

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS POSTPONE DECISION ON BONDS UNTIL WEDNESDAY

Eastland County Commissioners Monday again postponed a decision on Revenue bonds to be issued by the Eastland County Industrial Development Corp.

The Commissioners will hold a meeting Wednesday, Oct. 30 at 2:30 p.m., when they will again consider approval of the bonds. These bonds are to be used to finance the purchase of land and construction of a tire recycling plant south of Olden. The company planning to set up the plant is South Texas Tire Recovery Inc.

The decision on approval of the bonds was delayed because the bonds had not all been sold, according to information from Monday's meeting.

Grover Hallmark, an officer of the Eastland County Industrial Development Corp., said that the bonds must be pre-sold.

Dick Woolley, also an officer of the Board, said: "Bonds must be sold within a fixed time. That time expires Wednesday. If the bonds don't sell, we'll have to seek private funding," he added.

After the meeting one County Official said: "That would be starting all over again."

On other matters, the Commissioners heard a report from John Davis, a representative of Jedco Design of Clyde. Davis said his firm had completed mapping and addressing the county for the 911 system.

"The cooperation of citizens has been overwhelming," he said. "Of almost 3,000 rural households, only five refused to give information."

Each home in the county must have an address before the 911 system can work properly, Davis reminded the Court. Any additional work will be done at no charge, he said.

Equipment for the 911 system is now set up at the County Dispatch. The system is projected to be in operation by Jan. 31, 1992.

The Court Monday also heard a report from Monty Hood, who gave an update on the Vietnam era plaque. This plaque to honor Vietnam era veterans killed in action has been ordered.

County Judge Scott Bailey said the plaque would be dedicated Nov. 12 in a Courthouse ceremony.

On another matter, Pct. 2 Commissioner Calvin Ainsworth discussed electrical wiring troubles in the Courthouse. For some time Ainsworth has been warning the Court that the system is overloaded - that wiring installed when the Courthouse was built will not handle high-wattage, modern equipment.

He said an electrician is evaluating the problem and will a full report when finished.

In Monday's meeting the Commissioners approved a request to furnish an additional office for the Probation Department. The County will also furnish a telephone and air conditioner for the office.

In the past Rose Webb (Mrs. C.H. Webb) of Strawn has won a number of awards on her landscape painting, portraits and craft work. Now comes recognition of a different sort - she is a 1991 winner in the Wal Mart/Poly Fil Quilt Block Contest. The theme of the competition was 'America the Beautiful'.

Her original block, called 'Purple Mountain Majesty', has been joined with nineteen other Regional winners from across the country into a magnificent quilt, which is now on display at Wal Mart Headquarters at Bentonville, Arkansas.

Photographs of this quilt have been made into posters, and these are now on display at Wal Mart stores across the United States.

CISCO WRITERS CLUB TO MEET NOVEMBER 5

The Cisco Writers Club will hold a meeting on Tuesday, November 5, at 7 p.m. in the Community Room of the First National Bank of Cisco, Conrad Hilton Avenue. Officers for the new club year will be installed, and manuscripts will be read and discussed. Bring out some new material you would like to read. Duluth Jackson will be in charge of the program.

at the Eastland Wal Mart store Lena Stockton, manager of the Fabric and Crafts Department, is one of many who is thrilled over Mrs. Webb's award. For it was at this store that Rose Webb bought her quilt block material last spring, and entered the contest on the local level.

She designed her own block, which shows a purple mountain above a lake. Sailboats skim the water, and an eagle flies high overhead. Most of this block was done in applique, with some embroidery stitches.

Last April her 'Purple Mountain Majesty' was judged best locally and sent on to the intense competition of Regional.

Recently Rose Webb was notified by Fairfield Processing Corp. of Danbury, Conn. that her block had been selected as a winner. A few days ago she received a copy of the 'America the Beautiful' poster, showing her block with the national quilt. She was sent a Savings Bond for this win. Rose says she learned how to quilt from her grandmother and mother, but she didn't really work with the art until the 1980's when her four children were grown. Now she finds it fascinating.

She does most of her quilting the old fashioned way by hand - believing that this gives the best results. Her stitches are so tiny they are almost invisible, and applique is a specialty of hers.

Rose and her husband, Charlie, have four children, Joe Webb of Seminole, Tim Webb of Cisco,

COLUMBIA STUDY CLUB MEETS

Members of the Club gathered Oct. 22, 1991 for an enjoyable afternoon at the Lone Cedar Country Club, Betty White, Hostess.

Following a short business meeting, a humorous book, "Oh-Oh" by Robert Fulghum was reviewed by Dorothy Beams.

Mr. Fulghum reminds the reader that "Oh-Oh" is a common phrase; used first by babies, then surely by Adam after his first bite of the apple, can also be a frame of mind, an attitude, and an observation. Observations from both sides of the door were compared to a variety of subjects from the hick-ups as an attention getting device, through wonders, light from inner light to fire flies, pictures, and other examples.

Following the program, refreshments were served to guest Gladys Crawley, members Alla Ray Morris, Elva Larson, Thelma Powell, Bert Newham, Dorothy Beams and the Hostess.

RJC Campus Turned Upside At Second Annual Funday

"Let the games begin", was the chant of over 200 participants at the Ranger Junior College 2nd Annual Funny Friday Funday activities. The "FUN" began at 9:15 in the gym area with an opening welcome from college president Dr. Joe Mills. In his address, he encouraged everyone to take an active part and become a participant in the day long event. Coach Ron Butler, Athletic Director, summarized the rules of the competitions.

The Dormitory Sad Sack Race began at 9:40 and consisted of teams from every dorm, on campus. The teams were divided into sub-teams of 5 each and had to jump their sack down the court and then exchange it with a teammate on the opposite end. Needless to say, there was a lot of slipping and sliding as the contestants reached their destination. The Meyerson Apartment team won the event.

The popular Invitational Almost Basketball Tournament was underway at 10:15 under the watchful eye of Dean Marusak. Four coed teams composed of students from the off-campus facilities in DeLeon, Brownwood and Graham were on hand to show the on campus students just what it takes to play basketball. After a single elimination round, the Brownwood BeeBops, (LVN students) were declared the winners. The DeLeon DoWaps, as consolation winners, were chosen by Dean Marusak as the team to take him out to dinner for all the hard work and effort he had shown throughout the competition. "It's hard to stand and yell for every team and keep the officials in line at the same time," he replied.

The Didley Domino Tournament was dominated by two of the younger set, that is, young at heart. Lee Cantrell and R.V. Robinson skunked their competition and won the tournament "hands down." Along with the domino tournament, the Space Bunny Spades Tournament was underway in the cafeteria. Dr. John Gresham was in charge of this event and proved to be one of the most popular. Doris Marshall and Casandra Gorman won the event.

Promptly at 11:00, the Big Chicken Egg Toss took off. Around fifty people participated in this one and were divided into teams of four. The object of this race was to toss the egg across to your teammate from several distances. It was a lot harder than it looked and several teams were out before the second round. Winners for this race were Neil Nugent, Jimmy Meyer, Kyle Johnson and Jason "Wojo" Wojciechowski. They won both rounds of competition with the same egg. Rumors were circulating that a certain maintenance foreman would be out to get revenge on a certain egg tossing judge. But they proved to be false, much to the dismay of several onlookers.

Maybe next year! The Lunch in the Cafeteria event was just that. A delicious chicken fried steak was served and from general summation everyone participating in the funday activities was on hand to partake of the meal. During the meal, the Jaws Pool Shark Tournament, with Coach Badgett as judge, Chris Martin won the event.

The afternoon events began at 1:30 with the Piranha casting competition across from the hospital. The event was under the supervision of Tom Peebles and Don Flowers. Amy Nelson, a Brownwood cosmetology student won the competition. Across the campus, inside the gym, the Hot Shot Free Throw competition was getting underway. Coach Downing led this one with several members of the faculty and staff participating. Dean Marusak started the competition with some great style shots. Although he was 0 and 7 for the round, his excellent style should have won him a blue ribbon. Chris Spenrath was declared the winner. Behind the gym, The VooDoo Volleyball tournament was setting up under the eye of Johnny Gann. After several hours of competition, the F.T.R. team, composed of Mandy McMeans, Isabel Gomez, Frances Esary, Hector Lebrone, Andy Molinero and Levin Barker, were declared the winners.

Three faculty members won the Three on Three Basketball event. Donnie Veal, Roderick Brown and Glenn Ring showed that age and experience often rule out youth in a game of skill such as basketball. Sorry, I just write what is told by the winners!

Kyle Johnson won the softball throw contest but only after a coin toss by the two ties.

The event of the day, The Desert Storm Water Balloon War Games, proved to be all that they promised to plus more. Teams representing the six dorms, Student Government, BSU, Commuters and Ranger High School came prepared for an all day war! Teams began setting up forts around 2:30 and at 3:40 the games began. Each fort had a judge who would disqualify persons hit with direct fire. After thirty minutes of rapid fire, Dr. Mills asked for casualty reports. Two teams were completely wiped out and several had heavy losses. After the "water cleared," the BSU team had but one casualty and were declared the winners.

The award ceremony was a quiet affair compared to the activity preceding it. Dr. Mills announced the judges of each event and they in turn awarded the trophy. Everyone left tired but enthused by the excitement of the day. Several vowed to return next year and win their event. Others just vowed to return and try and catch the events they missed.

In all Funday was just that, a day of fun for all RJC students, faculty and staff.

Letter To The Editor

MAYORSAYSTHANK YOU

(ED. NOTE: This is a letter to Judge Bailey from the Mayor of Eastland, C. W. Hoffmann, Jr.)

Dear Judge Bailey, On behalf of all the citizens of the City of Eastland I would like to express my appreciation to you and the Commissioners Court for the grounds beautification project at the County Courthouse. The new exterior look of our County Courthouse is an impressive asset to our city and county.

Our city plays host to many visiting attorneys, law officials and other non-resident individuals who travel to Eastland to conduct personal business within the County Courthouse and the appearance of its exterior and interior are certain to leave a lasting impression upon these individuals.

Does the Commissioners Court have any future plans for the interior refinement of the County Courthouse?

Eastland County is most fortunate to have each of you amongst its most outstanding citizens.

Sincerely,
C. W. "Dub" Hoffmann, Jr.

Q. My child is so rebellious. What can I do to help him?
A. A child is rebellious when he has a "Closed Spirit." This means that he has been wounded by the ways he feels that he has been treated in words or actions.
A parent should try to open the child's spirit as soon as possible after the child feels wounded. The process can start when the parent asks the child to forgive the one who has offended him. This may take a while to work through. But the parent should keep trying.

EASTLAND

Mary Lee Langford is Site Director of the Eastland Senior Citizens Center, and has worked in this capacity since January 1, 1990. Responsibilities include managing the Center, seeing that the food is served, coordinating volunteers and seeing that the money is counted and sent to the Center in Cisco where the food is prepared. Several programs that benefit the Senior Center include the taking of blood pressure and the blood sugar count which is providing by Outreach Health Services and Concept Care. Sometimes other agencies do eyesight tests for glaucoma and cataract.

There are three paid employees, Bobbie Acker, Billie Fox and the Site Director is Mary Lee Langford. Some 12 or more volunteers help, some six with the food. There are around 16 average carryouts each day to home bound senior citizens, and on average 50 are served at the Center each day. Cost per meal for those age 60+ is $1.00 and below this age is $2.00.

Telephoning is done by Bobbie Acker and Billie Fox is in charge of house-keeping at the Center.

Some of the features of enjoyment and enlightenment at the Center, include nutrition and health programs by Janet Thomas, nutrition specialist and Assistant County Agent, choir groups, singing around the piano, domino players from 8:30 a.m. to 10:30 a.m., musicians playing at the piano or other instruments, include Mr. and Mrs. Richard Arnold, Edith Wompler, LaRue Broussard, and Ruth Kendrick, and those who give the invocation and share talks or recitations on various subjects and the choral singers.

The Center is open to serve meals on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of each week from 11:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon. A meal consists of one meat, two or three vegetables, a salad and a dessert and a drink of milk, tea, coffee or water. Reservations must be made each day by those who want to eat at the Center or have a carryout to the sick or home bound, phone 629-1382.

The people are a caring community and send cards of encouragement to the sick and the bereaved each week.

Sponsors of the Senior Center include the City of Eastland, Cisco Junior College and West Texas Council of Governments.

Ruth Cartee of Cisco is the Senior Citizens Director for Cisco and Eastland. Van director is Nina Copeland of Cisco who delivers the food to Eastland.

Homer Langford, husband of Site Director Mary Lee Langford, is volunteer dishwasher and general errand man.

Some 97 have been served at the Center in one day and you cannot fully appreciate the value of the Senior Center to the senior citizens of Eastland until you are a senior citizen. This one of America's best investments.

Ernie Rice of Eastland celebrated his 86th birthday on Tuesday, October 22, at the Eastland Memorial Hospital where he is an extended care patient.

Relatives present included his wife, Bonnie, his daughter, Beverly Vaughan of Abilene and grandson, Jeff Vaughan of Dallas, who was in transition to a job in Chicago.

Some 100 or more came by to wish Ernie a happy birthday, nurses and other staff members of the hospital, little children, one little six year old girl, Gepy, drew and painted a card for Ernie. She was an appendectomy patient, one little boy who had suffered a burn and other children were served cake and punch.

A large German chocolate cake, a smaller cake with the picture of a cowboy on it, plus nuts and punch were served the birthday wishers, which also included two ministers of Eastland, Rev. Vaughn Baker of First Methodist Church and Rev. Weems Dykes who serves as volunteer chaplain at the hospital who wrote and read the following poetic thought to honor Ernie who has been an extended care patient for three years.

To Ernie Rice - Mr. 86

The clock of time ticks away and months and years pass by.

We're born within the scheme of things and birthdays pass and fly, Adding another year on the calendar of life, as loved ones watch our times of joy and strife.

No one wants to stay a child, no one wants to stay a youth,

So adulthood comes upon us all, as an awakening of truth.

We cannot stay the hands on the clock of time, Each tick, each tock and the music of the chime telling us we're growing older and burdens are becoming bolder.

Time is running out they say, 'The hands of time for us will stop'.

So let us sing and dance for joy until we can no longer hop.

Let us enjoy another birthday with Ernie let our rejoicing never stop.

Bonnie and family extends their love to you who came by to honor Ernie on his 86th birthday, God bless you!

RANGER

It is unusual to find a teacher staying 30 years in the same school system, seems like a lot of them are in transition from city to city. Marilyn Henderson has been teaching in the Ranger Independent School system for 30 years, and this year of 1991 she is teaching American History for the 8th and 11th grades. During her teaching career she has taught Texas History, U.S. History and Government or Civic.

Marilyn received her academic training at Howard Payne University in Brownwood and North Texas University in Denton. She has done graduate work at Tarleton University and is now doing so at Stephenville.

Her parents are Roland and Zella Miller of Gustine, Texas, though her father is deceased, her mother is now living in the Ranger area. Roland served as mayor of Ranger High School, also from Howard Payne University at Brownwood where he received the B.S. degree in business. Rocky's wife is Melissa whose hometown is Brownwood and he is employed by Don Pablos of Fort Worth where he and Melissa make their home.

His mother is Shirley Griffith of Ranger who worked in the real estate business for Century 21 for a long time and is now working for Eastco Realty in Ranger.

Dango is an energetic young man, likes his teacher, and wants to succeed in life by applying the motto, 'nothing attempted nothing

When asked her favorite subjects she replied, 'United States History and current affairs.'

A bouquet of gratitude to Marilyn Henderson, teacher of 30 years who still maintains a twinkle in her eye and a love for teaching.

William Dango Griffith, senior student in Ranger High School, has an unusual record for perfect attendance from kindergarten through his present attendance in the 12th grade. After school hours and on weekends he works for IGA, part of a grocery association in Ranger.

After he graduates from high school he plans to enter the Army or attend TSTI and become a professionally trained auto mechanic as a vocation. He plays basketball and is in training at the present. Health, government and physical education are his favorite subjects. One of his best friends is Brandon Copeland, who also works for IGA.

His hobbies include working with Stereo Electronic Systems and ride a motorcycle. Dango is also interested in special education and VAC as a work program and likes ice cream and girls. He has one brother, Rocky Masseege, a graduate of Ranger High School, also from Howard Payne University at Brownwood where he received the B.S. degree in business. Rocky's wife is Melissa whose hometown is Brownwood and he is employed by Don Pablos of Fort Worth where he and Melissa make their home.

William Dango Griffith, senior student in Ranger High School, has an unusual record for perfect attendance from kindergarten through his present attendance in the 12th grade. After school hours and on weekends he works for IGA, part of a grocery association in Ranger.

TSTA Opposes Pension Fund Amendment

The Texas State Teachers Association Board of Directors this week voted to oppose Proposition 7, an amendment to the Texas Constitution which would permit the Teacher Retirement System (TRS) to invest teacher pension funds in speculative real estate deals. The proposition will be on the ballot on the November 5th election.

The TRS board is seeking voter authority to allow it to use teacher retirement funds to purchase real estate or partial equity in real estate. In real estate transactions the system is currently restricted to making investments in the form of mortgage loans on real estate.

If Proposition 7 were to pass, the TRS would be virtually unrestricted in the kinds of high-risk investments it could make - even in hostile takeover bids for companies.

TSTA President Ollie Besteiro said her organization, representing 95,000 people in the retirement system, is opposed to the move based upon past performance of real estate investments.

"We gave TRS the authority to make mortgage loans on real estate in 1983 and since that time, they have foreclosed on 10 major properties and lost money on 60 other properties totaling over $156 million," Besteiro said. "That's money that school employees can ill afford to lose."

Besteiro pointed out that real estate investments are mercurial in nature and are largely responsible for bringing down the savings and loan industry.

"In the past decade, TRS has been extremely reluctant to share its earnings with the retirees in the form of increased monthly benefits. Instead, it has opted to use the earnings to make more and more investment loans," the president said. "This is another reason why members of the system are reluctant to expand its investment capabilities."

Besteiro said her organization is asking all Texans with family members in the Teacher Retirement System to vote "no" on Proposition 7.

'Texas' Tops Attendance List

Again, "TEXAS" topped the attendance list for outdoor dramas, drawing 100,208 visitors in 1991 during the production's 26th season.

Visitors came from every state and over 100 different foreign countries with 24% from 0 to 120 miles, 45% from 120 to 500 miles, and 31% from more than 500 miles. Groups totaled 761. "TEXAS" packed nightly full houses with 1,616 persons (93% actual).

"TEXAS" is gearing up for its 27th season. Beneath the breathtaking 600 foot cliffs of Palo Duro Canyon State Park near Amarillo, the musical drama will open June 10, 1992, and play nightly except Sundays through August 22.

You raved about the new sets, costumes and grand finale special effects added in the past two years, but wait until you see the surprises Director Neil Hess has planned for 1992! The cast of 80 tells the dramatic and romantic story of the settling of the area accented by song, dance and latest sound and light.

Fishing Outdoors

by Terry Wilson

November 2, Opening Day
The general deer season will be getting underway in Eastland County Nov. 2, 1991, Saturday. This season will run until January 5. Limits this season are 3 deer, with a 1 buck limit and 2 antlerless, no antlerless permit is required. In Eastland and all 1 buck counties no person may hunt buck deer in another one buck county if that person has already taken a buck from a county that specifies "limit 1 buck." A buck deer is a deer with a hardened antler protruding through the skin. A spike deer is a legal buck deer.

Turkey season for Eastland County, general, will also open November 2, and end January 5. The limits are 2 turkeys either sex.
These two hunting seasons have become a top cash crop for land owners and most businesses in our area. Prices for lease land vary from $100 to $500 and up per gun. Some hunting leases go per acre versus per gun. Good luck to all the hunters and remember to know your target before shooting.

The following information is a re-run folks, but much confusion is being generated about the new additional tax on new boat and motor purchases in Texas.

Texans who buy a taxable boat or motor must pay a 6.25 percent sales or use tax. This new law went into effect Oct. 1.
Part of House Bill 11, passed during the second special session of the Texas Legislature, imposes the sales tax on all sales of taxable boats and motors. Also, new residents who bring a boat registered in another state in Texas must pay $15 for the boat and $15 for the motor.

A taxable boat is a boat other than a canoe, kayak, rowboat, raft, punt or other vessel designed to be propelled by paddle, oar or pole. A taxable motor is an outboard motor with an internal combustion engine.

The bill was passed to create more money for the state. Jim Ramsey, assistant revenue branch manager at Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, said estimates from the state comptroller's office indicate that this bill will raise approximately $600,000 over the next biennium for the state's General Revenue Fund.

November 2 Is Entry Date For Eastland County Hay Show

The time has arrived to enter hay in the upcoming Eastland County Hay Show.

Saturday, November 2 is the date to bring hay to the livestock show on FM 3101, North of Eastland. This date has been established to allow ample time to core sample the hay and obtain analysis.

Each town has contact persons if you need assistance in getting your hay entries to Eastland. In Gorman, contact Bo Caraway, Speedy Clark, or the feed and fertilizers dealers; in Carbon, contact the feed and fertilizer dealer or call Alton Mitchell or Charles Hutto in Eastland; Rising Star should contact Gene Smith or feed and fertilizer dealers; Cisco hay producers should contact Tommy Claborn or the feed and fertilizer dealers; Ranger contact person is Willie Cantwell or H & R Feed; Desdemona should contact their feed and fertilizer dealer; and Eastland should contact Charles Hutto or Alton Mitchell, and Eastland Farm and Ranch. A contact for the entire county would be David Tunmire, Eastland County Agriculture Extension Agent.

We will have a tractor to unload your hay for you. Several members of the committee will be present to assist you and record your entries.

We request that hay arrive between the hours of 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m., if at all possible. If this is not possible, please contact one of the above persons to make other arrangements.

The success of the hay show and auction will greatly determine the success or failure of future Eastland County Livestock Shows. Let's keep in mind that the county has a building to pay for and a good hay show and sale can help pay on this indebtedness. Please do all you can to contribute to this worthwhile endeavor.

Armed Citizens Can Prevent Future Killings

by Larry Pratt, Executive Director of Gun Owners of America

You are eating lunch with two friends. Suddenly, a man enters the restaurant and methodically begins shooting people. You are trapped in the restaurant and have no way to defend yourself. What are you supposed to do?

According to your state legislators, you should patiently wait for the police to arrive. Texas legislators defeated a bill earlier this year that would allow you to get a permit to carry a gun. As a result when George Hennard went on his shooting spree in Killeen, Luby's cafeteria was full of unarmed citizens. Twenty-two people were killed before the police could arrive from two doors away.

Compare this tragedy to an incident in a crowded cafe in 1984. Four Arab terrorists opened fire in a Jerusalem cafe. They were planning to liquidate everyone and flee before the authorities arrived. But armed civilians in the cafe shot back, killing three terrorists and capturing the fourth. Only one Israeli was killed.

The lesson from these incidents is that the police can seldom prevent a crime from happening. There are only 150,000 officers on duty at any one time to protect 250 million people. So the only person who can really defend yourself in a moment of crisis is you.

At this point the anti-gun crowd usually complains: "If we arm law-abiding citizens, Won't we see people shooting each other in the streets?" Absolutely not.

Florida passed a concealed carry law in 1987. Since then, over 100,000 people have received a carry permit, and yet crime has not escalated the way the anti-gun doomsayers had predicted.

In fact, the Florida Sheriff's Association says they have not seen one instance of a person with a permit committing a violent crime. The Florida Department of Law Enforcement has agreed, saying the new law has not affected firearms violence at all.

But Florida's concealed carry law is enabling law-abiding citizens to defend themselves. Only months after the law went into effect, a 33-year old cab driver used his concealed weapon to shoot and kill a career criminal who had pulled a gun on him.

This honest citizen is one of many Floridians who are alive today because the concealed carry law allowed them to defend themselves when the police could not.

Even if guns were completely banned, criminals would be able to get guns, just like they get drugs. The question is, when a criminal threatens you and the police are not there to protect you, will you be able to protect yourself and your family?

If not, tell your legislator what you think about that.

CAPITOL COMMENTS

by Bob Turner
State Representative 65th District

One frequently asked question is when will the state's legislative redistricting plan actually go into effect. The change instituting the new districts becomes effective in January, 1993, with the beginning of the 73rd legislative session. This means that all members will continue to serve the district in which they were last elected until January, 1993.

A fact that I have used in a number of talks recently concerns the November 5th Constitutional Amendment vote - I urge participation and voter turnout. I have predicted that less than 10% of the qualified voters will actually make the effort to vote on these important issues. This is a major reason the "state of the state" is in its present uncareful condition. It is a proven fact that those who do not produce, or pay their own way - or do not pay taxes or support government at all levels, vote in greater percentages than those of us who foot the bill. Until this is turned around, don't expect change in welfare programs or a reduction in free-loaders living off of governments - be it city, county, state or federal.

Concerning the 13 Constitutional Amendments, my staff has provided information to all district newspapers. This information includes arguments for and against each amendment. I hope this information will be helpful in making a voting decision on November 5th.

One subject that I have had the opportunity to address on several occasions is the topic of "special interests". Actually, whatever your vocation, or interest, be it teachers, agricultural producers, business people, retirees, or whatever, you help comprise a "special interest" group. The important thing to remember is that all "special interest" groups must keep up the high interest. This is why: I am convinced that if we "special interest" groups don't take care of ourselves, no one else will do it - or if they do - the group won't like what might be accomplished by persons not as concerned as the members of the "special interest" group in their own affairs.

Kay Bailey Hutchison, Texas State Treasurer, has organized a non-partisan effort, which I have joined, to push for the passage of Constitutional Amendment #8 in the November 5th election. If approved, Amendment #8 will require future constitutional amendments that provide for creation of state debt, such as bond sales, to be presented to voters in clearly stated propositions. It would require each proposition to describe the amount of debt created, the purpose for which issued, and the source by which repayment will be made. I personally support this theory, and urge that you vote for the passage of Proposition #8.

Again, if my staff or I can be of assistance at any time, please feel free to call on us at (512) 463-0644 - collect, if so desired. I will be opening a district office around November 1 in Coleman, and plan to be very accessible to my constituency there. More on this later. Please remember, VOTE ON NOVEMBER 5th.

Record Number Of Livestock Move Through TDA Pens

Agriculture Commissioner Rick Perry announced that the number of livestock passing through the Texas Department of Agriculture's export facilities hit an all time high during the first nine months of the year.

As of October 1, 1991, total reached a record 868,528 head of livestock, valued at $136.4 million - more than a 50 percent increase compared to the dollar value of livestock exports for the first nine months of last year. During the same period in 1990, 444,565 head, valued at $64.6 million were exported through the pens.

"Soaring exports of beef cattle, sheep and hogs comprised the bulk of the increase," Perry said, "but the numbers are also up for dairy animals, breeding stock, goats and horses."

"Mexico remains the main international customer for Texas livestock," Perry said. "However, other markets have developed in South America, the Caribbean and Asia."

"These high numbers are just another example of the vast, worldwide appeal of Texas livestock," Perry said. "Texas is well-known for producing quality breeds and having a large variety from which to choose."

TDA operates six export facilities - five along the Texas-Mexico border at Del Rio, Eagle Pass, El Paso, Brownsville and Laredo and a sixth at Houston Intercontinental Airport.

DEAD AGAIN

Kenneth Branagh and Emma Thompson star in the picture 'Dead Again', which will begin at the Majestic in Eastland Friday, Nov. 1.

'Dead Again' To Show At Majestic November 1-4

The film 'Dead Again' will be featured at the Majestic Theatre in Eastland from Friday, Nov. 1 through Monday, Nov. 4.

Show time will be 7:30 each evening, with tickets $3 at the box office. This picture is rated R, presumably because of some violent scenes.

Kenneth Branagh directs the picture, and also stars in it. He takes the part of a private detective who is attempting to learn the past of a mysterious young woman. This woman, played by Emma Thompson, becomes certain that she and Branagh knew each other in another life. She is also certain that he is out to kill her again.

Also starring in this thriller is Andy Garcia and Derek Jacobi. Robin Williams makes a brief appearance.

This picture is contemporary, mature stuff. Critics across the country are giving it very good ratings.

Texas Wins Second Consecutive National Environmental Award

Keep Texas Beautiful, Inc., (KTB), six Texas communities, and one Texas industry will be honored by Keep America Beautiful, Inc., (KAB) in Washington, D.C., on Friday, December 6, 1991 for their dedication to environmental excellence.

KTB was selected as the First Place Winner in the state category, making Texas the first and only state to win this award two years consecutively. KTB also received this award in 1987.

Other First Place Texas winners were: Keep Halton City Beautiful, Angelina Beautiful/Clean (Lufkin), Keep San Antonio Beautiful, and the BASF Corporation in Freeport, Texas. Second Place winners were: Keep Waco Beautiful, and Clean Houston.

According to Roger Powers, President of Keep America Beautiful, the award is given annually to the nation's most outstanding program, which improves waste handling practices at the grassroots level. "We are very proud of the work that Keep Texas Beautiful and other Texas communities have done in improving the environment and educating the community about the importance of proper solid waste handling and disposal," he said.

Governor Ann Richards, upon receiving word of the KAB Awards said, "My appreciation and congratulations to the Keep Texas Beautiful communities and volunteers responsible for bringing these important national environmental recognitions to Texas. I am so very proud of your efforts and your fantastic results on behalf of a clean and beautiful Texas."

As a part of the KTB program, litter along Texas highways and roadways has been reduced by 72 percent. Volunteers picked up more than 490,000 cubic yards of trash along 14,338 miles of city streets, 7,695 miles of highway rights-of-way, 2,532 miles of creeks, 2,194 miles of lakeshores, and 123 miles of beach front. Local community affiliates raised over $10,000,000 in cash and in kind contributions to their programs, millions of tons of materials were

1991 FOOTBALL FEVER

J.V. PUTS OUT DRAGONS FIRE By: Jason Zollinger

Ranger received the opening kickoff and returned it to the 25 yardline. The Bulldogs took the ball to Bangs' 35 yardline, where it was turned over. Bangs scored their first and only touchdown of the night.

The rest of the game belonged to the mighty Bulldogs. David Young scored the first of the Bulldogs two touchdowns.

Todd Hatton ran in the two point conversion to put the Bulldogs up 8-6. That score ended the first half.

The second half went fast until Todd Hatton threw the ball to John David Johnson to score the last of the Bulldogs touchdowns. Congratulations to the J.V., do the same this week against Golphwaite.

BANGS OUT BATTLES BULLDOGS By: Jason Zollinger

The captains for Fridays game against Bangs were Sean Cockburn and Tim Abila. Ranger kicked the ball on the opening. Tim Abila was injured in the first half, but returned to the game in the second half. Bangs scored their first on their first drive of the game. Bangs scored again with 10:59 left in the first half to lead the Bulldogs 14-0. George Bixler got a great sack in a time of need for the Bulldogs. On the opening kickoff to start the second half the Bulldogs make a perfect wedge that breaks through the Bangs' defense. The wedge let David Jackson return the ball all the way to the endzone. Then Sean Cockburn ran in the two point conversion to make the score 14-8. Bangs scored two more touchdowns to end the game 26-8.

EASTLAND MUSIC CLUB

Hewett greeting new members. Vice president Cletis Williamson also presented the yearbooks for 1991-92 with its varied and interesting programs.

This yearbook is dedicated to the late Jean Carol Reid, past president, dedicated worker, wife of Durel Reid. Durel told the club how much he appreciated this honor for his wife.

Joyce Hewett gave a special welcome to new members Joan Greenwood of Ranger, Ethel Johnson of Eastland and Jo Shipman, also of Eastland. She said these new members will add much to the club.

Program Leader and Past President Virginia Russell introduced participants in the meeting. Susan Wester of Cisco gave piano solo, 'Country Gardens' and Joyce Hewett a vocal solo.

Then Cletis Williamson passed out the yearbooks, and all were interested in the details of programs. These events were planned last summer by Mrs. Williamson, yearbook chairman, and her committee members, Joyce Hewett, Mary Lou Frost, Frances Bishop, Virginia Russell, Adeline Meredith, Ruth Noah and Nettie Wilson.

There was a round of applause for committee members and Barbara Anderson, who had arranged and typed the yearbook material.

"This is the most beautiful yearbook I have ever seen!" exclaimed Virginia Russell. She should know, for she has worked on many of them in the past, and most winning awards.

Members noticed that the new yearbook is youth oriented, with the theme 'Youth Must Be Served Through Music.'

The course of study deals with women opera singers, and is based on the book, 'Bubbles' by Beverly Sills.

Special musical events listed for the club range through the finest of many types of music, most by local performers. The Big Country Brass, the Weeks Fiddlers, the Abilene Fine Arts Trio, Stacy Upchurch on flute, piano recitals - these are some of the great programs in store.

After looking over the yearbook members participated in a Federated Round Table and Orientation. The work of the local, state and national music clubs was discussed.

A letter was read from Harriet Motter, formerly of Breckenridge. While living in this area she was a member of the Eastland Music Club, and assisted with piano and vocal programs.

Writing from her new home in the DFW Metroplex, she told of her enjoyment of the Eastland Music Club. She had a special request - that the Choral Group she had begun here be continued.

Mary Lou Frost, who has a special interest in the Choral Group, assured the club that the singers would continue as a voluntary community service group.

She pointed out that a page in the yearbook lists dates for choral and instrumental music to be performed at Northview Development Center and Eastland Nursing Homes.

As the meeting adjourned all admired the colorful autumn decorations on the tables and sideboard in the Women's Clubhouse.

Punch and doughnut centers were served from a table set with a hand-woven cloth in russet shades. Mary Lou Frost had arranged a centerpiece with peppers of red, yellow, green and orange cascading from a copper bowl. Hostesses were yearbook committee members.

The club was reminded that the next meeting will be November 6, 10 a.m. back at the Women's Clubhouse. Frances Bishop will be the leader, with Donna DeLuca giving the first review from the book 'Bubbles'.

THE RANGER FACULTY VS. RANGER VARSITY VOLLEYBALL

The Ranger female faculty competed against the Varsity Bulldogs for the Ranger versus Ranger volleyball game. For the faculty was Kathy Lucky, Daren Clifton, Lois Boles, Mary Mathias, Janie Miller, Wilma Cantwell, Carla Gohlke, and Jody Pruitt. During pregame both Bulldog teams looked good, but only one would win. After introduction both teams were ready.

After a couple of quick volleys the Varsity team was up 6-0, stunning the faculty. Finally, the faculties Jody Pruitt served up 2 quick points, but the varsity was still winning. A great dig by Lynette Ivey didn't even make the faculty worried. The varsity had the lead 7-5 after a Lois Boles serve. Ginger Graham wanted a victory and served up a 5 point lead past the diving Coach Gohlke took the faculty to 10 points, but the varsity took the game 15-10 off a Holly Greenwood serve. The faculty and varsity both played hard, but the varsity pulled off the win.

As game two began, Coach Gohlke served up 2 quick points, but Ginger Graham brought the varsity to a 2-1 faculty lead. The varsity took a 6-2 lead while they left the faculty bewildered. The faculty jumped to a 6-6 tie with the help of Lois Boles. After the time out Wilma Cantwell served one in the net, and the serve bounced around until Jody Pruitt hit one out of bounds. Coach Gohlke spiked one off Bobbie Rogers. The varsity took this as an insult and bumped up the score to 8-7. The faculty took the score up to a 10-8 lead, and was on the war path. Mrs. Pruitt served the score to 12-9. The varsity scratched and clawed for points and put the score up to a 12-10 faculty lead. Despite the varsity effort the faculty won.

At the start of game 3 Coach Gohlke served up a 3-0 faculty lead. The varsity was on a comeback as Joanna Wallace spiked one through the faculty players. Mary Mathias spiked a faculty point as the score bounced to a 8-1 faculty lead. Kysha Poellnitz sends one to the back line for a varsity serve. The score shot around to 15-8 as the faculty wins the game and the series 2 games to 1.

RECLAIMING CONTROL OF TEXAS PRISONS

By: Dan Morales, Attorney General

For nineteen long and costly years, our state prison system has been governed by outsiders. Texans have been forced to witness the evolution of an environment in which the rights of criminals seem to be more vigorously guarded than the rights of their victims.

Recent progress aimed at reversing this alarming trend could well be the catalyst to return control of our prisons to state leaders, while also restoring proper recognition and protection of the first right of every Texan: the right to be safe in our homes, in our businesses, and on our streets.

Last month, state and county officials settled the difficult jail overcrowding lawsuit. County jails across Texas have for too long been filled with state prisoners who cannot be sent to state facilities because of a desperate lack of available cells. In the wake of last month's settlement, we now have an historic opportunity to seize upon the momentum and take the next step toward reclaiming complete control of our prisons.

The history of the lawsuit that led to our loss of state control has been particularly arduous. On June 29, 1972, inmate David Ruiz filed a handwritten petition with Federal Judge William Wayne Justice, stating that living conditions in Texas prisons were unconstitutional. Two years later, his and seven other inmate petitions were consolidated into a class action lawsuit known as Ruiz v. Estelle, which cited overcrowding problems, the use of inmates as guards, inadequate health care, solitary confinement, and a host of other abuses. In December 1980, after a 161-day trial that included some 350 witnesses and more than 1,500 exhibits, Judge Justice declared the system unconstitutional, ordered sweeping reforms, and appointed a special federal master to oversee our prisons.

Today, our prison system is in compliance with federal standards in all aspects, and we are prepared to prove that we have a mechanism in place to ensure that they never again fall into unconstitutional disrepair. In my second week on the job as Attorney General, I filed a motion to end the litigation and federal supervision because I don't believe Texans want to see the suit and outside control of our prisons drag on into yet another decade. During the recent legislative session, specific regulatory measures were enacted with the help of Governor Richards, Lt. Governor Bullock, Speaker Lewis, and their criminal justice leadership teams. These measures provide that, as our prison system grows to accommodate more prisoners, the availability of medical, recreational, academic, and other inmate facilities will grow in concert. The measures also put in place a structure that will closely monitor inmate population growth. And they modify our prison policies in such a way that Texas prisons can become more civilized and more cost effective with strict guidelines for inmate classification, staffing, nutrition, health care, disciplinary actions, facility maintenance, and other concerns.

In addition to these regulatory measures, the Legislature laid the groundwork for the construction of more than 25,000 additional prison cells to ensure that adequate space exists to house those individuals convicted of criminal acts.

An integral part of this initiative is the dedication of some 12,000 prison beds to confine and treat those criminals whose abuse of drugs and alcohol has affected their ability to follow society's laws. As many as 85 percent of those individuals who break our laws do so because of substance abuse. If we are to succeed in truly turning the tide of crime, we must close the revolving door that shuttles addiction-driven criminals in and out of our criminal justice system.

These actions represent the most comprehensive effort to date to address the needs of our criminal justice system and to end federal control of our state prisons. Texas voters will now be called upon to lend their support to this effort by approving the $1.1 billion bond package on the November 5 ballot to fund the construction of these new prison cells.

Voter approval of these bonds will ensure that our state's best effort is made to inject stability and predictability into our criminal justice system. It will also place Texas in the best position to end the Ruiz litigation once and for all. It is for these reasons that I encourage voters to exercise their right to vote and support Proposition 4 on November 5.

As the state's chief law enforcement official, I recognize that the coming years will bring no escape from the need for more prison capacity and more jail cells, no escape from the need to choose very carefully from among the array of community-based sentencing options.

I believe, however, that we can now escape the specter of a prison system governed by the federal courts. The people of Texas are tired of the courts running our affairs, and they believe the time has come to put our policy-making authority back in the hands of those who have been duly elected to represent the people of this state—where it belongs.

Voting yes on the November prison bond proposal is a critical step toward reclaiming control of Texas prisons.

BAPTIST GENERAL CONVENTION OF TEXAS NEWS

By: Ken Camp

Efforts by Texas lottery opponents to conduct a spirited debate on the facts surrounding a state-run numbers game have been frustrated by lottery promoters' desire to sit passively on their perceived lead and by their unwillingness to confront the issues, according to spokesmen for the anti-lottery coalition.

"Lottery proponents—whom we call the phantoms—have adopted a strategy of staying out of sight. We regret it because we feel they are robbing voters of the opportunity to learn all of the facts about the lottery through a free and open debate," said Sue Cox, executive director of Texans Who Care and campaign manager for the anti-lottery effort.

Weston Ware, associate director of the Texas Baptist Christian Life Commission, noted that several live debates and television programs were canceled because lottery proponents could not be found. And on several occasions, "name" lobbyists identified as participants for programs simply had aids or stand-ins speak in behalf of the lottery.

"It's frustrating, because we believe we have a moral and ethical responsibility to see that the people of Texas are exposed to the truth about this state-run numbers racket before the vote is taken," Ware said.

But while most lottery promoters have been reluctant to confront opponents in an open forum, the gaming industry was expected to invest its tremendous financial resources in commercials to be aired in selected media markets during the last ten days before the election, he added.

Meanwhile, Texans Who Care is continuing the intensive, church-based educational campaign it launched on Labor Day. A 22-page "lottery fact book and action guide" has been distributed to about 15,000 churches throughout the state, along with brochures, bulletin inserts and posters in both English and Spanish. The United Methodist Media Services also has printed and begun distributing more than 275,000 copies of an anti-lottery statement released by bishops of five United Methodist Conferences.

In addition to the church-based campaign, Texans Who Care has held press conferences and organizational meetings in key areas around the state. Major newspapers, ranging from the San Antonio Light to the Houston Post, have taken editorial positions against Proposition 11.

"A lottery run by government is a sleazy and ineffective way to generate revenue for needed state services. And financing state government by gambling is a poor lesson for the state's youngsters," the San Antonio paper opined, echoing an often-repeated Texans Who Care theme.

Recently, Texans Who Care particularly has questioned the propriety of the appropriations bill passed by the Texas Legislature which included potential lottery revenues in its spending plan prior to any vote of the people in support of the lottery.

Lottery opponents have noted with alarm statements from Comptroller John Sharp that if the lottery fails to pass, it could require across-the-board cuts in state agencies. They also have been troubled by responses such as a letter from the president of Southwest Texas State University to his faculty and staff, saying the university "stands to lose substantial amounts of money already appropriated, if the constitutional amendment authorizing a state lottery is not passed in November."

Ware called such use of the budget to encourage state employees and others to vote for the lottery "little more than an attempt to buy votes. You'll get your money only if you vote right" is the message going out. The normal description for that would be words like 'blackmail' or 'extortion.'"

A Houston Post editorial labeled the $471 million appropriation of prematurely anticipated revenue "reckless budgeting" and "irresponsible." "It amounts to trying to coerce opponents of the lottery into voting for it. Voters should reject such blackmail tactics and vote against Proposition 11," the Post stated.

Though lottery opponents say they read the same opinion polls that lottery promoters do, anti-lottery activists are convinced this is a winnable referendum and that they can "beat the odds." As Phillip Wahlberg, former bishop with the Evangelical Lutheran Church, told one reporter, "It's not a done deal yet."

"If the large numbers of people we have identified as opponents of the lottery actually translate that dislike of the lottery into action at the polls, then the lottery can be defeated," Mrs. Cox said. "But if lottery opponents fail to vote, we could just as easily lose the election and would be stuck with a lottery for a long time."
