Broncos Play Wink Friday To Decide Bi-District Title

After nine hard-played games the Broncos have progressed into the coveted Bi-District playoffs.

The Broncos are scheduled to meet Wink in their first post-season game here, Friday, at 3 p.m. Wink, winners in District 7-A, were wrapped up in a three way tie with Clint and Canutillo, in far West Texas. Wink, however, beat Clint in their last game of the season, and won the toss of the coin to see who would represent 7-A in Bi-district play.

Pre-season reports gave Wink the nod for a title win over Clint in their district but added that the Wildcats would suffer from lack of experience with only five lettermen returning to the squad. Wink promises to be strong at tackles with Rodney Green (6-2, 210) and Roddy McIver along with Jack Dorman at the end. Also strong will be guard Harley Davis and center Jerry Hadley.

In the backfield the fastest Wildcats are Doug Spurrier and Danny Tidwell.

Sonora will be betting on their well-rounded offense to combat any tough defense the Wildcats might throw up.

Season statistics do not indicate that Wink is as strong as Sonora but competitive spirit could make the difference.

Game time for the Bi-District game has been changed from the normal 7:30 p.m. time to 8 p.m. Reserved seat tickets will be $2.00.

County Agent Urges Brucellosis Tests

Sutton County is due for recertification as a "modified certified Brucellosis area" on November 18, according to County Agent D. C. Langford.

Records of the Texas Animal Health Commission show that a total of 90 herds of 583 cattle were tested under the market testing program, revealing two reactions for the period from November 18, 1963 to the present date. One other complete herd test was made during this period with no reaction being registered.

The TAHC indicates that there are 259 herds with 20,015 cattle in the county. Fifteen percent of these cattle have not been tested since 1963, so it is necessary for tests to be run on 34 additional herds between November 15 and December 7 this year in order for Sutton County to remain a modified certified area.

CINDERS

by Jim Barnett

Everyone, at some time or another comments that they should write a book. Many of us probably have had enough experiences to write about something, but never do. Most of us, including myself, lean too much to procrastination... man's oldest evil of putting things off until "manana".

Norman Rousselet seems to have beat the "old evil" with the publication of his book, "Horses and Horses". The book is a short collection of his own verses about horses and written with the youngsters in mind.

I sometimes think that with all of the material written and published each year, the children are often left with the short end of the stick, with very few good things written just for them.

Not only do they often get left out when it comes to reading material, they often are subjected to things that are done for commercial gain.

Norm's book has proven, to me at least, that good books can be provided for youngsters without commercialism, and also appeal a little bit to adults too.

Hunters Cautioned To Complete Tags Or Risk Charges

Nolan Johnson, game warden, warned hunters Wednesday that in the future he would file on those who filled out game tags improperly.

Johnson said that tags were not being filled out fully or not filled out at all so that they could be used on more than one occasion. He said that this was a direct violation of the law and that many of the people he checked were not observing these requirements even though printed on the hunting license. Fines range from $10 to $200 depending on circumstances.

HARK... THE INTREPID HUNTER of Sutton County, Big Bob (Teaff), has awaked from his secret snooze and is in hot pursuit of the prize kill of the season, Ole Buck. Will Big Bob discover Ole Buck's secret hiding place? Will Ole Buck eluded this daring and skilled tracker, a proven marksman? These questions are revived weekly in the minds and lives of thousands of compadres who join Big Bob in his yearly autumn stalk.

Hunters Have Big Week, Over 339 Deer Killed

"Deer hunting has been good for both the hunters and Sonora", Chamber of Commerce Manager, Bob Johnson said yesterday. He added that, "Hunters have had good kills despite the warm weather we had for the opening weekend."

In the Chamber of Commerce office, a chart showing the available leases, their fees and their locations indicated that 25 ranches were offering leases and of these about 15 had doe permits available.

All of the ranches listed on the chart were filled up with hunters for the first weekend. About half of the leases are already filled for the second weekend and a few are filled for the Thanksgiving holidays. Bob Johnson stresses, however, that there is adequate day hunting available on most weekdays.

The officials of the Parks and Wildlife Department have urged hunters to use their deer tags in the proper manner. They urge hunters to not only fill out their tags properly and fix them to the carcass securely, but to also punch or cut the date of the kill on the tag as it is indicated. They also ask that hunters be careful in their choice of tags attached to the hunting license. One of the tags is to be used with doe or antlerless deer only, and then only when the hunter has in his possession a doe permit issued by the landowner.

Many of the local merchants report good sales to hunters and many of the motels report that vacancies were scarce during the past weekend. Cafes and restaurants have also been doing well with the hunting trade.

The week's kill is estimated to be at least 339 deer according to figures from the local locker plants. The number of deer killed in the county and transported to other areas is unknown.

Bob Johnson said that even higher kills are expected when the deer begin to move more with the advance of colder weather.

Mrs. Si Loeffler was the first to arrive at the Branding Iron Smoke House with a deer, but in haste she forgot to tag the animal. When she returned with the tag attached she found that Omer Halfmann of Olfen had brought in a 6-point buck at 8:45. He made the kill on the Alvis Johnson ranch.

Broncos Scalp Iraan Braves 45-10 For Ninth Win Of Season Friday

After a slow-starting first quarter the Sonora Broncos racked up 45 points to beat the tough Iraan Braves Friday.

The Braves got on the scoreboard first in the first quarter with a 20-yard field goal. Their drive from the midfield stripe had bogged-down at the twenty and their kick came on fourth down with long yardage for a first.

Bronco halfback, Ed Lee Renfro finally got the Sonora scoring machine going on a sweep of right end which carried into the end zone from the Sonora 40-yard line. Quarterback, Laney Cook's extra point kick failed, to give the Broncos a slim, 6-3 lead.

One of the most exciting plays of the game came on the following kickoff return. The Bronco kick was taken deep in Brave territory, and handed off three times. With the Bronco defense completely confused, Brave back, Roger Wortham ran the ball back to midfield, before the defensive team could get organized. The play, however, was called back to the 20-yard line on a clipping penalty.

In the early second quarter, with long gainers on a run by Renfro and a long Cook to Noe Chavez aerial, the Broncos moved 60 yards for their second score. Laney Cook pushed the ball over from the one-yard line on a quarterback sneak. On a quarterback keeper play, Cook swept left end for the two-point conversion to make the score 14-3.

The second score of the second quarter came on the Broncos standard pass play with Laney Cook dropping back and throwing long to Noe Chavez. Chavez took the catch for a 30-yard touchdown play. Cook's kick was good for the extra point to make the score 21-3.

Laney Cook caught Renfro completely open in the Iraan secondary on a 25-yard pass and Renfro jugged the remaining 20 yards into the end zone for the third score of the second quarter. David Wuest came into the line-up for the extra point but his kick failed.

The Broncos got another drive going before the end of the half, going deep into Brave territory. Cook's quarterback sneak was good from the one-yard line for the last score of the first half. The extra point try failed.

Early in the second half, a Bronco fumble on their own 20-yard line set up an Iraan score. After driving to the Sonora 3, Iraan Back, Roger Wortham drove over for the score. Their extra point was good to raise their total to 10 and end the scoring in the third quarter.

The fourth quarter gave the Broncos an opportunity to score in every way possible. A touchdown pass from Cook to Chavez from the Iraan 30 followed by Cook's extra point kick started it off. Following the score, the Bronco defensive team caught a Brave in his own end zone for a two-point safety.

On the next set of downs for the Broncos, J. V. Cook connected with a 20-yard pass to Richard Perez. Perez caught the ball with one hand on the Iraan 40 and was in the clear but fell down on the 35-yard line.

Again J. V. Cook found Perez in the open and tossed a 40-yard pass which was complete just short of the goal.

With minutes left in the game, Laney Cook came in with the kicking tee to attempt a field goal. The attempt from the one-yard line was good and the final score was 45-10.

THE MODEL DEER HUNTER

With the hunting season open there are a few rules and courtesies the hunter should follow to insure a successful hunt for all concerned.

A word-picture of the ideal hunter-sportsman should look like this:

- He makes supreme safety a top target;
- He is never careless with fire in any form, afield or in camp;
- He is considerate of the land owner at all times, meticulously closing gates, never firing toward buildings or livestock;
- He practices conservation even to painstakingly dressing his kill and protecting the meat;
- He makes certain that his deer is properly tagged;

- He leaves a forwarding address to spare authorities in the hunting country from trying to locate him during home emergencies;
- He is particularly alert about NOT littering someone else's property with bottles, cans, paper or other debris;
- He practices good sportsmanship and does NOT try to claim another's kill;
- He shares his hunting privileges with his boy and, all things being equal, with his wife;
- He never inspects, much less demonstrates, another's gun unless permitted to do so;
- He faithfully makes a maximum effort to retrieve a wounded deer;
- He carries adequate emergency equipment and supplies for first aid or for tiding over in the event of becoming lost;
- He chooses his hunting companions carefully, for the protection of all;
- He never permits his loud nighttime carousing to disturb companions bent on hunting daytimes rather than on nocturnal nonsense;
- He always remembers that Department field personnel are there

DEVIL'S RIVER PHILOSOPHER SEZ: Politics Like Farming

Editor's note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his bitterweed ranch on Dry Devil's River takes a look at a new piece of legislation.

Dear editor:
Now that the elections are over I can get around to a piece of news I read in a newspaper a few weeks ago.

According to it, Congress has passed a bill allowing tax payers to indicate on their income tax form that they want one dollar of their money to go to financing the next presidential campaign.

It's figured that if 60 million people do this, the number who file income tax reports, that'll give 30 million apiece to the Democrats and the Republicans, so they can finance their campaigns without becoming beholden to private contributors.

I have thought about this and, in the same way I handle most big problems, have come to no conclusions.

At the same time, however, I can detect a possible trend. If the people are going to be taxed, and that's what it amounts to, to finance the Presidential campaigns, what's going to keep Senators, then Congressmen, then Governors, then State Representatives, then Sheriffs, then Constables and Justice of the Peace, from thinking up the idea of getting in on the same deal?

And if the people are taxed to finance all campaigns, wouldn't this mean politicians could start raising your taxes even before they get in office? Some people would say this would be giving them an unfair headstart.

On the other hand, everybody knows the oddities of the present system, where a man will spend 50 times as much to get elected as the office pays. Outside of farming, I guess politics is the only profession where you can spend more than the job pays and still stay in business. I can tell you how this can be done in farming, but am unequipped to tell you how it can be swung in politics.

I don't have any answers to these problems, but the fact remains it costs more and more to get a man elected, and sometimes a lot more than that to allow him to stay there.

Yours Faithfully

FAMILY POT LUCK

BY HELEN HALE

Vegetable Variations
Baked acorn squash halves are popular. Try serving them with cooked sausage balls in the center and glazed apple slices as a fruit garnish. The apple slices may be tinted with cinnamon candies cooked in the syrup.

Carrot circles and cauliflower-ettes make a pretty vegetable combo. Cook them separately, serve together.

Serve a vegetable plate with color in mind: breaded, sauteed eggplant slices, broiled tomatoes, cooked broccoli spears and creamed potatoes.

When you want to get fancy, bake spinach souffle in a well-buttered ring mold. Serve with creamed mushrooms in the center.

Make vegetable kabobs to put around the meat platter: thread small artichoke hearts, with tomato sections, brush with butter and broil for 6 to 8 minutes.

Sweet potatoes, cut in pieces, pineapple chunks and pecans with brown sugar make a wonderful casserole.

Helen's Favorite: Blueberry Fritters (Makes 24)

- 1 cup packaged pancake mix
- 1 egg beaten
- 1/2 cup milk
- 1 cup drained, canned blueberries

Place pancake mixture in a bowl. Add egg and milk, mixing until batter is fairly smooth. Lightly stir in blueberries. Let stand 5 minutes. Drop batter by spoonfuls into deep, hot fat (375° F.). Fry about 1 1/2 minutes per side. Drain on absorbent paper. Serve with meat course.

A Parson's Eye View of Sonora

by the Rev. Ross Welch. These are exciting days for Sonora football fans. We cannot predict honestly that this week's game will be a very close contest. Sonora has one of the best Class A records of the sixteen teams going into district play off. Wink has the poorest. Wink may surprise us and offer stiffer competition than appears likely, and it would be good for our boys to face some strong team in the bi-district to prepare them for what lies ahead. But, judging without having seen them play, we guess any of the teams we played early in the season could out-play Wink.

If you haven't noticed the mums in front of the Baptist Parsonage, take the time to drive by and look at them before a killing freeze gets them. There are many colors and they are all beautiful. How would you like for a football team to come and spend the week-end with you? There were really only ten and two of them are children.

Feeding them was not such a problem meat wise, thanks to Bob Halbert, who had a Lion's-Auction goat put in our box at the locker plant. Ruby Stephens had sent a pecan pie over that took care of Sunday dinner dessert.

I was reminded of an old uncle who used to invite guests to dinner rather free-handedly and always ended his invitation with these words "We'll see what the neighbors have brought in."

It had been quite a spell since we had experienced such an invasion, and it made it feel like old times. The gang got in a visit to the Sonora Caverns Saturday night and at the Bill Whitehead Ranch Sunday afternoon.

The group came from St. Mark's Methodist Church in San Antonio, but many of them were from Northern states so the experience was for them both novel and exciting.

Warm weather was blamed for a relatively light kill of deer over the first week-end of the season. Some weekend hunters apparently set up a deer hunting camp at one of our roadside parks on the Del Rio Highway. We do not know on whose land they were hunting, but they evidently made a good kill. One thing is sure, the weather will get colder and the deer are plentiful. So there is still good hunting ahead.

In spite of the absence of some regulars, church attendance wasn't bad Sunday. Some at our church were giving undue credit to a previous statement made by this parson. If the men were all as smart as Mrs. Si Loeffler, they would have had one staked out and killed him Saturday morning. In her haste to get him registered as the first deer killed in Sutton County, Esther forgot her tags and while she was gone back for one, someone got ahead of her.

Anyway she got her picture in the Standard. Don't forget the Community Thanksgiving Service at the First Baptist Church next Wednesday evening, sponsored by the Sonora Ministerial Alliance.

Rollin Polk showed some slides on the Thanksgiving theme at the youth meetings Sunday night. One of the scenes depicted the Pilgrims initiating the Thanksgiving Harvest Festival on American soil after they had gathered their first harvest. On the hill in the background there are about as many grave-stones as there are survivors in the foreground. We can not be truly thankful until we stop to count the cost.

We quoted an old Scandanavian proverb Sunday which said "The north winds made the Vikings great." Anyone who has lived near the Arctic Circle knows that the north winds are not pleasant companions.

The north winds probably froze a good many Vikings, but they insured that those who survived them were cut in an heroic mold.

We hope you will fill the Baptist Sanctuary next Wednesday evening not because this parson was selected to give the sermon but because it is your opportunity to witness to the fact that you owe a debt of gratitude to men of all faiths and to the God of all faiths, who assisted them and to whom they looked for strength to carry on in the face of drouth and hardship. We are debtors to the men of faith, many of whom rest in our cemetary, who were the pioneers in Sutton County. To fail to honor them in public acts of appreciation and thanksgiving, would be unthinking.

George Stewart, good shepherd of the Good Shepherd Presbyterian congregation, seems to be one of the top pastors in his denomination in the area of church camping. He has been in charge of developing a camp on the Presbytery level in New Mexico. He has been the past few days at a camp in East Texas, sponsored by top national leaders in camping.

We cannot figure out who that philosopher from the bitterweed ranch could be. From the response we have had to our contribution to the "Devil," we have reached the conclusion that every family in Sutton County must take the paper.

Some folk put books of poetry in the bathroom. Someone left a stack of last year's "Devils" in my restroom at the Church; and I find them interesting reading a year later. For example, I see history about to repeat itself as I read the headline of the Nov. 25, 1965 issue, "SONORA ELIMINATES CLINT" in bi-district play, 40-6.

Thanks to this medium, I no longer meet strangers in Sutton County. I still get introduced to people even some of my church members whose faces I have not seen before, but almost invariably they remark about the fact that we are already friends, because they had looked with me through the Parson's Eye.

Hope Lutheran Sets Special Services

A special Thanksgiving service will be held at 11 a.m. Thursday, November 24, at Hope Lutheran Church. The Rev. Arno Melz, pastor, will deliver the message.

He said that past attendance had been good at the service and invited the public to attend.

Mrs. Ernest Conn and Mrs. Monty Yantis of San Angelo spent the weekend in Dallas with the Emmett Collins. They also visited a friend in Terrell.

YOUR MINISTER SAYS

by the Rev. Arno Melz Pastor, Hope Lutheran Church

"And they continued steadfast in the Apostles' doctrine and fellowship, and in the breaking of bread and in prayers." Acts 2:42

Sonora has many beautiful and expensive church buildings. Our churches stand as reminders that in our community there are people who believe in God and gather to hear His word. Churches are not here only to beautify our community; but also serve as a gathering place for Christian fellowship.

This is one of the key thoughts of the above Bible passage. The early Christians continued to gather for worship because they needed fellowship. They had a very difficult life; their faith was weak, their numbers small, and the government was opposed to them. The trials and hardships were easier to endure in groups, so they gathered with those who had the same problems and the same faith.

Today you hear the cry, I don't go to church, but I can worship as well at home. I can read my Bible and say my prayers, and even sing hymns. Some even listen to sermons on the radio. These things are all fine if they are done, but so often they aren't. Even doing these things leaves one desiring the need of fellowship.

I am told that in the hills of South Dakota there is a man who has been a hermit most of his life. He comes to town only once a year and then only briefly. By nature few of us care for such isolation. We want friends and fellowship.

God in His wisdom set up the church to fill this need. When we attend church we have fellowship with God and man. If you have neglected your church attendance, you have cut yourself off from this fellowship. You have robbed yourself of a real source of comfort.

If you are looking for this fellowship you may find it among people who accept Jesus as their Savior, and follow the word of God. Find this fellowship this week by attending the church of your choice. Amen.

Mr. and Mrs. Royce Regeon and children, Nanetta, Resa, and Rhonda, and Mrs. Eula Regeon, Bob West, Marvin and Mike Jones, all of San Antonio, and Don Parks of Houston visited the Cashes Taylors over the weekend.

Doubt Not

"But let him ask in faith, with no doubting, for he who doubts is like a wave of the sea that is driven and tossed by the wind." - James 1:6

If trouble is your lot, do not despair and flounder upon the sea of hopelessness. Look up, have faith. Believe that God has not deserted you. Build a strong attitude toward your problems, toward doing something about them. Work, don't wait. Hope, do not despair. Put forth some effort and before you know it you will somewhere find a ray of sunshine.

Medicare Officials Issue Warnings Against Frauds

If someone comes to your door and says he is from the social security or medicare office, ask to see his credentials, social security district manager Ted F. Moellering advised senior citizens in the Sonora area today.

Mr. Moellering said that there have been scattered instances around the country in which confidence men have used medicare as a pretense for getting money from social security and medicare beneficiaries. There have been no incidents in Sonora so far,

Mr. Moellering said. In issuing his reminder, Mr. Moellering said he did not wish to alarm local elderly people but just to put them on notice so that they would not be victimized.

He cited one instance in California where an alert woman was responsible for the capture of three burglary suspects. Three men posing as medicare investigators left her home when she asked to see their identification. She called the police and they picked up the men who had used medicare as an excuse to enter several homes and steal articles of value. "Ask for identification if someone comes to your house and says he is a social security representative," Mr. Moellering emphasized. If you have reason to doubt his identity, call the social security office to see if they sent him out to see you. And remember, no social security employee will ask you to give him money to have something done.

Heavy Vegetation Makes Fire Hazard

An unusually heavy growth of vegetation could provide a dangerous range fire hazard if the weather continues dry, cautioned the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department as the major hunting season gets underway.

It particularly asked for the cooperation of deer hunters camping out and hunters accustomed to flicking a lighted cigaret away.

The Department emphasized that a raging range fire would destroy game and livestock forage and could destroy farm and ranch property as well as the hunter's own camp.

Loss to wildlife habitat from carelessly started fires sometimes is heavy during hunting seasons.

Doctors Advise Measles Vaccine

No longer is it necessary for your child to have measles.

All that's needed is immunization against this disease that once was taken for granted as one of the hazards of growing up.

A veteran medical expert on communicable disease said this fall that measles could be eradicated in the United States in a relatively short time if all young children were immunized.

Already more than 12 million American children have been immunized against measles since a vaccine was licensed in 1963, and the disease has dropped to a mere fraction of its once high incidence.

Doctors have long known that measles is sometimes a much more serious disease than many parents realized. True, most children recover from measles in a short time and with no ill effects. However, in recent years deaths attributed to measles have averaged more than 400 per year, and other non-fatal effects have caused serious health problems for many more children.

Even though deaths and serious after effects are not particularly common among children who get measles, it isn't wise to take a chance. And it isn't necessary to take a chance.

The American Academy of Pediatrics, the professional society of the physicians who specialize in health problems of children, recommends that the measles vaccine be given at the age of about 12 months. If your infant is routinely under the care of a physician, the chances are he will give measles vaccine at the proper time.

But if your child is past the age of 12 months and hasn't yet been immunized against measles, don't delay. Call your physician and ask his advice about measles shots. There are several different types of measles vaccine available. Your doctor will select the vaccine that will be best for your child.
