And then Daniel, dancing around like a barefooted man on a bed of hot coals, said he thought it was time to call off name-calling, but he thought the investigations should be continued.

The trouble is, everybody in Austin is in favor of investigations as long as they do not concern themselves. But once the inquiries start getting close to home, everybody is ready to change the subject and get on with more weighty matters. Talk about something that would "curl your hair," we'll betcha if (Continued on Page 2)

Dr. A. W. Brazda, City Health Officer, Makes Clean-Up Day Observations

The Times asked Dr. A. W. Brazda, City Health Officer, for a few observations and suggestions on Ranger's City-Wide Clean-Up campaign. Dr. Brazda's comments follow

The cleanup campaign has begun. As we look about the city and residential section, we see many yards clean and being beautified. There is much yet to be done. Many empty and vacant lots need mowing and cleaning. It is urged that the tall weeds now growing rapidly after the rains be moved to avoid breeding places for mosquitoes and insects that later become a nuisance.

Dispose of the pools of water that are becoming stagnant in the various parts of the city to avoid further breeding of mosquitoes and offensive odors. You will have a more beautiful and healthy city. Fire hazards will become lessened. Show some pride in the city you live in. Your city is only what you make it and how well you cooperate, and certainly we need more cooperation than has been shown previously.

Character and standing in a community is judged by the surroundings where individuals live. No matter how humble a home, its surroundings can be made pleasant and beautiful. People from other cities who travel through Ranger notice the condition of the town and the comments they make can be only good or bad. Let these individuals leave our town with only comments that our town is beautiful and well kept. Do it yourself. Do not rely on the other fellow. Make our town as good as our neighbors' or even better.

The City of Breckenridge is the proud owner today of a beautiful trophy presented to Arthur Miller, president of the Breckenridge Chamber of Commerce, by Roy Holmes of Abilene, treasurer of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, for having the "Cleanest Town in the Nation," a title its citizens won a few weeks ago.

We know the people of Breckenridge swell with pride over this listinctive honor which has been publicized all over this nation wherever newspapers are printed. It is about the greatest distinction that can come to a town from a civic standpoint. It shows the cooperation of 100 per cent of its citizens, because if there had been even as much as one weed-grown lot or one unkept home it would perhaps have knocked them out of the honor since the contest was on a nation-wide basis.

Such a distinction as this is well within the reach of Ranger, but it must be a long range thing-something extending into the future for the next two or three years-but it can be done. Great steps are being made in that direction in the present clean-up, paint-up and plant-a-shrub campaign, and we sincerely hope the spark keeps growing until it has spread

To The Voters of Ranger:

I hear very little interest pubicly expressed about the coming City Election April 2 of which I have filed for place number four WATER AND SANITARY COMMISSIONER. I feel that I should express my gratitude to the good citizens of Ranger for their sanction when it was necessary to stand for what I thought was the right thing and the preservation of the Statutes that govern a municipal city.

I feel that I am well qualified for this official position from the past experience, and as a certified Water operator, holding a "B" Certificate from the Department of Health, The State of Texas and a member of the Texas Water and Sewage Works Association of Texas, a member and President of the Central West Texas Water and Sewage Works District Association, consisting of seven counties including Eastland County. With seven A&M College short schools and extension Service Schools. Safe Water is very important to any city for its health and welfare, and continuous supervision is necessary

I am thankful that I have had a part in improving our water system and the betterment of our City Administration with devoted service in the past.

Our City still has problems to be solved and service to render in the most economical and efficient manner, and if I am your representative as a City Official for the next two vears I will be faithful to the oath of that office and the City Administration, and you as a citizen. Thanks
