About 1400 calves belonging to Duke Wilson will arrive at the Sonora Livestock Exchange Company's pens Friday and will be loaded Saturday on a special 40-car train going to South Dakota. Sam E. Jones says that this is the biggest bunch of calves to leave out in a long while. He expected the calves to fill both the Santa Fe and exchange company's pens.

After reaching South Dakota, the calves will be trail driven the last 70 miles to their destination, just like in the good old days.

PRESENTING AN ANNIVERSARY PLAQUE to Joe Hull for 50 years of Ford service by Sonora Motor Company are Don Minchew, business management manager and Jack Mendel, district manager of Ford in Dallas. Mrs. Hull looks on during the presentation.

Sonora Motor Company Honored For 50 Years of Ford Service

One of Sonora's oldest business establishments, Sonora Motor Company was honored May 3 on its 50th year of selling Ford Motor Company vehicles.

Joe Hull, president of the Sonora Ford agency, accepted an anniversary plaque from Jack W. Mendel, manager of the Dallas district sales office and recounted some of the events that have occurred during the firm's half-century of operations.

He said that the dealership began sales and service of Model T Fords in August, 1917, with Hull's uncle, Sam Hull, who was in partnership with two other men. Joe Hull stated that the company always has been in the family and that in 1924 his father, Fred Hull, joined the operation.

Joe Hull joined the dealership in 1945 after having worked with the company since 1928. His son, Rayford, became an employee in 1958.

The Sonora Motor Company has moved only once during its 50 year existence. In 1920, the firm moved into new facilities directly across the street from its original location on Concho Street.

The Touch of a Hand

A touch of a hand can destroy millions of years of nature's handiwork; a thoughtless move can mar a century-old natural phenomena . . . and criminal action cannot be taken against anyone defacing these wonders.

The problem of killing "living" formations in the caves of Texas has been brought before a subcommittee of the Texas House of Representatives. Texas has many caves, drawing many dollar spending tourists.

Each year, the caverns of Sonora draw thousands of tourists and with the growing tourism industry and growing popularity of the caverns, the numbers will increase.

But, with the large investment involved in opening the caverns and maintaining them, the owners have no method of prosecuting persons who deface the priceless and irreplaceable formations. Texas has no law to cover this particular form of vandalism.

Laws derive their purpose from their deterrent factor; a punishment that discourages commission. Since tourism, and the caverns in particular, is a large factor of the Sonora economy, the proposed bill should be encouraged by Sonorans.

Punishment proposed in the hearing is one year in jail and a $500 fine.

rate of 10 feet per day and should be 300 feet tall by June 15. By the first of August the tower shaft will have reached 600 feet.

Final completion is planned for January 1968, for the opening of HemisFair in April of 1968.

The building will be twice as tall as the city's existing landmark, the spire-topped, Transit Tower building, the tallest structure in the Alamo City.

Plans call for a 312-seat revolving restaurant at the top of the new tower. Work is progressing at a

The Devil's River Philosopher sez: Most People Are Used to Being Taxed

Editor's note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his bitterweed ranch on Dry Devil's River seems a little tax happy this week, his letter indicates.

Dear editor:
It finally happened. I have no notion how it got there, but a fat copy of the New York Times blew against my front gate some time last night and this morning I found it flat on its face. The paper was just a Thursday issue, and had it been a Sunday one, no telling what would have happened. Splintered the gate I guess.

I can say this, the publisher of the New York Times may know a lot about the newspaper business but he doesn't know much about gates, or why else would he put so many pages in his paper? You won't catch The Devil pulling a stunt like that.

However, since it was here and all I had to do was bend over to pick it up, I picked the paper up and sat down on the front porch to read while I got used to the idea of not having to close that gate anymore.

New York, I discovered, like Houston or Dallas or nearly any other place you can name is having trouble finding enough tax money to operate on, and I was interested in one proposal.

A lot of people, it seems, live out-as she went on alone, and the gates closed after her. And they said, "We cannot see her, but she is with us still. A Mother like ours is more than a memory. She is a Living Presence."

By Temple Bailey
(Submitted by Mrs. Philip Jacoby)

side the city and come in to work, earning their living there and enjoying the cultural advantages, the running water, streets, parks, and whatever police protection they can get, but don't pay any city taxes.

Therefore, the idea was to tax them as they come in, to force them to carry their share of the load.

This suits me all right. Fair is fair. And then I got to thinking. A lot of people live in the city and come out in the country to enjoy the scenery, etc., but do they help pay for my running water and the fresh air and other advantages I produce out here?

Therefore, when a city taxes country people coming in, country people ought to tax city people coming out. They should use the same booth.

This way both sides would increase its tax revenue. You'd have money coming in all the time, as people came and went.

Of course, this would add an extra burden on a lot of people, but that's all right. Nearly everybody nowadays is used to being taxed coming and going anyway.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Austin Report

by Hillary Doran

Some of the more important bills considered and passed last week by the house were Senate Bill 204 which establishes the Texas Water Quality Board; Senate Bill 292 relating to an optional retirement program for teachers; House Bill 301 requiring vehicles carrying certain dangerous substances to stop at railway crossings within towns; and House Bill 354 which relates to drivers licenses, the violation of traffic laws and other matters of highway safety.

Many of the above named bills now go to the governor for his signature while a few still have to be considered by the Senate before they are eligible to be sent to the Governor. With only three weeks remaining in the regular session of the 60th Legislature, the pace is beginning to quicken a majority of the committee hearings are nearing completion and the bulk of the work and action now moves to the floor of the House and Senate.

Last week I reported that the liquor by the drink bill was voted out of committee in a surprise move and was now eligible to be brought before the House for a vote. I also mentioned this bill had been amended from its original version and could not predict its chances at that time. Since then members, have had time to study this bill and it is the general or at least the majority feeling that this bill does not possess sufficient votes in order to pass in the House. Some of the amendments that have been placed on the bill have probably hurt its chances of passage more than they have helped. There is considerable behind the scenes activity concerning this bill and even though I do not think it could pass today, I cannot predict what will happen in the remaining three weeks of this session.

Due to the huge log jam of legislation still awaiting action in the Legislature, there are many rumors and theories being discussed on whether or not a special session will be needed in June. However, most of the members feel that special session will not be needed due to the fact that the Governor has already announced that he will call a special session next year.

Sparkle Committee Meets at Chamber

Members of the "Operation Sparkle" committee of the Sonora chamber of commerce met Monday, May 8, to evaluate beautification projects conducted during the past 15 months.

It was noted that three draws within the city had been cleaned out and graded. The G. I. Forum, the city of Sonora, Sutton County, and several individuals cooperated to produce these improvements. Also listed were the new airport runway, a start on a new golf course, removal of old cars from several service stations and installation of sidewalks around the courthouse.

It was the feeling of the members present that most people would like to make our city more attractive, but that many do not know how to go about it. The suggestion was made that citizens should drive around town to look at other property to get ideas about what to do "back home."

There appeared to be real interest in setting aside land for a city park. Interested citizens and officials will be consulted soon on this matter.

The chamber of commerce has stated, "1968 will be a big year for Texas with visitors coming to HemisFair and several conventions. We must prepare to welcome them."

Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Bostick of Graham are the parents of a daughter born May 10.

Grandparents are Rev. and Mrs. Rodney Dowdy and Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Bostick of Rising Star. The great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Dowdy and Mrs. E. O. Henry of San Antonio.

The inscription on the Unknown Soldier's monument in Arlington Cemetery reads, "Known but to God." Memorial Day is a good time to remember the other unsung heroes those in great pain who never complain; those who make many personal sacrifices for family and friends far beyond their duty; those who imperil their political future for the sake of principle. Let us build in our hearts a memorial for all those whose righteous, sacrificial deeds deserve it.

Dialing "Mysteries" Revealed At General Telephone Exchange

The "mysteries" of the direct dial telephone system were revealed to the public at an open house at the offices of the General Telephone Company of the Southwest here, Tuesday, May 9.

According to district manager, R. R. McCullough, this was the first open house held in Sonora since the installation of the Direct Distance Dialing equipment in the exchange here.

John Robbins Jr., Central division manager as guest speaker at the Tuesday Lions Club meeting said that Sonorans will be able to reach any other telephone in the country by dialing just 13 digits.

"The new system", Robbins said, "covers just about every dialing situation a telephone customer that provision has been made to might be faced with." He added allow both person to person and station to station calling. "Callers will be able to make a direct, person to person call by just dialing a three digit prefix number before the area code number and regular telephone number. Directions will be given in the new telephone directory.

Robbins said that even mistakes in dialing had been taken into account. He said, "If the dialer makes a mistake and gets the wrong number, he may dial the operator and inform her and no charge will be made."

The spotlessly clean exchange office here was open to the public all day and refreshments were served.

According to technicians at the exchange, the building must be kept clean and air conditioned to avoid any chance of dust clogging the delicate dialing apparatus.

The cable apparatus in the Sonora exchange must also be kept clean and dry. A dry air machine is used to force dry air through the cable housings under low pressure to dry the wiring and to keep water from entering through any small holes which might occur.

Also on hand is a system of batteries that would enable up to eight hours of telephone operation in the event of a power failure.

A Parson's Eye View of Sonora

It has often been said that a community's civic pride can be easily measured by a look at its cemetery. My hat is off this week to George Kesselburg, who keeps the Sonora Cemetery so neat and attractive that anyone could proudly choose this as a final resting place.

I like for a burial ground to have natural beauty. Any other kind looks cheap by comparison. My preference is for a cemetery to be on a hillside rather than level ground. Whoever was responsible for the selection of this site deserves the commendation of the entire community.

The place has been well cared for through the years. The grounds are laid out beautifully and the stone-terraced levels indicate loving care. The live oak trees suggest the sturdy and endearing qualities of those pioneers who lie buried at their feet.

So many West Texas cemeteries, lacking in natural beauty to start with, stand as symbols of drouth, discouragement and despair. Broom weeds and Johnson grass add little beauty to the picture of desolation. The gravestones no longer stand erect. There is little there to suggest peaceful rest.

Thanks to Mr. Kesselburg and others who take pride in their individual plots, the Sonora Cemetery is neat and attractive and in many ways suggests the peaceful rest that we wish for our loved ones.

good. If the person to whom you are speaking is not a cousin, he is apt to be a good friend.

I was surprised the other day to hear a prominent citizen speak of the "community gossip." I am sure he did not have reference to malicious gossip. There will always be small talk whenever people get together. One of the joys of living in a small town is that we care about each other.

Maybe I have just been fortunate, but in the eleven months we have been in Sonora we have heard very little that could be classified as malicious or harmful. May it ever be so!

We have been pleased that so many have asked about S.C.R.A.P. and evidenced an interest in its success. We entered voluntarily into this program, not expecting to gain any new church members nor to increase my chances for a promotion, but because I am interested in young people and children.

I deeply appreciate the confidence of the supporting agencies who cheerfully voted funds for the project while it was still just a germ of an idea. Now the project has gained some stature and respectability. We have a board of directors of twenty.

These are busy people who, without arm twisting or complaining, accepted an added responsibility. To them we are grateful.

We have the finest possible cooperation on the part of the school officials. They have conducted surveys, selected representatives to the S.C.R.A.P. council and allowed us time to present the program.

We think we are very fortunate in the type of leadership we have been able to secure for this program. Before this is read, he will have visited our community, and we hope you share our enthusiasm.

But—with all we have for which to be thankful—we still carry a heavy burden of responsibility. The program is a long way from being a success. And it may never be. From here on, it is your responsibility, gracious reader. You and your children can make S.C.R.A.P. something worthwhile that the entire community will want to perpetuate. Or you can write it off as the worst flop ever undertaken in Sonora.

We feel under obligation to make a success of the program, because you have entrusted us with public funds. We have enumerated other reasons previously. We are grateful for the confidence expressed by a representative of the First National Bank, who—realizing we were working on a limited budget—volunteered to give financial assistance.

NOW—we need your children and your backing to make S.C.R.A.P., a success. We are under no compulsion to make big league players out of your sons. We want everyone to play every time he can. The full extent of the program is undetermined at this point; but if it is going to be a community program, Harlan cannot run it by himself.

At this point, we know there are some skeptics. We hope this program can be so successful that before many years it will have the undivided support of the entire community because it is contributing something worthwhile to the lives and interests of our children and youth. We have seen it happen in other places.

We feel quite sure the continued cool weather is a welcomed condition on the part of both teachers and pupils in the public schools. Future summer classes will doubtless be scheduled in the newer (air conditioned) buildings. Too bad those buildings are not ready for use this summer.

Faculty selection has been completed for the Daily Vacation Church School scheduled for June 5-9. Co-directors for the school are Mrs. Albert Ward and Mrs. Jimmy H. Harris.

It appeared from a newspaper account that one Sonora couple took a lion's share of honors at Angelo State College Rodeo. Jack Wardlaw took first in every men's event except bull riding and Jessie Lem earned a first, a second and a third in the three events for women.

Have you seen the pretty rose garden of Rev. (ret) and Mrs. J. E. Eldridge at 901 Tayloe. Their hobby not only affords them employment and pleasure but is a source of joy to every passer-by.

Sunday is Mother's Day. Your mother doubtless trained you in Sunday school and church. How could you better honor her or her memory than by attending the church of your choice?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL...
ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Customs may differ among the races and may change with the times, but certain institutions in human life have remained constant through the centuries. One of these is Motherhood.

Progress has given Mother new methods and new equipment for her age-old responsibilities. But the love and understanding which are the heart of Motherhood have never depended on science for their expression.

One unchanging sphere of material responsibility has been the religious development of children. From primitive tribal religions up to Christianity, mothers have guided and encouraged the growth of each successive generation in spiritual faith.

The Christian Church salutes all faithful mothers. They have led their families to an ever deepening realization of the sacred bond which unites the Church and the Home in a common devotion to Jesus Christ.

A TWO-HEADED CORAL SNAKE? Well, would you believe a Coral snake that ate a chicken snake? Strange but true. Bill Morriss found the deadly Coral snake and killed it with a rock. When the rock struck the snake, the chicken snake "popped" out of the other's intestine.

Tourist Meeting Set at Rocksprings

"Community effort in tourist development" will be the main theme of a county historical survey committee regional meeting at Rocksprings, May 12. Joe B. Ross, chairman of the Sutton County Historical Survey Committee as well as committee members have been invited to represent their county at this meeting.

Among topics to be discussed is the governor's new proposal calling for designation of a state-wide system of "Recreational, Scenic and Historic Roadways." Connally said the basic idea for the roadways is: "To guide tourists off high-speed expressways and into our byways. This would encourage tourists to stay longer and Texas would benefit from the increased revenue."

Participating in the meeting will be Phil Davis, community relations chief, Texas Development Agency. Davis will make a presentation on "HemisFair '68" and give pointers on what local communities can do to attract tourists during 1967, which in Davis' words, "promises to be the biggest year for tourism in the state's history."

Travel Assistance Aids Vacationers

Going on a trip? A travel agent may be the secret to a happy and satisfying experience.

Whether you actually need an agent is a matter of your travel experience, says Lucille Moore, Extension recreation specialist with Texas A&M University. You may already know your way around the United States or over seas.

On the other hand, a reliable agent may save you time and effort and give you useful advice. When you find a good one, stay with him and recommend him to your friends.

How does a travel agent make his money? Agents receive a small percent commission from domestic airlines and on international flights. They get a percentage on advertised international and domestic tours. Some agents charge the traveler direct and will say so when you first plan your trip.

Whenever you buy a travel package, be sure you understand all items and conditions before you pay, especially the provisions for refund if you decide to cancel.

If your dealings are unsatisfactory and you believe a formal complaint is justified, contact the Better Business Bureau, the airline or steamship company, or the Grievance Department, American Society of Travel Agents in New York.

Drive the cost of living down, without giving up all this.

Chevrolet's room, ride and price. When Automotive News made its annual roominess study, Chevrolet got the most points. It's roomier inside, they reported, than any other American car. The ride is Full Coil suspension smooth. And Chevrolet hardtops and convertibles are still the lowest priced full-size cars of this kind you can buy. Chevelle's quick size. It's quick to climb, quick to turn. Other mid-size cars might be like Chevelle, true. But they're not as low priced. And they're not made by Chevrolet with Body by Fisher, GM-developed energy-absorbing steering column, inner fenders and Full Coil suspension. Camaro's road-hugging stance. At its price, Camaro is the only sportster to give you wide-stance design. It rides steadier, clings to curves better, hugs the road closer. It's the roomiest car you can buy. Plus, you get a bigger standard engine.

USDA Research Chief Speaker at Station

The sheep industry in Texas and other sheep raising areas of the country may get a shot in the arm as far as meat values are concerned, according to C. E. Terrill, chief of the sheep and fur animal research branch of the Department of Agriculture.

Terrill was guest speaker at the sheep field day held at the Ranch Experiment Station here, Thursday, May 4.

Terrill said that the USDA felt a need existed for a research facility for meat producers. The new center is being built near Hastings, Nebraska, and will be devoted to sheep, swine and cattle studies in relation to their meat values.

Other speakers on the program included Dr. W. T. Hardy, superintendent of the station. He spoke on his specialized subject of internal parasites.

Jim Menzies, assistant husbandman at the station, spoke on the physical factors of feedlots and discussed performance tests carried on at the station on bucks and rams.

Producers participating in the tests were presented certificates from the station.

W. L. (Tom) Davis' entries placed first and tenth in the ram tests. Both were certified.

For certification entries had to rank in the top 40 percent of the text group by index score.

Test animals were required to gain .47 pounds per head per day, shear at least nine pounds of clean wool per 12 months, have a staple length of 3.75 inches on a 12 month basis, be 60's or finer and have a face cover rating of 3.8 or lower. The lower the score the more open the face.

Davis' ram gained .5 pound per day, had a staple length of 4.60 rated in 62's, yielding 12.69 pounds of clean wool and 21.69 grease wool. They had a face cover rating of one and skin fold count of 1.4 or smooth.

The sire of the winning ram won grand champion fleece in the 1966 San Antonio Stock Show.

Sonora School Board Authorizes Sale Of Negro School Property for $4,000

A buyer for the property on which the old, Negro school stood was named in the regular meeting of the school board Monday, May 8.

The board authorized board president, Armer Earwood, to sell the property to Mrs. Jean Thompson for $4,000. The West Side Lions Club recently purchased the school building and moved it to a new location to be used for boy scout activities sponsored by the organization.

In other board action, members were notified that construction on additions to both L. W. Elliott school and Sonora High School is behind schedule.

Notice came from Ray Dunlap, clerk of the work for both structures. Dunlap said that construction may not be finished in time for use at the start of school in September.

Dunlap, who works in an advisory capacity for architect, John Gary and the Sonora schools, did say that construction was of very good quality.

Contractor for the job is the H. V. Burke Construction Company and is being financed by a $450,000 bond issue passed last year.

He added that no vandalism has occurred at the building site and that the work crew had received good cooperation from the students and school officials.

Justice of Peace Tries 53 Cases

Collections of fines by Justice of the Peace, Alfred Cooper, amounted to a total of $965, during April.

Of that total, $24 was collected for sheriff's fees.

Most common offense tried in the court was for minors in possession of alcoholic beverages. Twelve youths were arrested on that charge during the month. Three adults were charged with making alcoholic beverages available to minors and were fined $50 each.

A total of 53 cases were tried. Most were for traffic violations. One forgery case was brought to the court and bond was set at $2,000.
