I Give You TEXAS

By Boyce House

I was more fortunate than many boys—my father was a "drummer." That's what a traveling salesman was called in those days. And he used to take me along much of the time, when I was quite small.

There was the thrill of riding the train (this being before the era of "horseless carriage), and of and of looking over the wonderful wares of the "news-butcher," including glass pistols and glass telephones, filled with small, round, red bits of peppermint; California oranges, California grapes and California figs—(it seems that all the fruit was from California in those days—even the chewing gum was called "California juicy fruit")—and such classics of literature as "Slow Train Through Arkansas" and "I'm From Texas—You Can't Steer Me."

The conductor was an awesome individual in regal blue uniform with fifty, or maybe more, gold buttons; the brakeman was nearly as important as he hurried down the aisle at night with a lantern on his arm or stood in the door and called out sounds that were supposed to be the name of the town we were approaching. Even the porter, in his white coat, played an important part as he purveed sandwiches—two thick, thirst-provoking slices of white bread with a tissue of cold boiled ham in between, and the porten again came into prominence as darkness set in as, with a flame of the end of a long steel rod, he lit the lamps.

Sometimes my father would hire a horse and buggy at the livery-stable and we would visit inland towns, stopping now and then along the country lane while he tacked up a few signs, using a marvelous hammer that had a magnetic tip which would hold a tack.

But it was the travel by train that was most exciting part. There was a method of counting the clicks of the wheels for a minute and then figuring out how fast the train was traveling—sometimes it got up to 30 miles an hour; that, however, was for only a short stretch and usually down a grade.

One Christmas Eve, I spent on the train and—would you believe it!—when I awoke the next morning, there was a stocking full of presents. A few nights later, we arrived in Graham, Texas and I had barely fallen asleep when there was a outburst of shooting. Maybe Indians were on the war-path was my first thought from having seen the pictures on the covers of "Buffalo Bill," "Diamond Dick," and "Young Wilyd West"—but, no, it was New Year's.

Though too young to pay a fare I was often given a hat check, punched with mysterious holes, and once the conductor allowed me to keep it, so I alighted from the train in my home town and marched proudly up the street, still wearing the check, the envy of all my playmates—unlucky lads whose fathers were not drummers!

Judge Alfred McKnight of Fort Worth, secretary of the Thoroughbred Horse Association of Texas, has been placed on the board of governors of the Quarter Horse Camp Meeting Association of America. Robert J. Kleberg, Jr., manager of the King Ranch and board chairman of the Thoroughbred Association, also is on the board of the Quarter Horse Association, which President J. Goodwin Hall of Fort Worth explains will "revive and preserve the Quarter Horse traditions of Colonial America and the Southwest."

Some weeks ago, your columnist reported that the most brazen act in connection with the entire session of the legislature was the forging of a legislator's name to a note calling off a committee meeting scheduled to consider an anti-loan shark bill. The stakes must be pretty big—I reasoned—for one to make as daring a play as this: to forge a note, smuggle it on to the floor of the House and, in some pre-arranged way, get it to the clerk's desk. And curiosity aroused, your columnist began to dig a little into the loan shark situation in our State. Some of the facts are astounding—but more on the subject a little later.

Naval Recruiting Station At Uvalde To Be Permanent

A permanent U. S. Navy Recruiting Sub-Station is now open in the Post Office Building at Uvalde, according to information furnished by the Chief Electrician's Mate R. L. Kies, U. S. Navy, Recruiter in Charge. This station has been opened in order to make it more convenient for young men to obtain first-hand information regarding the Naval Service and to make application for enlistment. All men accepted for enlistment will be furnished transportation to Houston for final examination and enlistment.

THE STATE OF TEXAS COUNTY OF SUTTON:

Before me, the undersigned authority, on this day personally appeared Mrs. Thelma Briscoe, County Treasurer of Sutton County, who being by me duly sworn, upon oath, says that the within and foregoing is true and correct.

MRS. THELMA BRISCOE, County Treasurer
Sworn to and subscribed before me this 11th day of August, 1941.
J. D. LOWREY, Clerk, Sutton County, Texas.

Mr. Kies states that never before during his Naval service have such unusual opportunities been offered young men to learn a trade as are being offered at this time. Those who do not desire to enter the Navy and make a career of it may enlist in the Naval Reserve to serve on active duty during an emergency. Also, men between 17 and 50 are eligible for enlistment in the Reserve. If they already have a trade they do not have to start at the bottom, but may enlist in the petty officer rating for which qualified, with pay ranging from $60 per month up, depending on their ability. Those under thirty-six who have no trade may enlist as apprentices for training as machinists, metalsmiths, electricians, radiomen, carpenters, storekeepers and clerical workers.

Chief Kies comes to Uvalde from the Navy Recruit Sub-Station at Corpus Christi where he has been on duty for the past nine months. He has served in the Navy for the past twenty years, spending the greater part of that time on the Aircraft Carrier U. S. S. LEXINGTON. However, he has also seen considerable service on battleships and cruisers. During his travels with the Navy he has visited China, Japan, the Philippines and the important islands of both the Atlantic and the Pacific, transiting the Panama Canal fourteen times. So, he is well qualified to give young men detailed information not only about the requirements for enlistment, the opportunities offered, and the life aboard ship, but to tell them some very interesting stories about the countries they too may visit in case they enter the service.

Mr. Kies extends a cordial invitation to all to visit him in the Post Office Building at Uvalde; especially to young men and their parents who may be interested in the opportunities offered by the U. S. Navy.

DEARBORN, Mich.—When the average person visualizes a big industrial plant, he (or she) usually views it in terms of miraculous operations done by mechanical marvels. Few think of a factory as a "school house," yet the vast Ford Rouge plant has an industrial school system comparable in size to a large university.

With the opening this year of two important new units, the Ford school system now enrolls nearly 10,000 students. Latest additions are an aircraft apprentice school and a U. S. Navy Service school to train Uncle Sam's blue-jackets.

Henry Ford started a school system in his automobile factories 5 years ago when he foresaw a future need for skilled manpower in industry. This foresight now is expected to go a long way toward solving his need for skilled hands in filling more than $700,000,000 in national defense orders.

Ford training facilities have grown in the past year to become the largest of their kind in the world. Space within the 1,200-acre Rouge plant devoted exclusively to classrooms, laboratories and school shops has been increased from three to five acres. One hundred instructors have been added.

In the new aircraft apprentice school, youths are being trained in machine shop, assembly, disassembly, inspection and testing of the Pratt & Whitney airplane engine which Ford is building for the U. S. Army. The school is located in the front portion of the new $27,000,000 airplane engine plant on the Rouge grounds.

Another unique Ford school project linked closely to national defense is the Navy Service School. Costing around $1,000,000, this school was provided and equipped through the Ford Motor Company, at no expense to the government. The first sections were erected in the record time of 40 days.

Two students in the Ford aircraft apprentice school (top photo) learn to operate a test cell panel used in checking newly built airplane engines. The instructor, with hand on the engine controls, explains the test instrument readings. In the photo above, carefree recruit sailors attending the Ford Navy Service School march across the Rouge plant grounds to their cantonment after the day's classes end.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Simmons returned Monday from the Carlsbad Caverns. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Tom Bond and Tommy of Rankin and Miss Jessie Salmon of Rankin.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Neuerburg and Eugene and Mary Lou, and Kelso Locklin visited San Antonio and College Station Friday and Saturday.

Mrs. Henry Decker is spending her vacation this week in Austin. She plans to return the latter part of this week with her son, Billy.

Dock Simmons, Mrs. Maysie Brown, and Mrs. Hillman Brown spent the week-end at the Carlsbad Caverns, in Cloudercroft, and in Ruidoso. They left Friday evening for Carlsbad, returned to Sonora Sunday night.

Claude Prater Home May Be Described As "Ideal Small Home"

Featuring a floor plan and lighting arrangement designed for utmost utility in year-round use, the Claude Prater home may be best described as being the "ideal small home for West Texas."

Surrounding this bungalow is a well-kept yard which is landscaped with beautiful summer flowers and a lawn that would be an advantage to any home.

Entrance to the home is made directly into the living room. This room is papered with multiple colored paper and furnished in a ranch oak suite, upholstered in a green plaid material. The hardwood floor is covered with a varicolored floral designed rug. White drapes are used over the venetian covered windows. End tables and a radio completes this very livable room.

In the front bedroom, which is entered either from the hall or from the living room, Mrs. Prater has used a pink and blue theme. The wall is covered with a light blue paper with a white floral design and the curtains and bedspread are in pink. A walnut suite is used in this room.

Light blue wall paper with a vertical strip of silver is used in the hall which the second bedroom, bathroom and kitchen may be entered from.

Brown and yellow is carried out in the second bedroom. Yellow wallpaper with a lighter vertical strip covers the wall and brown and yellow curtains are hung over the windows. Brown furniture completes the theme of this room.

The bath room wall has blue tile half way and is papered in blue with pink and white water scenes forming the design. White fixtures complete this room.

Black, white and red predominate in the kitchen fixtures and wallpaper. One side of this room is used as a breakfast nook which is furnished in a maple suite. The chairs are upholstered in red leatherette.

Modern indirect lighting fixtures and venetian blinds are sued throughout this modern four-room home.

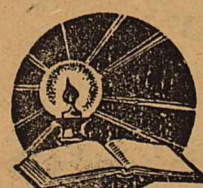

Beginning next week, the News will carry a crossword puzzle on the page opposite the society page. These puzzles, taken from an excellent selection of puzzles designed for publication in weekly newspapers will not appear in daily periodicals printed in this section. This feature will run for six weeks—longer if the crossword fans request it.

Ladies Auxiliary Met At Methodist Church Monday Evening

Our Pan-American neighbors were discussed Monday evening by the members of the Ladies Auxiliary of the American Legion when it met in the basement of the Methodist Church.

The meeting was opened with the pledge of allegiance and then the group repeated the Preamble. At the short business meeting Mrs. Merton Shurley presided and appointed Mrs. Gene Lightfoot delegate to the National Convention which will be held in Fort Worth.

Mrs. Shurley opened the program with a short review of the present circumstances of Mexico which was followed by Mrs. Otto Mund summarizing conditions in Portugal. Mrs. Earnest Stephen's topic was Ecuador and Mrs. Ban Odom reviewed Peru.

Plans were discussed on the box which the members of the Auxiliary will fix for the disabled veterans at Christmas.

Mrs. Otto Mund and Mrs. Gene Lightfoot were hostesses to the Auxiliary and members of the American Legion at the social hour at which time cake and tea were served.

Thirteen ladies attended the meeting.

Jo Nell Miers and Lem Eriel Johnson have returned from Austin where they visited Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Crawford. They also went through the Langhorn Cavern.

Fashion Joins the Vltzkrieg via The First "V for Victory" Dress

Now the first "V For Victory" dress joins up with the wild-fire "V" campaign launched by Prime Minister Churchill. Millions of women all over the unoccupied world will soon be making and wearing this new "V" dress designed by the Simplicity Pattern Company of New York. Patterns for the "V" dress are on their way to 7,500 stores across the United States. More, with sewing instructions in Spanish, are winging their way to department stores in the 21 Latin American republics. Others are bound for England and Australia. Miss Josephine Johnson, 1940 glamour debutante, chose this version of the "V" dress, made up in light grey wool. It has V-shaped shoulder sections outlined in bold red applique, V-shaped pocket flaps embroidered with the opening notes of Beethoven's Fifth Symphony—three long and one short, the equivalent of the gallant letter "V" in Morse code.

Ally to Ally: Norway Greet Britain

Smuggled out of Nazi-occupied Norway, this photograph shows how the citizens of Bergen display sympathy with their British Allies. Here, piled high with flowers amid the snow and decorated with the Norwegian flag, is the grave of an "Unknown British Pilot," killed in the summer of 1940. In defiance of the Gestapo, the people of Bergen have continued to adorn the grave with wreaths and flowers. Right through the winter fresh tracks could be seen in the snow every day around it, and the flowers were always fresh. On May 17th, Norway's Independence Day, school children went in procession to the grave and by the end of the day it was buried in flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Flagg of Richland Springs were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Noble Prentice over the week-end.

NOBLE PRENTICE ATTENDS COMMITTEE MEETING

Last week Supt. Noble Prentice, member of the Executive Committee of the Texas State Teachers Association, attended the regular monthly meeting of that group in Austin. Members of the committee: Charles H. Tennyson, public relations director, and B. B. Cobb, secretary of the Texas State Teachers Association, and Mr. Prentice met before the State Board of Education.

Mrs. Prentice and the twins accompanied Supt. Prentice as far as Marshall Ford Dam, spent the week-end with friends there.

WINS TOURNAMENT

Eddie Ratliff of Sonora won the second flight championship at the Texon Golf Tournament held in Texon Saturday and Sunday. His picture was carried in the San Angelo Standard Wednesday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Busty Halbert, Mrs. John Kring, and George D. Chalk are leaving today for Ruidoso, N. M. They will be accompanied home by Buddy Halbert, who has been there visiting for several weeks.

Mrs. M. O. Britt returned Tuesday from Rosebud, where she has spent part of her summer vacation.

Football practice will begin September 1, and some new equipment is arriving.

for MODERN living

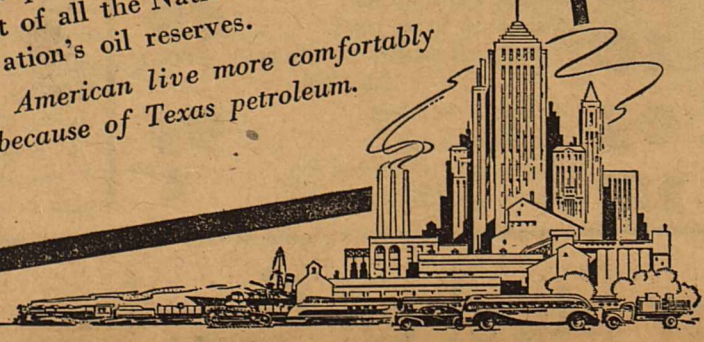

In the early days, medicine show quacks sold crude oil for a dollar a bottle as a cure for all human ills.

Today hundreds of essentials for modern living are made from oil. It supplies heat for the home. It provides power for the Nation's machinery and transportation. It lubricates the gears of industry. It furnishes fuel for your car. It has shortened distances to make our Nation one big community.

America is safer today because of petroleum. The oil man's initiative and enterprise have made available to the United States the world's largest supply of petroleum.

In all this, Texas plays a leading part. Last year we supplied 36 per cent of all the Nation's oil, and now have over half of the Nation's oil reserves.

You and every American live more comfortably and safely today because of Texas petroleum.

Defense News Of The Week

President Roosevelt placed airplane fuels under export control, limiting shipment to points in the Western Hemisphere, the British Empire and unoccupied territories of countries resisting aggression. Secretary Hull told his press conference any move of Japan into Thailand would be a matter of concern to the United States. Treasury Secretary Morgenthau announced the lend-lease administration has ordered 10,000,000 yards of cotton grey goods to make uniforms for Chinese soldiers.

SILK—

The Office of Production Management "froze" all silk supplies in the country because minimum requirements of the Army and Navy for silk powder bags and parachutes will consume total stocks. Price Administrator Henderson said the action should not result in retail stocking price increases for stocks on hand. OPM formed a special commodity section to handle problems of obtaining substitute materials, allocating rayon yarn and manufacturing capacity.

Federal Security Administrator McNutt called for immediate registration by State Employment Services of the approximately 175,000 silk industry workers being forced out of work by the raw silk shortage. The Department of Agriculture reported more than 150 different cotton stocking designs are available to the hosiery industry, and stated 89 per cent of the 16,000 knitting machines can knit cotton as well as silk.

OIL—

Petroleum Coordinator Ickes said he was satisfied with first results of the nightly blackout of East Coast gasoline stations, but asked motorists to redouble efforts to cut motor fuel consumption voluntarily. He made recommendations for operators of commercial vehicles which he said would cut gas consumption about 30 per cent, and announced the oil industry will give its patrons windshield stickers pledging the use of one-third less gasoline than usual. He said 82 insurance companies have contributed to the "share-your-car-campaign" by revising underwriting rules to enable motorists to carry paying passengers to and from work.

Federal Security Administrator McNutt urged immediate registration at State employment offices of all automobile service station workers who lose their jobs as a result of the drive to cut gasoline consumption, in order that they may "be transferred as rapidly as possible to other work."

Letter Describes Opportunities For Single Young Men

The following letter, received by Noble Prentice, tells of opportunities open to young, unmarried men who are interested in technical and mechanical work:

U. S. Army Recruiting Station
San Angelo, Texas.

August 12, 1941

Mr. Noble Prentice
Sonora, Texas

Dear Sir:

As an educator and High School principal you are the most important single influence upon the young men of your community. After graduation they still look to you for guidance and council in choosing a career.

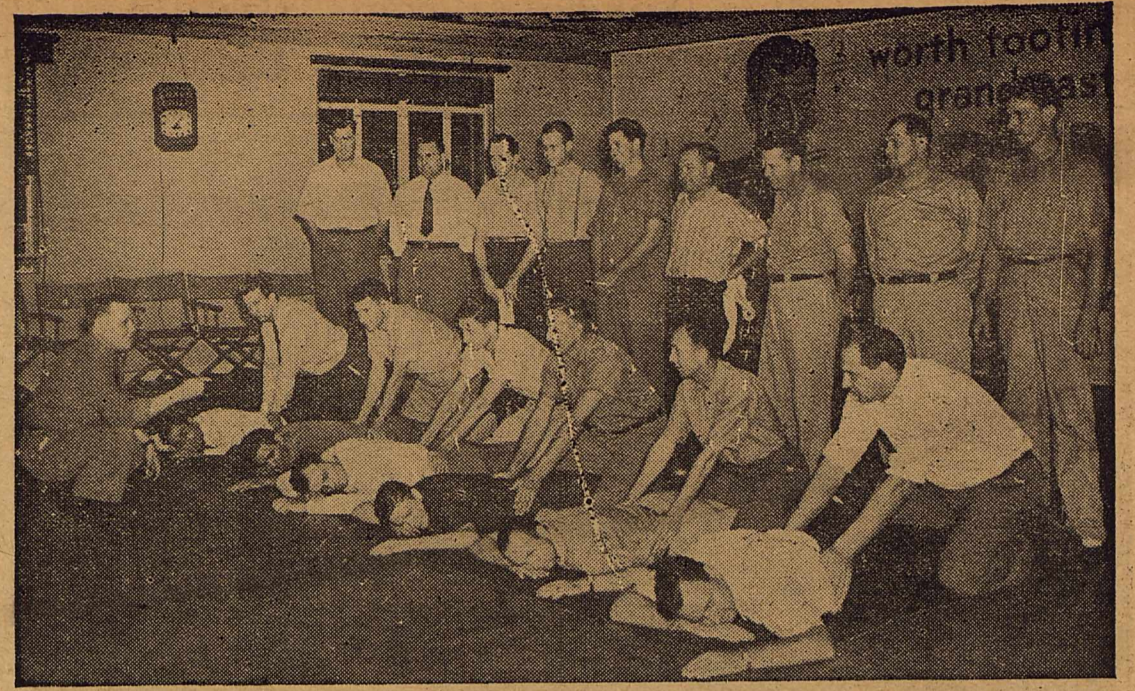

It is regrettable that so few of our young citizens are acquainted with the opportunities for trade school and technical education offered to the enlisted men of the Army.

The Army offers ambitious and earnest young men the opportunity of acquiring a technical and trade school education. A few of the many courses are:

Airplane mechanics, machinists, welders; Parachute riggers;

POWER—

Consumer Administrator Harriet Elliott issued a list of suggestions to housewives for the conservation of power for defense by cutting electric bills, and said, "The practice of careful consumption habits now is the best preparation for the future." Miss Elliott recommended economies be practiced particularly in parts of the country where power shortages are threatened.

PREPARED: Ready to render first aid on the spot are employees of the Gulf Brewing Co., Houston, who recently graduated from the First Aid Course given by the E.

D. Bullard Co., manufacturers of first aid equipment. Pictured here are 21 of the 26 graduates listening to their instructor, Ted Felds. These men, who help make and deliver grand-tastin' Grand Prize Beer, are now qualified to give prompt and efficient first aid whenever it may be needed.

HOLLYWOOD
By Lee O. Lyon

MR. & MRS.: A hope long cherished by Jeanette Mac Donald and hubby Gene Raymond has at last come into being. They've always wanted to appear in a film together. And now Metro gratifies that wish by casting them romantically in "Smilin' Through," which is going before the cameras this week. We think this adds to the sentiment of this beautifully sentimental classic.

Hollywood is going to do its share to help Mr. and Mrs. moviegoer escape the stress of today's harrowing headlines. Six big musicals are either being prepared or planned for by Metro for the approaching movie weeks. "Smilin' Through" is one; "Lady Be Good," a musical with much good fun is another; "Babes on Broadway," with that fabulous young team of Mickey Rooney and Judy Garland; "The Chocolate Soldier," With Nelson Eddy; "Bargain Basement," with a bountiful musical score and the manities of the Marx Brothers and "Panama Hattie" are the others that will add a resounding lilt to movie-going.

There's a school of thought that insists on romance with its screen stories. "We've Got to Have a Love Story," they cry. Yet how do they account for those two Academy Awards which Spencer Tracy has earned for roles that didn't have the slightest suggestion of boy meets girl?

With treaties and pacts having been torn to shreds by whims, we can't expect the pledge of a beautiful girl to remain single for a specified time to be maintained. When M-G-M chose 12 stunning young ladies from more than 2,000 beauties for roles in "Ziegfeld Girl," these fortunate twelve organized a Ziegfeld Girls Club with each member solemnly pledging she would not wed for a year or longer. Irma Wilson broke the pledge by marrying Ted Baker, head of American Airlines. Then Nina Bissell married a childhood sweetheart. Now Alaine Brandeis and Peter Potter are on the verge. If nations don't mean what they say, why should we, the girls reason. And we can't think of any better reasoning, can you?

Before "The Big Store" was chosen as the new title of the new Marx Brothers comedy, Groucho suggested they call it "The Philadelphia Store," "Maybe then," he reasoned, "we could get Hepburn for a salesgirl."

HOLLYWOOD DATA: The horse Robert Taylor rides in "Billy the Kid" is his own, he having bought and trained it for movie work. . . In "Bargain Basement," the Marx Brothers become private detectives who run wild in a department store. . . Robert Sterling, one of the most promising young leading men, has his most important role in M-G-M's "The Get-Away." This is the film in which Donna Reed, the year's outstanding "find" makes her screen

In this picture, typical of any of the air training schools in Canada, are seen (left to right) student airmen from Canada, Australia and New Zealand. They are enrolled in the British Commonwealth Air Training Plan, the most gigantic enterprise of its kind in the world. It is now turning out thousands of pilots, gunners and observers at about twice the rate originally planned for this time. The plan now has 116 establishments of all kinds including 83 schools from coast to coast. Its estimated cost for a period of three years is $524,000,000 of which amount Canada will provide $531,000,000 and also 80 per cent of the students. About 1,500 of the pupils trained or in training with the Royal Canadian Air Force are Americans and 600 American pilots are serving as instructors for the Air Training Plan. In addition, to sending men overseas, the R.C.A.F., with planes on patrol duty throughout the Dominion and far out to sea on both coasts daily, is a powerful factor in Canada-United States Defense.

BUILDING SONORA'S FUTURE---

What We Have Done On The Distribution System — . . .

50,000 feet of wire for the distribution system have been strung; 90 per cent of the power poles have been set; 230,000 feet of additional wire is on hand in Sonora, and another shipment is due August 21; 60 per cent of the transformers have been hung.

Our Supply Of Material — . . .

Our supply of materials has not diminished nor been cut down to a trickle because of the defense program. Most of the materials we needed were bought and paid for before the defense rush began. True, there has been an occasional bottleneck in supplies, as there is in an construction work any time. OUR REPORT IS THAT WE ARE PROCEEDING ACCORDING TO SCHEDULE.

Workmen shown above are pouring foundations for the home of Sonora's new Light and Power Plant.

What We Have Done On The Building — . . .

The building and engine foundations have been completed, and workmen are now digging the pipe trench, and excavations for the fuel tanks. The largest tank will hold one tank car load of fuel. Three smaller tanks will be used as "day" tanks. All steel plans have been approved; the building tile is ready for shipment; all roofing material is in Sonora; all building and wiring material is in Sonora; the giant Fairbanks-Morse motors will be shipped this month.

TSCW Teaches Spanish in Mexico

Lessons in Spanish are removed from the classroom as these girls, students in the Texas State College for Women summer school in Saltillo, Mexico, visit the city's shopping district where few salesmen speak English. In a typical Mexican market Gerrie Yocum of Dallas, assisted by Bertie Naylor of Waco, tries on a big hat. The girls agree it's a grand way to learn conversational Spanish, and college authorities say that TSCW's experiment in education has developed unexpected proportions as an experiment in promoting Pan-American friendship.
