Mothers To March Here January 30

The annual January March of Dimes campaign in Sutton County comes to a climax with the Mothers' March Sunday, January 30, when a number of local women visit homes seeking contributions for the fight against birth defects.

"We really ought to call it the 'March for Children'."

Speaking was Mrs. T. K. Nevill, who is chairman of the Mothers' March against birth defects and who will coordinate the efforts of many volunteers visiting area homes on Sunday on behalf of the March of Dimes.

"The Mothers' March always has been for children," explained Mrs. Nevill. "In the beginning, it was to make it possible for them to live free from the fear of polio; now, to secure for them the best chance for normal development from even before the time they are born.

The Mothers' March leader noted that a quarter-million babies are born each year with serious birth defects. Thousands of them die before their first birthday. Other thousands survive to spend lives marred by physical disability or mental retardation.

"Many of us know mothers who had to ask why their babies were not born perfect," concluded Mrs. Nevill. "We can help spare future mothers that question by giving generously to the Marching Mother."

Fred Earwood Named Publication Trustee

Fred Earwood, operator of Sonora Wool and Mohair Co., was one of the four new trustees named recently to the National Wool Growers Co., a corporation which publishes the National Wool Growers Association's official magazine.

Earwood was elected to the position while attending the 101st NWGA convention in Portland. He will serve with Harold Josendahl of Casper, Wyo., Bryce Stringham of Vernal, Utah, and John Bauchus of Montana.

BILL GLASSCOCK (5) goes up for the shot that started the last minute rally by the Broncos to pull out a 70 to 64 victory over the Van Horn Eagles. In the background is Eddie Howell (31). This victory gave the Broncos a third place finish in the Ozona basketball tournament and also the third trophy in as many tournaments.

WHY, MY BABY?

"Why did it happen to my baby?" Have you or has anyone that you know ever had to ask this question? Do you know what it means to have a child born with a disabling physical defect or a brain damaged by some unknown cause? Millions of American mothers do. Many of them live here in this community. Sunday many mothers concerned about birth defects and the tragedy it brings to families, will be calling at your home in the annual Mothers' March for the March of Dimes. They will be seeking contributions to speed the work against the nation's largest killer andcrippler of children. But they will also carry a message of hope, of significant progress in the fight against birth defects. Pioneered by the March of Dimes in its regional treatment centers, improved diagnostic methods, new medical and surgical techniques, and extensive rehabilitation have revolutionized the outlook for babies born with birth defects. The March of Dimes is also supporting the largest national non-governmental scientific research program in birth defects. The importance of prenatal care in the development and birth of healthy babies is also being stressed by the March of Dimes in a nationwide public education program encouraging mothers-to-be to take advantage of this important medical attention. If the question, "Why did it happen to my baby?" has never been asked in your home, give thanks, and give to the Marching Mother on January 30.

Philosopher Says

Congress Doesn't Need Faster Voting Method

Editor's note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his bitterweed ranch on Dry Devil's River has found out Congress is back in session, his letter this week indicates.

Dear editor: Congress hadn't anymore than gotten underway last week when I found a copy of the San Angelo Standard Times with an article in it—if you're wondering where I found it, it was spread out by the wind against the back screen door and when I went out I didn't even have to bend over to get it, just sort of wipe it off my face—which already was complaining about the slowness of Congressmen.

According to it, Congressmen spend too much time answering to their name on votes and quorum calls.

"In an age when electronics allows us to take pictures of Mars and transmit them over 134 million miles of space," the article said, "The House spent five entire work weeks in less than ten months last year answering, in turn, to 435 names deliberately intoned by two clerks—a total of over 240,000 times."

This horse-and-buggy process of passing laws is outrageous in this modern day, the article went on, arguing that electric voting machines and such things are long over-due in Congress.

Well now I'll tell you. There's no doubt no doubt it, there is a faster way to vote than having 435 members of Congress answer yea or nay when a clerk calls their names, but the way I look at it, Congress is already passing more laws than we can handle, and it's possible what this country needs is not faster voting but slower clerks. No telling how many laws we could have missed last year alone if the House clerk had been just a little tongue-tied.

Speed isn't everything. There are people who are dreaming now of the day when airplanes will be so fast you can get from New York to Los Angeles in 30 or 40 minutes. Leave New York after breakfast, they say, fly to Los Angeles, and be back home for lunch. I guess this is all right, but for years now I've had breakfast and gotten hungry again in time for lunch without ever having to leave this farm. Any time I have to travel across the United States and back to eat lunch, I'm going to see a doctor.

Yours faithfully,
 J. A.

SS Office Offers One-Stop Shopping

The new year introduces another addition to the social security program: the refiguring of benefits by machine. With this new process, social security offers "one-stop shopping" to all future beneficiaries, Floyd B. Ellington, social security district manager in San Angelo, announced recently.

Now a worker can visit his social security office shortly before he is 65 and apply for Medicare and for retirement cash benefits at the same time, even if he plans to continue working.

The benefit amount is figured out at the time the worker applies. This amount is based on the average of his earnings over his working lifetime in jobs covered by social security, Ellington continued.

If a worker has more earnings after he applies for benefits, he naturally wants them considered to see if they raise his average earnings and his benefit.

Before, the worker had to apply to see if his new earnings made a difference in his average, Ellington added. Now the worker does not have to ask to have his benefit refigured. Nor does he have to earn a special amount. Any amount of earnings in a year will automatically be considered to see if they increase his average earnings. If the earnings are large enough to increase the benefit, the benefit amount will be increased automatically. If not, the benefit will remain the same.

Automatic refiguring is a great advantage to all those who apply for Medicare at 65, but continue working, and no one will get more money by waiting to apply for benefits until he stops work so that he can add in later earnings, Ellington concluded.

People 65 or over who have never applied for retirement or Medicare benefits should get in touch with the social security office located at 3000 West Harris, San Angelo, or contact a representative when he is in the area.

Most Homemakers Store Deadly Poisons In Almost All Rooms of House Says AMA

Upstairs, downstairs, all through the house are deadly poisons, ready for the taking.

Catherine de Medici, says a pamphlet from the American Medical Association, hid deadly poisons behind a secret panel in her boudoir.

Chances are, says the AMA, your supply of potential poisons is not so well hidden. Seemingly harmless household items—items which cause half a million accidental poisonings in our country each year—are probably stored in every room of your house. Before someone finds them accidentally, look for the following items:

Kitchen killers may include household chemicals such as detergents, ammonia, silver and brass polishes, disinfectants, room deodorants and insect poisons. They may be under the kitchen sink in easy reach of children.

Medicines cause most accidental poisonings in children, and aspirin leads the pack. Cosmetics, deodorants, shaving lotion and unlabeled medicine can poison adults who take them in the dark without reading the labels.

The home workshop has its dangers, too. Children are curious enough to drink paints, lacquers, varnishes and turpentine, especially if you leave these chemicals in empty soft drink bottles.

Garden aids, such as insect sprays, weed killers and fertilizers may benefit your plants, but they can kill children. Store garden chemicals out of reach of children. When applying, keep preparations away from eyes, nose, mouth and skin.

In the bedroom, never leave cosmetics and pills on tabletops or in low drawers where children can find them. Mothballs are a hazard if you store winter clothes in a low chest or drawer that children can reach.

Some final precautions include label everything, keep medicine in a locked cabinet, never store chemicals in food or beverage containers or on food shelves, date medicines and discard old drugs, use only prescriptions ordered for you by a physician, do not contaminate food or utensils with insect sprays, aerosols, rat poisons, weed killers or cleaning agents, and, keep potential poisons out of children's reach.

Medicines cause most accidental poisonings in children, and aspirin leads the pack. Cosmetics, deodorants, shaving lotion and unlabeled medicine can poison adults who take them in the dark without reading the labels.

The home workshop has its dangers, too. Children are curious enough to drink paints, lacquers, varnishes and turpentine, especially if you leave these chemicals in empty soft drink bottles.

'66 Potential Voters Must Have "Ticket"

By—Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association
AUSTIN—Deadline for payment of poll tax—the "ticket to vote" in 1966 elections—is closing in. Democrats, republicans, liberals, and conservatives are emphasizing this in the wind-up of their voter registration drives this week. All sides apparently are concerned that some of their supporters may fail to qualify. This because of confusion over the federal suit to ban the poll tax. Suit has not been decided. Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr and Will D. Davis, chairman of the state democratic executive committee, issued reminders that federal judges who will rule on it have advised Texans to pay their poll taxes, since they will reach no decision before January 31. Carr noted these requirements for voter eligibility in 1966: Those who want to vote in all primary, general or special elections for nomination of candidates (including state and local), or on bond issues, constitutional amendments and other propositions—and who hold no exemptions—must pay the $1.75 poll tax no later than the end of the month. Person over 60 must obtain exemption certificates by January 31. Those turning 21 years of age can secure exemption certificates up to 90 days prior to an election, as can new residents just completing their residential eligibility by election date. Free poll tax receipts are available through January 31 to qualify voters to cast ballots for federal officers (U.S. senator and congressmen only this year). Apparently, 1966 will see lots of political action—and the voter without a poll tax will be on the outside looking in. GOPs TO RUN SLATE—Texas Republicans will field virtually a full slate of candidates for statewide offices, according to Albert B. Fay, national committeeman. But they have pledged the bulk of their finances to the re-election of Sen. John Tower. Republican executive committee members recently adopted a 1966 budget of more than $1,500,000. They earmarked 40 percent for Tower's campaign. Fay said the GOP will stick to its strategy of "selective" filing in local and district races and will invest its money where there's best chance of victory. Republicans see chances to capture Houston, Dallas and Panhandle congressional places and to pick up several state legislative posts. SUITS FILED—Two would-be candidates for attorney general had to file mandamus suits with the State Supreme Court in an effort to get their names on the May 7 Democratic primary ballot. SDEC Chairman Davis rejected applications of State Sens. Franklin Spears of San Antonio and Galloway Calhoun of Tyler, maintaining there is a question as to their eligibility. He cited a constitutional provision that legislators are ineligible to hold offices they created or raised salaries of during elected legislative terms. Pay of the attorney general was raised by Legislature last year from $20,000 to $22,500 annually. Both claim their senate terms expire before Jan. 1, 1967, when new attorney general's term begins. Davis says the Senators' terms extend until January 10, when next Legislature convenes. Supreme Court set arguments in the Spears case Wednesday (Jan. 19). Spears was elected in 1962. Some feel his case is "easier" than that of Calhoun who was elected to a four-year term in 1964—although reapportionment of Legislature cut all Senate terms short. AG OPINIONS—Attorney General Waggoner Carr has held the following: A court may, without jury intervention, and upon finding a defendant guilty of a misdemeanor, place the defendant on probation if all other requirements of the misdemeanor probation law are met. Where a commissioner's court changes the boundaries of the precincts, to become effective Jan. 1, 1967, the precinct residence requirement for running for county commissioner in the 1966 elections is to be determined with reference to the boundaries as they will exist. In another opinion, Carr clarified requirements for paying Office of Education's approval of witness fees under the new code of criminal procedure. Legislature has appropriated funds for payment only in felony cases. FEDERAL PROJECTS APPROVED—Six new Operation Head Start projects and four program development grants under the Community Action Program of Economic Opportunity Act received the governor's approval. Head Start projects approved were Lockett Rural High School, Vernon, $7,713; Whitharral ISD, $19,173; Uvalde ISD, $28,145; Detroit School District, $29,744; Snyder Consolidated ISD, $20,478 and Lasara ISD, $26,481. Program development grants went to Community Council of Starr County, Rio Grande City, $20,500; Community Action Inc. of Hays County, San Marcos, $16,877; Shelby County Community Action Program Inc., Center, $22,748; and Palo Pinto Community Service Corp., Mineral Wells, $13,359. Sen. John Tower announced U.S. Office of Education's approval of projects to provide supplementary educational centers in Alpine, Burleson, Canyon, El Paso, Houston, San Antonio and San Marcos. Amounts of grants are yet to be determined.

Troublesome Misfits Assume Different Roll

by Vern Sanford
That misfit, the nutria, seems to have met its match. Despite man's diligent efforts to eradicate this pest, it continued to thrive and multiply. But now nature seems to be getting things in hand again, at least along the Gulf Coast where the nutria are most abundant. Those who complain most about the nutria damage are the duck hunters. They claim the nutria is destroying the marshes. But Holder debunks some of this talk. "The truth is simply that the nutria has made duck hunting more difficult, but has not appreciably hurt duck habitat," he explains. "In fact, in some areas the opening of patches in the marsh has probably helped ducks more than it has hurt them. I've seen nutria clean cane from an area and watched wild millet grow in the same area the next year, feeding thousands of ducks."

Nutria make fascinating targets for hunters. In the water, the cagey nutria can be quite elusive. Now they've become so educated that hunters go after them at night, with lights. This because in daylight they promptly dive at the first sign of danger. Most sporting method is to hunt them with a .22 rifle. Hunters move through canals cut in the marsh, watching for the telltale head. When a nutria swims, only a portion of the head protrudes above the surface, presenting a difficult target. A nutria is a hardy animal and can take a wallop from a .22 slug in the body without stopping. Only truly vital spots are in the head or spine. Nutria are regarded as "slow" but Holder says this is a misnomer. On land one can move almost as fast as a rabbit. But in the water it is no great shakes of a swimmer. It dives slowly too. But it can swim under water for a great distance. Nutria are natural enemies of dogs. Most dogs seem to go wild when they smell nutria. Labrador retrievers, carried into the marsh by their duck-hunting owners, often attack the so-called "rats." Many suffer severe injuries from the encounter. A nutria isn't, by habit, a vicious creature. It will run from both man and beast. But when cornered it is a valiant and fast fighter, using teeth and claws to defend itself. Most experts believe the remarkable nutria population explosion is over. It is felt that the nutria is ready to become a normal part of our animal kingdom and natural elements will probably control their numbers. When that happens, the nutria will increase and diminish in numbers in a regular cycle, just as all other forms of wildlife do. For the much-cussed nutria, it is indeed a new and different role.

Motorist A, held liable for an accident, was ordered to pay more than his insurance coverage, more than everything he owned. In desperation, he decided to go through bankruptcy. Although this left him poor, at least he was relieved of his overwhelming burden of debt.

Motorist B, in a similar predicament, also tried bankruptcy. But in his case, that didn't help. Even after going through bankruptcy, liability for the accident still hung over him as heavily as before.

The difference in these two cases illustrates an important provision of the Bankruptcy Act. Bankruptcy does cancel most debts, but not all. One debt it does not cancel is liability for "wilful and malicious" injuries inflicted on others. Motorist A had caused his accident by just driving a bit too fast. The court held this was not "wilful and malicious."

But motorist B had been driving at high speed during a storm, on the wrong side of the road, while under the influence of liquor. The court decided this was indeed "wilful and malicious" conduct—and not even bankruptcy could save him from responsibility for it.

Most often, such questions arise out of auto accidents. But any kind of wilful and malicious act may put the offender beyond the relief of bankruptcy. Consider these cases:

A cantankerous home owner, to scare away some boys, fired at them with an air gun, injuring one in the eye;

A disgruntled boy friend spread slanderous stories about a girl's reputation;

The owner of a dog known to be vicious let it run loose on the streets, where it attacked a passing pedestrian.

In each case, after a judgment for damages, the offender went into bankruptcy in hopes of "getting out from under." But in each case, even after bankruptcy, he was held still liable for the wilful and malicious harm he had done.

A keynote of the Bankruptcy Act is sympathy for the hapless debtor. But, in the wilful-and-malicious cases, the law's sympathy is dampened by behavior that is not just foolish but wrongful.

Besides, the law owes consideration not only to the debtor but also to the person who has been run down, shot, slandered, or bitten.

Teen Scene

By Margaret Bundy

Monday was horribly quiet at school. The major portion of the ball season has started. The game with Eldorado Tuesday opened the empty. The reason was this: the seniors were in San Angelo for Career Day. It was astonishing how the absence of one class affected the entire school!

A lot of kinds were in Ozona during the weekend. At the basketball tournament there, the Broncos placed third. Laney Cook made All-Tournament.

The B-Team had a tournament in McCarney, in which they won Consolation. In the four tournaments in which any of the high school teams have participated, our teams have placed.

Gail Espy has had a visitor recently. Debbie Brooks was here from Abilene over the weekend. Sherry and Kari Eustace were in town over the weekend, also.

Several college kids have been home between semesters. Some of these are Joyce Hearn, Karen Davis, Rande Fawcett, Diana Cahill, John David Fields, and Peggy Grobe.

Last week's "Who's Who" was Nita Bassham. This week's mystery man is a senior boy. With black hair and blue eyes, he stands about five feet, ten inches tall. He is extremely interested in coon hunting and rabbit hunting. Being a ranch boy, he is truly a "real cowboy".

The really hard part of basketball season has started. The game with Eldorado Tuesday opened the district games. The second district game is against Menard, there, Friday—everybody be there!!! GOOD LUCK, BRONCOS!!!

RUB-A-DUB-DUB, who's the senior boy in the tub? This week's Teen Scene mystery personality is a ranch boy or "real cowboy". Can you identify him? See next week's Teen Scene for answer.

Pension Deadline Set at January 31

On December 1, 1965, the Veterans Administration sent out about 42,000 income questionnaire cards with the checks going to veterans and-or widows who were receiving non-service pensions. These cards were not sent to veterans, widows, or children who are receiving compensation or death benefits based on the veteran's death occurring due to his service-connected conditions.

If those receiving these cards do not complete them by February 1, the checks will be discontinued until they are received and there is a possibility of being charged with the full amount of pension paid in 1965.

Remember the deadline—January 31, 1966.

Erratic Rain Pattern Marked Area in 1965

by E. B. Keng
Soil Conservation District Technician

Rainfall in 1965 followed the same erratic pattern that seems to be the rule rather than the exception in West Texas.

Precipitation in the Edwards Plateau soil conservation district varied from approximately 15 inches to over 23 inches. Official gages maintained by the Agricultural Research service in the 30,000 acre Lowrey Draw watershed varied from 15.95 on the Joe Logan ranch to 23.05 on the adjoining Vestel Askew ranch—a variation of 7 inches!

The year 1965 started out favorably—rainfall-wise—with well above normal precipitation in January and February. This moisture favored development of winter growing weeds and grasses, and reduced feed bills. March and April were somewhat below normal, but one of the wettest "May's" on record saw 5 to 9 inches fall on most ranches.

The May rain produced a record crop of bladderpod or cloth-of-gold and bitterweed. It also pushed warm season grasses off to a fine start. With the exception of a few good showers on small areas, the last seven months of 1965 were all below normal (average). Grass growth was curtailed, and a below normal quantity and quality of forage was cured for winter.

The lack of fall moisture has resulted in the greatest scarcity of winter weeds in many years. Tallow weeds, bladderpod, milkvetches, filarees, nama, broomweeds and bitterweed all must have fall moisture to start and maintain growth. Even fall planted oats failed to sprout, or sprouted and died.

The lack of winter weeds emphasizes the necessity for basing stocking rates for breeding animals on perennial vegetation. When ranchmen stock up to or above normal capacity, anticipating winter weed production to help out, they often have substantial supplemental feed bills when weeds fail to come through.

Through total annual rainfall has not been substantially below average for the past several years, the poor distribution has not favored grass production. Because of low grass reserves, a dry spring and summer could quickly produce the same chaotic drought conditions of 1951-1957—which many ranchmen swore to avoid in the future.

Ranchmen should take the necessary steps to see that the ranch is properly stocked and that pastures get 3 to 5 months of rest to build up grass reserves.

Representative rainfall totals for 1965 on ARS gages in Lowrey Draw include Joe Logan, 15.95 and 18.25; Hunt and Powell, 18.96, 20.15, and 19.30; Vestel Askew, 20.96, 19.65, 19.89, and 23.05; W. L. Miers, 18.57 and 21.23; Stella Keene 18.99 and 21.36; and Hunt and Neill (Hospital), 19.30. Three ARS gages at the Experiment Station recorded 17.63, 18.54, and 19.35. Herbert Fields' SCS gage measured 16.73.

Cotton Carry-Over Might Set Record

There isn't much optimism in the outlook for cotton in the year ahead.

John G. McHaney, Texas A&M University Extension economist, says 1965 production will exceed domestic and foreign usage of U.S. cotton by some 2 million bales and will bring the August 1, 1966 carry-over to an estimated 16.2 million bales, a new record.

Despite the fact that the 1965 crop was produced on the smallest acreage since 1958, total production was only slightly below the 1964 crop. The estimated yield per acre for 1965 is 531 pounds per acre for the nation and 410 for Texas. Both are records, points out McHaney.

Domestic mill consumption of all kinds of cotton during the 1965-66 crop year is estimated at about 9.3 million bales, up only slightly from the year before. Cotton exports are expected to total about 4 million bales, approximately the same as for the 1964-65 season.

U.S. cotton continues to face more and more competition from foreign producers and exporters, explains the economist. Foreign free-world cotton production for the 1965-66 crop is now estimated at 23.2 million bales, a new record and the sixth in as many years.

The economist adds that U.S. imports of cotton textiles were at record levels during calendar year 1965. The largest imports, he says, reflect the expansion in general economic activity in the U.S., a high level of activity within the domestic textile industry, and rising cotton textile prices despite reduced raw cotton prices.

On the other hand, U.S. exports of cotton textiles for the first eight months of 1965 were down about 25 percent from a year earlier, partly as a result of rising costs for domestically-produced cotton textiles.

As for cotton prices in the year ahead, McHaney says the basic

December's Traffic Fatalities Push 1965 Death Toll to Highest on Record

A totally unexpected rash of traffic fatalities in December broke a year-long downward trend in fatal accidents and pushed the 1965 traffic toll to the highest on record, it was reported recently by Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

Garrison pointed out that 1964 recorded the highest number of fatalities in history with 3,006 deaths, and cited his Statistical Services Bureau preliminary estimate that the 1965 total will be 3,018 deaths.

He emphasized that the 1965 figure is incomplete, due to late reports which have not yet been received and deaths which might occur later. He said another preliminary report will be issued February 18 with the final official report on 1965 traffic scheduled for March 15.

As of now, 2,994 traffic fatalities have been officially recorded, only 12 less than the final count for 1964.

December 1965 was the highest death toll month on record, with at least 345 persons killed on the streets and highways in 276 fatal accidents. The highest previous monthly record was in December 1963 when 312 persons were killed in 251 accidents.

"We have already recorded 65 more fatalities for this past December than December a year ago, and it could well be that this two percent of the 1964 year total might have alone wiped out the two percent decrease we experienced during the first 11 months of the year," Garrison said.

"There is no way to pin-point any single cause for the sharp increase in traffic tragedy in December 1965. However, one factor involved was an increase in multiple fatal accidents—that is, where two or more persons were killed in a single accident.

"For instance, in December 1964, an average of 1.14 persons were killed per fatal accident, whereas the rate in December last year was 1.26 persons per accident. We have no way of telling whether this means increased velocity due to higher speeds, or whether there just happened to more people in the cars destined for fatal accidents."

Snips, Quips, And Lifts

But I'm enjoying doing these "snips, quips and lifts". I LOVE this NEWSPAPER job!

Our deeds are only our thoughts hung out so everybody can see them.

These days if you want to relax—you've got to work at it.

REMEMBER WHEN?

Netleton Industrial Museum
"In the late 1800s families drew lots to see who would wash the dishes. I certainly hope yours doesn't, because there's no need for it. There are so many advantages to the automatic electric dishwasher that I'm sure when you've heard them all you won't be able to argue yourself out of having one. For instance, dishes washed automatically turn out more sanitary than those washed by hand—that's because much hotter water can be used in the machine than on your hands. And the latest dishwashers offer cycles not only for pots and pans but fine china and crystal, also dish breakage is 1/5 that experienced when dishes are done by hand. Best of all, the kitchen stays neat and uncluttered—even after between meal snacks. There are so many advantages to automatic dishwashing, there just isn't room to list them all.
See your electrical appliance dealer and tell your family they can quit drawing lots."

STRONG CHURCHES Make STRONG COMMUNITIES

A DIFFERENT DRUMMER
THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Schleicher Oilman Bert Page, 81, Dies

Funeral services were held Sunday at the First Presbyterian Church in Eldorado for Bert Page, 81, who died Friday in Brady Hospital after a long illness. Burial was in Eldorado Cemetery.

The retired Eldorado ranchman, owned the first oil and gas discovery property in Schleicher County.

He was born Feb. 18, 1884, in Mason County, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Robert Page. His first wife, the former Johnnie F. Jones, died April 22, 1955.

He moved to Schleicher County in 1904 and acquired extensive ranch holdings prior to his retirement in 1940. In 1907, he and Mrs. Page purchased their first ranch in Schleicher and Sutton counties and later sold the ranch in 1927.

In 1928, they bought the Loftin Henderson ranch and on these holdings the first oil and gas fields in Schleicher County were discovered.

Mr. Page was a long-time member of the First Presbyterian Church, having been a founder.

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. D. E. Kinnomon of Dallas and Miss Anna Florence Page of Galveston; four sons, Robert, James, Wilson, and Paul Page, all of Eldorado; 12 grandchildren; six great grandchildren; his wife, the former Mrs. Nettie Haywood of San Antonio to whom he was married in 1960; and a brother, O. B. Page of San Angelo.

Broncos, "B" Team Place In Tourneys

by Gary McGilvray
The Sonora Broncos continued their trophy winning streak as they finished in third place in the Ozona basketball tournament played last weekend.

The Broncos were able to overcome a scrappy Van Horn team in the last two minutes of the game to become the third place champ by a score of 70 to 64.

With the score knotted at 63-63, Bill Glasscock sank a 20-foot jump shot which put the Broncos ahead to stay with time running out. Mike Wuest led in scoring for Sonora with 16 points to his credit. Glasscock had 15, Laney Cook totaled 14, and Eddie Howell netted 10.

The Broncos were thrown into the third place game after being beaten by the eventual tournament champions, Big Lake. The final score was 42-34.

Sonora rolled over Norton in a first round contest by a 82-59 score. Six Broncos were in double figures in this game. They included Grady Roe, Noe Chavez, and Wuest with 13 points each; Cook with 17; Howell with 12; and Carl Teaff with 10. Norton eventually lost to Eldorado in the consolation game.

In the second round games, Sonora bested Christoval by a score of 71-58. Cook hit 22 points, followed by Wuest with 19.

Cook was the only Bronco named to the all-tournament team. The Sonora Bronco "B" team showed its skill last week in winning the consolation bracket at the annual McCamey "B" team tournament.

The Sonora team played Van Horn "B" for the consolation honors and won by a close margin of 55 to 49. Nino Perez netted almost half the points for Sonora as he dropped in 27. J. V. Cook and Mitch Trainer were also in double figures with 14 and 13 points respectively.

The "B" teamers lost to Crane, 69-46, in the first game of the tournament to throw them into the consolation bracket. Cook led in scoring with 16 points.

In the second game Sonora beat the McCamey freshman squad by a score of 88-39. The scoring was led by Trainer with 21 points followed by Mike Gosney with 19 points.

The "B" team victory along with the varsity's third place finish in the Ozona tournament brought in two more trophies for Sonora High School this year.

John Garrison, 73, Dies in San Angelo

John E. Garrison, stepfather of Tommy Smith, was dead on arrival at Shannon Hospital January 19 after apparently suffering a heart attack.

A San Angelo resident, Mr. Garrison, 73, was a retired civil service sheet metal worker.

Services were held Friday in Robert Massie Funeral Chapel with the Rev. Norbert F. Roschke, pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church, officiating. Burial was in Lawnhaven Memorial Gardens.

He was born Oct. 22, 1892, in Olono, Ark. He had been in ill health for some time.

Survivors include his wife; two sons, Richard Garrison and Hubert Garrison, both of Fort Worth; two stepsons, John L. Smith of Moline, Ill. and Tommy Smith; two daughters, Mrs. Doris Gibbs and Mrs. Sandra James, both of San Angelo; and two stepdaughters, Mrs. Onita Hamilton of Austin and Mrs. Nova Price of San Antonio.

Boatrights Enter Fort Worth Show

Michael and Randal Boatright, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Boatright, have entered red Angus cattle in the open carcass class in competition at the 1966 Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show, January 28 through February 6.

With entries still being counted, W. R. Watt, Stock Show president and manager, is optimistic about the possibility of the final entry figure breaking the 1965 all-time record of over 11,000. Entries of poultry, rabbits and pigeons didn't close until January 15, 1966.

Exhibitors and spectators wanting to take in the Fort Worth Stock Show Rodeo will find more emphasis on "Action". Under the production of Tommy Steiner and Associates the Rodeo will feature plenty of "All Star Rodeo Action". In addition to the fast paced rodeo excitement Watt has lined up an outstanding selection of entertainment features.

Poll Tax Deadline Monday

Deadline for paying poll tax and thereby becoming a qualified voter for any election in 1966 is Monday, January 31.

Mrs. A. H. Adkins of the County sheriff tax assessor-collector's office reported Tuesday afternoon that 389 poll taxes had been sold. She said that the average sold each year is approximately 900.

Poll taxes are $1.75 and should be paid in the sheriff's office in the Courthouse.

Domestic Animals Need Vaccination

This time of the year is a particularly bad time for rabies, recently noted R. M. McCarver, city manager.

He said that there had been evidences of rabies in skunks, foxes, and other wild animals in the Sutton County area. McCarver urged all Sonorans to take preventative measures against rabies by having all household pets vaccinated.
