Funeral services for Sam R. Hull, 80, longtime resident of Sonora and owner of Sonora Motor Company, were held at the First Methodist Church here Monday afternoon, January 19, with the Rev. Doyle W. Morton officiating assisted by the Rev. W. L. Brown. Mr. Hull died Sunday morning at Hudspeth Memorial Hospital after an extended illness.

Born August 18, 1878 in Shellsburg, Pennsylvania, Mr. Hull worked in a steel mill in Johnstown, Pa., for four years and later worked on railroads in Missouri and Oklahoma. In 1907 he came to Texas where he got an oil drilling job which brought him to Sutton County.

Mr. Hull and Joe North became partners in a Ford dealership in 1914. The business was moved to its present location in 1917 and when the business was incorporated in 1925 as Sonora Motors, Mr. Hull became president. He had been a Ford and Goodyear dealer for 44 years and was a partner in a Magnolia service station besides having extensive real estate holdings.

An early automobile enthusiast, Mr. Hull made a return trip to Pennsylvania in his 1910 Brush automobile in days when cross-country travel by car was undertaken by only a few. In 1954 Mr. Hull donated his Brush to the Fort Concho Museum.

He was a member of the City Council here for ten years and sponsored the annual free dances which made Sonora Motors known throughout West Texas. Burial was in Sonora Cemetery under the direction of Rattiff-Kerbow funeral Home. Pallbearers were: Bryan Hunt, J. M. Vander Stucken, John Fields, W. A. Carroll, Libb Wallace, Leonard Gibbs, Dan Cauthorn and W. H. Hale.

Survivors include his wife, the former Mina Wright; one brother, Fred Hull of Sonora; and one sister, Mrs. James Egolf of Osterburg, Pa.

37,000 Miles On 25c Per Day Is Story Of Armin's U.S. Bike Tour

From Switzerland to Cape Horn to Fairbanks, Alaska by bicycle—that's the goal of young Armin Honegger, a 21 year-old Swiss and one he's traveled 37,000 miles to reach. Young Honegger and his European bike, it's transmission worn from 12,000 miles of pedaling, arrived in Sonora last Tuesday in search of a bicycle repair shop.

Jessie Villarreal, who has fixed many a bike in his years at Home Hardware, soon discovered the transmission could not be repaired and the search was on for a transmission to fit a European bicycle. After a phone call to a supplier in San Angelo and another to Gay Copeland, who was more than willing to bring the needed part by plane, Armin was assured he'd soon be on his way and he told us the story of his travels:

"On November 11, 1957, I left

Lions Sponsor "Mystorama" To Be Presented Saturday

The people of Sonora will be baffled and bewildered when the amazing Boxley and Marie arrive in town with their Caravan of Mysteries on Saturday, January 24, as the featured attraction of a colorful and hilarious stage revue to be presented at the school auditorium. This entertainment is presented by the Sonora Lions Club. The proceeds will be used for worthwhile community projects and aid to the visually handicapped.

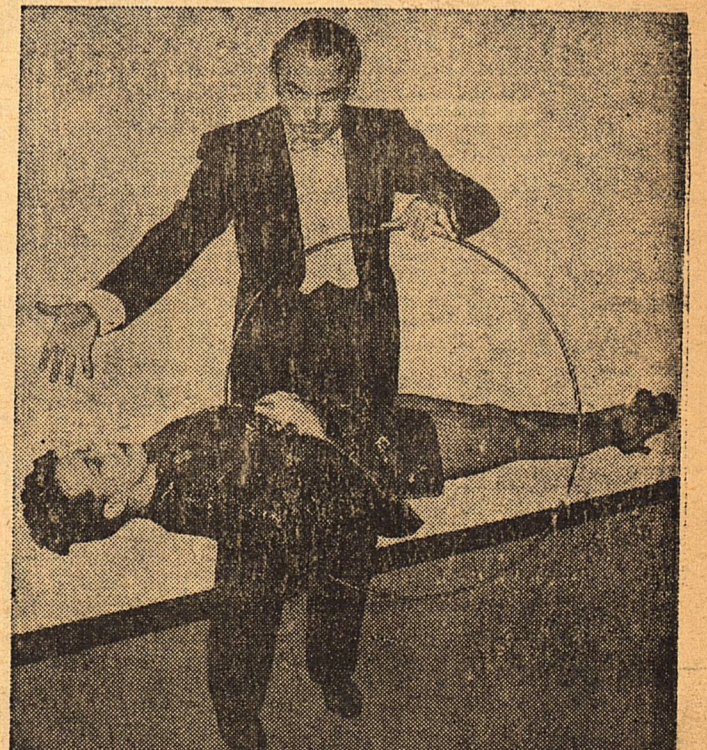

The stars of "Mystorama" are Boxley and Marie, known as the Miracle Masters and are particularly noted for displaying their numerous mysteries and illusions at a fast and snappy pace.

The Miracle Masters have mastered their miracles in theatres, hotels and night clubs in America and Alaska. They have also completed tours of major fairs throughout the country. They have also appeared on the Ed Sullivan Show and Art Baker's "You Asked For It", on television.

Climax of the show is Cas Boxley's "Floating Princess", wherein he places Marie in an apparent state of hypnosis and then floats her in mid-air.

Tickets may be obtained from any member of the Lions Club.

"The Floating Princess," climax of a two-hour show of illusions and magic, is pictured here. Boxley suspends the apparently hypnotized Marie and passes a hoop over her body. This and other amazing acts will be performed Saturday night at "Mystorama".

Old Glory Getting "Readjustment", Says O. C. Fisher

By Congressman O. C. Fisher
Old Glory is going through a bit of "agonizing readjustment" right now. The admission of Alaska called for a 49th star, and President Eisenhower recently announced the design. But the U. S. Code provides the addition of one star to the flag for each new state "shall take effect on the fourth day of July then next succeeding admission." Therefore, by the dawn's early light of next July 4th the Nation officially will have a new flag flying—the 26th in U.S. history.

Flag makers, who have been turning out about seven million flags annually are in a dither about what to do—with it appearing likely that come July 4th still another star will be added with the admission of Hawaii, which would make a 49-star flag out of date.

The last change to the familiar Star Spangled Banner now in use was made in 1912 after the admission of New Mexico and Arizona as the 47th and 48th states, respectively.

It would be perfectly appropriate to start flying the new flag right now, but it is not really official until July. Indeed it is legal to fly any of our past flags—including the one used by the 13 original states. Once legal a flag is always legal.

Since George Washington dropped in on needlewoman Betsy Ross in Philadelphia in 1776 with a sketch of the Nation's first flag, the symbolism has remained the same though the design has had some helter-skelter changes in the intervening 183 years.

Betsy Ross stitched hers in a neat circle, each star with five points. Later, as the Nation grew and added states, the stars went every which way, sometimes placed in rows, sometimes in the outline of a great star, or an enlarged circle with a large star in the center.

Washington recorded the meaning of the flag in these words:

"We take the stars from heaven, the red from our mother country, separating it by white stripes, thus showing that we have separated from her, and the white stripes shall go down to posterity representing liberty."

YOUR MINISTER SAYS

By Rev. Allan Guthrie
A story is told by a great Scottish minister whose father was a stonecutter in Scotland. In the winter, when the nights were long, the father would get up long before daybreak, eat his breakfast, and walk two miles to the stone quarry where he worked. The young children were supposed to be asleep, but the minister said he would often awake when his father left home, and he observed that each time he watched him, the father would pause for a moment as he held the door ajar slightly, and would say in a low voice, "I go out today in the name of the Lord." Then he would go out into the dark to cut stone all day.
If we go out to work in the name of the Lord, we will find that any vocation, can provide some opportunity to bear someone else's burden, to bear Christian witness.

YEARS PAST

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Wallace returned Thursday from a week's visit to Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Bryson, at Uvalde. During their visit, they made visits to San Antonio and Crystal City.

Mr. and Mrs. Orion Brown and little daughter, Kathryn, spent Sunday afternoon visiting the Ranch Experiment Station with Dr. and Mrs. O. G. Babcock and their little daughter, Edith Mae.

The Devil's River Philosopher This Week Reviews The State Of The Union In His Own Language

Editor's note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his bitter-weed ranch on Devil's River reviews the state of the union this week, in his own language.
Dear editor:

I was figuring up my income and expenses for 1958 the other night and trying to remember where my money went when I decided to rest my mind and picked up a newspaper a man had handed me in town earlier in the day to keep the rain off while I crossed a street—it was a copy of the San Angelo Standard-Times and I don't care what some people say about it, it shed the rain pretty good—and got to reading a review of President Eisenhower's State of the Union message.

I have come to the conclusion that the President's speech writers ought to bring their language up to date.

For example, trying to bring home to the people the high cost of defending America, the President said "new bombers now cost their weight in gold."

This is what I'm talking about. It would have brought the message home a lot stronger if he'd said "new bombers now cost their weight in groceries."

When he said fighter planes "now cost 50 times more than they did 15 years ago," he would have brought us face to face with reality more if he'd said "fighter planes have gone up even higher than new automobiles."

Or if he'd said "it costs more to train a jet pilot than it does to send a kid to college."

I have a great deal of sympathy though for the President. He and I are working on similar problems.

For example, while new pickups don't cost their weight in gold yet, I think they're working on it.

I don't know what it costs to repair a 27-million-dollar bomber, but what it costs to overhaul a 10-year-old sprayer is inching up in the same direction.

I don't know what a guided missile costs, but I know what a box of shotgun shells costs, and it's something to make Congress and me both sit up and do some thinking.

I don't think groceries cost their weight in gold yet, but it may not be long before they'll be saying gold costs its weight in groceries.

I don't know what it costs to keep our defense program really healthy, but I know what it costs to restore a man to health, especially if he has to go to the hospital for any length of time. It's enough to put him back in the hospital.

Everything just costs a lot more these days, everything, that is, except some of the things I produce out here, and if it was left to me, they'd be higher too.
Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Edwards Plateau Soil Conservation District News

By E. B. Keng
Soil Conservation Service

Dry weather continues accent the new year, with the last significant moisture falling in October, 1958. November brought only two light showers, totaling .77 inch, .19 inch was recorded in December, and only a trace of moisture has been recorded thus far in January.

Rainfall for the three month period is considerably below the long time average of approximately 1 inch per month for November through March. The low average winter rainfall during the five month period is responsible for the frequent failure of small grain, and the lack of production of winter weeds and grasses.

Ranchmen frequently express a desire to obtain seed of a perennial grass that will produce green feed during the winter months. The principal winter growing grass native to this area in Texas wintergrass, often called speargrass. This choice grass has an excellent root system, is semi-dormant during the summer, but with fall rains is quickly ready to produce an abundance of green feed for winter-analyzing as high as 17 per cent protein.

Good soil moisture was available in October, 1958, and Texas Wintergrass is presently producing a large amount of choice feed despite current dry weather. It is adapted to most of the range-land in the Edwards Plateau SCD. This palatable grass is often killed or weakened by long continuous grazing, and is now found most abundantly in the semi-shade of thickets.

Texas wintergrass appears to be a grass endowed by Nature to exist under frequent drought conditions. It is one of very few grasses that can produce viable grass seed in the plant roots, as well as the usual type of seed heads. When extended drought or overgrazing caused the plant to die, the seed produced in the roots are already planted and ready to grow with the return of favorable conditions.

Numerous winter growing annual weeds are common to the Edwards Plateau SCD. The more important good species include tallow weed, huisache daisy, filarees, nama, bladderpod and mustards. During the very infrequent warm, wet winters these plants produce an abundance of good feed. Relatively little vegetation is produced during the normal cold, dry winters.

Mankin Stokes spent the week as a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Miers Savell at their ranch home.

TAX FACTS #2 Don't Pay Tax On Non-Taxable Items

(This is one of a series of articles on federal income tax filing. The articles are based on information provided by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants and the Texas Society of Certified Public Accountants, in cooperation with the Internal Revenue Service.)

YOU may think that listing your income is the easiest part of preparing a tax return. Actually, according to the Internal Revenue Service, this is where taxpayers make the greatest number of errors.

Not all of the money that may have come to you during 1958 needs to be reported on your tax form. For example, don't report:

- (1) "Dividends" received on an insurance policy. They are considered merely a refund of part of the premium you paid.
- (2) Social Security benefits, Railroad Retirement Act benefits, or payments received under Workmen's Compensation laws.
- (3) Property or cash gifts received from other people, although the giver may have to pay a gift tax. Tips and other compensation for services must be reported, however.
- (4) Inheritances and bequests. The estate may be taxed, but not the recipient.

If you were injured and received damages, this is not considered taxable income and it makes no difference whether your damages were awarded by a court or settled out of court. When listing income you can also forget about most government benefits to veterans and their families. Dividends paid on veteran's Government insurance is not considered taxable income, but non-disability retirement pay and the interest on terminal leave bonds must be included.

Sick Pay Benefits
If you were absent from work due to injury or sickness and received payments from your employer or his insurance company, these payments are non-taxable within these two limitations:

First, the maximum amount is $100 per week, plus any amounts which came from your own contribution to the plan.

Second, unless the absence was for sickness during which you were hospitalized for one day or for a personal injury, the payments are not tax free until after the first 7 calendar days of absence.

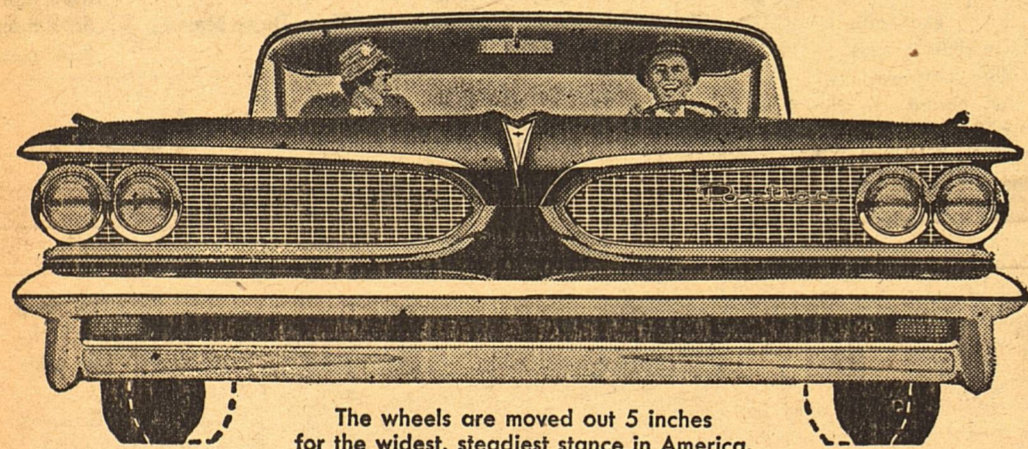

If these payments are included in the wages shown on your withholding slips, you should subtract the proper amount from your income in the place provided on the first page of the tax return (Form 1040). Attach an explanation as described in the official instruction book. You are entitled to exclude this amount even if you do not itemize deductions.

Rules on Prizes

There is an interesting rule on prizes. Generally all prizes and awards are taxable. However, prizes awarded for scientific, literary or other achievements without any action by you to bring about your selection, are not considered as taxable income to you. Most scholarships granted to college students are not taxable, and the value of the award does not have to be included in the student's contribution to his support.

The official instructions contain a list of the types of income which should or should not be included in your tax return. It is important to check this list carefully.

Fred T. Earwood Re-Named President Of Texas Warehousemen's Association

Fred T. Earwood, Sonora warehouseman, was named to his third term as president of the Texas Wool and Mohair Warehouse Association at its annual meeting held here Saturday, January 17. Jack Allison of Wool Growers' Central Storage Company, San Angelo, was named second vice-president succeeding Gerald Nicks of Marfa who is no longer in the warehouse business.

All other officers were re-elected. They include: Frank Roddie of Brady, first vice-president; Al Kreuger of San Angelo, treasurer; and Ernest Williams of San Angelo, secretary.

Directors of the organization are C. W. Wardlaw, Del Rio; Ray Wyatt, Bandera; Dolph Briscoe, Jr., Uvalde; L. W. Elliott, Sonora; Conrad Holekamp, Junction; Hollis Blackwell, Goldthwaite; and W. T. Stewardson, Santa Anna.

Attention was brought to the group with a request that they be passed on of reports of mohair bags being torn and ripped and of mohair having spilled out upon arrival in Europe. It was the consensus that bags should be fully and firmly packed with no pockets. It was also the opinion of the group that it would be to the interests of the producers as well as of the warehousemen if the latter would see that bags left the warehouse in good condition with torn or ripped bags securely sewn.

A new warehouse, McDonald Wool Company, Menard, was welcomed into the association.

Seventeen members of the organization were present.

Rus Chalk Finishes Basic Training At Lackland AFB

Airman Rus Chalk, son of George D. Chalk of Sonora, has completed his initial course of Air Force basic military training at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio. He has been selected to attend the technical training course for Morse Intercept Operator at Keesler Air Force Base, Mississippi.

Airman Chalk is a graduate of Sonora High School and attended the University of Texas where he majored in mathematics.

show and sale is a full day affair with a barbecue at noon. The sale in the afternoon climaxes the day's and their year's program. Some 30 lambs will be sold. Then tomorrow evening is the big event sponsored by the Lions Club. This Mystrama show was one of the best ever seen on the Ed Sullivan Show. Tickets $1.00 and four bits.

Buddy Mayer says that without more adult support this fair city might find itself without Little League baseball this summer. As important as this program is for the youth this summer recreation program should not fail and we feel that the public will keep it alive. A meeting is scheduled soon to which the public is invited.

About our Members: The first member we have lost was Gene Brothead. He was an enthusiastic member and one that will be missed by Sonora and Sutton County. Member Bob Teaff has been appointed El Paso dealer for this area. Web Elliott is the new County Judge; Jerry Shurley is the new County Attorney and Geo. A. Wynn is a private citizen again. Vestel Askew is now a married member. Knocked us out of a good prospect. Sam Hull's passing is regretted by all. Sonora has had few better and more active citizens than Sam. Lea Roy Aldwell is now an ordained minister of the Episcopal Church.

At a recent meeting of the Board of Directors it was voted to hold our regular director's meeting the second Tuesday of each month and the meeting in February will be a membership meeting, as well. It will be at the Elementary Auditorium, February 10 is the date and all members are urged.

Most everyone has heard that a home building program is brewing for Sonora. With EHA approval you can expect to see several new homes go up and fast. Many local people are interested in this program and we are hopeful that an announcement can be made soon.

SALESMANSHIP: Your manager has had much experience in selling and his ability in this line really paid off of late. The last member to join the Sonora Chamber of Commerce was given the best song and dance act by your manager in an attempt to get his membership dues up to $2 per month. After my best spell said member said, "Here is my check for $120.00 for the first year, will try to do better next year." He is an out-of-town member. Again, the next to the last member, out-of-town also, reacted to our best sales pitch by saying "here is my check for $15.00 for three months and bill me for $5. per month hereafter." I have been told that had I kept my big mouth shut each of these members might have doubled their dues. Anyway, we really do like this furrin money.
