Broncos Meet Seagraves Saturday For Regional Tilt

After their Bi-District win over the Wink Wildcats here Friday, the Broncos will meet Seagraves next week on neutral ground in Andrews.

Seagraves, who was unranked before the season began, won District 5-A and defeated the District 6-A winner, Rotan, last Friday 14-0 in Bi-District play.

Rotan was ranked in seventh place among Class A teams with in the state before the season.

Players to watch in the coming conflict will be Seagraves' All-District tackle, Gary Burnett (6-J, 200) and the top-notch backfield team of quarterback Jerry Hoover and halfback Terry Cummings. Seagraves will also have five offensive and eight defensive veterans playing this season.

Evaluation wise, Seagraves is difficult to judge or to compare with other teams. They have proven their worth by winning their district, coming from an unranked position, and by defeating ranked Rotan in Bi-District.

Game time will be at 7:30 p.m. Saturday in Andrews. The time and place of the game was decided in McCamey last Sunday in a meeting of officials of Seagraves High School and Sonora representatives, Rex Lowe, Doyle Morgan and Coach Jerry Hopkins.

CINDERS

by Jim Barnett

Thanksgiving and happiness seem to go hand-in-hand; at least it seems they should.

C. F. Adams, in his book "Forty Years a Fool", conveys a message about the subject that sums up many of our ideas about what happiness should mean.

He said, "... laughter, a beam of sunshine, a sweet wild flower, will add a measure of happiness to its sum and substance well worth seeking".

Charlie Adams wrote something else which might be an appropriate thought too: "It isn't worth anything to be a grouch, to sour away prematurely, to turn your eyes from the circus parade every time it passes by".

Maybe Adams wasn't really "Forty Years a Fool", because he at least knew something about happiness.

Home of D. L. Locklin Robbed Friday

A theft from the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Locklin resulted in the loss of three pistols, one an antique Colt .44 which is estimated to be about 100 years old, Mrs. Locklin's purse with all of its contents and a small, wooden jewelry box.

The theft apparently happened while the Locklins were at the Friday night football game. Mrs. Locklin said she suspected their back door had been forced with a screwdriver-like instrument. When they entered the house they found a typewriter on the floor. They suspect the thieves or thief of placing it there when he heard them drive up to the house.

The thieves had apparently been searching the Locklin home for money because many valuable items were overlooked, Mrs. Locklin said. In the same case with the pistols were several rifles which were left apparently untouched. A camera which was among some luggage in one of their closets was also not touched even though the suitcases had been searched.

A cedar chest which was latched but not locked was forced open and searched. The small jewelry box which was taken was on top of the cedar chest. Mrs. Locklin said the small box contained some mementos which were valuable only to her.

Boys Ranch Names New Student Center

The building will be erected to honor PFC Allen F. Scranton who was killed in Viet Nam last June 5 and will be called Scranton Memorial Hall.

Student center facilities valued at $40,000 were lost in a fire in May of 1966 and will be replaced with the new structure.

Doctor Attends Medical Meeting

Sonora To Get Newest Telephone Equipment

Sonora will get the "new look" in telephone systems starting November 30, according to J. E. Robbins, Division Manager of General Telephone Company of the Southwest.

"The big change", Robbins said at a Tuesday meeting of the Lions Club, "will be the seven-digit dialing system". Each telephone in Sonora will have the numbers 337, followed by four numbers. Robbins said that in a test conducted by the telephone company, seven numbers were easier to remember than an exchange plus five numbers.

The dialing system is a step towards the day when it will be possible to call any number in the nation without going through a long-distance operator. Robbins emphasizes the enormous feat which had been accomplished with their system of dialing. He said, "When a certain area code is dialed in conjunction with the seven-digit system, only one telephone in the nation will ring." He was asked what would happen if the calling party accidentally got a wrong number with this method. He stated that, "the company has anticipated this and no charge will be made if the caller hangs up immediately or calls the operator to explain the mistake.

Target date for the changeover is 9 a.m., November 30. Robbins said that at that time telephone service may be interrupted for a short time. It may take longer to put rural phones into service than city phones because of the distances the servicemen will have to travel, he added.

New telephone numbers have been issued to most Sonora businesses and delivery of new telephone directories will be made November 30 with all of the new local listings.

WANT SOME SUGAR, Ole Buck ?? Looks like Big Bob (Teaff) has given up all intentions of taking home a prize trophy and is bent on making friends with Old Buck. But why is Big Bob's World War II souvenir bayonet hidden behind Big Bob's back?

Is this indication that Big Bob's intentions are insincere? Un-sportsmanlike? Dastardly? Can Big Bob outsmart Ole Buck? Can Big Bob explain to the fellows back at camp why Old Buck has been stabbed? Should Big Bob consult the rules and regulations before proceeding?

Broncos Beat Wink Wildcats 47-14 In Friday's Post Season Thriller

With perfect football weather in the air the Sonora Broncos tackled their first post-season opponents, the Wink Wildcats, for a 47-14 win here Friday.

The Sonora scoring party got under way after Wink's first set of downs and the Wildcats were forced to punt. The rushing Bronco defensive team partially deflected the kick at the Wink 35-yard line and it was picked up by David Wuest. He ran the ball back through the surprised Wildcats to the seven-yard line before he was stopped.

On the first play from scrimmage Ed Lee Renfro moved the ball into the end zone for the score. The extra point by Laney Cook was good to give the Broncos an early 7-0 lead.

Again the Wink offense was unable to get under way and they were forced to kick. Their punt was good and rolled to the Sonora 11 before it was whistled dead.

Renfro, again on the first play from scrimmage, ran the ball 89 yards for the second Bronco score. Laney Cook's talented toe came into play again for the extra point to give Sonora a 14-0 lead in the first seven minutes of the game.

The third Bronco score of the wild, first half came on a Wildcat pass that was intercepted by Laney Cook at the Wink 40 and run back to the 25-yard line. On the first play after taking the interception, Cook passed to Noe Chavez in the end zone and then kicked the extra point to raise the score to 21-0 still in the first quarter of play.

The first three touchdowns had been scored on just three plays, from scrimmage. The fourth touchdown, which came in the early minutes of the second quarter took four plays.

It came on another Cook to Chavez aerial from the 20-yard line into the end zone. David Wuest's kick was off to the side and the score early in the second quarter was 27-0. The next Bronco score was set up on the following kickoff when the alert Bronco kicking team recovered their own kickoff at the Wink 25-yard line.

On the following play Cook again connected with Chavez at the Wink 10-yard line. After eluding a defensive man at the five, Chavez scampered into the end zone for the score. Wuest's kick was good to raise the score to 34-0.

After the following kickoff, Wink was still unable to get their offense moving and were forced to kick. Bronco offensive men came back on the next play with a Cook to Renfro aerial, which Renfro scooped in at midfield and went all the way for the score. Renfro then kicked his own extra point soccer-style to give the Broncos a 41-0 lead over the stunned Wildcats.

An interception of a Wildcat aerial by Richard Perez which moved the ball to the Wink 11-yard line set up the seventh Bronco score. Perez then moved the ball to the one-yard line on a handoff play. Laney Cook punched over from the one for the score. Cook's conversion attempt was blocked by Wink's outstanding defensive linebacker, Dutch John.

After scoring 47 points and holding the highly touted Wildcats scoreless the half ended before the Wink drive which started in the last minute of the half could make a score.

Early in the second half Wink Halfback Danny Tidwell intercepted a J. V. Cook pass and ran it back to the Sonora 22 before he was brought down. Quarterback Bobby Rowe pushed the ball to the four on a pass to Ed Lee Brannon. From the four, Wally Shifflet scored on a sweep on left end. Shifflet was good a gain for the two-point conversion.

Scoring was not resumed until late in the fourth quarter when Wink Quarterback Bobby Rowe sent an aerial bomb on its way to catch Danny Tidwell at the Sonora 10. From the 10, Rowe hit Gary Thomason in the end zone with another pass. Their two-point conversion attempt failed and made the final score 47-14.

Simple "How To Slice" Lessons Help Man Of The House Make Turkey Slices

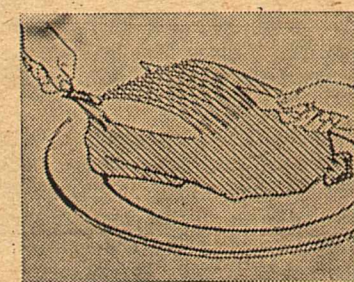

Will that succulent Thanksgiving turkey be carved into beautiful, mouth-watering slices, or will the man of the house hack it into a mangled wreck?
 Carving a turkey is an annual trauma for some people, but is simplicity itself for others. As with so many things, it's easy when you know how.
 These drawings will show you how. First, remove the leg by turning the turkey on its side with its breastbone away from you. Hold the end of the drumstick and pull it forward as the knife cuts through the joint.

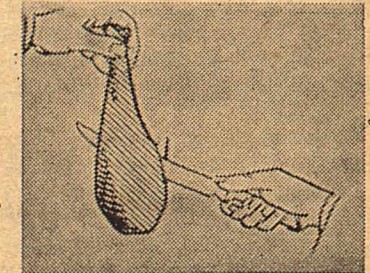

If you want only a few large slices from the breast, carve with the grain. Slice lengthwise until you reach the wing joint, then remove the wing. Continue slicing until you have carved all the white meat on one side of the turkey.

If you want several small slices from the breast carve across the grain until you reach the breastbone. Loosen the slices by cutting along the bone under them.

Next, carve the drumstick into lengthwise slices by standing it on its thick end and holding the thin end with your hand.

Carve the thigh after the leg. Expose the thighbone by slicing down to it. Remove the thighbone by running the point of the knife around it and lifting it up with the fork. Then finish slicing the thigh meat.

And that's all there is to it. "The well-kept carving set is very important to good carving. A good carving knife needs to be sharpened only once in a while, but it should always be steeled before using.

"A meat platter or a carving board allows more room for cutting and makes carving easier. A large carving fork holds the meat much more firmly than an ordinary dinner fork."
 Bon appetit, and don't forget the cranberry sauce.

Take a Look Back...

Looking back over a rather strange and often disturbing year, I find there is still much for which to be thankful: a year of good health, the change of the seasons, birds on the wing, trees which were so lavish in their shading, the wonderful rains we have had this year, flowers all about, being with people I like. . .

And I am sure this is as good a time as any to try to be grateful for the things I haven't been granted; the dreams which didn't come true, the plans which did not mature and lots of wishful thinking.

Perhaps if we had all the things hoped for between this Thanksgiving and the last, they wouldn't be very good for us—at least, not all of them.

One of the wonderful things about being human is that we go right on hoping. I think if you have learned not to be defeated by defeat, if you have learned not to resent the fact that the dream has vanished and not to blame anyone for that except perhaps yourself, then you have earned the right to dream again, for a while.

My only regret is that October has gone—it is a busy, interesting, pleasant month for me—possibly my favorite month of all.

Yet, November is a good month, too. Its weather often is like a loaf of homemade bread, crusty and crisp on the outside, warm and sweet within.

Most of our Novembers have been just like that—mellow days and frosty nights. This simile may be a little farfetched but if there is anything better than good home-baked bread, I have never tasted it.

And if there is anything more pleasant than the last of autumn smiling her way into winter, I don't know about that, either.

We live in a land of freedom, of opportunity and prosperity . . . where people may worship God according to the dictates of their heart . . . where they may criticize their government without fear of punishment.

We live in a land never visited by the ravages of famine. . . where hunger and privation are the exception . . . and where goods and services are so varied and abundant that they surpass the imagination of most of the people of the world.

So, let's be grateful for all we have and for all we have not been given and go forward happily into winter toward the light of the Star that shines, a month or so away, for us all.

Micronutrients Get Much Research

Research done in many different sections of Texas indicate the need for a closer look at the addition of micronutrients to either the soil or to the plants as a foliar spray to increase yields.
 Dr. W. B. Anderson, a Texas A&M University scientist, says the addition of zinc has increased flax and corn yields in coastal areas and foliar application of iron has increased grain sorghum yields on the Plains. The soil testing laboratory at College Station is now making micronutrient tests on soil and leaf tests.

DEVIL'S RIVER PHILOSOPHER SEZ: Philosopher Finds Election Answer

Editor's note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his bitterweed ranch on Dry Devil's River comes up with a money-saving idea this week.

Dear editor:
 I didn't care about staying up that late so election night, I went to bed before all the returns were in but got up the first thing the next morning and hunted up a news paper to check up on how accurate those electronic calculating machines were the announcers kept quoting on television.
 You know as well as I they were right. With one per cent of the votes counted in a given state, those machines could take a look at them and tell you who was going to win. In fact, they went ahead and called him elected.

I have been thinking about this and it seems to have some possibilities.

As I understand it, it costs hundreds of millions of dollars to hold elections all over the United States. It's nothing to spend a million dollars on a governor's race alone, and I read where one man spent four million, and still lost. You figure up what it costs to finance all the campaigns for all the offices for all parties, and you can see it runs into big money.

Therefore, it looks to me like it'd be simpler and a lot cheaper, to just borrow those selected test boxes the television networks use and hold the elections there only. Why shake hands all over the state when you could drop off a few boxes and do the same job? Why run all the westerns and detective stories off the air two weeks before an election when actually all the candidates need to do is telephone the handful of voters who pre-determine the outcome?

This would save hundreds of millions of dollars in campaign expenses, and billions of words in speeches.

And of course if we wanted to go a step further, we could rig up a machine that'd predict how the handful would have voted had they voted, and eliminate every thing. By going still one machine further back, we could predict how the first machine would predict how the handful would vote and know right now what the election results will be in the year 2,000.

Yours faithfully,
 J. A.

Range Conditions Influence Feeding

Supplemental feeding of beef cows during the winter paid in only two of six years in a study at Texas A&M University's Experimental Ranch located near Throckmorton.
 Dr. W. J. Waldrip, who had charge of the tests, said the condition of pastures has a great deal to do with whether or not supplemental feed is needed. He recommends a deferred rotation system of grazing. The tests show that deferred rotation not only improves range conditions but also produces more beef per acre.

A Parson's Eye View of Sonora

by The Rev. Ross Welch
As we grow older we seem to remember with greater poignancy the events of the past. Our education was fortunately not limited to school room experiences. My mother was a good teacher, and when the rural school we attended closed its doors one year during a drought, she ordered text books from the State Department of Education and set up classes in her own home.

reached high school were spent in a one-room, ten-grade rural school. How we ever grasped anything in five to ten minute classes is amazing. I entered that school at the tender age of five, went to high school at twelve, to college at 16 and was principal of a small high school at age 20.

Thanksgiving was the first break in the school routine, except that we had to spend about every other week in the cotton patch—if there was enough cotton to harvest. But the week before Thanksgiving was a thrilling one because we got to decorate the school room. School black boards were not of as good materials as the green boards used today. But we would wash the front board clean of every speck of dust. Then several persons would hold in place a large mural with small slits outlining the Thanksgiving scene, usually including some shocks of corn, some pumpkins and a large strutting turkey gobbler. We would pat this lightly with a chalky eraser and outline the picture for our mural.

Then the tedious work began. The teacher brought out her colored chalk (bought especially for this occasion and only the gifted were permitted to work on the mural. This was the forerunner of the pictures you paint today by numbers—except we had no numbers. I had a flare for this sort of business and gladly gave up all my play time to work on the mural. When we were through, we thought that picture was real art. The only trouble was it did not last very long because we had to have the board to do our arithmetic.

Many of our holidays were spent dragging a cotton sack, but we always had something to remind us it was Thanksgiving. And I sincerely think we were far more thankful than most persons are today—who receive far more for doing much less.

While we were in Del Rio for district conference Monday we visited Matt Adams (they call him "Cowboy" down there). The place where he now lives, Valle Hi Convalescent Home is new, very nice there. He is permitted to spend some time each day in the wheel chair which allows him to have a break in the monotony and a change of scenery. He had formerly been in a rest home at Mason and in the local hospital.

We have said all season that we felt this was the Broncos' year to go "all the way", but if they continue to win, we do hope future contests can be played on neutral ground somewhere near the half-way mark and preferably not on Saturday nights. Otherwise we may have to go half way to the North Pole.

The Wesleyan Service Guild asks that you remember to patronize their Bake Sale downtown today (Wednesday). This is their one money-making event of the year.

The word was passing among hunters Tuesday—"Lie low, boys, Henry Marshall is in town." Henry said to the Parson at district conference, "Guess I'll be seeing you on some of those baldies up around Sonora this week." "Not if I see you first," I told him.

Thanksgiving 1966
I offer my prayers of Thanksgiving for my country and health and home, for my chance to make a good living—But then there's Viet Nam.

We are proud because of our plenty,

The weather is pleasant and warm for faithful friends we are grateful. But what about Viet Nam?

We talk of football and hunting. But if we listen in moments of calm, we may hear haunting refrain Echoing from Viet Nam. "How can we sing the Lord's song In a land so far from home? Should we thank God for our fate Over here in Viet Nam?"

R.T.W.

We drove with Edwin Sawyer to his ranch the other afternoon, where he put out feed for his "wild" turkeys. Before we left the feeding grounds flocks of turkeys were coming in a high run, and before we were out of sight there must have been a hundred turkeys on the grounds gobbling up the grain.

Experience has demonstrated that nearly any wild creature can be tamed by feeding him. Men can be ruined the same way.

Jan Keng, Dr. Warner Exchange Vows

Miss Ronda Jan Keng and Dr. Thomas Owen Warner were married in Grace Presbyterian Church in San Antonio, November 23. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Keng and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Warner of Runge.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and the Rev. Allan Guthrie officiated in the double ring ceremony. Pastor Guthrie was formerly pastor of the Good Shepherd Presbyterian Church here.

The bride wore a street length dress of white wool trimmed with blue.

A reception was held at the home of the Rev. and Mrs. Guthrie after the ceremony.

The newlyweds are both graduates of the University of Texas. The bride is a graduate of Sonora High School and the bridegroom was graduated from Runge High School. Dr. Warner completed his studies last year at the University of Texas Dental School in Houston and his wife will finish dental school next spring. After a wedding trip to Mazatlan, Mexico, the bride will return to her studies. Both will practice dentistry in Kenedy upon Mrs. Warner's graduation.

Those of you that missed the turkey shoot and mixed foursome last Sunday really missed a good time. We had a good crowd and the weather couldn't have been better—especially after Peggy Trainer got the wind to lay.

We want to thank J. W. Neville and his helpers for making things go as well as they did. Also observed wrestling turkeys and grabbing money were L. P. Bloodworth, Jack Mackey, Shelly Lowe, and Lonnie Taylor.

Shooting those turkeys was no snap. They were a hundred yards off and all you got to shoot at was a little skinny head but we had some pretty good marksmen on hand.

Bill Karnes got two of them. Those that got one each were Jack Cargill, David Wardlaw, George Barrow, L. P. Bloodworth, A. G. Reville of San Angelo and Dr. Tom White and George Barrow got one together. I don't know how they worked that one.

Two teams tied for first place in the Low Ball Handicap Tournament. They both came in with a low net of 72. That's some pretty good golfing even if you do get to use a handicap.

One team was Mickey Powers, Pauline Thompson, Bobbie Fawcett and Batts Friend. The other winning team was Bill Tittle, Lee Fawcett, James D. Trainer and Peggy Sharp.

Turkeys were given to each member of the winning teams.

Patch Cochran won the Turkey Raffle and Wayne Deitz and Shelly Lowe won turkeys for the Lucky Shoot.

As always happens at things like this there are a few people standing around that can't shoot guns and they can't play golf. Those that bought turkeys were Sammie Espy, Jo Neville, W. H. Hill, Rick Powers, and Lee Patrick. That Rick Powers is a pretty good little turkey catcher even if he can't shoot them.

The women had their monthly luncheon at the Commercial Cafe last Wednesday. Hostesses were Allison Powers and Gladys Mittel. The ringer play came to a close and prizes were presented to the most improved golfers.

The first flight was won by Wanda Cahill. Pauline Thompson won the second flight and Allison Powers won the third flight.

We're sorry that Monica Davis slept through the tournament Sunday. We could have used her on our team.

Just because hunting season is open is no reason to give up golf, so ya'll come on out.

This past week has been very quiet around Sonora. Not many kids were out over the weekend. I guess everybody is waiting for the holidays! Just think! It will be like a big, family reunion. Welcome home, world!

Not even many college kids were home this weekend. Carl Teaff came home Friday afternoon and brought C. A. Miller and Bobby Fergo with him to watch the football game. They were planning on watching the first half of the game, then going back to San Angelo. As it worked out, they made the trip for nothing. The game started later than they planned so they had to leave without watching another Bronco victory.

Irene Davis was also home. She brought Les Seiler to Sonora with her.

A few of the other kids who were home were Larry Bob Moore, Bill Chadwick, Jack Hearn, Joyce Hearn and Dick Hearn...that's about all this week.

Jackie Cargill and Junior Seydler were visiting in Kerrville. They went down for the Homecoming.

Sherry Sullivan was down from San Angelo Friday to see the game and also to visit Jim Fish.

Cindy Lambert spent the weekend in Lubbock. She went up there to see her niece and a friend.

Sonora High welcomed some new students Monday. Monte and Janie Roberts moved here from Pecos. Monte is a freshman, Janie is classified as a junior.

Did you see all the strange faces at the game Friday? There were a lot of kids here from Ozona, Eldorado, Rocksprings and Junction.

At the game Friday, Tom Trainer broke a bone in his finger. He is now wearing a cast on his hand. Poor Tom!

Quite a few kids have been hunting lately. Bud Smith and Mark Shurley both killed deer this weekend.

Say, football fans, the Broncos play their regional game against Seagraves. The game will be in Andrews, Saturday at 7:30 p.m. Help support the Broncos all the way to state!

Construction Begins On Extension Of West Texas Utility Power System

Work has been started on the construction of an 81-mile extension to West Texas Utilities Company's 138,000-volt transmission system that will connect the Company's new $10 million San Angelo system of Central Power & Light Company at the Sutton-Val Verde county line.

"When placed in operation in May, 1967," states R. W. Hardy, WTU president, "the new interconnection of the two systems will provide additional transmission line facilities for the exchange of large blocks of electric power during peak load periods, or in a case of emergency if additional power should be needed on short notice."

"The new interconnection will be of mutual benefit to the customers of both investor-owned companies and is a part of the company's continuing policy of planning and building ahead for the future growth and development of the West Texas area."

Central Power & Light Company is now clearing the right-of-way through Val Verde County from Del Rio north to the point of interconnection and is scheduled to start construction soon on some 64 miles of 138,000-volt transmission line that will connect two high voltage transmission systems.

Already in operation are two 69,000-volt transmission lines which have been used for a number of years for the exchange of electric power between the two companies. One starts at McCamey going through Iran and on to an interconnection at the Crockett-Val Verde county line south of Ozona. The other runs from Big Lake through Ozona and Sonora to another interconnection at the Sutton-Edwards county line southeast of Sonora.

WTU's segment of the line will start at the switching station of the San Angelo Power Station and will run almost due south, passing Christoval on the east. It will continue on south, running east of Eldorado and on to Sonora, where a new 138-69 KV substation will be built. From the new substation the line will run due south to the Sutton-Val Verde county line.

The first 61 miles from the San Angelo Power Station to Sonora will be built by the R. S. Goodman Construction Company of Denison, and the contract for the remaining 20 miles will be awarded in the near future.

The contract calls for the new line to be H-frame construction with X-braces and two overhead shield wires and 477 MCM aluminum conductor, steel reinforced. Each structure will have from 60 to 65-foot poles with round spar arms. It will require about 700 structures to complete the 81 miles of line.

At the present time WTU has in operation 602 miles of 138,000-volt transmission line that connect six of its steam generating stations. The Rio Pecos Station is connected to the 138 KV system at McCamey by two 69 KV lines.

WTU provides electric service to more than 119,000 customers in

DOCTOR and FAMILY VISITS

Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Howell, Jr. and their children, Jack, Clem, Henry and Lesley will visit Dr. Howell's parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Howell, Sr., during the Thanksgiving holidays.

Dr. Howell, Jr., practices medicine at the Northwest Texas Eye Clinic in Amarillo.

A YOUNG FAMILY'S ESTATE

Couples with minor children should make wills to provide for guardianship of their children. They should provide for someone to serve as guardian in the event both parents die in an accident or other cause. When parents don't plan for custody of their children, family discord and separation of children sometimes occur. Parents can reduce this possibility by taking steps to insure that their wishes concerning guardianship of their children are carried out.

ONIONS

Now that a nip of frost is in the air, medium size onions come into their own. Parboil the whole onions, after removing the outer skin, in boiling, salted water for 15 minutes. Drain and arrange in casserole dish and pour over a favorite barbecue sauce. Bake until tender. This makes a delicious dish to serve with pork roast or ribs.

Cecil Pearce of Deming, N.M., has been visiting the Alfred Schwinings for the past two weeks.

167 towns in 50 West Texas counties, serving an area of 52,830 square miles. Its generating stations have a combined generating capability of 542,000 KW.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

By winning his lodge's annual golf tournament, Roger became entitled to the traditional silver loving cup. But to his chagrin, the previous winner refused to part with it. When Roger filed suit, the other man told the court:

"This cup can be duplicated for about $95. If I am wrong in keeping it, suppose I just pay him the $95 and we will call it square."

But the court ordered him to hand over not $95 but the cup itself. The judge said the trophy had, over and above its cash value, a unique sentimental value. Hence, mere money could not be a satisfactory substitute.

Whenever money damages would not be "just as good," the law may insist upon what it calls "specific performance"—that is, performance of the actual obligation rather than just damages for non-performance.

Specific performance is decreed most often in cases involving real estate. Suppose you make a contract to buy the lot on the southeast corner of Maple and Spring, and then the seller backs out.

Medicare Benefits Give Broad Cover

Many elderly citizens of the 13 county area serviced by the San Angelo District Office could benefit from one of the hidden features of the Medicare law reports Ted F. Moellering, District Manager of the Social Security Administration. The insurance will pay for home visits by nurses, physical therapists, and certain other health workers employed by a home health agency that is participating in the program.

Payment can be made for part time nursing care, physical therapy, some medical supplies, use of special equipment, etc. Mr. Moellering emphasized that neither full time nursing care for general housekeeping services are covered under this provision.

The hospital insurance part of the law and the voluntary supplementary section each provides for up to 100 visits per year by home health workers. Under the hospital provision, the beneficiary must have been hospitalized for at least three days before payment for home visits can begin. Under the voluntary plan, he does not have to be hospitalized first to get the services. In either case, his doctor decides whether he needs the services and sets up the plan.

Turkey Improvements Coming

The head of Texas A&M University's Poultry Science Department, Dr. John H. Quisenberry, told the annual Turkey Industry Day conference that during the next 10 years the rate of gain should rise three or more pounds body weight on hens at market age and five pounds on toms. Breeders should and are striving to develop a smaller, smoother, faster growing, higher producing hen and a large, sturdy, fast growing, reasonably balanced vigorous, high sperm-producing tom, he said.

Consider SCM . . .

HOW FAST can you think? Have you thought about it? But how fast can you write? Compared to an average touch typist, most people write at a snail's pace. And if YOUR thoughts are constantly running ahead of your writing you are simply doing the natural thing.

If you'd like to see thoughts pour out on paper faster than ever, neatly, clearly and legibly—take the very first step . . . a modern Smith-Corona Portable Typewriter. There are lightweight electric, speedy manuals with new Power-space, and even a precision miniature that you can tuck away into a desk drawer.

When you take one home for your very own, you will receive a handsomely bound edition of Smith-Corona's famous Educator Approved Course for only $3.95. How soon will you be writing at 50 - 60 - 70 words per minute?

Come in to The Devil's River News and take that wonderful first step.

Choice of Grains Dictated by Cost

The price of various feed grains usually determines which is best to use in a fattening ration for feedlot cattle, says County Agricultural Agent D. C. Langford.

Corn, sorghum grain or barley or any combination of these can be fed with good success.

Wheat can be fed up to 50 percent of the grain portion of the mixture. Oats are excellent for growth and development, but are not good fattening grain.

The form in which grains is fed is important. Most research indicates a moderately fine grinding is better than coarse grinding. Dry rolling gives similar results to fine grinding. Five percent molasses can be added to control wind loss when feeding in the open.

Steam-rolled sorghum grain may improve feed efficiency. Recent research shows steaming, pressure cooking, reconstituting in air-tight silos and moist harvested sorghum grain from air-tight silos improves efficiency of sorghum grain.

These treatments, along with rolling, flaking, or grinding improve daily gain and feed per 100 pounds gain.

Texas A&M University research shows cattle fed ground moist sorghum grain from sealed storage will need 10 to 18 percent less feed on a dry matter basis than cattle fed ground dry sorghum grain to make a pound of gain.

Pelleted grains may increase feed efficiency by 5 percent. But, pelleting decreases feed intake, reduces gain slightly and pelleted rations with more than 50 percent concentrates is usually not economical, says Langford.

Good Deeds

"So also good deeds are conspicuous, and even when they are not, they cannot remain hidden."

— I Timothy 5:25

How long has it been since you have known the inner satisfaction that comes with the knowledge you have helped someone in need?

How often do you look about you without seeing the thing that needs doing? Have you failed to recognize opportunity to perform an act of charity or kindness, at no more cost than a moment or two of your time?

Look not for a reward for everything that you do. Help someone and your reward will come. You will know you have been touched by the grace of God and gratitude for the good things that are your own will be multiplied.

YOUR MINISTER SAYS

by the Rev. Arno Melz
Pastor, Hope Lutheran Church
"Let us come before his presence with thanksgiving, and make a joyful noise unto him with psalms. For the Lord is a great God, and a great king above all gods." Psalm 95:2-3

What is the purpose of Thanksgiving Day? There seems to be many purposes: the first we usually think of is eating a big meal of turkey and all the trimmings. We think of getting together with our families and friends, the football games, hunting or just relaxing. This is what most people think about on Thanksgiving Day. This was not the purpose the pilgrims had a Thanksgiving Day, neither is it the reason the government sets aside a special Thanksgiving Day each year. The real purpose of the day is to give thanks to God for the many blessings we have received. Each day we receive these blessings and give thanks, but God's Word shows us that people also had special days they came together to give thanks.

Thanksgiving Day should be the Lord's Day, a day of worship and praise to show our thankfulness. However, we know that few people will gather in churches today to give thanks, some have put it off to a more convenient time, others will neglect it entirely. Perhaps there will be many who do not even say a word of thanks as they push their chair away from the table feeling stuffed from the food they have eaten. May I remind you to count your blessings on this Thanksgiving Day so you will be thankful to God. First of all you are alive, God has preserved and protected you for another year. You are living in a land of plenty and a land of peace. You can sit in your homes today without the fear of bombs falling. We have schools, churches and hospitals. We have the freedom to attend the church of our choice and hear God's Word. But the greatest blessing of all is a God who forgives us when we do wrong, who promises to hear our every prayer and help us in every trouble. We have so much for which to be thankful. Take time today to give thanks to God. Amen!

Snips, Quips, And Lifts

by Mrs. Lottie Lee Baker

There are four things we can do with our hands:

—We can wring them in despair, We can fold them as if there were nothing to do, We can clinch them in anger, Or—we can put them to some useful task.

—When truth stands in your way change directions.

—The only things you can be sure of accomplishing are the things you do today.

—No matter what may be your lot in life, build something on it.

—He who trusts men will make fewer mistakes than he who distrusts them.

—If you listen to the neverdo's it's never done.

—There's a lesson to learn, while you're healthy and sound—Take it easy sometimes, and you'll still be around.

—We've got plenty of freedom in this country, but not much independence.

—The world is like a jig-saw puzzle with a "peace" missing.

—There's a big gap between advice and help.

—You may have that bird in your hands, but remember he has wings.

—You can do a lot of bluffing by keeping your mouth shut.

—The man who hits the ball over the fence can take it easy going around the bases.
