HemisFair goes with fears of the tourist "bite" may rest easier if they know their hotel or motel is a member of Visitor Services Inc.

The organization was formed as sort of a watchdog agency pledged to helping hold prices in line with pre-Fair costs.

Reports are beginning to circulate about the increasing prices in many of San Antonio's businesses, and tourists and locals alike are fearful for the image of Texas and San Antonio.

Recent predictions say gasoline prices, one of the necessities for leaving the fair, will also soar. Some San Antonions look for the price the reach 40 cents a gallon.

Some critics of the Devil say that there isn't much news within its pages, but one of our subscribers some 9,000 miles away is defending us.

Sergeant Buck Skains, who is currently serving as a motor pool sergeant in Vietnam, recently told his mother, Mrs. L. E. Skains, "If you don't think the Devil is full of news, just spend 15 months in Vietnam."

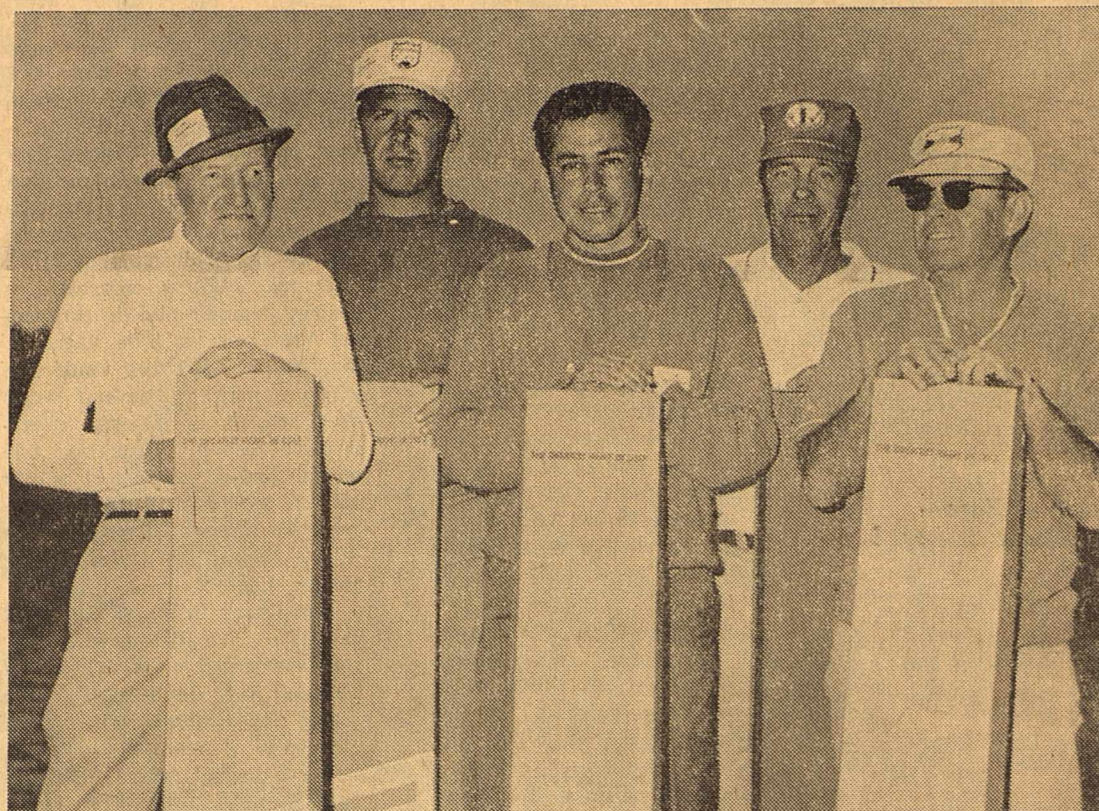

Thanks, Buck, in more ways than one.

Hollywood starlet, Raquel Welch is missing in Sonora and a reward is being offered for her safe return.

Closest Construction Begun Near City Limits

Construction on Interstate Highway 10 has begun at the closest point to the city of Sonora since it began in the county almost two years ago.

The R. N. Adams Construction Company of Kaufman, contractor for the job, began construction Thursday, April 4, on the stretch from 7.5 miles west of town to a point only .3 miles west of Sonora. The project will include grading, structures, surfacing, and signs. Work is expected to be completed in April, 1969.

Joe Lane, senior resident engineer for this project, said that U.S. 290, which will parallel the job, will remain open during construction. He said, however, traffic will have to follow route markers very carefully at times.

The more hazardous areas will be in the vicinity of the proposed interchanges just west of town and at a similar one at the Cavens of Sonora turn-off.

Lane has warned drivers to watch for flagmen at all times in the areas under construction as blasting operations will be in progress at certain times. He added that traffic would be halted during these brief periods.

The highway department also warns against the use of two-way radio equipment in the immediate vicinity of blasting operations. Dynamite charges can be accidentally discharged by nearby radio signals.

School Board Approves Academic, Sports Program

Sonora's school system will have increased emphasis on its academic and athletic program next year on the recommendation of high school principal, David Williams.

Williams told the school board in their regular meeting Monday, April 8, "The academic program in our system is a little weak, mainly due to our teacher load." He added that part of the new program will include a seven period school day to ease this problem.

The plan will ease the present high teacher-student ratio and give the teachers more planning time and additional classes will also facilitate the grouping of students by their ability. Williams said, "Fast students are held back by slower ones and the slower students cannot make progress when classwork is geared for the faster students."

Williams said additional benefits of the program would be a greater flexibility of scheduling, an extra elective for students, more counseling time, and the possibility of some students having two study halls.

The increased program will require as many as two new teachers, Williams said, and the board authorized superintendent Ralph Finklea to hire the needed personnel.

Basketball

The athletic program of the school will also be expanded with the approval of a girls basketball team and athletic program.

Superintendent Finklea said, "Because of interest, our new academic schedule, and the possibility of limited volleyball next year, we do need an athletic program for the girls." He emphasized that the program should in some way be limited as to number in some way at first. The board concurred with the recommendation and ruled that the system would participate only in A-team activities in the first year. They authorized the school administrators to work out the problems of expanding the program from that point forward. Finklea said, "We will strive for a full-fledged A-team next year and plan our activities to broaden the girls program as we go."

FOR THE FIRST TIME IN TWO YEARS Lowrey Draw reached flood level after a downpour of about two inches at noon Tuesday, April 9. Water reached a depth of approximately

EASTER THE... SYMBOL

April 14 is Easter Sunday. It is a day of Easter egg hunts for children and Easter parades for adults, as well as children. Easter commemorates the resurrection of Christ, but surprisingly, the theme of Easter is older than Christianity itself. Rituals of rebirth were common among ancient civilizations.

The sunrise services held in many parts of the United States today date back to the medieval custom of praying while the sun rises. Even the seemingly frivolous spectacle of the Easter parade is descended from the Easter walk of Europe when devout men and women congregated and walked in an orderly manner through town and into the open country reciting prayers along the way. In pre-Christian times, the egg was the symbol of spring. In the Christian era, the egg became a symbol of the rock tomb out of which Christ emerged in his resurrection. Easter is a symbol of Christianity just as it is a symbol of the faith and hope of mankind.

A treflight fisherman, through experience gained by trial and error, can look at a stretch of water and be able to tell fairly accurately whether or not it will hold fish.

A spot he tries in the morning, for instance, might be visited again in the afternoon. In bass fishing, things have a way of changing in a hurry.

Far too many fishermen, be they using artificial or natural baits, will stop at a certain spot and camp there for hours. This, whether they are catching anything or not. Any fisherman should be able to tell within a reasonable length of time, no more than 30 minutes, whether a certain local holds cooperative fish. If after this time he's had no action, he should move.

Many casual fishermen spend much of the time fishing "dead" water where they stand no chance whatsoever of catching anything. One of the best bass fishermen we know finds a likely stretch of shoreline and prospects along it for a few minutes, and if he hasn't had any action in that time, he goes to another spot. He keeps on continually and systematically trying different places until he pinpoints a concentration of fish.

The typical fisherman stresses the mechanics of the sport. He reads everything he can get on the right tackle to use, the correct baits and how to manipulate them. Even with this knowledge he'll catch nothing in dead water. On the other hand, just an average fisherman can take fish if he's at a spot where the fish are concentrated.

A skilled white bass fisherman of our acquaintance stresses the importance of first finding the fish. Everyone thinks he has some magic, some secret strategy. Yet he does nothing that many other fishermen do except catch fish consistently. One of his favorite lakes is Lake Buchanan in Central Texas. When he gets on Buchanan, he immediately devotes his time to locating the fish, realizing that they can move from day to day.

If gulls are working, he'll fish below them, reasoning that they are feeding on shad that white bass have pushed to the surface. Should there be no bird activity, he'll try different spots where he's taken whites in the past. It is a simple strategy that will work on any lake. He'll spend only about 15 minutes or so at one spot. After taking maybe 15 to 20 casts without action, he'll pull the anchor and try another spot. He firmly believes in the simple fact that in white bass fishing, like any kind of fishing, a person must first find the fish before he can catch them.

This is true of any species—black bass, white bass, crappies or catfish. Fish are not distributed evenly throughout any impoundment. They are isolated in scattered pockets. So, the angler must first find a concentration before he can catch anything. It is as simple as that!

Spring Good Time For Deferring Land

Now is the time for Sutton County ranchers to move their livestock if they are on the deferred-rotation grazing system, reminds county agent D.C. Langford. The deferral period on one pasture will permit warm season plants to begin spring growth without injury from grazing. This is important because the plants need protection as the tender new leaves come out. For those ranchers not in the deferred-rotation grazing system, Langford says that they should seriously consider beginning the system. The systematic deferral builds profits and provides stability and security against drought conditions.

The Devil's River Philosopher sez:

World Needs Farm Product Crisis

Editor's note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his bitterweed ranch on Dry Devil's River comes up with a speculative idea this week, his letter reveals.

Dear editor: I don't want to appear money mad but I was looking back through some two-weeks-old newspapers because I didn't have any fresh ones on hand and I got to reading some more about the gold situation.

As I now understand it, the gold crisis developed because a lot of speculators started running the price up, from $35 an ounce, which the United States was trying to maintain, to as high as $45, and while I haven't been able to understand why we didn't unload at that $10 an ounce profit, since we own most of the gold anyway, and switch to tinfoil or sodawater bottles to back up our currency, that's not what is now engaging my interest.

What I'd like to know is how do you get in touch with those speculators?

I would like to turn them loose on farm products. Take eggs for example. For some time egg producers have seen the price pegged at about 30c a dozen, when it costs more than that to break even. You'd think somebody thought the value of the dollar was based on eggs and it was the duty of poultrymen to hold the line to avoid a ruinous inflation and collapse of the world monetary system. Actually what the egg men need is a world-wide speculation in eggs.

Or take nearly any farm or ranch product — corn, potatoes, cattle, hogs, cotton, wheat, fruit, vegetables — there's scarcely a one that couldn't use a little speculation to run the price up.

What this country needs is a world crisis in the price of farm products. Get those European speculators to out-bidding each other in a mad rush to hoard everything out here on this ranch.

I don't know how many subscribers the "Devil" has in Europe but it's something you ought to be working on. Send them some sample copies and let them know us farmers and ranchers have all kinds of stuff wide open for wild speculation. For years I've been looking for a people with more money than sense and this is too good an opportunity to pass up. Yours faithfully, J. A.

West Texas Press Association Announces New Scholarship Program

West Texas Press Association is looking for another winner in its $800 newspaper scholarship contest.

Applications in the 1968 contest will be received from high school seniors until May 10, Ed Wishcamper, chairman of the scholarship committee, has announced.

Applications should be sent to Ed Wishcamper, editor of the Abilene Reporter-News, Abilene, Texas 79604. Announcement of winner will be made by June 10.

West Texas Press Association, which started the newspaper scholarship in 1956, has four students in college this year. One will graduate this spring.

Rules for the scholarship contest have been mailed to high school principals and to newspaper editors or publishers of the West Texas Press Association area towns, who will be glad to help with the necessary application details.

Interested students should talk with their principal or editor and start immediately to prepare the application.

All applicants must be in the upper 25 percent of their class, must have demonstrated ability in newspaper journalism and a desire for a newspaper career.

The winner will receive $200 per year ($100 per semester) for each of the four years of college, providing satisfactory academic requirements are met.

Ten West Texas colleges and universities have been designated for scholarship winners by WTPA. These are Abilene Christian College, Angelo State College, Hardin-Simmons University, Howard Payne University, Midwestern University, Sul Ross College, Texas Tech, University of Texas, El Paso, Wayland College and West Texas State University.

Draft Call Up

State draft boards must furnish 2,378 men in April and, for the first time in two years, part of the group will go into the U. S. Marine Corps.

Figure compares with the quota of 1,947 for the Army in March and is the largest monthly call for draft boards since October, 1966, when Texas' share was 2,845.

Local boards will send 8,500 men to armed forces examining and entrance stations in April for pre-induction physical and mental examinations in preparation to fill future quotas. March total was 7,200.

April induction and pre-induction quotas were mailed to local boards by state Selective Service headquarters in mid-March. National quota for April is 48,000, of which Army will get 44,000 and Marines 4,000. Draftees are in 19-25 age bracket.

A PARSON'S EYE-VIEW OF SONORA

BY THE REV. ROSS T. WELCH

How strong is the United States of America? We are living through perilous times when our democracy is being tested. We are witnessing events in our time, one after another in rapid succession, that affect the most humble citizen in the smallest town and may shape the course of history for generations to come.

We have sort of drifted into our present crisis, eyes blinded by prejudice, to the real significance of what is happening around us. We have purposely closed our eyes to injustices and tried to ignore acts of violence and shouts of "Black Power," basking in a sense of false security.

We had assumed that when the time came to put a stop to it all, the federal government would assert its authority, and all would be well. But while we are nodding at our posts, vigorous forces are at work in our land whose highest ambition is to overthrow this and all democratic forms of government.

To predict the future at the present moment would require prophetic powers which I do not possess, but things are likely to get worse before they get better. To ignore the warning signals in our present situation is crass stupidity. To those who believe in prayer, our times demand prayer of the most sincere nature and a commitment that puts prayer into action.

'Tis said, "A chain is no stronger than its weakest link." How strong is this nation of ours?

This is Holy Week, when Christians all over the world commemorate the passion, death and resurrection of Jesus Christ. Few times in the history of mankind since that tragic event have men been more sorely tempted to ask, "Was it all in vain?"

You certainly should need no urging to attend the church of your choice on Easter Sunday. But in some Sonora churches Easter Sunday seems to be merely the Sunday following Palm Sunday.

Even if you do not have an extra-nice new Easter bonnet to show off Sunday, you have every reason to be counted among those who gather in houses of worship to pray for God's guidance for our nation and for our world.

I was going about my business in a leisurely fashion this (Monday) morning when the telephone rang. "Will you substitute for Smith Neal today? Come as quickly as you can."

One of the problems of substituting is not having enough for the students to do. When some of the classes finished early, I announced extra assignments.

"From your own point of view, write one paragraph as though you were guest writer for the 'Parson's Eye' column. Choose your own topic. If they are good enough I'll use some of them."

I received an interesting variety of contributions: One high school athlete deplored the practice on the junior high school level of using only a select few players (in football and basketball) while a host of enthusiastic and energetic boys warm the bench wearing disappointed faces. His logic was good:

"This business of playing only the best is foolish. Obviously some boys do not develop physically as fast as others. But when the late-comers finally do become well-coordinated, what experience in game conditions do they have? I think a better high school team could be developed by including everyone (in so far as possible) in the junior high program.

"...certainly winning is important. Why keep the score, if you do not play to win? But on the junior high level where nothing is at stake, is WINNING the principal purpose of athletics?"

Another senior student, lamenting the fact that his interscholastic athletic competition was behind him, felt there should be some form of athletic competition to fill the void of the last six weeks of school. I thought it was going to be a request for high school baseball, but he requested a less strenuous game—billiards or pool.

"Practice in this sport can develop to a high degree the coordination between mind, body and eye which is so valuable in other areas." He concludes his argument with this plea: "I hope, then that you will agree with me that the addition of pool into our athletic program is highly desirable and decidedly advantageous."

Several students advocated a planned summer athletic program but they were a little vague at the point of what they would like to do specifically. Several wrote about recent or planned events in their respective churches. One of the best of these told of the visit of the youth choir from Immanuel Baptist Church in San Angelo during the revival at the Baptist Church.

"They sang in the Friday night services, Saturday morning they ate breakfast at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lane and then toured the Caverns. After a picnic lunch at Six-mile Park, they returned to San Angelo with, they said, a very high opinion of Sonora and its people. At lunch time, one boy was overheard to say, 'Look—country as far as you can see!'"

One member of the golf team gave a good resume of the golf season. In tournament play Sonora placed third at Brady and at Iraan, and second at Robert Lee.

In district interscholastic League competition, Sonora tied for second, but lost the play-off. On the team were Tony Renfro, Jesse Cook, Dick Hamilton, David Wuest and Steve Thorp.

Some aired their pet peeves, ranging all the way from not being permitted to type at the seventh period to a warning against driving too fast across the dip between the Post Office and the High School.

One young man took a strong punch at the laxity of law enforcement with reference to violations on the part of teen-agers. He wrote:

"I know of a young man who has been stopped for improper take-off, for speeding, for drinking while driving, for disregarding traffic signs, and for buying beer for minors. Not one time has this person been arrested or fined."

Some wrote about civil right and some had a good word to say about summer employment. Some young men's and ladies' fancies lightly turned to thoughts of spring. Some even tried to pull the instructor's leg by telling what they thought about preachers.

One young lady wrote, "I think teen-agers today are wild and stubborn," but she says it is "all the parents fault." On the other hand and finally, lest I monopolize the paper, I found this more optimistic outlook most refreshing:

"Today all over the nation adults are amazed and shocked at the way the youth...behave. The public eye is always on them, from their dope rings to their 'love-ins' and demonstrations. However, it might interest the public to know that there are still some decent young people in this country. In reality, the dope-taking, demonstrating youth make up only a small percent of the teenage population, even though they are the ones who make the headlines.

"I'm glad to say that here in Sonora the teen-agers are happy and contented, even though at times this town may seem dull or boring. It's also good to know that Sonora prides her youth instead of bringing out the bad points. I certainly hope this feeling will continue to prevail..."

Your Questions On The Draft...

Q—Can a person be deferred from service for a traffic violation?

A—A record of traffic violation has nothing to do with deferment. A man could be rejected for service by the Department of Defense if the offense were serious enough. A man is not required in his classification questionnaire to list convictions for minor traffic violations.

Q—Suppose a man turns in his draft card, then has a change of heart, and wants to enlist. What does he have to do?

A—A person does not necessarily have to have a "draft card" to enlist, but his failure to have in his possession his "draft card" (either his Registration Certificate or his current Notice of Classification) is a violation of the law. Any man who has abandoned either of these and wants them back should request his local board to return or replace them.

They are all over the place at Westerman Drug. Ooooops, there comes another one!

And every cotton pickin', cotton-tailed Easter bunny that's been in here has left something.

Cards, candy, stuffed toys, things like that.

And they've hid 'em in the hardest places.

We've gone to a good bit of trouble to find them all and get them up on our shelves nice and neat. We knew you wouldn't want to spend a lot of time hunting Easter eggs and cards.

The bunnies left so many with us this year that we are practically giving them away.

Of course, a small part of the price is a service charge for taking care of all those rabbits . . . and finding all those goodies they hid for you . . . at Westerman Drug.

SHOWN HERE IS THE METALLIC ore collection with students, Sergio Gutierrez, Terry Mathis, Mark Wilkinson, Molly Sawyer, and Cindy Feagin. Also in the show were several Indian artifact collections. On display were those made by Dennis Dean, Mike Stewart, Ruthie Wallace, and Melissa Gibbs. One large rock shown in Mike Stewart's collection is believed to have been used in certain Indian ceremonies.

THREE YOUNG LADIES, Roy Lesa Cooper, Lisa Baldwin, and Patricia Carroll look at a collection of lapidary work, which appeared in the rock show. The collection, which belongs to Albert Martin, features jewelry made from agate, onyx and other semi-precious stones. The show was planned by the fifth and sixth grade classes as part of their science studies. Each student made a collection of locally-found fossils for the show. Most displayed at least five different types.

JIM HOOVER looks at some of the exhibits that are part of the volcanic-type rocks displayed in the recent rock and mineral show presented by the fifth and sixth graders of Central Elementary School. The show also included specimens from the Caverns of Sonora and shells, fossils and petrified wood.

by Mrs. Louis Davis
Well, how about our annual tournament! Wasn't it great! I won't go into all the details as to the outcome of it all as that's covered elsewhere. But we did have fun and are looking forward to the next tournament.
—GN—

The next big event is our ladies tournament on April 20. Be sure to get a partner. There will be carts for all.

Speaking of carts, be sure (and not just for tournaments) to park your carts to the back of the greens. Besides being courteous, it also helps to speed play.
—GN—

Bobbie Fawcett, Sammie Espy, Pauline Thompson, Marilyn Bloodworth, Dot Ratliff, Wanda Cahill, and Ernestine Hext had lots of fun in Ozona Saturday at the ladies tournament. Pauline and Marilyn were the only ones who came home with prizes.
—GN—

Did you know that we have a very active junior golf team? Bob Snodgrass is the coach. Some of the honors this team (consisting of David Wuest, Dick Hamilton, Jess Cook, Steve Thorp, and Tony

At the Brady tournament they had the best score for all class "A" and class "B" teams. At Irwin they won third place. At Robert Lee they tied for first place with Ozona, but lost in the play off. David Wuest was medalist winner in that tournament. At the district meet they tied for second with Ozona, and they were just one stroke behind the winner, Irwin.

In that playoff with Ozona they lost by one stroke. Aren't these kids doing a wonderful job? Other members of the team are Roger Langford, Lee Bloodworth, Bill Thompson, Sam Thompson, and Cleveland Nance. Every one of these boys will be returning to the team next year. What a team we have in the making!
—GN—

We have two new couples in our club — Willie and Martha Miers and Jack and Mildred Raye. Hello there, and so glad you are one of us.
—GN—

Just a couple of anecdotes before closing:

When J. W. Neville made a double boggie on his first hole in the final playoff, the only comment his wee wife had was "He's just getting to be a poor old man."

And how about Floy Tate. She never walks when she plays, but she lent her cart to others and trudged nine holes to watch the Championship flight!

"A SON IN VIETNAM"
A mother sitting quietly,
A wrinkle on her brow;
Her mind a hair a world away,
Her eyes look sad somehow,
She wipes away a lonely tear
With the back of an aging hand,
And goes on with her endless prayer,
For her son in Vietnam.

A father sitting quietly,
Proud, yet silent, too,
His mind with hers, ten thousand miles
His eyes are wet now, too,
He's glad his son can't see the tears—
He's supposed to be a man,
And men don't cry, to say goodbye,
To a son in Vietnam.

Some days a letter—some days none,
And all are stained with rain,
With mud and dirt comes "Love you, Mom."
"Don't worry. I'm okay."
So day by day, their prayers go on Doing really, all they can.
For while they pray, he still remains,
Their son in Vietnam.

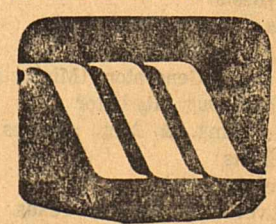

And somewhere in a muddy hole,
Another tear is found,
But this man's pain is lost in rain,
And the blast of a mortar round,
But later tonight at the end of the fight,
He'll fold his muddy hands,
And pray to God for "Mom and Dad."

This son in Vietnam.
—By PFC Ray V. Sanchez, USMC

Spraying, Chaining Good in Spring

Area agriculturists should be preparing their weed and brush control programs now to avoid the rush during the spraying season, reminds D. C. Langford county agent.

Spraying of weeds with 2,4-D should be underway now in many counties in order to control weeds before the growing season. Remember, Langford says, weeds only waste the moisture now stored in the soil and reduce the good forage available for grazing.

This is also a good time to chain mesquite stands that were sprayed at least two years ago. The good moisture conditions should cause the many trees and sprouts to be uprooted by chaining.

by Mrs. Louis Davis
Saint Ann's has a brand new Bar-B-Q pit—a great big one. And it is beautiful, if you can call such as that beautiful. Frank Morales and Jesus Villardes donated their labor for St. Ann's, and on Sunday April 7, the parish members had a supper to raise funds to pay for the materials. The meal was wonderful, and almost all the expenses were met. Church members should have some great barbecue picnics this summer.

Last Friday, the altar society had a Lenten supper, and it was termed quite a success. A fish supper and all the trimmings were served at the Parish Hall. Those who wanted to have the dinner served in their homes had free delivery.

The Altar society had a meeting on April 5 to make a decision about flowers for the altar. It has been decided that a different group will attend to the flowers each week.

HALLELUJAH

Eddie was the smallest one in the choir today. He stood at the end of the front row, stretched tall as he could, and sang with his whole heart. I looked up at his round freckled boy-face and wondered what he was thinking as the Easter anthem rose in crescendo and blessed the April air. Were his thoughts on chocolate bunnies and rainbow-colored eggs, or on the stirring story he was singing—"He is not here, but is risen"?

Of one thing I am certain. When he is grown and thinks of Eastertime back home, it won't be the candy eggs and Easter baskets he'll remember; but the smell of lilies at the chancel rail, the joy of joining his voice to a Hallelujah chorus.

Give your child a lifetime gift. Celebrate special Sundays and every Sunday by going to your church and taking him with you.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake, (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Taxpayers Questions Answered by IRS

Q—My buddy says you can deduct all your medical insurance premiums this year and I say only half of them can be deducted. Who's right?

A—In a way, you both are. Premiums paid for medical insurance have always been deductible as a medical expense by taxpayers who itemize their deductions. For 1967 however, one half of these premiums up to $150 may be deducted without regard to the requirement that medical expenses be reduced by three percent of the taxpayer's income.

In effect, the new rule on medical insurance premiums, allows a deduction for part of these premiums even when the taxpayer's other medical expenses don't exceed three percent of his income. Any excess premiums are included with other medical expenses. The 1049 instructions explain this in detail.

The Devil's Workshop

An Idle-Mind Column Appearing On Occasion Upon the Fancy of the Publisher

Editor's note: The story and pictures about the Mercantile building appearing in the March 21 issue of the "Devil" prompted Jewel Brown of Brawley, California, to reminisce in this personal letter.

"Last week's Devil's River News was very special with the article so well written about the old Mercantile building. It all brought back fond memories to me. The arched doorway under the upper wall that collapsed was quite a familiar sight to me.

When I was about five years old my mother would send me to the Mercantile, a note in my hand with a grocery order or perhaps, merchandise she desired. It was through this door that I would enter into a whole world of magic. To the left at the rear of the store was the office and a few steps to the right was a long glass counter and in its enclosure were some of the most beautiful dolls in the world.

I enjoyed watching the clerks climb ladders, which so cleverly rolled along, to obtain shoes for customers. And I enjoyed a visit with Mr. Trainer, who worked in the grocery department. Here was the aroma of cheese in large wooden barrels, then my eyes would catch the sight of apples, bananas and oranges in the large wire cage. It was fun to look the candy counter over.

If a watermelon had broken in the shipment to the store, I was delighted to get a slice. It was in this store I learned to shop.

The upper story was a nice place to visit too. My grandfather often took me with him to visit Mr. Elliott's law office, where I would sit quietly by the hour as they talked. At times the girls in the telephone office would treat me to an ice-cream soda.

At one time my Uncle Leslie was in charge of the switchboard. He heard my brother and I crying, so he looked out the window and saw some boys throwing rocks at us. He pulled the switch and came down to help us. This resulted in all of Sonora being without phone service for a few minutes.

Sincerely, Jewel Brown

NEWS & NOTES FROM HEMISFAIR '68

WORLD EXPOSITION APRIL 6-OCT. 6-SAN ANTONIO, TEXAS

HemisFair is here and receiving raves from thousands of visitors who were among the first to visit the 92.6-acre World's Fair in San Antonio.

From the dreams of 1963 to the drawing board of 1964 and the construction noises of the past two years, the international exposition has quickly become the gathering place for fun-seeking tourists.

The elevators on the 622-foot Tower of the Americas, boats on the lagoons, fun rides on Fiesta Island and ovens and grills at 100-odd restaurants are all buzzing with activity.

Visitors have found it is a World's Fair designed for people—offering such conveniences as outside air conditioning to accommodate those waiting to get into the popular assortment of pavilions, transportation by skyride, monorail or boat to get around the compact fair and both elevated and ground-level walkways. The thousands of visitors have also been treated to free water ski shows four times daily on Fiesta Lagoon, the exciting performances of the Flying Indians of Mexico atop a 114-foot pole, and the singing and dancing of various groups while strolling around the grounds.

Park Aid Asked

Action to protect historic San Jacinto State Park from erosion and flood has been asked by Attorney General Martin.

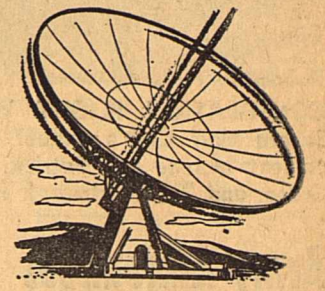

He suggests moving De Zavala Cemetery, which floods at high tide, and an appropriation to Parks and Wildlife Department to protect the rest of the park.

A $39,915 federal grant has been approved for development of outdoor recreation facilities at 3,840-acre Monahans Sandhills State Park in Ward and Winkler Counties.

Another $11,450 federal grant will go to 332-acre Big Spring State Recreation Park, two miles south of Big Spring.

State matching funds will double project financing at both Sandhills and Big Spring facilities.

It's time for a trouble-free Toro!

STANDARD CLIPPINGS BAG. TORO pioneered grass and leaf bagging attachments for rotary mowers in the first place, and this year they're even better. This standard equipment bag clamps on with one hand, and it has a heavy-duty bottom. No zippers to clog, either.

SAFETY SPIN START. You wind up the "impulse" starter, step behind the mower handle, for safety, and push the lever to "start" position. Chokes automatically.

THREE OR 3½ HP. FOUR-CYCLE ENGINE. Starts easily, runs smoother than cheap 2-cycle engines. No mixing of gas and oil.

MAGNESIUM HOUSING. The lighter-than-aluminum stuff they use in airplanes.

AUTO-OILER. A visual oil filler. Push the button and you're sure the crankcase is full. No plug, no funnels, no oily fingers.

CLEAN-OUT PORT. When you're through mowing, let the engine idle and run a little water into the clean-out port. The blade splashes it all around under the housing and washes it out like new.

TRIMIT. You know that grass along the sidewalk that won't stand up? This little device props it up so the blade can clip it off crisply.

WIND-TUNNEL® HOUSING. TORO's "S" shaped cutting blade actually creates a powerful suction under the housing. It pulls grass up for a more even cut, "vacuums" leaves, too.

LBJ wants to raise the postal rates to cut down on the letters of complaints to Washington.

One of the big postage raises will cover trash mail. This will not have an effect on letters from Washington as government mail is postage-free.

If postmaster Gen. Larry O'Brien needs any advice on how to turn the postal department into a non-profit corporation, a lot of businessmen would give him their formula.
