EIGHTH WEEK

Odds And Ends

We thought we had everything under control for the 4-H banquet Monday night. Sick kids at home kept us from being there in person to get pictures of the 4-H'ers as they received their awards but good ole E. B. (Grassy) Keng agreed to pinch-hit for us.

We gave Buret an extra short course in how to use our camera and left it with him, along with an extra supply of film. When we hit the office this morning we found the following message taped to the extra roll of film:

"This roll of film has been thru the camera—but it made a real fast trip! ! ! (While I watched in vain or the number I to appear in the window)

"The O persisted in staying in the window and PRESTO, the film was wound thru on the wrong spool.

"So if you will kindly rewind this roll on another spool, it would be ready to make a second trip.

"(Yes, yes, yes—I was told! And a picture was drawn to show me. . . The information, however, took with a delayed fuse, and didn't explode until the film was wound thru.)

Attached to the flash attachment was the following poem:

THE TROUBLES OF AN AMATEUR PHOTOGRAPHER
by U. Cant Miss

The Strobe-lite flickered, but it wouldn't flash.

So the 4-H pictures made nary a splash!

The focus kept jumping from 10 to INFINITY.

While I swore the camera would stomp the DIVINITY!

And human error took a considerable toll.

Like forgetting the lite switch when ready to roll.

And while fondling the gadget 'midst prayers to Heaven,

The F stop jumped from 5.6 to eleven.

The moral to this story—if you want to reach fame,

Is to carefully avoid the other man's game.

It looks so easy, and he stays so cool,

But try it yourself and you make a Bible-mule.

The regrettable part of the affair so sordid,

Is that deserving youngsters were not recorded.

So the Devil must carry their story in prose

'Cause the photographer or camera goofed on each pose!

The story has a happy ending, though. Keng and Clint Langford rounded up the major Award-winners and we did get their pictures, including one of Keng who received a special adult award.

Superintendent's Sports Fund Analysis Shows Where Athletic Dollars is Spent

Superintendent of Schools E. A. Brodhead last week prepared an analysis of athletic costs of the past year. Brodhead emphasized that "No attempt is made to estimate the educational worth of an athletic program such as ours. We do want to establish the fact that year in and year out our program must be supplemented by tax funds." Also that, "Our planning is dependent that safe equipment must be furnished to all students who participate."

Income from gate receipts this year will lack about $1,300 in paying football expenses, if costs of awards and coaching school are included.

Out of every $1.00 net received at the gate, both at home and away, for football, equipment costs 74 cents; scouting cost two cents; insurance and medical expense cost 24 cents an additional two cents went for miscellaneous expense and 17 cents will be spent for awards.

Season ticket sales amounted to $1,878.75; cash at home games came to $2,905.23; receipts from out of town games (based on two year contracts) brought $1,150.00; "B" and Junior games brought in $178.11. Total gate receipts were $6,112.09.

Officials were paid a standard rate on a basis of gate receipts plus travel expenses. Total outlay for officials for the season, $516.00. Team travel (excluding bus expense) amounted to $340.05. Scouting costs were $101.25. Visiting teams were paid $925.00 on terms of two year contracts. Insurance for 85 boys cost $1,020.00. Expenses incurred at out of town hospitals and by out of town doctors plus dental work above maximum insured allowable, $114.38. Miscellaneous expenses (tickets, refunds, district dues, etc.) $91.15. Total football expenses for the season, $6561.40.

Other athletic programs will cost an estimated $2,900.00.

Five Broncos Named To 8-A All District Team

The All-District offensive team was selected as follows: Ends, Neville of Sonora and Jerry Jacobs of Ozona; Tackles, Rod Franklin of Ozona and L. Haines of Junction; Guards, Billy Bob Holden of Ozona, H. C. Allsup of Junction, and Dick Runge of Eldorado (tie in voting); Center, Dwayne Lovelace of Menard; Backs, Sosa and Galindo of Sonora, Stan Williams and Bobby Sutton of Ozona, and Bert Mansfield of Junction (tie in voting).

Named to the defensive square were: Ends Neville of Sonora and Jake Young of Ozona; Tackles Castro of Sonora, Rod Dunderstadt of Menard and L. Haines of Junction; Guard B. Hurley of Junction; Linebackers Sosa and Vasquez of Sonora. Dub Smith of Junction and Billy Bob Holden of Ozona; Safety men Mickey Cavaness of Junction and Stan Williams of Ozona; Center Dwayne Lovelace of Menard.

Devil's River Philosopher Isn't Reassured To Learn U. S. Missile Program Is Right On Schedule

Editor's note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his bitter-wood ranch on Devil's River is concerned about the U. S. missile program, his letter this week indicates.

Dear editor:
Everybody is looking for reassurance in these days of inter-continental missiles, and while I am not prepared to believe yet that Russia can line up all its long-range missiles, take aim, and blow up every city in the world in thirty minutes, still her success in launching a 1,100 pound satellite is hard to argue with when it comes to saying who's ahead in this department, and naturally all of us have been concerned.

Consequently, Washington is getting on the ball and I think we can catch up all right, but I was interested in what a Washington expert had to say to a Congressional committee the other day along this line.

According to an article I read in a newspaper which I paid a nickel for, after all, I recognize this missile program is going to cost us all some money and I figured the least I could do was face up to my part of the load and spend a nickel to keep posted, this expert in Washington, when pressed for an answer on how our missile program is coming along, said it "was on schedule."

I have thought his answer over and don't know whether I'm reassured or not.

That is, you take my ranch out here. According to the agricultural experts, it's one of the worst run-down places in this area, fences falling over, barn doors sagging, front steps rotted out, loose board on the back porch, loose bricks in the chimney, etc., but according to my work plan, it's right on schedule.

The reason I haven't fixed the front steps is because I've scheduled that work for year after next. The barn door hinges are coming up in 1959, the front gate has sagged through two world wars and no tax assessor has failed to get through it yet.

Now I'm not saying the U. S. missile program is in the same shape my ranch is, I don't know, but I do know it's possible to be right on schedule and still be ten years behind your neighbor.

I also hope the U. S. plans to do something about it quicker than I do about this ranch.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

YOUR MINISTER SAYS

By Rev. Allan Guthrie

"The sparrow hath found a house, and the swallow a nest for herself, where she may lay her young, even thine altar, O Lord of hosts, my King and my God." (Psalm 84:3)

A strange thing happened one day in a little mountain church. A quail, being pursued by a hawk, flew in an open window and took refuge behind the organ pipes.

How Adequate Are Our Facilities For Rehabilitating Juvenile Delinquents?

By Judge Sarah T. Hughes

(Ed. Note: This is one of a series of articles on the state's growing problem of juvenile delinquency by one of Texas' foremost authorities on the subject, District Judge Sarah T. Hughes of Dallas, who has handled more than 25,000 juvenile and family relations cases, along with an even greater number of other civil cases in 22 years on the bench. "Family law is probably the most important phase of the law," says this internationally known jurist, whose work has been honored throughout the United States and in Europe as well, and whose name was put in nomination for vice president of the United States in 1952. A discussion of a different aspect of the problem will appear from time to time.)

To make juvenile delinquents into worthwhile citizens as well as to protect society should be the aim of present-day Juvenile Departments.

Society has come to realize that there must be a positive program of rehabilitation rather than a negative one of revenge if we are to carry out our responsibility to boys and girls.

Such a program requires the active cooperation of the judge, juvenile officers, social agencies, and the community as well.

The judge, in order to carry out his part of the program, must know as much about the child as possible. Before the trial, a thorough investigation is made by a juvenile officer of his background at home, in school, and in the community. What other offenses has he committed? Is he a discipline problem in school? Does he play hooky? Has he been giving his parents trouble—staying out late, going with wrong boys?

If he seems to be a particularly troubled boy he may be sent to the Child Guidance Clinic so that the recommendation of the doctor there can be obtained on the cause of his delinquency and the best method of handling him.

All this information is contained in the juvenile officer's report to the judge, so that before the trial the judge may be familiar with the youngster appearing before him.

The trial itself is very informal—not like that of an adult. It may be held in the judge's office or in a small courtroom.

Present are the boy, his parents, the juvenile officer, and perhaps some person specially interested in the boy—his minister, a teacher, or some other relative. There is usually no prosecuting attorney and no defense lawyer, for most lawyers know that the object of the judge is not to give the most severe punishment but to search out the causes of delinquency and to do what seems best to remove those causes.

The judge usually does the questioning and after hearing all parties, trying at the same time to win the confidence of the boy and his parents, too, he is ready to render judgment. For best results, it is necessary for all parties to really believe in the judge and, whatever the sentence, to feel that it is for the best interest of the boy.

The sentence may be probation or an institution. Probation is preferable, wherever possible. Some folks say "Delinquent juveniles too frequently go free. Probation is no punishment." But probation is punishment. The boy must report periodically to a probation officer and give a strict account of his activities. Rules are laid down for him and his parents as well. These may include the hours for him to come in at night, restrictions on the use of the family car and on the boys he goes with, regular attendance at school and church. All these are limitations on his activities, and he knows that if he violates his probation he may be back in court.

Probation also includes a positive program to try to help the boy and his parents plan constructive activities. He may even continue treatment at the Child Guidance Clinic.

But probation in the home isn't always possible. The home may be inadequate for his rehabilitation. In that case he may be placed with a relative, in a school or an institution run by a private organization or by the county.

In other cases, the boy may have gone so far along the road to delinquency that the state reform school is the only answer. Fortunately, the state institutions are no longer merely places of confinement. There, too, a positive program is carried on to prepare the boy or girl to return to society with improved values of life and better able to adjust to society.

My next article will discuss our facilities here in Texas for the work of rehabilitation.

LOCAL NEWS BRIEFS

Mrs. A. W. Awalt returned home Friday after spending the week in San Angelo visiting Mr. and Mrs. Sid Awalt, Randy and Cheryl.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Awalt will spend the Thanksgiving holidays visiting friends and relatives in Brady, Evant, and Lampasas.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Merck and daughters of Fort Worth spent last weekend in Sonora the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bailey Renfro and Mrs. Laura Odum.

First deer of the season was brought in by Cleve T. Jones III, 13-year-old son of Mrs. Cleve Jones, Jr. Cleve T. bagged the 105-pound ten-point buck on his mother's Six-Mile Ranch while hunting with S. M. Loeffler. Cleve T. has killed several other deer in his hunting career and uses a scope-less 30-30.

Highest point count so far this year is held by Mrs. Lee Fawcett who killed a 14-point, 126-pound buck Monday afternoon. John Ward's 131-pound buck is heaviest to date.

Nine turkeys have been stored so far and Scott says they are fat and nice. No javelinas have been brought in to date.

noon, December 2 and their reports will be made Tuesday and Wednesday.

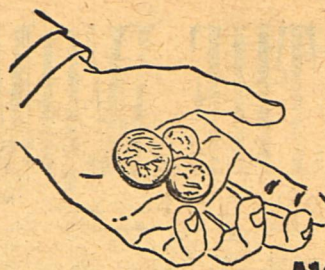

"I anticipate a larger than usual attendance because of a better than usual feeling among our membership due to greatly improved range conditions which overshadows a slow wool and mohair market," Kincaid said.

The annual membership banquet and dance will be held Tuesday night. San Antonio interests will be host at a social hour and dinner Monday night.

President Kincaid said all sheep and goat men are invited and urged to attend this annual convention, to take part in the discussions and enjoy meeting friends during the entertainment hours.
