Devil's River Philosopher Doubts
 White-Collar Ranching Would Be Less Tiring Than Present Kind

Editor's note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his bitter-weed ranch discusses the future of work this week. We guess that's what he's doing.

Dear editor:
 When a man doesn't know any more about what's happened in the past than I do, he hasn't got much business predicting what's going to happen in the future, but I'm always interested in what somebody else has to say about it.

For example, I was reading an article last night in a newspaper a neighbor handed me earlier in the day because he said he didn't have time to read it, too busy working, that predicted that in 10 years "the ancient image of work as something manual and tedious will be fading rapidly most workers will be wearing white-collars."

This does not leave me altogether satisfied. I mean, while the ancient image of work as something hard may fade in the next ten years, I figure work itself will stay around quite a while longer.

And as far as wearing a white collar, this doesn't appeal to me at all. That is, I guess I could wear a white collar now, with a tie, but going up one fence line and down another with a sprayer would still be the same. Even changing collars at noon, because the one you started out spraying in that morning is bound to be dusty by mid-day, still wouldn't fade any images of work, as far as I'm concerned. You can get just as tired from white-collar ranching as you can from the open-neck kind.

I'll admit the machine has eliminated a lot of work, but what some people don't seem to realize is that it's caused a lot of other work, too. I long ago noticed that a man who graduates from a hand sprayer to power sprayer doesn't work half as much as he did before, he just takes on twice as much and still goes from sun-up to sun-down. I'm not equipped to figure it up myself, but it would be interesting to know how many hours of work scientists and inventors have put in perfecting labor-saving devices, how many hours workers have put in building them, and how many hours consumers have put in working to afford them.

The way I see it, some sort of work is likely to occupy man for some time to come. Putting on a white collar doesn't fool me. I've seen bankers, druggists, doctors, store keepers, school teachers, etc., come home just as tired from work as a rancher. I don't believe science can invent the type of collar that'll keep a person from getting tired.

Diablo Dam Nearer
 Following Report,
 Says O. C. Fisher

By Congressman O. C. Fisher
ANOTHER PHASE in the long procedure necessary to be followed in the advancement of the Diablo dam project on the Rio Grande was realized the other day when the Bureau of the Budget reported its views on Col. L. H. Hewitt's report which he made last fall to the State Department.

In commenting on the Commissioner's report, however, the Bureau complicated the picture a bit by requiring reimbursement to the government by irrigators and other water users for water used from the conservation portion of the project. It had been hoped that the cost of the conservation portion of the dam could be taken care of from revenue derived from the sale of power potential and sale to municipalities.

"The Bureau of the Budget considers", the comments stated, "that operation of Diablo Dam and Reservoir for irrigation and water supply purposes in the U.S. should be prohibited unless local interests agree to appropriate

Some people think that the easiest way to make a mountain out of a molehill is to add a little dirt.

YOUR MINISTER SAYS

By Rev. Alanson Brown
God, the Almighty, does not take a vacation! We take vacations, our friends take vacations but God the Creator takes no vacation. If He did, the Universe would collapse and would, I suppose, fly apart at the seams.

The sad fact is that we, you and I, take a vacation from God. We tend to pick and choose our times for relating to Him. We tend to think of God and make demands upon Him when we are in dire need. Then what we get or think we get no answer we blame Him. All our troubles are God's fault. Why should a good God let these awful things happen to me??

The fact of the matter is that God does not let anything happen to us! Because we do not know Him—because we are so often on vacatin from Him we cannot hear his voice. Whatever hardship and heartache that comes our way is of our own making. He cannot give us strength in adversity if we do not know Him.

Take your Vacation but do not leave God out of it. Worship is essential to life—summer, winter, spring or fall—no matter the time of the year—NOW IS THE TIME TO WORSHIP GOD IN CHRIST!!!

HIGH LIGHTS AND SIDELIGHTS FROM THE STATE CAPITOL

AUSTIN, TEXAS—Whether and how the state's tax problem is met now depends largely on the Senate.

House members apparently eager to "get the monkey off their backs," passed out most of the program recommended by Gov. Price Daniel.

Biggest milestone was House passage by a 71-to-56 majority of the governor's "package bill". As finally passed, would raise about $150,000,000 in two years—only about $10,000,000 short of the governor's goal.

Included in the "package" would be an increased levy on natural gas, a new franchise tax on interstate corporations and bigger taxes on tobacco, liquor, automobiles, utilities, etc.

Some members bitterly criticized the bill as dangerous to Texas' industrial future and a product of the labor-liberal lobby. But most seemed to agree that it is "the only way to avoid a general sales tax or income tax."

Senators showed no apparent desire to set a speed record on the first money-raising bill sent them by the House. Bookkeeping bill, designed to erase part of the $65,000,000 deficit by changing the accounting procedure, was sent off for an Attorney General's opinion on its constitutionality.

A bill to increase the corporation franchise tax for one year only—also to ease the deficit—was set aside. Better to wait for the whole program, the Senators decided, than to work at it "piece-meal."

Senate did take one step forward, however, when Sen. Crawford Martin of Hillsboro introduced the abandoned property bill which had bogged down in the House taxation committee.

STITCH-AND-CUT TEAM—Ten lawmakers—five from the House, five from the Senate—have the difficult task of making one package out of the different spending bills passed by the two houses.

Sen. William S. Fly of Victoria and Rep. Bill Healy of Paducah head the group. House-passed appropriation bill is more than $20,000,000 larger than the Senate's. Conference Committee's task will be to cut a little off here, tack a little on there until an acceptable compromise is reached.

In past sessions, this piecing together process has taken several weeks. Even on a day-and-night schedule, this committee will be hard-pressed to finish its job before the present session ends in mid-June.

More than different spending ideas separates House and Senate. Each house used the bill to express its ideas on how the State Board of Insurance should operate. House says full-time; Senate, part-time. Unyielding views have been expressed on each side.

Other members of the committee are Sens. Floyd Bradshaw, Weatherford; Ray Roberts, McKinney; Crawford Martin, Hillsboro; and Wardlow Lane, Center. Reps. John Huebner, Bay City; Truett Latimer, Abilene; B. H. Dewey, Bryan; and Jesse Osborn, Muleshoe.

ELECTION CHANGES URGED Study leading toward a complete revision of the Texas Election Code is the goal of a House-passed resolution.

Rep. Harold Parish of Taft is sponsor.

If passed by the Senate, the resolution would provide for a 15-member committee to draft recommendations for the 1961 legislative session.

Making up the study panel would be three House members, three Senators, the Attorney General, the manager of the Texas Election Bureau, three persons named by the governor and four persons named by the national committee members of the Republican and Democratic parties.

ALL ONE JOB—Two House committees—taxation and appropriations—would be merged under a resolution proposed by Rep. Truett Latimer of Abilene.

One committee of 31, called the House Way and Means Committee, would replace the two 21-member groups.

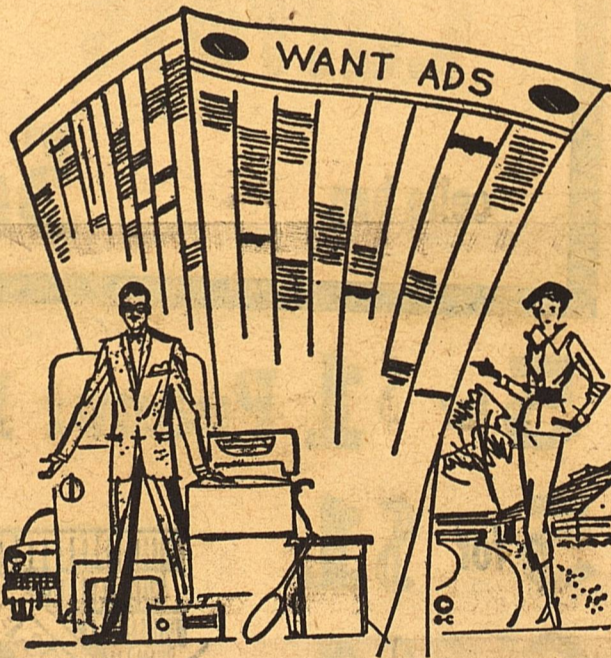

Latimer declared that since money raised and money spent have to come out even, it would be more logical to have the decisions made jointly rather than separately.

The fellow with money to burn seldom sits by the fire.

Don't underrate your competitor, non overrate your skill.

"The good die young"—is especially true of resolutions.

Good character is still the best collateral for a loan.

they left on pleasure bent, a telephone message came for Willis Goldthwaite, and being told of their probable destination, dispatched special courier Fambrough on a wheel. Fambrough overtook the party 28 miles below Sonora and Mr. Goldthwaite returned with him that night. A. C. Fambrough expects shortly to make a trip to San Angelo and says he will cover the distance in less than five hours.

Seventh Annual Slow Down And Live Campaign To Start

For the seventh year, Texas is promoting the summer-time traffic safety campaign under the Slow Down and Live slogan. The Texas Safety Association will coordinate the program throughout the Lone Star State.

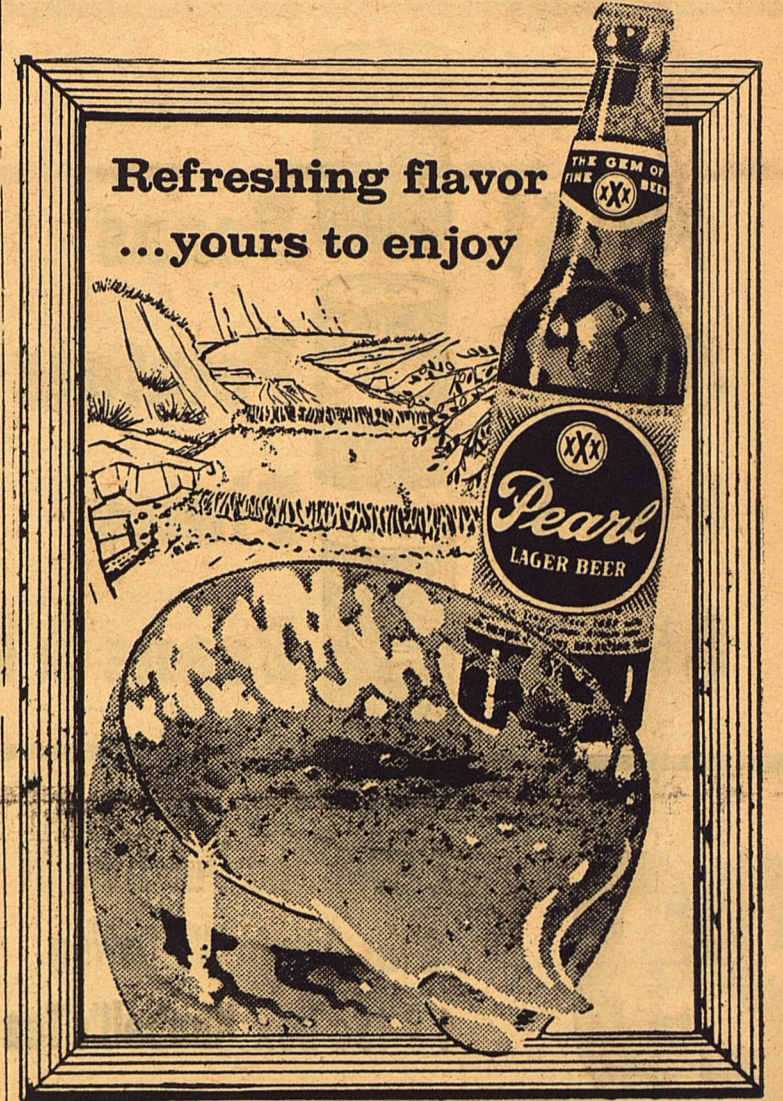

The theme for 1959 is "Can YOU Stop in Time?"

As in previous years, the campaign starts with Memorial Day and will end with Labor Day. This period has been selected for the campaign, because it is during these months that vacation travel reaches its peak.

The theme, "Can YOU Stop in Time," emphasizes four basic causes of every accident.

A mechanically unsafe vehicle, a roadway hazardous in design or size, a driver inadequately equipped for his task or a driver whose mental and emotional attitude (often caused by traffic jams, drinking, fatigue, etc.) is such that it causes him to forget his normal safe driving habits.

In Texas, last year, there were 2,342 persons killed and 126,842 injured in 72,362 traffic accidents. Most of these occurred because Someone Could NOT Stop in Time.

The hard working clerks in Sonora's leading mercantile houses ask their friends in the town and country to support them in their endeavors for shorter hours during the hot summer months. The proprietors of the stores have humbly agreed to close their stores at 7:30 every evening except Saturday, when they will keep open till 9:30, which will give all an opportunity to buy their necessities for Sunday. Their country friends are particularly requested to enable the boys to have one day off at least and respectfully ask them to buy and receive their goods any other day than Sunday. Be sure to observe Sunday.
