Elections bring out the true diversity of human nature. In polling some of the opinions of people that visit the office, it is common to find that the opinions are just as diverse as the real issues and the real candidates. From the diverse comments, nothing concrete can be said about the coming primary.

Texas is fortunate to have as many men, representing both parties, who have such outstanding qualifications. Aside from traditional, regional or other personal preferences, the average voter will probably have to think diligently about his choice for governor. Most of the 13 candidates have essentially the same aims in mind, but differences in the method of attaining those aims. Many have like backgrounds and like professions. All seem to be outstanding people in their fields.

On Saturday, regardless of party affiliation, each voter will be faced with choosing the best man. The task will not be easy.

NOLAN (right), owned by Lewis Brooks and ridden by Kenneth Hallmark, crosses the finish line with the fastest time of 17.63 in the West Texas Quarter Horse Futurity trials Saturday, April 27. In second place was Bachelor's Dream, owned by the S Lazy S Ranch and ridden by Johnny Desmoreaux. Third place went to Adam's Gain, owned by T&L Stables, and ridden by Dany Ubbale. The 10 fastest horses will run for the estimated $23,000 purse offered in the futurity next weekend.

Committee Chosen

The Sonora Welfare Council met Tuesday and appointed a nominating committee composed of A. E. Prugel, Ralph Finklea, and Bob Johnson Sr. to name new officers.

The council also accepted the resignation of the Rev. George Stewart, pastor of the Church of the Good Shepherd. The Rev. Mr. Stewart will move to San Antonio this spring.

In Democratic Primary

Ten Candidates Vie In Governors Race

Major attention will be placed on the 10 hopefuls in the race for the Democratic nomination in the May 4 Primary for governor. Governor John Connally's decision to forego a fourth term campaign threw the race into one of the most hotly-contested battles in Texas history.

Waggoner Carr, listed first on the Democratic primary ballot, served Texas as attorney general in addition to five years as a state representative. Carr is also a former county attorney and assistant district attorney. He is a graduate of Texas Technological College and the University of Texas Law School.

Dolph Briscoe Jr., 45, is a rancher, banker, and businessman from Uvalde. His governmental experience includes eight years service as a state legislator. Briscoe is a graduate of the University of Texas and is active in agricultural, business and educational promotion.

Eugene Locke, 49, is a Dallas lawyer and has served as ambassador to Pakistan and as a U. S. representative to Vietnam. Locke is a graduate of Southern Methodist University, the University of Texas and the Yale Law School. He served as state Democratic chairman and worked for Lyndon B. Johnson's nomination on the Kennedy-Johnson ticket in 1960.

On the ticket for the third time for governor, Don Yarborough, 42, is considered to be a liberal. An ex-marine, Yarborough served in China and Korea during World War II and the Korean War and was the youngest Company Commander in the Corps at 19. He is a Houston attorney.

Another Houstonian, Edward Whittenburg, is a businessman as a "non-professional politician." This race is his first entry into politics. Whittenburg is a native of Levelland and is a graduate

2,000 Racing Fans See Weekend Futurity Trials

An estimated total of 2,000 race fans watched the 10 top Quarter Horses entered in the annual Spring Race Meet qualify for the estimated $23,000 West Texas Quarter Horse Futurity scheduled for next weekend's race card. The futurity trials, run Saturday, April 27, were designed to reduce the field to the top 10 horses for the futurity. The second fastest ten horses will compete in the Consolation Futurity. The top twenty were chosen from a field of about 45 horses in six heat races.

The two-weekend racing card is sponsored yearly by the Sonora Park Association.

Results of the first two days of the meet are as follows:

1. Futurity Trials, 330 yards

Alfonso "Al" Veloz is a Houston bank employee, who is a veteran of World War II as a Navy PT boat crewman. Veloz attended the University of Houston and majored in business administration. He has said he is seeking the governor's office in order to help the poor people of the state.

Johnnie Mae Hackworth, a Brenham evangelist, has run for governor twice and for U. S. Senator once. She claims she is the prophet mentioned in scripture, and is opposed to liquor by the drink, horse racing and any program to put a man on the moon. John Hill, Texas' Secretary of State, is formerly a Houston attorney, and is a graduate of Killebrew Junior College and the University of Texas.

He feels his candidacy would provide for the continued development of the resources of the state including material and human.

Preston Smith entered the gubernatorial race with 18 years of service to the state as representative, senator and lieutenant governor. He also served as governor for 227 days during the absence of John Connally.

Smith, 56, was born near Georgetown and worked his way through high school and Texas Technological College. He is the owner of a chain of theatres and has real estate investments. He and his wife are members of the Methodist Church.

3 GOP Candidates In Primary Election

The Republican Party of Texas will go to the primary polls Saturday, May 4, and nominate its choices for national, state and local offices. Balloting here will be held in Central Elementary school from 7 a.m., to 7 p.m.

Three attorneys, John R. Trice, Paul Eggers, and Wallace T. Sisk, will be competing for the Republican vote for the office of governor.

Trice, 36, is a Dallas lawyer with service to the state as an attorney for the Texas Highway Department. He is also a former city attorney for Waco.

Trice was born in Houston and educated in Waco schools. He served in the navy from 1955-1957 as a legal officer aboard the USS Rochester in the Pacific. He is a graduate of Baylor University.

Eggers, 49, attended Valparaiso University in Indiana and the University of Texas. He is active in civic, church, and political affairs in Wichita Falls, where he is an attorney.

A director of a bank, Eggers is also a member of the American and Texas Bar Association and the American Judicature Society. He is a member of the Episcopal Church.

Wallace T. Sisk, 38, is a Houston lawyer with degrees from Baylor University and South Texas College of Law.

He is a director of the Houston Chamber of Commerce, the Houston Bar Association, the State Bar of Texas and the American Judicature Society. Sisk has practiced law for 15 years.

Democratic and Republican

Primaries Set Saturday

The political year of 1968 will begin Saturday, May 4, throughout Texas with the Democratic and Republican primary elections. Both ballots will have three referendum questions in addition to the Democratic and Republican national, state, district and county officers.

Voting in the Democratic Primary will be in the Sutton County courthouse and Republicans will cast ballots at Central Elementary School. Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

The first referendum question concerns the legalization of the sale of liquor by the drink in wet areas after approval by local option elections and would be subject to strict controls and taxation.

The main question concerning this issue is the legality of the legislature handling a bill to authorize selling of liquor by the drink. An amendment, passed in 1937, specifically outlaws the existence of an "open saloon." Opponents of the measure contend liquor by the drink could only be legalized through repeal of that amendment by the people. Some proponents feel the amendment merely has to have the term "open saloon" defined. This was the reason for Governor John Connally's terminology in his bill that failed in the recent legislature.

His proposal would have limited the sale of drinks to restaurants, hotels and motels, and other establishments dealing primarily in food service. The second, and probably even more controversial issue, deals with the legalization of horse racing with pari-mutuel wagering on a local option basis, and the establishment of a Texas Horse Racing Board with power to regulate wagering. Under the proposal two percent of the total pari-mutuel pool each day would go to the county in which the licensed track was located and apportioned among the other counties one-half of the total state net revenue from that source.

Opponents of the measure claim that big-time horse racing attracts the undesirable criminal element and leads to illegal betting off the tracks, which in turn, finances other criminal activities.

One of the major groups opposed to horse racing, the Anti-Crime Council of Texas, states that in many cases the potential revenue going to the state is overestimated.

One proponent of the racing referendum, Fred Wagner, president of the Texas Thoroughbred Breeders Association, said that upon approval, pari-mutuel wagering would not immediately bring in state revenue equaling that of California or New York, but would probably amount to about half of their revenue in some 10 years. California's revenue for 1966 from horse racing amounted to over $48 million. New York took in over $148 million.

The third is a referendum concerning the establishment of a Texas Dairy Commission with the power to regulate and fix the retail and wholesale price of milk. The entry on the May 4 ballot of the milk commission referendum is essentially a battle between small milk producers with their allies, the large grocery chains, against the large milk producers. The large milk producers contend they are being caught in a price squeeze and need prices regulated by the state for continued production. The opponents, the small producers, say the establishment of a commission would eliminate competition and result in higher milk prices for the consumer. Essentially a bill based on the passage of this referendum would establish a minimum on milk prices but no maximum. All three of the referendum issues are strictly an expression of public opinion and carry no force or effect as law.

One proponent of the racing referendum, Fred Wagner, president of the Texas Thoroughbred Breeders Association, said that upon approval, pari-mutuel wagering would not immediately bring in

Bronco Band Wins Second Division In Brownwood

Sonora's Bronco band, under the direction of Charles Brown, won second division honors in the University Interscholastic League playing and sight reading contest in Brownwood Friday, April 26.

Brown said in band competition a second division placing means "an above average performance showing marked promise and a high degree of accomplishment."

The band was judged by two sets of judges; one for playing ability and one group for sight reading ability. One playing judge, Tom C. Rhodes, band director at Fredericksburg, said "Sonora has a fine looking band... their performance shows good teaching and a fine job on the part of the students."

Sonora has not participated in a playing and sight reading contest since 1960.

Brown also said the band has accepted an invitation to play at HemisFair May 10. He said they were accepted after submitting a tape recording and are scheduled to perform in the special events plaza there at 11 a.m.

Church of Christ Sets Gospel Meeting

The Northwest Church of Christ here has scheduled its gospel meeting for Monday, May 6, through Sunday, May 12. Coy M. Day will be guest minister.

Mr. Day is a 1955 graduate of Abilene Christian College, where he graduated with honors. He began his local work in Sonora in 1955 and moved to Blomington, in 1957. In 1961 he and his family located in Del Rio, where he worked with the Central Church of Christ until 1967. Since then he has been with the Central Church of Christ in Victoria.

Mr. Day has preached in gospel meetings in Texas, New Mexico and Wyoming. He has held several meetings for the Rock-springs Church of Christ while working with the Del Rio church. Mr. Ralph Winehold, minister, said, "The congregation here extends a warm and hearty welcome to all in the community to be with us during this special series of evening sermons. On May 12, Sunday dinner will be served on the premises and all are invited."

Little Leaguers Set Opener Tonight

Little Leaguers will get their first taste of baseball competition Thursday, May 2, in the season opener at 6:15 p.m., at the Little League Field.

The Cardinals will meet the Indians in the first game of the double header with the Colts and the Dodgers meeting in the second game.

Bob McMinn, Ivan Greenhaw, and Pat Brown will umpire the first game and John Bell, Tommy Thorp, and Pete Virgen, the second.

The Cardinals will meet the Dodgers and the Indians will test the Colts Tuesday, May 7. Umpires for those games will be Buddy Brown, J. D. Cook, Israel Perez, Jackie Sharp, Pedro Galindo, and Jesse Conger.

the Rev. George Stewart, pastor of the Church of the Good Shepherd, Presbyterian, U.S., will be guest minister for a week of special services at First Presbyterian Church in Junction, May 5-11.

Services will begin with the regular 11 a.m. service there Sunday May 5. Special church services will be held each night during the week at 8 p.m.

A barbeque has been scheduled for Sunday, May 5, at 6:30 p.m., at the Roosevelt picnic grounds with a service following at 8 p.m.

Regular pastor of the Junction church is the Rev. Jack Hunnicutt.

Bob McMinn, principal of Sonora Junior High School, will serve as lay minister in the Rev. Mr. Stewart's absence.

Stewart Named Guest Minister

Last Rites Held For Tom Dixon, 61

Funeral services were held for Tom Dixon, 61, a resident of Sonora since 1948, in the First Mexican Baptist Church here, Sunday, April 28, 1968, with the Rev. Porfirio Perez officiating. Burial was in Sonora Cemetery.

He died Tuesday, April 23, in Hudspeith Memorial Hospital.

Mr. Dixon was born in Brackettville, October 24, 1906, and lived there and in Del Rio before moving here. He was employed by Sam Allison.

His survivors include his wife; five daughters, Sorella Noel, Rosa Dehoyas, Rosetta Ringer, Frances Dixon, all of Sonora, and Judy Epps of Sherman, Oklahoma; two sons, Thomas L. Dixon of Columbus, Ohio, and John Henry Dixon of Sonora; and 18 grandchildren.

Sonora High School Names Valedictorian and Salutatorian

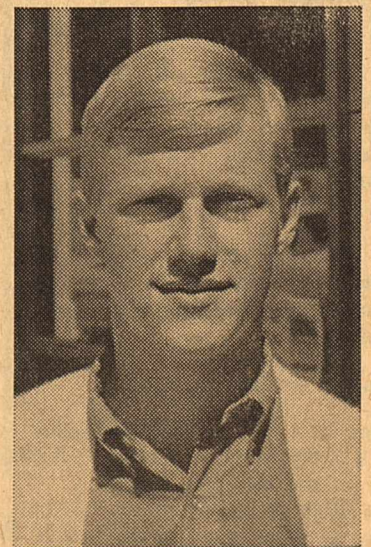

The two top students among Sonora High School's 1968 graduating class have been chosen.

Mike Richardson, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Richardson Jr., has been named valedictorian with a 95.388 average while in high school.

Salutatorian is Debbie Galbreath, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Galbreath. She will graduate with a 94.605 average.

Richardson includes among his honors membership and the presidency of the National Honor Society chapter, class representative during his junior and senior year, four years in the band and four years on the track team. He also played football and served on the annual and paper staff.

Miss Galbreath, active in 4-H Club activities, was class favorite during her senior year, 4-H Club sweetheart, a member of the National Honor Society, served as assistant editor and staff editor

Democracy Not a Spectator Sport

You and I, the informed citizen, today the United States is the oldest living republic with a written Constitution. Twenty-three other republics have gone down the drain of history. The cynics say, "Democracy carries within it the seeds of its own destruction, America is on the downhill run that leads to the graveyard of dead nations."

Here are some of the symptoms of our nation's senility: Expediency has replaced statesmanship in many high places. Pandering has replaced patriotism. Spending has replaced stewardship. Inflation has replaced responsibility. Anarchy has replaced law and order.

Welfarism has replaced private enterprise. In these days of an affluent society, too many Americans have come to regard our Democracy as a spectator sport. We sit in the grandstand, and between drinks we boo or cheer. Democracy was never devised as a spectator sport. It is based on the rule that each citizen should form his own opinions and express them to the Court of Public Opinion where America makes its decisions.

You and I can no longer ride the Freedom Train. We can't lounge in our cushioned seats and indulge in the vain hope that everything will turn out all right. Prayers have a proper place in our efforts to reform this government before it is too late.

But as one cynic remarked, "God isn't dead; He just doesn't want to get involved."

Thomas Jefferson said: Eternity vigilance is the price of liberty. Daniel Webster added "God grants liberty only to those who love it and are always ready to guard and defend it. Nothing will ruin this nation if the people themselves will undertake its safety. Nothing can save it if they leave that safety to any hands but their own."

Yet, J. Edgar Hoover recently had to report, "We have become a nation of kibitzers of the game of life. Most Americans seek to avoid the risk of commitment to any cause."

We need to put a sense of purpose into our lives. The purpose should be the liberty of the United States of America, which is sorely threatened now. Men and women have always been judged by the things they stand for—not the things they fall for. The history of America, from Bunker Hill to Vietnam, was written by people who backed their beliefs with action — men who said, like Nathan Hale "I regret that I have but one life to give my country." zens, have consistently voted against the trends of the times and we must continue to labor for the United States of America, which today is being described abroad as the only nation in all history that passed from infancy to senility without ever reaching maturity.

It is time to erase that blot on our image by coming down from the grandstand and going into action.

Millard Cope Memorial Scholarship In Journalism Offered at Angelo State

A $300 scholarship memorializing the late Millard Cope, former publisher of the San Angelo Standard-Times, will be awarded this spring to a freshman journalism student entering Angelo State College this summer or fall.

West Texas high school graduates planning careers in newspaper work are being invited to apply for the scholarship, according to Fred Conn, Mr. Cope's successor as Standard-Times publisher. Applications should be addressed to the Journalism Department, Angelo State College, San Angelo.

The freshman scholarship will be financed out of proceeds from a $25,000 trust established by Mr. and Mrs. Houston Harte of San Angelo as a memorial to Mr. Cope, who died in January, 1964.

In all, $1,200 is available for Cope Memorial Scholarships for the 1968-69 school year. The other $900 will be used for renewal of sophomore, junior and senior scholarships, provided present holders maintain eligibility.

Applicants for the scholarship should submit a statement of why they wish to become newspaper journalist, a brief outline of their high school or other experiences in journalism, and samples of their work, Conn said.

Applications should be sent to the ASC journalism department not later than May 15, Conn said.

THE DEVIL'S RIVER PHILOSOPHER SEZ He's Against Aerial Photography

Editor's note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his bitterweed ranch on Dry Devil's River seems a little riled up this week, but he'll get over it. It takes too much effort to stay riled up.

Dear editor:

I wasn't doing anything but taking a slow Spring walk through my pasture out here and considering how lucky man is that changes in the seasons aren't left up to a government negotiating committee when I stumbled over a copy of the Sunday issue of The Standard-Times and since it was as good a place as any to sit down I sat down and looked it over. I'm not sure I should have.

Over on an inside page I ran across an article that reported that scientists are working on an orbiting satellite that can take such accurate pictures of the earth's surface, so sharp and precise, that you can look at them and examine a man's whole farm in a glance. Even tell what's growing, how well it's doing, and what her insects are bothering it.

This is the type of progress worth leading a march against, although generally speaking the sit-down strike is more to my nature, if you can do it at home in the shade.

The last thing I want is somebody taking photographs of my ranch showing in detail the condition of my range. It'd be like sending a satellite over a bank photographing the state of everybody's checking account.

The amount of bitterweed and mesquite I have on this ranch comes under the head of my business. What you can see from the road looking over into it is all you're entitled to know about it, and if that part doesn't suit you, here's a hoe.

I can see the time come when the bureaucrats would hit on the idea of photographing everybody's ranch once a week, say on Friday, and on Monday you'd get an eight-page letter of instructions telling you what you're doing wrong.

"Dear J.A.," it would read, "We have this week's photograph of your ranch and we need further clarification of the current status of your system. On the north or back side of your place, we can't tell whether you're raising sheep, goats, or cattle.

Please advise on Form 75948."

Since the answer to this letter would not be usable in The Devil, please use your influence to discourage any further development business. If not stopped, they might get around to photographing your desk.

Yours faithfully,
 J. A.

A PARSON'S EYE-VIEW OF SONORA

BY THE REV. ROSS T. WELCH

One of the advantages of living in a small town, especially Sonora, that Frances and I have found is that your friends visit you more than they do in the city. Thirteen of our years in the ministry have been spent in San Antonio (two of those years I was in the chaplaincy, but my family was there).

Many of our friends visited in San Antonio while we were there, but never bothered to let us know. If they did happen to call, it would be just as they were leaving the city and we did not get to see them. "Just hated to leave without saying, 'Hello'."

But when you live in Sonora, your name and your town's name become so closely related in the minds of your friends that they do not forget. When they get down their road maps to plan a trip to New Mexico or California and discover that Sonora is on the way, they said "Let's stop and see the Welches."

Our guest bedroom was occupied four nights last week. That is a little unusual, but it points up the fun we have had since we have moved to Sonora entertaining our friends who come our way. I never know when I look out Sunday morning when I may be looking into the faces of former parishioners. So far I have been lucky enough to remember their names, but that kind of luck can't hold.

I almost embarrassed myself (and my visitor) recently by calling on him to lead in prayer. I thought he as another minister. It turned out to be a family on their way to HemisFair who had stopped to worship.

Don't forget to go to the polls and cast a ballot Saturday. This is an important election. Issues of far-reaching importance are at stake as well as important offices to be filled. I am particularly interested in the governor's race this year. One does not have to know a politician very well to establish a first-name friendship. Even so, it is the first gubernatorial election where I happened to election that close an acquaintance with several of the candidates.

Every time I read or hear report of the growth and expansion of Angelo State College, I am amazed. I was a student there the first two years San Angelo

Junior College was open. There were graduates at the end of the first year—students who had done their freshman year's work at other colleges; but I had the distinction of being the only male graduate in the class of 1930.

Naturally, I was the highest ranking male student in the class. But it was a good school, even then. We had one building across from the high school. We had one professor in each department. The president and registrar had been brought over from San Angelo High School.

We had no athletic program. In the spring of 1930 I cut the weeds off the tennis courts and encouraged Prof. Spratt to sponsor a tennis team. I failed to make the team, but they played one inter-collegiate match with Sul Ross and won one match out of six.

I shall never cease to be grateful to the college at San Angelo, because it opened the door to higher education for me.

The Rev. Lea Roy Aldwell will deliver the baccalaureate sermon for this year's graduating class, May 19. An Episcopal minister has not served in this capacity since 1961.

The United Daily Vacation Church School is scheduled for June 3-7 at the Methodist Church.

The Rev. Gordon Clinard, pastor of the First Baptist Church of San Angelo, has been selected by the Ministerial Alliance to be the speaker for the Annual Homecoming Worship Service on the Court House lawns, Sunday night, July 14.

Dr. Clinard is one of the outstanding leaders of his denomination and currently serving as president of the Southern Baptist Convention.

The pastor and congregation of the First Baptist Church will be responsible for the physical arrangements. The rector and congregation of the Episcopal parish will be responsible for the music.

Everyone is invited to come early and bring a picnic supper to be eaten on the shaded lawn. This will be followed, at 7:30 by the community sing and preaching service.

We encourage Sonorans to invite former residents to return for this occasion. We invite all residents of Sutton County and the area to participate.

How fortunate Sonora is to have a hospital facility like the Lillian M. Hudspeth Memorial Hospital! Built and partially maintained through the far-sighted generosity of the late Roy Hudspeth, the hospital is also deeply indebted to its professional staff and an active board of directors for its maintenance.

According to an undated handbook the hospital was first conceived in 1947 when Mr. Hudspeth offered to donate a sum of money to the establishment of a hospital in Sonora, as a memorial to his deceased wife, Lillian M. Hudspeth, provided the citizens of Sutton County would donate a like amount. The citizens of this county responded generously.

The Hospital was then incorporated, November 24, 1947, "as a benevolent, charitable, scientific and educational hospital, under the laws of the State of Texas."

Roy Hudspeth died on April 12, 1948, and it was then learned that he had left a large portion of his estate to this hospital. The Federal Government also contributed to the construction and furnishing of the hospital through Hill-Burton funds.

Contract for the construction of this facility was let in January, 1950 and the completed hospital was put in operation July 1, 1951.

The present Board of Directors includes many of the prominent citizens of Sutton County: Jack Neill, Joseph VanderStucken, Clayton Hamilton, Web Elliott, Mrs. G. H. Davis, Mrs. R. A. Halbert, Mrs. Rex Cusenbary, Herbert Fields, Fred T. Earwood, Lea Al-lison, Ben F. Meckel, Hillman Brown, Bryan Hunt, Edwin Sawyer and Dan Cauthorn.

The Hospital Auxiliary is an active group whose members do much to add to the attractiveness and "livability" of the hospital.

Our hospital ministers not only to residents of Sutton County but also to many who come from surrounding counties. One day there were sixteen names on the list of patients and only three listed their home as Sonora.

I was pleased by the foreword of the little handbook which stated: "No one profits from this hospital except the sick and injured whom it assists in returning to normal health and activity."

Screwworm Cases On the Upswing

With screwworm cases on the upswing, livestock producers are now in a critical period, County Agent D. C. Langford says.

This year the first case in Texas was confirmed on March 26, and more cases are being reported. One of the major causes for this early infestation was the movement of cattle from the interior of Mexico into the northern barrier zone for better pastures. Hot weather, humidity, sheep shearing and a large number of wildflowers weeds and grasses are also adding to the possibility of more screwworms moving into Texas. This year the potential for screwworm cases is greater than it has been in a number of years, he adds.

Langford urges livestock owners to check their animals on a day-to-day basis. They should examine and treat all wounds on their livestock. Injuries can be kept to a minimum by checking fences, pen, and chutes for protruding nails, wires, or splinters. Naval wounds of newborn animals should be treated and rechecked frequently. Ranchers are urged to spray sheep out of the shearing pen and treat shearing cuts.

Are you bothered by CREEPING TYPEWRITERITIS? This ailment is also known to strike cash registers and adding machines. Symptoms: machine won't stay in one place but slowly creeps off desk or out of position. Solution: get Unda-Wunda typewriter or adding machine pad from the Devil's River News. Thousands of tiny air pockets on the pad lock onto desk or counter while the machine sinks into top of pad. Result: Strongly anchored machine that doesn't move until YOU want it moved! $1.95 at the Devil's River News.

The Barnes Action Program

—A responsible new approach to spending state money, based on annual legislative budgeting, that will put the government on a current, businesslike basis and end the guesswork that now results from having to estimate revenue needs 2 1/4 years in the future.
 —Excellence in education, by upgrading public schools, colleges and universities, and developing a strong vocational training program to give all young Texans the opportunity to get and hold good jobs.

—Stopping the rising crime rate by using a positive, 12-point program that includes a Police Academy for training all Texas peace officers, stronger criminal prosecution forces, better court facilities, and greater rehabilitation for both juvenile and adult offenders.
 —Workable state liquor laws with strong, uniform enforcement.
 —Developing a strong and effective state controlled air and water pollution program in cooperation with local governments.
 —A workable statewide water plan to develop existing and future water resources.
 —Increasing the State's tourism program.
 —Aggressively seeking new industry to keep Texas the fastest growing industrial state in the nation.

—Greater emphasis on the state meeting its problems in growing urban areas such as mass transportation and waste disposal.
 —Improving the state's agricultural program to increase marketing, efficiency and productivity.
 —Expansion and improvements of the mental health and mental retardation program, with emphasis on community treatment centers.
 —A statewide program for the treatment of specific learning disabilities in our pre-school and school age children.
 —A state old age assistance program that assures adequate living conditions and medical care for the elder Texans.
 —Revision of the State Constitution to simplify and modernize outdated language.

The Gallup Polls show Bobby Kennedy leading LBJ for the 1968 presidential nomination. It was that haircut that did it. That noisy Manchester book quotes Senator Fulbright as saying Dallas "is a very dangerous place." He must have been there during an OU-Texas game. Trouble with many young men today is that they know everything except how much cotton they could pick.

MRS. HAROLD (MATTIE RUTH) GARRET, incoming president of the Sonora Art Club, is shown here with some of her work to be exhibited in the Spring Arts and Crafts show planned by the club for May 5 in the downtown area from 2 to 6 p.m. More than 25 club members will display their various works of art at the show.

Sonora Art Club President Specializes in China Painting

by Mrs. Tom Nevill

Mrs. Harold (Mattie Ruth) Garrett, the incoming president of the Sonora Art Club, who considers herself as a "newcomer" to the field of painting and decorating china has come a long way in her two years of work and study. Her talent recently won a blue ribbon in the Women's Department exhibit at the San Angelo Stock Show — her first time to enter any of her work in an exhibit.

Mrs. Garrett has a wide selection of china pieces in her home that she has decorated. For her, the work is fascinating and relaxing from her work as a hair stylist, she says. "Most of my work I have given to friends and family; some I have given as gifts and I have sold a few items," she added.

The plain white china is bought and then the art work begins. Two years ago when she first became interested in the art of decorating china, Mrs. Sim Glasscock taught her the fundamentals. Since then she has studied under women in San Angelo, Lubbock and New Mexico, learning some of their techniques. Some of her drawings on the china are free hand while others are copied from a pattern. "Grapes are the most difficult for me and for most people to do," she says, "but nevertheless this is very challenging and interesting." She has several beautiful pitchers, plates and cups on display in her home which are decorated with various floral and fruit designs.

Each piece takes many hours of work to attain the finished product. Mrs. Garrett has a kiln where the china is fired to set the colors. Some articles require four to eight firings, depending on the depth and intensity of the color desired. Most of the paint is brushed on; however, she says some of the designs are worked on better by using her fingers instead of a brush.

The Sonora Art Club will have a spring arts and crafts show May 5 in the downtown area from 2 to 6 p.m. The show will feature the many medias of work done by Mrs. Garrett. Work by the 25 club members will also be shown. There will be a "crafts from scrap" exhibit by children here. Door prizes will be given and admittance to the show will be free. Mrs. Rodney C. Dowdy is show chairman and members of her committee are Mrs. Albert Everett, Mrs. Ben Cusenbary, Mrs. Joe D. Cook and Mrs. Juliet Driskell.

Mrs. Louis Powers has served as president of the organization this past year and Mrs. E. B. Hengas is secretary-treasurer.

Mrs. Garrett, as the incoming president, should be an inspiration to the members with her enthusiasm for the work and her talent and ability to create beautiful designs.

Among those exhibiting in the arts and crafts show sponsored by the Sonora Art Club, May 5, will be Awnbey Simpkins, city engineer of Sweetwater.

His hobby is "make it from tin cans" and his exhibit will include blue ribbon winners from work

Howdy Neighbor

by Body Pierce

—Since this is election year in the city, county, district, state and nation, let us review some of the stories going around regarding the different politicians:

—He finds out which way the crowd is going, then jumps in front and waves his banner.

—No one can call him a cheap politician. Just look how much he is costing the taxpayers.

—When he asks you to vote for him and for good government, he is asking you to vote twice.

—This fellow stands for what he thinks people will fall for.

—He is full of many promises that seem to go in one year and out the other.

—The air is filled with his speeches and his speeches are filled with air.

—There is never any doubt about what he is doing with hidden taxes, he is just hiding them better.

—One of his favorite campaign slogans is: "I am a simple man of the community." You can go even further and say that he is the simplest man in the community.

—None of his political plums ever grew from seed. They are the result of clever grafting.

GARDENING TIPS

Good gardening is more than pulling weeds and watering. A "green thumb" gardener is not a person who is just lucky in growing plants, but one who has a general knowledge of plants and how to bring the best out of them. Plants should be checked often for signs of insect damage. Sucking insects such as aphids, thrips, and other "bugs" will cause yellowing, stunting, wilting, and under severe infestations can cause death. Should the populations of sucking insects become too serious either diazinon or malathion can be used effectively.

Holes in leaves, stems, and fruits indicate that chewing insects have been busy. Beetles, grasshoppers, and caterpillars are the most common pests of this type. Carbaryl, (Sevin), DDT, diazinon, malathion, methoxychor, and rotenone are good controls for chewing insects.

Insects in the soil are also harmful, especially to seeds and young, growing plants. To combat maggots, cutworms, white grubs, and other soil insects, the soil should be treated with chlordane about four weeks before planting with 10 percent dust, wettable powder or 74 percent emulsion in water.

Fungi can also be problems on plants around the home and garden. Acti-dione (PM) and sulphur Karathane are recommended for control of powdery mildew, and maneb or captan are effective against black spot. Phaltan is effective for treating either of these fungi.

When fertilizing, only the recommended amount of fertilizer should be applied. The addition of extra amounts of fertilizer can upset the balance of nutrients in the soil and may cause damage to the plants.

A good soaking is better than shallow watering. Don't try to grow too many plants in one area. It is much more attractive and productive to grow only the number of plants you can care for with a minimum of work. And maybe you too can be a "green thumb" gardener.

A PERSONAL MESSAGE FROM the PETE SNELSONS

Dear Friends:

Mrs. Snelson and I deeply appreciate the wonderful reception you have given to us during our visits to your county. Your courtesies, your pledges of support and your deep concern for our government and for integrity, have made us confident of the results in Saturday's election.

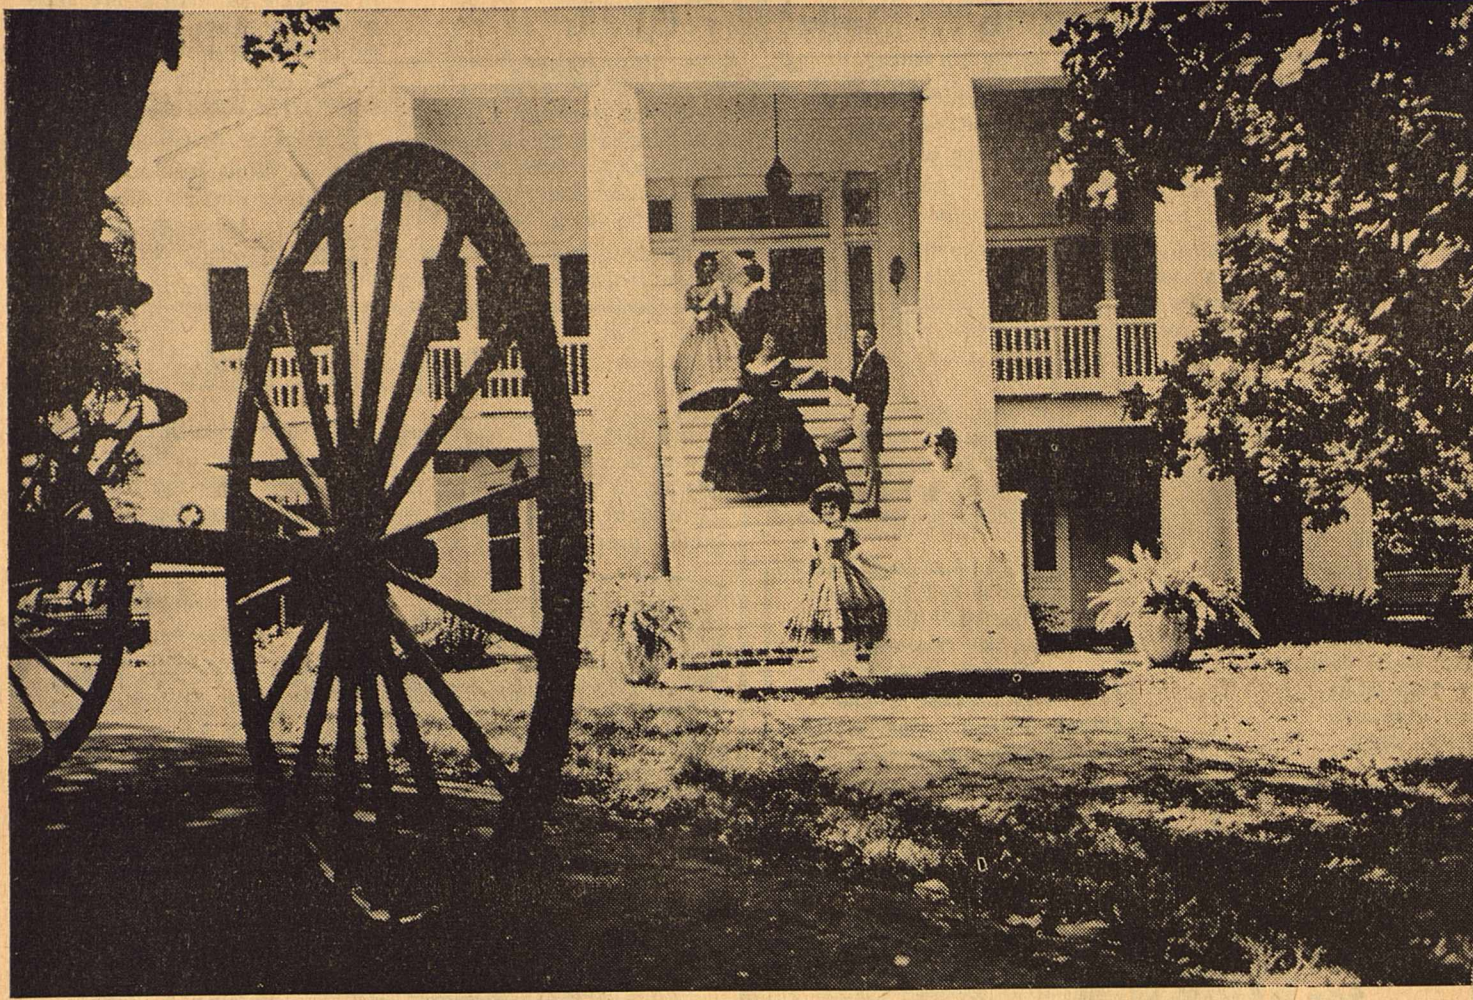

There is no single-handed victory in politics — but the people always win when we are determined to have the best possible representation. I have told you what I will work to do, and my responsibility to you will come first as your State Senator.

For your help and support, for all you have done in the campaign to restore integrity to the State Senate, and for your trust and friendship — thank you! All of my energy, my integrity, my ability and dedication will be devoted to making you proud of your State Senator.

Sincerely,
PETE SNELSON

ONE OF THE ANTE-BELLUM HOMES in Old Jefferson that opened during the annual historical pilgrimage is shown here with the young people of the town in antique costumes.

Eight of the old homes will be open during this year's pilgrimage May 3-5. Jefferson is located in Northeast Texas near Caddo Lake north of Marshall.

Old Jefferson Has Laugh on Jay Gould

Old Jefferson, nestled in the pine-needled carpet of East Texas was fashioned by a river and cursed to die by a forbidden railroad.

It is a quaint, unhurried community of ante-bellum homes, and horse drawn surreys, oak-shaded streets of brick. It is a community with a strange past—a saga that has become Jefferson's biggest industry.

And once a year it pauses to remember.

Jefferson's 21st annual historical pilgrimage will be held May 3-5, opening its doors to eight white-columned homes of a Civil War era.

Last year several thousand trappers swarmed into this little city and suddenly found themselves walking in the days of Southern plantations and life was relaxed, horses were transportation, and flowing hoop skirts hid not only knees but also ankles.

During the three days tours are conducted through homes whose names are as colorful as their past: The House of Four Seasons, the Manse, the Homestead, the Freeman Plantation, the Magnolias, the Alley-Carlson Home, the Beard House and the Old Schluter House.

Jefferson today lies in the heart of the Texas Forest Trail, wedged between the fishing waters of moss draped Caddo Lake and Lake O' the Pines.

But the story of its early-year struggles has been etched by time in the memory of these shuttered, pillared homes.

Once stern-wheelers flocked into the crowded harbors of this booming port city. And when the boats were gone, they had taken the sailing men with them. Families waited.

On top of the Old Schluter House rests a "Widow's Walk." When the boats were running, wives would gather here and look out around the bend of Big Cypress Bayou, hoping their husbands would return.

Those were war years. And some never came back.

It was time when luxury depended on ingenuity. A winding stairway leads to the tower of the House of Four Seasons where sunlight on cut glass reflect the spring, summer, autumn and winter of the year.

At the end of the stairway is a small bath. A tub lies beneath a skylight of red magnifying glass. And when the sunshine beamed through the glass it would heat the lady's bath water. She bathed only on sunny days.

They once called Jefferson the breadbasket of the Western Confederacy. It was considered the most cultured city south of St. Louis. Suburbia moved to Jefferson and its population soared to 35,000.

It boasted five banks, 12 wholesale grocery houses and four wholesale dry goods houses. Thirteen attorneys and 10 physicians cared for the sick and indicted.

Railroad financier Jay Gould proudly predicted: "Jefferson is destined to become the grandest industrial city in Texas."

A few weeks later his boast turned to curse. And the beginning of tragedy struck Jefferson.

Gould wanted to bring his railroad through the river city. But councilmen said, "No, we're a port city, second largest in Texas."

An angry Gould threatened "Bats will roost in your bellfries, trees will grow through the roofs of your buildings, and grass will grow in your streets."

He charged out of the charming Excelsior House, pausing only long enough to stop at the register and write "The end of Jefferson!"

He was almost right. Two years later Big Cypress Bayou began to dry up. And the railroad, key to a city's economy, had gone elsewhere.

Population dwindled. Today it stands at 3,000.

The Jessie Allen Wise Garden Club, sponsor of the pilgrimage, found Gould's old private railroad car lying neglected in a patch of weeds near the tiny community of Pitner's Junction.

They returned "The Atlanta" to Jefferson—restoring it across from the Excelsior House, which hosted Presidents U.S. Grant and Rutherford B. Hayes during its century-old life.

Tours through the luxurious car with bullet-proof glass are 50 cents.

So in its own quiet, quaint way Jefferson is having the last laugh on Jay Gould.

FOR GOVERNOR—For the first time since Coke Stevenson, Southwest Texas has a candidate in the Governor' race. DOLPH BRISCOE, JR. has every qualification for making Texas an outstanding Governor. He has successful experience in ranching, banking and business; eight years legislative experience; 20 years experience in working for the good of the people, his country and the livestock industry; without pay and at his own expense.

Now is the time for the people of Sutton County to show their appreciation to DOLPH BRISCOE for the years of work he has done in their behalf.

More approximately one half the mohair grown in the world is produced in Texas. DOLPH BRISCOE has led the program for bringing back mohair prices, stabilizing the industry by creating demand, all through the Mohair Council of America, of which he is president. This is bread and butter for Sutton County. More—he is a director-treasurer of the Board, working to increase the consumption of red meats, including lamb.

Experience is an essential ingredient of qualification. Name another man who has done as much for so many, so unselfishly as has DOLPH BRISCOE. His organizational ability is reflected in his brilliant business and ranching career, yet he takes the time, and at his own expense, to go anywhere, anytime, to work for the betterment of his people, the area and the industry. For instance:

During his 8 years as an outstanding Legislator he co-sponsored the Colson-Briscoe Farm-to-Market Road Act which pulled rural people out of the mud, now Texans have more than 30,000 miles of paved rural roads. He co-authored modern legislation raising educational standards and salaries for Texas teachers. He was the first to offer a resolution in the House asking for an investigation of the Veteran's Land Board, in the end saving Texas taxpayers millions of dollars.

DOLPH BRISCOE IS QUALIFIED by experience in many fields, by attitude and by his natural desire to be of help to others. You can't go wrong with BRISCOE. Now what about his opponents, what have they been doing?

In conclusion may I suggest this easy to follow voting rule: Pick up your ballot, in the race number 1, vote for candidate no. 1. In race no. 2, vote for candidate no. 2. In race no.3, vote for candidate no. 3. Simple, one, two, three, one, two, three. Then I am going to dip down and vote for Hardeman. What a team, Fisher, Briscoe, Barnes and Hardeman.

I will personally appreciate your sincere consideration of the candidacy of DOLPH BRISCOE for he is our kind of folks. He knows our problems, he is on our side.

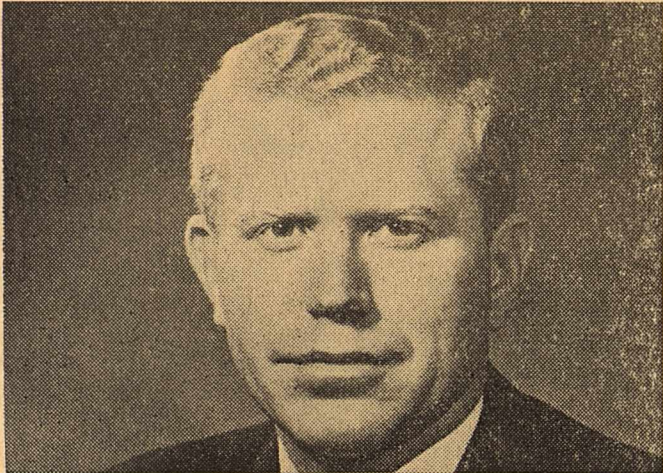

Sincerely,
Buzzie Stokes, Benson Road, Uvalde, Texas, 78801.

SAN ANGELO STANDARD-TIMES
San Angelo, Texas, Thursday Evening, Feb. 22, 1968

The assistant chief of the Texas Liquor Control Board's enforcement division has asserted San Angelo Sen. Dorsey Hardeman used influence to keep TLCB agents from examining records of an impact liquor store.

William A. Mason said Hardeman interfered when he sought to examine records of an impact liquor store.

Impact is in a wet precinct adjoining legally dry Abilene.

Mason said that after telephone call from the store manager, Hardeman asked the investigator wait until the day and argued that TLCB agents lacked authority to see the records until Mason showed him a copy of the law.

"He finally agreed that we did (have the right)," said Mason. "but by then the records had disappeared. We finally managed to get them sometime later," charged Mason.

Hardeman, was in Del Rio, could not be reached for comment at midmorning today.

Also today John W. Crank, former chief investigator for TLCB, who said Hardeman and other legislators have appeared at administrative hearings of the liquor board.

"Getting a member of the legislature to represent a guy was almost a sure way to get his penalty for a violation either reduced or eliminated altogether," said Crank today in

Sonora Student Named to NTSU

Carla Lee Whitworth is among 16 members of a group at North Texas State University who received national status when they were installed as members of Mortar Board, a national honor society for senior women.

The local organization is Meritum, founded at NTSU in 1950. Dr. Imogene Dickey, dean of women at NTSU and one of three Mer-

Miss Whitworth is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Colon L. Whitworth. She is a 1965 graduate of Sonora High School.

Texas University Plans Intensive Language Program

The College of Arts and Sciences of The University of Texas at Austin will offer a program of intensive study in foreign language during the 1968 summer session, in addition to its regular language courses.

Dean John R. Silber of the College of Arts and Sciences said June, 1968, high school graduates are especially invited to take part. Students completing the June 4-Aug. 27 course will satisfy, through one integral program, most or all the foreign language requirement for the Bachelor of Arts degree.

New foreign language requirements for the B.A. degree, to be effective in September, 1969, provide that students continuing a study of the language for which they present two high school admission units must pass four semesters beyond the beginning course in that language. Students electing a language different from the one used for admission must pass four semesters in the new language, including the beginning courses.

Students who had no foreign language in high school must take the beginning courses in a language without degree credit to remove their language deficiency, then pass four semesters beyond that course in the same language.

"In order to meet their foreign language requirements as rapidly as possible, all students are urged to take advantage of the intensive foreign language study program offered during the summer session," Dean Silber said.

A brochure describing the program in detail is available from Dr. Carter Wheelock, Department of Romance Languages, Batts Hall 112, The University of Texas, Austin 78712.

Senior Citizens Better Than Youngsters When Driving, But Have Some Problems

Being 65 or more years old does not automatically throw a person into the "unable to drive" category. In one test an 82-year-old woman showed faster driving reflexes than an Air Force cadet similarly tested.

—Senior drivers are, as a class, vastly superior to drivers 25 or less," Judge Sherman G. Finesilver, Denver, a nationally traveled safety expert, says his studies demonstrate.

Individuals in the 65 years and more age bracket scored higher on knowledge of driving rules on a recent television driving test, according to Minnie Bell, Extension family life specialist.

They present a problem, however, because they don't like seat belts and won't use them; won't yield to right-of-way; drive too slow; and don't like to change lanes, said the Texas A&M University specialist.

Judge Finesilver recommended safety driving training for this group.

A special need exists in Texas because of the change in driver's licensing now done on an individual basis, says Miss Bell. She reported that 211 counties in Texas have local committees on aging. Many of these committees have sponsored a Drivers' Refresher Course conducted by the Department of Public Safety.

Hay Good Crop After Harsh Winter

Hay supplies were tight at the end of the current winter season and now is the time to make sure the same situation doesn't happen again. The favorable statewide soil moisture situation, points out Neal Pratt, Extension agronomist, gives hay producers an opportunity to make large tonnages of high quality hay this year. He suggests starting with a soil test; fertilizing according to the test recommendations and harvesting at the right growth stage.

Spring Prime Time To Spray Weeds

Poisonous bitterweed can be controlled by spraying infested areas with one pound per acre of 2,4-D low volatile ester. Application should be made, advises G. O. Hoffman, Extension range, brush and weed control specialist, when plants are growing vigorously and in the bud stage and when the temperature is above 55 degrees F. Since soil moisture conditions are good over areas of Texas where the weed is most damaging, Hoffman believes spraying this spring will pay good dividends. He suggests a visit with the local county agent for details on a spraying program.

CONSTANT COMPANIONS

"Those three are always together," remarked Lisa's mother. She was referring to her little daughter, who is seldom seen without her beloved collie, and her well-worn rag doll. They are constant companions.

"Lisa is very sensitive about friends," her mother continued. "And this week she came home from Sunday School with a very important lesson. Her teacher told her about God's love, and how He never leaves us. Lisa came skipping into the house and announced, 'Now I have three good friends, and the best one of all is Jesus.'"

Little Lisa had indeed learned a wonderful truth. All of us need to discover it for our own lives. For every life needs the companionship of God. Let your church bring this hope and promise to you.

Sheep with Ticks Should be Treated

Sheep infested with ticks are unthrifty and should be treated this spring, advises County Agent D. C. Langford. Ticks are most effectively controlled by treating soon after shearing due to the absence of wool.

The pests reproduce during the winter months and easily transferred from one animal to another, says the county agent. Infested animals appear unthrifty and anemic. At shearing time ticks migrate from ewes to lambs, causing lambs to make slow gains and more susceptible to disease.

Hard-driving candidates for governor are coming down the stretch after a long campaign which has failed to fire up the voters.

Probably about 50 per cent of the total eligible electorate of just over four million will decide the outcome Saturday (May 4).

Strong Democratic runners include Lt. Gov. Preston Smith, John Hill, Waggoner Carr, Gene Locke, Don Yarborough, Dolph Briscoe and Edward L. Whittenburg. Pat O'Daniel has campaigned extensively in recent weeks. Other candidates, Johnnie Mae Hackworth and Alfonso Veloz, have done little campaigning. In the Republican primary, a warm gubernatorial contest features Paul Eggers, John R. Trice and Wallace Sisk.

Another hard-fought contest on the Democratic ballot pits House Speaker Ben Barnes against Don Gladden and Gene Smith for Lieutenant governor.

Democratic, Republican and American parties have scheduled referendums on legalizing sale of mixed alcoholic beverages on local option, pari-mutuel wagering on horse racing, also on local option, and establishment of a state milk-price-fixing commission.

Democrats expect sharp fighting in their precinct conventions Saturday which decide makeup of the national presidential nominating convention delegation and shape of the state party organization. Gov. John Connally is campaigning for favorite on presidential designation, leadership of the national delegation and binding of delegates under the unit rule. Liberal opposition opposes both Connally as a favorite son and the unit rule. Republican conventions Saturday will see strong efforts to name Sen. John Tower as their favorite son candidate.

Voters have been warned they cannot participate in affairs of the new American Party supporting George Wallace for president if they vote in either the GOP or Demo primaries Saturday or go to major party conventions. American Party needs 14,000 members to get Wallace on the November ballot.

ATTORNEY GENERAL RULES—
Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin has held that the "open meetings" law of 1967 is valid and constitutional. Opinion cleared the way for first court action (at Brownsville) under the new act. Cameron County Criminal Dist. Atty. F. T. Graham requested the opinion after the Brownsville Herald complained its reporter was barred for an hour from a meeting of the Brownsville Public Utilities Board last January 25.

COURTS SPEAK—In an important new opinion, Court of Criminal Appeals has held that trial judges must interrupt criminal trials and get a jury verdict on a question of sanity if the issue is raised by evidence.

Following that decision, Court reversed two convictions, ordering new trials for a young Petersburg woman accused of stabbing a baby to death and for an Andrews County man sentenced to life imprisonment as a habitual criminal. Court also ordered a new trial in a Lubbock County murder case and closed the book on 21-year old Kenneth Allen McDuff's unsuccessful appeal from the death penalty for murder of three teenagers in Tarrant County a year and a half ago.

Thank you, Senator Hardeman, for all you've done to strengthen law enforcement in Texas...

We, as law-enforcement officers of the state and of the 25th Senatorial District, want to thank you, Senator Hardeman, for your knowledgeable and resourceful work in strengthening the Texas Criminal Code.

The oral-confession acceptability and simplification of methods to warn the accused have been most helpful to us in performance of our duties to the public good. We know this was not an easy task in view of U.S. Supreme Court decisions, which, in our opinion, have adversely affected maintenance of safety in homes and streets across the nation. We commend you for your perseverance.

Texas Police Association

Wilson E. Speir, president of the Texas Police Association during the preceding legislative session, personally commended Senator Hardeman by letter on June 26, 1967, as the immediate past president of the association, as follows:

My Dear Friend:

It was my pleasure to preside at the recent conference of the Texas Police Association at which the enclosed resolution was adopted.

I want to add my own personal expression of appreciation to that of the TPA for the action taken by the Legislature in the changes to the Code of Criminal Procedure, as well as other acts which were passed which we believe will enable law enforcement agencies of Texas to more adequately serve the people of this state.

Sincerely yours,
Wilson E. Speir
Immediate Past President

(In convention assembled the preceding June 14, 1967, the Texas Police Association commended Senator Hardeman and members of the 60th Legislature by resolution for enactment of legislation which "should aid the agencies of law enforcement and others involved in the administration of criminal justice in preserving law and order more effectively in the State of Texas.")

Sheriffs' Association of Texas

"Senator Hardeman, with his considerable stature and influence in the Senate, has been of immeasurable help to me during the past several sessions on specific bills which were sponsored by the Sheriffs' Association of Texas. The most recent, in addition to the changes in the Code of Criminal Procedure, was his introduction for us at the last Session of amendments to the 'Mercury Theft' statute, which has given us a fine law on this subject.

"In the past, he also has rendered valuable assistance in such matters as the 'Burglary Tool' law, our two 'Jail Break' statutes, and numerous others."

Martin Says TLCB Inquiry Implicates No Legislators

Austin Bureau of the News

Austin—Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin said Wednesday he has sifted "every shred of evidence" in a probe of the Texas Liquor Control Board without finding ethical or legal wrongdoing by legislators.

"In some of the news reports, there was the prediction that some legislators would be criticized in the final report of this office on its investigation of the Texas Liquor Control Board," Martin said.

"While we are still compiling the report and are not yet prepared to issue it, I wish to make it very clear that after having personally sifted every shred of evidence that our investigation has revealed, I must emphasize that I find no evidence of any violation of the law or of good moral ethics on the part of any member of the Texas Legislature," he added.

HARDEMAN'S RECORD

Performance in elevating Angelo State College to four-year status and supplying the leadership in gaining appropriations for a newly-completed library and science building and the new dormitories under construction. Performance in passage of the bill authorizing the establishment of a regional senior-college district for the Permian Basin during the last legislative session.

Performance, again, only recently, in gaining a $2,000,000.00 appropriation in the proposed budget for vocational-technical training facilities at Odessa College. Performance in increasing appropriations for Southwest Junior College, Uvalde. Successful in gaining increased funds and new building for Sul Ross College at Alpine.

The Texas State Teachers' Association has named Senator Hardeman to its Legislative Honor Roll.

Water fatalities have become a major concern of safety officials in Texas.

Within the past few years, as more and more outdoorsmen have migrated to the water, the toll has risen. Despite the new Water Safety Act, the trend is alarming. Carelessness is the No. 1 reason for the mounting toll. The average person simply does not pay proper respect to water. It is far more dangerous than he realizes. He takes too many chances and the gamble isn't worth it!

Common sense is the No. 1 piece of "equipment" the boater should have aboard. Second in importance is some sort of life-saving device, or life preserver.

The common boat cushion, that has U.S. Coast Guard approval, qualifies as a legal life preserver under the Texas Water Safety Act. Yet of all preservers available, the cushion is the least practical of the lot.

An ordinary ski belt that fits around the waist is much safer, but, curiously, the ski belt is not Coast Guard approved. If you are wearing a ski belt and have no other type of live preserver aboard your boat, you are violating the law and are subject to a ticket.

Trouble with the cushion is that rarely is it available when you need it. Since most modern pleasure boats have upholstered seats, the occupants seldom are sitting on the bouyant cushions. Chances are the preservers are stored under the deck, where they are of no value, and sometimes not ever accessible.

Should a collision occur, the occupant likely will be tossed in one direction, the cushion in another. Should the person be stunned momentarily, the cushion is of no help whatsoever.

A preserver that fits around the body is much more sensible. Any one who can't swim should never go out in a boat without some sort of preserver on his body. Such a preserver may be a bit uncomfortable at times, but it certainly provides a sense of security to the poor swimmer or the person who cannot swim. And it could save the life of a good swimmer who is injured in the process of going overboard!

It is foolish to permit youngsters in a boat unless they are wearing life preservers. Accidents can happen suddenly. Maybe the boat is speeding down a lake when the child leans over the edge and topples into the water. Before the boat can be turned around, the youngster has sunk out of sight! A life preserver would bring him to the surface.

It surprises me that a man who takes no chances in a car will step into a boat and go berserk. He'll cut in and out of traffic, speed over rough waves, cut sharply, pass close to swimmers and skiers, and take other foolish and dangerous chances. It is almost as if he is inviting disaster. Just the other day I noticed a

Conditions Favor Mesquite Control

The best conditions in 20 years now exist for controlling mesquite, reports a range, bush and weed control specialist at Texas A&M University.

G. O. Hoffman, extension specialist, said that mesquite started budding about April 8 around Abilene, northwest to the Caprock and into the Spur, Wichita Falls and the Childress area, and also in the Ozona-Fort Stockton area. "It takes the mesquite tree from 30-50 days under normal growth conditions to mature before it is susceptible to foliage application of 2, 4, 5-T applied by airplane," Hoffman said.

Aerial spray work should begin 40-90 days after green growth at the buds is noticed. Generally, beyond 90 days after leafing begins, spraying should not be done. Spraying should be done after the leaf color has changed from light green to dark green.

"When the leaf color is beginning to change is the optimum time for spraying for best control of mesquite using 2,4,5-T," the range specialist said.

14 Piano Students Enter Auditions

Fourteen piano pupils from Mrs. A. C. Elliott's classes will play in the National Piano Guild auditions in San Angelo Friday, May 10, beginning at 1 p.m. Ten of the pupils are going for district honors and they include Lee Ann Byer, John Elliott, Bill Lee and Marsha Finklea, Debbie Howards, Lesa Joy, Pattie Merrill, Darla Moore, Mary Ann Pettiet, and Ruthie Wallace.

Flaire Lane, Martha Elliott, Molly Morriss and Janice Nance will be trying for national honors. Mrs. Elliott said that Regina Trainer, who won international honors in the audition last year, will be unable to participate this year because of an injured finger.

PARISHIONERS OF ST. ANN'S CATHOLIC CHURCH are making final preparations for the annual church festival, May 4-5. Men shown working on the booths are Pete Gomez, Apalinar Acosta, Frank Gallegos, Juan Bautista, and Primo Gonzales.

Saint Ann's Recaps

by Monica Davis
 Friday, April 26, at 9:30 a.m. Mass 20 people were baptized at Saint Ann's Church. Friday evening at 7 p.m. Mass, 20 couples were united in Holy Matrimony.

On Saturday, at 5:30 p.m., Bishop Thomas Tschöpe administered to 150 from Sonora and Eldorado, the Sacrament of Confirmation. At this Mass, about 400 people received Holy Communion. This has indeed been a blessed week.

May 4 and 5 is here now friends and we hope to see many of you in Sonora for our Festival. We are trying to raise funds to enlarge our Church, as we are suffering severe growing pains.

Starting at noon Saturday, all the booths should be in operation. Besides the many games to play, there will be food and drinks of all kinds. From 5-8:30 p.m., a Mexican supper will be served after which there will be a dance from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

The same program will be followed on Sunday, with the exception of the parade and coronation of the Queen, the choir candidate, Anavelia Rena, which starts at 2 p.m. It should be a fun parade as many elaborate costumes and beautiful animals will be seen.

Don't forget, we'll be looking for you all on May 4-5.

 I can hardly believe that there are only three more weeks of school left. These last three weeks will be busy ones for the seniors.

The seniors received their graduation invitations several weeks ago. Most of the seniors have mailed their invitations or will be mailing them soon. They have also made arrangements for their senior trip and graduation exercises.

Civics projects are to be turned in May 10. Seniors are also to turn in their English book reports that same day.

 The FHA girls had their annual picnic last week. Each member invited a guest to go along on the picnic.

The junior-senior banquet and the spring formal are supposed to be May 11. The juniors have been working on the decorations for the banquet and the dance.

 Maxine Davis and Linda Mc Bride were honored with a luncheon last Saturday.

GREEN NEWS

by Monica Davis
 At last—it's here—the time to play on the new course. It is a beautiful course and it will be a great challenge to the pros as well as the duffers.

Thanks to Francis Archer and his many months of hard labor, yes, and to the patience of his wife, Ella, we have one of the best if not the best course in this neck of the woods.

—GN—

The "Gruesome Foursome", Jerry Hopkins, Bob Snodgrass, Jo Hardgrave, and Norm Rousset lost eight balls (more or less) on nine holes and still made six birdies. Francis says one way to remedy this bit of bad luck (losing balls) is to change our game to fit the course.

Really and truly tho', the greens are in excellent shape, and the fairways are coming along fine, but that rough is really rough. There is one of two things we can do to remedy that situation. Members need to get out there together and move those huge boulders from the rough so it can be mowed, or we can all chip in and pay someone to do it for us.

—GN—

Wanda Cahill and Ernestine Hext played around the other day and made some birdies too, but they say you can really help your score if you make those three par holes ... just gotta do it to make up for the number eight hole. Wanda says that fairway sure is narrow!

Girls, we have to establish new handicaps because the course rating for women is now 73.4 from the white and red tees. It is a longer course than the old one. We need to play ten rounds of eighteen holes. Until handicaps are established, we can't play on our association plays. Oh yes, and another thing, we can't use tees anymore except on the T-boxes.

—GN—

Vernon Rogers parred the course the first time he played it. Bud Smith was his only witness.

J. W. Neville hasn't played the course yet, but he was in Dallas last week, and won the Businessmen and Salesmen Tournament at the Brook-Heaven Country Club. He says that trophy is nine feet tall—welllll almost that tall.
