BAPTIST CHURCH NOTES

R. A. Scranton
We were happy to note an increase in the attendance at the Sunday School and Training Union last Sunday. A number of our people are still out of service on account of illness, but we hope they can soon be back. Let us all be in God's house every service possible.

We had a good attendance at the preaching services and at the morning service. There was one profession of faith and an addition to the church for baptism. There are others who should confess the Lord, and others who should dedicate their lives to Him and His service. There are many Baptists here who should come into the fellowship of the church and give themselves to the Lord in service through the church.

Beginning Monday night at 7:30 o'clock, of the next week, March 22, all the officers and teachers of the Sunday School are urged to be present for a preview of the Sunday School lessons for the next quarter's study. This study will be of great value to the teachers and all who attend. There will be credit given in the Sunday School study course and an award given for the work done. Fellow workers, please make your plans to attend.

The pastor is to go to Rock-springs Sunday afternoon to assist in ordaining some deacons. He is to bring a special message.

The new maps have arrived and will be used in the study next week. Thanks to those who made this possible.

First Aid for the Meat Bill

By KATHARINE FISHER and DOROTHY B. MARSH
Authors of The Good Housekeeping Cook Book

WITH such heavy demands being made on our supply of meat for war needs, it becomes the patriotic duty of every homemaker to know the meat cuts available in her markets, and to make her meat purchases count for just as much as possible in her family meals.

- These tips will help you to buy meats economically:
1. For ground or chopped meat, buy such less demanded, less expensive cuts as flank, chuck, plate, breast, shoulder, etc. Grinding makes them tender and delicious.
  2. Always ask for the meat bones and trimmings. The bones simmered with soup greens, make a delicious vegetable soup. The fat trimmings can be tried out and used in sautéing, etc.
  3. Frequently use beef, pork or lamb liver instead of calves' liver. The food value is the same and the cost is far less.
  4. Flank steak, broiled 5 min. on each side, and then sliced diagonally across the grain is a less expensive, delicious steak.
  5. Simmer shanks or hocks of beef, veal, lamb or pork, with vegetables. The cooking water makes good soup stock for a second meal.
  6. Don't throw out bacon, sausage or ham drippings. They're just the thing for frying codfish cakes and sautéing fried potatoes, mashed potato cakes, fish fillets, eggs, slices of tomatoes, half bananas, etc. Here are some tasty ways of cooking less expensive meats:

Combine the beef, onion, garlic, lemon juice, egg, minced parsley, and bread, which has been sprinkled with a little water and broken into crumbs. Blend well, then form into small patties or balls. Sauté in a little butter, fat, or salad oil until golden brown on both sides. Sprinkle with salt and pepper while cooking. Makes 6 patties. Serve with tomato or Spanish sauce if desired.

Serve with macaroni and cheese, parsley-buttered carrots, red cabbage slaw, enriched bread, baked apples and coffee for dinner.

Beef Liver Patties
1 lb. beef liver Speck pepper
1 medium onion, 4 tbsp. bacon or peeled other fat
1 tsp. salt

Put liver and onion through food chopper, using medium blade. Combine with salt and pepper. Heat bacon fat in a skillet, then drop liver mixture into it in the form of patties about 3" in diameter. Sauté over medium heat until patties are brown on both sides and cooked through. Makes 11 patties and serves 4-5. Lamb or calves' liver may be substituted for beef liver.

Serve with potatoes in jackets, creamed cabbage, lettuce salad, and lemon meringue pie for dinner.

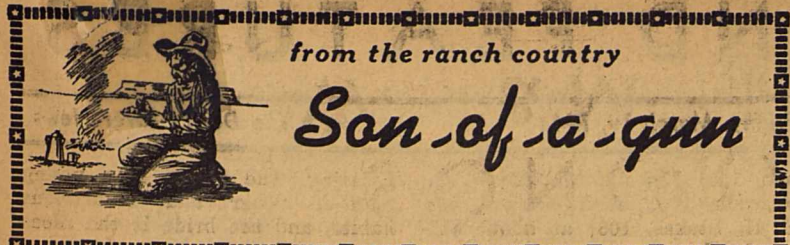

When life hangs by a wire!

IN HOSPITALS throughout West Texas (and close up to battle lines all over the world) a blue-white light blazes down on the tense little group. . . . A suction machine hums quietly. . . . Skillful fingers poise an electric knife. . . . A human life hangs on the smooth, even flow of electric power.

pausing to think of the constant supply of electricity that keeps it operating. But electric power didn't just happen. The hard work, training and experience of West Texas Utilities men and women have made it dependable. They've made it plentiful, too—so that West Texas communities have not been hindered by any power shortage while joining in the Nation's war effort. And they've made it cheap—so that the average West Texas home enjoys over twice as much electricity for the same money it paid about fifteen years ago. These are the results of practical business management under public regulation—part of the system of business freedom in which millions of Americans have put their faith and their savings.

West Texas Utilities Company

John Lee Nisbet and Buzzie Stokes, as president and past-president of the Lions Club, received most of the verbal bouquets for the feed given visitors when the directors of the TSGRA met here March 6—but in each case they said, "Thanks, but Bustie Halbert is the man who is responsible."

This year the Lions Club asked Bustie, a past master at planning and executing barbecues and chuck wagon feeds, to take over arrangements for the dinner. This year Bustie bought a calf and had it fattened, had all the groceries bought before point rationing went into effect (so there was no shortage that day of frijoles), collected the necessary cooking and serving utensils, then stayed over at the wool house supervising and working to see that all ran smoothly. The crowd fed this year, over three hundred in all, was the largest number fed here at an affair of this sort.

—($* & lb 1/2! # lb & *$)—

Some say they won't, while others hotly contend they will—but R. A. Halbert knows that hawks will kill new-born lambs, because he caught a big hawk in the act on his ranch. He has found around fifty lambs so killed this season, and estimates that he has lost as many more the same way.

Many ranchers have noticed hawks on their ranches this spring, and those who know that they have been killing lambs wish to pass this information on to their neighbors. A new, weak lamb isn't much match for the big hawks found around this country.

—($* & lb 1/2! # lb & *$)—

Lea Allison found a ewe with triplets this season on his ranch, which is a rather unusual occurrence among sheep.

—($* & lb 1/2! # lb & *$)—

Some of the local fishing experts went down to the lake last week to try their luck, and naturally they came back with that old tale about the big one that got away.

They had a new one to tell too, about a big catfish down there that stays back in a cave in the rocks. One of the natives down there, who swears he will weigh 100 pounds, has hooked him several times. Each time, however, the cat dives for his cave and there he stays until he has broken the fisherman's line by sawing it back and forth on the rocks.

Okay, now it's your turn.

—($* & lb 1/2! # lb & *$)—

From the Gulf Breeze we get the following:

"The driest place in the world is that part of Egypt between the two lower falls of the Nile. Rain has never been known to fall there. Travelers say that it is almost impossible to make the natives believe that water can, by any possibility, fall from the skies."

Considering weather conditions here the past year, we want to know what the heck is so wonderful about that?

—($* & lb 1/2! # lb & *$)—

News flash to West Texans: Rationing points on frijoles have been cut from eight to four points.

That still isn't a great help since frijoles are the "staff of life" in this country.

—($* & lb 1/2! # lb & *$)—

We heard Tuesday one of the most comprehensive and beautifully delivered talks it has ever been our pleasure to hear when Miss Anne Palmer, teacher of English in the Elementary School spoke at the Lions luncheon on "Post War Planning."

We were at a disadvantage in not being able to take it all down in shorthand, but Miss Palmer has promised to write it out for us, and it will appear next week in the Devil on page four.

The late Hick Halcomb, a picturesque individual if there ever was one (and a good friend of mine), used to tell about a candidate for district attorney who came to him for advice in a hard-fought campaign. Hick said, "Why don't you ask your opponent where he was on the night of March 19, 1936?" The candidate inquired, "But where was he?" Hick replied, "Thunder, I don't know—but he won't remember either!"

Nomination for the world's worst joke:
He was a musician—but his monkey died.

The loan shark problem in Texas is nearer solution as the result of a unanimous report by a House of Representatives committee in favor of Rep. W. W. Bridgers' constitutional amendment giving the legislature authority to pass a statute regulating the small loan business. Most States have enacted such a statute, but a constitutional amendment is necessary first. Then individuals needing small, personal loans will not have to pay 240 percent or more to foreign-owned chains that drain Texas of $30,000,000 a year in extortionate interest. Soldiers, sailors and war plant workers are being victimized, and public sentiment is strongly in favor of ending this vicious, unpatriotic racket.

Buck Bailey is, and has been for years, line coach of Washington State. When I knew him, he was a young athlete, starring as catcher of the Brady baseball team a long time ago. Managing the club was Bert Maxwell, who had pitched for Brooklyn. Naturally all the players had a profound respect for the ability of the former big leaguer—but Buck went beyond this and believed implicitly anything that Maxwell might say so long as the manager kept a straight face.

Former Rep. Bailey Jones of Austin (who was on the Brady team) relates that one day, as the club came in for its last time at bat, Brady was two runs behind, and Buck Bailey said, "Well, coach, it looks like they've got us." Max-

65 HAVE SIGNED FARM PLAN SHEETS

Sixty-five Sutton county ranchers have signed the Farm Plan Sheets, according to the report of Miss Dessie Parsons, of the local A. A. A. branch office. This number constitutes only about one half of the ranchers expected to sign up. Those who have not filled out the forms are asked to do so immediately, as the deadline on turning these in will be set in the near future.

well said solemnly, "Not at all—Jack Hampton is going to lead off with a single; Bailey Jones will hit a double, and then you'll bring them both in with a home run, giving us three scores and the ball game."

Buck said, "That would do it alright."

Hampton didn't open the inning with a single, but he did get on a base on balls, and that amounted to the same thing. Jones smashed a two-bagger and there were two runners on base, just as Manager Maxwell had said. Buck strode to the plate, swinging three bats; tossed two aside; planted his feet firmly, swung at the first pitch—and knocked it over the fence to score three runs and win the old ball game.

As Buck completed his trot around the bases, he looked over to the bench and yelled, "Well, Coach, it worked, didn't it?"

RANCHERS RECEIVE AAA CHECKS

Sutton County ranchers have received a total of $2,971.42 to date from the A. A. A. for their part in the 1942 soil conservation program.

The soil conservation program will be continued this year on an enlarged scale, and few changes have been made in it from last year.

Ten Students On Honor Roll

Charles Moore and Gene Cliff Johnson were high-grade students on the Sonora High School honor roll for the past six weeks of school and were made honorary members of the Lions Club for the month.

Others on the honor roll were Virginia Adams, Margie Crowell, Aubrey Loeffler, Anne de Berry, Frances Jo Lancaster, Clayton Hamilton, Ada Ruth Martin, and John Allen Ward.

MISS MARIE WATKINS TO BE SOLOIST IN AUSTIN CHURCH

Miss Marie Watkins is spending the week-end in Austin with Miss Elizabeth Caldwell. While there she plans to attend the Austin Symphony concert with Suzanne Sten as soloist.

Sunday morning Miss Watkins will be soloist at the First Methodist Church of Austin.

SERVING

WITHOUT GLORY OR PAY

The shortage of Trained Nurses becomes more acute every day. Bluntly, there aren't enough nurses now to look after the folks our fighting men left behind. To fill this gap; to release graduate nurses for active war duty, 37,000 American women have already volunteered to serve—without glory or pay. But one hundred thousand are urgently needed. Any woman, between 18 and 50, who can serve a minimum of 150 hours per year, without compensation, is eligible to train to become a full-fledged Nurse's Aide and provide for her country one of its most needed services.

ON THE HOME FRONT

The farmer who sells his surplus butter and an occasional side of beef when he goes into town on market day will collect ration stamps, just like the operator of super market, after the rationing of meats, fats and oils, cheese and canned fish goes into effect March 29.

By making such sales, he automatically becomes a distributor and must collect either the red stamps in Ration Book No. 2, ration checks or certificates and surrender the collected points to OPA.

But the forthcoming meat rationing program places no official restrictions on any of the rationed foods raised by farmers if used for their own tables.

Farmers and their families are given a full quota of points, just like the city folks, but the Government doesn't expect them to use all the points. OPA is asking farm families to retain the red stamps from their family books equal to the point value of the rationed foods, including meat, produced on the farm and eaten at home.

In other words, farmers are being asked to economize on their consumption of home-produced foods and to limit their purchases of the rationed foods not produced at home. Farm families sharing available supplies with city dwellers, who must buy all of their meats, cheese, butter, etc., from stores, will be making a vital contribution to the national welfare.

For the benefit of ranchers farmers, and others who ordinarily buy in large supplies of meats, cheese, lard, etc., for use over long periods of time, OPA will allow such purchasers to use stamps in advance of the valid periods. In these cases, the purchaser goes to the local board and surrenders as many red stamps as his purchase will require, even though some of the stamps were scheduled for use weeks or months ahead. The board official, then, will give him a bulk point certificate which will permit him to make his quantity purchase.

Beginning April 1, farmers who slaughter livestock for sale will become subject to the recent order of the Secretary of Agriculture which requires them to get "farm slaughters" permits from their County War Boards. To make it easier for them to dispose of their meat when selling direct to a consumer, OPA will allow them to collect all of the red stamps required for the purchase, even though some series may not have become valid for ordinary use.

For many farmers, the shoe will be on the other foot when he goes to the nearest meat market for a Sunday roast, or a bucket of shortening. He'll have to use the red stamps in his Ration Book Two, just like his friend who runs the corner drug store in town.

But, in patronizing the retailer, he'll have access to an official list of point values, so he can tell how many points he surrenders for each purchase. The store can give him back "change" in ration stamps and if he doesn't want to buy meat, he can use the red stamps for cheese, butter, margarine, lard, shortening, salad oil, cooking oil, or canned fish. Any of these can be bought with the basic allotment of 16 points per person.

The point value of the 150-odd items will be announced during the week of March 22. These points will tell the real story of how much all of us will be able to buy under meat rationing, but whatever it turns out to be, consumers will know that everyone will be getting his fair share of the available civilian supply.

OPA officials give assurance that meat rationing, as well as other phases of the over-all program, will be flexible and subject to changes made necessary by changing supply and marketing conditions. Their food specialists from this region have gone to Washington to gather detailed information about the meat program and to present the views of Southwesterners to OPA heads at the capital.

The announcement on meat rationing followed shortly after a change in ration point values for several important food items. Point values of dried and dehydrated prunes and raisins was reduced from 20 to 12 points. Dried beans and peas were dropped from eight to four points. Dates and figs were removed from the list of rationed foods.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Glad we ran into you, Judge. I was just tryin' to set Helen straight on this business about sugar. I wish you'd tell her what you told me last night down at lodge."
"Glad to, Jim. I told him, Helen, that there's not a single bit of truth to the rumor that the distillers use sugar in making whiskey. They make it exclusively from grain. Only bootleggers use sugar to make whiskey. I read an article in the paper just last week that goes to prove it. It told how a confessed bootlegger in a Federal court testified to the fact that another bootlegger, also on trial, had bought a million pounds of sugar a few years ago.

"As a matter of fact, Helen, no distiller is making whiskey today and hasn't for many months. All distillers are working night and day producing war alcohol for the government. And they make every drop of it exclusively from grain, too."

ROLL OF HONOR

W. C. Gilmore M-C who is now at sea, writes, "The days are still lazy ones. We must be an awful long way from home. Of course none of us know where we are, but we are still on our way. It seems funny that here early in the morning you folks have not yet gone to bed the night before. We passed the International date line some several days ago, so from now on I'll be a day ahead of you."

It was four months ago yesterday that I went to San Angelo to start my career as a Sea Bee. It seems like a long time. Lots of things have happened and we've seen plenty of territory, both land and sea. As a whole there has been very little reason to complain. It won't be long before we will finally settle down to doing what we started out to do, and that is some sort of construction work.

There are two small ship stores aboard where we can buy candies, box cookies, some toilet supplies, and the like. In fact there is very little we need.

For the past week or so some of us have been sleeping on deck when the weather permits. It is quite interesting to lay out in the open, and look up at the stars weaving back and forth thru the masts of the ship. Every once in a while when we hit a big swell it looks like a lot of shooting stars then all of a sudden they stop, and start back up again.

Scott, and Ernest Kiser are still with us, also R. V. Sewell's brother who worked around home for awhile. Do you remember Gomer Minick's brother-in-law who used to do road work for the county. He is also aboard, and a young fellow from Junction, and any number from Angelo, Brady, Mason, and that part of the country, so there is not too much reason to get very homesick."

Roy Hoggett, who is in the Navy writes, "Just a line to let you know I am o. k."

There are a lot of things to write about, but they won't let anything go through. Don't blame them for wanting to take care of these islands. They are almost perfect. The people here are very nice to us. They give us things they have growing on their place to eat. They have everything here they have in the States.

Hope to see you Christmas if things keep going like they are now."

S-Sgt. Melvin Shroyer, Army Air Base, Salt Lake City, Utah, says, "Have sure missed that paper since I left Tyndall. I have moved so much, not a single letter has caught me yet. So don't forget, I will be expecting the Devil."

Believe it or not, I graduated from gunnery school with a staff rating, and it was well earned after six months of school. I only hope I keep it as long as it took to get it. If there is any way possible I intend to add to those four stripes.

I am in the second Air Force and will be assigned to either a B-17 or B-24 plane. I am sure glad to know that. After listening to the news those planes have sure been doing the job, and will continue to do so.

It has been real Army life for me since I have been here. I have been trying to teach some new guys how to drill, but I have it kinda easy now. I work in the day room using a typewriter, therefore I get a pass to town more often, and I mean there are some pretty little Mormon girls here.

I am expecting to be shipped to Texas so I hope to see good old Sonora in the next few months."

Pfc. T. C. Thiers, somewhere in North Africa, writes, "Hello folks and how is every body at home? I'm o. k., I have been sleeping most of the day because I was on duty last night."

My buddy and I remodeled our tent. We put some lumber and tin around the bottom of it, to make it high. It really helps. We can get around much better now.

Our crew matched a ball game for this evening with one of the other crews at six o'clock. The other crew is on duty until five. We have all kinds of athletic equipment, as well as all kinds of card games, checkers, and other games. You see they are treating us alright. We get plenty to eat three times a day, and the weather is pretty so we are doing fine with nothing to worry us.

The wind really has been blowing here today. I don't believe I ever saw such high wind.

Well, I guess I'll close for now."

Flight Officer Alan W. Saunders is now somewhere in Africa. He says, I am well on my way from the U. S. I have seen some beautiful country so far. Everything from mountains to the sea shore. We are in one of the large four engine clippers. Are really travelling in style. We have gone about 1600 miles so far, and have many more to go. I will write again sometime soon.

The Colonel told us we would get three medals after the war for this trip."

A later letter states, "Well, little did I believe that I would be somewhere in Africa today, two weeks ago. I had a fine trip. Came most of the way on the Pan American Clipper. Saw some beautiful country, and also some wild country. I would give any thing to be able to take some pictures of the many things I see, but no can do."

The food over here in most of the places is better than we had at Homestead.

Saw Martha Raye today. I got her to sign my short snorter bill. She has been over here for five months. She is putting on a show here tonight.

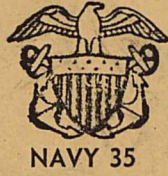

I will write again when I get a chance. Everything is fine, and I am having a swell time."

Marine Pvt. Roy Cooper, writes, "How are you all by now? Fine I hope. I am having a good time. I just received my first letters from home, and was glad to get them."

I am glad so many boys from West Texas are joining the

ARMY 195

NAVY 35

MARINES 9

Marines. I think it is the best branch of the Service. I sure like it.

I weigh 190 pounds now so you know we have the best of food. Don't worry about me because I'm having a good time. Tell every one hello."

Cpl. John Nichols, address unknown, writes, "I suppose you will be surprised to hear from me, but I feel so good I had to write you."

I spent quite a bit of time with Bill Gilmore today. He ate lunch with me and told me most of the things that had happened in Sonora in the time I was gone. I was sure glad to see him. It makes me feel like a new guy."

Bill is in a good outfit. I met several of his friends and they all seem like right guys. I thought maybe you would like to know that I had seen him and that he is o. k."

Pvt. R. W. Hill, now stationed at Langley Field, Virginia, says, "I saw three more states. They were Delaware, Maryland, and Virginia. I saw some pretty sights. I saw the capitol of the United States, Washington's monument, Jefferson's monument and other pretty buildings."

I think I will like it better down here. It is much warmer."

I had a big thrill the other day. I went up in an airplane. We went on a bombing mission out over the Atlantic. I was up 1 hour and 35 minutes, and didn't get sick either. I like it up there."

Pvt. Edmond Heinze, writes from

Austin, Texas, "I sure like it here, and I hope that I can stay for a long time. When I am this close, I know that I'll get to see you all once in a while. I'm really enjoying this good old Texas sunshine."

I think I may possibly get out of radio and get clerical work. That's what I have wanted every since I have been in the Army, but there is a lot of red tape in getting reclassified and everything but they are supposed to be working on it. I talked to the Adjutant the other day and he said he couldn't see why they ever sent me to a radio school in the first place. I have been on K. P. the last three days and have one more to go so Wednesday I'll see what progress has been made. I feel like if I get to be a clerk that I will stand a better chance of staying here, and I know that my rating (if I get any) will be faster."

I am hoping to get my furlough sometime next month so if I do I'll try to see you all, if only for a few minutes. I know it will be a rush though because I'll have to spend a few days in Miles and then some in McCamey, but I'll see what I can do."

After putting in a day on "pots and pans" I feel like I am ready to go to bed so I'll quit for tonight."

Word has been received that corporal Tommy Barrow, who is in the Marine Corps, has been sent over seas. Barrow also broke the record at the Naval Training Base in Memphis, Tennessee. The record was 98.3 and Barrow made 98.8, beating the record .5 of a point."

Home From The War

Sgt. J. H. Brasher, who is an aerial gunner stationed at Greenville, South Carolina, is home on furlough visiting his mother, Mrs. J. H. Brasher.

Pfc. Sam Odom, now stationed now at Camp Bowie, spent several days here visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ban Odom.

INJURED BY GUN SHOT

Mrs. Theresa Friend was called to Del Rio Monday where her son, Houston Stokes of Sanderson, was receiving treatment for a bullet wound received Sunday night. According to information received here, Stokes was shot accidentally when he sat down on a revolver in the seat of his car. The bullet passed through his leg, entering just above the knee and coming out below the hip. No bones were broken, and he is reported to be resting well and not to be in serious condition now.

COAST GUARD 1

George Edward Allison, who is stationed at Goodfellow Field, has been promoted to the rank of Technical Sergeant in the Quartermaster Corps.

O. L. RICHARDSON, JR. PLACES IN TRACK MEET

Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Richardson have received word that their son, O. L. Richardson, Jr., placed fourth in the hundred-yard dash at the Border Olympics held at Laredo. A. & M. # READING & WRITING

BY Edwin Seaver AND Robin McKoun

WHEN the Germans marched into Norway, they announced with loud proclamations that "they came as friends." In his book, "They Came As Friends," the Norwegian journalist, Tor Myklebost, tells us just what sort of "friends" the Germans have been and how the Norwegians have been and are combatting that "friendship."

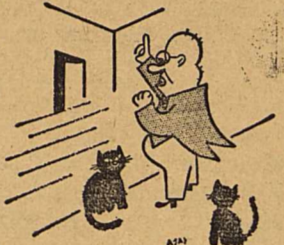

TOR MYKLEBOST

Humor is one of the minor—though not ineffective—weapons of the Norwegians. After the Nazis announced that they wished a hand in the running of the Norwegian Athletic Association—a nationwide organization of young men and women—the membership mysteriously shrunk overnight to nothing at all. Later, however, when the Nazis decided to reorganize it, the Norwegians became suddenly cooperative, even to the extent of suggesting a director. How chagrined the Nazis were, after they had publicized widely the name of this director, to discover that the man named was at that time in jail, doing sentence as a common thief!

To explain national socialism, the Nasjonal Samling sent out speakers to all parts of the country. At one place, the speaker found his total audience consisted of two black cats. Outside the hall, however, a large crowd had gathered. These people politely explained to the speaker that the two cats had protested against attending the meeting, but that they had been chased inside so that the speaker would not be entirely alone.

Are you one of those people who are always promising themselves that some day they will get around to reading Dickens again—or, at any rate, to reading Dickens? Maybe the same thing troubles you that bothers us when we look at those big Victorian tomes, packed with fine print. Where's the time coming from to read them? In this case, you'll welcome the new Dickens Digest, containing "David Copperfield," "Pickwick Papers," "Oliver Twist" and "Martin Chuzzlewit," in condensed form. It would take a better Dickens scholar than we are to recognize where the cuts have been made, so skillfully has the job been done by Marie Louise Aswell. The Book-of-the-Month Club has selected "The Dickens Digest" for distribution of its members as a book-dividend.

Humor has not deserted the French soldiers incarcerated in German prison camps, we learn from Marcel Haedrich, author of "B...rack 3 Room 12." The men looked forward eagerly to receiving packages from home, to supplement their meagre diet. When these packages did not contain food, they were understandably disappointed. There was the man, for instance, whose family regularly sent him a woolen sweater, until he had five of them. "What do they think I am," he grumbled, "a moth?"

Stickers—

envied. The council committee realizes that under wartime conditions most of these stickers are necessary. But it does believe that definite limitation should be imposed as to the number, size, and place of display. It believes, too, that the average motorist doesn't give enough thought to displaying the stickers so that they obscure the minimum amount of vision.

It offers the following suggestions:

1. Utilize the space at the top center of the windshield, directly in front of the rear view mirror, for attachment of the Federal Vehicle Use Stamp. One other small sized sticker may be placed in the adjoining position without causing additional vision obscurement, since this space is already covered by the mirror. It is suggested also that this second space be reserved for the sticker which serves as an identification pass for Army bases, Navy yards, war plants, etc. Such a sticker, however, should be limited in size to two inches square.

2. Stickers used to indicate payment of vehicle fees to states and cities and to show compliance with motor vehicle inspection regulations, should be placed on the bottom edge of the windshield, starting at the extreme lower right corner. The maximum size suggested for any sticker is three inches square.

3. Mileage ration identification stamps should be placed on the left rear side of window. In the case of trucks, where such placement is not possible, these stamps should be carried on the left rear window of the cab. This facilitates a check when gas is purchased.

4. Eliminate all stickers not actually required to be displayed on the motor vehicle.

5. No sticker of any type should be displayed on the windshield or windows of any motor vehicle without approval as to need, size and placement by the state department in which the authority for such approval is vested.

By following these suggestions the Committee on Special Enforcement Problems believes the driving war worker, whose safety is so necessary to the all-out war effort, can eliminate a definite driving hazard.

Hundreds of Red Cross workers are on foreign shores with our boys. Do your part to keep them there by giving to the 1943 Red Cross War Fund.

A LOOK AT THE BOOK

By DR. BOB JONES, JR.

PRESIDENT OF BOB JONES COLLEGE, Cleveland, Tennessee

A skilled craftsman knows how to handle his tools. A good soldier is proficient with his arms. A good preacher knows how to use his Bible. In the eighth chapter of Acts we have the story of a preacher skilled in the handling of God's Word. His name was Philip. Seated in a chariot beside a man who was reading from the prophet Isaiah and asked to explain the meaning of the words, Philip "began at the same Scripture, and preached unto him Jesus."

The chapter from which Philip took his text was written by Isaiah approximately 700 years before Christ was born. Isaiah, the prophet inspired of the Holy Spirit looking forward down the centuries, foresaw the rejection and trial and crucifixion of Christ. Philip, understanding the passage and rightly interpreting it, preached Jesus, the suffering Savior and the Lamb of God dying for the sins of men.

Christ is the theme of the whole Bible. These sacred pages speak of Him. He is pointed to in the promises and prophecies of the Old Testament. Early in the book of Genesis God promises to the sinner Adam the coming of One who shall conquer sin. "And I will put enmity between thee and the woman, and between thy seed and her seed; it shall bruise his heel" (Genesis 3:15). His death for sin is typified in the offerings and sacrifices of Leviticus. The twenty-second Psalm depicts prophetically His agony on the cross. Boaz, the kinsman redeemer of the book of Ruth, is a type of Him who redeems us from our sins. The very law thundering forth from Sinai, Paul tells us, is the "schoolmaster to bring us unto Christ" (Galatians 3:24).

It is not only as the suffering Savior and the Redeemer of the world that the Lord Jesus Christ is revealed in the Old Testament. We also behold Him there as the One entitled to power and glory, as the King who shall come to reign over the earth, as the Judge upon His throne.

In the New Testament from the first words of Matthew declaring itself the "book of the generation of Jesus Christ, the son of David" to the closing benediction of the Revelation, "The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ, be with you all," He is the One exalted and revealed. Any preaching which fails to exalt Him comes wide the mark and misses the purpose of Scripture.

Meat Rationing—

One of the few differences between the use of the blue stamps and the red stamps in Book II is the order in which stamps are valid.

When rationing begins on March 29, the first set of stamps marked "A" and worth sixteen points, will be valid. Beginning April 4, and then on each succeeding Sunday throughout April, an additional set of stamps will be validated. All these stamps, from A through E, will remain in use all month, making a total of eighty points per person.

Another difference is that use of the red stamps permits retailers to make change in stamps when a customer cannot give the exact amount of red stamps in making a purchase. Only one-point red stamps may be used for this purpose.

During the week of April 4 to April 10, storekeepers may give customers red one-point stamps marked A or B in change. Customers are reminded, in this connection, that they must use stamps they receive in change by the end of the month in which they are issued.

As red stamps are declared valid, they may be used to buy any one or any combination of the foods for which they were issued.

"For example," Hall explained, "a housewife with forty points to spend may spend all of them for meat, all for butter or cheese, or she may divide them up to buy any combination of food she wishes."

Point values for the entire list of foods rationed in Sonora will be the same as in every retail store in the country. Point prices of different cuts of meat will be different, but there will be no difference in point price between different grades of the same cut of meat, nor between the various grades of hard cheese, nor the same quantity of any kind of butter.

Cox Urges Care In Medicine Taking

Austin, Mar. 4 — The careless or uninformed use of medicines cause much serious illness and even many deaths in Texas every year, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, said today in a statement urging the public to use caution in self medication.

"It is never safe to take medicine in the dark," Dr. Cox said. "Always read the label carefully to make sure the aspirin you expect to take is not a bichloride of mercury tablet. As a matter of fact, poisons and medicines containing poison should be kept together, well out of the reach of children and marked in some distinctive manner. Another thing to remember," Dr. Cox said, "is that medicines should always be taken exactly as directed by a physician, because many beneficial medicines can do untold harm if taken too frequently or in too large quantities. It is well to stop and think that you may be taking your own life in your hands when you take medicines casually."

The State Health officer also warned of the danger in the inclination of many persons untrained to diagnose and treat their own ills. Such persons are likely to guess wrong, he asserted, and while they may not take medicine that is actually harmful, they are nevertheless postponing an accurate diagnosis and the resulting proper treatment that could help their illness.

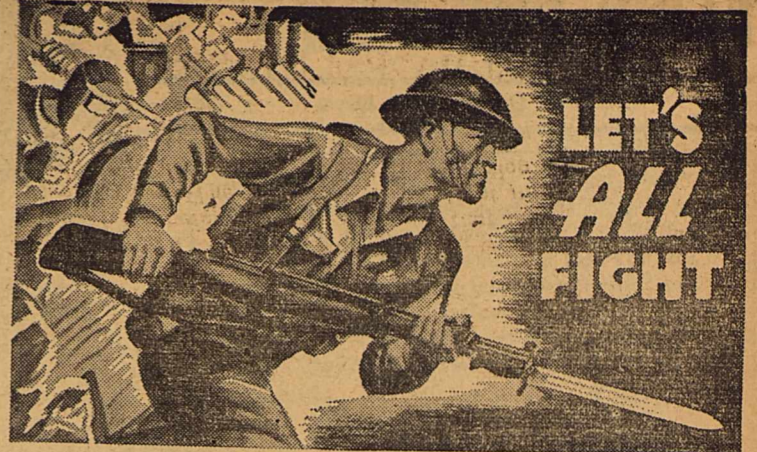

"The safest rule is never to use medicine, internally or externally that has not been prescribed by your your doctor and for that part particular illness with which you are suffering," Dr. Cox included.

Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Noelke were in Sonora Tuesday enroute to their Upton County ranch. From there they went to San Angelo for a few day's visit.

"More to come." This was the warning to Hitler and Hirohito that employees of the Dallas Division of North American Aviation, Inc., painted on the first B-24 Liberator bomber which rolled this week from the assembly lines of the company's second plant at Dallas. The term was borrowed from the jargon of newspaper men who use it at the bottom of a page of copy when a story is unfinished. Lucille Kelly is holding the paint jar in the picture and C. H. Williams is putting the finishing touches on the sign. North American has been manufacturing TEXAN combat trainers in its initial plant at Dallas for nearly two years. It is also in the preliminary stages of turning out the famous P-51 Mustang fighter. The company is included in the B-24 program along with Consolidated, designer of the ship, Ford and Douglas.
