HIGH LIGHTS AND SIDELIGHTS FROM THE STATE CAPITOL

By Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association
Texas doctors are about to open a campaign for legislative approval of a constitutional amendment bringing Texas under the Kerr-Mills program.
Through it the Federal and State governments would jointly pay hospital and medical bills of all retired persons receiving less than $1,800 a year and unable to qualify for old age assistance.
Uncle Sam would pay 75 per cent; the State, 25 per cent.
Doctors believe there are 350,000 Texans over 65 who would be eligible.
Idea developed at a meeting between State Welfare Director John Winters, Texas Medical Association committees, insurance agents and insurance company representatives.
Plan would be to handle the disposition through an insurance company, as the medicare program for old age assistance now is done.
This would amount to an insurance premium of $3,000,000 a month, based on the $8.68 now paid Blue Cross for each of the 222,000 on old age assistance.
HIGHER EDUCATION—Texas Commission on Higher Education heard presidents or other spokesman for 20 State Colleges and universities voice objections to proposed cuts in their budget requests for 1964-65.
As a result, the Commission reconsidered its recommendations at a meeting on October 23.
Three doctoral programs in teacher education were approved for the University of Houston, which will become a senior college next year.
Four graduate programs were approved for East Texas State College.
Rex Baker, Commission secretary, opposed this latter action on grounds that it went against policy of concentrating such programs in the University of Texas and A. & M. College. Dispersal of such programs, Baker said, would lead to general mediocrity.
Commission member Elizabeth Koch's reply was that they were necessary to attract teachers of eminence.
WATER POLLUTION—Because oil and gas companies were in a quandary over whom to turn to for waste disposal permits, the State Water Pollution Board decided to take care of them with a special application form.
This form will apply only to oilfield wastes. It will include all of a company's holdings and will incorporate, by reference, information on disposal submitted to other State agencies.
Pollution board has asked the Attorney General for an opinion to settle jurisdiction on this question between the Board, the Railroad Commission and the Water Commission. But no reply has been received.
SCHOOL LAND LEASES—Latest leasing of State school lands boosted the permanent school fund beyond the half-billion mark, Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler reported.
In exact figures, it is now $500,639,012.
During the past 21 months, $38,500,000 has been placed in the public school available fund. State university and college lands in the same period produced $32,684,992. Permanent fund now stands at $385,995,002.
CREDIT LIFE INSURANCE—Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler says buyers in the state's $200,000,000 Veterans' Land Program are signing up for credit life insurance arranged by the Veterans' Land Board.
The Board, of which Sadler is chairman, secured terms of $5.76 per thousand dollars of outstanding principal.
Same terms and conditions to age 65 apply to future purchasers, as well as the 28,000 who already have acquired tracts.
STATE TO SUE FOR PADRE—In an attempt to gain title to disputed Padre Island areas, the State of Texas will file a number of suits.
Assistant Attorney Generals Ben Harrison and Arthur Sandlin, Jr. reported to the House Land Study Committee that suits will be filed after additional information is collected.
EARLY BALLOTING—With absentee voting at hand (Oct. 17) comes the realization that the Nov. 6th General Election is almost here. Little enthusiasm has been stirred by either the Democratic or Republican candidates.
Capitol observers predict a light vote. That, they feel, would be to the advantage of the Republican candidates since it is conceded that the anti-administration voters will go to the polls en masse.

The attendance trophy was won by Den 6, which is being led by Mr. and Mrs. Sam E. Jones, Jr.

Others present included Mmes. L. C. Newell, Frances Gibson, J. P. Smith and R. B. Kelley.

La Diabla

You can't bribe a man to do the right thing. You don't have to. Big government can only crack the whip over lawbreakers. If there are too many honest men and not enough lawbreakers, one simply makes some. Just make so many things against the law, that no one could live and not break some of them. When you have a nation of criminals, then you cash in on the guilt.

But not here in my America. No? Take a long, slow look at a law just passed saying you can't kill a golden eagle. You can't just walk out and kill a golden eagle any more, not even if it has eaten a dozen, or any other number, of your kids and lambs. You can't shoot, until you unwind some brightly colored tape all the way to Washington.

You can thank John Tower (R-Tex.) and Clark Fisher (D-Tex.) that anyone in this whole country can legally kill the predatory golden eagle. When the bill passed, Tower insisted that a provision be added binding the Secretary of the Interior to give permission to kill the eagles if petitioned by a governor. This is beautiful legislation. One Texas senator introduced it and another Texas senator amended it so we could live with it. And we are back where we started.

Except it's still against the law . . . unless you ask the governor . . . and he asks Secretary Stewart Udall, who has to say so. But he has to say so! This gives everybody something to do.

Quick Draw Groda—the man at our house—has something to do. He bakes cakes. And you just better had like them. This is embarrassing, just when I go on this anti-equal-legal-rights for women jag, to have it come out publicly that my husband bakes cakes. Three of my man's cakes went at fabulous prices last week at the car club's auction. Mrs. Joe Berger can outbake the Marshal tho' and we have the evidence from the cake auction.

My best advice is to keep husbands out of the kitchen. Some rights are more equal than others, and the wife's right to her kitchen ought to be an un-touchable. Wish some of those wild-eyed conservatives would put that in their platforms.

Some of Abraham Lincoln's advisers found fault with him when he refused to take a man into his cabinet because, "I don't like his face," said Lincoln. "And any man over 40 is responsible for his face." Lincoln ignored bad advice.

Our current President of the United States listens to his advisers in the persons of Arthur Schlesinger and McGeorge Bundy. The latter was quoted as being opposed to getting into a fight with Cuba because we might throw them into the Communist camp! Since our political systems are moving in the same direction anyway, if we just go along, we may one day see things alike and not have to fight. End of quote.

And now we have a quarantine at last, after the horse is well stolen. My country must not be Cuban-like with or without a fight. And all's well that ends . . . at Cuba's shoreline.

I once interviewed a man who survived the Bataan Death March. He said what he saw

The refreshment table was covered with a natural lace cloth centered with an arrangement of pink roses.

Punch and cookies were served to approximately 20 guests.

there did not scare him half as much as the apathy of the people at home. "And the people back here will not know what they have lost until they feel the boot on their necks" was his comment.

He did not complain about the living hell called Bataan, but he did complain about us. He recalled his father's words, "Socialism is Communism with a longer fuse."

And the fuse grows shorter in the year 1962 A.D.

soon after 1:00 p.m. as possible and not later than 4:00 p.m. Displays will be marked and arranged at that time. Exhibitors must pick up displays at 5:00 p.m. Sunday at the close of the show. The public is invited to Sonora's first Hobby Show, to enter and to spectate.

The Sonora Golf Auxiliary met Wednesday morning, October 17, at the Parish House. Results?

-GN-

We are going to . . .

HAVE A LUNCHEON once a month. Bridge, golf, visit and lunch. You may have a choice of one or all of them. Ladies Golf and Bridge Club Luncheon will be the third Wednesday of each month EXCEPT November and December. The November and December luncheons will be on the second Wednesdays.

NOVEMBER 14 will be our first meeting and the three hostesses will be Wanda Allison, Jym Adamson and Mary Barrow. So if your name begins with X, Y or Z . . . then your date as hostess isn't in the near future. We won't panic if our name begins with the letter that would have us combining an Easter egg hunt with bride and golf . . . we will just have a round of golf while trading luncheon hostess dates.

-GN-

WATCH Green News for invitations to tournaments because it isn't possible to notify each member personally.

-GN-

CONTACT Jo Neville, Monica Davis or Tina Whitehead (membership committee) and pay your Golf Auxiliary dues. Dues are due.

-GN-

HAVE A DANCE November 23. Pauline Thompson will have tickets for you. By that we mean . . . active and inactive members will be given ten tickets each to sell. Which reminds me, we really don't have inactive members in the Ladies Golf Club. This club is to promote and help the local golf course. If you are a "people lover" you will find a lot of them at our barbecues, parties and golf course. Do you have to play golf to be a member? Just come watch me with a golf club and that question will not be asked again.

-GN-

CHECK above dates for accuracy because there is always the slight chance I might have been talking when dates were mentioned.

-GN-

We were glad to see Johnny McClelland during his visit home last weekend.

-GN-

Wonderful to see Sammy Jean Espy back on the golf course. We missed her while she was recuperating from surgery. Her absence didn't hurt her golf score . . . she is shooting better than ever.

-GN-

The cool golfing weather has been an invitation for many. Wanda Allison and Nancy Trainer are a couple of our lady golfers who accepted the invitation.

-GN-

Saw Jane Cavaness and Pauline Thompson on Number Eight green. Pauline was looking for a lost golf ball. She smiled and said she thought she would paint all her golf balls in loud fall colors. Golf ball or clothes colors. . . Jane looked pretty in her white and red on red slim jim outfit.

-GN-

Betty Stewart, Lunetta Morgan and Bobby Fawcett played golf at San Angelo Country Club Tuesday.

There were ten golfers from San Angelo at the local course Saturday. There were almost as many pars and bogies.

Say somebody figured out what to do about the Cuban problem; it wouldn't last. Another problem would crop up some place else. We've had one crisis after another for years now and I've decided the thing to do is to put all our crises into one pile.

As I understand it, there are 103 countries in the world, as best the map makers can find out, and the way to eliminate all minor crises and put them in one lump is to arrange for each of the 103 to have guided missiles trained on all the others. Each country should have guided missiles zeroed in on every major population center in every other country. I'll admit this would be a mess of guided missiles, but it's the only way out.

Then after you get all these missiles in place, invest a special radar firing device that'll set off all of them if just one of them goes off.

With everybody in the world then looking down the barrel of a guided missile, who'd be interested in shooting first?

You have no idea how reasonable people get when they're blocked on all sides. Man is supposed to be the only animal with reasoning ability, but I understand when a forest fire breaks out, the rabbits and the foxes, the antelopes and the mountain lions, all begin reasoning that the only way out of the mess is to run together for awhile.

On the other hand, come to think of it, this hundred percent guided missile idea might not work after all. Sparrows might build a nest in the firing device of a missile down in Afghanistan, trigger the thing, and send the world up in smoke. Or a minor dictator might get mad at his wife and pull the trigger just for spite.

Maybe it's better to worry with all these little crises. Now you take the Cuban problem . . . Yours faithfully, J. A.

Many of the smaller fishing lakes of Texas are Chamber of Commerce projects built for multiple uses.

Typical is Oak Creek Lake in Central West Texas near Bronte. Actually, this lake was planned by the Sweetwater Board of City Development, a tax-supported Chamber of Commerce.

It was undertaken when the Gulf Oil Company, which had a refinery at Sweetwater at that time, told of its future water needs.

Already there were several small lake around Sweetwater, mainly the city's municipal water supply. But Sweetwater is in the low rain belt. So it was evident that this lake, plus Lake Trammel and the Santa Fe lakes—all small impoundments—could not take care of future water needs. Besides that, Sweetwater residents had to travel too far for their fishing!

Accordingly, in the late 40's, right after the end of World War II, talk began about a new lake. Engineers were brought in. They said the best chance was on Oak Creek.

But Oak Creek was on the other side of the Callahan Divide and in the Colorado watershed. Sweetwater was in the Brazos watershed. Naturally some of the local residents protested that it would be too costly to pump the water up over the divide.

Engineers, however, soon proved this was a wrong philosophy. And work began! The dam was completed in the early 50s. It was still a small lake, compared with Whitney or Buchanan, but its 2,000 surface acres, backed up into dry creeks and canyons, provided a lot of good fishing water.

The city offered leases around the lake for campsites, and developed several recreational Fish Commission stocked the areas. Texas Game and Fish lake. The city then charged a small fee for fishing, having an understanding with the state that this money would be plowed back into lake development.

As a result, Oak Creek today is one of the better fishing lakes in the state. It is particularly good in the old Oak Creek bed, where huge pecan trees still stand.

The Game and Fish Commission has done some selective fish kills on the lake to ride it of rough fish that usually take over a lake after a few years.

Oak Creek Lake can be reached over paved highways from Sweetwater, Abilene, San Angelo and Coleman.

It is a real nice place to spend a very pleasant weekend, and to enjoy some good fishing.

LABORATORY FOR ELECTRICAL POWER

West Texas Utilities Company maintains a laboratory and a full time chemist in each of the power plants to check the chemical content of water used by WTU. Chemical content of the water helps to determine the frequency of equipment overhauls.

Boilers, turbine blades, cylinders, piping, steam inlet valves, condensers, water pumps, and much other operational equipment is impaired by chemicals in the water. Close laboratory control of water conditions can prevent equipment breakdown before it happens. This is just one of the many maintenance procedures by WTU to assure you a continual flow of electrical power!
