Attention Please- To Report A Fire Dial 2-4242

Fire Chief Lee Patrick this week reminded Sonora and Sutton County citizens that the ONLY way a fire can be reported is by dialing 2-4242. Since all operators have been removed from the local telephone office fires must be reported direct to phones which have been placed in the homes of certain members of the local fire department.

Patrick states that it is hoped that this is only a temporary arrangement and emphasizes the importance of identifying yourself to the person answering the telephone, reporting the site of the fire and giving its general location in town or in the country. It is hoped that the special fire telephones will be installed by August 15.

Dialing 2-1601 or 0, as we have done in the past, will only delay the reporting of the fire, Patrick says, and further urges that 2-4242 be dialed ONLY in case of fire.

TEXAS LAWYERS

Lawrence Sullivan Ross

Sheriff-Statesman

"Continue your good work and the people of Texas will not withhold their praise"

On the campus of Texas A&M stands the statue of Lawrence Sullivan (Sul) Ross, the school's revered one-time President. A state teachers college is named for him; he was a distinguished Governor and State Senator, a Brigadier General in the Civil War. But before the years of soldiering and statesmanship Sul Ross had made colorful, turbulent frontier history as a peace officer. He was a young (22) Ranger Captain when, in 1860, he and his company broke the power of the Comanches. It was Ross who killed their chief, the noted Pete Nocona, then captured and returned to civilization Nocona's white wife, Cynthia Ann Parker. Then, in 1873, on special duty, he became Sheriff of McLennan County, with full authority to rid central Texas of a horde of vicious intruders, who in reconstruction days had imposed their lawless "six shooter rule" and terrorized the area. In true Ranger fashion, Sul Ross soon had tranquilized McLennan, and several other counties as well.

Today Texans still owe much to the lawmen who brought peace to the frontier... and much also to industry and commerce, for bringing prosperity and pleasure. The brewing industry has done its part... providing community revenues, payrolls and the refreshment of moderate beverages. In Texas "beer belongs," and the United States Brewers Association is constantly at work with brewers, wholesalers and retailers to assure the sale of beer and ale under pleasant, orderly and law-abiding conditions.

Edwards Plateau Soil Conservation District News

By E. B. Keng
Soil Conservation Service

One of the water conservation measures started in the Edwards Plateau SCD during the drought is, still paying good dividends—range pitting. This practice was first used to trap rainfall on drought denuded deep soils.

Ranges pitted in 1955 or 1956 are still showing better vegetation as a result of pitting. The pits have been largely filled with grass and soil, but enough roughness remains to slow the rainfall down long enough to permit increased soil penetration.

Range pitting was applied to ranges owned by Herbert and Bill Fields, Alvis Johnson, Ben and W. R. Cusenbery, Frank Bond, Bobby Martin, Harold Friess and many others. In every instance these areas are growing better stands of grass today than adjacent untreated areas.

Joe M. VanderStucken is pitting approximately 100 acres of valley range site now. He is using a mixture of native and introduced grasses to supplement the curlymesquite and red grama cover. The pasture will be deferred until frost to help the seeding grasses.

"Pitting in a practice for deep soils that can rarely fail to show good results" said E. B. Keng, Soil Conservation Service technician. It is a practice designed to hold water where it falls, but in excessive storms water can trickle down the slope without causing erosion, Keng added.

Pits are made with a one-way disk plow, with one side of each disk removed. Pits should be made 5 inches deep, about 4 feet long, and approximately 30 inches between rows of pits. The practice costs from $2 to $3 per acre, and a cost-share payment of $1 per acre is available from the Sutton County ASC program.

Arrow Heads Make Subject of New Book

A Texan who has collected more than 40,000 arrow heads in the last 25 years has written a book under the title of "Arrows Over Texas." It is reviewed in the May issue of TEXAS GAME AND FISH magazine, out this week.

The author is R. S. Reading, mayor of Corsicana. He is a retired public utility executive who started his interesting hobby in El Paso, some 25 years ago. Since then, he and his family have hunted arrow head and Indian artifacts all over the southwest.

His present collection, numbering approximately 45,000, has been classified and mounted. They occupy a large room in the Navarro Junior College at Corsicana. He presented the collection to the college, and it is studied by students and archaeologists interested in early day man.

In his book, Mr. Reading describes the various types of points, indicating which were arrow heads and which were spear type heads. He also discusses the type of Indian campsites, pottery finds and other facts unearthed in his wide search for the arrow heads.

The book is from the Naylor Press at San Antonio and sells for $4.95.

Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Loeffler had as their guest Tuesday night their son Rev. A. Lynn Loeffler of Ganado.

INDUSTRIAL PARTICIPATION in the yearly civil defense Operation Alerts is typified by the Boeing Airplane Co. of Seattle, Wash., which periodically tests its plant disaster plan and will do so during Operation Alert 1961 from April 28-30. In some years all of the firm's 60,000 Seattle-area employees have participated. This is the Boeing Communications Center, heart of any effort to direct employees to evacuate the plant or take cover in the face of enemy attack or other disaster. Pre-recorded instructions are broadcast from here over a complex loudspeaker system which can reach any or all parts of the vast facility. Plant shut-down procedures, medical and rescue teams, and evacuation of planes also are parts of the Boeing disaster plan. (Boeing Airplane Co. Photo)

MICKEY ROONEY AND JACKIE COOPER will get together soon for the first time in 25 years when Mickey is a guest on Hennessey. The two were in movies together when they were kids... Loretta Young will do only hour-long shows next season, probably at the rate of one a month. She already has several episodes in the works... Chet Huntley has been in Spain where he filmed an NBC special titled Spain: History's Prisoner, to be shown in May.

JAMES C. HAGERTY, NEWS CHIEF at ABC, has set an April date for ABC's new late-night news show. It will be carried in New York and Washington; by the rest of the network later if successful. The show will have no anchor man, but will feature individual reporters at various posts... The world famous Suzuri Puppets will be featured in a new CBS children's show, Tom Ward, of the Ward-Kemp Agency, announced that the hour-long series will debut in the fall... ABC next season will follow up its Winston Churchill series with a series about Franklin D. STEVE ALLEN'S NEXT VENTURE: a stage play, "Southern Comfort," which will bow on the West Coast before heading for Broadway in the fall... New OCDM Director to Lead Test; Plan 'Biggest Ever' Conelrad Drill Operation Alert 1961, the eighth annual civil defense training exercise for improving the Nation's nonmilitary defense, will be held from April 28 to 30.

Nationwide survival and recovery actions to deal with "enemy attack" will be tested under the leadership of Frank B. Ellis, new Director of the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization.

Director Ellis revealed that this year's Conelrad Radio Alert drill, scheduled for 30 minutes starting at 4 p.m. (EST) on April 28, will be "the biggest emergency broadcast exercise ever observed on the North American continent."

All television and radio broadcast stations will leave the air. Radio broadcast stations authorized for Conelrad programming will return to the air almost immediately to carry messages from Federal, State and local officials stressing public preparedness against attack.

RADIO NETS participating on a voluntary basis will include those of police and fire departments, highway departments, railroads, taxis, industries, amateurs and conservation departments. Aviation and marine radios and international radio message services will be the only major transmitters exempted from the drill by the Federal Communications Commission.

The OCDM Director stressed that this annual exercise has no connection with current world conditions, but added:

"It is the firm intention of OCDM, under the direction of President Kennedy, to bring home to the American people their spiritual obligation to prepare for survival and to aid in the survival of others. Operation Alert 1961 should assume a new dimension in our thinking. It is more than a training exercise for preparing the civilian population for self-protective measures during emergencies. It is a challenge to all of us to support the peace-preserving efforts of the President by demonstrating that we are strengthening our home front."

The Alert exercise will begin April 28 with two days of increased readiness buildup, leading on April 28 to a mock enemy attack, Conelrad drill, simulated warning of attack and the sounding of public sirens in many areas. Traffic will be halted briefly and people in some States will be directed to take cover. Key personnel in some State governments will move to emergency relocation sites. Many industrial firms will conduct their own disaster preparedness drills.

NEW! FOR TEXANS

I Give You Texas

By Boyce House

In the second decade of the present century, one of America's wealthiest men was Frank A. Munsey. He owned several metropolitan dailies and Munsey's a popular magazine.

He was a bachelor and was very reserved. He sent out several hundred presents at Christmas-time. He wanted very much to be liked but he was a lonely man.

One day he was in the office of Bob Davis, the editor of Munsey's New York City newspaper, when Irvin S. Cobb entered. Cobb, a former newspaperman, was a successful novelist - short story writer. He and Davis were good friends and had not seen each other in quite a while so they embraced, banged each other on the back and called one another "old hoss thief" and other terms that men use to hide the affection they feel for a close friend.

It was quite a scene and, after Cobb had left, Munsey said, "I'd give anything in the world if I could just turn myself loose and let myself go like you and Irvin can."

With all his money, Munsey was, in the real sense of the word, a poverty-stricken man.

Long years ago, there was a county which witnessed a great oil boom. Then the boom ended and the bank where the county funds were deposited failed. The county sued to recover from the State guaranty fund and an assistant attorney general represented the State in opposing this.

The county's chief witness was a former county official. He and an acquaintance were chatting and the latter remarked that the assistant attorney general was a bright young man.

"Yes," the former county official replied, "and he says I swore a darn lie and ought to be behind bars. Let him try to put me there—and he ain't heard no swearin' yet!"

I've been eating eggs for quite some time now and had always considered the white of little importance. Then the other day, I read that 90 per cent of riboflavin—(whatever that may be) and over half of the protein of an egg is in the white. Lots of times I didn't even eat all the white.

After all these years, they tell me.

IN THE YEAR OF

October 12, 1895

The school rules having been suspended last evening the school children made the most of it and enjoyed themselves in many ways.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bond left for the ranch Tuesday. The Devil's River News is glad that Mr. Bond has recovered sufficiently to be able to move around.

T. D. Newell, proprietor of the fire protection water works turned the water on for a few minutes Thursday evening to flush out the mains. Everything worked satisfactorily and a complete test will be made when the hose arrive.

October 19, 1895

On the 18th of October 1890, the first issue of the Devil's River News made its bow to the reading public, and the history of the paper is the history of Devil's River Country. Both have had their ups and downs, and at present both are are up and doing well. The Devil's River Country was never in a more prosperous condition in any respect, financially, commercially or industrially. When the Devil's River News was launched 70 miles from a railroad the prediction was freely made that it would sink before its first voyage was completed. Instead of meeting that fate, however, it has seen the sinking of numerous papers in all parts of the country that were supposed to have been started under more favorable circumstances. The management of the The Devil's River News has always endeavored to keep it afloat and its patrons will testify that it has been safe, reliable and trustworthy. Thanking our readers and advertisers for past favors we will endeavor to merit their well wishes in the future.

But editor: Although I don't think the fate of the world rests on Cuba—as a matter of fact, I don't know what the fate of the world rests on, maybe nobody, at least there's nobody I can put my finger on—everybody is pretty generally agreed the United States pulled off a diplomatic flop in connection with that country, but that's not what I've been thinking about. What I've been thinking about is that in the past week I've read articles by dozens of columnists, experts, statesmen, etc., and while every one of them can tell you what we did wrong about Cuba, not a one of them can tell you what we should have done that would have been right.

Everybody seems to be outraged at how we could have pulled such a blooper, and everybody keeps on hollering, why don't we do something about the Cuban situation? But when you ask them what, they shrug and say that's Washington's job. The editorial writers of this country are first rate at telling us what we did wrong, but when it comes to telling us what we could do right, they've moved on to the next crisis and what we did wrong about that.

Now you might think this is a criticism of the editorial writers and columnists, but it isn't. The reason they don't tell us what we ought to do about Cuba is that they don't know either. What a lot of people don't understand is that there are a lot of problems in this world to which there ain't no answer. If you're looking to me to tell you what the answer to Cuba is, I'll tell you just as soon as I figure out what the answer is to the farm problem, tomorrow's weather, the city problem, family squabbles, the value of the dollar, teenagers, middle-agers, old people, earthquakes, television, and why my pickup won't start.

Don't wait around for an answer, if you've got any work to do. Yours faithfully, J. A.

until there is a Christian family. A Christian family is basic for the teaching of Christianity. It is in the home that we learn the great truth about God. The home teaches the Scriptures to all members. We need to learn some of the great passages and they will help us in time of our great need. Jesus learned to love and use the Scriptures of the Old Testament, and, we believe he learned them in the home. Certainly he frequented the synagogue, but a large part of his learning came from the home. Even in our day, most of the religious training comes from the home. We need to be careful to teach that which helps all members of the family to be better Christians.

Rabbi Solomon Foster of Newark, N.J. once told some Christian educators that the basic unit of Judaism is not the synagogue; it is the family. Synagogue or temple only supplement. The Apostle Paul reminded his young friend, Timothy, of the faith he received from his grandmother and mother: "I am reminded of your sincere faith, a faith that dwelt first in your grandmother Lois and your mother Eunice and now, I am sure, dwells in you." 1 Timothy 1:5.

The Christian Church depends upon the family. There might be a Christian family where there is no Christian Church, but there can be no Christian Church

Open Letter To The People Of Sonora And Sutton County

This spring General Telephone Company announced it was converting its Sonora office to straight dial operation and that if rural subscribers wanted to continue to receive phone service they would have to bring rural line up to dial specifications. The company next announced that as of May 1 there would be no local operators on duty here. At first, it seemed to most people that the company was trying to improve the poor service Sonora subscribers had been receiving and bring the county first class service.

On second look, however, there were several things wrong. One was that a large number of rural subscribers would be cut off from service unless they built several miles of new line to meet the few existing main lines owned by the company, or build new line to town—perhaps as much as 30 miles. In many cases people could not afford to build these new lines.

Then it was discovered that, with no local operators on duty, there would be no sure, quick way to report fires, either in town or in the country. As a result, insurance rates in Sonora will be increased, resulting in extra expense to the citizens of Sonora.

Some of us felt that the people of Sutton County should have a say before this step was taken. In April a group of Sutton County subscribers met with telephone company representatives to try to work out a way of correcting this situation and improving and offering service to all who desired it, at a reasonable cost to all. A committee was appointed to retain a lawyer to represent us. Mr. Joe Foy of San Angelo was retained to meet with us and the phone company.

At that meeting the representative of the company left the impression that the company was not overly concerned that many many people in this county would be without phone service. Nor were they concerned in the rise in insurance rates which would result from an inadequate fire reporting system.

The company did offer to buy all rural lines deemed up to specifications for $1.00, with only their word that they would maintain these lines forever; no contract. However, they did say that they would put these lines on their books at their replacement value of about $1,500 per mile. This could result in a raise of phone rates in Sonora.

The people present at this meeting voted to engage Foy to brief the case and see if the phone company could be restrained from removing local operators or from providing service to all those in the county desiring it and willing to pay a fair price for it. On May 2 Foy reported his findings and gave his opinion of what could be done and the cost of the action. It was his opinion that the phone company could not discontinue service to those receiving it and paying for it prior to being cut off. He said a permanent injunction could be issued the company requiring them to resume operation of the local switchboard and that through we were late in starting, we were not too late.

Foy named his fee as $2,500.00 minimum or $4,000.00 estimated maximum, dependent on appeal by the phone company. This is a lot of money and no one person or even a small group of people can do this alone. But if everyone in Sonora and Sutton County will stand together, the cost per person will be very small.

This affects everyone in the county so it is up to us if we want to help make the phone company deal fairly with all the people of this county. Sign the list at Sonora Wool and Mohair Company or the Devil's River News or contact Bill Turney, G. T. Rode, Web Elliott or Mayor A. E. Prugel. And as you sign, please make out a check for $25.00 to Mr. Joe Foy as your down payment. In case no action is taken, checks will either be returned to the writer or destroyed. Please do this as soon as possible for time is short.
