Scout Movie Nets More Than $200

Sonora Boy Scouts are richer by more than $200 as the result of last week's showing of the movie "Broken Lance" at the Bronco and La Vista Theaters. Scouts sold tickets to the movie in advance and gate receipts and concession receipts were added to arrive at the final total.

Maxie Delrie was top salesman and will have half his Camporee expenses to Camp Sol Mayer paid as his prize. The patrol with the greatest amount of ticket sales will win a special camp out.

Pallbearers included three grandsons, Jim Martin of Eunice, New Mexico, Russell Benson of San Saba and Dick Martin of Orange; four nephews, Jessie Sheen of San Angelo, Louis Sheen of Midland, Bob and Jim Clancy of Los Angeles; and a number of grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

State Commissioner of Agriculture, State Board of Water Engineers, Texas A. & M. College, and Texas State Soil Conservation Board.

The work plan developed by Soil Conservation Service technicians will be explained, and agency representatives will be invited to comment.

On the afternoon of April 9 local sponsors will study the project further, and if agreeable, will sign the project agreement. The document will then be printed in final form and sent to Washington for approval.

The current increase in Public construction is expected to give the Sonora project rapid approval, and greatly accelerate the rate of construction. Funds have already been tentatively earmarked to build 5 structures during the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1958, provided Congressional approval is given the project and easements can be obtained from landowners and others involved.

Easements are being prepared for signature by landowners and oil and gas companies involved. Thirty-seven separate easements will be required, some of which will require several signatures. It is hoped that all easements can be completed by May 15.

Sonora, Eldorado Lions Clubs Observe 30th Anniversaries Here Monday

Sonora and Eldorado Lions celebrated jointly their 30th anniversaries here Monday night at the school cafeteria. The clubs were organized in 1928 with the San Angelo Down Town Lions Club as sponsoring organization.

Neil Methenia of Del Rio, District Governor of the Lions, was principle speaker. He talked on reasons for being proud of being a Lion and cited examples of the club's projects. He paid special tribute to eleven Sonora Lions and three Eldorado Lions who have been active in their organizations since their chartering.

Joe Foy, president of the sponsoring organization, acted as master of ceremonies and presented 30 year chevrons to Dan Cauthorn, George H. Neill, Alfred Schwiening, Alvis Johnson, Bryan Hunt, John Eaton, W. R. Cusenbary and B. H. Cusenbary, all of Sonora, and Ernest Hill of Eldorado. Two charter members of the Eldorado club were unable to attend as were three Sonorans: A. C. Elliott, L. W. Elliott, and John D. Lowrey.

Clayton Hamilton, president of the local Lions, read the following telegram which he received from the organization's international president:

"Greetings to the Lions of Sonora, Texas. You are celebrating an unusual event in the life of the Sonora, Texas, Lions Club, the 30th anniversary of your charter night. For a generation your club has made its presence felt in every conceivable worthwhile manner in Sonora and its vicinity. On behalf of all the officers and directors of Lions International I proudly salute you for your achievements over the years. (Signed) Edward G. Barry, President, Lions International."

Special guests from out of town were Senator Dorsey Hardeman and Mrs. Hardeman, Dr. and Mrs. Louis Kline, all of San Angelo; Buzzie Stokes of Uvalde, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Puckett of Fort Stockton, and Charley Trigg of Eldorado.

Frank Joe Potmesil presented a program of piano selection during the dinner hour and the Davis Sisters, Yvonne, Mary, Maxine, Irene and Beth, sang two songs.

Dinner was served by Miss Lois Perry and her homemaking students.

Devil's River Philosopher Willing To Have Taxes Cut Strictly In Interest Of Ending Recession

Editor's note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his bitter-weed ranch on Devil's River is off on the subject of economics this week, with what success you'll have to decide for yourself.

Dear editor:

For the past few weeks I've been reading everything I could get my hands on about the cause and cure of recessions, and so far all I've been able to figure out is that a recession is like a virus—medical science isn't sure what causes it or what cures it, but it has no trouble discovering when you've got one.

However, there's been an argument going on over one of the proposed cures of the recession that interests me.

According to one expert, the way to cure the recession is to cut income taxes 20 percent starting next week. This way, he says, everybody who gets paid by the week and has his income tax withheld from each pay check, which is the installment method of paying taxes, would have a little more money to spend, and any close student of human nature knows he'll spend it, which will increase the demand for goods, stir the factories up, and get things rolling again.

Another expert though argues that if you cut income taxes 20 percent now, just intending to keep em cut for the duration of the recession, you'll hit a stump when you try to restore em later on when things are booming again. He says it'd be dangerous to tamper with the tax rate.

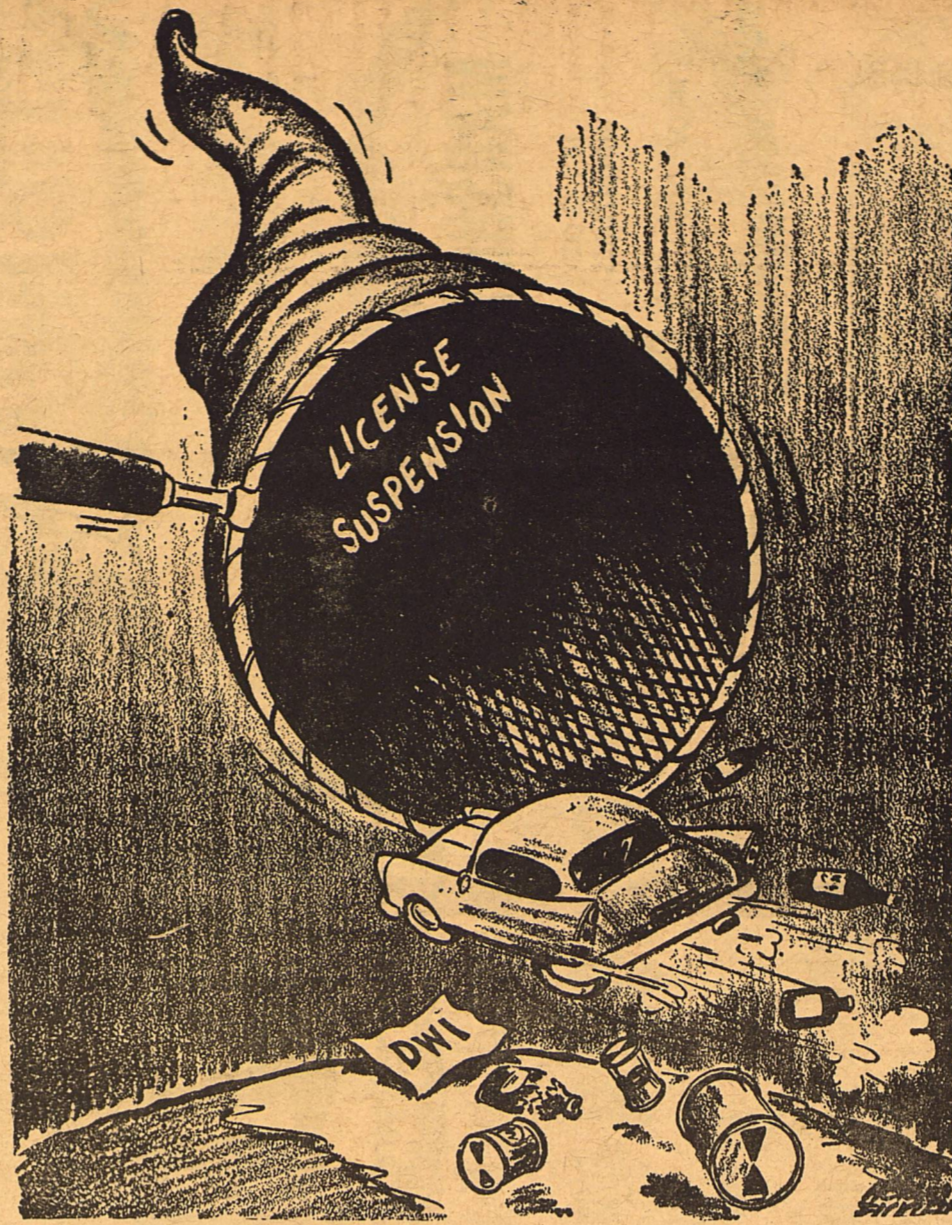

Frankly, I can't follow this line of reasoning, and think it demonstrates a gross lack of confidence in the government. I have never seen a government, from the local level to the state to Washington, that couldn't manage to raise taxes when it really put its mind to the job. People have been running for office on a platform of more economy and getting elected since elections were invented, and the cost of government has been going up steadily from the same date.

Understand, I'm not saying government ought to cost less, or more, I'm just saying that anybody who thinks any government can't figure out how to restore a tax, is just not familiar with modern governmental leaders, regardless of which party he runs under.

If cutting taxes for a few months will end whatever recession we've got, I say go ahead and try it and don't be worrying about Congress' ability to restore it later on. I've got confidence in Congress. I figure it'll restore my tax the minute it figures I can pay it, and frequently it jumps the gun and does it before I'm ready.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Auto Inspections Lagging As Deadline Nears

Roughly, one out of five Texas autos have not been inspected as required by State law and there remain but 11 more working days prior to the inspection deadline on April 15.

Some 700,000 motor vehicles must still pass through the inspection lines prior to that date if their owners are to avoid being handed tickets for violation of the Motor Vehicle Inspection Law. Enforcement will begin April 16.

It is still possible for the State's 4,500 licensed inspection stations to handle the last minute rush provided motorists take their cars immediately in order that there will be no delayed period between the handling of one vehicle and the next, according to Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., Director of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

He pointed out that every minute of the inspection stations' time will be at a premium between now and midnight April 15, and that waiting lines will be in store for those who wait as the deadline draws nearer.

Colorado Lakes Are Listed In Magazine Piece

As a giant water playground for Texas, the Colorado River and its dozen lakes furnishes some of the best fishing in the State. In "Sprawling Colorado" to appear in the April issue of Texas Game and Fish, L. A. Wilke presents the second of a series of articles describing the recreational facilities available on the lakes and rivers of Texas.

Flood threat to more than 600 miles of territory from the New Mexico border of Texas to the Gulf of Mexico, the Colorado required a century of engineering to be transformed into a stable supply of industrial power. River authorities built dam after dam to stem the river's menace and channel its tremendous force.

As recently as 1957, the dams prevented flood loss of millions of dollars in property as well as untold loss of life. Although their primary purpose was flood control, the dams pay for themselves and their operation by generating hydro-electric power, says the author.

Almost unlimited recreation is offered by major lakes on the Colorado River. Among them are Moss Lake in Howard County; Lakes San Angelo and Nasworthy in Tom Green County; Brownwood in Brown County; Colorado City in Mitchell County; J. B. Thomas in Scurry and Borden Counties; Oak Creek Reservoir in Coke County; Hord's Creek in Colman County; and the Central Texas lake chain of Buchanan, Inks, Granite Shoals, Marble Falls, and Austin's Travis.

City, county and state parks surround these various lakes, the author continues. Lodges, cabins, trailers, and boats are rented by independent operators on many of the lakes. A detailed listing of these facilities closes the article.

new states would weaken the southern position in the House and Senate, already pushed around and outnumbered on many vital issues. A Texan wrote me recently and expressed it this way:

"... Off shore members would hold the balance of power in close votes. It would also mean more 'Anti-South' votes in Congress. Why bring in members who have little in common with us in culture, tradition or heritage... Let us keep the Nation as it is."

Statehood For Alaska, Hawaii? Not In 1958

By Congressman O. C. Fisher

Chances for statehood for Hawaii and Alaska this year appear, on the surface, to be good, but this appearance may prove to be a delusion. With a loss of public support (Gallup says 64 percent) and statehood bills reported favorably in both the House and Senate, and with the endorsement of both major political parties, it looks like a cinch. Yet if I were guessing I would predict no statehood in 1958.

In the first place, statehood bills must clear the House Rules Committee before they can be programmed for debate. It happens that a majority of the members on the Rules Committee have in the past voted against statehood. Moreover, while giving lip service to the admissions, there seems to be a lack of enthusiasm on the part of the White House and congressional leaders. All added together this may mean Old Glory will remain like it is for at least another year.

Strongest opposition to statehood centers in the South, where fear is expressed that the two

By Vern Sanford

It has long been said that the moon is made of green cheese. Now scientists everywhere seem to be determined to find out if it's so.

Army, navy, air corps and civilian experts apparently are scrapping among themselves to see who gets there first.

Anyway, whether it is the Sputnik or the USNik, the costs so far have gone higher than the devices.

It's true that all of us want to know what's in outer space. We're not complaining about the costs, for all of us are interested in the rest of the universe.

Also there are a good many of us who want to know more about what's going on "down below." Fishermen in particular are interested in the creatures of the deep.

So, maybe you'd like to hear about a little experiment that is going on along the Texas coast. There, aquatic biologic scientists are trying to find ways to create an artificial snapper reef.

They have an adequate budget. Not as big as the nuclear scientists, but adequate. The Game and Fish Commission has earmarked some $7,000 for the venture. This money will buy a couple hundred old automobile bodies. These bodies will be linked together with a piece of oil field cable and dropped into the Gulf of Mexico at the 10 fathom curve near the whistling buoy off Port Aransas.

Tentative coast guard approval already has been given. The old autos must be planted where they will be a little too deep to affect navigation, and away from the range of shrimpers' nets.

This will be one of the most interesting experiments ever undertaken in Texas to increase offshore fishing for red snapper, and other saltwater fighters. If it works, other artificial reefs will be created from time to time to improve fishing conditions along the Texas coast.

This little experiment may make the world a better place in which to live—rather than one to get out of.

At the present time snapper fishing is done mostly from party boats at ranges from 15 to 100 miles out in the Gulf of Mexico. There has been a little snapper fishing around the oil derricks in the offshore waters. These derricks are indicative that snapper can be caught around the artificial reefs.

It is hoped that the old automobile bodies will work like a hideaway for red snapper, ling, pompano, barracuda and other smaller fish. That of course means that the big ones will be lurking nearby. Result: good fishing for everyone.

Alabama has tried the idea with some success. If it works in Texas our coastal fishing will be much better, because these

What Is Love For A Child And What Is Its Place In Fighting Juvenile Delinquency?

By Judge Sarah T. Hughes
Real love in the life of a child, so necessary in combating juvenile delinquency, is not trying to "possess" him, not just giving him material things. It is giving him a sense of his own significance in his home and among his friends.

Real love does not over-indulge him, give him too much in the way of material possessions or passing pleasures, excitements, stimulations. Instead it provides understanding and emotional security as he runs up against the hard knocks life hands us all from time to time.

A little girl four years old was in my court a number of years ago, the subject of a custody suit. At the end of the day I took her in my office and told her she would stay with her mother that week-end.

She looked up at me and said, "Which mother, my old mother or my new one?" You see, Patsy had two mothers and two fathers. She had been shifted from one to the other, been involved in several custody cases and consequently had no sense of security, of belonging, such a necessary part of love in the life of a child.

On the other hand, a young soldier taken prisoner in Germany kept his sanity by remembering his room at home, mentally counting the things in each drawer of his chest.

He knew the accustomed place of each and felt a security in the certainty that they would be there when he returned home.

And of equal importance is the need for love to include guidance for future living as an adult. The child should learn at an early age that there are rules to be obeyed and limits beyond which he cannot go.

A little girl I saw in a grocery store was amusing herself by taking things off the lower shelves. Her mother threatened her with a spanking, bed, and several things, but the child paid not the slightest attention.

Evidently she was sure her mother did not mean what she was saying. She had not yet learned of any limits beyond which she could not go.

Children really want to be made to observe rules. They may act like they don't and undoubtedly they will see how far they can go, but in a recent youth forum discussion it was the consensus of opinion that boys and girls want their parents to set up rules for them to follow, to provide them with guideposts.

To put it another way, we should keep actively helping the child to learn to swim, or standing by to give help if he flounders, until it is plain that he can now swim as well or better than we can. We should never do what some of us do, in our role as parents or simply as members of the community: We should never throw a child into deep water before he has learned.

Modern living conditions, with cars, taverns, easy money, and a multitude of bad examples to confuse the child on every hand, are indeed "deep water;" it takes real swimming to keep from going under. What many people have misunderstood as "progressive education"—allowing the child to do as he pleases in order to "express himself", so as not to "warp his personality", is throwing him into deep water before he can swim.

He may fight against guidance, but subconsciously he counts on it to stop him whenever he is not strong enough.

While guiding young people is principally the job of parents, those who have no children likewise have a responsibility. We all come in contact with children in situations which put us in varying degrees of responsibility toward young people not our own. Too often we fail to speak the kindly but firm word that will stop a youngster in a group under us as teacher, Scout leader, etc., or even a neighbor child. Too often we fail to provide a good example.

And too often we simply don't take the time to listen to a child's talk. The feeling of being able to tell a sympathetic grown person what he is thinking and doing is important in helping to give a child a sense of significance. Opportunities to help by being a "listening post" come most often to a parent, of course, but often also to the really receptive non-parent.

Are We Counting on the Other Fellow to Take Care of Our Future...

when he may not be working at the job

This is a good way to arrange for an unsatisfactory future . . . physical or economic.

For instance . . . some of us depend on our good neighbors to spend THEIR money in the home community to keep it going so we can make a living in it . . . while we do OUR buying somewhere else.

But . . . sort of like when a couple of fellows in a car each thinks the other one is driving . . . the habit of "Letting George Do It" can darken the future if George happens to be letting YOU do it.

And, anyhow, even if we DO have lots of good neighbors trading at home to support US, and our schools and churches and other community activities . . . THINK how much BETTER all of these would be supported if ALL OF US were buying everything we could at home.

Trading with home merchants is just good practical business sense anyhow . . . because we automatically get more for our money from them than out-of-town stores can give us . . . the EXTRA PREMIUM of community prosperity that only home business establishments can throw in for free with the goods we buy.

YEARS PAST

Mod Cowser, one of our old pards, was in from his farm on the Llano Thursday trading.

Mat Karnes' wool was sold by Chas. Schreiner of Kerrville at ten cents a pound.

A. J. Sykes, the well known ranchman from Owensville, was in Sonora Tuesday on his way to Juno and Comstock. He was accompanied by Wes Haygood.

Mrs. Dave Adams, who has been visiting some of her children in Sonora for some time, left for her home on the Llano Sunday accompanied by her son, Matt, who has been sick for some time.

Miss Annie Rode was married at Roosevelt, Texas, on Sunday, February 27th to Mr. Ed Birk and left on Monday for Gonzales, the home of the groom. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Rode, who ranch in the Fort Terrett country.

Mrs. O. T. Word and daughter, Miss Minnie, have returned from an enjoyable visit to Marlin and Fort Worth.

G. P. Hill, Sr., of Leakey, was in Sonora Monday with his son Giles, whom he is visiting on the latter's ranch west of Sonora.

It is rumored that Mr. W. F. Buchanan of Robert Lee will soon open up a bank at Sonora, Sutton County, Texas. We always knew that "Buck" was a genuine hustler but supposed he had his hands full in the free state of Coke. Success to you old boy, and may the hairs of your head never grow gray from business cares.

A petition will be circulated to offset the effort to establish a new county to be called Reagan, by which Concho will lose some good citizens and valuable territory. Our protest should be loud and strong. It is a scheme to further private ends of certain individuals. Everybody should sign the petition. -Concho Herald.

E. C. Saunders will commence teaching a class in Spanish in about two weeks. A knowledge of the Spanish language will be a benefit to every young man in this Western country. If possible take the course.

Henry and Berry Baker were in from the ranch Thursday getting ready for the fourth.

Junction's Annual Easter Pageant
Set For April 5

Junction, Texas. Two hours before mid-night Saturday, April 5, on the eve of Easter Sunday, three score laymen in costume—all Kimble County folks—will reenact the story of Jesus Christ's last days on earth in a picturesque natural amphitheatre one mile southeast of Junction.

This will be the eighth annual presentation of Junction's Easter Pageant. In 1951 a few in-

Continued From Front Page who passed the $1 million sales mark in 1957. Keynote of the whole evening as repeated by Wallace and other speakers was "Business IS Good".

"This country has outgrown its economic dependence on the steel industry and Detroit," Wallace said. "We are a more diversified nation and the virtue of this is shown in improved sales of autos and major appliances during the past three weeks. Let's not talk ourselves into a depression. Our national work force today stands at 62,000,000—one of the largest in American history. We expect a sales increase of 25 percent over last year."

The biggest mass fly-away in aviation history got underway the next morning at eight o'clock. Approximately 231 airplanes valued at more than $3,450,000 left Cessna Field at intervals of less than two minutes. The world's largest cash register recorded a running total as each plane took off from Cessna Field.

After a most enlightening tour of Cessna's Pawnee Plant, which presently is producing 15 single engine and three and a half twin-engine civilian planes daily from several miles of assembly lines, we boarded Murphy's new 175 and were airborne as part of the fly-away at 11:55 Wednesday morning.

It was quite an experience for a country editor and one we'll remember for a long time.

spired men of Junction Men's Bible Class, a non-sectarian organization, staged the first production upon a crude stage erected at the base of the cliffs below the everburning cross on Lovers Leap Mountain. Year by year the production has been enlarged and improved. The presentation is in pantomime, supported by music and the voices of readers from broadcast booths below. A dozen stages have been arranged among the rugged boulders and projecting rocks of the hill-side. Change of scenes is effected by the shifting of flood and spot lights. Parking area for 2,000 cars is provided below for the spectators, who may view from their cars.

The cast includes over 100 men, women and children from many walks of life: business men and women, ranchers, lawyers, mechanics, clerks, engineers, radio announcers, home-makers, and others.

The program begins at ten o'clock and is so timed that the scene of the Ascension takes place shortly after midnight on Easter morn.

Airport News

By Hollis E. Moore

Most people think of good flying weather as a cloudless day and Old Sol beaming down, but the smoothest flying you'll do will be on a cloudy overcast day. The point is—come to ground school and you will be in the know.

This week and next we will still be studying cross-country in our Ground School. Incidentally, our meeting time will now be 8:00 p.m. at the Parish House.

Our airport this week seemed like Grand Central Station with all the coming and going. Most of it was the trucks hauling caliche to resurface the runway before paving. Of course this slowed our flying activity somewhat, much to Jan Vander Stucken's consternation. She was just ready for that first solo ride when they started cluttering up the runway with trucks. Well, Jan, maybe you'll have the honor of being first to solo off the new runway.

Well, last week the spring fever really showed up and you saw the evidence by our not showing up; this column that is. After a heart-to-pocketbook chat with the editor, he decided there would be a column each and every week. Of course, with such a wise decision we have to agree.

Our Flying Physician, Dr. C. F. Browne, recently flew an extended cross-country to Fayetteville, Arkansas and back. Having spent my younger years there, I was especially glad to go along, as instructor of course. Incidentally from some of the airports we saw on our trip, we were really proud of our airport here. The weather wasn't too good in some spots, but with the expert navigation of Dr. Browne we didn't have any trouble.

Another good navigator we flew with recently was "Buddy" Mayer. We made a trip to Junction then to San Angelo and returned.

Some recent visitors to Sonora were Ray C. Moore flying a Twin Beech on company business; Carolyn McGrew, student pilot from San Angelo in an Aeronica; Clyde Long on his way from Guatemala City, Guatemala, to Denver stopped by in a Piper Super Cub; Stanley Frank from San Angelo and Lloyd Treat from Roswell, New Mexico, visited in a Cessna; Frank Weeks flew a Piper J-3 up from San Antonio Paul L. Moore, representing Treanor Equipment Co., flew a Beech Bonanza; Jimmy Davidson and Gene McParnell with Pico Drill ing Co. flew a Piper Tri-Pacer;

George Jackson of San Angelo stopped by for gas in his Cessna; Bill Carson of Ozona flew in with a Tri-Pacer.

Ralph Copeland, home for the holidays, probably because first pilot to land at Sonora after dark.

Ye Olde Instructor reminds you to heed these words: "When in doubt—DON'T"
