Sonora Bows To Eldorado 37-13

By Bobby Joe Granger

The Eldorado Eagles, led by Quarterback Gerald Hicks, stayed in the District 10-B title chase by defeating the Sonora Broncos 37-13 Friday night in Eagle stadium. The defeat eliminated the Broncos from all possible title contention. It was the second district defeat against one victory for the Broncos.

The Broncos, showing loose lineplay in the first half, came battling back in the second half. Gerald Hicks, the fine quarterback of the Eagle eleven, was the big difference in the two clubs as he scored three touchdowns and passed for another tally.

The Eagles, in receiving the kickoff, opened the wild first half by scoring first. Hicks opened the Eagles first opportunity by running 25 yards on a reverse around left end. A short time later Nixon plunged over from the 6 yard line.

The second Eldorado tally came when Henderson kicked out to the 50-yard line where Hicks received the kick and handed off to Nixon who streaked 50 yards to paydirt. Eldorado scored again when a pass from Nixon to Logan that covered 34 yards set up the third Eagle score. Hicks scored on a sneak from the 2 yard line.

Sonora scored on a pass, Baldwin to Henderson, behind the line of scrimmage and Henderson then rambled 42 yards behind fine blocking to score. The Eagles' Hicks scored again a short time later on a reverse sneaker play over right guard which carried 72 yards.

The second half saw two clubs battle to fairly even terms with Sonora showing an improved ground game.

Soil Conservation District News

News of Edwards Plateau Soil Conservation District Prepared by Local SCS Personnel

Jim Rieck is one of the many ranchers cooperating with the Edwards Plateau Soil Conservation District who has taken time to check some of the results of conservation practices they have had in effect this past year.

Rieck has an area that was accidentally burned in June 1948. The area had not shown much recovery up to March 1949. At that time Rieck planted KR bluestem on a portion of the area and fenced it in order to control grazing. After the second growing season and some grazing by livestock, the area planted to KR bluestem has the appearance of a "wheat field" and is now producing a heavy seed crop. Rieck plans to harvest a portion of this seed to use in seeding bare spots and other hazard area.

Shinoak sprouts were smaller in the area planted to KR bluestem and deferred than they were in an adjacent pasture burned at the same time but not rested.

Gordon Stewart's sheep pasture which was deferred from May to October of this year has shown considerable vegetative improvement. Plains lovegrass and silver bluestem have increased in quantity. Stewart's whole ranch continues to improve with an increase of the better grasses.

Soil Conservation Service technicians assisted Stewart in staking out a tank site in his Eclipse pasture. When the tank is constructed it will aid Stewart in getting a more even distribution of grazing in this pasture.

A test hole dug at the site selected revealed a good water holding type of soil. The spillway is large enough to handle excess runoff without endangering the tank structure.

J. A. Sykes' goat trap looks exceptionally well this fall following a summer's deferment. Good native grasses increasing are little bluestem, sideoats grama, plains lovegrass, green sprangletop and neally grama.

Slender grama and KR bluestem planted in bare spots and holes is well established and looking good.

Jim Rieck is also planting his 12 acre irrigated field to an improved pasture mixture this week. The plants used in the mixture were selected to give a good quality of supplemental winter grazing. The mixture contains Harding grass, Kentucky (31) fescue, orchard grass, perennial rye and madrid clover. Rieck irrigates this field with a sprinkler system.

Stanley Mayfield's practice of light summer stocking permits him to defer almost his whole ranch during the summer growing season. In addition to maintaining a good grass cover, many of the better grasses are increasing. Sideoats grama and silver bluestem are appearing in large quantities in the open.

Mayfield found livestock had shown a definite preference to KR bluestem over some of the native grasses.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Luckie and Mrs. Mary Luckie spent the past weekend in Burnet and Marble Falls visiting friends and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Guest will be in San Angelo for the weekend.

Attend SOME Church Sunday.

Our first state college—Texas A. and M. is now in its seventy-fifth year

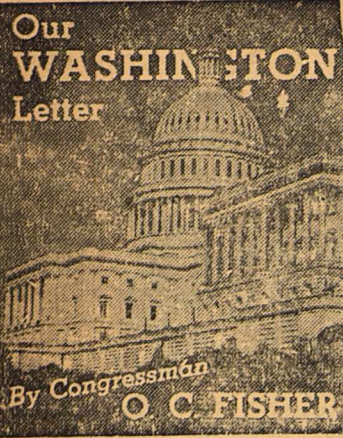

Jefferson Davis, former president of the Confederacy, and one of the best-loved men in the South, was the first man elected to the Presidency of the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas. In June of 1875, the board of directors for the newly-authorized school met in Bryan and voted to offer the post to Davis, then living in retirement in his native Mississippi. Governor Richard Coke, chairman of the board, tendered the offer in a manner typical of the feeling of the times. "As the representative, not only of the Board of Directors of the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas," he wrote, "but in behalf of the State of Texas and all her people, I ask that you come and live with and be one of us, and make your home and resting place, after a long and eventful public service, among a people who will never cease to love and honor you." The former President replied that "No occupation would be more acceptable to me..." but that "In the consciousness that I could not satisfactorily perform the duties of the office," he must decline to accept it. In poor health, Davis was never again able to assume major public duties. He recommended his friend, Thomas Gathright, then Superintendent of Public Instruction for Mississippi, for the post, and Gathright became the college's first president.

HEIDELBERG, GERMANY
Communism is losing ground in Western Germany, according to the views of most of the people with whom I have talked here.

But the ideological war is terrific here and the Russians are fighting hard for converts in the industrial Ruhr, as well as elsewhere in Germany. Their best foothold is in the Ruhr Valley.

There are several factors which seem to account for our success in the war of ideas thus far:

1. The Marshall Plan which has undoubtedly had a vital stabilizing effect.
2. Our victory in Korea, which has had a strong effect in bolstering the will to resist in Europe.
3. The progress of efforts to unify the democracies militarily and the stepped-up preparedness program in the U. S.
4. Counter propaganda thru the Voice of America, newspapers, picture shows, and thru other methods. At the same time, the Commies formerly had a dozen newspapers in Western Germany; now there is but one that could be called pro-Communist.

We flew from Western Air Force Base, Mass., via the Azores, to the Rhein-Main Airport near Frankfurt. This city, on the barge-choked-Rhein, is the headquarters of the American Military Government. It was practically destroyed by bombs during the war, but the reconstruction has been rapid. The fields are green and crops are good. Unemployment throughout Germany has dropped a lot during the past year. Post-war recovery has been achieved in Germany faster than in any of the other war-stricken countries.

While in Frankfurt a group of people from the Ruhr, 100 miles away, came to see and talk with us about their struggle against Communism in that area. A Mr. Dutling, who operates a third of the Ruhr Valley coal mines, told the story of Communist tactics and of the things being done to combat them. A considerable number of the coal miners who had been Communists or pro-Communists, have recently joined up with a Moral Rearmament movement and they claim this has done a lot of good in getting rid of the "class struggle" complex, which is a keystone of the Red scheme for conversions.

A German labor leader named Fritz Heske, who accompanied Dutling, told us of his repudiation of Communism during the past

"I finally learned," he said thru an interpreter, "that Communism instead of being beneficial to the workers is a fraud and destroys the freedom of people when it is imposed."

Heske, who was a CP member for 20 years, and who was in a German concentration camp during the war, went with Dutling and others in the coal mining industry to the annual conference of the Moral Rearmament movement in Caux early this year. And the mine workers' leader is now leading the fight against Communism in the Ruhr Valley.

The occupation, military and economic picture in Germany was presented to us by our High Commissioner, Mr. John J. McCloy, Lt. Gen. Thomas Handy, who is our occupation Military Commander, and others. There seems to be a lot of sentiment over here in favor of Mr. Acheson's proposal to accept German troops into the MCAP (Mutual Defense Aid Program) with proper precautions against giving them any control over production of arms and military equipment.

Most of the people you talk with don't believe Stalin is ready to march on western Europe, although they are very cautious in their optimism and there are a lot of "ifs" connected with it. If we continue to rearm, and if an effective western European army of some 60 divisions is formed, and if there is a firmness and no appeasement, they reason that the Russians are not likely to start a

Shakespeare puts into the mouth of one of his characters in "The Merchant of Venice" these words, "The devil can cite Scripture for his purpose." The Scriptures themselves bear evidence of the accuracy of Shakespeare's observation, for the devil in tempting Christ quoted the Word of God. Evil and dishonest men have never hesitated to use a passage of Scripture in an attempt to justify their wrong course of action or to excuse their evil doing. Of course, such a procedure is in itself evil and dishonest since the Scripture is by them misquoted or misused or misapplied. The Word of God nowhere admonishes men to a course of action which violates the law of God.

Whatever else the Scriptures may or may not prove, they do testify that the Lord Jesus Christ is God manifest in the flesh. It is a sad fact that by many people today this great and primary truth of the Book is overlooked or forgot.

NEW YORK, N. Y.—One of radio's best musical programs, "The Railroad Hour," is back for its third fall-winter season, Monday nights, NBC. Presided over by baritone Gordon MacRae, this one offers adaptations of well known musicals and operettas. In the up coming schedule: "Allegro," "Roberta," "Countess Maritza," "Revenge With Music," "Show Boat." Young (29), good looking MacRae, a recent movie find, appears on the program as singer and leading man of each week's production, as well as master-of-cere-

On the same job was another young singer, Earl Wrightson, currently of the Metropolitan Opera. Well known girl singers will continue as "Railroad Hour" guest stars, Nadine Connor, Ginny Simms, Dorothy Kirsten, Lucille Norman, among them. The show's vocal chorus is directed by Norman Lubnoff; Carmen Dragon, an Academy Award winner for his music in the movie "Cover Girl," conducts the orchestra.

KATE'S A PICTURE NOW
A number of radio stars fear once-a-week appearances on television. They might wear out their welcome; it might be too burdensome. But not Kate Smith. A frozen orange juice company first signed her to a television program (Thursday afternoons, NBC-TV). Other sponsors rushed in so quickly that the "Kate Smith show—TV" expanded into a full hour, Monday through Friday, before the first went on the air. Kate, appearing with Ted Collins, sings, offers variety acts, household hints, human interest stories, news and interviews. For the songstress, Greenville, Va. born, Washington reared, it is her 20th year on the airwaves. She is single, likes parrots. She keeps two in her Park Ave. apartment. They greet her with "Hello, baby."

NEW RANGE FOR "HOPALONG"
"Hopalong Cassidy" is riding a new radio range—Saturday nights, CBS. In the person of Bill Boyd, 52, "Hoppy" is quite possibly the most phenomenal name in America today. Created in 1907 by a New York office clerk, Clarence Edward Mulford (he never saw the West until 17 years later), "Hopalong" has been in the movies since 1934. He made over 65 pictures but it was not until last year that he really hit his stride. Suddenly everybody wanted "Hoppy"—TV, radio, comic strips, apparel manufacturers, circuses; makers of soap, candy, wallpaper and dozens of other items. The black-shirted hero isn't just a boy's idol. A good part of his radio and TV audience are parents. And 39% of "Hoppy" apparel items, a sales check shows, are bought by or for the girls.

Want a long run for your money?

Better Buy Buick!

YOU want a new car to be tops in things like style and room and comfort and power——and a thrill-packed fifteen minutes with the nimble number pictured here will show you it has all these things in abundant measure.

So you ask us—how about money? What does it cost to buy a Buick—and to own one?

All right—let us ask you some questions.

Take first cost. Do you know that Buick prices start down at a level below what you'd pay for some sixes—and that every Buick, on a cents-per-pound basis, is a stand-out buy?

Take operating cost. Do you know that the bang you'll get from Buick's Fireball power comes from a valve-in-head engine—recognized by engineers as a thrifty saver of fuel?

Do you know that owners of 1950 Buicks are writing us rave letters, saying that this year's version is the most economical Buick ever built?

Do you know that such comfort features as coil springs on all four wheels protect the car as well as the passengers—and throw in an extra saving because they need no servicing, and are practically breakproof to boot?

Do you know that Dynaflo*—in addition to keeping you fresh as a daisy on a day-long drive—caps its convenience with savings on tires, cuts down the strain on transmissions and engines—and eliminates all friction clutch repairs, because it hasn't any?

Take final cost. Do you know that when the owner of a Buick gets a yen for a later model, the prices that Buicks command on a used-car lot are the ultimate proof of their long-run value?

So if you want a real run for your money, better buy Buick. And the first step is very simple: Go see your Buick dealer—soon—and get an order signed.

* Dynaflo Drive is standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on SUPER and SPECIAL models.

FOUR-WAY FOREFRONT—This rugged front end (1) sets the style note, (2) saves on repair costs—vertical bars are individually replaceable, (3) avoids "locking horns," (4) makes parking and garaging easier.

The 24th annual convention of the Sixth District Texas Federation of Music Clubs was held in Sonora October 12-14. Thirty-nine registered on Senior Day and 67 on Junior Day.

All business sessions were held in the elementary school auditorium with the members of the Sonora Music Club as hostesses. Mrs. Sam Sullivan of Goldthwaite, district president, was in charge of Senior Day and Mrs. A. F. Taylor of Eastland, district junior counselor, presided during Junior Day.

A barbecue supper in the ranch home of Mrs. E. S. Mayer honoring board members was held Thursday night with Mrs. Louie Trainer, local chairman, in charge. Proceeding the opening general session coffee was served in the school cafeteria. Mrs. S. M. Loeffler and Mrs. A. E. Prugel, the immediate past presidents of the Sonora Club, poured.

The business session was opened by Mrs. George Barrow, president of the Sonora Club. After singing "Texas Our Texas" led by Mrs. E. D. Shurley, the assembly was greeted by Tom Ratliff for the Mayor of Sonora, and the Rev. Stanley Hauser gave the invocation. Mrs. Jerome L. Gunn of Abilene gave the response. Mrs. Sullivan then proceeded with the business meeting during which reports were given by district officers and chairmen.

During the memorial service the assembly was asked to remember Mrs. J. V. Chandler's son of Kingsville and Mrs. Ina Wooten Jones' mother of Abilene. The Rev. Stanley Hauser offered a prayer of remembrance and Mrs. George Russell, Jr. of Ozona sang, accompanied by Mrs. S. M. Loeffler.

A luncheon at the close of the memorial service honored Mrs. Chandler, State President and Mrs. Sullivan, District President. The Rev. W. H. Marshall gave thanks before the luncheon. Mrs. Robert Wylie of Abilene was mistress of ceremonies. Mrs. Chandler was speaker and Mrs. Sullivan extended greetings. Mrs. Jack Ellingson sang two numbers accompanied by Miss Marie Watkins of San Angelo.

These awards were plates, the design being made by the State President at the biennial. The seal is in the center surrounded by familiar scenes of 5th District.

The invitation to hold the next district convention in Brownwood was accepted.

A tea in the home of Mrs. J. M. Vander Stucken honored the music clubs of the district. Miss Marie Watkins and Mrs. E. D. Shurley presided at the tea table, and Miss Dorothy McLure played piano selections.

Mayer, Mrs. Howard Scott and Mrs. Elgene Bartholomew of Brownwood at two pianos, and a voice Ensemble from McMurray College Music Department of Abilene directed by Mrs. Robert Wylie. A supper in the school cafeteria was served to all who attended the fine arts program. Mrs. Harlow of San Angelo was mistress of ceremonies for the frolic which followed.

On Junior Day Mrs. A. F. Taylor of Eastland installed Phillis Marie Tripp of Abilene, president;

A LOOK AT THE BOOK

By DR. BOB JONES, JR.
PRESIDENT OF BOB JONES UNIVERSITY GREENVILLE, SOUTH CAROLINA

Shakespeare puts into the mouth of one of his characters in "The Merchant of Venice" these words, "The devil can cite Scripture for his purpose." The Scriptures themselves bear evidence of the accuracy of Shakespeare's observation, for the devil in tempting Christ quoted the Word of God. Evil and dishonest men have never hesitated to use a passage of Scripture in an attempt to justify their wrong course of action or to excuse their evil doing. Of course, such a procedure is in itself evil and dishonest since the Scripture is by them misquoted or misused or misapplied. The Word of God nowhere admonishes men to a course of action which violates the law of God.

Whatever else the Scriptures may or may not prove, they do testify that the Lord Jesus Christ is God manifest in the flesh. It is a sad fact that by many people today this great and primary truth of the Book is overlooked or forgotten.

Wanted—by Almost Half the People!

According to a recent widespread survey—almost half the motor car owners in the United States would choose a Cadillac, if they had their unrestricted choice.

This is, of course, a tremendous tribute to Cadillac, and to those who have designed it so well and built it so soundly for so long a time. But we think it is, equally, a tribute to the American people themselves.

Only a small percentage of American motorists have ever driven a Cadillac—or even enjoyed a ride in one.

But that has not hindered the public from sensing the soundness of the Cadillac ideal—or from giving its wholehearted approval to the Cadillac crusade for quality. Where the effort is worthy—the American people approve.

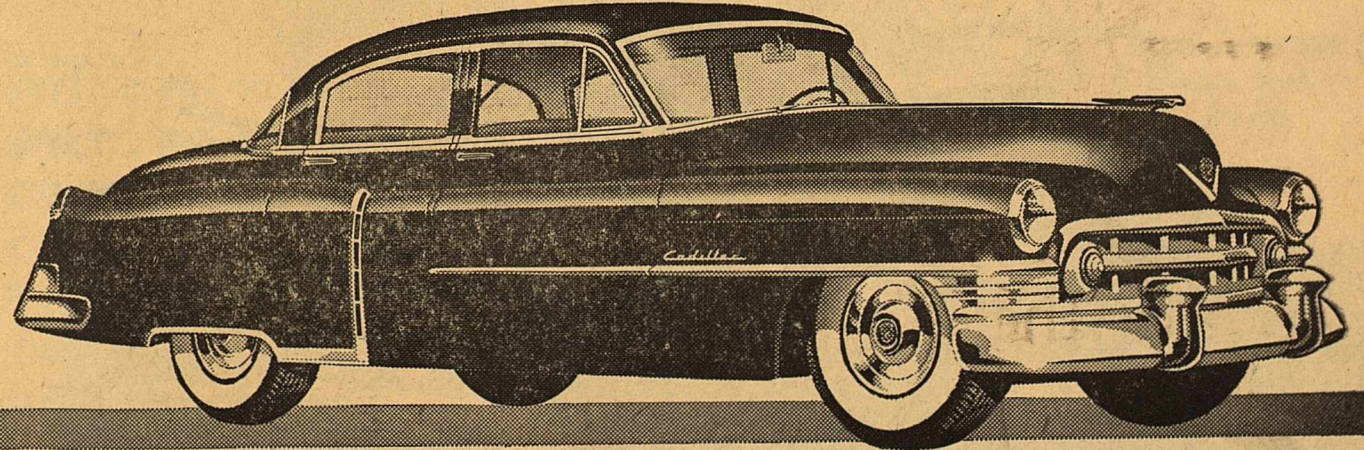

We regret exceedingly that not every one who wants a Cadillac can own one. But we believe, sincerely, that many have needlessly denied themselves the pleasure.

Cadillac cars are far more practical and economical to own than most people realize.

It costs less to buy the lower-priced Cadillacs than it costs to buy certain models of numerous other makes of cars. Furthermore, a single tankful of gasoline will usually suffice for a whole day's drive.

And, of course, when it comes to endurance, a Cadillac stands alone—for its life-span has never been fully measured.

Yes, for a wide group of people, a Cadillac car is a sensible, practical buy. We hope sincerely that it is for you.

Knowledge Of Grasses Essential To Ranchmen

Texas stockmen can boast of being good livestock judges because the quality of their stock indicates that they have done a good job in breed improvement. But as judges of pasture condition, of vegetation -- especially grass -- too many ranchmen do not know just what to look for. The importance of learning what to look for in a good pasture grass is emphasized by A. H. Walker, range management specialist for the Texas A&M Extension Service. He says that 75 to 80 percent of the forage consumed by livestock in Texas is roughage in the form of native grass. Grass is the cheapest feed available, and Walker states that knowing the vegetation, primarily grass, is as fundamental in the livestock business as knowing livestock.

In some respects judging livestock and judging grass are very similar. In judging a horse certain characteristics are looked for in the animal's head. Grasses also show different characteristics in the head. In fact, the grass family is broken down into various groups on the basis of differences in the seed head.

On a horse you want a good trim middle with a short coupling and a fairly level croup. The middle of the grass -- that is the leafy part -- should be abundant, produce over a long season and cure out well. Every livestock man knows that a horse must have straight, well-muscled legs with strong bones, or he will be of little value. The legs on a grass -- that is the roots -- are just as important and require just as much care as those on a horse. A grass plant depends on its root system for food and water for leaf growth. Unless the roots are deep and well distributed, reduced forage production results.

Walker reminds ranchers that heavy or close grazing has the effect of reducing the root system of the plant as well as the top growth. Good native grasses that are close-grazed die out and are replaced by poorer, short-rooted grasses and weeds which require less water and produce less forage.

A good livestock man selects animals for breeding not only on the basis of their quality as in-

No satisfactory bid for the bonds being received it was decided to again offer them for sale on Nov. 11th.

In the matter of employing a County Engineer the Court was most impressed with the offer of G. J. Foster and C. A. Vaughan of Mathis and they were employed. Their duties will not begin, however, until after the bonds are sold.

There was no other business before the court.

Ready to Bake: Banana Bars

A batter flavored with mashed bananas and flecked with nuts bakes into delicious cake-like cookies which make convenient desserts for the small family.

You'll find that popular combination, banana-and-nut, a good twosome for flavoring cookie batters. Mellow and somewhat chewy, banana-nut bars provide sweet dessert magic for the menu, and offer entertainment insurance for those unexpected guests.

With enriched flour, bananas and nuts as the main ingredients, you can count on these delicious cookies for good nutrition, too. Score them high for essential B-vitamins, iron and other minerals needed in the daily food plan.

The method used to make banana bars is standard for cakes. Spread batter in an 8x13 inch greased pan, or if you prefer, drop by teaspoonfuls onto a greased baking sheet to make banana drop cookies. These bake in just 12 to 15 minutes.

When the baked bars or drop cookies have cooled, you might like to ice them with confectioners' sugar icing.

|------------------------------|---------------------------------|
| 2 cups sifted enriched flour | 2 eggs                          |
| 2 teaspoons baking powder    | 1 cup mashed bananas (3 medium) |
| 1/2 teaspoon salt            | 1/2 teaspoon lemon extract      |
| 1/4 cup shortening           | 1/2 teaspoon vanilla extract    |
| 1 cup sugar                  | 1/4 cup chopped nuts            |

Sift together flour, baking powder, and salt. Cream together shortening and sugar. Add eggs and beat well. Add flour mixture to creamed mixture alternately with mashed bananas. Add flavoring extracts and nuts. Mix well. Spread batter in greased pan, 8x13 inches. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 30 minutes. While still warm frost with thin confectioners' sugar icing. When cool, cut in bars or squares. Makes 32 bars, 1x4 inches.

YOUR HEALTH

Old style, palate tickling, succulent smoked hams like you used to prepare for special Sunday dinners are giving way to the tenderized and ready-to-eat varieties.

Increased danger of spoilage comes with the change, State Health Officer Geo. W. Cox says. Used to be you could salt down a ham, then home-smoke it slow and easy. When done, you could hang it on the back porch easily accessible for a quick slice.

Those days are fast waning, for city bound folks. Ask your butcher for a smoked ham nowadays, and you get two choices: "tenderized," or "ready-to-eat." They look the same, and have some of the old sweetness. But there the similarity ends, Dr. Cox says.

Since less preservative salt is used in the smoking process, today's ham products have to be placed under immediate refrigeration, the same as any other meat.

"Tenderized" hams are smoked at a temperature of approximately 129 degrees. Dr. Cox says that means they have to be cooked before eating in order to kill any trichina larvae that may be present.

"Trichina larvae, which cause trichinosis, are killed at a temperature of 137 degrees F." the health officer cautioned. "That's internal temperature"

He warned that "ready-to-eat" ham products are smoked at approximately 160 degrees, and sured with less salt than regular smoked hams. They'll spoil easily unless kept under refrigeration until eaten.

Here are the health officer's recommendations regarding these meat products:

1. They cannot be stored in temperatures above 50 degrees.
2. Strict sanitation should be observed in handling them.
3. They should be handled in refrigerated equipment from packing plant to consumer.

Drive safely! Observe stop signs.

Marshmallow Faces As Decor Top Superfine Hallowe'en Cake

Whether your Hallowe'en party guests are in the pigtail group, the teen-age group, the high-school set, or the good old grown-up neighborhood crowd, they will like a special cake for refreshments. Shiny red apples, nuts and raisins—for decoration and eating, too—and beverages according to age and taste which might be milk, coffee, bottled drinks or punch, will co-star appropriately with the cake and make everybody happy.

You can be sure of a downy-light cake that grown-ups as well as children will eat to the last crumb if you make it of superfine cake flour. And if you frost it with chocolate and decorate it with marshmallow Hallowe'en faces, you'll have an ornamental masterpiece for the center of the table. Younger members of the family with an artist's eye can try their hand at decorating. Mark eyes and mouth on the marshmallows with matchsticks or the blunt end of toothpicks dipped in melted chocolate cooled until it starts to thicken again.

If you are rushed or if your party is a last-minute inspiration, you will find that you can make amazingly fine hurry-up cakes of white cake mix and a devil's food mix, both put out by the makers of a famous cake flour. Just add milk, beat and bake according to package directions, and you'll have feather-light layers ready to frost in no time.
