Students, and ex-students, of Texas A&M University have long been on the losing end of the now popular humorous stories featuring the "Aggie" as the anti-hero, says Oilways Magazine, an Humble Oil Company publication.

There is, however, reason to tell the other side of the "Aggie" story. An "Aggie" developed the nation's first completely automatic computer-analysis system capable of determining the amount of gold in a spoonful of sea water.

Another "Aggie" parachuted into North Vietnam and led a guerrilla band for six months.

Other "Aggies" have made contributions to the detection of serious and crippling diseases and done research in the use of radiation in the treatment of cancer.

"Aggies" have heaved the shot put farther than any one else (and even broken their own records); made plans to unsmear city traffic; and study salt water parasites which annually destroy half of the Gulf Coast oyster crop.

While on the subject of "Aggies" have you heard the one about the Air Force accidentally dropping an atom bomb on the Texas A&M campus?

"ALASKA? NO! I WAS CALLING ALTA LOMA!" Ceewee Johnson and other General Telephone Customers in Sonora and 13 other towns in West Texas will have the opportunity of using expanded direct distance dialing beginning September 10. R. R. McCullough, district manager, said the cost of the facilities making the project possible would be over $1,200,000.

Westside Lions Install Officers At June 27 Meeting

The newly elected officers for the Westside Lions Club were installed by Herbert Fields at the club's regular meeting on June 27.

Robert Duran was installed as president; Lupe Espinosa 1st vice president; Polo Cervantes, 2nd vice president and Richard Perez, 3rd vice president.

Abelino Sanchez Jr. was installed as secretary-treasurer. 1 year directors are Arturo Trevino and Claude Flores; 2 year directors are Alex Gonzales and Billy Gonzales. Lion Tamer is Rodrigo Santos; taitwister, Julio Samaniego and the chairman of the crippled children's camp is Santos Lopez.

Lion Trinidad Ramirez was presented a pin and citation for ten year's service with the cancer society program. Presenting the award were Dr. Charles F. Browne and Mrs. Alvis Johnson. Also present for the presentation were Alvis Johnson, Mrs. Joe Hull and Mrs. Myrtle Sellman.

FOR 10 YEARS SERVICE to the American Cancer Society, Trinidad Ramirez received this pin and certificate at a meeting of the West Side Lions Club June 27. Presentation was made by Dr. C. F. Browne, and Mrs. Alvis Johnson. Mrs. Myrtle Sellman and Mrs. Joe Hull also attended. Herbert Fields also installed new club officers at the meeting.

New Direct Dialing System Slated For Sonora Telephone Customers

On September 10, customers in Sonora and 13 other General Telephone towns in West Texas will become the first to have a new long distance service called EDDD, according to R. R. McCullough, district manager. The facilities which make it possible for approximately 40,000 customers in Sonora, Big Lake, Bronte, Carlsbad, Christoval, Eden, Eldorado, Mertzon, Miles, Ozona, Robert Lee, Rowena, San Angelo, and Sterling City to dial person to person as well as station to station calls will be located in the office at 14 West Twohig, San Angelo.

Cost of the project making the new service available will be over $1,200,000.

Plans for a project of this magnitude must be laid well in advance, McCullough stated. During the past three years, new central office buildings have been built in Carlsbad, Christoval, Eldorado and Sonora. New central office equipment has been placed in these buildings. Additional long distance circuits have been added between San Angelo and the area towns that will have access to the EDDD network. All customers in the exchanges involved now have seven digit numbers except Sterling City. Sterling City customers will be assigned seven digit numbers at the time of the EDDD conversion.

Miyaharas Plan Sonora Visit

The Rev. and Mrs. John Miyahara of Kyushu, Japan, will be in Sonora next week as a part of their tour of the Episcopal diocese of West Texas. They will visit Sonora's St. John's Episcopal Church July 16 and plan to go to St. Mary's Episcopal Church in Eldorado the evening of July 13. The Rev. Miyahara will speak at the noon meeting of the Downtown Lions Club Tuesday.

While in Sonora, the Miyaharas will stay in the home of The Rev. and Mrs. Lea Roy Aldwell.

ing (EDDD) is different from the conventional Direct Distance Dialing (DDD) in that it allows customers to dial person to person, collect, credit card or special calls as well as station to station calls.

Here's how EDDD works: On September 10, two new numbers—112 and 110—will become a part of the telephone long distance

Sonoran's Father Dies in Sherwood

Funeral services for Alva D. Locklin were held at 3 p.m. Tuesday, June 27, in the Sherwood Community Center with burial in the Sherwood Cemetery. The Rev. Alan Lynch, pastor of the First Christian Church of McCamey, officiated.

Mr. Locklin, 91, of Fort Stockton, died while asleep Sunday in the home of his son, Dee Locklin, of McCamey.

He was born April 6, 1876, on the San Gabriel River north of Austin in Milam County. He moved to the San Angelo area with his parents when he was six years old and could remember practice cannon fire from old Fort Concho during his early childhood.

Mr. Locklin spent most of his early manhood in the Sherwood area where he had moved before Irion County was organized. He was one of the builders of the Sherwood Courthouse, now the Sherwood Community Center, in which his funeral services were held. He participated in the land rushes at the time Schleicher County was organized, and was a sheep drifter in the Sonora area in the late 80's and early 90's before there was any fencing. He was a member of the Oddfellows Lodge.

He was married to Miss Jennie Smith in 1895 in Sherwood. She died in 1914 in Sherwood.

routine. Dialing one of these two numbers first connects you with equipment which permits you to dial your call. To dial a station to station call, you simply dial the access code—112, then the area code of the town you are calling—then the 7-digit number you are calling. To dial a person to person or special call, you dial the access code—110, then the area code of the town you are calling—then the 7-digit number you are calling.

McCullough noted that instructions for EDDD service will be in front of the new telephone directory which customers will receive in September. In addition, an EDDD instruction booklet will be mailed to all customers at the time of the conversion outlining how to use this convenient, modern telephone service. The company also has speaking teams to explain this new service which will appear before civic clubs and other groups upon request to McCullough's office.

He indicated that the overall conversion to Expanded Direct Distance Dialing which will involve 14 exchanges and 40,000 telephones between now and the cutover on September 10 is the largest and most complex project ever undertaken in San Angelo. When the project is complete, West Texans served by General Telephone Company will be able to dial to most points throughout the United States and Canada.

Basket Supper, Singing, Preaching

Sonora Ministerial Alliance Sets Third Annual Homecoming Service

An old-time basket supper with hymn singing and a guest preacher will be featured at the third annual community worship service, planned Sunday, July 9, at 7 p.m., on the courthouse lawn.

The annual event, sponsored by the Sonora Ministerial Alliance, began as part of Sonora's diamond anniversary homecoming celebration in 1965.

Guest preacher for the annual event will be Dr. David Henning, rector of Saint Michael and All Angels Episcopal Church of Dallas.

Dr. Henning, a native Ohioan, holds various degrees from Kenyon College, Bexley Hall Seminary and Southwestern at Memphis.

He served during World War II as an army chaplain and attained the position of chief chaplain of the military railway service in Europe. He also served in North Africa.

Dr. Henning became rector of his church in 1966 and currently serves as chairman of the stewardship department of the Dallas diocese.

County Declared Eligible for Feed

Ranchers in Sutton County severely affected by drouth will be offered government-owned grain, according to a telegram received this week by county judge J. W. Elliott.

The telegram, dated July 3, was sent by Congressman O. C. Fisher and reads:

"U. S. Department of Agriculture announced that government owned feed grain be offered to farmers who have been affected by severe drouth, floods, etc., in your county."

Mrs. Lea Roy Aldwell, manager of the ASC office, said that her office had not received details on the offer.

Mrs. Florence Knight of Oklahoma City is visiting her daughter and family, the Rev. and Mrs. Lea Roy Aldwell.

Progeny Test Results Planned at Station

Results of recent progeny experiments relative to Angora goat breeding and a training session in the judging of Angoras will be featured at the Ranch Experiment Station Friday, July 7, beginning at 9 a.m. The Angora goat field day will be the first of its kind held at the experimental station.

The day-long program will officially begin with a welcome address by Stanley Lackey, president of the Texas Angora Goat Breeders Association. Other speakers will include Dr. W. T. Hardy station superintendent, J. W. Menzies, assistant animal husbandman at the station, Dr. Jim Bassett of the Texas A&M wool and mohair testing laboratory, Gaylor Hankins of the Mohair promotion council and Gilbert Dunstan of San Angelo.

Dr. Hardy will welcome the group to the station and Menzies will conduct a discussion on the results of the Angora goat progeny tests. The purpose of the testing program is to provide mohair producers with practical information that may be used in their ranching operations.

Dunstan will give a demonstration on mohair grading and discuss the problems in marketing mohair.

Dr. Bassett will review the results of fiber and shrinkage experiments conducted at Texas A&M. Hankins, a Rocksprings rancher, will report to the group on the activities of the mohair council in promoting the use of mohair fiber. Lunch will be served by the Sutton County 4-H Club.

Jack Groff, sheep and goat specialist for the Texas Extension Service, said that persons interested in Angora goats have a special invitation to attend.

The station is located south of Sonora on the Rocksprings highway.

Predatory Animal Discussion Planned

Milton Caroline, state supervisor of the bureau of sport fisheries and wildlife, of San Antonio, will conduct a discussion pertaining to animal damage control policy at the courthouse July 12, at 10 a.m.

Bob Reynolds, district supervisor of San Angelo, will assist him in the meeting.

Ranchmen, game wardens and all persons interested in predatory animal control are especially invited to attend this meeting.

Election Planned For Little League

Officers and directors of the little league will be elected for the coming year at an open meeting to be held Friday at 7 p.m. at the office of Dr. C. F. Browne.

Browne urged anyone interested in little league activities to attend the meeting.

THESE TROPHIES were won by Jimmy Frank Richardson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Hugh Richardson, in the National Rodeo Association finals, June 27 - July 1, at St. George, Utah. They include the third place ribbon roping award, fourth place in tie-down calf roping, and third place world champion award. Other trophies won by Richardson include the N. R. A. Southwestern region champion roping award and fourth place dogging award in the finals.

MAKE IT DIFFICULT

Burglary, long the bane of businessmen, is beginning to take an even sharper toll on the homeowner—and the trend goes on the upswing during the vacation season.

Residential burglaries have risen from 43 percent of the total in 1962 to 49.5 percent in 1965.

What's more, stolen property value in each home burglary now averages $263, compared to $227 taken in the average commercial burglary.

Mohair Marketing Talks Planned At TS&GRA Meeting

A South African mohair expert will attend the 52nd annual convention of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association in San Angelo July 24 to 26. He will tell Texas growers what South African producers did to lift their mohair out of the doldrums and make it the highest-selling in the world. Texas mohair has been moving sluggishly the last couple of years, dealing a severe blow to agricultural economy in areas where Angora goat production is particularly important.

The speaker will be Dr. C. C. Kritzing, manager of the mohair advisory board in South Africa. He came to Texas once before, in 1964, to study the Texas mohair situation.

American mohair growers—97 percent of them in Texas—recently approved a deduction of 1½ cents a pound from mohair incentive payments to finance a mohair promotion and product development program which could rejuvenate the industry. Now they are trying to decide how this money might best be spent. Dr. Kritzing's experience with a similar situation in South Africa is expected to get strong attention.

Nugent Honored By Law Magazine

Representative James E. Nugent of Kerrville was honored in the July issue of The Texas Lawman. The magazine is the official publication of the Sheriff's association of Texas.

In their annual "Academy of Awards" section, their selection went to Nugent for being "the most cooperative house committee chairman—based on courtesy and consideration to witnesses, fairness and impartiality and parliamentary conduct".

Nugent served as chairman of the house criminal jurisprudence committee and is in his third term as a representative.

What is causing this trend? "Carelessness by the homeowner and the growing number of portable valuables in the home," said Alan Stevens, in charge of crime loss prevention at a major insurance Company.

Business and industry have taken the action to prevent burglaries," he said, "while the homeowner—when you look at the overall picture—really hasn't yet."

Carrying the idea a step further, Stevens said "Watchmen, watchdogs, highly-intricate alarm devices have been employed by business, while many homeowners don't even bother locking their doors when they go out."

The record indicates that most home burglaries are performed by amateurs—and usually in daytime when no one is at home. People unwittingly have a tendency to broadcast the fact that they are not at home.

They leave the garage door open, showing that the family car is gone; they forget to tell the newsboy or milk delivery man to stop deliveries while the family is on vacation; they don't bother to tell the next-door neighbor to keep an eye on the house. The list is endless.

The key to preventing home burglaries, Mr. Stevens said, is inconvenience.

Because the burglar is usually an amateur he can be deterred if all the doors and windows are locked or if the family has a dog. It simply must be inconvenient and even difficult for him to enter and leave the home undetected.

The Devil's River Philosopher Sez... Russian Pay Telephone Booths Shock His Idea of Communist Way of Life

Editor's note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his bitterweed ranch on Dry Devil's River is surprised to learn a new fact about Russia, his letter this week reveals.

Dear editor:
I got tired of listening to the United Nations debates on television, where every delegate is "distinguished" and every nation is "peace-loving," and figured if Premier Kosygin could walk out when something came up he didn't like I could do the same and shut the set off and went out on my front porch and read a newspaper which an insurance salesman left here the other day when he was trying to sell me a policy which would pay off even in the event of an atomic war. I never could get him to say who'd be around to pay off.

Over on an inside page I ran across one of those articles that always throws me off balance, which is hard to do when you're sitting with your feet propped on the banister.

According to it, the police in Russia have been bothered with culprits stealing receivers out of pay telephone booths, and what bothered me about this was not what anybody would want with a telephone receiver or that there are petty thieves in Russia, but that there are any pay telephones.

I had thought the people owned everything over there and you can see what a shock it is to learn that a Communist phone booth is no different from a Capitalist booth—it takes a dime to make one work.

When information like this slips out from behind the Iron Curtain, it makes me more and more doubtful about everything else that comes out.

For example, how long does a Russian permanent wave last? Can the Arabs depend on Russia to help them whip Israel? Will Russia use parking meters, if she ever builds enough cars to produce traffic? When a Russian barber charges for a haircut, who gets the money?

It's a little thing like learning Russia has pay telephones that makes a man wonder why the Arabs believed the Communist leaders were on anybody's side except the Communist leaders.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

A Parson's Eye View of Sonora

Some people claim the world looks better after they have a few drinks under their belt; there's no denying the world looks better after it gets a few drinks under its belt—rainwater that is. Some pastures are getting in pretty good shape now.

But it is all so spotted. Pity the poor ranchers—and there are several—who have had only a very few, very modest showers since early last fall. Some are still feeding—and this is no time of year to be feeding. Some are selling lambs and calves at a disadvantage rather than try to feed them longer.

or other during the period of preparation exclaimed, "If I had known it was going to be this much trouble, I would not have planned to go." As excited as my wife is about the prospect I have heard her say the same words.

The other night we were intently working on a list of all our worldly possessions to leave for our kids, "just in case....." We have a couple of inexpensive, long-shot travel insurance policies that only pay in case of accidents in transit. My traveling companion nearly 'came un-glued'—to use her own expression—when I offered to "bet we go to all this trouble and the plane still doesn't go down."

My left upper arm feels as it did after I joined the U.S. Navy. We have had so many shots—our pin-cushions are starting to leak. Really the only thing that is required is smallpox, but my wife insists that we take everything the doctor will give. My arm thinks my body has re-enlisted.

I suppose nearly everyone who has traveled abroad has sometime his attractive wife, living in the garage apartment back of the Fields Home. Johnny is working with his father.

Ruthie Wallace is in a camp in Colorado. Her fond grandmother (Mrs. Libb Wallace) reports that she is the best rider in her group. As a result, she gets to ride one of the better mounts "whenever she likes." This probably means she will spend most of her time at camp doing what she could do any day of the week on the Wallace Ranch.

What shall we do the remainder of the summer after Little League is the question some may already be asking. We believe Harlan Hinds will have some answers ready. He should have boys (baseball) and girls (softball) teams ready to put on some exhibition games.

Also some of the adults might be persuaded to get into the act. Since we have no lights at Allison Ball Park, any games played there will have to be completed before dark, but with the evenings as long as they are these days, that should not be too difficult.

Don't forget to prepare a picnic supper and come to the courthouse lawn Sunday evening at 7 p.m. Enjoy a leisurely meal with your friends and neighbors, lift your voice in song as you sing some of the old favorites, then listen to a great message as you help to perpetuate what has come to be a very happy tradition.

Beginning with the 75th Anniversary Celebration in '65, this is the third round. If this experience holds true with past experiences, it is something you can ill afford to miss.

One thing is different this year, we are asking you to bring your own chairs. This would seem easier than someone having to provide chairs for the entire group.

When I was growing up there were four or five churches in my home town but only one tabernacle. This was the place where summer revivals were held. No matter which denomination sponsored the revival, everyone was invited; and, if the evangelist was effective, nearly everyone attended. It is good to get together once in awhile and discover again that our similarities far outweigh our differences.

I'll pull that pulley bone with you Sunday night.

Journalism Scholarship Winner Named By West Texas Press Association

An 18-year old Fort Stockton girl has been named winner of the 1967 West Texas Press Association $800 college scholarship.

The winner is Margaret Laurence a recent graduate of Fort Stockton High School.

First alternate in the contest voting was an 18-year-old Snyder Girl, Patsy Rainwater.

Miss Laurence, daughter of a service station operator in Fort Stockton, plans to attend Sul Ross College, Alpine, for two years, then transfer to Texas Tech to complete her training in journalism.

West Texas Press Association, which started the newspaper scholarship in 1956, had four students in college this year. One was graduated this spring.

Miss Laurence will receive $200 per year ($100 per semester) for each of the four years of college providing satisfactory academic requirements are met.

She has been active in journalism at Fort Stockton, serving as editor-in-chief of her high school paper The Tumbleweed, this past year.

Clent Kniffen was proudly passing out cigars the other day while his happy wife was displaying their new baby daughter, Wendy Marie, who comes to them by adoption. They had been alerted to expect a baby shortly, but had rather reluctantly decided to go ahead and risk a short vacation.

They left a good friend to sit by their telephone and took off. Sure enough, when they reached their destination—far up in the Panhandle—the message was waiting that their child was ready. So they jumped back into the car and drove all night to get back to San Antonio.

When the baby was brought to them the first time in the Texas Mission Home Chapel, the younger Kniffen son saw Wendy's little hand sticking out of her blanket and exclaimed, "That looks almost real!" It isn't a very big hand, but it already has a healthy hold on a number of heartstrings, including that of her 'real' brother.

Two weeks with no Lions Club meeting around here and it is beginning to get a little lonesome.

Eddie is home from S.M.U. summer school nearly every weekend, but finds it pretty lonely around the Sawyer diggings. His family is in Maine.

Summer Camp - - Where Fun Is Easy

Karen Hemphill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren C. Hemphill, is spending the first five-week term of the summer at Camp Arrowhead, a private camp for girls located on the banks of the Guadalupe river near Hunt. She is shown here on the diving board at the fish pond, one of the swimming areas in the river.

Karen is a first-year camper this summer and is a member of the Kickapoo tribe. All campers are members of either the Kickapoo or the Pawnee tribe, and during the entire summer term compete for the coveted plaque that is awarded to the winning tribe at the final campfire. Some of the many and varied activities in which campers participate are English and western riding, swimming, diving, canoeing, archery, riflery, dancing, dramatics, tennis, journalism, chorus, modeling and handicrafts.

First-term campers will return home on July 16 after the final activities of the term, which include the chuck wagon supper, the tribe serenades, the horse show, the aquacade and the final campfire.

YOUR MINISTER SAYS

by the Rev. Arno H. Melz
 "As free, and not using your liberty for a cloak of maliciousness, but as the servants of God." 1 Peter 2:16

In these words Peter is reminding the Christians that they are free from sin through faith in Jesus their Savior. They still commit sin, but this sin is no longer counted by God because Jesus paid the price for sin when He died on the cross.

The problem was that some people felt that it no longer mattered what they did, they would be forgiven. Peter warns them saying, one who has received forgiveness should try harder to do what is right and serve God.

At this time of the year when we observe the freedom of our country on Independence Day this message also applies. We in America live in a land of freedom. This freedom is not cheap; many men have died to preserve our freedom. God has blessed us with strong armies, good weapons, and abundance of good and wealth. We can enjoy this freedom and be thankful of this blessing.

As we look at our country we see how some people misuse their freedom. We hear of freedom marches, freedom speeches, etc., which usually disregard the laws of the land. There are those that are not satisfied with freedom, but want free living. They expect the government, which is you, me and other taxpayers, to support them so that they do not have to work. Still others condemn the very men who are risking their lives to preserve our freedom.

The words of Peter show clearly that freedom has responsibility. Those who are thankful to live in a land of freedom need to work hard to keep this freedom. On our local level, we need to vote and support our government, we need to be good civic leaders, teach our example, and be good citizens of our country. We need also to work hard to be good citizens in God's kingdom. Today we pray that God would give us a readiness to meet our responsibilities, and that we might always remain free. Amen!

GOD'S MASTERPIECE??

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH
 The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For the children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

The rose comes very close to man's standard of perfection. Its delicate beauty seems to mock every effort of the artist or camera to capture it. But is the rose really God's masterpiece? Hardly! For its beauty is passive. It brightens life only for those who seek it out and gaze upon it. And in but a few days it withers and is ugly. God's masterpiece is MAN. For with all his waywardness and selfishness, Man is capable of reflecting the love of God. When he lets God touch his life he is able to bring happiness and faith to others. He doesn't have to wait until he is noticed. He can actively bring spiritual blessings to his fellow men. As the gardener cultivates the rose, the Church cultivates the lives of men. Always it strives to help us become all that God wants us to be.

HARRY REALS, marketing specialist with the standardization branch of the USDA scours wool after samples have been taken from a bag. The wool cleaning machine is similar to those used in commercial scouring plants except is smaller. After cleaning the wool can be tested for shrinkage, fineness-grade and defects.

USDA Laboratory Chief Shows Testing Devices

"Marketing techniques for wool and mohair are changing, and producers are going to have to keep up in order to compete successfully with synthetic fiber manufacturers", said Elroy Pohle, head of the wool and mohair standards livestock division of the Consumer and Marketing Service of the Department of Agriculture.

Pohle and Harry Reals, a marketing specialist, were here with their wool and mohair testing equipment for the Sonora Wool and Mohair Show, held at Sonora Wool and Mohair Company recently.

He said that wool and mohair, while sold on the basis of grease content, should be bargained for at their clean yield basis.

Equipment developed in their laboratory can accurately determine many factors influencing the sale of wool and mohair. Reals and Pohle demonstrated their equipment and the steps necessary to accurately evaluate a lot of wool.

In the first step Pohle took a core sample from a bag of wool with a tool to pierce a small hole in one of the new polypropylene wool bags. After the hole is made, the coring bar is inserted. The three-foot long metal tube is honed to razor sharpness at one end and fitted with a plastic bag at the other. As the tube is forced into the bag, the sharp end cuts circles of wool fibers and forces them through the tube into the plastic bag.

The movement of the tube through the bag gives a uniform average quality of wool in the bag. Wool samples are then scoured with a mixture of soda ash and detergent. The process is similar to a commercial scouring operation and the detergent is comparable with liquid detergent.

When the wool (or mohair) is cleaned it is placed on a net to dry. Final traces of moisture are removed with hot air.

After drying the wool, 12 1/2 grams are carefully weighed and placed in an air flow machine. The delicate machine is calibrated for the specific weight and air forced through the fibers is measured at the other end of the tube from the air source.

The finer the quality of the wool the more it restricts air in the tube. Coarse wool or mohair gives a lower reading on the gauge attached to the machine, since more air is allowed to pass through loose, large fibers.

The air flow machine gives the fineness-grade of the wool and the scouring operation gives the shrinkage percentage of the fiber. Generally, 100 pounds of grease wool will yield 40-50 pounds of clean wool.

Yet another machine is designed to test the fiber for any imperfections or defects. The microscope-like device magnifies the ends of the fibers 500

THIS PHOTOMICROGRAPH shows the ends of mohair fibers enlarged 500 times their normal size. The smaller, solid circles are good individual mohair fibers. The larger, but hollow circles are the coarse, straw-like kemp fibers which make the mohair virtually worthless.

ELROY M. POHLE, head of the livestock division of the wool laboratory standardization branch of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, takes a core sample of wool from a new, polypropylene wool bag at the Sonora Wool and Mohair Company. As the hollow rod is inserted into the bag, it's sharp end cuts wool fibers the size of the tube. The tool, developed in Pohle's laboratory, is fitted with a plastic bag which catches the wool samplings when forced through the tube. Prior to the new tool, a large, cumbersome coring tool was used to extract samples.

of sheep and goats but still occasionally occurs. The fibers, when enlarged 500 times, also showed that even the finest wool still had coarse fibers in it.

Pohle said that all fineness-grading was determined on the average diameters of the wool. He added "Because of the variety of fineness in any given lot of wool, it indicates that we have a long way to go in the breeding of retardatory trait which was bred out sheep."

America the Beautiful... Is Everybody's Job

It's the job of every family that spreads a picnic on a roadside table.
It's the job of every boatman who cruises the lakes and waterways.
Every driver, every walker, every flier.
That's why our Association throws its whole-hearted support each year into the Keep America Beautiful campaign.

Lovely country we have here. Let's keep it that way.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

BY VERN SANFORD

Texans often fail to count their blessings when it comes to good fishing. Perhaps it's because we have no really spectacular waters. Or it may be due to the fact that since our waters are increasing so much each year, we just don't fully appreciate the wonderful fishing we do have.

Some outdoorsmen have even questioned the wisdom of the state operating a dozen or so hatcheries for stocking and restocking fish in both old and new waters.

But other states are finding their stocking problem so great they are using airplanes for distribution.

A typical example is Arizona. There, recently, an airplane took off from the airstrip at Page in what the Department of Interior said would be a major step in the program of development of recreational areas of the Rocky Mountain States.

This plane was equipped with special tanks that contained 500 two-inch rainbow trout for distribution.

Mr. and Mrs. Deral Moody are parents of a son, Duwain Earl, born June 30, at the Shannon Hospital in San Angelo. He weighed 7 pounds and 15 ounces.

The Moodys also have a two-year-old daughter, Mellanie Nell. The grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Sam Jones and Mrs. Violet Moody of Woodward, Oklahoma. Mrs. H. L. Taylor and Mrs. Sam Jones of San Angelo, are the maternal great-grandmothers.

While in San Antonio this weekend we stopped in to browse at the 19th hole. (Pro shop, driving range, par three course). Met the Pro, Miss Lee Spencer. She turned out to be an ex-suit mate of Ethel May (Poochie) Alley. She also knows Jane and Nancy Neill. She said to tell Betty Stewart hi.

Welcome to these new club members: The James Tates, Louis Olenicks, Roy Gilmores, James Hudsons, Jerry Don Balchs and the Gene Wests.

Cullen Luttrell and Kyle Donaldson played golf at Lost Valley Dude Ranch in Bandera this weekend. Golfing with George Barrow this past week were his son-in-law, J. R. Hardesty and grandson, Danny. They are living in Teaneck, New Jersey. Mary said they told her if they want to play golf on the weekends up there, they have to buy tickets in advance and be there around 3:30 a.m. Aren't we lucky— even our rocks look good.

Among the Sunday golfers were Frankie Bond and Lu and Raymond. Heard Lu was really hungry. Chicken anybody?

Some golfers have to look through the rough for their balls and then there are those who need helicopters to skim the trees. Any questions? Just ask Sue Adkins.

Girls! Be sure to challenge each other for the Nassau Play. The chart is on the board. Remember you can get a point for 9 holes as well as 18.

Ladies auxiliary play Wednesday: Low putts - Wanda Cahill. Results of Monday's putting contest includes the following: Championship flight—1. Johnson and Friend; 2. Bell and Fawcett. First flight—1. Hopkins and Hopkins; 2. Luttrell and Luttrell. Second Flight—1. Thompson and Thompson; 2. Hill and Hill. Winners on 13th hole—1. Guggle; 2. Cullen Luttrell; 3. Pete Thompson.

In 1457 the Parliament of King James II of Scotland banned "futeball" and "golf" because their popularity threatened the practice of archery for national defense.... bad news for those husbands and wives who don't play—looks like golf is here to stay!!

John Bell made an eagle on No. 5 the other day. Good shooting!

Just Arrived

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Neil Smith and Linda Sue have returned from a two week camping trip to Colorado, where they toured all of the National Parks and points of interest in Colorado and New Mexico.

They also visited Mrs. and Mrs. G. W. Smith in San Marcos and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Drennan in Coleman.

Joe Neil Smiths Visit Colorado

These were black bass and largemouth bass. Some of the largemouths were produced by the federal hatchery in Austin. These Texas bass were dumped into the water from the air in both Arizona and Utah.

Lake Powell is the largest of several artificial lakes being created by the Bureau of Reclamation on the Upper Colorado storage system.

Request for fish to stock these impoundments exceeded the supply of hatchery fish produced by both state and federal hatcheries in the areas involved. So other fish were brought in from all over the south.

Stocking of trout on the put-and-take system is common not only in numerous western states, but also in the east. On some trout streams the creel limit of certain species is only two or three fish a day. (Then we complain of our Texas limits, such as 25 white bass a day!)

Perhaps before too many more years the stocking of bass in these impoundments may be unnecessary. They are new now and require stocking. But biologists generally agree that one good brood bass is worth thousands of fry bass dumped into a lake.

Some of our best stocked lakes in Texas are a result of the transfer of brood stock rather than fry or even fingerlings. This certainly has been true of the success of white bass or sandies in Texas.

In almost every instance adult fish were transferred and from those adult fish came the huge population we now have in Texas waters.

It hasn't been reported whether whites have been planted in the Upper Colorado, but if they want to have spectacular fishing, they might borrow a few from Texas and try it.

Extension Specialist Gives Tableware Buying Hints to Potential Purchasers

Many brides and brides-to-be, when buying their first set of dishes, will find themselves smothered in countless terms and styles.

Mrs. Jane Berry, Extension housing and home furnishings specialist with Texas A&M University, lists a few hints for prospective tableware buyers.

"Sets" of dishes can be bought for as little as $25 or $30. But a "set" may mean 54 pieces of earthenware, 45 pieces of melamine, or 57 pieces of fine china. In fine china, incidentally, a single plate may cost $100—or a set may cost only $20.

Prices are quoted in a variety of ways. A "five-piece place setting" consists of dinner plate, dessert or salad plate, bread and butter plate, and cup and saucer. A "six-piece place setting" consists of the same articles, plus a soup or fruit dish. A "starter set" has four four-piece settings, each consisting of a dinner plate, dessert or salad plate, cup and saucer.

"Service for eight (or twelve)" means anywhere from 45 to more than 100 pieces, depending on the number of pieces in each place setting and the assortment of serving dishes such as platters, creamer, sugar bowl, and coffee pot.

"Open stock refers to single pieces, individually priced. This enables you to start small and add gradually without buying extras you don't want—and to replace broken pieces. Most moderate and higher-priced dishes are sold in open stock. If your pattern is not a current number, however, you may have to wait months for a special order. And "open stock" is no guarantee that a pattern won't be discontinued.

Figuring the average price per piece is one way to compare prices when the units are not alike. However, design has a significant effect on price. Price reflects the amount of skilled labor involved, too. Up to 70 percent of the cost of making fine china goes to craftsmen. Wares from comparatively low-wage countries carry lower prices, although certainly not all imports are cheap. Many are among the most expensive on the market.

Cleaning and stain removal are often major problems for owners of antique glassware, but the problem can arise even with everyday glass articles.

Joy Arrington, Extension home management specialist with Texas A&M University, suggests the following solutions to common cleaning problems in glassware.

Minerals in water often result in such cleaning problems as lime deposits and surface discolorations. To remove the lime deposits from the bottoms of pitchers, bottles, or decanters, put tea leaves on the stained surface and fill the container with a vinegar solution. For surface discoloration on decanters, rub the glass with half a lemon, or wash it with vinegar, or partially fill with uncooked rice and vinegar and shake vigorously.

A well-known research laboratory offers this method of removing hard water deposits which have dried in designs and etchings. Soak glassware in a solution of one part muriatic acid and four parts water. This acid, available at drug or hardware stores, should be handled with rubber gloves. After soaking in the solution, rinse the glass thoroughly and dry.

Vinegar cruetts often become stained and should be rinsed with diluted ammonia before washing. Stains in flower vases can be cleaned with a chlorine bleach solution. To brighten glass coffee makers use a teaspoon of baking soda in the rinse water.

Glass is never permanently stained, according to the Glassware Institute of America. It has a hard, smooth, non-absorbent surface that cannot be penetrated by stains, and the surface discolorations can be removed with these treatments.

Kaye Ellis, student at Baylor University, was here last weekend with her parents and grandmother, Mr. and Mrs. Lea Roy Aldwell and Mrs. Florence Knight.

Mr. and Mrs. Royce Regeon and family and Mr. and Mrs. Cashes Taylor met at Lake Buchanan over the Fourth for a visit. The Regeon daughters, Nanetta, Resa, and Ronda, are spending the summer in Sonora with the Taylors.
