THIRTY-FOURTH WEEK

Mayor Prugel Proclaims May 20-26 Highway Week

WHEREAS, one of the best-known and well-regarded qualities of the State of Texas is its soundly built and carefully maintained highway system; and

WHEREAS, consistent program of highway construction and modernization has in recent years brought about a reduction of more than 25 percent in the fatality rate on all Federal and State highways in Texas; but

WHEREAS, heavy increases in traffic endanger these advances in highway safety, since the state's population has increased by one-fourth since 1950, the state now has more than five million registered motor vehicles, and the miles traveled by these vehicles now totals 43 billion miles a year; and

WHEREAS, due to this flood of traffic some 22,000 miles of the state's 25,000-mile system of U. S. and State-numbered highways are already obsolete for the loads of traffic they carry;

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, as the Nation at large observes National Highway Week during the period May 20-26, 1962, that the Texas Highway Department be commended for its achievements in building today's fine highway system in the face of mounting traffic problems; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the citizens of Texas be urged to view with concern the adverse economic effects and the cost in human lives that will result if highway traffic overwhelms the capacity of our roads, and, to support a sustained program of highway improvement and modernization to keep Texas growing.

THEREFORE, I, A. E. Prugel, do hereby designate the period May 20-26, 1962, as and urge that special attention be directed to the needs of our highway system.

Devil's River Philosopher Can't Figure Out How Ranchers Will Ever Pay Any Withholding Taxes

Editor's Note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his bitter-weed ranch on Devil's River reviews the withholding tax situation this week.

Dear editor:

Gradually over the years, Washington has gotten around to figuring out the surest way to collect income taxes, namely, every time a pay check is written. Just withhold it. This way the tax payer doesn't have to wait till the end of the year to pay it or the government to spend it. I wouldn't say everybody is happy under this arrangement but it seems to work. That is, it holds the national debt to 300 billion instead of 600 billion.

At any rate, I was interested in reading about a new group the government wants to put under withholding taxes—the people who get dividends and interest payments. According to Washington, around 800 million dollars a year in taxes could be collected if this income was subject to withholding.

I don't know enough about Washington to know whether this new law will go through, but I was just thinking, if it does, that'll just about wind up the possibilities for any further withholding taxes, with one exception.

That's ranching. And what

I'm wondering is just how will Washington go about setting up a withholding tax on ranchers? I've never known a taxing agency to get stumped before, but this may be the time.

Say I buy two Brahma steers for $150, keep them six months, feed them all the weeds, thistles and occasional blades of grass they can find, plus $15 worth of corn, and sell them for $175, or a gross profit of $10, not counting my labor, depreciation on my fences, expense of hauling them to market, etc. How much withholding tax should I pay? Or say I don't take them to market at all, just sell them to a neighbor? The trouble is most of my neighbors just ain't equipped to handle withholding taxes. They don't have any government forms around the house.

It won't work. As I see it, ranching will remain the only group of people in the United States the government will have to trust to pay their income taxes on their own on a twelve-months basis.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

YOUR MINISTER SAYS

By Rev. Doyle W. Morton
Pastor First Methodist Church

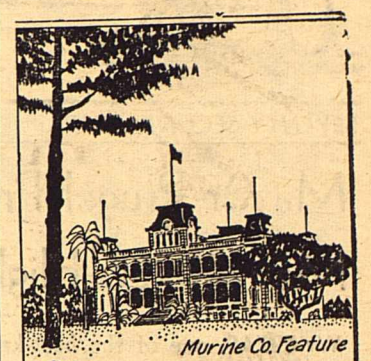

"And they were on the road, going up to Jerusalem, and Jesus was walking ahead of them." Luke 10:32.

"Follow the leader" is a game we all play. We continue to play this game in adult life, though we do not like to admit that we are following the leader. The problem comes in choosing the leader. There are choices today, as in Jesus' day. Communism calls us to follow its leaders. Evil of every kind calls us to follow its leaders. Jesus is "walking ahead" today and calls us to follow him.

Jesus "was walking ahead" of the disciples. He was going to Jerusalem, where he would be challenged for his faith and way of life. The disciples were called to follow him in this venture. Jesus calls us to follow him when serious decisions face us. He calls us to follow him in opposing that which is wrong and in upholding that which is right. He would lead us out of the safety zone of indifference. He would lead us to have a greater concern for those in need.

We should choose Christ as our leader today. Then, we should not lag so far behind, but should "follow the leader" as closely as possible. Christ lived nobly and courageously. His followers should go where he leads.

It happened 100 YEARS ago

The oldest incorporated trade association in the country, the United States Brewers Association, was organized in 1862... the same year that

IN TEXAS... the entire state waited, with hopes and prayers, for news of Terry's Texas Rangers, beloved for their courage, daring and skill as fighters. With Albert Sidney Johnston in Kentucky, in and out of Tennessee with Nathan Bedford Forrest, into Georgia with Fighting Joe Wheeler... where there was a battle to be won for the South, the Rangers were there!

And then, as now, beer was the traditional beverage of moderation—light, sparkling refreshment that adds a touch of Southwestern hospitality to any occasion. Texans have always enjoyed the good fellowship that goes with every glass.

TODAY, in its centennial year, the United States Brewers Association still works constantly to assure maintenance of high standards of quality, and propriety wherever beer and ale are served.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

By Vern Sanford

How familiar are you with the various languages?

Can you speak Spanish? German? French? Italian? These and some others are to be heard in Texas. Used infrequently, 'tis true. But used!

There's one language you'd better get familiar with right away if ever you're going to become a real, down-to-earth honest-to-goodness outdoorsman. It's what we choose to call "Fisherman"—for the lack of a better name, or sumpin'.

Anyway, once you learn about 20 or 30 words you've mastered the language.

For instance, when a fellow angler hails you from a passing boat, one word speaks his language. It's "Hiyamac." And it means what it says, "How are you Mack?"

Or he may so "Lobuddy."

Meaning of course, "Hello, Buddy."

Anyway, if you stop to chat, the conversation goes like this:

- "Binearlong?"
- "Cuplours."
- "Ketchanenny?"
- "Goddafaw."
- "Kindarthay?"
- "Bassencarp."
- "Enysigetoum?"
- "Cuplapowns."
- "Hittinard?"
- "Sordalite."
- "Wahchoozin?"
- "Gobbawurms."
- "Fishanonadoddum?"
- "Rydonnaboddum."
- "Igoddago."
- "Tubad."
- "Seeyaroun."
- "Yeahtakideezy."
- "Guluk."

Now do you savvy-entende-comprende? Kinda confusin' wasn't it?

Anyway, that's the way it's

Unions Should Be Under Antitrust, Fisher Declares

By Congressman O. C. Fisher

THE STEEL-PRICE CONTROVERSY, Coupled with plans announced by Jimmy Hoffa to weld together an empire of all transport workers in the country, has aroused renewed interest in the need for more effective controls over labor union monopoly activities.

A good example of the present imbalance is the steel industry. If U. S. Steel should decide to close down its plants tomorrow, actions would be taken to prevent it because of competitive and legal reasons. But the Steel Workers Union can shut down 90 per cent of all steel plants at one time, and has done so several times. That is because of the monopoly which that union exercises not only over the workers in U. S. Steel, but over the workers in practically all the other steel plants. The same goes for the Automobile Workers' Union. And scores of other industry-wide union combines.

If, by contrast, several steel companies conspire to control any phase of their businesses, they subject themselves to heavy penalties through the vigorous enforcement of the antimonopoly laws. They will be indicted and prosecuted.

How can there be free and responsible collective bargaining and any hope for industrial peace in this country so long as that one-sided situation is permitted to exist?

Junior High Students Suggest City Wide Clean Up Campaign

(Editor's Note: English students of Mrs. H. V. Stokes in Sonora Junior High School recently were required to write themes on improving their home town. We are reprinting the five themes judged considered best.)

"How Can Sonora's Merchants and Citizens Better Sonora and Its Economy?"

By Stan Bundy

Sonora has lately been facing a problem, "How can we, Sonora's citizens and merchants, better Sonora and its economy?"

Sonora is not far behind in its public developments; as a matter of fact, it is ahead in many things. For instance, one of Texas' most modern and progressive wool and mohair warehouses is located here in Sonora, one of the area's finest medical centers is the Lillian M. Hudspeh Memorial Hospital, and Sonora is served by a municipal power plant as well as the West Texas Utilities Company. Sonora has an excellent, lighted airport and a new 4-H barn.

Wildlife is another important asset. From this Sonora's ranchers make money from their deer and turkey leases. As people come to hunt, they stop to buy in Sonora.

The Caverns of Sonora is an attraction that is important to Sonora. Tourists come to see the Caverns and as a result they buy in Sonora. This increases our income.

Sonora merchants and citizens have been seeking a way to build a more prosperous community. The solution lies in cleaning up and providing what buyers want. A customer wants prompt, courteous and efficient service.

Sonora's citizens are seeking solutions. How about a clean-up campaign? A great many buildings could be repainted. Since a town is judged first by the appearance of its business houses and streets, civic-minded people should begin their work in this field first. Many improvements could be made: the city park could be built in a different location, property owners with lots should be forced to keep them clean, and some buildings could be removed and others cleaned up or painted.

Whatever the answer, Sonora citizens should help their city to grow into a more prosperous community for the benefit of all.

"My Home Town And Its Improvements"

By Mickey Hardegree

I think of my home town as a quiet little town located in a canyon on the shortest route from California to Florida.

I feel a part of my town because I know what time Mr. Brown comes home to lunch, the day Mrs. Smith does the family wash, the day that Mary Jane buys a new dress, and the day Mr. Jones buys a new car. On Sunday I feel extra close to my town and its people when I see them going to church together.

When tourists drive through my home town they probably think this isn't a very exciting place; we have neither beaches nor night clubs, but what they don't know is that we entertained Miss Wool only last week with an old time community barbecue. Also I'm sure they never know that probably the woolen clothes that they are wearing were made from wool, which came from this area. If the tourists fail to see our signs or read some of the material, they are unaware that my home town has the most beautiful cave in the world, which will draw many tourists.

Our beautiful wildlife, deer and turkey, are not often seen by the tourists; therefore, they can't know that this is a very popular hunting area.

These people who drive through my community can't look into the hearts of its people and know if some neighbors needs help; we all help in his time of need. They can't look into the past of my home town and know what secrets it holds from the early frontier days and if it could talk or write what colorful history could be told or written.

Improving a town takes much time and in the last few years we have made much progress.

Our radio station and weekly newspaper, "The Devil's River News", have helped make our town popular with advertising.

Tourists enjoy good highways on which to travel and suitable eating places also add to the attraction of a town's tourist trade.

Sonora has some of the finest churches and schools a town could ask for. We have a fine staff of teachers also. Our hospital is progressive and well equipped. Our airport has assisted us in many ways in the past and is still a great support.

We have many recreation facilities such as the golf course, race track, and 4-H Shows which are held here.

Towns can't stand still, they must go backward or forward. Every town can stand more improvement and my town is no exception.

The people passing through our community probably judge our town by the appearance of the business buildings. Do you ever wonder how your town ranks with other people? We should and take an interest in its appearance.

We should always stay interested in our city government and managers. The men we elect to these offices should be interested in the future of our town.

A clean town always makes an impression on tourists and my town is to form a clean-up campaign. An organized campaign could eliminate trash and undergrowth from vacant lots, and it could be more strict about covers on garbage cans. Vacant, shabby buildings could also be torn down.

One of the many improvements needed on our golf course is a clubhouse, which would be an asset to our community.

There is still much to be done toward the progress and improvements of my town, so let's all take an interest and do our part.

75,000 Injured Every Year By Power Mowers

With the drone of power-driven lawn mowers about to start, cases of chopped finger tips and toes and serious injuries by mower-propelled missiles will climb sharply.

Neither power nor hand-driven mowers are completely safe in use because they can cut most things they touch besides grass. Rotary power mowers have blades which spin at tremendous speeds cutting everything in their sweep—grass, weeds, fingers and toes.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture reports that 75,000 power mower accidents occur each year. More than half the injuries are to the feet and hands. About one-third involve different parts of the body when stones or pieces of metal are thrown by the mower blades.

These missiles can have the impact of a 22-calibre bullet. Since most injuries are due to carelessness or error on the part of persons using mowers, the Texas State Department of Health advises the following precautions:

First, remove stones, sticks and other objects from the lawn. Then check all bolts, nuts and screws to see that they are properly tightened.

Add fuel before starting the engine, never while the engine is running and keep hands and feet away from mower blades when starting and mowing.

Learn how to stop the mower's engine quickly. Children and pets should be at a safe distance from the mower, preferably inside the house.

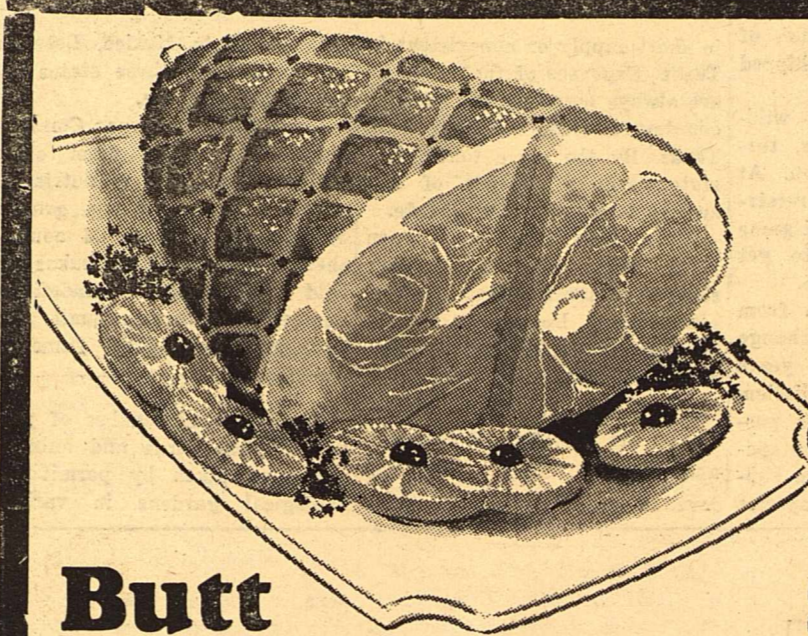

Always stop the engine before pushing the mower across gravel driveways, walks or roads and be sure of your footing when mowing slopes or when grass is wet.

Never plug in an electric mower when it's raining or when the grass is still wet and always check the cord to be sure it is in perfect condition.

The mower should always be moving away from the operator and remember that sit-down mowers have a habit of turning over on sloping ground.

Disconnect the spark wire before checking or cleaning the mower. Mowers with crank-type starters should not be in a charged position until ready for use.

Keep fuel in a marked, closed container in a safe place. Regardless of the situation, stop the engine when the mower is left unattended.

Game Exchanges Benefit Texas' Wildlife Program

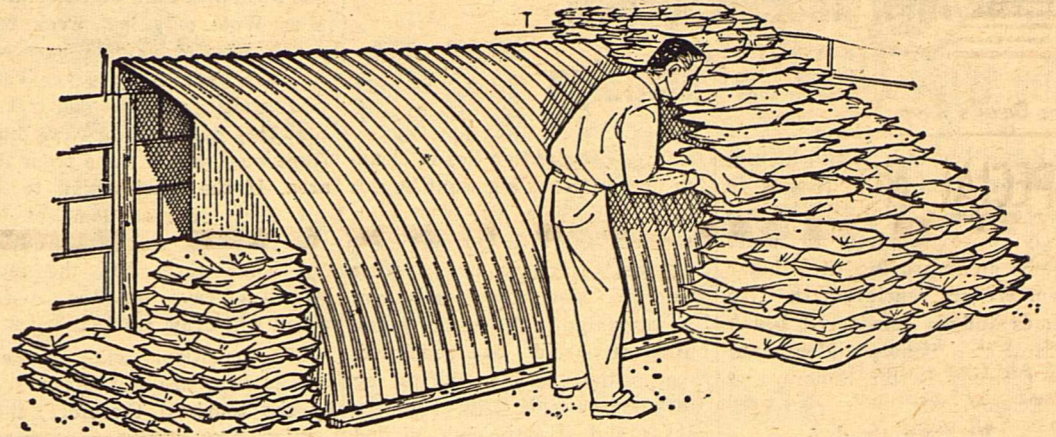

Texas, with an abundance of wildlife, is making it possible for other states, and even other countries, to establish certain species of game. This is revealed in a report of H. D. Dodgen, executive secretary of the Game and Fish Commission, in advising members of the Commission of records of game species shipped to other areas.

Mostly, the Texas-bred wildlife has consisted of deer, turkey, javelina, and raccoon. At the same time, Texas has received from other areas several game species, in an attempt to get them started in this state.

The shipment of game from Texas is a part of an exchange program adapted several years ago by the Game Commission. Under this program, it is possible for Texas to exchange species which are in adequate supply with other states, for species in short supply or nonexistent in Texas. Expenses of the exchange are always borne by the state or country receiving the game from Texas. By the same token, this state assumes expense of any species brought into the state.

Since 1946 there have been 1,940 Texas white-tailed deer shipped to seven states, the Virgin Islands, Dominican Republic, Cuba, Mexico, and Guam. Since 1949, there have been 1,660 turkeys shipped to 15 states, Cuba, the Dominican Republic, and Mexico. Since 1957, 126 javelina have been sent to three states, and to Mexico. Between 1947 and 1950, three states received 703 raccoons.

Since 1940, the Texas Commission has received from other states 45 muskrats, 32 nutria, 77 prairie chickens, 17 sage grouse, 419 Gambell's quail, 44 aoudad sheep, 36 beaver, 703 chukar, 58 wild turkey, and an indefinite number of Coturnix quail, and redlegged and grey francolin partridge.

An additional number of protected game birds and animals has been taken by permit for zoological gardens in various sections of the United States. Museums continue to request dead specimens, study skins, and skeletons for taxonomic purposes.

Most of the deer trapped and sent to other areas were taken on the Aransas Wildlife Refuge, which is federally owned and on which the Game Commission is licensed to operate. A number of the deer and turkey also were taken from the King Ranch.

Texas has received turkeys from Florida, South Carolina and Georgia. Chukar have been brought in from Nevada and California, beaver from Louisiana and Alabama, Gambell's quail from Arizona, sage grouse from Montana, prairie chickens from Nebraska, muskrats from Oklahoma, gray francolins from Pakistan, and redlegged partridges from England. In addition to birds and mammals, the fisheries division of the Commission also has engaged in exchanges with other states, mainly for strippers, which have been stocked in the Texas lakes with high salt content. Several other species of freshwater fish also have been received on an exchange basis. A number of white bass have been taken from Texas waters, and transported to other states.

Thank you, Texas Newspapers!

For 20 years, Texas newspapers have been giving the government free space in which to advertise U. S. Savings Bonds.

You've seen the ads: you save more than money with U. S. Savings Bonds. Those ads have sold an impressive number of bonds in Texas, bonds that have helped, and are helping, your government defend freedom at a precarious moment in history, when freedom is in desperate need of defending.

When you buy these bonds you serve well the cause of liberty. You enable your country to build up her own defenses without doing damage to her economy. You insure the future for this and succeeding generations.

The space occupied by the ads that sold those bonds was donated to your government — and that means to you — by the newspapers of Texas.

We thought you'd like to know.

"The public-spirited newspapers of Texas have made an important contribution to the well-being of this country," says Ed Gossett, Co-Chairman of the Texas State Savings Bond Committee.

"We are happy to salute the generous newspapers of this State. They have done their part, and more, in giving the public an understanding of the importance of Savings Bonds — to individual buyers, and to the cause of freedom. And they have certainly made this Committee's job easier."

Wardens Warn, Wild Animals Not For Pets

Warnings that individuals who catch young wildlife for pets or harm protected birds will be prosecuted, have been issued by the law enforcement division of the Game and Fish Commission.

"We get complaints every day that persons have been picking up young of the wild, particularly fawns," says J. B. Phillips, law enforcement coordinator. "This is strictly against the law and wardens have been instructed to make arrests and file cases."

Every day complaints come in that fawns have been picked up, some of them when the mother deer is close by. He pointed out that the wild animal usually takes care of itself much better if left alone.

At the same time, complaints also are being filed against persons catching protected birds or destroying nests. Among them were several filed in Austin against persons who invaded a swallow rookery on the Highland Lakes with air rifles and sling shots.

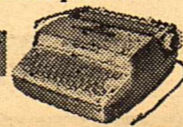

Baby birds are used to bait trot lines. If the bird is a protected species complaints are filed and the guilty person usually is given a stiff fine.

Numerous arrests have resulted from pictures appearing in newspapers of persons displaying a baby animal.

SONORA BONUS DOLLAR COMING SOON

The Devil's River News-Sonora, Texas, Thursday, May 17, 1962

Langford's accomplishments are many, but he is quick to point out that invaluable assistance from county leaders made them possible. Through the sheep selection and improvement program, 80 of the county's 123 sheep ranches are following extension recommendations. Through this program, wool production has been increased an average of 1½ to 2 pounds per animal and in some instances doubled in less than ten years. The improvement program alone has added an estimated 50 cents per head to the value of the county's sheep population and the income from wool similarly increased.

Through his efforts, both adults and 4-H members have become successful exhibitors of fleeces at major wool shows across the nation. The average selling weight of lambs has been increased through the use of better breeding, feeding and management practices some 15 pounds per head to further increase the rancher income of the county. No facet of sheep and goat production has failed to get attention from Langford and his program planning committees and leaders.

His success with 4-H Clubs has been equally outstanding. Langford coached range, grass, wool and mohair and livestock judging teams have compiled one of the best records for any county in the state. A 1961 wool and 1958 range judging team won national awards. The Sutton County 4-H Parents' Club works closely with Langford to supply needed assistance and adult leaders for all phases of the 4-H program. Through this group a 4-H station wagon was purchased for the county agent's use and a modern show barn and club center containing 9,100 square feet of space constructed.

Other county 4-H members have won trips to National 4-H Club Congress and National 4-H Conference. Every boy and girl in the county has had an opportunity to be a 4-H member.

Because of his thorough knowledge of sheep selection, Langford is in demand as a judge at sheep shows in and out of Texas. He has also assisted with training schools for other county agents and ranchmen. The Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association in December 1961 presented him their award as the outstanding county agent in sheep and goat work.

Langford is also well known for his civic work. He is a leader in the Methodist Church, a director in the Sonora Wool and Mohair Show Association, and second vice-president of the Sonora Lions Club. He cooperates with other agencies, groups and organizations on programs and activities aimed at making Sutton County an even better place to live.

He is married to the former Nina Smith of Sonora and the father of two children, Roger, a third-grade student, and Claire, aged five. Mrs. Langford accompanied her husband to Washington for the ceremonies.
