Absentee Voting Set For School Positions

Absentee voting in the election for trustees to the Sonora School Board will begin Saturday, March 11, and extend through Wednesday, March 29.

The regular election will be held Saturday, April 1.

Six people have filed for the election in addition to the two incumbents, L. P. Bloodworth Jr. and Bill Morriss.

Those filing are Glen Richardson, Wallas Renfro, Norman Rousset, Mrs. Tommy Thorp, Lin Hicks and Dick Black.

Voting, both absentee and in the April 1 election, will be held in the Sutton County Courthouse.

CINDERS

by Jim Barnett

Columnist Hal Broyles, whose column is carried regularly in the Houston Post, wrote a piece entitled, "Musings of a Good Father on a Bad Day." It's a prime example of the old, "greener grass" story.

He began with, "There's nothing sadder than a childless couple. It breaks your heart to see them stretched out relaxing around swimming pools in Florida, sitting all suntanned and miserable on the decks of their yachts, and trotting off to Europe like lonesome boobies." Sound like greener grass?

He then speaks about children growing up; "The real fulfillment comes as the child grows like a little acorn and becomes a real nut... like the lad with 500 bucks' worth of braces on his teeth... chomped to pieces by peanut brittle." Well, does that seem like greener grass?

What about the lucky father that can take his son hunting for the first time? Broyles says, "What feeling of reward the first time you take your boy hunting! He really didn't mean to shoot you in the leg, he was excited. Remember how he cried? How sorry he was? How disappointed he was that you weren't a deer?"

Broyles then says, "The childless couple lives in a vacuum. They fill their lonely days with golf, vacations, dinner dates, civic affairs, tranquility, leisure and economy." ... look at them; he looks boyish, unlined and rested; she is slim, well-groomed and youthful. It isn't natural.

If they had children, they would look like the rest of us... tired, gray, wrinkled and sagging. In other words, normal.

City Commissioners Annex 60 Acres

The City Commissioners have annexed approximately 60 acres of land near the intersection of Interstate Highway 10, as proposed and Highway 277, into the city limits. The action came in the Commissioners meeting Monday, March 6.

This is the city's first step toward development of the land adjacent to the new highway.

Several oil companies have expressed their desire to bid for the purchase or long-term lease of this land for future sites.

None of the city-owned land in that area has been surveyed to date, but future plans call for professional planning to lay out a desirable commercial area.

Bids cannot be accepted without first giving detailed descriptions of the property to be opened for future bids.

RAY V. SANCHEZ Sanchez Completes Recruit Training

Marine Private Ray V. Sanchez, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roman Sanchez, was graduated from eight weeks of recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot in San Diego, California.

He will now undergo about three weeks of individual combat training and then, after leave at home, will report to his first Marine Corps assignment.

The intensified Marine recruit training emphasizes rigid physical conditioning and survival techniques, both at sea and ashore, to develop self-confidence and endurance. Marksmanship with the M-14 rifle and 45-calibre pistol are equally stressed, and close order drill instills the traditions of Marine Corps and Pamela Painter. Not shown is Annette Shroyer who won first and second place in the senior division.

March 16 Sale Will Open Stockyards 1967 Season

Sonora Livestock Exchange Company is opening its 1967 season with a sale March 16 and auctions scheduled every Thursday through the fall. Sam E. Jones Jr., one of the managers, said that he felt the company could better serve the needs of ranchers and buyers with weekly sales. Last year sales were held every two weeks.

Jones said that all classes of livestock would be sold, and that special sales would be held throughout the season featuring different kinds of livestock. Special goat sales are scheduled for March 23, April 6 and 20, and a horse sale has been planned for May 18.

Special lamb sales and feeder calf sales will be announced in the future. Jones said the feeder calf sales were something new for the company, and that sales would be planned for both early calves and fall calves.

This season a roof will be added to the shearing pen for shearing

MRS. SALINAS VISITS

Mrs. Pauline Salinas visited this week with Mrs. Alfred Schwiening at the Methodist Hospital in Houston.

On her return trip she stopped in San Antonio to visit her daughters, Mrs. Jessie Rosaltes and Mrs. Johnny Lozano.

and shed space, and pens have just been finished to make livestock handling more convenient.

The stockpen facilities were built in May of 1964 as a community effort to promote marketing of livestock in Sonora. Facilities are among the most modern in this part of the country and are leased to Sonora Livestock Exchange Co., under the management of Jones, Sears Sentell, Bill Whitehead and Gerald Hartgraves. All have livestock and ranching backgrounds.

Ministerial Alliance Plans Course In Vocational Guidance for Teens

Sunday, March 12, and on four more Sundays, Easter excluded, the Ministerial Alliance will conduct a course in vocational guidance for Christian youth.

The course is open to all high school students and will be given in First Methodist Church Fellowship Hall.

Time of the course will be from 3 to 5 p.m. on the five Sunday afternoons.

It is recommended and requested that, as many as can, pre-register with your clergyman, or contact the minister of any of the sponsoring churches if interested.

Since youth guidance is primarily a parental obligation the parents of young people taking the course are invited to the first session for a special explanation of the course, and to exchange ideas on the counseling of young people in the choice of a vocation.

The course will need the cooperation of the parents if it is to have any value.

Churches sponsoring this course for youth are First Baptist, First Methodist, Hope Lutheran, Good Shepherd-Presbyterian, St. Ann's Catholic, and St. John's Episcopal.

Court of Honor Held at Lions Meeting

A court of honor in which 12 boy scouts received awards was held at the noon meeting of the Downtown Lions Club Tuesday.

Receiving merit badges and rank badges were Taylor Jones, Joe Ray Wilson, Bobby Humphreys, Horace Humphreys, Peter Polk, David Mathis, Tryon Fields, Bob Brockman, Gene Thompson, Sam Thompson, Jim Elliott and Bill Thompson.

Charles West scoutmaster, told of each boy's achievements and Rollin Polk, assistant scoutmaster, presented the awards. Scouting is one of the projects sponsored by the Lions club.

Jimmy H. Harris, president, reminded members that the annual broom sale would be held March 21. He also welcomed Buddy Brown as a new member of the club.

BROOM SALE MARCH 21

The Sonora Lions Clubs will have their annual broom sale on Tuesday, March 21. Norman Roussetol reminded Sonorans purchases from the Lions would be appreciated and that money would go for a worthy cause.

Annual Art Show Held At Elementary School

The annual spring Art Show, sponsored by the Sonora Woman's Club was held in the auditorium of Central Elementary School Thursday, March 2.

Members of the Fine Arts Committee of the Woman's Club are Mrs. Armer Earwood, chairman, Mrs. George Stewart, Mrs. Bill Whitehead, Mrs. Rodney C. Dowdy and Mrs. Jerry Hopkins.

The Woman's Club, sponsoring this event annually, encourages participation in the arts from pre-school age through high school. The judge for this year's event was F. E. Walker, art teacher from San Angelo.

A luncheon preceded the program and was held in the Central Elementary school cafeteria for the participants and their mothers.

The show was divided into five categories and winners were selected in each division.

In the craft division, Sylvia Gamez placed first. Second and third place winner was Aijelia Capuchinia. Receiving honorable mention were Will Wallace, Ronda Hopkins, Renee Adkins and Marjorie Guiterrez.

In the senior division, which covers the eighth grade through high school ages, the first and second place winner was Annette Shroyer. Third place winner was Taylor Jones.

Those receiving honorable mention in this category were Beth Davis, Mary Lena Greenhill and Patti Richardson.

The junior division show for the fifth sixth and seventh grades was won by Molly Morriss. Second place was awarded to Maria Mata and third place went to Terry Lowe. Honorable mention went to Sylvia Gamez, Ciria Ann Pena and Blanca Gonzales.

In the elementary division; second through fourth grades; first place winner was Bob Whitehead. Maggie Galbreath won second place and Joel Carranza was the third place winner.

Honorable mention awards went to Nicho Gamez, Jeffery Wall, Damon Hodges and Maggie Galbreath.

Primary class, which included pre-school, kindergarten and all first grades, first place was won by Pamela Painter. Becky Cavanaugh placed second and Susan Schwiening placed third.

Linda Hamilton, Lesa Gonzales,

Rita Lira, Deborah Virgen, Craig Cooper, Carla Thorp and Jenny Lou Wilson all received honorable mention in the primary class category.

A special award was made by Walker to the top exhibits entered by Annette Shroyer and Molly Morriss. The other winners chose their exhibits as the best of the show.

Sonoran Named All-Around Cowboy In Amarillo National College Rodeo

Jimmy Frank Richardson, 1963 Sonora High School graduate and now senior student at West Texas State University, won the all-around cowboy honors at the National Intercollegiate Rodeo Association at Amarillo, February 18.

Richardson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hugh Richardson, is president of the university's T-Anchor Club.

At the rodeo he won first in calf roping with an average time on two calves of 20.8 seconds. He placed second in ribbon roping with a time of 8.7; and had a bulldogging tie with Tex Dulaney of Sul Ross College at Alpha with a time of 4.5 seconds.

Since 1960, Richardson has entered various events in rodeos and won prizes of a saddle, spurs, belt buckles and other trophies.

Berger Shows Champion at Houston

Chris Berger exhibited the Champion Delaine-Merino Ram and Ewe at the 1967 Houston Livestock Show in the open division.

Tony Renfro placed second in the heavy-weight finewool cross-bred and third place in the light-weight class with his entries.

He received $200 for each sheep. Renfro was accompanied by his father, Wallas Renfro.

The girls' grass judging team of Janet Pope, Cora Pope, June Alexander and Patti Richardson, placed first in the show. Janet Pope was the high individual. Edgar Glasscock is the coach of the team. Glasscock and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Pope accompanied the team to Houston.

The livestock judging team of Mark Jacoby, Mike Boatright and Evelyn Jane Lowe participated in the livestock contest at the show and Mark won 14th in the individual ratings.

He was presented with a $150 purchase certificate to buy a registered beef heifer.

Mike Boatright Sr., and Mrs. Libbye Jo Lowe attended the show with the team.

Elba Adams Jr., exhibited two registered Charolais heifers and one heifer sold for $1,525, and the other sold for $1,600.

Mr. and Mrs. Elba Adams Sr., attended the show with Elba Jr.

Record premiums, in excess of $200,000 will be divided among exhibitors of nine beef breeds, four dairy breeds, eleven sheep breeds, five horse breeds, five rabbit breeds, Angora goats, twenty-two poultry breeds and six swine breeds. The 15,332 livestock entries are from 35 states.

A record number of International visitors, cattlemen and various dignitaries, from Mexico, Central and South America are attending the show this year.

Baker Completes Army Basic Training

Jack R. Baker, son of Mrs. Dorothy Baker, finished basic training at Ft. Benning, Georgia, on February 23, and was promoted to E2.

Baker has been sent to Ft. Jackson, So. Carolina, for eight weeks training in an administrative school. There he will receive advanced training in clerical work.

WORKMEN pouring the second story columns of the new school building pour concrete into the steel hopper and then take a ride up to the second story level to pour it in the forms. The superintendent for the job is John Esque and the concrete workmen are Chuck Bledsoe, Ray Dunlap and Darrell Corning.

Our Schools and Community

Texas Public Schools Week this year will be observed March 6-10, and millions of Texans will visit schools during the observance. As citizens come back to school to take part in open-house programs or on individual visits, they might keep in mind what Kimball Wiles wrote 15 years ago in urging the closer, coordinated efforts by both school and community. "Education is a total community process," Wiles wrote. He noted that youngsters learn from their parents, from other adults, from other children, from social activities of the community and from the mass media in the community. The newspapers and television. "They live in a community," Wiles asserted. "... they absorb its beliefs and patterns of behavior. Wiles, whose remarks were directed primarily at teachers, but which apply equally to all of us, said that if the classroom is to be an effective learning device, the teachers must work with all the educative forces in the community. This is a noble sentiment, of course. But as Wiles himself would probably agree, it's the old story of being easier said than done. But it can be done. Increasingly our school curriculums are coming to reflect more of the real world and the real world is becoming more conscious of the importance of the school curriculum. As we see it then, the problem is how to combine the lessons our children receive from the school and the community, and in some cities, the streets. What is the best way to do this short of total government control? Indeed, the question is a tough one, and we may never completely answer it. But, we are on the right road if we realize that the school and the community must be drawn closer together.

Thirty-Nine Million Textbooks

If all the textbooks in use today by Texas public school students were laid end to end, they would reach to . . . well, you figure it out. There are more than 39 million textbooks being used in Texas schools today. The system in operation has other strong points which include: Effective screening procedures in which wide participation is achieved through textbook review committees made up of qualified experts and laymen both at the state and local level.

The dollar value of these school books is more than $62 million. In the 1965-66 school year the average annual cost per pupil under the state's free textbook program was $6.

And last year the state invested $16 million for new books—nearly $5 million more than spent the year before.

These dollar figures tell only part of the story of the state's free textbook program.

In 1918 the Texas Legislature adopted a free textbook law.

This action nearly 60 years ago did much to make reality out of the conception of "free public school education."

As noted, the individual cost per student in the free textbook program is about $6. If students paid for their own books, the cost per year to them would be $50-$75. Free textbooks are an integral part of equality of opportunity in our public school system.

As important as the furnishing of free textbooks to all public school students is the fact that the state Board of Education is empowered to adopt textbooks for use in public schools.

Under this system the best books available, at the lowest possible

Vehicle Inspection Deadline Scheduled

A total of 2,369 vehicles are registered in Sutton County and of these only 751 have been inspected, according to James Cumby of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

Deadline for vehicle inspection has been set for April 15. According to Cumby, the state is encouraging motorists to have their automobiles inspected early to avoid the deadline rush.

Vehicles may be inspected at Benson's Repair Service, Smith Motors, Elliott Chevrolet Company and the Sonora Motor Company.

Book Honors Lowe

A book, which will be selected by Mrs. Dameron, librarian of Sonora High School, was recently presented to the high school library by Bob Davis, president of Denton High School chapter of the National Forensics League and Rick Sale of Denton lab school, in behalf of their respective schools. This book will carry the following inscription:

"To Sonora High School in Appreciation: Honoring Mr. Rex W. Lowe, Superintendent of Sonora Public Schools who has been a loyal supporter of the Sonora Speech Tournament during his twenty-one years service in Sonora Public Schools."

March of Dimes Grows to $666.92

Almost $667 was contributed to the March of Dimes fund raising campaign here, according to Smith Neal, chairman of the program for 1967.

Funds from the local drive will go to the National Foundation of the March of Dimes for research and rehabilitation of birth defect victims.

Mrs. Ray Shelton served as treasurer for the organization and Mrs. Glen Richardson was chairman of the Mothers March.

Herman Smith, long-time chairman of the drive, acted as an advisor to chairman Neal.

Mrs. Nolan Johnson entertained the Twice Tuesday Club in her home last week.

March 7, 1947
Miss Jamie Trainer, daughter of Mrs. J. W. Trainer, a senior arts and science major at Texas Technological College, has been named general director of the 1947 Varsity Show.

Plans for a new, centrally located fire station were a step nearer to realization Monday when the city council voted to call a bond election to provide funds for the lot and erection of a building.

Mrs. Elmer Wilson, assisted by Miss Pat Reiley and Mrs. Harold Schwiening honored her daughter, Barbara, on her sixth birthday with a party at First Methodist Church.

March 5, 1937
Whether or not Sonora will have a city-owned water system will be determined March 27, when ballots are cast in the Sutton County courthouse on the proposition of issuing $90,000 in revenue bonds for the purpose of purchasing and building such a utility.

The Devil's River Philosopher sez:

Weeds Should Be Ignored

Editor's note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his bitterweed ranch on Dry Devil's River gets snowed under by figures this week, his letter indicates.

Dear editor:

Two or three weeks ago I found a ranch magazine out here on this bitterweed ranch, you know, most ranch magazines are edited by city people in big cities and I've often wondered why some enterprising ranchers don't start publishing a magazine out in the country designed to advise city people how to operate, at any rate there was an article in this magazine that said a survey has found that weeds are costing American agriculture approximately 3 billion dollars a year.

I didn't pay too much attention to this, I don't know what my bitterweeds are costing me but I know what it would cost me to get rid of them and I don't see any point in adding to the 3 billion and being tired to boot, and a few days later I read in a newspaper that crime in this country is costing an estimated 20 billion dollars a year, counting what the criminals steal, what it costs to try to catch them, to try them, to pay the salaries of the Supreme Court which lets them off, to head the others off, to protect the public, etc.

Then a few days later I read that automobile wrecks are costing about 15 billion dollars a year, counting loss of life, property damage, hospitalization, etc.

Then of course the President's budget came out, allotting 72 billion for defense alone. And also the space program has already cost 20 billion dollars and we've gotten only 300 miles out, with billions of miles still ahead of us.

I got to figuring up all these expenses and I got to wondering, is it really a paying proposition? I mean, can we afford to be civilized? Can we afford to live?

Then I talked with a man who spent a long time in a hospital, and he claims you can't afford to get sick either.

Personally, I think we're going to make it somehow, but I'd prefer that they not publish all these figures. They make my head swim. I intend to take action however. When the weeds show up on this bitterweed ranch this spring, I intend to ignore them. The economy is burdened enough as it is.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Be Active, Set High Goals, Says Coach

Stay active, and set your goals high, Jerry Hopkins told cub scouts at their blue and gold banquet February 28. The Sonora athletic director spoke to the group of scouts and parents gathered in Central Elementary cafeteria to celebrate the fifty-seventh year of scouting.

Hillman Brown was given a certificate of award for a cub scout movie night when he let cubs sell tickets and keep the proceeds from a Bronco Drive In movie. Den mothers and dads were also given certificates. Charles West introduced scouts at the meeting and presided over the pinning and moving up of cubs into scouting.

MISS JUDITH ANN FRANKLIN

Franklin-Morris Vows Exchanged

Miss Judith Ann Franklin, daughter of Mrs. Nan L. Franklin, of Big Lake and John Eugene Morris, son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Morris, were married in the First Baptist Church of Big Lake, Saturday, March 4.

Mr. and Mrs. James E. Morris hosted the rehearsal dinner at Jesse's Sirlon House in Big Lake.

The Rev. George Dixon pastor of the Big Lake Baptist Church, officiated.

R. B. Ferguson Sr., an uncle of the bride, gave his niece in marriage. John L. Wright was the organist and Mrs. Jack Vail was soloist at the ceremony.

The bride's attendants were Miss Margaret Friend, maid of honor; Lesa Ferguson, junior bridesmaid and Angela Holvey, Frances Johnson and Judy Jordan were bridesmaids.

Ben Ingram was the ring bearer. Groomsman were Buff Hern, Jim Mezger and B.B. Ingram III. Ushers were Bobby Ferguson, Johnny Fields, Charlie Howell and Bill McClelland.

The bride's gown was crisp linen embossed with venise lace and a matching train.

The reception following the ceremony was held in the Fellowship Hall of the church.

After a short wedding trip the couple will reside in Bryan where Morris is a senior at Texas A&M University, majoring in Agricultural Education.

The bride attended Angelo State College and is a graduate of John Robert Powers modeling school of Dallas.

WHO'S WHO . . . Senior boy, very active in school sponsored activities and easily recognized by his almost constant smile.

TEEN SCENE

by Margaret Bundy

Say! Did you all see Sonora win third place in the Ozona track meet this weekend? Sonora won several first places. Laney Cook placed first in both the 120-yard high hurdles and the 330-yard intermediate hurdles. Dennis Schmidt won the high jump. Ed Lee Renfro won first in the broad jump, and was the high point man of the meet.

Janice Middleton was really smiling Monday morning. She has a new baby sister Amy Denise.

Park Inn Cafe Voted into TRA

Mr. and Mrs. John Fields of the Park Inn Cafe in Sonora, have been voted into membership of the San Angelo Restaurant Association Chapter and the statewide Texas Restaurant Association.

These new members were screened by the San Angelo Chapter's Membership Committee and the TRA home office in Austin before being approved as meeting rigid standards.

The Texas Restaurant Association is made up of more than 3,500 leading Texas food service industry members. It has 21 local chapters located in every section of Texas.

This week's "Who's Who" is a Senior boy. He is tall and has light brown hair. He is very active in school sponsored activities. You'll recognize him by the almost constant smile on his face and twinkle in his eyes!

GREEN NEWS

The men's tournament Sunday was a big success. We had a lot of golfers out (almost thirty) which were divided into teams and they played for points.

The winning team was made up of John Bell, Dub Black, Jackie Sharp, James Trainer and George Barrow. They came in with 91 points and won five golf balls a piece.

Second place went to J. W. Neville, John McClelland, Bill Tittle, and Doyle Morgan. They scored 79 points to win three golf balls each.

Two teams tied for third place with 78 points. There was a three hole playoff to determine the winner. Clayton Hamilton, Buddy Brown, Whiskey Hill and George Johnson scored 18 points on the three holes to win third place and two golf balls each. Jerry Hopkins, Batts Friend, Tommy Thorp and Lea Roy Aldwell ran them a close race though by scoring 15 points.

—GN—

Sure did have cart troubles Sunday. First there was Web Elliott's cart - he says its right hip was broken. Last week it was the left one.

And then there was the old jinx himself - Buddy Brown. He rode in two different carts and the last I saw of them they were still out on the golf course. After that nobody else would let him ride.

—GN—

Lu and Raymond Morgan came up for a few days last week and brought their ill-mannered dog with them. They managed to get in a few rounds of golf while they were here.

—GN—

Some visitors seen around the course this weekend were Donnie Letsinger, Dan Harrison and Jimmie Lomax of Rocksprings. We should be seeing more of them now that the weather is getting better.

—GN—

The women drew for secret partners last Wednesday and there was a three-way tie for winner. The winners were Wanda Cahill and Jo Neville, Lu Morgan and Sammy Espy and Chicken McMillan and Ann Hill. Instead of having a play-off they decided to give everybody a golf ball.

—GN—

If they had taken a vote to select the favorite hole of the day Sunday you can bet that number two would have been at the bottom of the list. I overheard one team say they had fourteen putts on it and even you non-golfers ought to know how bad that is.

—GN—

We saw some strange faces out this week. Among them were Jerry Tittle, Betty Stewart and Barbara Savell. They haven't been out to play in so long I'm not real sure about them but we do hope they're back to stay.

—GN—

They got a pitch and putt contest started Sunday after the tournament but everybody got mad and quit because Bill Savell won two in a row.

—GN—

Ya'll remember now - no more than a foursome on week ends. Things went pretty good last week so let's keep it up.

A PARSON'S EYE VIEW OF SONORA

by the Rev. Ross T. Welch

YOU AND YOUR LIFE WORK

The two most important decisions most young people have to face are choosing a vocation and choosing a life companion. Money should not be the primary consideration in either choice.

Many have attested that the greatest satisfaction that can come in fulfilling one's choice of a vocation is to believe in one's heart that he is doing that for which the Lord created him.

And there is nothing more discouraging than to go through life feeling that one has been victimized by circumstances and never really had a chance to fulfill his intended destiny.

Beginning next Sunday afternoon, the young people of Sonora, under the direction of six resident pastors (Baptist, Episcopal, Roman Catholic, Lutheran, Presbyterian and Methodist), will have a chance, along with their parents, to seriously consider some vocational choices in the light of God's intended purpose for our lives.

Every child trained in a Christian home should give some consideration to the possibility that God might have called him for a church-related vocation. However, this is not a crusade to recruit persons for church related vocations.

The purpose of this five-week study is to help every young person to see his chosen vocation as a part of his total calling as a Christian. Anyone who gets pushed into a job or vocation through which he cannot honor God is handicapped in his Christian life and experience.

Any young person who is in earnest about what he wants to do with his life is invited to come to the First Methodist Church Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. There will be a registration fee of $2 to partially cover the costs involved.

They usually say that hindsight is better than foresight; but in choosing a vocation, foresight is much better than hind sight.

Sutton County will be well represented in the San Agnelo Live Stock show according to D. C. Langford, county agricultural agent. The boys from this county have already made impressive records in the big time shows. Recent achievements might prompt us to adopt such a slogan as, "If we have it and it is the BEST you want, come to Sutton County for it."

Easter is almost here! The thought brings panic to the hearts of mothers of little girls who have no new hats and dresses ready.

Easter ought to be a time for rejoicing. Jesus' triumph over the grave represents God's victory over evil forces and gives the Christian believer a new lease on life and hope.

But it has its awesome, frightening aspect also, beyond the fear that one's daughter may not look like a debutante on Easter morning. That is the haunting fear that there may appear on the shore of our sea of consciousness the Man of Galilee with one devastating question, "Ross, do you love me?"

Soon after Easter, we shall enter into a revival season in Sonora. First Baptist has scheduled a revival April 2 to April 9. We hope the revival fires will burn brightly during that week and the spirit of renewal will carry over into the following week which has been set aside for the Methodist Revival.

The Rev. Quay Parmer, general evangelist from Fort Worth, and Earl Ward, evangelistic singer, from Waco, will provide leadership in the Methodist series. John Tedford will be the organist.

The people of Sonora are invited to set aside this two-week period and to enter prayerfully and enthusiastically into the spirit of evangelistic effort.

Do you have a vacant lot that could be converted into a playground for the use of children who will be spending their summer in Sonora? The girls are asking for organized softball team play. We should have two or three volleyball courts ready for service.

It does not take a large tract of land, but it DOES take a large amount of patience and love for children.

One of the most pleasant shocks that came to me when we arrived in Sonora last June was the number of beautiful yards and lawns. It was quite a contrast to the town I remembered from the summer I worked out of Sonora in my youth.

It were as though someone had waved a magic wand over this community and changed its appearance. Of course I know it has not been that easy, and no one person is responsible for all the improvements.

But across the months we have come to feel that one of the prime factors in the beautification of Sonora has been Big A as A. W. Awalt is known. It is inspiring to trace the handiwork of a man who has dedicated his life to the creation of beauty.

MISS MELINDA ANDREA MITTEL

Miss Mittel to Wed James L. Smith

Mr. and Mrs. Ben F. Mittel announce the engagement of their daughter, Melinda Andrea, to James Lewis Smith III, son of Mrs. Jessie McIlroy Smith of Austin, Texas.

Miss Mittel a business college graduate, is a former secretary in Austin for the law firm of Heath & Davis and has recently returned from Washington, D. C., where she was secretary to the Special Assistant to the Administrator for Congressional Affairs of the Veterans Administration.

Mr. Smith received his Bachelor of Business Administration degree at The University of Texas where he was a member of the Sigma Nu fraternity. He is a member of the Society of the Cincinnati, the Bachelors of Austin, and is a certified public accountant with the international accounting firm of Ernst & Ernst, presently working in the San Antonio office.

An April 1 wedding is planned to be held in Central Christian Church, Austin, Texas.

YOUR MINISTER SAYS

The third positive characteristic of the church of the sixties is the painfully difficult struggle in the area of ethics and morals and their relationship to the scientific advances of this century. This calls forth a vast gray area where the "thou shalt" and the "thou shalt not" do not necessarily apply. In the midst of the rather confusing and controversial negative characteristics and the equally confusing and controversial positive characteristics of the church of the sixties comes the fresh wind of hope in the form of local church cooperation and conversation. Examples of local church cooperation are seen in the annual youth course and the summer court-house preaching service sponsored by the local ministerial alliance and closer cooperation between the Roman Catholic and Protestant churches here in Sonora and in other places. Examples of conversation are the discussions between clergy and physicians on the theological issues of the practice of medicine, discussions of theological doctrine and denominational understanding conducted by the local Ministerial Alliance. This fresh wind of hope blows men into the future of the church of the next decade appearing at times both foolish and God directed.

Big fish get that way — BIG — because they are cautious.

Unless starved or angry, they don't smash a bait or lure the instant it strikes water.

Keep this in mind! Pace your fishing and you'll be rewarded with lunker catches.

In this swiftly moving age in which we're living too many lure fishermen copy the jets and fish too fast. They cast out and retrieve, cast out and retrieve.

Too many lure anglers go under the assumption that if a fish doesn't grab the lure within seconds after it hits the water, the thing to do is to reel in rapidly and cast out again.

This is a fatal mistake if the fisherman hopes to fill his stringer.

A. C. Becker Jr., outdoor Editor of The Galveston News, has had the good fortune to observe feeding habits of both fresh water and salt water fish in several private, as well as public, oceanariums in Florida and Texas.

In the oceanariums he noted that the only fish to quickly dash in to grab food were the little ones. This is particularly true of the species that fishermen often refer to as "bait-stealers."

He noted that large fish quickly move within chomping range of the baits offered. But they always spend a little time contemplating before actually taking the baits in their mouths.

A good example is the manner in which large redfish feed along the bottom of the Sea-Arama oceanarium, which is located at Galveston. Before taking a piece of bait, the big reds will smell it a few times and even push it around a bit with their noses.

Often the small bait-stealers dash ahead and steal the food right from under the redfishes' noses. Even so, this doesn't excite the big reds into doing anything foolish.

Other large fish feed in much the same manner, although not quite as slowly as the redfish.

Fish of many species mingle together. This even though some of the fish naturally feed on the species that are nearby. But again the big fish don't go charging around smashing into small fish. That is, they don't as long as the small fish remain schooled up and give every appearance of having a lot of energy.

But whenever a small fish strays from the school or starts swimming about, as if crippled, the big fellows move in quickly for the kill.

Perhaps, to some degree, this explains why artificial lures that have darting motions are effective fishgetters.

Becker noted some experiments conducted with hookless plugs in clear, fresh-water impoundments holding bass, crappie and bluegills. Bluegills showed reckless abandon in charging the lures as soon as they struck the water. They would go after the same lure time and time again.

Crappie were a bit more cagey. As soon as they discovered a lure wasn't worth eating, they quit the area.

Bass, however, were downright superstitious in thoroughly fish-eyeing the plugs before making contact.

There are times, however, when bass hit first and think later. But this only occurs during the spawning season when the fish become very aggressive in protecting their nests.

Lure fishermen would do well to take every opportunity to observe the feeding habits of fish. Knowledge gained will help them pace their fishing in such a manner as to reap the most rewards.

One thing for sure, it will certainly stack the odds in favor of the angler.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Seven attractive sisters, each with long and luxuriant hair, opened a shop for the sale of hair tonic. Every day they took turns sitting in the show window, combing and brushing their tresses. The performance was such a sensational success that the sidewalk was jammed all day long.

But when a neighboring merchant complained in court, the judge ordered the show halted. He said it was improper to drum up business in a way that shut off the public sidewalk and blocked access to adjacent stores.

Of course, catching the public eye is a lawful and proper activity. But the methods used must not infringe unduly on other legitimate interests in the community.

Thus, just as a too-sensational window display may be curbed, so may a too-insistent sound. For example:

A music shop placed a phonograph in the doorway, played it relentlessly from morning to night. The volume was so loud that clerks in a nearby store developed headaches, grew jittery, and lost interest in their work.

A court held that this too was an abuse of the right to advertise—and ordered the volume turned down.

Safety, also, may justify limits on the ways and means of advertising. A court held unlawful a sign in front of a barber shop, so low-hung that it menaced the heads of passing pedestrians.

A CLEAN BREAK WITH THE PAST

What people are saying about... "Carried away with it!" say Natalée and Dianna, daughters of the J. D. Locklears of Eden, Texas. Natha and "Sud" Locklear echo their daughters' approval of total-electric Gold Medallion living. Mrs. Locklear's special pride is her total-electric work room complete with home laundry, ironer, sewing machine and professional type hair dryer. She also praises the comfort of electric heat. "I didn't know electric heat would be so warm. We have no need for blankets any more," she says.

"Sud" is amazed at the low cost of operation. The 2,057 square feet of electric comfort includes electric baseboard heaters, 5 electric window air conditioners, total-electric kitchen, water heater, home freezer, washer and yard light outside. "The children run in and out all the time, and our average monthly cost is $37.63."

The Locklears use West Texas Utilities Equal Payment Plan. "That way you know what you're going to pay every month."
