The Best Way To Get A Social Security Number For Newborns

Several parents of newborns in the Big Country area have apparantly fallen prey to a company that charges a fee for services available free of charge from Social Security. Reports have come in alleging that this company, located in Washington, D.C., has charged $15.00 for helping to process Social Security number applications for parents of newborns. Some people have reported sending in the $15.00 fee but getting nothing in return. Those who do receive these services will get less than what Social Security provides at no cost whatsoever. This is because only Social Security can process applications for Social Security numbers.

CANTALOUPES NOT IN QUESTION

AUSTIN - Texas cantaloupe is safe to eat, says Agriculture Commissioner Rick Perry, adding that he hopes the public understands that recent reports of cantaloupe salmonella food poisoning do not involve the crop of melons now on the mar-

Salmonella food poisoning cases were reported in June and July in several states in the Northeast and Midwest. The Centers for Disease Control yesterday said it has traced the food poisoning to cantaloupes that "apparantly" came from the Rio Grande Valley, as well as Arizona and Califor-

However, Perry noted that Valley cantaloupes were harvested in April, May and June and are no longer on the market.

They have all been sold and either consumed or discarded. Cantaloupes now being harvested come from other regions of the state, including Central Texas and the Pecos area.

"The bottom line is, Texas cantaloupes in grocery stores are safe to eat," Perry said. "I want to emphasize that Texas cantaloupes on the market today are not in ques-

"But," Perry said, "consumers should always thoroughly wash all fruits and vegetables before eating, including cantaloupes."

Perry noted that in handling fruits and vegetables, public health officials recommend the use of clean and sanitized utensils and surfaces to minimize contamination of edible portions. Officials also recommend keep ing sliced fruit refrigerated and limiting roomtemperature exposure to no more than four hours.

Following initial claims of cantaloupe food poisoning earlier this summer, Valley growers had their remaining melons, soil and water tested for salmonella. The results were all negative.

Perry noted that the salmonella could have originated in the handling or preparation process.

Nonetheless, following the initial claims, Valley growers imposed steppedup sanitation guidelines to ensure the safety of their product. Melon packers routinely mechanically bathe and scrub their cantaloupes in a series of water and special cleaning solutions before they are packed for shipment.

RJC NEWS BRIEFS

Dr. Paul Kasper, Mrs. Juanita Warden, and Dr. Jack Elsom were honored at a Farewell Luncheon at Ranger Junior College last Friday afternoon. Not pictured, but also honored were Mrs. Marge Richey, Mrs. Glenda Kasper and Mrs. Lois Elsom.

Retirement Begins For Three At RJC

Friday, August 30, 1991, was officially the second day of class for the Fall Semester at RJC and also the official retirement date for Dr. Paul Kaspar, Mrs. Juanita Warden and Dr. Jack Elsom. All three have served Ranger Junior College with pride and sincerity for many years and have at last, reached the pinnacle of their careers.

Dr. Kasper and his wife, Glenda, will be returning to their home in Kansas. When asked if he would return to Ranger someday, Dr. Kasper replied, "I never say goodbye and I never forget friends." Anyone who knows Dr. K., as he is affectionately known, agrees with those words. Dr. K. was very active in the community and served as Police and Fire Commissioner for 4 years. He was a member of the Ranger Lion's Club, First United Methodist Church of Ranger and was an active member with the Chamber of Commerce. He was the Dean of Students during his tenure at RJC and Dr. Bert Goodyear will take over his duties in that position. His wife Glenda, worked with the cafeteria staff. Mrs. Jana Dunson will take over her duties.

Mrs. Juanita Warden was the friendly face behind the counter at the Golemon Library. She was ever ready to serve you and could point you in the right direction to whatever book you were seeking. Mrs. Patty Owens will be taking over Mrs. Warden's duties under the direction of RJC Librarian David Drake.

Dr. Jack Elsom; after serving Ranger Junior College as President for 20 years, has officially handed over the reins to Dr. Joe Mills. Dr. Elsom announced his eminent retiremnet about a year and a half ago and has continued serving Ranger Junior College with his knowledge and leadership as Chancellor. Dr. Elsom became a figurehead at RJC and was instrumental in many new and inovative programs at the College. To honor his dedication, the Board of Regents will rename the administration building after him. His wife Lois, has been very active in civic activities as well as taking care of the social aspects out at the college. They both plan to stay around the Ranger area and travel.

Also honored last Friday, was Mrs. Marge Richey. Mrs. Richey was secretary to Dean Marusak for the past five months. She and her husband Leonard have been residents of Ranger for many years and their children attended school here. They have recently moved to the Dallas area.

All six people will be greatly missed at Ranger Junior College.

Sport's Brief

The Ranger Junior College Ranger Football Team, under the direction of Head Coach Joe Crousen, will begin pre-conference play Saturday, September 7th at 2:00 p.m. against Independence Community College (Kansas) at Ranger Stadium.

The Ranger's began play last week during two scheduled scrimmages. According to Crousen, the squad played well and hard. "There are a lot of unknown quanities out there right now," commented Crousen. "The freshmen players have been scouted during high school play but this will be their first time on the Junior College field." Those who can handle it will be determined by these first few games and the coaches will be keeping a close watch on every play.

The Rangers have a few returning starters: Patrick Horace, who was an outstanding Full Back last Fall, will return to that position. Tony Lanier and Reginald Phipps, along with Stan Martinez will make up the returning offensive line.

Defensively, Pat Wilbert, a 6'5" 315 lbs Defensive Tackle will be returning along with Kevin Reed, Issac Jackson, Jacoby Nelson and Fred Woods. The remainder of the offensive/defensive lines will be non-starting sophomores from last season and freshman, who will be vying for key positions on the field.

This season will be different on the standpoint of playing Junior Colleges instead of Junior Varsity's. Each team will be coming from a 7 team conference so the games should prove to be exciting and close.

Don't miss all the sport's action happening in Ranger this Fall. Come on by and join the many Ranger fans cheer them on to victory!!

Sipe Springs Musical Set For September 7

Texas Senate

Legislation authored by Senator Bob Glasgow, D-Stephenville, that expands the number of cities that may adopt a local sales and use tax to be used to reduce local property taxes was approved by the Texas Senate.

Under the Glasgow amendment, all municipalities not served by certain types of transit authorities could adopt an additional local sales and use tax, with the provision that the tax increase be linked to provide property tax reductions. The sales tax increase would be a local option measure, and subject to voter approval.

Current law allows municipalities that are not included within the boundaries of a rapid transit or regional transmit system, and do not have a population of more than 67,000 to add an additional sales and use tax to provide tax property tax reductions. Denton's population is 66,270. The amendment made by Senator Glasgow will allow municipalities of any size to adopt the additional sales tax, subject to voter approval, as long as the municipality is not within the boundaries of certain transmit systems.

Senator Glasgow added the new language as a floor amendment to Senate Bill 41. 'This amendment was brought to me by the City of Denton, but will prove beneficial for municipalities throughout Texas,' said Glasgow. 'It will allow the voters to adopt a sales tax in order to provide property owners some relief from their ad valorem tax burden.'

Practical Marketing Initiatives Aim To Produce Jobs, Economy

by Rick Perry, Texas Agriculture

Commissioner Texas farming and ranching already produce $11.2 billion in annual crop and livestock sales, which in turn generate $32 billion for the state's economy. By taking advantage of other opportunities in processing and market diversification, agriculture can contribute even more to OUF economic growth. Through new marketing initiatives at the Texas Department of Agriculture, we aim to make this happen.

At TDA, we are laying the groundwork for developing a processing industry that will transform our raw agricultural commodities into finished products. In addition, we are working to open new markets for raw and processed products. Our goals reflect a dedication to furthering mainstream agriculture-cotton, cattle, feed grain, sheep, goats, dairy and other traditional farm products that have made Texas the agricultural leader it is.

With renewed coopera-· tion, our staff works with commodity groups to increase their domestic and international sales. A few months ago, for example, we embarked on a promotional partnership with the Texas Beef Industry Council to increase Texas beef exports an average of 10 percent a year during the 1990s.

TDA marketing initiatives are practical, and with hard work, the goals attainable. For example:

• Texas processes eight percent of its agricultural producdon. A five percent increase in processing would add about 30,000 new jobs, a $500 million increase in annual income and a $2.5 billion boost to the state's economy. Make it TEXAS, the cornerstone of TDA's agribusiness development plans, joins the public and private sectors to build viable enterprises such as tanneries, fiber mills, meat packing plants, fruit and vegetable processing facilities. TDA offers financial support to qualified parties through four programs.

• For the first time, TDA has created a separate Livestock Marketing program, formerly under International Marketing, to devote time to promote sales of registered and commercial animals, expand international markets for Texas cattle breeds and other livestock, and increase exports of livestock genetics, especially to Mexico and Latin America. Livestock is responsible for more than half of our agricultural production, and its importance demands that we give this crucial sector our full attention.

according to their marketingpotential, TDA's International Marketing program will become more involved in worldwide market analysis. From now own, we will concentrate export efforts on foreign countries that show the greatest potential for buying Texas products. We see a tremendous amount of opportunity for expansion in Southeast Asia, particularly Thailand, Malaysia and Indonesia. Of course, we will maintain our special interest in Mexico and Latin America and will continue to work in the

to promote Texas commodities.

Though our marketing initiatives have been in place only a few months, we are already seeing development of a fledgling tanning industry. Iowa Beef Packers recently announced it will expand and diversify its Amarillo operation into a tannery capable of annually producing 1.2 million wet-blue hides, the first step in making leather. And, Hereford Bi-Products in Hereford received S1.7 million loan through TDA's Texas Agricultural Finance Authority to begin processing hides.

But, that's not all. During the first five months of 1991, Texas livestock exports exceeded $32.9 million, almost double the value of exports cluring the same period a year

As you can see, we've made tremendous startin our effort to increase marketing and processing opportunities in Texas. You can be sure we'll be working even harder to achieve more of these agricultural success stories in the months ahead.

Texas Senate Week In Review

The Second Called Session of the 72nd Legislature convened on Monday, August 19, and adjourned Sine Die on Sunday, August 25.

During the weeklong session, congressional redistricting was passed into law, creating three new minority congressional seats, a predominantly black district in Dallas County, and two predominantly Hispanic districts, one in San Antonio and one in Houston. Senator Eddie Bernice Johnson of Dallas was the sponsor of the plan.

The prison overcrowding issue was solved during this session. Legisla tion sponsored by Senator Ted Lyon of Rockwall and Senator Jim Turner of Crockett worked out the differences over a lawsuit filed by thirteen Texas counties against the state. At issue was jail overcrowding caused by state convicts waiting to be transferred to state prisons. Included in the bill are landmark drug and alcohol treatment and education programs.

Other legislation passed into law included been sales at Texas Stadium in Arlington, reorganization of the Texas Department of Commerce, and limits on water well drilling in artesian wells. The water well issue was recently brought to light when a Texas newspaper reported on a catfish farm pumping 43 million gallons of water a day with 94% of the water being waste. The new law puts a moratorium on the wells, as well as new restrictions.

Senator Don Henderson of Houston was elected President Pro Tempore of the Senate Ad Interim.

Regulatory Assessment To Be Charged

Effective, September 1st, a regulatory assessment fee will be added to your monthly water bill. Senate Bill No.2, passed by the 72nd Texas Legislature in Special Session, and signed by the govenor on August 13th amends the Texas Water Code to require providers of potable water or sewage utility service to collect a regulatory assessment from each retail customer.

Utilities will begin collecting the 1/2 of 1% fee for any bill rendered on or after September 1, 1991. The assessment will be applied to all charges which are included in the monthly bill for water and sewage services only.

For further information, contact your local water supply system or call the Assessment Coordinator with the Texas Water Commission at (512) 463-8235.

'Robin Hood' Held Over At Majestic Theatre

'Robin Hood: Prince of Thieves', by popular demand, is being held over this weekend at the Majestic. The next showing will begin Friday, September 6 at 7:30 p.m. and will show nightly through Monday, Sept. 9.

More than 1,000 area people came out to see this epic/adventure through the Labor Day weekend, says Ed Allcorn, manager of the Majestic. Comment was very favorable here, as it has been across the country.

Based on the traditional story of Robin Hood and his merry men in Sherwood Forest, no trouble or expense shared to make the picture colorful and realistic.

Kevin Costner, fresh from triumphs as director and star of 'Dances with Wolves', brings a charismatic appeal to his role as Robin Hood.

Other major stars of the picture are Morgan Freeman, Christian Slater, Alan Rickman and Mary Elizabeth Mastrantonio.

Outlaw rebels who stole from the rich and gave to the poor, Robin Hood and his rough, colorful troop have captured generations with tales of their adventures.

Fighting to wrest Sherwood Forest and its surrounding lands from the hands of the corrupt Sheriff of Nottingham, defending the needy or the dispossed, and sharing his love with the beautiful Maid Marian - this sums up the image of a folk hero.

This fall, you'll see the most dramatic colors indoors.

Fall. There's really no better time for introducing color. So this season, we've really outdone ourselves.

Not just reds, Crimson and Cabernet. And vibrant pinks like Garnet and Mulberry. All in both Nail Glaze and Color Rich Lipcreme.

Our Blushing Powders, in Mauve Blush and Cayenne, have added moisturizers to give cheeks a smoother tone and longer-lasting color.

And we've taken three of our sultriest eye shadows, Pearl, Deep Plum and Eggplant, and put them together in a collection called Allure. Stop in soon and see our whole line of Fall Dramatics.

Because unlike nature, we aren't limited to red, orange, yellow and a little burnt sienna.

By Lyndell Williams TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN - Gov. Ann Richards may have signaled Democrats nationwide last week when she promised to call a special session next year to reduce health insurance premiums.

Richards, who quietly signed the new tax bill into law last week, rode the insurance issue to an upset victory in 1990.

In the wake of Dessert Storm and the dismantling of the new Communist empire, Democrats seeking to oust President George Bush in next year's election must concentrate on domestic policies.

Enter Ann Richards, who did just that in 1990, overcoming a mint of GOP dollars by promising lower insurance rates.

National Springboard? Richards probably just wants to keep that campaign promise, but it could be a promise heard around the nation. Using the health insurance issue, some Capitol observers think Richards could springboard to national prominence as a political strategist to meld with her reputation as a compelling orator. With a solid Democrat majority in both chambers, Richards can feel confident the Texas Legislature will not throw egg on her face in front of the nation.

Follow The Timing

Richards' timing will be interesting: will she schedule the session during the spring primaries, or wait until summer to give Democrats an edge in the general election?

One speculation has her waiting until the end of a long, hot summer - say, August - so that Democrats can ride a fresh horse up to the November election.

More than a few skeptics believe that government cannot actually force lower prices in a free market, but the '92 elections will be over before voters realize that premiums may not go down.

In the meantime, mounting evidence suggests that Democrats nationwide plan to borrow from Richards' political genius and use the medical insurance issue which upset Republicans in Texas last year.

Morales Sues Feds

Attorney General Dan Morales sued the U.S. government last week for $1 billion in federal aid he says will be lost due to a faulty census count that missed 600,000 Texans.

"This is our money," Morales said, of the revenues expected to be lost over the next 10 years because of the "fictional census."

Morales said many uncounted citizens are blacks and Hispanics from big cities in South Texas.

Critics say Morales, federal money aside, seeks to force the feds to increase the minority population count so that more political seats can be drawn for minorities.

Default The Election?

Former Texas Agriculture Commissioner John C. White, now a Washington, D.C. political consultant, said he is concerned that Democrats could "default the election" next year unless U.S. Sen. Lloyd Bentsen seeks the party's nomination.

Reports indicate Bentsen is being urged, along with New York Gov. Mario Cuomo, to try for the big brass ring.

So far, Bentsen is pushing the plate away, saying he has no desire to run.

A Bentsen-Cuomo, or Cuomo-Bentsen, ticket would surely cause the GOP to think twice about keeping Vice President Dan Quayle on the slate.

Extra Expense Money

Fifty-nine House members, including a handful of Republicans, have claimed more than $150,000 in $85-a-day expense money privileges permitted by a controversial opinion by the attorney general.

The estate of the late Larry Evans, D-Houston, will receive his payments of almost $3,000. Evans died during the special session of cocaine-related causes. In the Sept. 24 election to fill Evans' seat, 11 candidates, all Democrats, filed in Houston last week.

Pay Raises for Some State employees' on-again, off-again pay raise is on again, at least for some workers.

Comptroller John Sharp has notified state agency heads that they have the authority to grant pay increases of at least 3.4 percent to state workers if they can find the money in their individual budgets.

This means workers in some state agencies probably will see pay increases, while workers in other agencies will not.

Other Highlights

Gov. Richards has nominated Jack Kyle, 60, as chairman of the state Board of Pardons and Paroles. Kyle was assistant director of the Texas Department of Corrections for 19 years and warden of the Ferguson Unit in Huntsville from 1959 to 1965.

 State district judges in Cleburne and Sweetwater have ruled that education districts can legally levy and collect property taxes and redistribute the revenues to local school districts. Both judges refused to grant temporary injunctions that would have halted tax collections.

by Price Rose One couple from our group served daily at Memorial Church and another team, including our illustrious leader, Mike Smith, and the "almost well" Don McNeal, went to Ferreira Gomes (75 miles North of Macapa) to do door to door witnessing and hold Crusades each night. The team to which I was assigned did the electrical wiring and installed four ceiling fans at the Filadelfia (Brotherly Love) Church during our "work periods" Thursday through Saturday. (That was some hot work, too, believe me!).

Each day my team rested for a while after lunch then met for reports, discussion and prayer with the other teams and Missionaries available. Then each team went out with local Church members from the respective areas to do house-to-house visitation (greatly aided by our written Personal Testimonies and pertinent questions that had been translated into Portuguese!). Usually we went into five or more homes during these visits and had varying degrees of success. For me, those were the most exciting, challenging and rewarding times spent. Services were held every night by each team in the areas where they worked, either street-side services or at church houses. Members of the teams alternated doing the preaching and giving their Testimonies at these service, ably assisted by their Missionary "Translators." During our entire stay we enjoyed gracious hospitality and heart warming fellowship with the Brazilian Christians. Various families prepared delicious meals or snacks for us each evening, and I especially enjoyed the "visits" we were able to have with family members during those times (through our most able Randy translator, Pegues, a Music Missionary from Houston).

Outside the Christian community we encountered very little hostility as we visited in homes and talked about Jesus to people on the street or in places of business. I was particularly impressed by the Brazilians general happiness with, and willingness to share, what they had. In most cases it seemed they had so very, very little. The thought occurred to me that many "back home" who are classified as poor have no idea what "poor" really is! The majority of our "poor" have "plenty" when compared to most of the Brazilians I saw.

On Monday, a week after our arrival, the "pioneers" who went to Ferreira Gomes had returned with exciting news of results (and some wild tales). No more construction was scheduled - we had a "day off." We met for a Prayer Meeting at First Baptist Church, Macapa, then went for lunch at the home of Ken and Hope Overton, our Missionaries stationed in Macapa. We also had a time of reporting and sharing while in their home. In the afternoon we had a memorable wait for a City Bus, a bus ride to the place just outside the city where the Equator is marked, and a tour of an old Fort.

After a lot of picture taking and a little witnessing at the Equator, some went shopping and others of us visited the old Fort of Saint Joseph of Macapa. The latter was much more impressive and interesting than I would have imagined. Otherwise I could have gone there sooner to enjoyed it!

This old Fort was located within sight of, and only a few blocks from our hotel. It was built by the Portuguese in 1782, the largest and most important Fort in Brazil, to protect against foreign invaders. There are still a lot of interesting remains, and the view of the Amazon River from the Guard Stations was quite impressive.

Monday night was our last night in Macapa. A combined service was held that night at Filadelfia Church, with each team's Pastor making a report of the recorded results at their Church or Mission Point. Since this was my team's "home church," we had some emotional good-byes and some good times sharing small gifts. We had become very fond of these folks!

Then it was pay up and ship out! Settling our accounts at the hotel provided some interesting moments. (We did this Monday night because of and early departure time on Tuesday, and as expected, the great amount of time and discussion it took). Though we departed fairly early, and few people we knew had any means of transportation other than walking, there was a very large crowd at the airport to see us off. All the local Pastors and numerous Church members were there for more emotional good-byes. We left happy, but sad!

The early flight back to Belem from Macapa gave us almost a whole day for sight-seeing and/or shopping in Belem. Most of us did some of both. It was an interesting day. The city was crowded and noisy, but we toured a park that was peaceful and quiet. We heard from our guide that Belem had a dry season (when it rained every day) and a wet season (when it rained all day). We were there in the dry season, thankfully. It only rained for a short time in the afternoon.

Tuesday night we went as a group (more or less) to a fabulous Barbeque Restaurant. It was an "eat all you want" place with a most interesting way of serving (meat cut right off the skewer at your plate, from the place you pointed to on the meat), and some most interesting selections (including heart, tongue, hump, etc.) The ride from the hotel to the restaurant was worth the price of the meal for those of us who rode with Randy. The car Randy was driving (and Randy's driving) provided a lot of excitement and suspense. We finally traded cars before reaching our destination, ruining the fun but getting us there in one piece! It was very much a fun filled evening. The food and fellowship were great, and the price was very reasonable.

Our return trip from Belem to Abilene was so tame compared to the rest of our journey that it hardly bears mentioning. As usual, we left early, waited a long time at airports, and were rather tired when the trip was over. There was some suspense, however. The small plane bringing us to Abilene from Dallas would not hold all the passengers and all the baggage! Quite a lot of bags were taken back to the terminal in Dallas. But, as far as I know, none of our group was missing a bag when we got to Abilene. Isn't God Good?!!

Q. How can I acquire a more feminine manner? A. There are several areas to watch:

1. The hands - avoid stiff brusque movements. Do not use them firmly to assert yourself. NEVER pound on a table to put over a point. Shake hands gently but with enough firmness to convey friendship. 2. The walk - Avoid a heavy gait or long steps. Keep head back over spine, chest and chin high, walking lightly.

RANGER

Your columnist had a nice visit with Bill and Marsha Barnes and their daughters, Jennifer and Amanda.

Bill works at Liquid Energy Corp., near Lake Palo Pinto close to Lone Camp, the company processes natural gas from which it gets propane, butane and hydrocarbon products.

Marsha substitutes in the Ranger I.S.D. for all ages of students. She enjoys children and youth and finds her association with them rewarding.

Jennifer is a 16 year old youth, a junior in high school this year, during the summer she served as life guard for Ranger City Pool, and when a sophomore was nominated sophomore of the year, also served on the school council.

Amanda is nine years of age, is in the fourth grade and her teacher is Deborah Hodges. She likes school.

It was a privilege to visit with a family with all expressing a positive attitude toward life.

Mary Massegee, wife of Rev. Jasper Massegee, was admitted to Hendrick Hospital in Aiblene on August 22nd, where tests were given and lab work done as an outpatient. On Thursday she underwent surgery and was dismissed on Friday and was able to return to her home in Ranger.

Rev. Jasper Massegee was very pleased with efficiency given at Hendrick Hospital and that he was able to bring Mary home Friday.

On Sunday, August 25, he filled the pulpit for the pastor, Rev. Joe Wortham, who was away in another state performing the wedding for his son. At the First Baptist Church in Desdemona where Rev. Massegee preached he was invited by the Moody Koonce family for lunch and enjoyed the visit with the Koonce family very much. Rev. Massegee told me about his service as a chaplain in Germany for 14 months during WWII, and that he and his family were stationed at Bremerhaven, Germany, for 38 months from 1959 to 1962.

Thank you, Jasper and Mary we appreciate your service for good to the family of mankind.

One of the senior citizens I enjoy seeing and visiting in Ranger is Joe Hudson, who will be 90 years old September 8,

He has lived in Ranger since 1972, and farmed and grew peanuts and cotton and raised a few

When he got married to Elva, daughter of Leo and Pearl Huddleston, he told me he got married on Saturday and went to work on Monday. He and Elva were married in 1921 and had one daughter, Elva Joe Haagensen, who now lives in Columbia, California. Elva Joe has one son, John Haagensen of Odessa and one grandson, Pat Haagensen

Carmichael, California. John and family and grandson Pat visited Joe for his 90th birthday and helped him to celebrate with the cake and accessories they brought for the happy occasion. Joe lived in Odessa where he worked in the field of pollution control for 15 years and then he and Elva moved to Ranger to help take care of her parents, Leo and Pearl Huddleston until their death. His wife, Elva died on May 6, 1986, and was buried at Alameda Cemetery. She had Joe had 65 wonderful years together.

Jeo has had good health all of his life and his 90 years speaks to that, also he must have had good parents, honor thy father and mother, that thy days may be long upon the earth, which the Lord thy God giveth thee'.

Joe keeps on plugging along, play lots of dominoes with your friends and you might welcome and see a new century in 2000 A.D.

Congratulations on your 90th birthday.
