It might be a good thing that a poll of postal patrons on city mail delivery is taken before delivery begins. It's doubtful if a survey taken among local postal employees would be favorable after the first few hectic days of delivery.

Many amusing incidents have most likely kept Horace Hill, postal carrier, from tossing up his hands in disgust. At least things finally got so ridiculous they had to be laughable.

Hill, like most native Sonorans, was not familiar with street names. After all, everyone knows that Sam Jones lives next door to Tom Smith, or Pete Culpepper lives around the corner from that dip in the draw. Why bother with street names?

Unfortunately, the United States Post Office Department and their efficiency experts from big "D" can't understand our descriptive methods, so they insist all mail must have "specific" addresses and all deliverymen know the town.

So, Hill had to burn the midnight oil for a few days to familiarize himself with street names and locations. He made a couple of dry runs before the big day arrived.

Saturday dawned — this was it.

Experts said sorting the mail would be a fast job and Hill would be ready to leave the P. O. by 9:30 or 10. At twelve he was still frantically sorting mail.

Of course, everyone was supposed to have mail receptacles in the proper places, depending on curbside or door delivery. A few patrons did have boxes in the right place, while others who had asked for carrier delivery had nothing there.

Being a friendly postman (and besides, how can you refuse delivery to someone who has known you since "way back when..."), Hill trudged up to door to make personal delivery to many.

One person eligible for curb delivery had up a mail receptacle, but it was mounted atop a four-foot rock wall half way up a steep hill. It was a toss-up whether to climb the hill to the wall or turn over trying to drive up.

Though most receptacles were "store-bought" one ingenious patron mounted a 5-gallon can on a fence. The can had a slit cut in the top for a mail drop. After much insistence on the part of the house owner, who finally demonstrated where she wanted her mail put by dropping it in the can herself, Hill left, still puzzled as to how she planned to get the mail out.

A bright spot in his day was when he found a piece of candy with a note of encouragement left on one mail box. At least it gave him a bit of strength to carry on and fortified him for the race he had to make from two different biting dogs.

One postal patron must have thought she was getting extra special attention when Hill returned to her house for the third time with mail. Little did she know it was just a case of confusion and perhaps improper sorting somewhere back down the line.

Saturday night at 9:30 found a foot-sore and weary Hill dragging home from a truly hard day's work. In the meantime a few irate persons called to report their mail had not been delivered.

Patience, folks, we'll probably end up big city yet, and before we know it all these things will be forgotten and we will come to accept the smooth-running delivery of mail. Then we'll wonder how we ever managed to do without it. However, if Horace Hill ever writes his memoirs, he is pretty sure to title it "My First 48 Hours As A Postal Deliveryman".

HORACE HILL, postal employee for the past nine years, will deliver the mail along with Abelino Sanchez, new employee of the department. Hill is shown here sorting the mail prior to a day's run. He has a city map handy for reference to unfamiliar street names.

McMillan Named Chairman Of Brush Control Program

W. B. McMillan was named Sutton County chairman of the newly organized statewide Brush Control and Improvement Association at a meeting of some 30 landowners Tuesday afternoon.

The association was established last November by a group of livestockmen to fight one of the state's major agricultural problems — brush invasion of land throughout Texas. Each county has a leader representing the association.

Former Sonoran's Husband Killed In Vietnam Duty

Services for Army warrant officer Selwyn R. Taylor, 31, were held March 28, 1969, at Ellis Funeral Home in Midland. He was married to the former Alice Sosa, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Sosa Sr., long-time Sonorans, now living in Midland.

Warrant officer Taylor was the pilot of a military aircraft on a mission in Vietnam when the aircraft crashed and burned.

Survivors include his wife; two daughters, Lisa, and Vilki; a son, Scott; one sister, Mrs. Richard Owens of San Antonio; one brother, James E. Taylor of Commerce, and his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Velma Donelson of Snyder.

George Wallace Seeks Re-election To School Board

George D. Wallace, incumbent, submits the following statement in support of his candidacy in the school board election April 5.

ed the spread of brush in Sutton County during the past 50 years. In addition to the big three: mesquite, cedar and pricklypear, Keng showed samples of 10 or 15 other brush species which are increasing rapidly.

McMillan pointed out that the association is a non-profit organization, and is not directly associated with any university or company. The goal is to obtain one cent per acre each year for five years from landowners or other interested individuals and organizations to greatly increase brush control research.

McMillan said surveys show that about 82 percent of Texas rangelands are affected with the brush, cutting animal carrying capacity by 50 percent or more. Despite much research in the past, greater financial help will be needed if the problem is to be solved.

Funds obtained in Sutton County will be pooled with funds from other counties to support research projects on brush control and range improvement. A project evaluation committee, appointed by state BCRIA chairman John Matthews of Abilene, will approve research projects submitted by universities and other agencies.

Donations of one cent per acre — $6.40 per section — can be made at the First National Bank or to any of the following committees appointed by McMillan: Vestel Askew, Edwin Sawyer, Armer Earwood, Joe B. Ross, Norm Rousselot, Philip Jacoby, Bill Wade, George Brockman, and Turney Friess

Four Will Compete In Saturday Poll For Two Places On School Board

Seventy-five absentee ballots were cast in the coming school trustee election to be held April

Worship Service At St. John's Due Time Change

The Rev. Norman E. Griffith, rector of St. John's Episcopal Church, said the following time schedule will be observed at the church with one service on Sunday, beginning with the Easter Sunday services:

Holy Communion, first and third Sundays at 10 a.m.

Other Sunday morning prayer services at 10 a.m.

Monday Bible School at 3:35 p.m.

5, at the courthouse. The unusually large number of persons voting absentee could possibly indicate strong interest in the coming election with four persons seeking the two spots open on the board.

R. S. (Bob) Teaff, businessman has been a member of the board for the past twelve years, and he announced his candidacy in February for re-election. George Wallace, ranchman, the other incumbent has served for the past four and one-half years. He was first appointed to the board to fill the unexpired term of Harold Friess, who resigned for health reasons. Afterwards Wallace was elected for a term.

Challengers are Mrs. George (Mary) Brockman, and Sears Sennell, ranchman.

Members of the board whose terms do not expire this year include Armer Earwood, president, W. A. (Bill) Morriss, Bill Tittle, Gene Shurley, and L. P. Bloodworth.

Polls open at 7 a.m. and close at 7 p.m. Jo Hardgrave is election judge, and clerks are Mrs. W. B. McMillan and Mrs. Hub Hale. Jerry Johnson is alternate judge if Hardgrave is unable to serve, and Mrs. Joe Hull has been named as an alternate clerk. Voters in all precincts will cast ballots at the courthouse.

B. D. Gillit Truck Accident Victim In Libya

Billy Dorse (Smokey) Gillit was victim of a truck accident in Tripoli, Libya, where he had been employed for about a year. He was an employee of Intradrill Libyan Oil Ltd., a subsidiary of International Air Drilling Corporation of Fort Worth.

Mr. Gillit was born December 3, 1933, in Baird. He was a graduate of Ozona High School. He married the former Anna Rose Glasscock, November 29, 1953, here. While Mr. Gillit was in Libya, his wife and children have made their home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Glasscock.

His survivors include his wife; a son, Randy Ray; a daughter, Paula Kay; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Gillit, of Baird; a brother, Jack Gillit of Ozona; and a sister, Mrs. J. D. Taylor of South Gate, California.

Services were held at First Baptist Church, April 2, at 2 p.m. with the Rev. Clifton Hancock officiating.

Pallbearers were Lonnie Dorris, and J. W. Jöhnigan both of Ozona; Bill Baultinghouse of San Antonio; Gatha Williamson of Odessa, and D. C. Langford and Bill Gosney. Ratliff-Kerbow Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements and burial was in Sonora Cemetery.

THAT TIME OF YEAR is coming around—when rattlesnakes are on the prowl. Douglas Campbell came upon this 59-inch granddaddy on the Lin Hicks place 28 miles southeast of Sonora and killed it with a hoe handle. He said his first blow missed the snake, but broke the new hoe from the handle. The snake had 10 rattles and a button and measured 7 inches around.

Bundys Enjoying Roles As Extras In Movie Being Filmed In Mexico

Two former Sonorans are leading exciting lives appearing as extras in a movie "The Undeclared" currently being filmed close to Durango, Mexico.

Lucy and Dick Bundy, who recently moved to Mexico, with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stanton Bundy, were hired for fifty pesos daily to appear in a movie which features John Wayne and Rock Hudson, along with several other prominent movie stars.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Mayfield who just returned from a visit with the Bundys said Lucy is especially enjoying her role and comes in each night bubbling over with tales of the day's events.

Lucy, who tries to appear in as many close-ups as possible, says she usually gets sent to the end of the wagon train line by some jealous extra from Hollywood, who doesn't want a newcomer grabbing all the limelight.

Nearly all young anglo-Americans in the village are movie extras, and they travel by bus to the location site, usually arising about 5:30 a.m., and return to their homes about 6:30 p.m.—tired, dusty, and with brown faces peeling from a hot sun. Students lose little time from school work as the local teacher, who is an extra also, conducts classes between takes.

Dick, who was hired as a "wrangler", finds this role fairly easy since he grew up ranching. Los Angeles Rams have their quarterback, Ramon Gabriel, and a linebacker, appearing in the movie, so Dick enjoys playing football with two such well-known pros, during breaks.

Production men were looking for four women just prior to the Mayfield's arrival. Lucy told Nella Mayfield she was sure they would welcome an opportunity to hire her.

Mrs. Mayfield was excited at the prospect and said, "they were go-

Students Win In District UIL Meet In Menard

Eight Sonora students won places in the District UIL Meet held in Menard, March 29.

Winning first places were Lee Bloodworth in prose reading; Tryon Fields in oral reading, and Stephanie Snelson in extemporaneous speaking.

Rick Street was a second place winner in poetry interpretation; Rick Hill, second in persuasive speaking, and Sharon Johns, second in persuasive speaking.

Third place winners were James Benson in number sense, and Frank Taylor in extemporaneous speaking.

Schools Dismissed For Easter

Sonora's schools will dismiss for Easter holidays today (Thursday) at 2:30 p.m., and classes will resume at 8:20 a.m. Tuesday, April 8.

Students will face a busy schedule for the week when they return to school with the first leg of volley ball playoffs in regional play to be decided when a representative will go to Van Horn, April 8.

UIL literary contests are planned for April 8, in the local high school with competition in one-act plays, ready writing, and debate contests. Superintendent of schools Ralph J. Finklea, said competition will begin at 10 a.m.

During the week, April 11, the schools fifth sixth-week period closes, and final day of classes is scheduled for May 22.

Way of the Cross

by Everett H. Jones, Retired Bishop of Episcopal Church

Look again, as we come to another Good Friday, at that universal Christian symbol—the cross. It is a meeting of two pieces of wood, one vertical and one horizontal.

The vertical is a reminder that man is made for God, and that without God he is doomed to confusion, loneliness, and despair.

The horizontal is a reminder that the arms of Christ reached out, both in his life and at his death, in love and compassion for all mankind.

It is so obvious when we think about it that there would not be a cross — there would not be the way of life represented by the cross — without either the vertical or the horizontal.

A Parson's Eye-View of Sonora By The Rev. ROSS T. WELCH

One of the happy things about the Easter season is seeing the faces of little children as they watch their baby chicks or ducks or what-have-you.

Every child should have some opportunity during his childhood to put eggs in the nest of a hen to be hatched.

He should watch the mother hen fluff her feathers out to be able to cover all the eggs. He should have the opportunity to watch her as she expertly turns her eggs once a day.

watch as the shell is finally cracked around and the young chick forces its way out, wet and bedraggled.

And then to watch that baby chick transformed into a downy soft ball of life. The baby chick is unafraid because it has not yet discovered the world of cats and snakes and hawks and other enemies.

But let the natural enemy appear, the mother hen sounds the alarm, and the little chicks learn to share her feeling of panic. And the chicks soon learn when the danger cry is raised to seek the warmth and safety of the mothers' hovering wings.

No child can watch little chickens hatch and grow without some long, long thoughts. How does that little chick know if he keeps pecking a way that eventually he will break through the shell and gain his freedom?

THE DEVIL'S RIVER PHILOSOPHER SEZ . . . He Tries His Hand At Keeping Daily Log of His Work For One Day Only

Editor's note: The Dry Devil's Philosopher on his bitterweed ranch on Dry Devil's River reports on a strange item he discovered out of Washington.

Dear editor: People are always talking about all the rules and regulations Washington is always thinking up for the people, so it was with considerable amazement I read in a newspaper last night that Washington has thought up some for itself.

The Attorney General's Department out of force of habit I guess, has come up with a set of rules for the 1,200 lawyers it has in the Justice Department. Every lawyer must keep a log every fifteen minutes of every day of how he spent his time.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Missing and Presumed Dead One fine morning Watson kissed his wife, departed for the office—and dropped out of sight.

Years passed with no clues to his whereabouts. Finally Mrs. Watson, despairing of his return, put in a claim for her missing husband's life insurance.

This made sense to the court, which ordered the insurance company to pay her claim. The judge said:

By and large, courts follow this "seven-year rule." That is, they accept a presumption of death after seven years of unexplained absence.

Thus, another wife's attempt to collect her husband's life insurance was denied, even though she had not heard from him for eight years. The court noted that the missing man had abandoned his family once before, that he was a fugitive from justice, and that his girl friend had vanished at the same time—all good reasons for him to "lie low."

Nor does the presumption of death apply if there has been no reasonable effort to locate the missing person. For example, a court refused to presume that an absent husband was dead, when it appeared that his wife had not even bothered to ask her in-laws if they knew where he was.

Suppose that, after the presumption has been accepted and the insurance paid, the "dead" man turns up alive. In a case where that did happen, the wife was required to refund the money to the insurance company.

The court could see no justice in letting her keep both her husband and his life insurance.

MRS. GARY EDWIN JONES

Ceremony Unites Couple In McCamey

Miss Jo Ann Meadows, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Meadows of Amarillo, became the bride of Gary Edwin Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Jones, March 29, 1968. The couple were married at 8 p.m. in the First Baptist Church of McCamey.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white Angel Peau designed with elbow length sleeves, a natural waistline, and a portrait neckline. She carried a bouquet of white roses. Attendants were her sister, Mrs. Richard K. Powell of Amarillo, who served as matron of honor, and Rodney Gryder, best man, of Lubbock. Ridgley Holifield of San Angelo, and Richard K. Powell of Amarillo were ushers.

A reception following the ceremony was held in the junior department of the church.

Mrs. Jones, graduate of West Texas State University, teaches English at McCamey High School. The bridegroom, who attended San Jacinto College in Houston, is stationed at the Marine Corp Air Station in Yuma, Arizona.

After a wedding trip to El Paso, and Yuma, the couple will make their home in Yuma.

Miss Nancy Hull Wed In Houston

Miss Nancy Hull, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Hull of Houston, and James C. Haskins, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Haskins of Houston were married March 29, at Bethy Methodist Church in Houston, at 8 p.m.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Briar Club.

The couple are both junior students at Rice University in Houston, where they will live and complete their studies.

Out of town relatives of the bride from this area who attended the wedding included, Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Adkins, Mrs. A. H. Adkins, Mrs. Joe Hull, Mrs. Charlie Hull, Dr. and Mrs. Tom White, Jack Adkins, and Frank Adkins.

Also attending were Mrs. Bill McDonald Jr., and son, Chip, of Ft. Stockton, Mrs. Pearl Smith of San Angelo, Mrs. Henry Ehrenberg of Midland, Mr. and Mrs. John Ball of El Paso, and grandmother of the bride, Mrs. Clyde Gardner of San Angelo.

Presbyterians Plan Special Easter Weekend

The Passion and Triumph of the Christ will be emphasized in two worship services this weekend at the Church of the Good Shepherd.

Thursday, April 3 at 7 p.m., the annual Maundy Thursday Communion Service will be observed. The Rev. Homer Akers said this will be a quiet worship service in candlelight remembering the upper room experience when Christ inaugurated the Holy Communion. Mrs. J. D. Cook and Mrs. Homer Akers will sing "Tis Midnight and On Olives Brow by William B. Tappan. Mrs. Lea Allison will be the organist. The pastor's sermon subject will be "The Six S's of Gethsemane."

Easter morning at 11 a.m. worship will include favorite Easter hymns, and a vocal solo by Mrs. Akers, with Mrs. Allison at the organ. Sermon subject will be "I Am the Resurrection and the Life."

Youth fellowship groups will not meet this Sunday evening, added the Rev. Mr. Akers, and Monday Church School will also be dismissed for the Easter holiday.

MRS. RICHARD T. McMILLAN

Marriage Ceremony Of Miss Jan Late And Richard T. McMillan Solemnized

Miss Cynthia Jan Late, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Marr Late, of San Angelo, became the bride of Richard Taylor McMillan, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. McMillan, Saturday, March 29, at 7 p.m. in the First Baptist Church in San Angelo.

Dr. J. Kenneth Shamblin, an uncle of the bride, and pastor of St. Luke's Methodist Church of Houston, and Dr. Gordon Clinard, pastor of First Baptist Church in San Angelo, officiated at the ceremony.

Serving as organist for the occasion was Mrs. E. L. Chapman of San Angelo. Ross and Kevin Stoneciper, cousins of the bride, were candlelighters.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a gown of candlelight pure silk taffeta and imported re-embroidered Alencon lace. The moulded empire bodice was fashioned with a victorian neckline appliqued with the imported lace forming a vee at the back and complemented by two shaped bows entwisted with tiny seed pearls. The long fitted sleeves extended to her wrists enhanced by a wide ruffling of the Alencon lace. The slim A-line skirt marked at the hemline with medallion appliques of the lace swept to a wide chapel length train. Her bouquet was of white roses.

Her attendants wore identical gowns of emerald green silk faille. The dresses were floor length, and they wore matching veils extending in narrow panels to the length of the gown.

Attendants included Mrs. E. L. Chapman of San Angelo, matron of honor, and bridesmaids were Miss Tamara Smith of Ft. Worth; Miss Jode McClung, Miss Ann Freeze, Miss Carol Ricci, Miss Lois Amy Reynaud, and Mrs. Tommy Wilson all of San Angelo. Miss Martha Zirkle of San Angelo was junior bridesmaid.

John Merck Jr., served as best man and groomsmen included John Pipkin of San Angelo, Chris Haynes of Austin, Tommy Loeffler of Mason, Tom Axelrad of New Orleans, Louisiana, Alan Roberts of San Antonio, and L. P. Bloodworth III. Ushers were Timothy Schmidt of Brady, William Freeborn of San Antonio, W. E. Verkin of LaMarque, and Gil Allison of San Angelo.

In the houseparty at the reception held at San Angelo Country Club were Mrs. Chris Haynes of Austin, Kathy Sartain, Gwen Larsh, Mrs. C. Hunter Strain, and Mrs. R. M. Zirkle all of San Angelo; Elizabeth Talley of Temple, Carol Beth Wells, of Eagle Lake, Mrs. Gene Whitehead of Menard, Mrs. R. O. Stoneciper of Roswell, New Mexico, Mrs. John Late of Odessa, and Mrs. Oscar Unger of Dallas.

The bride is a graduate of San Angelo Central High School and Pine Manor Junior College of Boston, Massachusetts. She is a senior student at the University of Texas at Austin, where she is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority and Kappa Delta Pi, national honor society in education. She is a Southern Belle at the University.

Her husband, a graduate of Sonora High School and the University of Texas, is a student in University of Texas Law School. He is a member of Kappa Alpha order, serving as corresponding secretary and recording secretary. He served on inter-fraternity council, and was named outstanding freshman at the University.

After a wedding trip to Puerto Vallarta, Mexico, the couple will live in Austin, where they will continue their studies.

The bridegroom's parents hosted the rehearsal dinner at the River Club in San Angelo, Friday night. Sixty-four persons attended the dinner.

Saint Ann's Recaps

By Monica Davis

Spring has sprung out all over. Especially at Saint Ann's. A regular bee-hive of activity. Of course, this is Holy Week, and the Parish will have regular Holy Week and Easter services.

Aside from that, we have the building bit going on, and plans being made for our big annual May 10-11 festival. A meeting was held last week, and committees and chairmen named.

The festival will be held at Polo Cervante's grounds this year because of the construction going on. General chairman of the festival is Enemencio Samaniego, and Cervantes is first co-chairman.

Many booths for games and food will be on the premises. A Mexican Dinner and barbeque will be sold both days. Jesus Valardez will be the man to do the barbequing.

A small baazar was held March 23 by the ladies of the Altar Society for their queen candidate. It was a very successful party.

Through the month, we have also had our monthly Communion Masses for the Holy Name Society, CYO organizations, and the Altar Society. The Altar Society received Rita Lopez into the society, March 30, at their mass. The men of the parish had a breakfast after mass for their queen candidate.

As I said, we are busy, busy, trying to raise money for the new church. A cake walk is planned for next week, and the ladies are always making tamales and such to sell by the dozens or separately. Another project for the Altar Society is to sell the "Catholic Directory". We hope all our parishioners will want one of these very handy books.

Mrs. G. Boucher Will Participate Specialized Master's Degree Program

Mrs. George Boucher, formerly Janis Sykes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Sykes, of Elko, Nevada, was visited by a professor from the University of Nevada last week. The superintendent of Elko schools had recommended four teachers out of the two hundred in Elko County to take part in a specialized Master's degree program in special education on guidance and counseling. The educator's visit was to inform her that she was one of the four invited to take part.

The government will pay all tuition plus $4000 for two semesters and tuition and $800 for a five week summer session. After the program is finished each of the participants would be considered a specialist in that area of study and would be a supervisor and advisor to the school district.

Mrs. Boucher is presently conducting a two-credit in-service training program in physical education for elementary children through the University of Nevada and in conjunction with the Elko Community College. She has been teaching second grade at Southside Elementary School in Elko, for four and a half years. During this time, she has also piloted a trial program in physical education for primary and upper elementary children.

Purpose of the in-service training course is to prepare the staff in the elementary schools in Elko to incorporate the program into the school curriculum next year.

Mrs. Boucher was a consultant last year under the government Title Projects, and assisted in writing up a physical education program for the rural schools of Nevada.

Charles Knight, principal at the Southside Elementary School, sent a report of commendation to the school board in regard to the efforts of Mrs. Boucher in developing the program.

BEN R. EPPS, son of Mrs. Clift Epps, has been named commercial forecaster for the northern area of General Telephone Company. Before joining General, Epps was a teacher in the San Angelo and Sonora School systems. Presently he is living in Irving.

JANICE SUTTON, graduate of Sonora High School and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Sutton, works here with Barbara Matthieson on the Angelo State College yearbook, The Rambouillet. Both are students at the college and as staff members, help to select pictures for the yearbook. Students spend days and weeks and months of creative effort in order to give an orderly portrayal of the unbroken procession of work and study, frolic and friendship, hurry and leisure, fun and games that make up a school year.

The Statements below are excerpts from the Handbook for Texas School Board Members.

Ninety-five percent of all the children in Texas are under the Texas Association of School Boards. Sonora has not been a member since 1964.

(page 1) Like most modern organizations, school systems are confronted with extremely complicated duties. The board must therefore agree upon an effective division of labor within the system. It must be especially certain of what its own unique functions are. Experienced school board members agree that a board performs most effectively when it:

- Operates as a policymaking body while delegating the detailed and technical duties to a trained administrative staff with a single executive (the superintendent) at its head;
- Evaluates its policies in terms of their results, making policy adjustments based on its evaluations.

A school board is legally a single, united body rather than a group of individuals. Texas law, like that of other states, confers on the individual board member only that authority which can be exercised in an official board meeting by casting of a vote. Except during an official meeting, a board member has no more power over school matters than any other citizen in the community.

(page 4) An efficient board will require that an accurate and complete record of each meeting be made and that copies of the minutes of each meeting be sent to the board members. A copy of the minutes should also be placed in the school office as a public record open to the inspection of any interested citizen.

(page 5) A board is confronted occasionally with an item of business which if discussed in public, might unduly embarrass people, or give unfair advantage to certain real estate interests. On such occasions, the board might excuse itself briefly from the meeting room to discuss the matter, or it might meet as a "Committee of the Whole" just before the public meeting.

(page 7) Written school board policies are required for school accreditation in Texas. Compiling the policies, by-laws, rules, and regulations of the board into one document is a tremendous task. The advantages of having up-to-date, comprehensively written policies, however, outweigh this difficulty.

A statement of written policy has many values. Its most important value lies in the guidance which it provides for the school staff, the administration, and the board itself. The policy handbook will also acquaint interested citizens of the community with the policies, rules, and regulations of the business which they support financially.

(page 8) Handling Complaints and Criticisms
Complaints and criticisms from individuals or groups are major "occupational hazards" of both the board member and the administrator. The procedure for handling complaints and criticisms should appear in a board's written policies. Whether or not this procedure is in writing, it should be standardized.

While a suitable procedure for the presentation of complaints will probably vary with the size and organization of the school system, one procedure for handling complaints is as follows:

- The complainant first presents his complaint to the superintendent, who investigates and reports his findings to the board and to the complainant.
- If the complainant then wishes to present his case to the board, he is invited to do so at the next meeting.
- The board hears the complaint, considers any additional information gathered by the superintendent or staff, and makes the best possible decision.

At no time should a board member forget that, as an individual, he has no authority to act or to promise board action on a complaint. However, a well-informed board member can often avert or answer unjust criticism or complaints.

The need for a new superintendent may come about for one of three reasons—the retirement of the superintendent, the superintendent's decision to accept another position, or a decision by the board to replace the present superintendent.

A wise board will replace its superintendent only when it is certain that this step is in the best interests of the school system.

(page 18) Any superintendent will make occasional mistakes, but neither these nor unjust public criticism of the superintendent should stamper the board into a hasty decision to replace the superintendent. A superintendent who conscientiously acts for what he considers best will occasionally make decisions which will not please certain individuals or small segments of the community. Objective evaluations by the board will prevent its being pushed into a premature decision to release its superintendent.

A board that is considering replacing the superintendent should advise him of this fact and give him opportunity to discuss with the board what he may do to make his services satisfactory. If the board still believes that a change will benefit the school system, this change should be accomplished with the least possible harm to the schools, the community, and the professional standing of the administrator.

A final word of advice to board members regarding personnel matters seems appropriate. Board members must bear in mind that their authority over personnel is exercised as a body and only through the superintendent. Board members who individually undertake either to reward, reprimand or supervise the personnel of the school system are jeopardizing staff morale and thereby the school program itself. Outside of his official duties, a wise school board will act only as an interested parent and-or patron.

Live the carefree electric way with a

FRIGIDAIRE

range with the new self-cleaning oven

Just flip the switch!

... and like magic—Reddy Kilowatt starts to work cleaning the new Frigidaire oven. This fast, efficient way of cleaning can save you time, work and money. Just think, no more steel wool, rubber gloves, or broken fingernails. No more all day job of cleaning the oven. The Frigidaire oven cleans itself in about three hours and all that remains of the burned-on food soil is a blow-away trace of ash. So go right now and see for yourself the different models of the Frigidaire Electric-Clean ovens. You, too, can "Live the Carefree Electric Way" with a Frigidaire self-cleaning oven.

day in a natural amphi-theatre on the hillside below The Everburning Cross, one mile southeast of Junction.

Presentation is by four-score Kimble County people, all of them lay-men, women and children in colorful costumes, typical of the dress of Biblical times. Here they will re-enact Jesus Christ's last Days on Earth, so timed that the Scene of the final Ascension will take place shortly after midnight on Easter morn.

This Holy Spectacle will be supported from a broadcasting booth by readers and background music. A dozen stages have been arranged among the rugged rocks of the hillside, and changes of scenes are effected by the shifting of spot and flood lights.

The production is entirely amateur and non-commercial. Members of the cast are all local people, with no professional or paid actors. The cast contains men and women from many walks of life: clerks, lawyers, teachers, mailmen, housewives, merchants, mechanics — who take time from their business for several weeks to participate in this consecrated service.

Mrs. Hamp Johnson directs the pageant for its nineteenth consecutive year. In 1951, a group of about twenty inspired people enacted the first pageant from a single stage. From year to year the spectacle has grown, with changes and improvements in scripts, scenes, staging and props. Attendance has yearly increased, and last year over 6,800 people came from far and near. The excellence of the production is perhaps attested by the ever increasing attendance. Many think there is nothing finer this side of Oberammergau.

The pageant is sponsored by Junction Men's Bible Class, a non-sectarian organization, who erected the Everburning Cross. The Cross sits high on Lovers Leap Mountain, and its lights are seen all year long by travelers who pass thru Junction on Highway U. S. 290. During Holy Week from Palm Sunday until Easter, the lights in the Cross burn red. At other times, the lights are white.

Parking areas are provided from which the spectators may view the spectacle from the convenience of their car. A musical program will be broadcast after 8 p.m. There is no charge for admission, for parking, nor for programs. Free coffee will be served after 4 p.m. throughout the evening from an old fashioned chuck wagon, which was furnished by the late Capt. Gully Cowsert, of the Texas Rangers. Sandwiches and soft drinks will be dispensed on the grounds by local civic organizations.

This year a stand-by power unit will be there for use in case of electrical failure, so the program will not be interrupted.

The production of the Easter pageant is a tremendous undertaking for this small community. Costs of staging are entirely furnished by contributions. Those who find the pageant worthy of encouragement and support will be given an opportunity to contribute, according to Dillard Motley, chairman of the publicity for the pageant.

hymn of the skies

David lived almost thirty centuries ago. He knew nothing of outer space . . . of galaxies hurtling through the void . . . of particles of energy and matter spinning their way from a one-time explosion toward the edges of the universe.

He knew only the skies of his native land . . . their lights and shadows and ever-changing drifts of cloud.

But he knew, as millions before and since, that these skies were no accident. They told him of the Mind and Heart that rules the domain of life. They told him we are not alone.

"The heavens declare the glory of God," he wrote in the 19th Psalm, "The firmament showeth his handiwork."

Through those same skies rode the star that drew men to the scene of our Savior's birth. Against those skies is always silhouetted the Cross on which He died for us.

Under those skies we'll worship together the Risen Lord.

Invoking Federal Laws against those who engage in the campus riots and other disrupting tactics, was promised last week by President Nixon.

The President — who recently commended the President of Notre Dame for saying he would suspend or expel any student who violated state laws or campus rules—let it be known that hereafter any student who takes part in a violent action on a college campus will forfeit any right to student loans and-or grants. This has been in the law two years, but has not been enforced.

At the same time, the Attorney General promised to use all facilities at his command to prosecute trouble-makers who cross the state lines to incite riots or other violence. That's been in the law for two years.

In the meantime, on scores of campuses student radicals and the black militants continued their senseless battles against organized authority. Thus far only a few of the school officials involved have shown any courage or willingness to crack down on the culprits. All they do is expel them and then if they hang around, have the police come in and drag them off.

The Students for a Democratic Society (SDS), with chapters in many of the colleges, harbors anarchists and spearheads a good many of the campus disruptions. That group has the hammer and sickle written all over it. The SDS is the most recent—and the most brazen—of a long series of pro-Communist student organizations, committed to the destruction of the American educational system and to other reddish objectives.

More of the states, including Texas, are beefing up their laws to better deal with these crackpots. In Wisconsin the University's Board of Regents recently cut the percentage of nonresident students from 25 to 15 percent of their enrollment. They hope this will keep some of the radicals out.

Black Power and other radical student behavior has been likened to the conduct of the blacks in the Congo after Belgium gave them their independence four or five years ago. For a time wholesale criminal behavior was the order of the day. Observers at the time claimed that outburst revealed ignorance and low-level advancement in a civilized society. We wonder how those same observers would explain Berkley, Columbia, Rutgers, Howard, S a n Francisco State, and scores of the others where civilization is supposed to flourish.

Exhibit Of Val Verde Indian Burial Shown At Institute Of Texan Cultures

Virtually an exact reconstruction of a recently discovered Indian burial is a new exhibit at the Institute of Texan Cultures in San Antonio.

The skeletal remains of a woman, buried some 2,000 years ago, were discovered on the Martin King Ranch near Comstock in Val Verde County.

Using dirt found in the original burial to cover a plaster of paris type form, fabricators duplicated the unique burial.

She was buried in a foetal position, knees drawn up under her chin and head bowed.

At the time she died, she was considered to be old—between 35 and 45 years of age.

Despite the objects placed in the grave, as marks of her survivors' affection, the woman must have led a hard life. Rather slight, she was about five foot three to five foot six, and had tooth trouble. The few teeth she had left were bad, with many cavities and abscesses.

She was dug up August 14, 1968 by Archeologist Robert K. Alexander of the Texas Archaeologist Salvage Project at Balcones Research Center in Austin, part of the University of Texas.

The Indian woman, Institute researchers say, ate lizards, insects, spiders and occasionally rabbits, deer and rats. But, more often, her diet consisted of fibrous desert plants like lechuguilla and sotol leaves, or the fruit of the prickly pear. They were baked or roasted over coals. For variety she had persimmon and wild walnuts.

She is believed to have been a member of a small nomadic band that roamed the countryside hunting, fishing and gathering seeds, fruits and plants. She was also probably a member of a typical tribal group that consisted of mother, father, children and grand parents.

And she had to travel by foot. Oxen were unknown, and horses had not yet been brought to Texas by the Spaniards.

Her home changed with the seasons. But she usually lived in a cave or in the shade of a river bank.

Upon her death from natural causes, she was buried in a pit, two feet in diameter and a foot and a half deep, dug in ash-filled soil.

They filled the pit with long-stemmed grass and wrapped her in a rabbit fur blanket. Mountain laurel were draped on her chest. Then she was covered with a layer of grass, checker-weave mat of sotol fibers and burned limestone rocks.

Her body was so well preserved by the heat from cook fires built several months after her death and by the dryness of the climate that part of her brain, viscera and muscles still remained. They are currently under analysis in an Austin laboratory, where tests are being run to determine what she ate for her last meal and the season of her death.

Her final resting place was in a large cave high up on a canyon wall.

RESEARCH ASSOCIATE DIANE JOHNSON closely examines a recently discovered Indian burial, a new exhibit on which she worked at the Institute of Texan Cultures in San Antonio. The burial contained the skeleton of an Indian woman buried some 2,000 years ago.

Texas Waters Yield Fish Records

Texas' fresh waters have yielded some world-record fish on rods and reels, according to figures compiled by Field and Stream magazine and the American Museum of Natural History.

The record holders are a 279-pound alligator gar caught in the Rio Grande in 1951 and a 50-pound, five-ounce long nose gar caught in the Trinity River in 1954.

In case you are wondering if that "granddaddy" fish you caught the other day is a record, here is a "word-record" list of fish commonly found in Texas.

Largemouth Bass - 22 pounds, four ounces, caught in 1932 in Montgomery Lake, Ga.

Bluegill - four pounds, 12 ounces, caught in 1950 in Ketona Lake, Ala.

Carp - 55 pounds, five ounces, caught in 1952 in Clearwater Lake, Minn.

Carp - 55 pounds, five ounces, caught in 1950 in Ketona, Lake, Ala.

Blue Catfish - 97 pounds, caught in 1959 in Missouri River, S. D.

Channel Catfish - 53 pounds, caught in 1964 in Santee-Cooper Reservoir, S. C.

Black Crappie - five pounds, caught in 1957 in Santee-Cooper Reservoir, S. C.

White Crappie - five pounds, three ounces, caught in 1957 in Enid Dam, Miss.

Redear Sunfish - two pounds, 15 ounces, caught in 1965 in Ponte Verda Beach, Fla.

And in case you're going after the newly stocked walleye in the Meredith Lake, you must exceed the record of 25 pounds, caught in 1960 in Old Hickory Lake, Tenn.

Field and Stream lists the record white bass as five pounds, four ounces caught in 1966 in Toronto, Kansas. They must not have received word of the bass caught in the Colorado River just below Longhorn Dam in Austin, in 1963. It weighed five pounds, four and one-fourth ounces on certified scales before witnesses.

Cancer Society Presents Program At Lions Club

Mrs. Alvis Johnson told Downtown Lions recently that the Sutton County chapter of the American Cancer Society had a goal of $2,200 when the drive gets underway in April. She expressed appreciation for the Lions cooperation with the cancer society, then introduced Dr. C. F. Browne, a director in the state organization.

Dr. Browne reported on the recent measles vaccination program, estimating that from 80 to 90 percent of children 12 and under had been vaccinated against measles. He said this program was aimed at low-income groups and said the success of the program prompted him to hope that other programs, such as small-pox immunization, would be carried out soon.

Dr. Browne listed the three phases of the ACS as being educational, research and service. He said that older groups of school children had formerly been the target of education on smoking, but that recent studies had shown that education should be aimed at children 10 and under, before smoking is started.

In examining the causes of the deaths in Sutton County over the past year Dr. Browne said 6 were listed as being caused from accidents; 9, heart disease; 6, vascular disease; 1, lung disease; 7, cancer; and 6, infection. He said several years ago the causes would be mostly heart disease and cancer, with infection by far the greater cause of death.

Roger Spiller of San Angelo finished the program with a short film made by the American Cancer Society.

You Wouldn't Attend A Wedding Without an Invitation

. . . on the other hand
Folks DO visit stores that use advertising to invite shoppers to come in.

Successful stores that want your business

1. Have an assortment of merchandise that is wanted or needed
2. Have courteous, helpful salespeople
3. Invite you to come in, inform you of their wares Through Advertising

Each week a number of progressive merchants use the pages of this paper to extend you an invitation to come in and look over their wares. These merchants SEEK your business. In return all they ask is that you come in and see what they have to offer. It is a pretty safe bet that the merchant who goes to the trouble to INVITE you in will treat you right when you accept his invitation.

Our turkeys are back, and the birds and the bees, and flowers, and such. SPRING IS HERE!!! And that's for sure. Saturday afternoon we had close to sixty golfers. To say the least, we were crowded, but on the whole, I don't think anyone minded too much, it was such a beautiful day.

—GN—

Another sure sign of spring, is the number of things left at the lost and found department in the pro shop. If anyone is missing anything in the way of clubs, club covers, gloves, or even glasses, just talk to Lester Archer, maybe he'll have it.

Hix Hall was bridge winner again this week. You know he is the outgoingest slam bidder you ever did see!

Proclamation

The President of the United States, by direction of an Act of Congress, and the Governor of our State of Texas have proclaimed April as Cancer Control Month.

The magnitude of the problem of cancer needs to be recognized here in our community, for if the present rate continues, one out of every four persons will be struck by cancer—almost every family in our city will have experience with this dread disease. Expanded research offers the prospect of new cures and possible new preventive measures, but increased voluntary support of American Cancer Society programs is needed to help save more lives today and to increase the prospect of eventually saving all lives from cancer.

In this coming month, our associates and friends here in Sonora will carry on the crusade, visiting you in your homes, and distributing information through pamphlets and discussions.

The funds you give as voluntary contributions collected and distributed by volunteer workers represent community spirit at work—citizens of our city joining forces with other Americans to combat and defeat cancer.

Therefore I urge the citizens of Sonora to participate in the activities of Cancer Control Month.

In official recognition whereof I hereby affix my signature this 1st day of April, 1969.

A. E. Prugel, Mayor, City of Sonora

L. Powers Named District Foreman

Louis Powers will serve as District Foreman in Area V for the 1969 West Texas Boys Ranch Round-Up. Counties in the area include Crockett, Sutton and Val Verde.

Powers said Buck Owens of Crockett, Bud Whitehead of Sutton and John D. Finegan of Val Verde will serve as Wagon Boss in each of the three counties named.

The round-up is held annually to obtain livestock for the ranch in San Angelo, and the event this year will begin with a kick-off barbecue at the Boys Ranch April 19, at 11 a.m.

DAVID WUEST took medalist honors with an 82 in the 18-hole District 8-A golf championship March 31. Sonora Broncos won with a total of 325. Other "A" team members playing included Ed Lee Renfro, Steve Thorp, Jesso Cook, and Dick Hamilton.

Broncos Win Golf Crown 8-A Play

Host Sonora Broncos walked away with the District 8-A golf championship March 31, with a four-man total of 335.

Playing on the "A" team were Ed Lee Renfro, Steve Thorp, David Wuest, Jesso Cook, and Dick Hamilton. Wuest took medalist honors with an 8 in the 18-hole event at the Sonora Golf Course. A tie for second place developed between Cook and Hamilton, both with 83's.

The Sonora B finished second in team totals with 378. Players were Tony Renfro, 93, Roger Langford, 95, Gene Thompson, 95, and Gene Trainer, 95.

Menard finished third with 410 and Eldorado was fourth place winner with a total of 424 points.

Ricky Hill, Mike Dillard and Sandy Matthews from Mason, played in the singles division.
