When we moved here from Hondo, the first question that person after person asked was, "Oh, did you know Miss Annie Duncan there?" And then they would say, "Dear Miss Annie, I remember the time when..."

Although unfortunately I didn't know her well when we were in Hondo, I have learned since we have been here how well liked she was by the hundreds of students in her history classes during her many years at Sonora High School. Miss Annie is in the hospital now being treated for two broken bones. She broke her hip and collarbone recently while dressing for church.

Mrs. Ben Cusenbary has learned that Miss Annie is in Room 19 of Medina County Hospital in Hondo. I'm sure cards and letters from her Sutton County friends would cheer her recovery.

With political campaigns growing hotter and the May 7 primary elections fast approaching it might be well to reflect that Texas owes its statehood to an unknown grain miller in De Klab County, Indiana.

It was election day in 1844 and the miller already had decided that he would be too busy to vote. On the way to his mill, however, friends stopped him and urged him to cast his ballot first. He did, and when the ballots were counted, the winning candidate had a margin of a single vote—the one the miller had cast.

The successful candidate was U. S. Senator Edward Allen Hannegan. He happened to be presiding over the Senate when the question of statehood for Texas came to a vote. The result was a tie, but Senator Hannegan, from the chair, cast the deciding vote in favor of admitting Texas to the Union.

Your vote can be just as important in the May 7 primary. Be sure to go to the polls on that day and vote.

There are two kinds of voters... those who support your candidate and a lot of ignorant, prejudiced fools.

The typographic error is a slippery thing and sly. You can hunt till you are dizzy, but it somehow will get by. Till the forms are off the presses, it is strange how still it keeps; it shrinks down in a corner and it never stirs or peeps, the typographic error, too small for human eyes, till the ink is on the paper, when it grows to mountain size. The boss he stares with horror, then he grabs his hair and groans; the copy reader drops his head upon his hands and moans—the remainder of the issue may be clean as clean can be, but that typographic error is the only thing you see.

Voters Approve Bonds

The $450,000 school bond proposal was approved by a narrow margin in Tuesday's election, which saw more than 360 voters go to the polls.

The measure for the construction of new educational facilities and the modernization of existing facilities was submitted to Sutton County Voters in two propositions.

The first proposition, which will allow the school board to increase the tax rate above the present $1.50, passed by a vote of 196 to 169.

An 18-vote margin carried the second proposition, the $450,000 bond proposal. Unofficial tally of ballots on the measure was 194 to 176.

The bonds will finance a new multi-purpose gymnasium, new band hall, new science facilities and equipment, and new homemaking facilities, as well as relocation of the tennis courts, high school modernization, and two new classrooms and improvements at L. W. Elliott School.

The school board plans a tax increase of about 22 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

WTCC Selects W. R. Cusenbary To District Office

W. R. Cusenbary was elected a district vice-president and a director of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce at the organization's 48th annual meeting in Fort Worth April 21-23.

Chosen president was John Ben Shepperd of Odessa, former Texas attorney general and secretary of state. He was recently the speaker at the local Chamber of Commerce membership banquet here.

In the business session WTCC members voted unanimously to ask the state to locate a medical school in West Texas, stating that one is needed in the area to provide geographical balance in medical training and to help alleviate the shortage of doctors.

Another resolution asked that the new Texas master water plan encompass all areas of Texas, including certain West Texas areas which apparently have been excluded in the proposal.

Members urged Secretary of Interior Stuart Udall to include Texas in any study involving the transfer of water from any area of surplus to areas of deficit.

Delegates also voted to begin a special study of agriculture income, noting that California has pulled well ahead of Texas in this field, although the two states were about even a few years ago.

Slow Rains Soak Into Dry Ranchland

by E. B. Keng
Soil Conservation Service
Technician

Ground soaking rains fell over the Edwards Plateau soil conservation district during the weekend, bringing April rainfall to above the normal average for most areas.

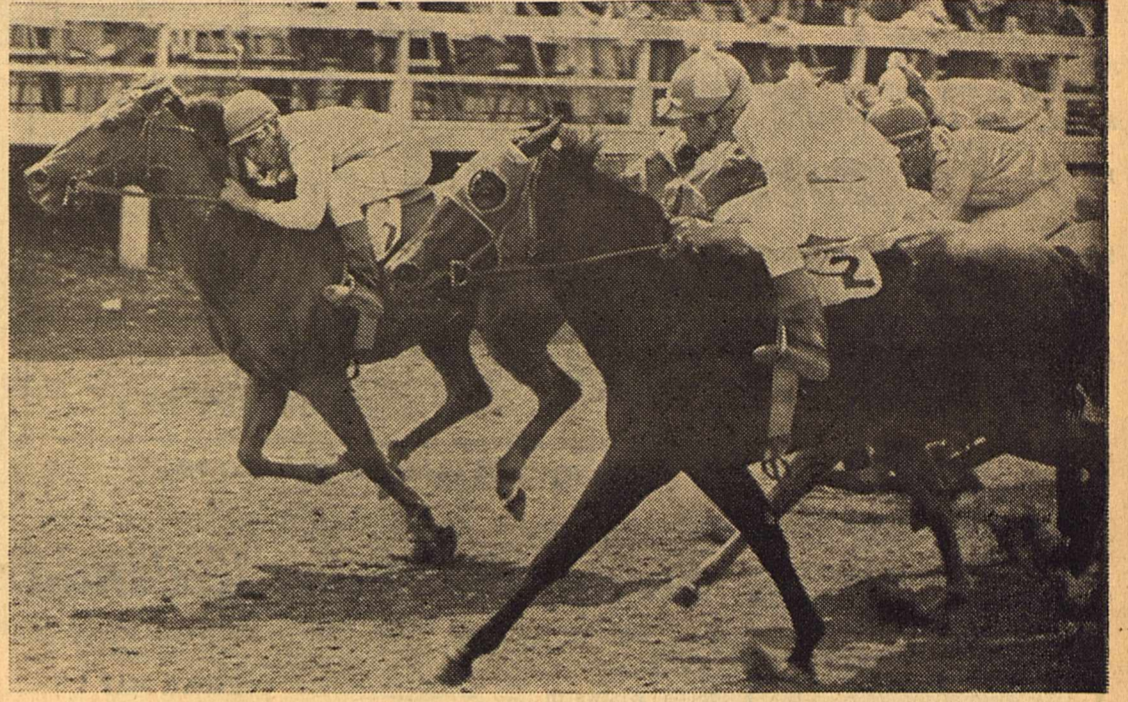

Rainfall was lighter on the western side of Sutton county, but most ranches received at least an inch from Saturday to Monday morning. The moisture fell slowly and little was lost to runoff.

Representative rainfall reports collected by the Soil Conservation Service included Harold Friess 1.5-2.0; George Brockman 1.66; Joe Hardgrave 2.25; Elmer Wilson 1.5-3.2; Bill Tittle 1.20; Buster Shroyer 1.40; W. F. Berger (O'Leary) .80;

Lin Hicks 2.00; G. H. Davis 3.10; Thomas Morriss 1.50; W. L. Davis 1.00; Herbert Fields 1.52; Bill Stewart 2.80; Fred Earwood .90; Mayer Ranch 1.30; Aldwell Bros. 1.20; Jack Turney 2.00; Mrs. Paul Turney .70-1.60; Billy Galbreath (Hdq.) 2.10-2.60; Ed Glasscock 1.00; W. B. McMillan (Hdq.) 3.00-Edwards Co. ranch 3.25; Robert Pfluger 1.90; Experiment Station 1.55-1.86.

Agricultural Research Service gauges on Lowrey Draw maintained by Lester Byer showed Joe Logan 1.27-1.32; James Hunt 1.30-1.62; Vestel Askew 1.51-1.90; W. L. Miers 1.39-1.53; Stella Keene 1.53-1.80; Hunt & Neill (Hospital) 1.72.

No runoff water was caught in flood prevention structures.

SPACE FLYER (7) EDGES AHEAD to the fastest time of the Futurity trials, 17.41, while Lady Gates 3 (2) runs a close second with 17.44 at last Saturday's Futurity trials. The two will be among ten vying for a purse of nearly $20,000 this Saturday in the Eighth Annual West Texas Quarter Horse Futurity at Sonora Park. Below, James Hunt's Barbravo finishes first in Saturday's seventh race of 350 yards for maidens 3 years up with a time of 18.69. Races are scheduled this Saturday and Sunday at 1:30 p.m.

Murder Charges Filed After Fatal Stabbing

The fatal stabbing of Simon Hernandez has resulted in charges of murder being filed against Alberto M. Luna.

Hernandez, 27, was knifed Monday about 7 p.m. in Bautista Tavern, according to Herman Moore, sheriff.

Luna, about 45, was arrested on the Velma Hunt Ranch southwest of Sonora Monday night by James Hough, Sutton County deputy sheriff, and Billy Mills, Crockett County sheriff.

Cook Qualifies For State

by Gary McGilvray
Laney Cook ran a 20.7 timing in the 180-yard low hurdles to place first in the Region I University Interscholastic League track meet held in Lubbock last Friday and Saturday. This win qualifies Cook for the State meet to be held in Austin May 6 and 7.

The meet in Lubbock was plagued by rain which hindered the other Broncos in the meet. Ben Perez who has a 20 flat clocking in the 180-yard low hurdles had bad luck when he slipped and hit a hurdle in the qualifying race.

Noe Chavez had a miss-vault in the pole vault Saturday while it was raining and injured his back. Chavez had one of the best vaults in Class A going into this meet. In the 100-yard dash Eddie Howell had to run in a wet lane in the finals of the 100 and was unable to do his best.

Although Cook will go to State in the low hurdles, he ran into problems caused by the rain. In the high hurdles finals he also slipped and fell on a muddy track and was unable to finish the race.

Magic in Meals
 Soup and sandwiches can make a magic meal in quick time. Add fruit and a beverage and it's well balanced, too.

Why not try a beef broth with noodles, some whole kernel corn and a dash of chili powder for the soup? This goes well with toasted cheese sandwiches, fresh pineapple and milk.

Shredded carrot and tuna can be added to cream of potato soup for something interesting. The sandwich? Tomato and lettuce.

A meat ball-vegetable soup doesn't need a sandwich but it's extra good with hot buttered garlic rolls or bread. Team this with a chocolate or vanilla pudding or baked custard.

Cream of spinach or asparagus soup gives real satisfaction with a bean and bacon sandwich. Add tomato slices to the sandwich for flavor and color contrast.

One of the bean soups goes nicely with hot dogs 'n' everything on a bun. Ice cream is the dessert.

Sonora Girls Place In Ozona Contest

Two quarter-horse judging teams from the Sutton County 4-H Club placed in the District 6 4-H quarter horse judging contest held in Ozona Saturday, and Debbie Galbreath was second high individual of the contest.

Debra Wardlaw, Susan Allison and Miss Galbreath placed fifth in the senior division. Suzann Shurley, Sarah Allison, Kelley Sue Sennell and Jessie McCutchen placed fifth in the junior division.

Twenty teams from Extension District 6 participated in the event. Adult leaders Gene Shurley, coach of the Sutton County team, and D. C. Langford, county agent, attended the contest with 4-H members.

Methodists Set 4th Conference Thurs.

The Rev. Kermit Gibbons, district superintendent, will officiate at the fourth quarterly conference to be held at the First Methodist Church Thursday evening.

A covered dish supper will begin at 6:30 p.m. and the conference will begin at 7:30. Drink and bread will be furnished, but those attending are requested to bring food for their family.

Allen G. Roe, pastor, requests that the official church family as well as family groups attend the conference. The nursery will be open.

SENIORS ENTERTAINED

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kelley and son, Robert, entertained the Sonora seniors with a barbecue on the river at Fort McKavett Saturday afternoon. About 30 adults and students attended.

Develop Your Own Juvenile Delinquent

PALOS VERDES ESTATES, Calif. (UPI) — A panel of psychologists at Marymount College here offered the following suggestions to develop your own juvenile delinquent.

- TAKE YOUR child's part in school and neighborhood quarrels. Let him realize that teachers are underpaid incompetents who could not hold a job elsewhere, and that neighbors are narrow-minded and envious.
- LET HIM dress and behave like a beatnik, especially when he tells you all his friends do, and he doesn't want to be different.
- ENCOURAGE HIM to avoid responsibilities. Tell him to let the "eager beavers" do it.
- DON'T TELL him he's wrong. That word "wrong" can set up serious frustrations and give him the feeling he's being persecuted.
- BE A "BUDDY." Let him treat you the way he treats his friends, call you by your first name and speak only slang. It proves you're "hep."

- LET YOUR children hear family quarrels. They'll realize that marriage isn't a bed of roses.
- LET HIM read all the filth he can buy and borrow. Otherwise, how will he be able to tell the good from the bad?
- IF HE'S a bully and a show-off, don't thwart him. It's probably a manifestation of the fact that he's a born leader.
- LET HIM postpone his chores, and postpone until they are either forgotten or you've done them.
- WHEN HE'S in real trouble—and you can bet your boots he will be—excuse it all by saying that these modern youngsters are always difficult to control, but promise this won't happen again.

THE DEVIL'S RIVER PHILOSOPHER SAYS

J. A. Scrutinizes Rising Prices

Editor's note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his bitterweed ranch on Devil's River takes a look at inflation this week.

Dear editor:

According to part of a newspaper I found out here yesterday—what happened was that the front page caught on a fence but the rest blew away—a lot of people are worried over inflation and some are blaming it on higher farm prices.

This particular article said farm prices have gone up, the price of food therefore has gone up, other items have joined the spiral, and the cost of living all around has gone up. "The answer," the article continued, but at that point it had reached the bottom of the page and said Continued On Page 12, which had blown away.

I don't know what the answer was and wasn't interested in walking across this bitterweed ranch hunting for it, but I don't believe the only way to avoid inflation is to keep farm prices low. Must be some other way.

In a depression, I can see how farm prices can be low, but to argue they've got to be low too when times are booming or otherwise we'll have inflation, is putting too much of a load on the same sore backs.

I have given this matter some thought and in the process have arrived at the final and permanent solution to the farm price problem. It'll absolutely end the system where one year a farmer gets 28 cents a pound for a hog and the next year 14 cents.

Take the wages of labor. They're tied to the Economic Index. When the cost of living advances, wages are automatically advanced too. It's in the contract. Don't even have to strike.

If farmers were smart they'd get hooked up with the Economic Index too, so that when farm prices go down, wages drop. Everybody's wages — union workers, college presidents, bank presidents, Governors.

I guarantee this will keep farm prices up to a satisfactory level from now on.

When labor leaders, executives, college presidents, television announcers, U.S. congressmen, tractor dealers, gasoline companies, etc., all get financially interested in what a dozen eggs sell for, the farm problem will be licked.

Meanwhile, tell the people not to worry too much about paying more for what they buy. Out here in the country, we've been buying high and selling cheap for years.

Yours faithfully,
 J. A.

GREEN NEWS

by Lunetta Morgan
The weather may not indicate that spring has arrived, but have you noticed the new shirts and golf shoes? Someone must know something that the weather does not.

And speaking of the weather, weren't the rains nice? Do you want to lay a bet that there will be gripes about the daisies soon? No one will be able to find his ball on number five fairway.

On the ailing list: Peggy Trainer, Sammie Espy and Bobbie Fawcett. Bobbie spent a spell in the hospital, in fact two spells.

We want to welcome a potential golfer, Eric Duncan, the new son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Duncan.

Nothing like being behind times. Just found out that the club has a new organization, The Men's Auxiliary. Some of the members are John McClelland, Jackie Sharp, John Bell and Lee Fawcett. If you would like to join, contact any of the above members.

Ladies, so sorry about the pictures taken during the tournament. It seems that only one was any good, and that was the one of Mr. King looking into the camera to see if it was working.

A twosome out early Thursday were Jane and Milton Cavaness. The report was you had to use your driver to approach from a distance of 75 yards. Seems the wind was blowing a gale.

Wednesday was Ladies' Day, and the luncheon was held at the Gulf. The Organization play was won by Sammie Espy, Ann Hill and Lunetta Morgan. Low putts for the day was won by Jo Neville.

Good news. We owe only $70 on the building, after four years, one new refrigerator, a mower and a few other costly items, plus a lot of hard work, help from Mr. Meckel and help from every member. I think it is wonderful.

Anyone for going to McCamey Saturday or Kerrville Tuesday. Let us hear from you.

Peggy Trainer won three golf balls at a recent 42 party.

Is there any insurance to cover golf carts and occupants? Anyone handling a policy of this sort might contact Faye McClelland or Frances Grobe.

Kings Host Bridge Party Saturday

Mrs. Dennie Hays won women's high score in bridge play and Dick Street won men's high score at the Saturday Night Bridge Club last week. Bingo prize was won by W. T. Black and Mrs. Black received the traveling prize.

Others attending the party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John T. King were Mr. and Mrs. Rex Lowe, Mrs. Street, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kerbow, and Mr. and Mrs.

D. C. Langford. Mr. and Mrs. King served pineapple ice box pie and coffee to their guests.

Woman's Club Plans To Install Officers

Installation of officers will be held in connection with the annual luncheon of the Sonora Woman's Club Thursday, May 5. Theme of the program will center around community leaders and supporting one's community. Mrs. C. M. Epps will lead the opening prayer.

Hostesses for the meeting will be Miss Annella Stites and Mmes. Bill Morris, George Brockman, Vestel Askew, Ben Cusenbary, Joe B. Ross, Fred D. Maxey, Bill Wade, and James Menzies.

Teen Scene

By Margaret Bundy

This week's Teen Scene "Who's Who" pictures a brother and sister. The boy is a sophomore who is fairly tall and has light brown hair, and his sister is an eighth grader and has light hair also.

Sulfur Recommended for Orchard Care

High quality, nutritious fruit can be produced in the home orchard if the fruit is kept free of diseases, twigs, blossoms and fruit are subject to attack.

He suggests that wettable sulfur, at the rate of 9 tablespoons per gallon of water, be used for controlling diseases on plum and peach trees in the home orchard. This fungicide is safe and can be mixed with recommended insecticides for insect control.

The first spray application should be made, explains the county agent, when 75 percent of the flower petals have fallen. Three additional sprays should be applied at 10 to 14 day intervals and care should be taken to see that the tree is thoroughly covered by the spray, he says.

The county agent lists brown rot as the most damaging disease of mature fruit. It is caused by a fungus which is carried over through the winter on fallen mummified fruits or on twigs and branches. The fungus becomes very active during the spring, and young twigs, blossoms and fruit are subject to attack.

Once the fungus penetrates the tissues, it is too late to prevent damage; hence, the importance of timing and following a strict spray program. The film of wettable sulfur sprayed on the tree is to ward off the penetration of the disease into the plant tissues. The repeated applications are needed at 10-14 day intervals, explains Langford, to keep the tree covered and replace sulfur lost because rain and other weather conditions wear away the film.

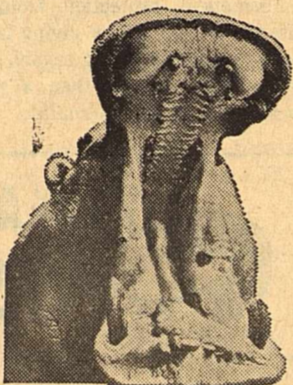

The county agent noted that he has available from his office publications on fruit and vegetable subjects, ranging from production to disease and insect control. All are free for the asking.

Two ladies were discussing what they would wear to the dance.

"We're supposed to wear something to match our husband's hair," said Mrs. Jones. "So, I'll have to wear black. What will you wear?"

"Goodness!" gasped her neighbor. "I don't think I'll go!"

One day, after an exceptionally long spell of good weather, a farmer was standing in his field gazing sadly at the bumper crop. A car stopped and the driver leaned out to congratulate the farmer on the fantastic growth of his produce. "Yes, it's true," the farmer lamented. "The vegetables are bigger and better than ever than ever, and the wheat is coming along well enough, but just think how it's exhausting the soil!"

SMU Professor To Aid in Project To Restore Fort

Dr. Edward B. Jelks, associate professor of anthropology at Southern Methodist University, has been contracted by the State Building Commission to conduct investigations of old Fort Lancaster in Crockett County in a project to restore the fort as a historic site for public exhibit.

Fort Lancaster, near Ozona on the Pecos River, was established as a frontier post in 1855 and abandoned in 1861 during the Civil War.

The Crockett County Historical Society is co-sponsoring the investigation of the site owned by the county, and Curtis Tunnel, state archeologist in Austin, will serve as advisor during the four weeks of excavations to begin early this summer.

Buildings at the fort have been leveled, and the purpose of the investigations is to determine the original architectural appearance of the stone and adobe buildings as a preliminary step toward restoration.

Following Dr. Jelks' report of the original appearance of the fort, several buildings will be restored as a first step to restoring the entire fort.

Artifacts found during the excavations will be used as exhibits to demonstrate aspects of life during the fort's existence.

Dr. Jelks will be assisted in his work by Thomas R. Hays, a Dallas SMU May graduate in archeology who plans to continue his work toward a master's degree.

Dr. Jelks, who served with the U.S. National Park Service from 1953 to 1958, participated in the restoration projects of Jamestown, Yorktown, and Signal Hill, Va.

Veterans' Education Benefits Outlined By VA Officials

Post-Korean veterans planning to take advantage of the educational provisions of the new GI Bill should bear in mind certain restrictions, P. J. Mims, Manager of the Veterans Administration Regional Office in Houston said today.

The new bill does not permit apprenticeship courses and other on-the-job or on-the-farm training, such as were authorized under previous GI Bills.

Flight training by itself alone will not be permitted. It will become authorized only when it is part of a complete college or university program leading to a definite degree.

Veterans discharged from the Armed Forces after January 31, 1955, will be eligible to begin courses after June 1, 1966. Full information may be obtained in any VA office and in most colleges and educational centers.

Applications are available in most colleges, County Veterans Service Officers, American Red Cross Chapters, and VA Offices, Houston and San Antonio, Texas.

Neither are you entitled to payment merely because your injury happened to occur on government property. You must also have a legitimate cause for complaint. For example, a sightseer who slipped and fell in a corridor of the Capitol building was denied damages from the government, because there simply wasn't anything wrong with the floor.

It is in the ordinary negligence situations that you now have a right to sue Uncle Sam. To illustrate:

A motorist won damages from the government after his car was struck by a careless FBI agent.

A woman won damages from the government after she lost her footing and was injured on a slippery ramp at a Veterans' Hospital.

And a woman won damages from the government after a faulty window at the local post office came crashing down on her fingers.

In other words, nowadays the "King" not only can do wrong but also can be made to pay for it.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Suing Uncle Sam Camping out in Yellowstone National Park, a man was attacked during the night by a rambunctious black bear.

Later he sued the federal government for damages, blaming Park Rangers for not warning him of an outbreak of similar attacks in the area.

Until recent years such a claim would have been tossed out of court. Even if the government's employees had been guilty of negligence, a lawsuit was blocked by the ancient doctrine that "the King (that is, the government) can do no wrong."

A victim's only hope then was to be compensated by a special act of Congress.

But in 1946, Congress passed the Federal Tort Claims Act, opening the door for the first time to suits of this kind. The bear-bitten camper in the case above, suing under the Act, did win substantial damages for his injuries.

By and large, the Tort Claims Act is limited to cases of negligence. Thus it does not let you collect for various intentional wrongs by government employees, such as assault and battery or false imprisonment.

Nor does it extend to injuries caused by decisions made at the higher levels of government, such as a decision to conduct nuclear tests in Nevada.

Neither are you entitled to payment merely because your injury happened to occur on government property. You must also have a legitimate cause for complaint. For example, a sightseer who slipped and fell in a corridor of the Capitol building was denied damages from the government, because there simply wasn't anything wrong with the floor.

Headache Plagues 20th Century Man

Headache is one of the most common complaints of 20th century man.

Headache is not a disease by itself but rather a symptom of a disease or a functional disturbance, says Today's Health Guide, the American Medical Association's manual of health information for the American family.

Thanks to recent research, the diagnosis of a headache has become more exact and its treatment more certain than ever before.

Tension headaches and headaches of emotional origin are extremely common. They occur in normal persons as well as those afflicted by emotional problems.

In many instances, the emotional difficulty is unknown. The chronic wear-and-tear of everyday living is enough to tax a person and produce his headache.

Headache victims with emotional problems are best treated in the doctor's office. One of his main tasks is to understand the origin and development of the complaint in relation to the patient's work, social position and family attachments. Patients who can be given insight into their own reactions to daily living can be shown how to reduce or avoid tensions.

In contrast to headaches of emotional origin, a headache can warn of a more serious disease.

that something is fundamentally wrong with the brain. No chronic headache should be dismissed without investigating the possibility of its having a serious cause.

Headaches due to eyestrain can be corrected by proper glasses. Each case of migraine headache should be studied by a physician to determine its underlying cause.

Diseases of the nerves leading to the head and face, as well as infections of the ear, nose, throat and sinuses, can also cause headaches. In addition, some headaches are caused by such diseases as influenza, pneumonia and measles.

Prolonged self-treatment of headache with pills or powders is unwise. The pill may mask symptoms of a more serious disease.

YOUR MINISTER SAYS

by the Rev. Arno Melz pastor, Hope Lutheran Church
"Everyone that is of the truth hearth My voice Pilate said unto Him, what is truth?" Matthew 18:37-38

In these times of moral decay, spiritual neglect and godless living we might ask as did Pilate, "what is truth?" What or who can we trust anymore. Pilate questioned Jesus when He said I am a King. Today people are questioning God's Word, saying which part can we believe? Jesus replied, those that accept My Word know the truth.

The question we must answer is this: was Jesus a liar? Was Jesus lying to Pilate, to His disciples, to the world, when He said He was the promised king, the very Son of God? If Jesus was lying, then

His Heavenly Father also lied when He said, "This is My beloved Son in whom I am well pleased." But, of course, no one but the very ignorant would ever think that Jesus was a liar.
What is truth; Jesus tells us, God's Word is truth. The promise of forgiveness is truth. The events of the crucifixion, death and resurrection of Jesus to pay the price for sin, are truth. The Words of God saying this is the only way of getting to heaven are truth. Those who accept this truth will be forgiven and live as God's children.

It is easy to determine those who think Jesus is a liar, and those who accept His word as truth. Those who accept His word will live according to it. Those who do not accept His Word as truth try to get to heaven by their own good deeds. They ignore His command to hear His Word. They are too busy for Bible study in their homes or at church. They ignore the invitation to come to Him in prayer.

Does your way of life reveal that you think Jesus is a liar? Jesus said if you do not hear My Word, you are not My disciple. If you do not accept the promises of Jesus, you are robbing yourself of God's comfort on earth, and bringing upon yourself His wrath and punishment in the hereafter. Accept the promise of Jesus as truth; hear His Word and live according to it. Then you shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free. Amen!

Wonderful in fair weather, too. When the weather is foul, as it is so often in winter, an automatic washer and flameless electric dryer guarantee a constant supply of fresh-smelling, fluffy-dry clothes. With your own automatic electric laundry, you just pop the family wash in the washer, set the dial and go about your other chores. Drying clothes is no problem either—pop them in—set the dial—then do some other little chore for the family, you have been "putting off." Cleaning Up Sonora Pondered at CofC Committee Meeting

"How are you going to tell people to clean up?" This was the most pointed question discussed when the civic affairs committee of the Chamber of Commerce met at the Holiday Host Restaurant April 21 to talk over ways to make Sonora more attractive.

The Rev. Rollin Polk showed color slides to demonstrate the house-cleaning need of both individuals and businesses in Sonora. Examples ranged from property of owners who had moved away to residences whose owners had become blind to the eyesore caused by trash and junk. A presentation to various clubs and organizations will be planned around the slides.

Your Chamber of Commerce

by Bob Johnson, manager
Two young graduate engineers and their families will move to Sonora about May 1—if they can find suitable houses to rent. They will work for the State Highway Department and will be here for several years if they do come. What state of repair is your rent house in, and is it listed with the Chamber?

The Civic Affairs Committee, chaired by the Rev. Rollin Polk, met last Thursday evening to review the purpose and functions of the committee and to develop plans for its future activities. Its major function will be to develop plans for city beautification under the program OPERATION SPARKLE, which is a contest among West Texas cities to see which can make the most improvements in the next two years. Mr. Polk illustrated the need for improvements all over town by showing color slides of specific examples in every area of the city.

He established nine sub-committees to carry out the CA Committee's work in various areas of the program and appointed a member of the CA Committee as chairman of each sub-committee. Sub-committee chairmen will select others to work with them in their area. Present at the meeting were Mrs. Robert Halbert, Mrs. George Brockman, Mrs. Bob Johnson, John T. King Sam Perez, Bob Johnson, and Buster Shroyer.

The Tourist Committee met Monday morning to hear a representative of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce explain what a tourist clinic is, how it is operated and why one should be conducted in Sonora soon. The committee is enthusiastic about holding a clinic here and, if possible, will hold one. More on this after the plan has been developed.

THIS WEEK WE WELCOME THE HOUSE OF DRAKE as a new member. Bill Drake, owner of that professional upholstering business, joined the Chamber with the comment that he likes everything about Sonora and wants to do his part in helping the community grow.

Ranchmen, 4-H's Urged To Save Fleeces for Show

"Shearing season is in full swing at the present time and ranchers and 4-H members are urged to save their top quality fleeces for the 29th Annual Sonora Wool and Mohair Show," says D. C. Langford, county agent. The show will be held June 14-16 at Sonora Wool and Mohair Company.

"This show provides an opportunity for adult and junior producers to advertise the excellent quality wool and mohair that is being produced in Sutton County," Langford comments.

Further information about the show may be obtained at Sonora Wool and Mohair Company or from Langford.
