SECOND WEEK

AREA GETS UP TO 8 INCHES

Torrential Rains Early This Week Close Roads, Put Draws On Rampage

By E. B. Keng

Torrential rains varying from three to seven inches fell over practically all of Sutton and adjacent counties Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. Heavy rains Sunday drenched the northern half of the area and rainfall Monday was concentrated largely in the south half—thank goodness!

Sunday's rain dumped over six inches at the W. F. Berger ranch, initiating the new airstrip with several feet of water, but causing little actual damage. Lowrey Draw crested at noon Sunday about one foot lower than the high mark reached on May 12. Dry Devil's River was some two feet lower than on May 12, but it was fed primarily from the Berger and Meckel draws. The main stem of Dry Devil's River north of the W. L. Davis ranch, where only 2.45 inches fell, contributed no runoff Sunday.

Rainfall early Monday left 7:15 inches on the Gene Wallace ranch, 7.00 inches at the Holman Estate, 6.00 inches at the Robert Pfluger ranch, and other flood-producing rains. Draws and lakes were reported higher than in many years. Damage to roads and fences was very heavy.

Water flooded the basement of the J. A. Cauthorn ranch home, and moved a large barn off its foundation. Highway 277 to Del Rio was blocked at the nine mile crossing and by the Cusenbary draw. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Morris and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Cusenbary were in Sonora Sunday and were unable to return home until Wednesday.

The heavy October downpour brought wide smiles to Sonora ranchmen with a promise of the green winter feed in many years. Grass was greening on many ranches from earlier rains, and with a few frost-free days additional growth will be made. A heavy crop of winter weeds and grasses have germinated, and will help furnish green sheep feed during the winter and spring.

Grass and weed covered ranges soaked up much of the moisture in spite of the torrential fall. Moisture penetration checks made Monday by SCS technicians showed moisture from 20 to more than 36 inches on grass covered ranges near Sonora. Bare areas of deep soil however, were wet only three to seven inches deep.

Rainfall reports gathered by E. B. Keng, SCS, showed the following totals, some complete for the three-day period:

Joe Logan 7.30; Steen Ranch 7.69; Rip Ward 7.15; J. A. Cauthorn 4.00; Leonard Gibbs 3.50; Woolhouse 5.82; Fred T. Earwood 3.60 to 4.50; Hospital Ranch 4.70; Alvis Johnsons 6.00; Edwin S. Mayer 5.20; W. L. (Tom) Davis 7.20; Dantes Reiley 4.30; Cleve Jones 7.80; Bryan Hunt (Edwards) 5.00; City Power Plant 6.15; Bustie Halbert 6.70; Edwin Sawyer 5.20; Jack Turney 4.00; R. A. Halbert 6.60; Harold Schwiening 6.60; Clara Allison 4.70; George Brockman 3.25; W. L. Miers 2.80; Robert Pfluger 6.00; Gene Wallace 7.15; Experiment Station 4.75 to 5.70; Holman Estate 7.00; W. B. McMillan 5.30; Thelma Espy 4.50; Byron Newby 5.00; Dan Cauthorn 4.00; Mack Cauthorn 3.50; and Harold Friess 8.00.

Former Engineer New Math, Physics Teacher At SHS

A. L. Markham, the new high school math and physics instructor, came to Sonora for his first teaching assignment after 15 months with Convoir in Fort Worth. Markham was born and raised in Temple and attended Temple High School. After a year's stretch in the Navy, he entered Texas A. and M. and obtained a Bachelor of Science Degree in engineering.

As far as hobbies and outside interests go, Markham says that he like hunting and fishing but is particularly attached to flying (now working on a student license) and high fidelity reproduction of music. Up to now, Marham seems pleased with the teaching profession and Sonora.

Broncos Hold Cowpunchers To Tie In Hard Fought Game Here Friday Night

The Mason Cowpunchers received their first set-back of the season here Friday night when the Sonora Broncos held them to a seven to seven tie in a hard fought game. The Cowpunchers arrived with a perfect record for the season and were generally conceded favorites over the Broncos. But they reckoned without the Sonora team's spirit which prevailed over illnesses, and injuries, to balk the 'Punchers.

Early in the first quarter, Back Butch Baker took a hand-off around left end and didn't stop until he had crossed the Mason goal line some 34 yards later. Allen Wall carried over center for the conversion and the Broncos held their seven point lead into the second period of play.

In that second quarter, the Cowpunchers set up a 60-yard drive which ended in a touchdown from the Bronco's one-yard line when Mason Back Pat Keller plunged over. Freddie Schmidt tied things up by kicking the extra point and there the score remained.

It was rough and tumble ball from that point on and three times the Broncos made penetrations but were unable to score.

Sam Galindo intercepted two Mason passes and Vivian Vasquez one which turned the tide against the Cowpunchers on all three counts.

Out of play for the night were Junior Castro and Gene Brodhead, both regulars at guard position, Castro with influenza and Brodhead with an arm injury.

Statistics-wise, the Broncos racked up 10 first downs to the 'punchers' 9. They tried passes 3 times with 1 completion and 1 interception. Mason attempted 9 passes, completing 2 and 3 interceptions.

Hugh Richardson Buried Monday

Funeral services for Hugh Richardson, 89, who died at his home in San Angelo Sunday, were held in Johnson-Cox Funeral Chapel there Monday. Burial was in Fairmount Cemetery.

Mr. Richardson was born February 7, 1868, in Rome, Ga. On December 24, 1904, he was married to Miss Nora Chriesman in Sutton County. He had been a resident of San Angelo for the past 20 years.

He is survived by his wife, two daughters, Mrs. Mary Belle Stigler of San Angelo and Mrs. G. E. Hensley of Portales, New Mexico; two sons, Jim Hugh Richardson of Sonora and Frank C. Richardson of Talpa, one step-daughter, nine grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

L. W. ELLIOTT ILL

L. W. Elliott is confined to his home this week recuperating from rib fractures suffered in a fall at his home Friday.

NOTICE- Members of the Bronco Band are sponsoring the sale of birthday calendars. Anyone interested in purchasing one contact any member of the Sonora Bronco Band.

"Have a West Texas drumstick," Carl J. Cahill, Sutton County Oil Information Committee chairman, served guest speaker Val Jean McCoy, at Saturday night's barbecue. McCoy enjoyed barbecued goat, son-of-a-gun, and other traditional West Texas chow at Bronco Stadium.

Broncos, Lions Meet Friday In First 8-a Conference Tilt

Joe Turner's Sonora Broncos will open conference play Friday night against the Ozona Lions on the Lions' home field. The game will possibly be the most important of 8-A competition this year with the Lions getting a slight nod as favorites.

However, Turner's boys have proved themselves the surprise package of the season, performing best when the "experts" label them the underdogs. They held the top-ranked McCamey Badgers to a four-point victory when the Badgers were expected to walk off with the honors with little difficulty. Again, last week the Broncos fouled up the Mason Cowpunchers' perfect record by holding the Mason eleven to a 7 to 7 tie.

So it will be anybody's game—"experts" or no "experts".

Probable starters for the Broncos will be: Ends, John Ed Neville and Freddy Fields; Tackles, Bobby Smith and Junior Castro; Guards, Dan Cauthorn and Bill Fish; Center, Wallace Anthony; Backs, Vivian Vasquez, Butch Baker, Sam Galindo and Allen Wall.

Game time is 7:30 at Ozona.

Local students attending the San Marcos College are Katherine Kiser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kiser; Samuel Jimenez, son of Mr. and Mrs. Candeliario Jimenez, and Sixto Chavez, son of Mr. and Mrs. Antonio Chavez.

Over 1,750 Eat Barbecue At Kick Off Celebration

Some 1,750 persons turned out Saturday night for the barbecue sponsored by the local Oil Information Committee as Sonora's Kickoff Celebration for Oil Progress Week. Among the nearly 2,000 guests were some 200 from out-of-town representing the oil industry.

Val Jean McCoy, public relations director for Shell Oil Co., Houston, spoke on progress made in the oil industry in recent years.

Alfred Cooper headed the battalion of cooks who prepared the 103 kids for the barbecue. He was assisted by M. C. Scott, J. T. Penick, and James Wilson. Son-of-a-gun, traditional western camp dish, was cooked up by Bustie Halbert. Chief bean cooks were Leroy Valliant and Jim Skinner and Earl Smith, Louie Smith and Carl Harris manned the coffee pots.

Helping 1,750 plates were Boyd W. Lovelace, Lee Patrick, Reggie Trainer, John Eaton, Carl Jones, W. C. Bricker, Roy Cooper, Tom Davis, Leroy Valliant, John A. Martin, Jr., Darcy

Carroll, James D. Trainer, E. B. Keng, Alfred Schwiening, Jr., and Ervin Willman.

Gay Copeland acted as master of ceremonies, introducing visitors and the main speaker. He also announced Jan Keng as winner of the essay contest.

Following the barbecue, the Ranchero Dance Club sponsored a square dance at the school with out-of-town callers and with local members acting as master of ceremonies.

A parade of oil field and construction equipment preceeded the barbecue at five o'clock.

Lawrence (Nick) Nichols went fishing down on the coast a couple or three weeks ago and they were biting. So Nick brought home about 113 fish—all on one string. And contrary to what Fred Nichols (Nick's dad) says, they weren't sardines.

Joe B. Ross was reelected district supervisor of Zone Four at a meeting held Monday afternoon. Ross, a district supervisor since the Edwards Plateau SCD was created in 1948, was elected for five-year term.

The five supervisors of the Edwards Plateau SCD, elected for staggered terms of five years, are Ross, Fred Sarwood, Edwin Sawyer, W. B. McMillan and Frank P. Bond.

District supervisors serve practically without pay, receiving only $4.00 per day, not to exceed 20 meetings per year. For many years the local board members contributed their pay to a local district fund which is used to provide prizes for essay contests, 4-H Club awards and other local conservation activities.

Some 145 landowners and operators in the Edwards Plateau SCD are now working with the district, out of 165 total operating units. The entire program is completely voluntary, and the local supervisors hope eventually to work with all landowners and operators in the district. Technical assistance on conservation problems is available to all ranchmen who request it.

Mrs. J. D. Wood and son Doug have returned from Colorado City where they were the guests of Mrs. Wood's daughter, Mrs. Loretta Owens.

Miss Nancy Kirk has returned to her home in Junction after a visit here with Miss Rex Ann Baker.

Mr. and Mrs. Clay Atchison of Victoria were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dantes Reiley on the ranch last week.

Judge Sara H.T. Hughes Says Parents
Not Fully To Blame For Delinquency

Editors Note: This is the first of a series of articles on the state's growing problem of juvenile delinquency by one of Texas' foremost authorities on the subject, District Judge Sarah T. Hughes of Dallas, who has handled more than 25,000 juvenile and family relations cases, along with an even greater number of other civil cases in 22 years on the bench. "Family law is probably the most important phase of the law," say this internationally known jurist, whose work has been honored in Europe and Asia as well as in the United States, and whose name was put in nomination for the vice-presidency of the United States in 1952. A discussion of a different aspect of the problem will appear from time to time.)

Many helpful things can be done to counteract our mushrooming problem of juvenile delinquency—and they must be done by individuals and organizations, as well as by parents.

In fact, I have become somewhat irritated with parents getting so much of the blame for this problem. The changed conditions of modern times impose a great responsibility on the community as well as on parents, and we as members of the community must examine the need and get busy providing more of the remedy. For instance, more boys are arrested for auto theft than for any other crime. Unlocked parked cars are a great temptation for boys who have time on their hands and yearn for a car of their own.

How do the changed conditions of living and of children's growing up affect our youngsters? In the generations immediately past, children had a big place in family life: They had jobs to do—many important chores around the home and, often, the farm—and so a child had the sense of importance, of his own worth, that all of us must have. There was little time for the idleness that breeds mischief.

Today is marked by the industrialization of cities, the high percentage of cars available to teenagers, movies, picture books, TV (much of all this with subject matter beyond the adolescent's ability not to grasp but to digest properly) and very few chores around the home. So the job of the parent is much more difficult today than it used to be—and much more time-consuming.

What is the responsibility of the community? It is to counteract these changed conditions with all the insight that it can summon and with all the means that it can muster, in a deeply serious effort. Here are some suggestions I have developed from the thousands of juvenile cases that have come before me in my 22 years of handling civil cases as a district judge in one of the populous areas of our state:

1. We must provide much more thoroughly for the time that young people have on their hands these days by establishing and supporting far more widely and completely than we do now such character-building organizations as Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, YMCA, etc.
2. We must provide more community centers, "teen centers" parks, schools, churches. And these youth centers must be organized in units small enough for adequate supervision.

individuals must try to make themselves good friends to children on a personal basis.

than we now do for those who become delinquent. We must increase detention facilities and raise the number of parole officers, among other things.

4. But the community's responsibility doesn't end with the provision of character-building facilities. The community must provide more adequately by far

How we can get on the road will be discussed in my next article.

Sheep Short Course Set For Oct. 21-22

Fundamentals of sheep production and management will be stressed during a new short course at Texas A. and M. October 21-22.

Dr. T. D. Watkins, in charge of sheep for the Animal Husbandry Department at the college, said this Sheep Short Course will be the first of a series.

Much of the material to be discussed during the short course will be demonstrated at the department's Sheep Center. For example, during the first morning, participants will see demonstrations of correct methods in castration, docking, ear tagging, drenching, facing, tagging, proper bagging of wool, and bag identification.

They also will see classes of fat lambs in the feed-lot, and later will see those same lambs after they have been butchered.

This first course is designed primarily for the beginner, and is planned to give him the highlights of all essential information for sheep management. Later courses will probe deeper into the problem and methods of more advanced management.

Speakers in this first short course are:

Dr. Watkins; L. D. Wythe and John Todd of the Animal Husbandry Department; Maurice Shelton of the McGregor Substation; Prof. J. M. Jones and J. A. Gray of the Animal Husbandry Dept.; Stanley P. Davis, in charge of the Wool Laboratory for the Animal Husbandry

Dept.; Roy W. Snyder, extension meats specialist; Dr. R. D. Turk of the School of Veterinary Medicine; and Dr. O. D. Butler, head of the Animal Husbandry Dept.

General Health First Defense Line Against Illness

Your general state of health can be a first line of defense against illness, particularly now that the season of infectious diseases is here. Resistance to complications of colds, "flu" and other illnesses is influenced by how you eat, sleep, exercise and relax before you get sick.

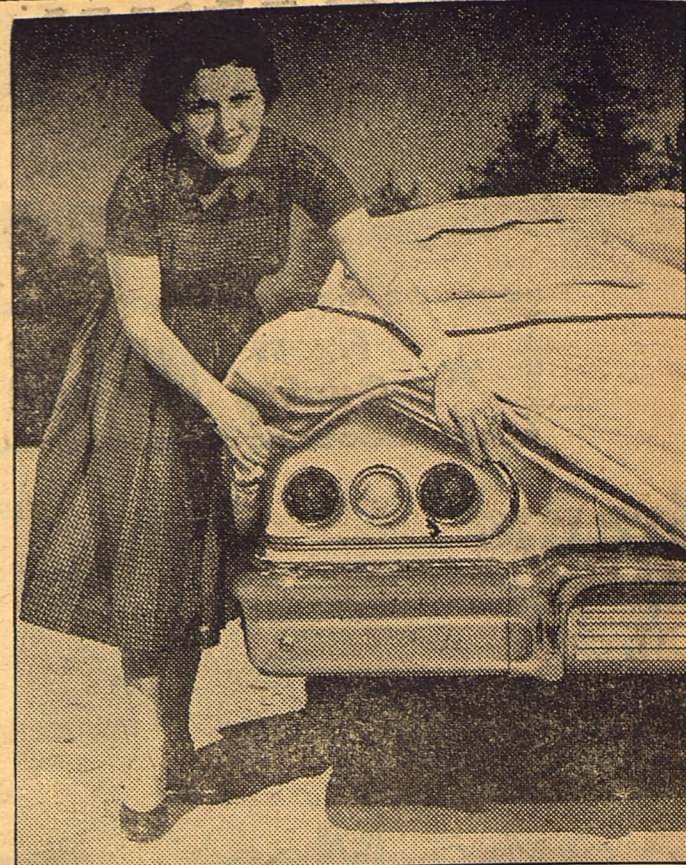

Food means different things to different people, but the net effect is the same: food not only supplies energy to the human machine but also provides building materials to renew body tissue.

Good nutrition is largely a matter of getting enough of the right foods. And since this is true, it is a good idea to take a look at your eating habits. Your regular diet should be built around:

A daily serving of meat or fish, about four eggs a week, some cheese, at least two glasses of milk daily, two daily servings of raw or slightly cooked green or yellow vegetables, two servings of fruit, and some potatoes, bread or other grain products.

"I'm cooking dinner with my CLEAN, AUTOMATIC Electric RANGE"

Be Happy! Live Better—Electrically

and nothing is as COOL, FAST and SAFE as Electric Cooking—

As this modern kitchen clearly shows, today's trend is to electricity. And perhaps the best example of this is the electric range. Smart looking, convenient. Insulated on all 6 sides (as are all electric ovens) you get even, steady heat for baking and roasting. No guesswork with electric surface units either. The heat you set is yours automatically every time. And the heat goes directly into the bottom of the pan, not up the sides and into your kitchen.

But the thing you'll appreciate most is the way your electric range stays modern—year after year.

Which is the Brand New Suit...

And which has been Sanitone Dry Cleaned 50 Times?

Here's dramatic proof that repeated quality dry cleanings do not alter look and feel of newness!

No longer need you worry about how often to have your clothes dry cleaned. Do it whenever they are soiled or mused because ingrained soil and perspiration are hard on clothes — NOT QUALITY DRY CLEANING! The makers of SANITONE ran exhaustive tests to prove this.

One of the identical brand-new suits pictured above, was Sanitone Dry Cleaned 50 (fifty) times and even experts could detect no significant difference between it and the one that was brand new . . . either in appearance, or in the feel of the fabric. This test has been duplicated with swatches cut from the same bolt of cloth as the suits shown here. We have them on display, so come in and see for yourself how safe Sanitone Dry Cleaning is for your family's clothes.

In fact, we believe you'll agree that all clothes will stay new-looking longer WITH regular Sanitone Dry Cleaning. Our regular patrons will back that up 100%, too. So why not start today?

Planning to attend the State Fair of Texas in Dallas, October 5 to 20? If so, be sure to visit the Texas Laundry and Dry Cleaning Association exhibit. See how professional laundries and cleaners process your clothing.

Register too, you may win a year's free shirt laundry service or a year's free cleaning service. The Sonora Steam Laundry and Dry Cleaners are cooperating with the association. Should your name be drawn we will launder your shirts free for One Year (limit seven per week) or clean and press a man's suit or a lady's plain dress each week for one year.

Use Extra Caution In Twilight Driving

Early twilight calls for drivers to ease-up on speed and use extra caution. Motorists must be aware of the fact that dusk can be deadly, and drive accordingly.

There is no doubt about it, many future traffic accident victims are walking and riding on the streets right now. Victims who will be struck down after dark. This means the careless pedestrians and motorists—the ones who do not realize that from five p.m. to eight p.m. are particularly dangerous hours. That's when people are rushing home from work, tired, fretful, impatient and inconsiderate. And, when visibility is especially poor. It is important for pedestrians and motorists to look out for each other. This could be made easier if they would "light up" at night.

Darkness reduces visibility, and it is important that the pedestrian be easily seen. It is a good idea for night walkers to wear white or light colored clothing and carry a flashlight if possible.

Of course the idea of being seen also applies to the drivers. They should make it a point to turn on their headlights at the first hint of dusk. Parking lights won't do, because they make the distance of the car too easy to misjudge by others.

Motorists should have their lights checked regularly to make sure they are in good condition. And each driver should take it upon himself to be the first to "dim" when another vehicle approaches.

Devil's River Philosopher Wonders If Manned Flight Into Space Will Be A Big Joke On The Scientists

Editor's note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his bitter-weed ranch on Devil's River seems to be undisturbed about the Russian satellite, his letter this week indicates.

Dear editor:
Last week it wasn't necessary to go out of your way at all to get hold of the main topic of discussion throughout the world—that satellite the Russians shot out into space, and while I haven't heard of anybody around here who has seen it, I'll admit if they're like me they haven't tried very hard.

If it's passing over my ranch every 95 minutes, it's all right with me. There's no law against it.

But I have been thinking. Now I understand some people in the United States are concerned over the fact Russia got a satellite up first, but it doesn't bother me. I figure we'll get one up before long. The secret of a satellite is sort of like the secret of the bicycle—it's pretty generally known in scientific circles.

But what does interest me is this. I feel sure we can get a small satellite up into space, and a little later on we can get a bigger one, then a still bigger one, and if we spend enough effort and money we can finally, I suppose, get a real rocket ship up in space with a man on board, and I'm sure we ought to do it.

But I've been thinking, what a joke it would be on the scientists if after we spend several billion dollars, get the rocket-ship up all right, and the man on board successfully sails it around throughout space for a few days and then radios back: "Well, I've been around the moon twice, I've traveled a hundred million miles in every direction I can think of from earth, I've explored everything I can find out here, and while I hate to say this, I know you've spent a lot of money getting me and this rocket ship into outer space, BUT THERE AIN'T NOTHING OUT THERE. I can't find a blamed thing out here worth having, and you can see just as much of nothing as I can by looking straight up from where you're standing on earth. No trees, no rivers, no land, no people, just a lot of nothing and a million or so monotonous stars that sun-burn you if you get close. If it's all right with you, I'd like to come back down. I'd even enjoy arguing with my

By Hugh Williamson
Survey takers, out gathering figures on hunting and fishing, have come up with some rather amazing statistics.

For example: More people hunt and fish than take part in all spectator sports combined. And anglers and hunters outnumber golfers nine to one.

Taxans spend twice as much money to hunt and fish than they do for admission to all football, baseball, and basketball games, plus all other spectator sports, plus all movies and all other theatrical attractions combined.

The hunting and fishing bill in Texas is greater than that spent on medical care, dental work, and hospitalization insurance.

And the money spent for outdoor pursuits is rapidly increasing. That's because the population is growing and folks nowadays have more leisure time.

These are cold facts, based on accurate, scientific surveys, conducted for the Texas Game and Fish Commission.

Plenty For All

Fortunately there is going to be a bountiful supply of fish and game for all these anglers and shooters. Building of many new lakes, stocking them, and good rains this year will mean many fish.

Deer and turkey, along with antelope, once faced extinction in Texas. Game management programs and favorable conditions afield have brought back the deer and the turkey populations and put them in proper balance.

Viewers of the situation are pleased. But they see a need for more and better facilities and accommodations for the hunter and the fisherman.

Derrel Alley of Anderson spent last weekend at home with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Alley.

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Langford and Roger spent last week in Albuquerque, New Mexico, where they attended the New Mexico State Fair. Langford was one of the judges in the sheep division at the fair.

A Child May Dare So Drive With Care

A child may dare, so drive with care. A new school year is underway and more driving caution is needed on our streets and highways.

Children have a way of making unexpected moves and it's hard to keep up with them. Yet, the only way we can hope to cut down on traffic casualties, which claim so many of our children each year, is to keep a sharp lookout for their sudden and unpredictable actions.

Many accidents happen in mere seconds—a child suddenly appears from nowhere, there is a screech of brakes, a cry of anguish and another casualty is added to an already overgrown list of traffic fatalities.

While parents, schools and public officials are working constantly for greater child safety, there are many problems yet unsolved. One of the major problems is coping with the impulses of children and training them to be safety conscious from pre-school age through adolescence.

The only way to tackle this problem of unpredictable behavior in children especially in crossing streets, is by repeated safety lessons. And, by urging motorists to remain on the alert and drive slowly through school and playground areas, especially during the peak hours of

YOUR MINISTER SAYS

By Rev. Bill Brown
We are prone to say things that may not be properly received or understood by many. At the same time we must all admit some things should never be even thought of, must less being formed into words which may cause a hurt or discourage feeling. The fact remains that the Bible has declared that there is a time to speak and also a time to keep silence. Many rely upon their conscience to decide just when is the correct time to apply the words of the Lord for the particular occasion. I know of two statements which are seldom found in the vocabulary of many people in these days. It is hard to say "I am wrong" — "You are right".

"I am wrong". When one admits that he is wrong, concerning a solution to a certain problem, he feels immediately that he may have caused an injury to someone involved in the situation at hand.
It is best to confess the mistake even though at the time of your decision, you may think that you may lose your influence and prestige. It is best to feel right on the inside than to have the praise of men. Remember one can be right when he admits his wrongs.

"You are right". This statement may be in our minds before we find the time or place to say it. Should one say "You are right" before he has completely turned the problem over in his own mind? If we are convinced by facts and come to see through the same channels as the other person, we can say with a Christian spirit—"You are right." I can firmly believe one can truthfully say, "You are right" without a fear that his intelligence has been insulted.

By saying "I am wrong"—"You are right" indicates that one agrees with another's point of view and that a sufficient amount of evidence has been provided to clear a certain point. It is the wise man who will admit to another, "I am wrong"—"You are right".

It is the desire of God for each one to come to the place in life to see that we are completely helpless and wrong without Him in our lives. We can know that our wrongs are blotted out by turning to His loving arms. Remember one can be right by admitting his wrongs. It is hard to say but one can be bigger than the little things in life.

Give Little Bass A Chance To Grow

Give the little bass a chance to grow up. This was the advice of the Director of Law Enforcement of the Game and Fish Commission this week.

"Every lake and stream in Texas is filled with little bass six and eight inches long", the Director said. "They'll follow plugs into the boat in droves. Occasionally they'll get caught. Every care should be taken in releasing these little fellows again. They'll be keepers this time next year if we just give them a chance to grow."

The Director said reports of these little bass are coming in from all over the state.

The legal limit on bass is seven inches. "Most of the little bass now being caught are approaching that size", the Director said.

Mrs. J. E. Grimland had as guests this week Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hamm of San Antonio.

Nearly All Fires Are Made By Man Says Fire Marshall

"Ninety-eight percent of all fires are man-made," City Fire Marshal John A. Martin, Jr., reminded Sonora citizens this week. "And 97 percent of all fires made by man are the results of pure carelessness. Carelessness in the way of handling such things as matches, smoking in bed, trash and even the cleaning fluids used by housewives, and many many other ways too numerous to mention." Martin urged everyone to be more careful and to try to prevent fires from starting. "Then our Fire Boys will not be called upon for the job of fighting to save lives and property in the community." Martin concluded, "Things lost in fires are some of our most precious possessions and cannot ever be replaced. 'A stitch in time save nine' applies to fires as well as to everything else." Mr. and Mrs. Carl Cahill, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Teaff and E. L. Harrell left Sunday on a hunting trip in Colorado.
