Federal Gasoline Tax Refund Blanks Available At Sutton Co. ASC Office

Forms for claiming refund of federal taxes paid on gasoline used for farming or ranching purposes are available at the County ASC office this year, according to Mrs. Marie K. Ellis, office manager.

In instances where a vehicle is used both on farms and ranches for farming purposes and for nonfarming purposes, an allocation of the gasoline used must be made in arriving at the total gallons of gasoline used on the farm upon which refund is claimed.

Claims should be filed with the District Director of Internal Revenue and must be made before September 30, 1960.

Blanks and complete instructions are available at the ASC office.

A pioneer and early Western theme were used in decorating and serving and two giant birthday cakes with 81 candles each were served with barbecue to family and friends.

Out-of-town guests were present from Brownwood, Odessa, Midland, San Angelo, Del Rio, Brady and Sylacauga, Alabama.

William G. Stacy of Kerrville was a Sonora visitor Wednesday.

Odds And Ends

By this time almost everyone in the county knows Jack Burch and Mills Tandy and Jim Papadakis even though they stay pretty well hidden out in the Caverns of Sonora.

Lots of us have met Jim's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis (Louie) Papadakis, who came all the way from Florida to help the boys meet their July 16 opening deadline.

Mrs. Papadakis took over the cooking end of the project much to the relief of Jim, Jack and Mills who previously had been practically living on bologna and pork and beans. They all look healthier now-and happier.

As for "Louie", he's the hardest working man in the cave. The trails are his special project and he spend hours a day raking, clearing, cleaning.

He and his rake and wheelbarrow are always on hand to pick up a stray pebble or smoothe out a little loose dirt.

And not only s he the workingest man on the job-he's the youngest. His smile never plays out and his smile never plays out and neither does he.

Welcome to Sonora, Mr. and Mrs. Papadakis. We hope you'll like us so stay.

On the cave-plan have been formulated for the grand opening and from all accounts it'll really be a grand one. More details on this as the time nears.

In second place are the Commercial Cafe Cubs under the management of Wallace Renfro. The Cubs have a record of six wins, three losses which could tie them for first with the Tigers in the event the "Tigers lose tonight's game to the Giants.

The third-place Giants have a tally of three wins and five losses under management of Calvin Powell, for a sure third spot over Charles L. Haines' First National Bank Yankees with a record of two wins, seven losses.

Contract For Final Flood Dam To Be Let Sometime In July

A project agreement for the construction of the last floodwater retarding structure planned for Dry Devil's River and Lowrey Draw was signed by local sponsors this week.

A contract for building a dam at Site 3 on the Ben Mittel ranch should be awarded in July. The five structures planned for Lowrey Draw have been completed, and seven dams are presently under construction on Dry Devil's River.

The dam at Site 3 will receive runoff water from 23.6 square miles of drainage area. At emergency spillway elevation the structure will temporarily detain 5,307 acre feet of floodwater, slowly draining down to a sediment pool holding 200 acre feet. The dam will be 40 feet high and will contain some 177,000 cubic yards of earth and rock fill.

Local sponsors approving the project agreement included Sutton County, Edwards Plateau SCD, City of Sonora, Schleicher County, and the Eldorado Divide Soil Conservation District.

Supervisors of the Eldorado Divide SCD and Eldorado businessmen joined with Sonora sponsors last Friday to inspect some completed dams and some in process of construction. The Eldorado group was impressed with both the size and strength of the flood prevention structures. Fred Earwood, vice-chairman of the Edwards Plateau SCD, expressed appreciation to the Schleicher County people for their whole hearted cooperation in the project.

Sonora representatives making the inspection tour included F. L. McKinney, A. E. Prugel, Fred Earwood, W. B. McMillan, Frank Bond, and E. B. Keng.

Edwards Plateau Soil Conservation District News

By E. B. Keng
Soil Conservation Service

Following six years of severe drought from 1951 through 1956, ranchmen are becoming alarmed at the spread of mesquite on rangeland.

Drought removed a high proportion of grass and weed competition, allowing millions of mesquite seedlings to gain a foothold. Good rainfall years in 1957, 1958 and 1959 encouraged the growth of seedling mesquite trees. Deep soil areas as well as hillsides are rapidly becoming infested.

Some 7,000 acres of mesquite has been sprayed by ranchmen in the Edwards Plateau Soil Conservation District during the past two weeks. Airplanes have been used to apply 2-4-5-T mixed with diesel oil and water.

After some 10 to 15 years of experimentation to find a chemical to control mesquite the 2-4-5-T appears to give best results. When conditions are optimum for application the 2-4-5-T should give almost complete top kill and an average of 30 percent root kill. After about six years the area should again be sprayed, when another 30 percent root kill might be expected.

The top kill of mesquite stops competition with grass for water and opens up the range to facilitate management of livestock. The treatment at best is a control measure and is not an eradication program.

Costs of spraying mesquite vary from $2.65 to $2.90 per acre, of which $1.50 per acre cost share is paid to eligible producers by the Sutton County Agricultural Conservation Program.

Mesquite control specialists expect favorable results from treatment this spring, because of a heavy growth of foliage. Aerial application should be completed within the next two or three weeks, before the leaves become hard and brittle. Basal spraying with ground application equipment can be effectively used until fall, but is usually more expensive.

Local ranchmen spraying mesquite during the past two weeks include R. A. Halbert, Frank Bond, Joe Logan, Harold Schwenning, Rip Ward, Ben Cusenbary, Thomas Morriss, W. R. Cusenbary, Billy Galbreath, Mack Cauthorn and Dan Cauthorn.

Little Known Facts About Traffic Safety

Little-known facts about traffic safety:

Three times as many traffic deaths occur in rural areas (including towns with less than 2,500 people) than in urban areas.

Reason for this the abundance of driving done on open roads, which most often are in rural areas, and increased speed.

In many fatal auto accidents, only one car is involved.

Expressways have fewer traffic fatalities, based on number of miles driven, than rural roads. The average mileage death rate recently was a third as high as the rate for rural roads.

Males are involved in almost eight times as many fatal auto accidents as females. Naturally, they drive a lot more than the girls do.

Driving too fast for conditions accounts for more than half of the rural, fatal traffic accidents in Texas.

Saturday-not Sunday-is the most dangerous day of the week for drivers. About one out of every five traffic fatalities occur that day. Sunday is second most hazardous.

Safety men say the new interstate highway system can save as many as 3,500 lives a year, and that use of seat belts could save an additional 5,000 lives annually.

While few slow drivers ever run afoul of the law, they're still a highway hazard. Driving too slow can cost a life-your life, or the life of a motorist who takes a chance and passes you when he shouldn't. Keep pace with traffic.

Odds are that if your car isn't up to snuff, safetywise, the fault will lie with the rear lights, brakes, front lights or exhaust system. When a hazard is found at vehicle safety checks, those four problems are the ones that crop up most often.

YOUR MINISTER SAYS

By Rev. Doyle W. Morton
June is the month when summer officially begins. Public schools are closed and college students come home for the summer. It is a time when people begin to think about vacations. Some persons will be moving to their ranches for the summer. Church attendance drops during these summer months. Perhaps we should ask ourselves a question or two. Do we expect God to take a vacation? If we should need God, would we know how to go to him during our "vacation"? We expect God to be conveniently located, standing by when we need him. We do not remember that we may grow cold and indifferent during a time when we do not walk close to God. Visitors in our Churches each Sunday remind us that some people will find a place of worship. Let each of us seek a close walk with God during these "summer months". May we find a place of worship and encourage others to find their place. May these months be a time of spiritual renewal.

WHILE TELEVISION is often accused of staging too many fights, the medium can surely be credited with preventing many future schoolyard brawls, if fan mail received on the "Maverick" TV show is any indication.

Jim Garner

Hundreds of viewers write that they have named their sons "Bret" or "Bart" after the heroes (Jim Garner and Jack Kelly) who star in the popular comedy-western series. It is estimated that television supplies more names for new-born infants than the total of all former sources such as Biblical characters, fiction, presidents, kings and Pullman cars combined.

See the trend? No longer will little Percivals, Algernons and Egberts have to do battle to defend the masculinity of their first names. Kids with monickers like "Bret," "Bart," "Jack" and "Jim" won't have to apologize for those names to anybody!

THE LATE Arthur Brisbane, in referring to prizefighting, often used to say, "Why all the fuss about our champions when a half-grown gorilla could whip any of them?" The noted columnist would have enjoyed a visit the other day to the "Hennessey" set in Hollywood, where Jackie Cooper was filming his award-winning series about the navy.

"Chim," a small but powerful chimpanzee with a high I.Q., became infuriated at one point of the proceedings and started jumping up and down, beating his chest gorilla-fashion. Cast and crew scattered to the four corners of the sound stage. They had probably read Brisbane. Maybe "Chim" had, too.

"Chim"

FIRST BEAUTIFUL GIRL! That's the designation of the role Sandra Warner plays in "The Twilight Zone" episode, "A Nice Place to Visit." This teleplay of Rod Serling's series is swarming with curvaceous cuties, but Sandra says, "It's nice to be first."

Sandra may look familiar on the show because she was Miss Exotica, the girl on the cover of many records made by the Exotica company. Having quite a voice herself, this lovely brunette grew tired of being just the pictorial lure on the front of albums so moved inside as a singer for Signature records.

On "The Twilight Zone" presentation she plays the number-one lure for Larry ("What Makes Sammy Run?") Blyden, who portrays a hoodlum who is killed and goes to a beyond which contains plenty of gorgeous women, and slot machines which always pay off. Really "A Nice Place to Visit."

WATCHING AN "Alfred Hitchcock Presents" filming at Revue studio, a newsman asked the director why he always plays a bit part in his movies.

"I did it at first as a gag and because I enjoyed it," said Hitch. "Now it's become a trademark. I try to schedule my immortal portrayals early in the picture so that my avid fans won't forget the plot in their eagerness to look for me."

YOUR MINISTER SAYS

By Rev. Allan Guthrie
 "We love, because he first loved us." (1 John 4:19)
 God's love comes first. The Lord told Jeremiah, "... before you were born I consecrated you. . . Every baby comes into the world loved by God. Every family knows that its new child will be loved by God, because God already loves him. We wait for the baby to arrive before we can love him, but God doesn't wait. God needs no help to love; it is we who need help.

 The Gospel of John tells us what the evidence is for this mysterious and wonderful love: "For God so loved the world that he gave his only Son, that whoever believes in him should not perish but have eternal life." Love, therefore, involves the giving of one's possessions, time, or life. God gave of himself when he sent us Jesus Christ, and this gift is the evidence for his love for us.

Summer And Sleeping Sickness Go Hand In Hand

Summer and "sleeping sickness" go hand in hand.
 Sleeping sickness is actually a type of encephalitis transmitted by infective mosquitoes. The popular name is derived from the stupor it sometimes causes among its victims.
 Since mosquitoes abound in warm weather, summer is the danger season for mosquito-borne encephalitis. The State Department of Health last year received reports of 57 cases, all of which occurred during the months of summer and early fall.
 Altogether there are some 75 species of mosquitoes which have been identified in Texas, but encephalitis is spread principally by two. The experts call them "culex tarsalis" and "culex quinquefasciatus." The latter is sometimes called the household mosquito because it has adapted itself to backyard environments.

The time it takes a mosquito to develop from egg to the blood-hungry adult that plagues you on a summer night depends on the species, the temperature and the food supply, say State Health Department entomologists. In Texas it can vary from four days to two weeks.

Here are some suggestions on ways to minimize mosquito populations in and around your home this summer.
 Eliminate all possibilities of water standing and stagnating. Clean gutters, pick up old buckets, cans, automobile tires and other objects likely to catch and hold rain water. Make sure septic tanks or cesspools are

Devil's River Philosopher Says He's Sorry Cities Not Growing Faster, But Don't Look To Him

Editor's Note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his bitter-wedded ranch on Devil's River views the census situation this week, without being very helpful.
 Dear editor:
 Some of the preliminary census figures have been coming in, according to the newspapers I've been reading lately, and as I understand it a lot of towns and cities are downright miserable about it. Many of them want a re-count.
 Despite the fact a lot of cities already have more people than they can provide paved streets for, some of them have more than they can provide police protection for, they still want to get bigger and bigger, and to have the census figures show their population gained only half as much as they figured it had, is a blow to civic pride. To have it actually show a decrease, is considered a major catastrophe. To have it double in size, is a cause for hand-springs.

 I don't understand this, I've got as many people living around me as I want, and I figure most of my neighbors are as close to me as they care about being, but still I can't see where us country folks can be of much help to the towns and cities.
 I mean, for the past twenty-five years we've been culling as fast as we can, to where the farm population has dropped from 30 per cent of the total population of this country to only 10 per cent, but still the cities aren't satisfied. Oh, I'll admit, we might have a few stragglers and low producers left we could send into town to swell the census figures next time (don't look at me, I ain't going, even if I do qualify), but anybody who understands arithmetic knows that if us ranchers just have 10 per cent of the population left, even if all of us moved to town, cities could show only a 10 per cent increase, and that won't pacify many Chambers of Commerce. Also, it would completely eliminate the farm problem, and how're you going to have a Presidential race without a farm problem?
 Consequently, it looks like the problem from here on out is up to the towns and cities, if they insist on getting bigger and bigger. They'll have to use their own ingenuity. No use looking to us ranchers. We're at the end of our rope. I ain't no expert in these matters, but it looks to me like the only way cities and towns can get bigger is to produce more children. Just attracting industry alone won't do it. While ranchers have been busy making two blades of grass grow where one grew before, what have city people been doing? You get the drift.
 Yours faithfully,
 J. A.

WANTED BY THE FBI

JOSEPH CORBETT, JR.

Corbett, one of the FBI's "Ten Most Wanted Fugitives," is wanted for escape from the California Institution for Men, Chino, Calif., where he was serving a 5 years' to life sentence for murdering an Air Force sergeant. A Federal warrant was issued at Los Angeles, Calif., on March 21, 1960, charging him with unlawful interstate flight to avoid confinement for murder.
 A white American, born on October 25, 1928, at Seattle, Wash., Corbett is 6 feet 1 inch to 6 feet 2 inches tall and weighs 160 to 170 pounds. He has light brown hair, hazel eyes, a fair complexion, a medium build, and has worked as a clerk-typist, laborer, warehouseman, laboratory technician, and alkyl-resin cooker for a paint manufacturer. His two upper front teeth slant inward and he wears glasses, reportedly being extremely nearsighted and capable of seeing only close objects without them. He has a mole under his chin and a C-shaped scar on his right thumb.
 Corbett, once a premedical student, is interested in scientific matters, avidly reads technical and travel books, and is intensely interested in firearms and target practice. He reportedly has a superior general intelligence and generally lives quietly and neatly but becomes erratic when drinking alcoholic beverages.
 Convicted of second-degree murder, he is considered armed and dangerous.
 Anyone having information concerning him should immediately notify the nearest office of the FBI, the telephone number of which can be found on the first page of local telephone directories. GPO 551200-2

Texas Miss Wool Gets Spotlight In Washington

By Congressman O. C. Fisher

MISS DAY PADGETT of San Antonio and Leaday (Coleman County) was the center of attention in Washington last week-end as the Texas State Society, aided by the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association, put on a barbecue and round-up that attracted upwards of a thousand people—mostly Texans.

As Miss Wool of Texas, Miss Padgett played her part so well everybody seemed to want to wear more wool and eat more lamb.

Texans here for the event included Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Stephens, of Lometa; Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Sheffield of San Angelo; Mrs. Adolph Stieler of Comfort; Miss Carol Agopin of Houston; and Tom Wallace, Secretary of the Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association.

LAST WEEK I reported on efforts to advance the plans for the fight against the blow fly in the Southwest. In response to my inquiries, Dr. E. F. Knipping, Director of Entomology Research Division, USDA informs me there being over 100 different species of the horse fly in the U.S., and due to their long life cycles, it is not considered feasible to apply the sterile male fly technique to their elimination. But there is some hope of eventually doing something about the horn flies and stable flies.

"In the future", he reports, "we hope to study, in the laboratory, the possibility of using the sterile male technique through irradiation of male horn flies and stable flies. With these two insects, the difficulty is primarily that the males are also blood suckers and care must be exercised so as not to increase the problem by release of blood sucking males. However, it may be that releases of comparatively small numbers in the early spring might not create much added distress to livestock and could conceivably depress the native population sufficiently so as to obtain good control."

The phenomenal success achieved by our scientists in completely eliminating the blow fly from Florida and southeastern United States has aroused hope that the same technique can be applied in the Southwest and possibly applied to pests other than the blow fly.
