... Son of a gun ...

The New owners of the S-S Louis Davis, G. C. Allison, and Clarence Scott, have leased the cafe to Frank Mayhew effective March 1. Mayhew has reopened the business, but is not operating it himself. The cafe is open from 5 o'clock each morning until 9 o'clock at night.

Joe Neil Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Smith, has recently received a medical discharge from the Navy. Smith served 14 months and was discharged as the result of a knee injury.

S. M. Kerbow made himself the charter member of the Sonora Golf Club's Hole in One Club Sunday when he made the first hole-in-one at the local course. The thrill-shot came on the sixth hole, a distance of 137 yards. Bill McGilvray, also playing in the group with Kerbow, almost equaled Kerbow's record when he made the 450-yard seventh hole in two shots.

Due to a recent change in schedules, Ray Sundry, driver's license examiner for the Department of Public Safety, will be in Sonora on the second and fourth Thursdays instead of the first and third Thursdays.

Sundry's next appearance here will be Thursday, March 13.

Speech Meet Set Here March 21

The annual Sonora High School speech tournament will be held on March 21 and 22, according to an announcement from T. M. Harvey, director of the contest.

Schools to be represented here include Denton, San Angelo, Ft. Stockton, Lampasas and Eagle Pass. Some 125 speech students are expected to be in attendance.

Again this year, the high school student council is sponsoring the contest. Medals have been ordered for all individual events and trophies will be awarded in debate and one act play.

Contests offered during the meet include debate, one act play, junior and senior declamation, extemporaneous speaking, humorous declamation, after dinner speaking, dramatic interpretation, poetry reading and radio speaking.

The public is cordially invited to witness any of the events, which will be held at the high school building. Also, any person desiring to act as a judge in any of the contests is asked to contact Jimmy Morrow, Jack Ratliff or T. M.

Locklin Shows Champ Delaine At San Angelo

Connie M. Locklin exhibited the Champion Delaine Ram of the boys' show at the San Angelo Fat Stock Show. Locklin also exhibited the 1st and 2nd place Delaine Ram lamb the 2nd and 3rd place Delaine ewe lambs, and the 8th place Rambouillet Ram lamb.

Oscar Carpenter exhibited the 4th place two tooth Rambouillet ewe and the 6th place Rambouillet Ram lamb.

In the Fat Lamb Classes, Sutton County placed 4th with its group of 15 crossbred lambs, bred by Lee Fawcett. Joe David Ross placed 7th in the shorn finewool class, 7th in the light crossbred class, and Bill Lewis placed 11th in the light crossbred class. Sutton County boys also placed 21 other lambs.

Boys exhibiting lambs at San Angelo were Carlos Loeffler, Ben R. Mittel, Joe Renfro, Bill Lewis, George Spinks, Dewey Shroyer, Corky Schwiening, Roger Fawcett, John Mittel, Eddie Smith, Oscar Carpenter, Joe David Ross, Jack Adkins, Tommie Love, Preston Love, Connie Locklin, Rodney Davis and Ted B. Joy.

The Sutton County 4-H Club Team from Sonora topped the first annual FFA and 4-H Club Livestock judging contest, followed closely by the Odessa FFA. Thirty-eight teams participated. Members of the team were Joe David Ross, Corky Schwiening, Carlos Loeffler and Oscar Carpenter.

Sonora Boys Win Debate Tourney

One of Sonora High School's debate teams composed of Billy Scott and Tyree Hardy walked off with first place honor in boy's debate at the Alice debate tournament last weekend.

Scott and Hardy, who have been debating for three years as a team, won seven out of seven debates to top 21 other teams. The W. B. Ray team from Corpus Christi was defeated in the final round by the local team.

The other Sonora team, composed of Albert Ward and Ralph Copeland, compiled thirteen points, which aided the Sonora teams to win third place in the sweepstakes at the Alice Meet. The sweepstakes were determined by an accumulation of points in both boys and girls debates.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hallum spent last weekend in Del Rio visiting her son J. T. Barton and Mrs. Barton.

Mr. and Mrs. Granville Barker had as their guests last weekend, their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Don Nichols. They also had Dr. and Mrs. J. Weiss of Austin.

Harvey any time during the next two weeks.

The schedule for all events will appear in a later edition.

TSGRA Directors Meet Saturday

The second quarterly meeting of the Directors of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association will be held in San Saba, Saturday, March 8, John T. Williams, Sander, TS & GRA president, has announced.

"The ranch labor problem seems to be a little closer to settlement now that both houses have passed a bill dealing with immigration, but the negotiations with Mexico on a new agreement are still to come. We will hear more about this subject at San Saba," he said.

Another subject scheduled for full discussion is the recently announced loan program for wool and mohair. Williams and several other Association members and warehousemen have just returned from a meeting in Washington where the handlers agreements and contracts were discussed.

"San Saba people have planned a big welcome for all directors and wives and their association members. A dance has been planned for Friday night," Williams added.

4-H Boys And Girls Review Club Objectives This Week

Two million 4-H club members across the nation this week, March 1-9, are observing National 4-H Club Week. Governor Allan Shivers put the spotlight on Texas' 116,979 4-H members on February 6 when he issued a proclamation designating this same period as 4-H Week in Texas.

The state 4-H leaders if the Texas Agricultural Extension Service say the objectives of the week are to provide 4-H members a special occasion for checking their efforts in relation to the needs of the community and country; to acquaint the public with the 1952 4-H theme "Serving as Loyal Citizens Through 4-H"; to inform all parents of the objectives of the 4-H clubs; to encourage members to interest others young people in enrolling and assisting new members to get started in their 4-H work; and to enlist more public-spirited citizens to serve as voluntary leaders or sponsors of 4-H clubs.

4-H members learn to do by doing and as they gain experience, each becomes better equipped to serve as a loyal citizen. Present day 4-H programs are not limited to the production of better crops and livestock nor to better ways of doing jobs in the home but include actual participation in studies and programs with international significance. Their International Farm Youth Exchange program is an example.

In addition to their regular demonstrations, Texas 4-H members last year received training in fire and accident prevention, health, recreation, leadership, conservation and various judging contests. They believe in hard work. They attend county and district camps, state and national meetings and are usually well represented at the major livestock shows of the nation. Their income from demonstrations and the value of the things they own amounts to several million dollars annually, say the state leaders.

The members get assistance from their local leaders, parents, businessmen, county extension agents and others. Together this group makes up the 4-H team. The combined efforts of this team are being displayed during the week in the form of exhibits, stock shows, public meetings, special radio programs and with 4-H members appearing as guest speakers before civic clubs, farm organizations and other groups.

President Truman in his letter to the 4-H Clubs of the nation said, "You are doing things that make our country strong in the struggle for peace and understanding. There is strength in our youth, in our soil and in our working together. Our country and the world need now, more than ever before, the kind of work you are doing to unite those pillars of strength in the interest of world peace."

4-H club members invite every citizen to join with them in their observance of National 4-H Week.

THREE FIRES THIS WEEK

Firemen made three runs during the week, but little damage was reported. An oil stove caught fire at the home of G. W. Archer Monday morning; a mattress burned in one of the cabins at the Three In-One Courts Tuesday morning and a grass fire broke out near the W. L. Lakey residence Tuesday afternoon. Damage was negligible at all fires, said Chief Lee Patrick.

Red Cross Quota $640 For County

The Sutton County Red Cross quota has been set at $640, according to S. M. Kerbow, county drive chairman. Donations, he said, may be left at the First National Bank, Foxworth Galbraith Lumber Co., or the Sonora Drug Co.

One of the most important parts of this year's Red Cross program, Kerbow said, is the blood donor program. Last year, to help save the lives of fighting men and civilians, 1,790,870 pints of blood were given through the Red Cross and cooperating blood banks.

In disasters, when catastrophe overwhelmed families in 45 states, the Red Cross assisted over 300,000 victims to regain health, home and livelihood. The Red Cross also instructed over 1 million Americans in first aid, and gave water safety instruction to nearly 800,000.

At home and overseas Red Cross field workers extended a helping hand to troubled men and women in uniform. An average of 316,100 cases and requests for help were handled each month. Chapters assisted 140,500 cases and requests of service families each month. Each month Red Cross services were provided for 131,000 patients in veterans hospitals.

SAVE A LIFE

Thousands of Korean children are inadequately fed and clothed. In freezing weather one child had only his shorts and undershirt. No coat, no shoes, and no hat, only flimsy underclothing. The National Honor Society of Sonora High School is starting a drive for clothing for these children. If you have any clothes, shoes, or hat of any size that are in good condition, we would be glad to send them.

Remember: You may have saved some child's life.

Call any of the following people, and we shall pick them up after school.

THE 1953 FEDERAL BUDGET OF $85.4 BILLION IS GREATER THAN ALL THE INCOMES OF ALL THE PEOPLE WEST OF THE MISSISSIPPI

THIS STARTLING PICTURE is the result of study by the National Chamber's Government Economy Program, based on figures from the U.S. Department of Commerce. Incomes of all people include all money that goes to individuals as wages, salaries, interest, rent, and dividends. Since latest Commerce Department figures available for the map were for 1950, the Chamber estimated total 1953 incomes at 15 per cent higher than those for 1950. Total 1953 spending under the President's budget would equal the incomes of all persons west of the Mississippi plus 96 per cent of the incomes in Wisconsin and all the incomes in Mississippi.

State Senator Dorsey B. Hardeman, taking as his theme, "Businessmen's Relations With The Government," stated Tuesday before a packed house at the Lions Club luncheon that "we are being led away from our independent way of American life through the throttling of free enterprise, through federal aid, and through corruption in government which has shaken the moral foundations of the nation."

Hardeman stated that he is not an alarmist, "but I am alarmed," he added. "It's time to take some positive action. Time to rise up and tell our representatives in both the state and federal governments that we don't want help at every hand, that we don't want Washington to keep squeezing in until we don't have any control over our own businesses. We don't need a reformation," the senator said, "but we do need a restoration of our belief in the individual doing something for himself."

The octopus of federal aid, Hardeman pointed out, has reached out its tentacles into nearly every phase of our lives and will continue to do so unless we stop it. "Most people tend to forget that the great cure-all of federal aid is really a three-way proposition," Hardeman said. "The money comes down to a school, a highway project, an airport. But the payment is double because not only does the project submit to federal control, but the citizens who are benefitted must carry an ever-increasing tax load in order to pay for the so-called gift from the government."

"Yet, every time we hit a snag, we look for federal aid. It has become a byword in the American vocabulary. We are raising our children to believe in the hand-out rather than hard work and independence and unless we change our ways, we are not living up to our heritage."

"I think we should stand on our own feet," Senator Hardeman continued. "It might hurt a few individuals, but it would be better than undermining our government and our people."

"We heard a lot about the possibility of Russia attacking the United States, but there is small likelihood in this happening to a United States of strong, self-reliant, independent people. In 1922, Lenin the top man in the Russian Revolution of 1917, stated that Russia would never have to attack the U. S. She would merely wait until we have spent ourselves dry, wait until we are economically weak and walk in."

Senator Hardeman pointed out that President Truman forms his foreign policy according to what Russia thinks and does, instead of forming our own policy and letting Russia worry about us for a change.

Another thing we should change, Hardeman said, is the policy of grand theft by the government. "It is perfectly evident by the tide-land grab, that the federal government can steal state property. There is no reason to assume that they won't steal from the individual. And if they take over our businesses they will run them like they run their own, and who wants that?"

"I have nothing against county judges, but imagine a county judge running an $85 billion business," he added.

Hardeman, who is a candidate for reelection as state senator from the newly formed 21st district, comprising 1-6 the area of Texas, has a consistent voting record of being against federal aid and control and has long fought against the growth of federal power.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Dunkin spent the weekend in Odessa guests of her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Nicholas.

LAST WEEK the House debated UMT, passed a so-called wetback bill, while the Senate recommitted to a committee the matter if admitting Alaska to Statehood.

Rarely has an issue generated so much interest and controversy as has the military training proposal. Last year by a vote of 10 to 1 the House adopted a UMT program, and the Senate followed suit. But the detailed plans for the training was left to a civilian-controlled commission, appointed by the President, and its report on the subject must be approved by Congress before it can go into effect—subject to any charges the Congress might want to make in it.

It is that Report that is now before the House, with some amendments adopted by the Armed Services Committee, to which the Report was referred.

In the course of hearing and the debate a number of points were made which help to clarify the real issues that are involved. Among these have been:

1. When we became involved in the Korean conflict and were being pushed back toward Pusan, new troops were recruited. But because of the pressing emergency and the immediate need, some 800,000 reservists, most if them veterans of the last war, were recalled. It was said there was no time to train young non-veterans in time to stop the Communist onslaught.

Under the UMT program, a pool of trained, ready reservists would be created who could be called in case of an emergency, and thus make it unnecessary for veterans of other wars to be pressed into service when non-veterans of military age are available.

2. After full implementation of UMT, the program will provide these trained Reserves, and will reduce our expenditures for national defense by an estimated $13 billion annually, without weakening our security. That will be done by a planned substantial reduction in the number in the standing forces.

3. On the question of the program militarizing the youth of the Nation, the plan could hardly have that effect. It would be under civilian control, and under constant control and scrutiny of the Congress. There were more than 14 million men and women in service during World War II, many for from two to four years, but none of them are considered "militarized" as a result. Moreover, thousands attend military colleges each year—such as A. & M. College. But because they get some military training has never caused them to be militarized.

4. On the question of the program leading to a military dictatorship, these facts have been developed. After training, the trainees would go into a ready reserve pool and would thereafter be ordinary civilians, under civilian control. They would not be subject to call into service without the approval of the Congress, and then Congress would determine the number subject to recall.

5. Another question raised is that of the moral environment at the camps where they would be trained. The Commission Report, and the legislation, places great stress on that phase of the program. No liquors could be sold at or near the camps; no bawdy house, brothel, etc. anywhere would be allowed to admit a trainee during his six months of training. If they did they would be subject to a very heavy penalty. There would be twice as many chaplains per thousand men than are now provided for the standing forces. Every possible precaution against evil influence would be provided.

6. Both Thomas Jefferson and George Washington urged a universal training program for all young men as a part of their obligation to defend and preserve the Republic.

YOUR HEALTH

Ringworm of the scalp appears to be increasing in some sections of Texas, and action is underway to contain it.

Known medical circles as "tinea capitis," ringworm of the scalp is said to be prevalent in the Rio Grande Valley, Houston, San Antonio, and Dallas. Reports to the State Department of Health say skin specialists in those areas are seeing increasing numbers of infected children.

A preliminary study conducted by the state health agency among 891 children in two Rio Grande Valley schools show 5.5 percent positive infections, in one group 5.7 percent in the other. Positively infected girls outnumbered the boys four to one, although there were more boy students, the study showed.

Ringworm is contagious. Children are most often afflicted, although adults, often have more severe and longer lasting attacks.

Ringworm is marked by round, scaly areas on the scalp, and patchy baldness or short, broken-off hairs. It is caused by a fungus a vegetablelike growth caused by spores. Sources of infection, health officials and skin specialists say, are the scalp lesions of infected persons, articles of clothing containing the spores, or the infected hairs or scales shed by an infected person.

State Health Officer Geo. W. Cox, in cooperation with the skin specialists society of the Texas Medical Association, and the State Board of Barbers and Cosmetologists, is rewriting the rules and regulations governing the sterilization of beauty and barber shop instruments after each use. They hope to get legislation enacted to provide penalties for non-compliance.

There is no immunization against ringworm. Recommended control measures are cleanliness of the hair and scalp, and provision for separate isolated classrooms for suspicious cases. Positively infected children should be excluded from school until the condition is cleared up, Dr. Cox believes.

SOIL CONSERVATION IS EVERYBODY'S JOB

By Edward Aldwell

2nd prize winner in the essay contest sponsored by the Edwards Plateau Soil Conservation District.

All in the United States today are worried about the war we may have with Russia. Already we have begun to prepare for this seemingly inevitable war so we will not be caught off guard. But in spite of our precautionary measures against war, we have allowed ourselves to be shamefully negligent with a problem just as important—soil erosion. Not only that but when we discovered that for the past 150 years we had destroyed 800 acres of land a day, we did almost nothing about it.

We have prided ourselves on our high standard of living, and the way we can live so much better than other people. Yet we are slowly but surely lowering that standard through our misuse of the soil.

The Cheese Flavored Waffle

A new main dish for a meatless menu is this golden cheese-flavored waffle. It may be served with the usual butter and sirup or with creamed eggs or vegetables.

Our ancestors baked waffles in an iron with long handles held over an open fire. Today's homemakers have a much easier job of it! Not only is there the convenience of an electric waffle iron, but packaged mix. Besides, waffles today have added good nutrition because they are made with enriched flour, a thrifty source of protein, B-vitamins, and food iron.

There are so many simple—and simply wonderful—ways with waffles. Add grated cheese to the batter to make Cheese Waffles, a good base for creamed eggs, tuna, or vegetables for a Lenten luncheon or supper. You'll like waffles flavored with table ready meats or ham, and almost any fruit sauce makes a good waffle topping.

Entertaining comes easy when you serve waffles. Bake them right at the table and serve them crisp and hot until friends and family sit back in contentment. You can always bake a few ahead of time and keep them warm in the oven. This type of supper is inexpensive, too. Each Cheese Waffle costs just 10 cents.

CHEESE WAFFLES

2 cups sifted enriched flour	1/4 teaspoon paprika
2 teaspoons baking powder	1 cup grated cheese
1/2 teaspoon soda	2 eggs, separated
1/2 teaspoon salt	2 cups buttermilk or sour milk
	1/2 cup melted shortening

Sift together flour, baking powder, soda, salt and paprika. Add cheese. Beat egg yolks. Add buttermilk or sour milk and shortening. Mix well. Add to flour mixture. Mix smooth. Beat egg whites stiff. Fold into batter. Bake in hot waffle iron until waffle stops steaming. Makes 10 7-inch waffles.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS FROM VETERANS ADMINISTRATION

Q — I plan to get a GI home loan, and I'd like to find out what would happen in case I fail to make my loan payments. I don't expect to default, of course, but I do want to learn all the aspects.

A — Failure to make your loan payments may lead to foreclosure and loss of your home. Also, if the Government is required to pay a claim because of your failure to meet payments, you will become indebted to the Government for the amount of any such claim.

Q — I'm a married veteran, training under the GI Bill, and I've just been rated as 60 percent disabled by VA. Will VA pay me both the extra amount of disability compensation that goes to those with dependents, plus the higher rate of GI subsistence for veterans with families?

A — No. Instead, VA will pay you either one of the extra amounts for veterans with dependents—but not both. You have the right to choose whichever extra payment you wish to receive.

Q — If the next-of-kin of a deceased veteran qualifies for both VA compensation and pension, may that person receive both awards?

A — No. Such a person may elect to receive whichever benefit is most advantageous. The benefit not chosen is placed in suspense, and the suspense may be lifted at any time by the person making another election.

Mr. and Mrs. Bobby McCarver of San Angelo were here last week-end visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. McCarver.

Most of this land, which has been destroyed, was good valuable soil, but the people who grew crops on seemed to think it was permanent and would last forever. They took no care of it and it became non-productive. It will never be used again. This happened in much of Texas and is still happening. It will continue unless something is done.

We must realize that the future of our nation is dependent upon what interest we take, and what we do about the erosion of the soil. It now takes 3 acres of land to feed a person in the United States, but the time when we will not have that 3 acres is drawing dangerously near.

Much can be done to conserve the land we now have with the cooperation of the landowners and the encouragement of the people. Whatever our occupation, we must do our part in soil conservation to insure the future of our children and so the United States will continue to be the great country it is now.

NATIONAL PRESS BUILDING WASHINGTON, D. C.

By Anne Goode

One note of caution about that pretty lingerie you got for Christmas! Be very careful not to wash the white nylons with colored items. White nylon is terribly susceptible to color and will pick up the slightest amount of dye.

Need a new lamp shade? It's wise to see it lighted before you buy. Then you can check to see it's thick enough to prevent the shape of the bulb from showing through. If the shade is colored, be sure it has an opaque white lining so that the light isn't tinted by the color of the shade.

These simple flavor tricks are worth knowing about. Mix vitaminized margarine with chopped green olives and spread on broiled hamburger steaks. Divine! Top cooked green beans with a mixture of margarine and finely chopped onion. The whole family will love 'em! Saute croustons in margarine with a clove of garlic till lightly brown, add to tossed green salads or soups for a gourmet touch.

Most everybody loves mashed potatoes, but if you don't vary the flavor you're missing something special. For example, add chopped onion or parsley or pimiento or grated cheese, singly or in combination. For a completely different and delicious later treat stir real mayonnaise, milk, grated lemon rind and salt in mashed potatoes and beat till light and fluffy.

Place citrus fruit in hot water a few minutes before peeling and marvel at how easily the outside and under skins will come off. It will be easier to separate into segments, too.

Call out the Reserves with a touch of your toe!

Most cars lead a double life. A good part of the time, they're running errands, taking children to school, taking women to stores, taking men to work, taking family and friends to clubs and social functions. It doesn't call for a very great output of horsepower for duties like these. But there are times when you want a car that can do vastly more, and these are the times when you'll want what this year's ROADMASTER has to offer.

Beneath its proud hood, there's a Fireball 8 Engine—a valve-in-head that can let loose 170 lively horsepower when needed.

And—alongside this engine—there's also an Airpower carburetor which thrifly feeds fuel and air through two smaller-than-usual barrels for normal driving—which means that you now use less gas at 40 than you'd formerly use at 30.

But there are two barrels in reserve—waiting for you to call them into action—and they let loose a soaring rush of power that sinks your shoulders back into the seat cushion, swoops you past a truck—out of a tight spot—up a hill—sets your speedometer needle to registering added miles more than twice as fast as your watch can tick off the seconds.

This is an experience you certainly should know firsthand.

You should also know how Buick's Power Steering* provides a helping hand in slow-motion maneuvers—lets you keep the "feel" of the car in straightaway driving.

And just for good measure, this '52 ROADMASTER also has the biggest brakes of any postwar Buick—the greatest trunk space since spare tires moved off the front fenders—a warning light that glows when the parking brake is set—and to top it all, the smartest interior fabrics that Buick has ever offered.

When are you coming in to look this distinguished performer over? We urge you to make it soon.

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. *Optional at extra cost on ROADMASTER only.

Sure is true for '52

A LOOK AT THE BOOK

By DR. BOB JONES, JR.

PRESIDENT OF BOB JONES UNIVERSITY

GREENVILLE, SOUTH CAROLINA

"In the days of Herod the king," Matthew tells us, Jesus was born (Matthew 2:1). Thus the name of the king is mentioned, but mentioned in connection with the coming of God's Son. No doubt Herod felt very important. After all, was he not king? Was he not a great personage whom men delighted to honor? Was he not a friend of the great Caesar himself? What was more natural than things should be dated by the year of his reign?

But this One who was born had been from the beginning the very God Himself. The prophet Micah had said, "But thou, Bethlehem Ephratah, though thou be little among the thousands of Judah, yet out of thee shall He come forth unto Me that is to be ruler of Israel; whose goings forth have been from of old, from everlasting" (Micah 5:3). So "in the days of Herod the king," there came forth the One whose goings forth had been from everlasting. Now Herod is chiefly known as the king who happened to be on the throne at the time of the birth of Christ. His place in history is due entirely to the fact that he was the king who sought for the Infant to kill Him and the one to whom the wise men came saying, "where is He that is born King of the Jews?"

Men have their little day-statesmen, and sages, and popular demagogues—they strut across the stage of history. Every day is the day of some man, who, by reason of birth or political importance or money or even because of some vicious crime or scandal, finds his name on the page of the paper and on the lips of men and women everywhere. These are those who "rave their day and cease to be."

"In the days of Herod the king," Christ was born in a manger only a few miles from the palace where Herod sat at his banquet table and slept in the royal bedchamber. It does not so much matter whose day this is now. Great men will be forgotten and prominent names be heard no more. The important thing is to do the will of the God who sent forth His Son; in eternity He knoweth them that are His, and He never forgets the name of the humblest of His own.

I WASH MY HANDS
By W. H. Marshall

"Pilate . . . took water, and washed his hands before the multitude." Matt. 27:24

What a scene! It is so typical of the efforts of people to get out from under, to "pass the buck," as we say in everyday talk. How many men try to evade their duty and responsibility, try to escape.

How strange it is! Many of the Caesars are forgotten, yet the name of Pilate, a petty Roman officer, is repeated in the creed of the church by millions of people every Sunday. What an unenviable, undeserved immortality!

To play politics with the life of Jesus, sending him to his Cross when Pilate knew that he was innocent—this is the limit of tragedy, absurdity, and self-seeking; a man of power failed to use it justly in the facts.

But there are many excellent people who are ready to give of their best in the way of help and advice, either to individuals or to causes, so long as their ways of thinking and doing are adopted by those they seek to help. Otherwise they "wash their hands" of them. That is a terrible thing to do—to stop helping unless it is done in our way.

For inspiration and example we may look at Jesus, whose teachings the world has ceaselessly ignored. But he has not washed his hands of us; he is with us always, even if it would seem we are unworthy of his help. He does not walk out on us!

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. McMillan were in San Antonio last week attending the Fat Stock Show. Dr. McMillan, son of Mr. and Mrs. McMillan visited his grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Marvin McMillan Mason.

Plastic Pipe Proves Boon to Oil Industry

Light weight of this new butyrate (Tenite) plastic pipe for the oil fields speeds installations, cuts costs. Worker in picture carries three 20-foot lengths—about 60 pounds—with ease. Equivalent in cement lined steel pipe would weigh approximately 720 pounds. The butyrate plastic pipe is corrosion resistant when used for oil gathering, salt water disposal and repressuring lines. Paraffin does not accumulate and obstruct passage of oil through the pipe according to Tennessee Eastman Company, manufacturer of the plastic.

Wish good luck to
Sergeant Hun Toon of Vermont Rifleman, U.S. Infantry
-and 54 years old his next birthday!

FIRST WORLD WAR :: SECOND WORLD WAR :: KOREA—these are milestones in the career of this sturdy Vermont volunteer. A true son of America's original Minute Men, his whole life has been devoted to battling in defense of the land all of us love! Men like this are rare. And they deserve all the respect the rest of us can give.

Here's an idea. Today stop at your pay office—if your company has the Payroll Savings Plan—or else stop at your bank. Buy yourself an extra United States Defense Bond. And tell yourself you're showing an old soldier—a good soldier—that you appreciate what he's doing for you.

For your bonds, and other forms of saving, put a strong American economy behind a strong American army. They protect you, your family, and our servicemen overseas. Because they help create the productive strength that keeps us at peace today—when peace is only for the strong!

So how about wishing good luck to Sergeant Hun Toon—and more security to the family you love? How about buying an extra United States Defense Bond for them—today?

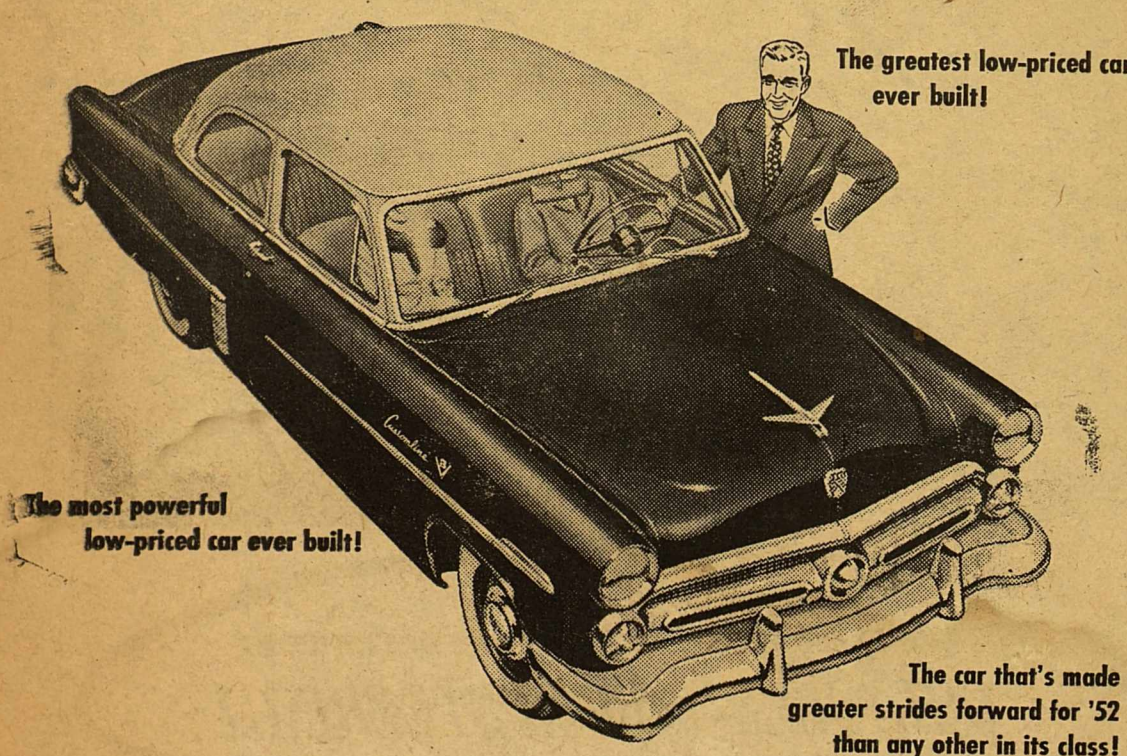

The U. S. Defense Bonds you buy give you personal financial independence
Don't forget that bonds are now a better buy than ever. Because now every Series E Bond you own can automatically go on earning interest every year for 20 years from date of purchase instead of 10 as before! This means that the bond you bought for $18.75 can return you not just $25—but as much as $33.33! A $37.50 bond pays $66.66. And so on. For your security, and your country's too, buy U. S. Defense Bonds now! Bankers recommend them as one of the safest forms of investment.

PEACE IS FOR THE STRONG... BUY U.S. DEFENSE BONDS NOW!
