Big-4 Foreign Ministers Conference

GOOD CITIZENSHIP

By W. H. Marshall
 What is life? What does it mean to be a human being; a person, a God Created creature? Personality is a most sacred thing. To sin against the self, the other person, against personality, is to sin against the God who created you and gave you your being; it is to spit in the face of God. Sin is the most unnatural thing there is in the world. This is true because sin is the reverse to the meaning and being of God himself. Good citizenship therefore, lays an obligation upon every person.
 The first obligation of good citizenship is that a man by the life he lives shall contribute to a high moral standard in the life of his community.
 The second obligation of good citizenship is that the youth of the community shall have the protection of high moral standards. This is an obligation that no adult can evade with honor. This is citizenship of the highest order. No adult has a right to corrupt the morals of his community for financial gain.
 The third obligation of good citizenship is to recognize values. All the wealth of Sutton County is not worth the life of one little child that lives in Sutton County. Our true wealth is our children.
 The obligations that rest upon us as citizens is to give our neighbor's children the rights they are entitled to. The protection of a high standard of moral living, and Christian citizenship. This is our obligation to the child, to every child.

Your Health

Some folks are old at sixty while others are mentally and physically alert at eighty. The number of years one has lived may not be a true index to ones physical condition. Actually, the length of a person's life span is influenced by the condition of his arteries. "Premature hardening of the arteries, often due to avoidable infections, improper diet and possibly worry and strain is to a certain extent preventable," declared Dr. George W. Cox, State Health Officer.

Many of the problems connected with the hygiene of old age are due to lowered mental power. Therefore, a cheerful and optimistic attitude toward the aged, especially during sickness, is essential to their well being.

Old people regard their condition as far less serious when they can be fully dressed and out of bed. When they can be up, the excretory organs function more satisfactorily. However, when an elderly person complains of being overtired, or otherwise not physically fit, a day of rest in bed is advisable. By providing light and easily digested food and applying warmth to the body of an aged patient, he is often tied over a mild or threatened illness.

Special attention should also be paid to proper clothing, diet and exercise of the elderly. With reasonable attention to certain well defined and easily followed principles of personal hygiene, it is possible to grow old gracefully. Furthermore it is also possible, in many instances, to retain ones faculties to such an extent as to make old age a pleasure rather than a burden.

THE THUNDERBIRD, a new kind of car combining high performance with the comfort, convenience and safety of a conventional model, has been added to the Ford line. The Thunderbird has a powerful 160 h.p. Y-block V-8 engine and its low, graceful body is of all-steel construction. Equipped with a convertible cloth top which folds completely out of sight behind the rear seat, the Thunderbird can be purchased with a special composition hardtop, making it a complete all-weather car. Its overall height is 51.5 inches—nearly a foot lower than the 1954 Ford sedan—yet it has only slightly less road clearance. Most of its major parts are interchangeable with Ford's regular line of cars. The Thunderbird is scheduled for production by Ford Division next fall.

LET'S TALK LIVESTOCK BY TED GOULDY

Fort Worth—at a meeting last week of the Texas Swine Breeders Association officers and directors, the matter of swine shows was discussed. A number of the breeders expressed the view that because of the cancellation of major hog shows there had been some undesired criticism of the shows and the Texas Livestock Sanitary Commission. It was brought out at this meeting that perhaps some explaining of the reasons hog shows had been cancelled would clear up some misunderstandings.

The major shows cancelled their swine departments last year because of VE (vesicular Erythema). They did this because the symptoms of VE are identical with those of foot-and-mouth disease.

This requires that tests lasting at least ten days, and in some cases 21 days, would have to be made at a show if a case of VE broke out. This would tie up all cattle, sheep, goats and hogs for ten days to three weeks, since they would all be in quarantine and could not be moved from the show grounds until the disease was identified.

Fine breeding swine would have to be slaughtered, and often VE hogs just sell for their tankage value.

A threat of having their stock put in quarantine would keep all other exhibitors away from a major show, especially out-of-state entries.

It was brought out at the meeting here that strict federal regulations, as well as State rules, are evoked when VE breaks out. It could lead to endless complications if VE broke out at a live stock show.

The spokesman for the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show attending the meeting offered full co-operation to the swine breeders in holding 1955 shows at Fort Worth.

The regular classes will be catalogued in 1955 for all swine, breeding classes and barrows. In the event the VE situation makes it inadvisable to hold the classes in conjunction with other livestock again, the show will stage a barrow show immediately after the other show stock has cleared the premises.

The Fort Worth show officials assured the swine breeders that there was not, and never had been, any desire to permanently separate the swine show from other stock. Show officials offered full co-operation to breeders and even offered to hold a spring show this year in Fort Worth, but after study the breeders found that too few fat barrows would be available to make up a representative show and it was agreed to make next year's show the biggest and best yet.

The assurance that a show will be held will enable 4-H and F. F. A. members to proceed with their fat barrow projects for 1955 with the assurance that a show will be held for them in Fort Worth late in January or early in February.

Stocker cattle and calves were stronger at Fort Worth Monday. A load of 872-pound stocker cows drew $15. Some 750-pound feeder yearlings drew $20. Fed cattle were numerous and slow and weaker. Cows were barely held steady. Slaughter calves drew firm rates.

In the sheep barn prices were steady to 25 cents higher on fat lambs, and fully steady on other sheep and lambs. Fat woolled lambs cashed at $20 to $21, and shorn fat lambs drew $17.50 to $19. Shearing type feeders were quotable at $20 down. Yearling

Disabled Veterans Fight Back

Our WASHINGTON Letter

By Congressman O. C. FISHER

A SPECIAL TRAIN of Texas school administrators stopped over in Washington last Saturday en route to Atlantic City for an annual convention. Among Superintendents and Principals from our area who came along were: Ed Wildman of Kerrville, G. B. Wadzeck of San Angelo, Ed Sharpe of Mason C. E. Brown of Llano, Fred Thompson of Fredericksburg, Harvey Ballew of Lampasas, E. A. Brodhead of Sonora, S. G. Boynton of San Saba, and R. G. Green of Santa Anna. C. L. Harless of San Angelo, chairman of the school board, was also with the group.

Another recent visitor was Smith Bell, Mayor of Brownwood. He was in the Capitol attending a national realtors' conference. Fred Earwood of Sonora and Walter Pfeleger of Eden were here last week in connection with wool matters. Another visitor to our office was Lt. Donald D. Carroll of Brownwood, now stationed at Fort Bliss.

On last Friday I addressed a weekly luncheon of the Washington Shriners, attended by 150 Washingtonians. It being close to Texas Independence Day and there being a good many Texans present, I said a few words about Texas. I pointed out that, historically, except for the early American settlements sponsored by Moses and Stephen Austin and others, and the use made of those settlers by Sam Houston when the revolution came, with the victory at San Jacinto, the dividing line between Latin America and the United States would probably today be along the Sabine rather than the Rio Grande River. Except for the Texans having done the impossible, Texas, the Rocky Mountains and most of the states on the Pacific Coast would in all likelihood still be a part of Latin America.

I paid tribute to John Nance Garner, whose warnings of "Go Slow, Danger Ahead" will never be forgotten. I quoted from one man's appraisal of the Garner philosophy, thus: "Stickin' to what he's learned in school And what he's been raised to believe... Things like simple arithmetic... Long and short division, ledger system... Old-fashioned bookkeeping and squarin' Accounts on Saturday nights..."

He leads us still

"The welfare of our country is the great object to which our cares and efforts ought to be directed."
George Washington
January 8, 1790

It has been the peculiar blessing of America to have had a succession of great leaders whose first devotion was to all the people. Without exception, they have taught us that the security of our country begins in the home. And, of course, it is a basic truth. The strength of America is simply the strength of one secure home touching that of another. Our first duty to America is our duty to our own homes. We can do honor to George Washington and all our other great leaders in no better way than to make our homes secure.
