SPRINGTIME came to Sonora only to be followed by a cold snap last week. The spring weather fooled the Rev. Ross T. Welch's Daffodils into blooming a little early. The late cold did not harm the blooms.

Cade Named Supervisor Of Central Elementary

Clay Cade, principal of L. W. Elliott Elementary School has been named to the position of supervisor of Central Elementary School.

The action was approved at the regular meeting of the Sonora School Board, Monday, March 13, on the recommendation of Ralph Finklea.

Finklea, now serving as supervisor of Central Elementary, will assume the position of superintendent of schools in August, replacing Rex Lowe.

In other school board business, Ray Dunlap, construction supervisor for the new school building met with the group. Dunlap is employed by the school to supervise work done by the contractor and to work with building architect, John Gary.

Dunlap said, "The work being done is of high quality with good materials; its above average work."

He did say, however, that work was behind schedule but that foundation and superstructure work was the slowest phase in any construction job.

Dunlap added, "The speed of the work should pick up now." Motions were made and passed by the board to take action on two different portions of school owned property.

One area owned by the school, adjoining L. W. Elliott Elementary School, will be divided into lots and sold for residences. The board said that anyone interested in seeing the lots could contact board member, Bob Teaff.

Property adjacent to the abandoned Negro school will also be sold at a later date. The board ruled to sell the building and have it removed as quickly as possible.

The property has been vacant since the school was closed about two years ago.

The board approved a measure that application be made for $7,719 in federal funds to be used for buying science equipment for the new laboratories. The federal money is administered through the state.

Application was also approved for a state grant to buy library books. The grant is for $1,870.70.

The board has also decided to renovate the press box at Bronco Stadium.

The revised budget for the school year of 1966-67 was also approved. The budget must be revised each time there is a change in tax money going to the school system. Superintendent Lowe said he felt the tax changes had come about from the increased amount of delinquent taxes being collected.

Luxton's Trial Opens, Court Examines Jurors

The trial of Charles Ray Luxton for the alleged murder of his wife's father began here, Monday, March 13, with the pre-trial conference.

Luxton's case is being tried here on a change of venue from Big Lake in Reagan County.

He was indicted in April of 1966 by the Reagan County Grand Jury for murder with malice.

Court appointed attorneys for Luxton are Bill Tupper and Luther Lynn of San Angelo.

District Judge Charles Sherrill of Fort Stockton will hear the case. Dixon Mahon is the 113th District Attorney who will be working with William H. Earney, Marfa district attorney for the 33rd judicial district.

During the pre-trial conference, evidence was heard relating to Luxton's complaints over his treatment while being held prior to his trial.

No substantial evidence was submitted but Sherrill said, "Luxton's civil rights will be kept in mind during the trial and then brought out if it is relevant to his case."

Sherrill asked the defendant if he needed anything at that time, and Luxton indicated that he did not.

Sixty-five prospective jurors were called Tuesday and by 5:30 p.m. four had been selected from twenty who were individually interviewed. Approved were J. A. Morris, Lalo Gonzales, Bill Savell, and Lawrence Finklea. Six of the defense's 10 challenges were used Tuesday, other veniremen being either disqualified or excused.

By noon Wednesday four more jurors had been selected, H. C. Kirby, Mrs. H. T. Espy, Gabriel Mata Jr., and Louis Powers.

Wednesday afternoon's session ended near 4 p.m. with the jury list completed with the addition of George Brockman, Philip Jacoby, Lee Roy Valliant, and Jerry Johnson.

Testimony will begin at 10 a.m. Thursday morning.

CINDERS

by Jim Barnett

The activities of many of our state and national congressmen are all too often shrouded in a cloak of mystery; we don't always know if they are carrying out the wishes of their constituents.

U. S. Representative, Eob Casey of the 22nd District of Texas sends out a periodic report on the issues before congress and also a list of bills that have been introduced and a listing of how he voted on each.

It would be of great value to the voters to be able to evaluate the activities of their legislators in this manner. Greater control of government could be achieved by the people if each legislator published such a report and mailed it on request to interested voters in his district.

Wanna Buy a Broom? Tuesday's the Day

"Wanna buy a broom?" "Need a mop, cup towel or door mat?"

These questions will be repeated next Tuesday when the Downtown Lions Club and the West Side Lions Club join in the county-wide annual broom sale.

The sale is co-sponsored by the Caravan for the Blind which utilizes the abilities and skills of the blind in encouragement and rehabilitation.

"If any of you good people in Sonora need brooms, mops, door mats, lint brushes, cup towels, ironing board covers, etc., please hold out until next Tuesday, when we will be around, in force, to sell you these items at a ridiculously low cost—considering the labor factor involved!" said Norman Rousselot, Downtown Lions vice president who is in charge of the sale.

The Lions Club helps the blind and those with eye problems, and it provides funds for the crippled childrens camp which helps rehabilitate children and adults. The club also gives substantial local aid to the girl scouts, boy scouts, 4-H club, little league, municipal swimming pool, the sunken garden, and many other worthwhile organizations of community improvement, said Rousselot.

Broom sale crew chiefs for the downtown club this year will be Leon Neely, J. W. Neville, Lester Byer, Bill Stewart, Jo Hardgrave, and W. B. Dillard, and serving the West Side Lions Club will be Beto Duran and Santos Lopez.

Rousselot said that the supply truck would be stationed downtown most of the day. He urged those who live in the country to make purchases at the truck and said that residents who were missed could also buy downtown.

"It is always a 'fun' experience for us and we hope that you all will support Sonora by supporting the broom sale," commented Rousselot.

Summer School Study Proposed

A summer school program for the Sonora School system has been proposed, according to superintendent, Rex Lowe.

He said, "The program will be mainly for enrichment work and not for credit."

Lowe did say, however, "The state recommends remedial work in the event of a failing grade in a course and credit can be given during the summer if the instructor recommends credit."

Any course in summer school would be for a minimum of four weeks and a maximum of six weeks. Lowe said that English or perhaps a speed reading course would be adaptable for a summer program.

Lowe added, "A nominal tuition fee may be necessary to finance the program, but allowances can be made for children unable to afford a summer course."

Firm plans for the summer program will be presented in the next meeting of the school board, Monday, April 10.

Fling Ding Plans Complete for Event

Final preparations are being made for the annual Fling Ding dance to be held March 30.

According to Mrs. Ed Mayfield the invitations have all been mailed. Mrs. Charles F. Browne is in charge of the decorations and the theme.

Mrs. Browne says she plans to make use of the decorations that have been used in the past as much as possible as the theme for this year's dance will be "Fling Ding Through the Years."

She will carry out the colors of red, white and blue with a red ceiling.

Large musical notes will be used on the walls featuring names of past orchestra leaders who have played for the annual affair.

Mrs. Browne says "The club members feel this is the year to reminisce as the name bands are getting harder to engage each year."

Dear Della and John,

Enclosed is our check renewing our subscription to the Devil. Didn't get the paper last week and missed it very much. You see, I'm afraid we both still miss Sonora tremendously and the Devil seems to help us keep in touch with you all. The paper comes on Saturday to our house and it's a race to the mail box to see who gets to read it first. So please send us this week's copy soon.

We especially enjoy Rev. Welch's column - also Green News but the truth is the paper is read from cover to cover.

Our new home is very nice and we have met some wonderful people. The academy is in session now with a new class of over 80 men so things are busy around here.

We have had beautiful weather and the fishing is great. All in all it's a very nice place, but, we miss our Sonora friends more than we can say. You have a wonderful little community and we both agree that two and a half years of our lives were happily spent there.

Hope to visit our friends in Sonora in early summer. Will be looking forward to seeing you and little Holly.

Sincerely, Lynda and Jerry Duncan (Editor's note: The Duncans address is Rt 1, Box 311 Las Fresnas, Texas 78566).

Girl Scouts - Birthday Girls

In our youth-oriented world, a 55th birthday might be better left uncelebrated. Who wants to admit being more than 17-years-old these mod-mod-mod days?

Well, a 55th birthday is being celebrated this week, not only with pride but with an eager anticipation of many more to come the half-century plus-five anniversary of Girl Scouts of the U. S. A.

There's been a long, long trail awinding from the 1912 era of the middy-blouse to that of the 1967 mini-skirt. Girl Scout hemlines aren't that far up, of course, nor are those of most young moderns. But the organization's mood is on-the-move-- as it has been through each changing generation.

Consider the Girl Scouts' new triennium theme: "Values to Hold - Worlds to Explore." The values still are the solid values founder Juliette Gordon Low instilled in her original band of 12 girls: to seek and carry forth the highest ideals of character, conduct, patriotism and service. And worlds to explore? Tangible worlds, of course-- of home, community, nation, other cultures, other lands. But perhaps, more important, the worlds of Girl Scout values themselves.

There's lots of questioning and questioning going on among all of today's youngsters. Girl Scouts are no exception. And being more than three million strong they represent a mighty force among American youth. So when they explore yesterday's values in the light of today's needs, they may come up with some meaningful answers for all young people.

Can girls be Girl Scouts and still be with it?

The girls and the two-third million adults, volunteers and professionals, who work with them believe they can. The communities which encourage and support them believe they can. So do we.

And on this editorial birthday cake, we're lighting 55 candles for the Girl Scouts -- plus one more to grow on.

Hard to Swallow

News reports of committee investigations of the personal actions of various members of Congress, their use of taxpayer's money for their own purposes and their disregard of restrictions that govern private citizens, have been an eye-opener for the voters and taxpayers.

There used to be a myth about the "divine right of kings", and "the king can do no wrong." The people in those times were helpless. But, in the U. S. today, they are not helpless. They have the right to vote, and they should note well the spenders of their tax funds.

To add insult to injury, a bill has been introduced in Congress to provide annual government paid vacations for congressmen-- two weeks abroad and two weeks in the U. S., including one traveling companion--but, why at taxpayers expense on nonofficial business?

As the Portland, Oregonian, says editorially, "Such lavish attention to vacations-- at the public expense -- is a risky business for Congress. Their constituents may decide that what their congressman should have is a long, long vacation, in retirement, at his own expense."

Which House Is Your Castle?
Three centuries ago, an English judge proclaimed that "a man's house is his castle."

Almost two centuries ago, the Fourth Amendment to the Constitution forbade any "unreasonable search" of a private dwelling.

And today, the safety of a person's house from governmental intrusion still ranks as one of the most distinctive hallmarks of a free land.

But which "house" is the law talking about?

Obviously it means a house that you own and live in. And it includes a house or apartment that you occupy as a tenant.

Summer cottage? House trailer? Hotel room? All these too, since they are places of dwelling, ordinarily share the constitutional guarantee of privacy.

The protection may also reach beyond the house itself. Courts have held it to include a householder's adjacent garage and a farmer's nearby barn. In both cases, the courts felt that the constitutional shelter should cover all areas reasonably within the ambit of family life.

Does this mean that the home is a privileged sanctuary for crime? Not at all. A house may indeed be searched under proper circumstances--for example, if the police first obtain a warrant, or are in the process of making a lawful arrest.

For then the search is "reasonable," not forbidden by the constitutional ban. As a United States Supreme Court justice said in upholding rightful searches:

"The framers of the Constitution only intended to restrain the abuse, not abolish the power."

But without such justifying circumstances, a house stands secure against the inroads of officialdom. An English statesman, Sir William Pitt, gave the doctrine its classical expression:

"The poorest man may in his cottage bid defiance to all the force of the Crown. It may be frail; its roof may shake; the wind may blow through it; the storms may enter, the rain may enter-- but the King of England cannot enter; all his forces dare not cross the threshold of the ruined tenement!"

FIREMEN'S AUXILIARY PARTY
Mrs. Louis Olinick was hostess to the Firemen's Auxiliary on Tuesday, February 23 at the Fire Hall. Members present were Mmes. Gene West, Leon Neely, Buddy Brown, E. L. Harrell, Ervin Willman, Kyle Donaldson, Dick Morrison, Lester Byer and Jack Hite. Guests attending were Mmes. A. H. Adkins, Al Everett, Freeman Mears, Harry Templeton, Collier Shurley and Miss Vivian Mears.

Bridge and 42 were played. High in 42 was won by Mrs. Kyle Donaldson. Mrs. Ervin Willman won the 84 prize and Mrs. Dick Morrison won low.

The Devil's River Philosopher sez: Missilemen Should Go to Gunnery School

Editor's note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his bitterweed ranch on Dry Devil's has missile fever, his letter this week indicates. Who doesn't?

Dear editor:

I knew it was going to happen sooner or later, and according to a newspaper I read last night a guided missile got out of hand in Florida and took off without authority, but fortunately headed off several hundred miles into the ocean and disappeared harmlessly.

The incident bears out what I've been arguing: the world has got all these guided missiles, each one aimed at some important city in a potential enemy's country, but how do we know they're accurate? How do we know they're going to land where they're aimed?

How do I know that somebody in Moscow, aiming at New York, may not sight down the barrel wrong and land the missile in the middle of this bitterweed ranch, just before my lambs sell? What's going to happen when some emotional Frenchman, told to fire, excitedly pulls the trigger toward Peking and the thing lands in the office of the Devil? Probably on press day.

Aside from the gross economic waste of using a multi-million-dollar missile on you or me, you can see what international confusion would result from guided missiles going off in all directions and few of them going where they were aimed. It might be years before we found out who won.

Of course the answer is an international peace conference, but I don't see much chance of that, therefore I am proposing that the world leaders immediately call an International Gunnery Conference.

Bring together all the men from all nations who are in charge of firing missiles and give them an intensive, thorough-going training course in marksmanship. Make it an absolutely closed union shop, with nobody allowed to graduate and return to fire for any country until his accuracy is absolutely unquestioned. I don't know where they would do their practice firing, but China is an awfully big country.

It would be terrible enough to have a missile war run by experts, but turn it over to amateurs, with missiles going off in all directions like children's sky-rockets, and the situation is too awful to contemplate.

I hope you will get hold of our Congressman right way and get this gunnery school started.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Ranch Improvement Program Planned

A state-wide effort which could add an estimated $33 million annually to the agricultural income of Texas is now underway.

For several months specialists of the Texas A&M Agricultural Extension Service have been preparing production and management guidelines to be used in a three point educational program. The educational effort is aimed at increasing farmer and rancher income; increasing their production efficiency and gearing production to produce the quality of products demanded by the market.

John E. Hutchison, Director of the Extension Service in announcing the program said the guidelines combine all of the best practices available from research and from proven demonstrations on the production of crops and livestock. A $300 million increase in agricultural income can be achieved, and is in fact conservative, if producers will put the suggested guidelines into practice, and weather conditions are favorable, he added.

The guidelines, for the most part, include the "what and when to do" for the most efficient production and cover 20 important crop and livestock enterprises, Hutchison said.

Clint Langford, county agent, said guidelines for sheep, goats and cattle will be mailed to Sutton County producers May 1.

Guidelines for field crops have already been mailed. Hutchison said the state's county agricultural agents took the specialist prepared guides, and working with the county program building committees and sub-committees, adapted them into county programs of action. The finalized guidelines will be reproduced and copies distributed to all producers of economically important crop and livestock enterprises in each county. The crop production guidelines will be distributed first, he added.

Hutchison concluded that this was an effort to make sure that all producers of economically important crops and livestock have available for easy reference the best production guidelines known. This program can greatly increase agricultural income in the state, increase net income to producers, and maintain and improve the competitive position of Texas producers, the director concluded.

"Speedy" Lambing Works in Testing

Hopes are high for a "speeded up" lambing project here.

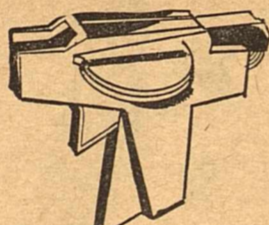

What it amounts to, researchers at Texas A&M University's Livestock and Forage Research Center are getting more than the usual one lamb crop a year. They aren't necessarily getting two lamb crops a year, but have been getting about three crops in two years.

According to Dr. Maurice Shelton and Ed Huston, A&M researchers, sheep have only a five month gestation period. They say it is theoretically possible for sheep to lamb twice a year, and individual ewes have done this. But it is not possible or practical on a whole flock basis.

The first is continuous lambing. Here, they leave rams with the flock year-around. Using this method the A&M researchers got a 156 percent lamb crop a year, compared to only a 100 percent lamb crop from ewes lambing once a year. (The figures mean the number of lambs raised in one year as a percent of the number of ewes). They say disadvantages of continuous lambing are that lambs will be irregular in age and size and it's impossible to manage ewes according to stage of pregnancy or lactation.

The second idea is rebreeding after weaning lambs early. With this method sheep raised a 140 percent lamb crop. One advantage this has over continuous lambing is that uniform lamb crops can be produced and ewes can be managed according to stage of lactation or gestation. It also has the advantage that time of lambing can be controlled and where advisable lambing at less favorable seasons can be avoided.

GREEN NEWS

The weather has been so good lately the golfers have been coming out by the millions. Friday must have been a record-breaking day. There were so many golfers out you couldn't even find a parking place.

lots of card and domino games going on later so if you don't golf you can still come out and visit and get in on some of the tales of the day.

—GN—

On days like that there's always

Sunday afternoon was perfect for golf too. It's too bad some of those seven and eightsomes had to make it miserable for the rest of the golfers. It sure is slow playing when you have groups like that out on the course on weekends.

—GN—

We hear that Tommy Thorp made a two on number eight. He's not the one that told the story either so it must be true. Many more holes like that and his handicap will really be coming down.

—GN—

A twosome seen around the course was Ed and Frances Grobe. Of course we see Ed out all the time but we'd sure like to see Frances out more often.

We gave away two totebags for prizes last Wednesday. Libbye Lowe won first place and there was a tie for second between Wanda Cahil and Marilyn Bloodworth. Marilyn won the toss up, though, so she got the prize.

—GN—

Barbara Snodgrass and one of the boys were seen out playing this week. Bob better hang on to the keys to his golf cart because if we can get Barbara to coming out more often he'll be among the walking again.

A couple of other strange faces seen this week were Jane Cavaness and Jackie Hopkins. We hope they'll be playing more now that the weather is nice.

—GN—

The third Sunday of the month is coming up so if things go as planned there should be some sort of mixed foursome this Sunday afternoon. Be sure and come on out.

DISPLAYING A GRADING machine that enlarges and decreases pattern sizes from a basic 10 is Mrs. Warren Wallace of the Eldorado Woolens, Sonora division. Her husband in the background is displaying one of the fall creations that will wholesale between $8.75 and $21.75. Nine other employees of the garment division work regularly on designs, patterns, and production that originated in Sonora. Design is done by Reg Manning and getting the pieces ready for sewing is accomplished by Mr. and Mrs. Wallace. Sears stores have just received a 150 piece shipment manufactured in Sonora, 137 light-weight blouses and skirts, were sold to another store, and 100 other pieces are waiting here for notification for delivery. Machines for the garment division were purchased by the Sonora Industrial Foundation.

Lamb Feeding Cure For Drought Period

Feeding extra young lambs may offer one way for sheep producers to whip the drought.

Because of current drought conditions many producers are faced with a problem of what to do with fall or winter dropped lambs, according to J. E. Huston and Maurice Shelton, of Texas A&M University's Livestock and Forage Research Center at McGregor.

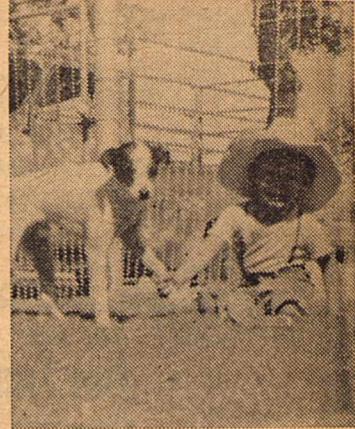

They say where it's necessary to feed both the ewe and the lambs their total feed intake, it's best to wean the lambs and put them in dry lot on a high energy ration.

They say lambs may be weaned to a dry lot any time after they are two months old or weigh 40 pounds, without a serious slowdown in their growth rate.

For best results, say Shelton and Huston, the lambs should be put on feed before they become "dog-gied."

At the A&M research center, young lambs are making gains of over one-half pound per day or around four pounds of feed per pound gain.

The researchers say a large number of ration formulations can be devised to give good results on young lambs. Anyone interested in the ration being used at the research center may write for it there.

Former Governor To Be Honored

Former Governor Coke R. Stevenson will be honored on March 1 at dedication of an official Texas historical marker at the courthouse in Junction where he began his political career in 1914.

Official hosts for the dedication and reception following in Hotel Las Lomas will be Texas State Historical Survey Committee and Kimmie County Historical Survey Committee. Local Chamber of Commerce and other organizations are assisting.

Stevenson is the first and only Texas to date to hold the three highest executive offices: Speaker of the House, Lieutenant Governor and Governor. This is the third official marker dedication in which he has been honored during the past year.

The public is invited to the dedication ceremony and nearby reception.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS BY VERN SANFORD

By Vern Sanford

Little gems they are! And to the fisherman they're like beautiful strings of pearls.

They're little and often practically unnoticed. But they produce some of the state's finest... yet unheralded... fishing.

The little gems are the countless hundreds of stock ponds and potholes over Texas... ranging from an acre to 10 acres in size. These strings of pearls are the winding rice canals that supply water for rice field irrigation.

Many of the larger ponds, those 10 acres or so in size, are fished regularly either on a per day basis or by members of private fishing clubs.

Most of the smaller ponds... and the rice canals... can be fished simply by getting permission of the landowners.

What do these ponds and canals yield? Fine bluegill, bream and perch action plus some astonishingly large black bass, blackies running as large as six pounds.

This is one kind of fishing that requires no special equipment. Standard baitcasting, spincasting or spinning gear will do the trick. It's also the kind of water that can be worked with fly tackle.

Except in the case of the larger ponds, all the fishing can be done from the bank.

On the larger ponds, a small johnboat or canoe will put the angler within reach of every foot of water.

Unless the water area is quite small and badly overfished, the little gems will produce more fish in a given amount of fishing time than the large lakes that cover many square miles. This is simply because on the small ponds an angler can cover all the water and all likely spots.

Consequently these little gems are ideal areas where you can give youngsters their first taste of angling.

Fishing, as delightful as it is, becomes a bore to a youngster if fish are slow to bite or are lacking. But in the little ponds the bream and perch seem to have unending appetites and offer big lakes are also fishgetters in the ponds and canals. And the method of fishing also is the same.

Ponds have flats, shallows and deep holes just like the big lakes. Most of the man-made stock ponds are dug in such a manner that the deep troughs are close to and parallel to the bank. These troughs may run six to 10 feet deep with the shallows out in the middle just a couple of feet in depth. And most of these ponds have small foot bridges or shallow bars on which the angler can cross to reach the areas that can be waded.

Rice canals are six to eight feet deep and 20 to 30 feet wide. Their length depends on how large a rice area is serviced.

Every year more and more landowners are opening their ponds to fishing. Usually fishing rights are given to friends and folks who ask permission. Owners have found that without a reasonable amount of fishing pressure on the ponds, the waters quickly become overstocked. Such ponds produce a lot of fish, but on over-stocked ponds fish are stunted and small.

Unless an owner wants to go to the trouble and expense of cleaning a pond every few years with nets or chemicals, the sensible way of pond management is to permit a reasonable amount of fishing.

Anglers will find fishing permission rarely denied if they show the courtesy to ask permission to fish and promise not to deface or damage property.

Polk Talks Sparkle To Downtown Lions

The Rev. Rollin Polk led Sonora Downtown Lions Club members in a brainstorming session Tuesday to uncover ideas to make Sonora sparkle. Operation Sparkle is a West Texas Chamber of Commerce program designed to get West Texas as towns sparkling for the influx of tourists for the 1968 HemisFair and Mexico Olympics.

Polk and Bob Johnson, Chamber of Commerce manager, then showed slides of Sonora eyesores and beauty spots, demonstrating how initiative and work could change surroundings and make them more attractive.

Mrs. Alfred Schwiening has returned to her home from the Methodist Hospital in Houston, where she had recently been to receive medical treatment.

YOUR MINISTER SAYS

A HELPING HAND

Sometimes we are prone to criticize the individual who is "always having his name in the paper." We say, for example, that "Joe will do almost anything to see his name in print."

Usually what we are talking about is the fact that Joe gives of his time to direct or work in behalf of civic and charitable projects, that he belongs to clubs and organizations which do worthwhile things, and that he makes some worthwhile contribution to the community in which he lives.

Granted, perhaps, some individuals may put forth time and effort for the "publicity" involved, but such instances are not so numerous as sideline commentators would make us believe.

Before we criticize another's good intentions, it would be wise for each of us to analyze our own contributions to our community and to our fellow man. How often have we turned away when someone was obviously in need of a helping hand?

Heart Fund Drive Stands at $554.35

by the Rev. Ross T. Welch
I never cease to be amazed at how much more work Bill Whitehead gets done from a wheel chair than most folk accomplish who have two strong legs under them.

Last Friday morning, we went to the lots on Bill's ranch where 362 head of steers and young bulls were penned. Bill has made a number of chutes for working cattle, but he cannot keep them; someone comes along and offers him enough money that he lets them haul the chutes away.

He had started one—that he hopes to keep—but it was not completed. Bill went into action—the first thing he learned to do after he returned from the Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation was to work with metals, and by 10 o'clock the chute was working perfectly.

Every calf had to be branded, about half had to be dehorned and the sockets doctored, all ears had to be treated for possible tick infection, and about one-third had to be emasculated.

Wanting to be helpful, I manned the chute gate, which clamped down on the neck of the animal and prevented his going forward or backward. Then the side of the chute was moved in until it put the squeeze on the animal and the operation proceeded.

If the animal had no horns the gate did not have to be opened very wide, and it was not too difficult to clamp it on the neck. But if the gate had to be opened wide enough to allow the passage of a set of horns, it was difficult to pin the animal before he got his shoulders through, in which case he had to be turned loose, cut out from the branded ones and run through again.

Out of the first seventy-five, I missed about five, but my average improved. I stayed until we had run about two hundred head through the chute; and I understand the others almost finished before night. I thought it was a pretty good day's work. I worked without a hat—did not want to get blood on my good Stetson—and by night I was pretty well blistered. I came away with renewed admiration for the man in the wheel chair who never raised his voice in anger, but kept the operation going smoothly all day long, speaking in Spanish as freely as in English.

Thirty-two young people are registered for the Ministerial Alliance sponsored course, "You and Your Life Work," the first session of which was conducted Sunday afternoon at the First Methodist Church. Registrations will be closed after next Sunday's session.

A few parents accompanied their teen age children Sunday as they had been invited to do, and received some instruction as to their part in guiding the vocational choices of their children.

Dr. Glen Lembeke of San Antonio spoke briefly to the youth group. Four additional sessions will follow.

GALBREATH SELLS BULLS

Billy Galbreath recently sold five Aberdeen-Angus bulls to J. W. Gorman of Poteet, Texas.

on successive Sunday afternoons, omitting Easter.

Possibility of a summer recreation program for the children and youth of Sonora was advanced appreciably when my neighbor Bryan Hunt responded to a request for playground space: "We have several lots scattered over town and we shall see that you get playground space."

It seems like summer is upon us and we have had no spring; and we cannot have very much spring until we have some rain. Maybe everyone should pray for a wet Easter. What could better symbolize renewal and resurrection through nature than a good, soaking rain?

I dropped by the Baptist Parsonage Sunday afternoon and quite by coincidence ran into a number of persons I had known from different places. I was glad to see Rodney's lay speaker and brother-in-law, Dr. Clyde Nail, now of San Antonio College faculty. He started out at Christoval and I at Water Valley and our basketball and track teams were usually the best rural teams in Tom Green County. Our teams were in frequent competition.

Another visitor for the day was Rodney's brother from Pleasanton, whom I had known very pleasantly when I lived around San Antonio. A third person with whom I enjoyed a brief visit was Mrs. Lewis Hale of Christoval. We both grew up at Sterling City.

in distress? Mrs. Clara E. Linn of Orangevale, Calif., writes: "Am having a very bad time trying to prove my age for Social Security reasons. . . . I was baptised in the Methodist Church when I was 7-8-9 or 10 years old and I was born 6-19-04, Clara Elender Pinkston.

If anyone has helpful information I should be glad to forward it. I could find no baptismal record.

Just bade goodbye to the Herman Smiths with mixed emotions. Everyone rejoices in the nice promotion Foxworth-Galbraith has afforded Herman as he goes to manage the Kerrville lumber yard; the entire community and the First Methodist Church most of all regret the loss of Blanche and Herman Smith.

Someone, or better several who have been coasting will have to get with it to any where near get the jobs done that we always depended on these two to do.

Herman called for a date to watch next year's State Championship game together. We hope to see them many times before then. Smith may be a common name, but these Smiths are extra-ordinary.

Contributions to the Sutton County Heart Fund during February have reached $554.35, according to Mrs. Lea Roy Aldwell, local Heart Association treasurer and drive chairman.

What'd you expect us to put our Overhead Cam Six in?

An ordinary car?

Our revolutionary 165-hp OHC 6 is so revolutionary we had to do something special with it. So we made it standard in all Tempests and LeMans. You see, it was inspired by those famous overhead cam engines in expensive European sports cars. With a few Pontiac refinements, of course. And with a power reserve for expressway passing you'd normally expect from a V-8.

lot of big V-8s seem awfully extravagant. Which is why we say, with a six like this who needs an eight?

Incidentally, a four-way hazard warning flasher, backup lights, and GM's energy absorbing steering column are some of the safety features also standard in Tempests and LeMans. How can you resist seeing your Pontiac dealer today?

Wool, Unshorn Lamb Payments Due

According to Marie K. Aldwell, Sutton County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office manager, the 1966 Wool Program Incentive Payments for wool and unshorn lambs are expected to be made in April.

The national average should be announced in the near future.

Wool payment will be made to ranchers in one check. Mohair payment will be made on a separate check and will be paid at a later date than wool and unshorn lamb payments.

These payments are for the 1966 marketing year which was for wool, unshorn lambs and mohair that was sold in the 1966 calendar year.

Sales documents for the 1967 marketing year are being accepted for safe keeping until a later date or for applications whichever the producer prefers.

Livestock Company Opens New Season

Sonora Livestock Exchange Company opens their 1967 sale season today.

One of the managers, Sam E. Jones, said that weekly sales will be held this year instead of every two weeks as was done in the past.

Jones said, "We feel we can better serve the needs of ranchers by holding weekly sales."

The exchange company will deal in all types of livestock but will hold special sales at times.

Goat sales are scheduled for March 23, April 6 and 20. A horse sale has been planned for May 18.

OVER 400 POUNDS OF SHOW DOGS visited in Sonora with their handlers enroute to shows in Austin and San Antonio. They are the champion Saluki, a Russian Wolfhound, Great Dane, standard Poodle and long-haired dachshund. The Saluki has been national champion in his class since 1963.

Champion Dogs Slay Over in Sonora Enroute to San Antonio, Austin Shows

Can you imagine traveling half-way across the country accompanied by a Great Dane, a Russian Wolfhound, a small, long haired Dachshund, a large French Poodle, and an Egyptian Saluki; yes, there is a real Saluki.

Michael P. Walsh, Gorman L. Lovett and Helen Daniels are doing it and enjoying it too. The trio are enroute from their homes in Tucson, Arizona, to dog shows in Austin and San Antonio. They are staying at the Sonora Motel to rest and exercise the dogs.

Walsh and Lovett operate Shem Haven Kennels in Tucson and breed Afghan hounds. Miss Daniels operates Azca Kennels, also in Tucson, and is a breeder of Great Danes. She is also a qualified obedience instructor.

They will show the dogs in the Austin and San Antonio shows for the owners.

The rare Saluki, is owned by Dr. Winifred Lucas of Los Angeles, operator of Srinagar Kennels. She is regarded as the top breeder of Saluki hounds in the nation. Only a few hundred of the breed are being raised in the United States. Dr. Lucas owns about 40 of them.

The Saluki, according to Walsh is an Egyptian hunting hound and is similar in configuration to wolfhounds and afgans. Walsh said the dog has been the champion of his breed in shows since 1963. He said, "This particular dog is highly publicized, having appeared on the cover of a dog breeder's magazine and also in the movie, 'The Greatest Story Ever Told.'"

The Russian Wolfhound or Borshoi, has not yet won a championship but is very near the goal on the point system used in dog shows. Walsh described the huge animal as just getting out of the "silly puppy stage" of development.

The Poodle and Great Dane are also just starting out in the show field and both are nearing enough points for a championship rating.

The Dachshund is Walsh's personal pet and is as he described him, "a little too spoiled and pampered."
