Rabbit Twisters Snow Mules 10-0 Here Sunday

By Pat Lyles
No practice. Results, no hitting and errors cost Sonora a ball game Sunday, May 5.

Robert Lee's Davis Carrigan held the Mules to four hits while Red Thompson was scattering 11 sorties.

The game should have been three to nothing, but errors allowed seven unearned runs for the Rabbit Twisters.

The Mules have scheduled practice sessions from four to six-thirty each afternoon, Tuesday through Saturday this week.

A double header will be held here Sunday with the Mules playing the Coahuila Government Team from Ciudad Acuna.

"Teahouse Of The August Moon" Opens Two Night Run Here Tonight

Sgt. Fisby (Butch Baker, Sakini (Shannon Ratliff) and Lotus Blossom (Jan Keng) are shown here in the Okinawan Teahouse which is the source of the comedy "Teahouse of the August Moon". The comedy will open at 8:00 o'clock tonight for a two night run at the high school auditorium.

By Thirlen Osborne
East meets West tonight at eight o'clock in the high school auditorium when the curtain will rise on the two-night run of the first amateur production in Texas of "Teahouse of the August Moon".

The plot of John Patrick's comedy, produced by James G. Robbins for the local chapter of the National Thespian Society, centers around the efforts of the American occupation army to bring democracy and economic revival to a little village of Okinawans. Complications arise when the Okinawans express their preference for a teahouse over a school.

Elaborate preparations have been made for the staging of the play. Two auxiliary stages have been constructed in the auditorium to represent offices of Captain Fisby and Colonel Purdy of the U. S. Army, and an oriental teahouse, complete with Japanese lanterns, been constructed in the center of the main stage. Also, pools of light will be used for special effect in some scenes.

Starring in the cast of 29 will be Butch Baker as Captain Fisby, Shannon Ratliff as Sakini, Frank Joe Potmesil as Colonel Purdy, Jan Keng as Lotus Blossom, and Tommy Espy as Miss Higa Jiga.

In addition to a hilarious plot, the play promises to be full of other surprises such as oriental music, dancing, and wrestling, and first performances on any stage by the Wilson Jeep and the Espy goat.

Shannon's Speech Is Golden Wins Him $1,000 Scholarship

Shannon Ratliff, graduating senior at Sonora High School, parlayed a state championship in extemporaneous speaking into a $1,000.00 scholarship at Interscholastic League finals in Austin last Saturday.

Shannon won first place in the boys division of extemporaneous speaking and with it the opportunity to compete for the scholarship which is being awarded by the Alexander Hamilton Foundation during the sesquicentennial of the Constitutional Convention. Objective written examinations eliminated all but five of the state winners in speech events and the finalist competed in public speaking in the auditorium of the University of Texas speech building.

Besides the scholarship, which is to be used in any college or university and toward Shannon's choice of degrees, Ratliff will represent the State of Texas at Constitution Hall in Philadelphia this summer when 55 students will re-enact the Constitutional Convention. From these students, four will be selected to receive additional $1,000 scholarship and will appear with President Eisenhower on nationwide television hookups.

One student will be chosen from the four finalist and will be the recipient of a $3,000 scholarship. Shannon is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Ratliff.

Save Those Fleeces For Wool Show

County Agent D. C. Langford reminds ranchmen that now is the time to plan to save back some fleeces for entry in the annual Sonora Wool and Mohair Show.

With shearing underway over the area, Langford encourages interested ranchmen to choose their finest fleeces for special tying and preparation to insure they will be in top condition for the show.

Humble, Lone Star Indicate Easements Can Be Obtained

Humble Oil Co. representatives, C. B. Lee, district pipeline superintendent of McCamey, and Messrs. Cox and Bain, company engineers from Midland, met last week with County Judge G. A. Wynn, Joe B. Ross, W. B. McMillan and E. B. Keng to discuss an easement at the proposed Site Two on Lowrey Draw watershed. Two ten-inch humble lines touch the edge of the proposed dam and water impounded by the proposed structure would cover a portion of the pipelines. The Humble representatives were very interested in Sonora's problem, and though a final commitment must be made by Humble Oil Co. it appears that an easement will be developed. This week Judge Wynn and Joe B. Ross talked to Lone Star Gas Co. representatives in Dallas who were also very cordial and promised to send a company representative to check the situation on the ground. The Lone Star Gas line supplying Sonora also crosses Site Two and a portion of the line must be rerouted to permit construction of the dam.

When assurance is received that easements can be obtained from Humble and Lone Star, development of a work plan on Lowrey Draw can be started. A Soil Conservation Service planning party has been promised for late July or August if the easements can

61 YEARS AGO

Saturday, May 16, 1896

Abundant rainfall during the latter half of April is producing an abundant crop of bitterweed seed, and many new plants have germinated. The additional seed crop is not especially important to ranchmen who have an infestation of bitterweed from former years. With very few seed produced during the past seven years ranchmen have seen almost solid stands of bitterweed appear on bare ranges from rains in October, February and March.

The April rainfall will give ranchmen who are trying to find and pull occasional plants on formerly clean rangeland a few more days to fight the pest. When the petals fall off the bloom it is almost impossible to do a thorough job in finding the plants. The April rains will also make it necessary for ranchmen to go over rangeland to pull new plants.

Numerous ranchmen have asked about the necessity for sacking and burning pulled bitterweed, it could be pulled much faster if not sacked. All bitterweed pulled should be sacked and burned. Many plants germinated in October, grew slowly during the dry winter, but took a new lease on life in February and another in April. A few early blooms produced seed and these are now almost hidden by a mass of new blooms. Any plant pulled and thrown down may contain several hundred seed mature enough to germinate. If bitterweed is worth pulling it is worthwhile to sack and burn it.

Ranchmen who have a heavy infestation of bitterweed should take some comfort in the fact that the heavy stand on bare land will help prevent runoff and erosion and the resulting water will rapidly produce enough grass to choke the bitterweed back-provided grazing pressure will permit the grass to grow and spread. With moderate grazing and continued rainfall during the summer most of the ground will be sufficiently covered by fall to reduce the stand of bitterweed materially.

Ranchmen should realize that grass suffered a tremendous setback during the past seven years. Much of it died prior to 1954, came back from seed with a little top moisture in the summer of 1955, and died again in 1956. The plants that managed to survive the drought are very weak. Plants need green leaves to manufacture food to produce roots, runners and seed. If the leaves now being produced by abundant April rains are kept grazed short by livestock, the grass plants will remain weak and will spread slowly or not at all.

It is true that ranchmen have had lean years, financially speaking, but grass is an undeniable requirement for continued success in the ranching game. Light use NOW, while the grass is struggling to regain its life and productive ability, will pay big dividends during the next several years. Abundant grass will solve a host of problems that make ranching unpleasant and unprofitable.

At a meeting of the Sonora Fire Department held Tuesday night in the Court House the following officers were elected: J. M. Bell, assistant chief, Max Mayer, secretary, Steve Murphy, treasurer; W. H. Cusenbary, Henry Moon, Felix Vander Stucken auditing committee. The constitution and by-laws were adopted and the Sonora Fire department of 32 men is now thoroughly organized.

Purina Range Checkers have carbohydrates for heat and energy, body-building protein, vitamins and minerals for health and reproduction. They're economical, too. Come in and see us for your winter feed needs.

Looking Through The Windows Of Life

By W. H. Marshall

Dear Friends:
Sitting here in my study this morning and looking back over my ministry, I see where I have made mistakes. I sometimes am all but glad that I do make mistakes. That makes me kin to all of you. Of course there are a few people who want the minister to be so saintly he cannot make a mistake, while for themselves, well, they want to pretty well do as they please and live as they please.
But I have set out in this little talk to say to all of you: You have been good and kind to Mrs. Marshall and me, and we just want to tell you we appreciate you and the good things you have done for us. If we have in any way been able to serve you and help you in any way, we are grateful.
I have not been able to please every one. No minister can do that nor should it be expected that he should. There are some people whom no minister can please. I have tried not to please you, but to serve and help you as people. For the mistakes I have made, I sincerely say to all of you, "I am sorry."
It is with mixed feelings I come to the close of a happy ministry among you. I have tried to be helpful. I have tried to serve the people of Sonora and Sutton County, all of the people, not just the Methodists. I appreciate your thoughtfulness and graciousness to Mrs. Marshall and me, but above them all, we appreciate you as friends and just good HUMAN BEINGS.
Come to see us, won't you!

Outpatient Clinics Efficient In Mental Treatment

If you think "mental illness" and "emotional disturbance" are one and the same thing, you're like most people. But you aren't necessarily correct in your opinion. That's why, especially since this is National Mental Health Week, the difference between the two expressions should be cleared up.
It is a matter of degree. Mental illness is generally considered severe enough to require hospitalization and a regimen of treatment, often for long periods.
On the other hand, many people have emotional disturbances which temporarily affect their mental health. Proper professional help can prevent the trouble from progressing into something more serious requiring hospitalization.
It is in providing this professional help that psychiatric outpatient clinics prove their worth. There are 18 such clinics in Texas. There is a great need for many more.
The first comprehensive look at the services rendered by clinics has recently been completed. It shows that in one year more than 2,400 people—95 per cent of them from urban areas—were given psychiatric help, visiting clinics for consultation and returning home afterward. And since each patient was a member of a family, the relief of his distress meant happier relationships for the entire family.
Nearly three-fourths of all patients were considered "improved" after clinic treatments, a fair gauge of their true worth to the Community.

New Hot Check Law Closes Another Loop hole

An amendment to the Texas "hot check" law that makes employers liable for paying their employees with checks that "bounce" has been signed into law by Gov. Price Daniel. Clayton Hamilton, manager of the Credit Bureau of Sonora said today he had been advised by the Retail Merchants Association of Texas office in Austin.
The new amendment closed a loophole in the "hot check" law. "Until this amendment was signed, a retail business or any other place of business that accepted worthless checks presented in good faith by workers had practically no legal recourse to recover its loss," Hamilton said.
"Now under the new amendment employers who give checks that prove to be 'hot' are subject to criminal prosecution and may be fined up to $2,000 and sent to jail for 30 days if the amount involved is less than $50. If the amount of the worthless check is more than $50, then the penalty is from two to ten years in prison and a fine up to $10,000."
Hamilton said there were several hundred cases in Texas last year where employers paid off their workers with worthless checks causing the places that cashed these checks to lose many thousands of dollars.
Prosecution of these cases under the "Texas hot check" law was difficult because provision did not cover checks given as wages or salaries for services.
Hamilton said the new amendment was endorsed and supported by the members of the Retail Merchants Association of Texas.

Scholarships Now Available To Future Teachers

The Texas Association of School Administrators, in trying to do what it can toward solving the teacher shortage problem in Texas, announces the extension of its scholarship program for 1957-58 to include eight $500 scholarships for prospective teachers. Three 500 awards were made last year.

Funds for the scholarships have come from businesses, individuals, and one scholarship is awarded this year from donations made by the superintendents of schools themselves.

To receive the scholarship awards, each school superintendent in Texas is eligible to nominate one boy and one girl from among white high school seniors graduating this year. The eight $500 awards will be made from the names submitted by the superintendents. Winners will be announced May 13.

Each student nominated by a superintendent must rank in the upper 25 per cent of his or her graduating class and must be in

Costs Up, Profits Down For Ranchmen

The producer of food and fiber gets relatively little of what the consumer pays for the finished product or commodity at the grocery store, according to a recent House Agriculture committee report.

Here are some of the findings: In the last 10 years food prices have increased 16 percent while the price the farmer receives for what he raises has declined 14 percent.

During this same period the average city family put out $500 more per year for food, 80 percent or $400 of which went to processing, transportation and distribution. The farmer got only $45 of it.

There is less than three cents worth of corn in a 22 cent package of crackers.

The pound loaf of bread that last years sold for 18 cents contained wheat having a farm value of 2.6 cents.

The committee aim is to find means of narrowing that wide gulf between what the farmer gets and what the consumer pays, increase consumption of farm products, and also educate the people about the small part the producer has in the high cost of living.

The story is told of Will Rogers being shown the beautiful new state capitol building at Lincoln, Neb. They were standing in front of the building reading the inscription over the entrance: "The vigilance of the people is the salvation of the state."

One of Rogers' hosts asked, "What would you suggest?" "Oh, something like this," replied Rogers, "you gotta watch them guys or they'll run away with the state capitol!" Actually the great Will meant no reflection on any one. He was striking at a soft spot inherent in our democratic system, that of need for constant vigilance by the people. That same idea was
