WHITTLIN'

BY DOLPH MOTEN

Return of basketball season has reminded us that some sports fans, mostly men, are so enslaved to habit of cigarette smoking that it's seemingly impossible for them to sit through an hour - long game in a "no - smoking" gym.

At first games we attended this season, which were here Friday night, we noticed that, even though the crowd was small, the corridor was filled with nicotine - craving fans between games and at halftimes. Some individuals couldn't even discourage the habit for a full half, but had to take a cigarette break even between quarters!

A few might argue the real reason for the rush to the hallway during breaks in the game. Reasons other than smoking might be to get coffee, which is probably worse; the fellowship of associating with other fans and conversing about the game, or just an opportunity to rest from chore of sitting on hard seats during the game's minutes of actions.

And these reasons might all be partly valid. But, we've noticed, non - smokers are far more content to keep their seats during halftime rest periods and between - game breaks than are those who smoke.

As quickly as a buzzer sounds signalling a break in action of the game, at least half the people in the crowd leave their seats for a trip to hallway in a non-hurried, but purposeful, walk. As they approach the hallway door, men are reaching for that ever-present package of cigarettes in a shirt pocket.

A cigarette bum would surely be in paradise if he stood by a gym door waiting for halftime and the opportunity to "borrow" a smoke from each in the swarm eagerly awaiting the opportunity to light up.

Such a bum would surely never be refused since those exiting from the gym are feeling their own need for a cigarette and anticipating the never - as - good - as - you - thought - it - would - be satisfaction therefrom.

An individual with enough nerve to try all the cigarette bumming he could get away with at such an occasion could probably secure enough cigarettes to open a tobacco shop. And certainly he would have ample varieties of cigarettes to offer a vast selection.

Basketball is no sport for tobacco users other than cigarette smokers. There simply isn't enough time during a half or between games for a cigar or pipe smoker to get his favorite form of tobacco really going good. A basketball game smoke is almost always of the quick, nervous variety. There's not sufficient time to relax and enjoy a smoke as cigar and pipe users prefer to do.

So people who use tobacco in these two forms have to do without their favorite method of nicotine consumption. Even if they decide to try to get in a few puffs during the short break, they discover there's considerable expense for the short amount of time involved. Their only alternatives are to do without, as we suspect most of them do, or join the great majority in going the cigarette route.

Maybe it's all in smoker's imagination, but there's much more fun to this smoking business in "no smoking" gyms. In gyms where smoking is permissible, it seems to be much less formal and serious and much more matter of course.

The idea of postponing that smoke is forgotten and smokers are probably unaware themselves of whether they are or are not smoking during an exciting contest on the playing floor. Coaches who have a nervous habit of smoking must be at a terrific disadvantage during a basketball game. They don't even get the halftime break that fans do! Maybe after a few games of denying themselves of this stupid, so-called pleasure, they don't miss it. So, Mr. Cigarette Smoker, (Continued on last page.)

Man, That's SORGHUM

"I think it's good seed and I plan to plant more next year than I did this year." That's how Roy Dodson, who farms seven miles north of Bovina, feels about P. A. G. Hybrid Sorghum.

Dodson planted P. A. G. 515 June 8 after another variety failed to come up to a stand. Harvested last of October, yield was 6600 pounds per acre. "That was best yield I had this year," Dodson says, "but it was pre-watered and then watered three times and was only part of my crop to get more than two waterings." He fertilized with 100 pounds of ammonia.

Dodson also had another field of P. A. G. 515 which was planted earlier and had a good yield. It was cut with another variety and there was no way to determine the exact yield of the P. A. G.

Dodson is one of many farmers who have found it profitable to plant P.A.G. Hybrid Sorghums.

Plan ahead for profit. Order your P. A. G. Sorghum seed now. P. A. G. offers you a Seed Replacement Program. Ask about it when you place your order.

Prospects Look Good For '62 Wheat Crop

THE HIGH PLAINS FARM AND HOME

Parmer County farmers are in line for a bumper wheat harvest in 1962, according to all present indications. Despite a dry spell during the normal planting time this year, about 98 per cent of the wheat acreage in the county is now drilled and up. Many of the wheat fields are now being grazed.

Some of the farmers with early sowed wheat were delayed in turning the cattle into the fields because of the undeveloped root system. Most of this wheat had to be irrigated before it could be used for pasture.

Some areas over the county were reported so dry that the wheat had to be "dusted in!" The wheat was sowed in the dry ground and irrigated to get it started.

"Wheat farmers took a blanket cut of 10 per cent in their wheat acreage this year, but with the proper combination of water and fertilizer they should be able to do as well as they did in the past year," Deryl Coker, county agent, said.

Wheat raisers will also receive an increased price for wheat with a sedimentation test of above 40. The tests which will affect the 1962 crops has placed the accent on quality instead of quantity. "Abundant water is not the answer for those seeking wheat with a high sedimentation test rating, either," Coker said. "Other factors such as land and fertilizer must be considered."

With the moisture we have had since the first snow Nov. 2, even the dryland wheat is in good shape, according to all reports.

Farmers who are not grazing their wheat fields are not maximizing their wheat income according to information contained in an agriculture bulletin. Figures cited by the agriculture department showed that the average worth of wheat pasture was about $10 per acre or about $2 per month per acre.

FIRM FOOTING . . . County wheat plants have developed elaborate root systems and are firmly implanted in the fields. Prior to the November snows, farmers were having to water their wheat before turning the cattle in to graze because of the fragile root system.

CHOW DOWN . . . Lush, green wheat fields provide attractive grazing for county livestock. The Agriculture Department has estimated that the average wheat field is worth $10 per acre for grazing purposes.

WITH THE COUNTY AGENT

DERYL COKER

With all the recent moisture, wheat is in fairly good shape in Parmer County, and if the weather man is right we should receive more moisture before January. If we do, we won't have to start the well till early in 1962. Fertilizer has paid big dividends where it has been properly used, and it might be a good idea for you to send in a soil sample to see if you could use some additional fertilizer on your wheat crop. The Bushland Experimental Station reports that proper amounts of fertilizer and water has increased net income by $45.00 to $50.00 per acre. $50.00 more income per acre is nothing to sneeze at, we need it. A good practice to follow is to put down 2/3 of the fertilizer prior to seeding time and the other 1/3 in the spring. It is important that the wheat doesn't run out plant food when the grain is trying to mature. If this is the case, or does happen, all the prior management practices you have practiced have been hindered or limited. Sound management practices are needed until the crop has been harvested. If you do decide to send in a soil sample, the county agent's office has a good supply of soil sample boxes available, and other information that could be helpful to you in sending in a sample. It is very important that a sample be properly taken. It costs $2.00 per sample and the address of the new soil testing laboratory in Lubbock is, Soil Testing Laboratory, Agriculture Extension Service, Rt. 3, Lubbock, Texas.

This is hunting season and each year several people are killed by carelessness of some kind. Hunting safety rules are so simple that many hunters don't bother to practice them. Every year scores of hunters fall victim to gunshot wounds, and the excuses follow the same old pattern. "I didn't know the gun was loaded". "Well, he looked just like a deer in that thick brush." And so it goes, every year. Many hunting accidents could be prevented if hunters would follow the simple rule of "Don't shoot unless you bet your life that you know what you're shooting at."

Always assume every gun is loaded until you have opened the action and looked for yourself. Before you fire a gun, make sure it is in good working order and the barrel is clear. Then there are the people who manage to shoot themselves. Climbing fences with a loaded gun, leaning one against a tree or car, or throwing a loaded gun into the car are ways to add your name to this list. The remedy for these potential accidents is simple: don't do these things and don't hunt with people who do.

There is no open season on people. Use your head and don't violate that rule, and don't let one of your friends "poach" on you.

A wren won't build its nest in that nice little bird house you hang up in the back yard unless the entrance is so small that it will keep out larger birds.

Cotton Referendum Scheduled Tuesday

A county-wide referendum on the 1962 crop of upland cotton will be conducted on Dec. 12, to determine whether marketing quotas will be in effect on such crops.

If more than two-thirds of the farmers voting over the nation approve marketing quotas, penalties will apply on farms having excess cotton acreage in 1962 and price support will be available to co-operators within the range of 65 to 95 per cent of parity, the exact level to be announced later.

If more than one-third of the farmers voting do not approve marketing quotas, there will be no penalties on the 1962 crop of cotton, and price support to co-operators will be at a rate equal to 50 per cent of parity. You may cast your ballot at any one of the following places in the county:

- ASCS Office, Farwell, Texas
- Lawlis Gin Office, Bovina, Texas
- City Hall, Friona, Texas
- Carl Schlenker's Elevator, Rhea Community
- Lazbuddie Gin, Lazbuddie, Texas

The HAPPY HOMEMAKER

BY JUNE FLOYD

Last week we ran two recipes for stew in this column and promised you two more. These recipes were lifted from Marshall Formby's booklet "Good Texas Eat'n'."

TEXAS SON-OF-A-GUN STEW

To make stew for 6-8-10 people, the following ingredients should come from one calf. The stew will be better if from a calf still on its mother's milk. However, the ingredients can be purchased from a slaughter house.

All of the tongue from the calf (the tongue to be boiled for 30 minutes then scraped good. If you are not fond of tongue, use half of it or throw away as I do.)

All of the brains from the calf—all the sweet breads; 1/2 the heart; 1/3 of the liver from the calf. (If you do not like liver taste, forget the liver.) The butcher steak - the marrow gut

The oxtail soup bone - salt and pepper
Hunk of kidney fat about the size of a croquet ball or a small spunkin.

Add meat from brisket roast or hamburger or stew meat.

If you do not put the liver in, boil it by itself for 30 to 40 minutes before you add it to the stew.

Boil the oxtail soup bone until the meat is fairly done and then take meat from bones, put in stew. Cut all of the ingredients up to hunk somewhat the size as is placed in chili, not too fine. Cook slowly 3 or 4 hours and let simmer.

Do not put the brains in until the last 30-45 minutes, as it does not take brains long to cook. Sweet breads also cook more quickly than the other ingredients.

Thanks to "Goose" Ramey of Dimmitt.

TEXAS CHILI

3 lbs. venison or beef
6 tablespoons chili powder
3 cloves garlic (minced)
6 tablespoons flour
3 tablespoons chopped suet
2 small onions (chopped)
3 tablespoons salt
6 tablespoons fat
1 quart hot water

Do not grind the meat, but cut in small chunks. Mix the meat with garlic, flour and chili powder. In a deep pot, melt the suet and fat. Fry the onions until tender, then add meat mixture. Cook for 20 minutes. Then add salt and gradually pour on the one quart of hot water. Then simmer for one hour or until the meat is tender.

If you haven't killed a deer this year, just use cheaper cuts of beef for this chili. If beef is used, forget about the suet. If you just have to ruin this good chili by adding beans, then add Mexican style beans with chili gravy.

FOOTSAVING EDUCATION

by James E. Edwards

Will Snug Shoes Stretch?

Shoes that are a trifle narrow may give enough to become comfortable. Shoe repairmen now have a chemical solution that helps stretch leather.

The need however is usually for added length since feet grow longer rather than wider. The chief obstacle to successfully stretching shoes lengthwise is a steel shank which is put in a shoe to strengthen the arch of the shoe (not the foot). A stretcher that would stretch the steel would pull the shoe apart.

tamales. It takes 3 cans of tamales for 9 persons. To me, chili is better by itself—no beans, no tamales. Chili makes you strong and keeps you healthy.

Another thing that naturally belongs to the cold season of the year is hot punch. If you don't have a recipe for cider punch, be sure to clip this one and add it to your collection.

HOT CIDER PUNCH

1 gallon cider
1 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon ground allspice
1 teaspoon whole cloves
1 8-inch stick cinnamon.

The allspice, cloves and ground cinnamon in a small cloth about six inches square. Add sugar, bag of spices and stick cinnamon to cider. Heat about 20 minutes under the boiling point or until flavor suits taste.

Longer cooking develops a more spicy flavor. Do not boil. Serve hot in teacups or punch bowl.

Apple, grape, raspberry, loganberry and other fruit juices may be used in the same way as cider. Change the amount of sugar to taste and dilute the fruit juice with hot water to suit taste.

A small amount of lemon juice may be added. Serves 20 to 25.

If you prefer spiced tea, you will enjoy using the following:

SPICED TEA

2 cups sugar
1 teaspoon ground nutmeg
1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
1 teaspoon ground allspice
4 cups cold water
1/2 cup tea leaves
10 to 12 cups boiling water
1 cup orange juice
1 cup lemon juice
1 cup pineapple juice

Boil sugar, spices and cold water for 10 minutes. Put in tea leaves which have been tied in a bag. Add boiling water, orange juice, lemon juice and pineapple juice. Let steep for 5 minutes. Pour off liquid. Reheat as needed. Yield 30 cups.

Most any farmer you talk with today will tell you that this 1961 crop is one of the least expensive he has produced in some time.

Why? There are perhaps many reasons, but one is because most farmers have not had to do a great deal of irrigating. The snows and rains have come at times when they were most needed.

Now with the 1961 crop laid-by in most communities of the High Plains, it is not too early to commence thinking about next year's plans.

NEWS FROM THE FARM BUREAU

BY RAYMOND EULER

Marketing Orders: We are not going to try to explain what marketing orders are, but we would advise every farmer, rancher and turkey and chicken raiser to study up on the definition. There is one thing we believe to be very important about them, though, and that is that it takes only two thirds of the "producers voting" to approve and begin enforcement of them (National Marketing Orders).

But once they're approved, it takes 51 per cent of all "producers" to vote them out. That means that ten or fifteen "producers" could vote them in, but it would take possibly several hundred thousand "producers" to vote them out. (This is in fine print as now proposed, according to Bill Kennedy of Farm and Ranch in a speech before Texas Farm Bureau delegates in Galveston November 14.)

When such unbelievable provisions are proposed by "planners for your future," we believe you may well spend some time in studying proposals put before you approve or disapprove them.

Locally, all organizations trying to get participation of their members in the policy development are somewhat alarmed at the apathy evidenced. We were at a meeting of the Farmer County Grain Sorghum Producers Ass'n the other night, and there were about 20 producers there.

There were few more than that at the Farm Bureau convention in October. Organization leaders always say the weather is too bad, or everyone is working late, but these factors never affect attendance at a ball game or a party. People go where they want to go when they want to nearly all the time.

We are happy to report that local officers and directors of Farm Bureau are exceptionally good at attending and participating in meetings. Something needs to be done to get the importance of taking care of business extended to organization membership.

Eighty-five per cent of the people over 65 in the United States have already made provision, or can afford to take care of themselves medically. Why a proposed compulsory federal medical care for everyone instead of the 15 per cent remaining?

The 24 to 25 per cent of agriculture (these figures are authentic) that has been operating under government control and price fixing is in much worse trouble than the 75 or 76 per cent without government control and price fixing, so why should someone try to extend the troubles to the least troubled majority with the statement that they need help? And those outside the program are there by choice and perseverance against offers of inclusion.

Consider this: "Bow down thine ear, and hear the words of the wise, and apply thine heart unto my knowledge." Proverbs 22:17.

HD Agent's Notes

BY MISS ETTIE MUSIL

Only 2 more weeks till Christmas Day! Is Christmas the most joyous season of the year at your house? Or is it a time when you spend too much, eat too much, go to bed too early, sleep too little, and simply collapse when it is all over? See if you can plan your shopping, baking, and visiting to help make your holidays go a little more smoothly.

First, start by making a list of all persons included in your family's gift giving. To include in your spending plan you need to include Christmas cards, postage, decorations, and food for entertaining. So that your Christmas cost does not skyrocket beyond reach set a cost limit on each item and total. Then follow your budget as closely as possible.

Not only is your spending important during this season, but your use of time is most important. I've heard many mothers say, "This is the busiest time of the year. We have so many parties we go to, so many extras in entertaining, and gift wrapping and cleaning." Take time out for a little while to plan a schedule when you will bake, clean house, shop, wrap gifts, or just go visiting to that dear friend.

Cut down on your shopping time by learning in advance where the items on your shopping list can be found. Watch Christmas advertisements in our local papers. Study the time you may save by having your gifts wrapped at the store. Some stores will even wrap your gifts and wrap them for mailing from the store.

Another time saver is to do some jobs now that can be done ahead of time. Baking and freezing of holiday foods can be done now. In fact, we have a very helpful free bulletin "Christmas Time At Home" that we can send to you or you may want to come by to get. This bulletin includes recipes for holiday breads, cakes, fruit cakes, Christmas pies, puddings, cookies, candies, confections, appetizers, and beverages. Also, in the bulletin are ideas for Christmas kitchen gifts. There are over 90 recipes in this attractive bulletin written by Extension Foods Specialists.

While getting ready for Christmas don't forget to watch your family's diet. Plan balanced meals for your family. Skipping meals and over indulging in Christmas "goodies" lowers resistance to colds and flu. According to the Food For Fitness daily food guide, you need 2 to 4 cups of milk, 2 or more servings of meat or beans, 4 or more servings of vegetables and fruit including potatoes, dark green or deep yellow vegetables and citrus fruit, and 4 or more servings of enriched bread or cereal.

If you are in the habit of giving rather expensive gifts to your family, you'll save much time shopping by buying U.S. Savings Bonds. This is one gift that will not break the first few days or wear out in one season. Series E bonds are bought at three-fourths of their face value and the interest accumulates until they're worth the full amount at maturity of seven years and nine months.

With this weekly visit with you I am starting my second year in the county. If you have any suggestions for information you would like to have included in these Notes do let me know. I would appreciate any ideas and suggestions.

16 Attend Clinic At Clovis

Are you planning to buy one or more large kitchen appliances in the next few months? Do you plan to use all the features on the appliance that you plan to buy? Or will these features become "gadgets" that you seldom or never use?

Sixteen Farmer County homemakers attended the county-wide all-day Large Kitchen Appliance clinic conducted Thursday, November 30 beginning at 10:00-4:15 CST in the Southwestern Public Service in Clovis, New Mexico. General considerations in buying washers, dryers, ranges, refrigerators, freezers, and dishwashers were demonstrated by area home economists.

On the program were home service advisors of the Southwestern Public Service Company, Mrs. Xie Collins of Lubbock, and Miss Earnestine Gary of Clovis. The company's home service director of Amarillo and Farmer County Home Demonstration Agent Miss Ettie Musil, also took part on the program.

At 10:00 - 11:00 Mrs. Collins compared features of low, medium, and deluxe models of dishwashers within one manufacturer's makes. She described different types and features of undercounter, cabinet or free standing, combination dishwasher-sink, or portable models. There are different loadings of these models which include top, front, or top and roll out loading. The family's needs will determine the type of dishwasher best suited for the home.

After a coffee break Miss Gary compared low, medium and deluxe price models of electric ranges. Features on these models varied with one or two ovens, grill, space needed, rotisserie, oven timer, meat thermometer, built-in or free standing, and size of surface units. Family eating habits and entertaining would determine kind of range.

Following the noon luncheon the refrigerator-freezer was demonstrated by Miss Musil. Features shown or described included size and capacity each, design, shelves, latch exterior and interior finish, fruit and vegetable compartments, and defrosting features.

To conclude the clinic Miss Bridge compared features of low, medium, and deluxe models and prices of clothes washers and dryers. These features included front and top loading washers and dryers, uses of each, washing action, water capacities, temperature controls of water and drying, dispensers, and control switch.
