March of Dimes Helps Dry Youngster's Tears of Pain

Anthony Ryan wasn't normally a crybaby. But at 10 months he began crying almost incessantly, and at times even screamed.

His loving parents in Philadelphia were nearly out of their minds. With four other small children, the household was pandemonium. No one appeared to know precisely what was causing the infant's dreadful paroxysms of pain.

Eight months and countless tears later, the cause of Anthony's agony was at last diagnosed as rheumatoid arthritis, seemingly afflicting every area of his tiny body.

It's 11 years now since Anthony was stricken. He will limp the rest of his life; he cannot play baseball today with the other boys in the block, and he is still in a great deal of pain. As a matter of fact, until just a short time ago he couldn't even turn his head.

Science has not yet licked the problem of Anthony and of thousands of children like him. There is still no simple, accurate test for the early diagnosis of rheumatoid arthritis, although the outlook is hopeful. But many rheumatologists would agree today that had modern diagnostic tools been available to him, and had Anthony been examined immediately by a "team" of specialists in the medical and allied professions—the group of orthopedists, pediatricians, laboratory research scientists, physical therapists and others now available in March of Dimes-financed treatment centers in many parts of the nation—Anthony today might be skating with the other kids on the frozen pond at the bottom of Prince Circle where he lives.

Although much of the injury done to Anthony in past years is irreparable, doctors at a new arthritis treatment center at Philadelphia Children's Hospital, sponsored by five March of Dimes chapters in the area, check him regularly to ease his pain and avoid further damage.

ON EAST COAST, Dr. John D. Bridgers, director of March of Dimes Arthritis Treatment Center at Children's Hospital, Philadelphia, examines Anthony Ryan, 12 years.

ON WEST COAST, identical twins Cathy and Carol Gile, 7 years, are greeted at March of Dimes Congenital Defects Clinic in University of Washington Hospital, Seattle.

This same "team approach" is also employed by the ever-growing number of National Foundation-March of Dimes chapter-sponsored clinics for treatment of birth defects, another area in which the health organization is concentrating. Infants with any of hundreds of major birth defects are now examined by as many as 12 specialists at each clinic, working together as a team that might include a pediatrician, neurosurgeon, urologist, orthopedist and internist as well as others.

For instance, consider the perils from one birth defect that surrounded Cathy and Carol Gile, identical 8-year-old twins of Vancouver, Wash. From birth, the children have been seriously ill with a succession of maladies—pneumonia (each six times), ear infections (again, each six times) and other disorders which have meant prolonged hospitalization. Both were found to be afflicted with an inherited lack of antibodies, the substances in the blood which combat bacteria.

At the University of Washington Hospital, Seattle, where 86 March of Dimes chapters in Washington, Idaho and Alaska have financed a birth defects clinic, the attractive little girls twice monthly are given injections which literally keep them alive.

The Seattle "team" at the March of Dimes clinic watches over the twins devotedly.

There are tens of thousands of Anthony's and Cathys and Carols in the United States today. One reason The National Foundation-March of Dimes turned to these diseases three years ago is that almost 700 babies are born each day in this country with significant birth defects, accounting for more than 21,000 deaths each year. Crippling rheumatoid arthritis affects 30,000 children and adolescents—apart from the overall toll of 11 million American victims of rheumatic diseases.

An increasing number of sufferers from these two cruel handicaps are receiving treatment from the specialist "teams" at March of Dimes-financed chapter clinics. As more funds become available, additional centers will be established to provide medical care for even more victims of chronic crippling disease.

Margaret Ann Smith, Jack C. Burch Wed In Waco Ceremony December 28

Mrs. Jack C. Burch

Miss Margaret Ann Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Smith of Waco, became the bride of Jack Charles Burch of Sonora Thursday evening, December 28. Dr. Joe Welton Bailey, pastor of the Columbus Avenue Baptist Church of Waco, read the double-ring ceremony in the chapel of the church.

Dr. Herbert Colvin, church organist, played traditional wedding music and accompanied Kenneth Howard, vocalist.

Escorted to the altar by the Rev. Alvin Loiry of Sonora, the bride wore a gown of white lace and net over satin. The portrait neckline was accented with scallops of the lace and the fitted bodice ended in lace points at the hipline. The tapered sleeves were pointed over her hands. Her fingertip length veil was attached to a Scandinavian cap of pearl-dotted lattice and she wore a pearl pendant. She carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid and stephanotis and white streamers tied in love-knots.

Mrs. Billy Duncan of Waco was matron of honor. She wore a street-length red velveteen gown designed with a boat neckline, fitted bodice with three-quarter sleeves and a full skirt. Miss Margaret Loiry of Sonora was bridesmaid. Her gown of green velveteen was identically designed. Both wore bandeaux of matching velveteen and matching nose-length veils. Their nosegays were of holly centered with red carnations.

Calvin Perryman of Purlmela was best man and Billy Duncan of Waco was groomsman. Ushers were Kenneth Burch of Arlington, brother of the groom, and Billy Bell of Waco.

Candlelighters were Lou Beth Bailey and Roger Bailey of Waco.

A reception in the church parlor followed the ceremony. The bride's table was laid with a white cloth and centered with bouquets of holly and red carnations flanked with white tapers in silver candelabra. Miss Emily Kattner of Orange served the wedding cake and Miss Jane Loiry of Sonora and Miss Martha Cotten of Waco alternated at the punch bowl. Miss Gwyn Kirkland of Waco was at the bride's register.

Following a short wedding trip the couple is at home here where he is associated with the Co-ops of Sonora.

Mrs. Burch is a graduate of Waco High School and Baylor University. She has taught in the Sonora schools for three years.

Her husband is a graduate of the Springer, Oklahoma, schools and served several years in the U.S. Army.

Nation's Mailmen Are Potent Force In March of Dimes Disease Battle

A small, yellow envelope serving as a harbinger of an expanding war on crippling disease arrives in the mailboxes of 40 million American families this week.

It brings the "mailer" of the 1962 March of Dimes, now dedicated to seeking the answers to birth defects and arthritis while continuing its work in polio. Printed on each envelope is the confident prophecy, "Your Dimes Will Do It Again!"

Addressed by tens of thousands of volunteers in the county chapters of The National Foundation-March of Dimes across the nation, this symbol of scientific research and total medical care for the victims of these diseases promises immediate help and future hope through the generosity of the American people.

The prediction on the mailer, "Your Dimes Will Do It Again!" is a reference, of course, to development of the Salk antipolio vaccine and to the later Sabin oral vaccine. Both were made possible as were the medical care and rehabilitation of many of those paralyzed by polio, by public contributions to the March of Dimes. Many millions of the dollars so well used to bring about these accomplishments came to local chapters through similar mailers in years past.

Recipients of these mailers, including those in distant Hawaii and Alaska, were urged by March of Dimes leaders this week to return the mailers to local chapters as promptly as possible.

As one chapter chairman said: "Aside from financial outlays needed urgently for research and for total medical care of victims, The National Foundation-March of Dimes must expand its already existing national network of chapter-supported clinics helping those stricken by birth defects or by arthritis."

"The figures give you an idea of the appalling magnitude of National Poster Child of 1962 March of Dimes, Debbie Sue Brown, 5, Clarkston, Wash., exhibits jumbo-sized mailer for contributions. Born with the serious birth defect of an open spine, Debbie Sue inserts bill in an envelope almost as tall as she is.

the problem. Each year in this country, at least 250,000 infants are born with significant birth defects and 21,000 die. This we must prevent.

"As to rheumatoid arthritis, fully 30,000 children and adolescents are crippled. Altogether, more than 11 million Americans suffer from the arthritic diseases. This must not happen in the future.

"When we say to the public that 'Your Dimes Will Do It Again!' it's not an empty boast. We mean precisely that. Some folks believed that the answer to polio would never be found.

But our scientists never abandoned hope and, because of March of Dimes contributions from those who believed as we did, the answer was found. Tens of thousands of lives have been saved since then, and tens of thousands saved from crippling.

"None of us, scientists included, knows when the answers will be found to birth defects and arthritis. We just know, as we knew with confidence before the Salk vaccine, that those answers will be found provided sufficient public support is forthcoming."

Devil's River Philosopher Claims Ranch Experts Don't Know What They're Talking About On 1962

Editor's Note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his bitter-weed ranch on Devil's River is looking forward to the new year with his brand of optimism.

Dear editor: I was out here on my bitter-weed ranch winding up my 1961 ranching activities about like I wound them up the year before, and was trying to remember whether I wrote down the cost of some feed I bought on the north side of the barn or on the door to the chicken house and was wondering what would happen if the Internal Revenue Service ever asked me to bring my records in.

I mean, it wouldn't be any trouble to take the chicken house door down, the hinges are loose anyway, and I can rip a board off the barn by untying the wire holding it, but it would be sort of unhandy carrying them to town.

At any rate, I found the figures but they were pretty badly faded so I guessed at them, in the government's favor, of course, as I recognize the government has promised to spend more money next year than I have. This is because more people will take the government's promise than they will mine.

With my bookkeeping work out of the way, I settled down with a newspaper and the first article I read was a forecast on the ranching outlook for 1962. It's bad, the prediction reported. In fact, it was headlined: RANCH OUTLOOK BAD FOR 1962.

This may show how much the experts know about the ranching outlook, but it also shows how little they know about ranchers.

At the start of any year, the ranching outlook to a rancher is good. It has to be. That's the whole secret of ranching and explains why America produces more food than any other nation on earth.

The reason a rancher knows the new year will be better than the last year is that he knows he hit rock bottom in that one. He's always known this. He knows it every year. Regardless of what the experts say, a rancher knows the new year is bound to be better than the old one, and this explains why the livestock gets raised. A rancher is the type of
