JUDGING OF LIVESTOCK got underway Wednesday morning for contestants entered in the thirty-second annual wool and mohair show. Scheduled to follow this event was range and wool and mohair judging set for Wednesday afternoon. A tour of the Caverns of Sonora and a swim at the municipal pool were to conclude the day. Thursday's program begins with the National 4-H Wool Judging Contest and concludes with an awards luncheon at the 4-H Center.

School Hires McAllister As New Superintendent

Armer Earwood, president of the Board of Trustees, announced that Ken C. McAllister of Sanderson has accepted the position of superintendent of the Sonora Independent School District, and will assume the duties of the office July 1. He and his wife, Charlotte, and daughter, Carol, 12, will move here in the near future.

KEN C. McALLISTER

McAllister replaces Ralph J. Finklea Jr., who has been employed in the local schools since 1955. Finklea served as principal of Central Elementary School from 1958 to 1967, when he replaced Rex W. Lowe as superintendent of the schools. Finklea presented his resignation to the Board in March of this year.

Lowe began in Sonora Schools in 1946, and accepted the position of superintendent in 1958, after the death of E. A. Brodhead. In January, 1967, he resigned to accept a position as principal in the San Angelo school system.

Finklea earned both his bachelor and master's degrees from the University of Texas at Austin. He and his wife, Anne, and their children, Peter and April, will move to Austin, where he will be employed in the schools.

SCHOOL BOARD MEETS
McAllister met with board members in a meeting Monday, at 4 p.m. to accept the position of superintendent, subject to the board at Sanderson accepting his resignation, which they did at a meeting Monday night.

McAllister, 50, holds a Master of Arts degree from Sul Ross

College, now Sul Ross University, and a BBA from Lake Forest College in Illinois. Texas certifies he holds include life, elementary, secondary, principal, and superintendent.

He holds professional membership in several organizations including TSTA and P-TA. He and his family are members of the Methodist Church. Besides their daughter, Carol, they have a son, Ken, who is teaching and coaching in Snyder High School.

His professional experience includes four years as superintendent of Sanderson Schools; eight years as high school principal in Fort Stockton; four years in Alpine School as elementary and junior high principal, teacher and coach. He has had additional experience as coach in college, elementary, and secondary schools.

GARDNERS RESIGN
Among other business conducted at the board meeting, the resignations of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Gardner were accepted. Gardner, has been employed as principal of L. W. Elliott school, and Mrs. Gardner taught in Central Elementary school. The positions have not been filled at this time.

John Miller, 44 Apparent Heart Attack Victim

Services were held at the Presbyterian Church of the Good Shepherd at 2 p.m. June 7, for John L. Miller, 44. Mr. Miller a livestock broker, died at his home Friday, June 6, about 7:30 a.m., apparently of a heart attack.

He was born February 27, 1925 in Mason County. He had been a resident here for the past 10 years, and was married to Suzie Linthicum in 1963. He was a veteran of World War II, serving in the United States Navy, and was a member of the local E.L.K.s Lodge.

Survivors other than his wife include a son, Craig Miller of Llano; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Miller of Llano, and a sister, Mrs. Fred Osborn.

Burial was in Union Band Cemetery in Llano County. Ratliff-Kerbow Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

The Rev. Homer C. Akers, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, officiated, and cousins served as pallbearers.

Mrs. M. Martinez Services Held

Mrs. Marina Martinez, 74, who had lived here for over sixty years, died in Shannon Hospital at San Angelo, June 5, 1969, after an illness.

Mrs. Martinez was born July 18, 1895 in Bracketville. Services were held at St. Ann's Catholic Church at 1 p.m., June 7, with the Rev. Michael Fernandez, officiating.

Survivors include three sons, Shon Martinez, Apelarado Martinez, and Gilbert Martinez; two daughters, Rejua Castillija and Emma Martinez; 27 grandchildren, and 15 great-grandchildren, and a sister, Mrs. T. Sanchez.

Burial was in Sonora Cemetery. Ratliff-Kerbow Funeral Home directed the services.

CINDERS

By John T. King

For those of us who get bogged down in details here's a bit of wit and wisdom from the Texas outlook:

A newly-hired traveling salesman wrote his first report to the home office. It stunned the brass in the sales department because it was obvious the new man was almost completely illiterate. Here is what he wrote:

"Dere Bos—

I seen this outfit which ain't never bot a dimes worth of nothing from us and I sole them a couple humerd thousands dollars of guds. I am now going to Chicawgo."

Before the illiterate could be given the old heave-ho by the sales manager, this letter came from Chicago:

"I cum hear and sole them a haff a millyon."

Fearful if he did, and fearful if he didn't fire the illiterate, the sales manager dumped the problem in the lap of the president.

The following morning the ivory tower members were amazed to see the two letters posted on the bulletin board—and this memo from the president above:

"We ben spending two much time trying to spel insted of trying to sel. Let's watch thoes salls. I want everybody shud reed these letters from Gooch, who is on the road doin a grate job for us, and you shud go out and do like he done."

Westside Lions Install Officers

Sonora Westside Lions Club held installation of officers at the regular meeting which was held June 10, at the Commercial Cafe.

Richard Perez was installed as president of the organization; Alex Gonzales, 1st vice president; Teo Castro, 2nd vice president; Rodrigo Santos, 3rd vice president; Robert Duran, secretary-treasurer; Arturo Trevino, lion tamer, and Abelino Sanchez Jr., tail twister.

Santos Lopez and Ernest Castro were installed as two-year directors, and Claude Flores and Trinidad Ramirez will serve as one-year directors.

Norman Roussetot served as installing officer.

John Weston To Pastor The Methodist Church

The Rev. and Mrs. John W. Weston and family came here last week from Luling, and the Rev. Mr. Weston took over the duties as pastor of the First United Methodist Church.

He is a graduate of Hondo High School. He attended Southwestern University at Georgetown; received a Bachelor of Arts degree from Texas University, and a Bachelor of Divinity degree from Perkins School of Theology, Southern Methodist University of Dallas. He served as associate in Central Congregational Church in Dallas while attending seminary. The Rev. Mr. Weston was licensed to preach in May, 1945.

The family spent four years in Lometa, three years in Portland, five years in Donna, and had lived in Luling for the past four years.

His wife, Shirley, is a native of Mexia. Their children are John Mark, 14; Carol Ann, 13; James Scott, 11; Jeffery Paul, 9, and Susan Kay, 5.

Felipe Galindo Services Held

Mr. Felipe Cisneros Galindo, 70, died June 3, 1969, at 5 a.m. He was born in Del Rio, May 26, 1899, and had lived here since 1912. He worked on ranches in the area, and worked for the late Mrs. Ella Wallace over 30 years.

Services were held at St. Ann's Catholic Church June 4, with the Rev. Michael Fernandez officiating. Burial was in Sonora Cemetery, with Ratliff-Kerbow Funeral Home in charge of the services.

Survivors include his wife, Maria Flores Galindo, one daughter, Aurora G. Lopez, and two grandchildren.

Petitions Open For School Aid Plan

All Sonora High School graduates who plan to apply for a Sutton County Educational Trust Loan should go by the First National Bank and obtain applications for completion, according to high school principal, David J. Williams.

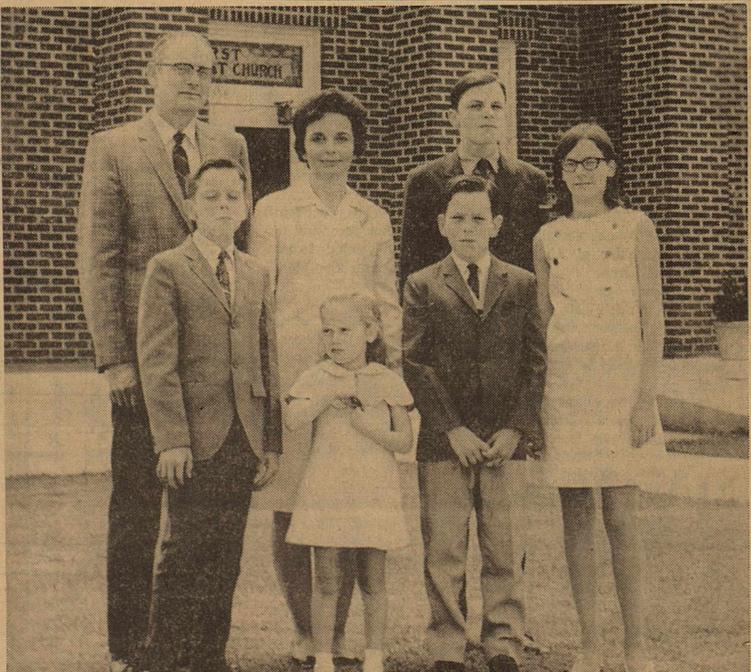

Williams added that this should be done soon, and if a student desires more information he should feel free to visit the principal.

Applicants will meet with the advisory committee in the school superintendent's office July 8, at 10 a.m. for final approval.

CITY POPULATION increases by seven with the arrival of the John M. Weston family from Luling, last week. The Rev. Mr. Weston conducted his first service at the First Methodist Church last Sunday, after the family arrived here Friday. Pictured here in front of the church are the Rev. Mr. Weston, his wife, Shirley, and their oldest son, John Mark, 14. The other children are James Scott, 11; Susan Kay, 5; Jeffery Paul, 9, and Carrol Ann, 13.

THE REV. Henry Clay T. Puckett, former owner and publisher of the Devil's River News, has been awarded a Fellowship in Continuing Education by Virginia Theological Seminary at Alexandria. The Rev. Mr. Puckett is rector of St. Mark's Church in Houston. Mr. Puckett is one of six Episcopal clergymen selected in the Continental United States to be made a Fellow for the 1969 Spring term.

County and City Commissioners Meet Jointly

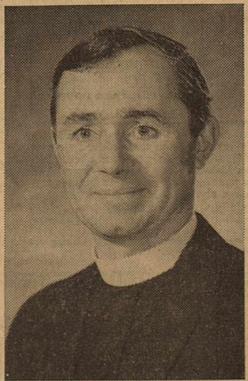

County and city commissioners met briefly Monday, to discuss problems common to both groups. A joint meeting is planned for 9 a.m. Monday, June 16, to further pursue the subjects under discussion.

At the regularly scheduled meeting of county commissioners Collier Shurley, R. L. Hardgrave, Preston Love, and Estes Adams, and county judge J. W. Elliott, routine business matters were discussed and payment of accounts approved.

Sitting in also were county clerk Mrs. Erma Lee Turner and county road superintendent, E. L. Harrell, who talked about road conditions in the county.

Prugel, who served as mayor of Sonora for 9 years, has been manager of the Federal Land Bank Association of Sonora 25 years. The association serves Sutton, Crockett and Schleicher Counties. He joined the Lions Club when he was county agent of Schleicher County in 1942.

The district governor elected at Big Spring will head up the Lions of the district, helping them solve problems and set goals. Installation will be in Tokyo where Lions International will meet July 2-6.

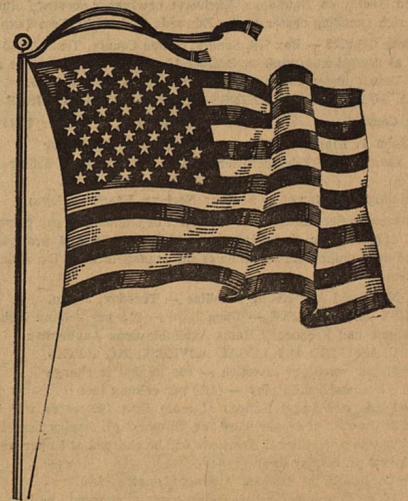

THE REV. Stuart F. Firnhaber was ordained into the ministry of Christ's Church and installed as pastor of Hope Lutheran Church and Faith Lutheran Church of Ozona, June 8 at 7:30 p.m. The Rev. Carl A. Heckmann, president of the Texas District of the Lutheran Church, Missouri Synod performed the Rite of Ordination.

A. E. PRUGEL

H. V. (Buzzy) Stokes is the only other Sonoran to serve as district governor. He served in the 1930's.

Prugel's former job as secretary-treasurer of the Sonora Lions Club will end after June 30, when E. B. Keng takes over the job.

OLD GLORY!

SHOW YOUR TRUE COLORS—fly Old Glory Saturday, June 14, Flag Day. Our flag, the symbol of all that we believe in, should be displayed proudly on this day as we once again recall our pledge of allegiance to "the flag of the United States of America, and to the Republic, for which it stands, one Nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

Higher Education Could Face Collapse

Higher education is threatened with collapse. That is the only conclusion that a great many people feel can be drawn from events that have accompanied campus disorders. Their feeling is buttressed by a single paragraph from an article in the National Observer on the question of whether university facilities can handle the rising state of anarchy that is taking over the nation's campuses.

when I'm through.' Half an hour later, Dr. Perkins got to his feet and described the week's events at Cornell as 'the most constructive move' the university has ever taken.' The spectacle of a college president forced to sit on the floor in object submission while enduring the insults of "students" will strike many as unrelated to anything that could be called a "constructive move." On the contrary, the stark facts as related by the Observer have a night-marish quality. They place a U.S. college president in the position of a defector in a dictatorship-ridden country. Other events summarized in the National Observer article include armed seizure of university buildings, not only at Cornell, but elsewhere. At Harvard, as at Columbia University, pictures have shown almost unbelievable scenes of mobs occupying the offices of college officials. Often, according to press reports, faculty members join the striking students. Frequently, it starts out as a revolt of a few dissenters and snowballs into a mass meeting of thousands and closure of classrooms. One of the most puzzling features of the disorders is a lack of clear response to the most flagrant acts of violence. In the case of Cornell, according to The National Observer, university administrators acceded to demands of dissenters after Cornell was given just "three hours to live."

HEALTH & SAFETY

Mainly for Mothers

by Carol Hart

Open Doors Can Be Hazardous

Sometimes it takes a smashed finger or a crack on the head to remind us that doors are meant to be shut as well as opened.

To help prevent such accidents from happening to you and your family, the Council on Family Health suggests a "door tour" of your home. The Council is a non-profit organization sponsored as a public service by leading members of the drug industry, to promote home safety and family health.

Start with cabinet doors, not only because they are the most numerous in a home, but because they are in areas where Mom spends so much of her time. There are cabinets high and low in the kitchen, utility room, basement, storage room, home workshop and bathroom.

Eye level cabinet doors can be particularly hazardous if left open. Painful and serious face and head injuries can result to the person who stands up suddenly under the corner of a cabinet door.

An open door on a medicine chest, paint locker or household chemical storage cabinet presents an additional hazard. A toddler, seeing it open, may investigate. In that case you may have an accidental poisoning to deal with.

It's the unexpectedly open door that causes many accidents. Did you ever run into an open closet door? Many face injuries happen this way. If there are pre-school youngsters at home, watch out for open cellar doors, and doors that lead to the street.

Fingers seem to be particularly vulnerable to injury by doors, but a little extra attention can help prevent this. When a child is around, be careful how you close doors. Little children tend to put their fingers on the hinged side of a door. When closing the door of an appliance such as a refrigerator, freezer, oven, washer or dryer, grasp the door by the handle and not by the edge.

Adam Powell, who a little more than two years ago was denied a seat in Congress after a committee found he had misapplied $40,000 of federal money which had been entrusted to him as chairman of a committee, was in his glory at the Washington National Cathedral last week where his son, Adam III, was married to a descendant of Miles Standish, a Miss Beryl Slocum. The match had the blessing of the bride's wealthy parents, the John Slocums.

The papers reported that the elder Adam stole the show, surrounded by Drew Pearson, diplomats and tittering socialites. One guest, according to a reporter, was Mrs. Hugh D. Auchincloss, who waited patiently for her chance to "pluck at Adam's robed sleeve and tell him she was the mother of the former Jacqueline Kennedy."

An observer suggested that maybe the Slocums, apparently proud of their new family connections, might just fork over the remaining amount the Harlem Congressman owes the American taxpayers.

This wedding served to focus on the trend toward amalgamation of the races, which some geneticists insist tends to downgrade the quality of the offspring.

It will be recalled that only a year ago a daughter of then Secretary of State Dean Rusk, amid raised eyebrows, married a Negro.

Another example of the trend was disclosed last summer when a Washington Post columnist reported that Kathy Harris, daughter of a U.S. Senator from Oklahoma who is also chairman of the Democratic National Committee, admitted she dated Negro boys, "and would marry one if she really loved him."

And so it goes. It's a matter of taste, there is consolation in the fact these are undoubtedly isolated instances. Pride of race should prevent many recurrences of this unfortunate trend.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS
BY VEEN SANFORD

Facts of interest to outdoorsmen:
You nearly always see turtles in water or in dead stumps or tree limbs extending out over the water. But they lay their eggs in the sand on the shore or beach.

It is interesting to watch chipmunks gather food. This tiny little animal, about six inches long, can carry a tremendous amount of food in the pouch of its elastic cheek.

The horseshoe crab is classified as a true living fossil. It crawls around on the beaches and in the edge of the water. But it has been found on the ocean floor at times indicating 400 million years as a true living fossil.

Flounders are plentiful along the Texas coast, but none are as large as the 21-pounder caught in Chile, said to be the largest on record.

Texas has splendid pronghorn antelope range. But according to license reports Wyoming issues more permits than any other state in the Union.

Reason Texas and other Central Flyway states have an early teal season is that teal migrate south ahead of other waterfowl.

South Texas bobcats have much smaller paws than the Canadian lynx, which often must tread on snow.

Little frogs are subject to great predation. They are eaten by fish in the water, animals on land, and birds from the treetops.

The ant is a good neighbor—for other ants. It has two stomachs, one for storing its own food and the other for storing food it shares with other ants.

He Has Scientific Proposal To Find Out If The Moon Can Support Life

Editor's note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his bitterweed ranch on Dry Devil's River thinks he has a method of finding out if life is possible on the moon, his letter this week claims.

Dear editor:
Like nearly everybody else I guess I followed the astronauts to the moon recently and am now convinced we can actually put a man on it this summer if the money doesn't run out, but a phase of the project has been bothering me since I read an item in a newspaper day before yesterday.

According to it, great precautions are going to be taken to keep the moon-landing astronauts from picking up possible moon germs and bringing them back to earth. When they get back with their 30-billion dollars worth of rocks and soil samples, the astronauts as I understand it, as soon as they splash down in the ocean, will be sealed with their loot inside of germ-proof bags and, untouched by human hands, flown to their base and let out in a germ-proof room for a few weeks, so that if any moon germs have been picked up they'll die before they get a chance to take hold on earth.

This is no doubt a good idea, certainly we've got all the germs we need on earth now, but I was just thinking: What precautions are we taking not to get any earth germs started on the moon?

Here we've got an unspoiled object that's been floating around up there for centuries and you let an astronaut with a head cold step out and the first rattle out of the box sneezes, and the moon will never again be the same. Of course, if there's no life on the moon and no possibility of any, then no harm will be done, but how do we know something can't grow up there?

This is a question that ought to be answered and I'm proposing a scientific experiment to find out.

All the space scientists have to do is shoot a small rocket full of bitterweed seed up there, and if that stuff doesn't take root and grow in 30 days, you know the moon is eternally barren.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

It's No Secret
It has been said that some folks keep a "secret" by refusing to tell you who told the tale to them!
But, let's face it. Most of us are twice as interested in hearing something "hush-hush" than we are having someone tell us what they read in the newspaper. We have usually read the news in the paper ourselves.
And, as a general rule, we all have someone that we trust enough to pass along whatever piece of news we happen to get from someone else.
There's nothing so really bad about telling a "secret" or two now and then, so long as we stick to the facts, as we know them, without adding a little spice of our own.
Some things you just can't keep a secret. No need to fry. Like the savings most folks realize by doing their buying and trading in the local community. Word like that gets around.
We don't think we let the cat out of the bag, if you have done business locally, this is something you already know.

Hammond-Richardson Marriage Rites Held In Clovis, New Mexico, May 31

Saturday, May 31, at 7:30 p.m. Martha Hammond, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Ross Hammond, Jr. became the bride of Jimmy Frank Richardson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hugh Richardson. The double ring ceremony was performed by Dr. Stanley Letcher, Jr. in the Central Christian Church at Clovis, New Mexico, before an altar centered by a white prie dieu garlanded with killean daises and ivy.

The background was formed by an arched and spiraled candelabra holding lime green tapers centered by a pedestal arrangement of the daisies, white gladioli, and emerald foliage flanked by two nine branched candelabra holding matching flowers. Numerous candelabra decorated with emerald foliage were interspersed throughout.

Mrs. Jerry Roberts played pre-nuptial music, and accompanied Nathan Hetch as he sang "The 12th of Never". Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a modified cage of candlelight peau satin, re-embroidered lace encrusted with seed pearls and tiny crystal beads encircled the bodice, with the motif repeated at the wrist of the long sleeves, at the base of the floor length skirt, and on each corner of the chapel train which was attached beneath a bow in the back. The bride's candlelight veil of french illusion was attached to a headpiece fashioned of small petal shapes of lace and organza and decorated with seed pearls and iridescent crystals. Her bouquet was a cascade arrangement of stephanotis and white phalaenopsis orchids accented with miniature ivy.

Maid of honor was Miss Phyllis Stanush of Pleasanton, college roommate of the bride. Brides-matron was Mrs. E. W. Turner, sister of the bride, and bridesmaids were Leigh and Kim Hammond, also sisters. Their gowns were lime green empire styled dresses with the elbow length sleeves ending in a wide white lace ruffle. A wide bow in the back topped a full, gathered insert. The attendants carried nosegays of white margarine daisies circled with lime green maline, from which fell lime green velvet streamers.

Serving as best man was Zane Powers. Groomsmen were Bob Moorhouse, Benjamin; Pat Dail, Eden, and Buck Bloodworth. Ushers were Bill Karnes, Libb Wallace, Bert Bloodworth, and Danny Berry of Lovington, New Mexico. Mrs. Hammond, mother of the bride, wore a pink silk dress with pink accessories and Mrs. Richardson, mother of the bridegroom, blue accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of white cymbidium orchids. Guests were received for the reception at the Holiday Inn immediately following the wedding ceremony. Assisting with the reception were Mrs. George Hammond, Mrs. Andy King, Mrs. Bob Spencer, Mrs. Dean Merritt, Mrs. M. D. McCleskey, and Mrs. Bill Stone of Clovis. Mrs. Lynn Blair presided at the guest book.

Mr. and Mrs. Richardson have returned to school at Sul Ross University, Alpine where both are senior students. Richardson is a 1963 graduate of Sonora High School.

REHEARSAL DINNER
Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hugh Richardson hosted the rehearsal dinner Friday, May 30, at the Holiday Inn Restaurant in Clovis, New Mexico.

Saint Ann's Recaps

By Monica Davis

St. Ann's new church building project is coming right along. We hope to be able to start on the rock work this week—we can hardly wait.

The Holy Name Society had their monthly Mass and Communion Sunday, June 8. A meeting was held immediately after Mass. It was decided that Father's Day would be a good day for father to get away from it all, so a Father's Day dinner has been planned for this Sunday. Dinner will be served from noon until three o'clock. All you kids be sure and bring Dad to St. Ann's. A Mexican plate will be served with each dollar donation. Two prizes will also be awarded—one to the youngest father, and one to the oldest.

After the dinner, there will be an official installation of the two candidates for the Septemberazaar, to be celebrated September 14. A short program will follow to honor the future king and queen—the boys are getting in on the act, too.

Father Michael Fernandez extends an invitation to each and everyone in Sutton County. Be seeing you there.

Hudspeth Hospital Auxiliary Group Has June Meet

A balance of $544.99, was reported for Lillian M. Hudspeth Hospital Auxiliary by the treasurer's report at a meeting held in the Sonora Woman's Club building last week.

Officers for the 1969-70 year include Mrs. Alvis Johnson, president, Mrs. Robert Hardgrave, vice president, Mrs. C. W. Taylor, secretary, Mrs. Albert Everett, treasurer, and Mrs. Clift M. Epps, recording secretary.

The Rev. Ross T. Welch installed officers and presented each with a pink carnation corsage. Some of the discussions held at the meeting included the possibility of investigating the Gray Ladies Program and its adaptability to the local hospital, and also the limited paying of nurses' care for a very ill person, who could not otherwise afford nurses' care. The amount would be limited to $100 and financed by gifts to a special fund, according to Mrs. Johnson.

Auxiliary members voted to postpone summer meetings during the months of July and August. The next scheduled meeting will be held September 8 at the woman's clubhouse.

Insecticides Used To Control Houses Pests

There is no need to turn the home and lawn over to ants this summer. These pests can be effectively controlled, advises County Agent D. C. Langford.

Chlordane and dieldrin are among the most effective insecticides for use against ants. They should be applied along window and door sills, foundation cracks, baseboards and other runways used by ants, says Langford.

Find and destroy nests. They may be behind walls, in closets, in furniture and other dark undisturbed places.

Inside the home ants can be controlled by applying 2-3 percent chlordane or 5 percent dieldrin sprays. These materials may also be applied with a brush. Repeat the application if needed, suggests the county agent.

Outside the home apply a band of insecticidal dust or spray around the foundation wall and treat all nests in the yard. A 10 percent chlordane, 2 percent dieldrin or 5 percent heptachlor dust is effective. Granular formulations of these materials are also available and are convenient to use.

Detailed information on controlling household insects is available for the asking at the offices of the county agent.

VanderStuckens To Be Honored By Scout Council

The Board of Directors of the El Camino Girl Scout Council are honoring Mr. and Mrs. Joseph VanderStucken with a marker dedication ceremony at Camp Jo Jan Van near Vance.

Camp Jo Jan Van is situated on land donated several years ago to the Girl Scouts by the VanderStuckens, and it has been widely used for scouting purposes.

The program to be held June 14 at 11 a.m., includes flag ceremony at 11:15 a.m., the dedication ceremony at 11:30, picnic at 12 noon, and camp open house at 1 p.m.

TAKING TIME OUT for refreshments at the First Baptist Church are this group of youngsters and helpers. In the foreground are Nicola Thorn, Lucy Morriss, Linda Smith, and Randy Gillit. Mrs. Wallas Renfro, Sharon Johns, and Shelley Morriss, some of those who helped with the school, are shown in the background. The school was conducted June 2 through June 6, with graduation exercises held at the church Friday at 7:30 p.m.

GREEN NEWS

By Monica Davis

Ye old golf course looked kinda lonesome this past weekend. Several of our golfers were in Ozona for Ozona's big partnership tournament. J. W. Neville and George Johnson won second place in the Presidential Flight after a three hole play-off. Clayton Hamilton and Doyle Morgan won second place in the first flight. Some of our other members attending were Jerry Hopkins, Jo Hardgrave (Jo won a ball for hitting in the circle), Bob Snodgrass, Norm Rousselot, Batts Friend and Dennie Hays. We missed you all, but we know you had a ball.

The bridge players did manage to get out to the Club house, tho, and had their usual 'blood letting' game. Muriel Brown was winner this week by a large margin.

Say Tony Renfro, I wish you would give me some lessons on how to hit that little white pill. Anyone who can birdie number 7 luncheon day, and also election day; so everybody try to be there for the big election.

Sunday, June 22, the men will have their four man team, point system tournament. It will be for local members, and a one day play.

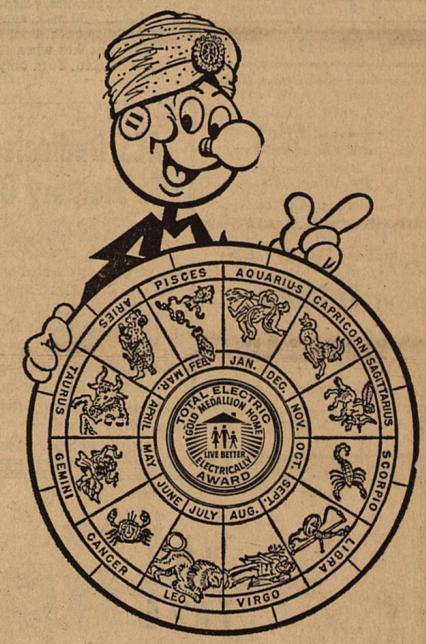

For moist, chewy Brownies, add 1/2 cup apple sauce to your favorite recipe and increase flour by 1/4 cup.

Spicy Pancakes For Breakfast Variety

Traditionally little girls acquire their sweet dispositions from "sugar and spice and everything nice." But an occasional dash of lemon adds variety. Serve these Lemon-Spice Pancakes to little girls, big girls, men and boys for sunny smiles all around the breakfast table.

The freshness of grated lemon peel and the gentle spice of cinnamon and nutmeg combine to give the pancakes a flavor lift. Served with sweet, fluffy honey butter, they're guaranteed breakfast winners! Easy pancake mix preparation gives you a lift, too; convenience and dependability contribute to your own "sugar and spice" feeling.

LEMON-SPICE PANCAKES

Makes 8 servings

- Honey Butter:
 1/2 cup butter or margarine, soft
 1/2 cup honey
- Pancakes:
 2 cups pancake mix
 2 teaspoons grated lemon peel
 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
 2 cups milk
 2 eggs
 2 tablespoons melted or liquid shortening

For honey butter, beat butter until creamy. Gradually add honey, beating constantly.

For pancakes, place mix, lemon peel, cinnamon and nutmeg in bowl. Add milk, eggs and shortening. Stir lightly until batter is fairly smooth. Pour batter onto hot, lightly greased griddle. Turn pancakes when tops are covered with bubbles and edges look cooked. Turn only once. Serve with honey butter.

A Bishop Looks At Life -- Bangkok

A Bishop Looks At Life
By Everett H. Jones, Retired Bishop of The Episcopal Church

A SMILING WELCOME
Bangkok — Most Americans have their impressions of this country from "The King and I," the brilliant musical play by Richard Rogers and Oscar Hammerstein II, later made into a motion picture starring Deborah Kerr and Yul Brynner. (Interestingly enough, the movie has never been allowed in this country, as Brynner's bald head and exposed torso are considered to be lacking in proper respect for the King.)

The play and the picture were inspired by the book, "Anna and the King of Siam" by Margaret Landon. Mrs. Landon spent over ten years in Siam gathering data for this account of the remarkable English widow, Anna Leonowens, who came to the court of King Mongkut in 1862 as a teacher for his many children and concubines. (This old name "Siam" means "Land of Gold," whereas the new name "Thailand" means "Free Land," stressing the abolition of slavery and growth of democracy.)

In at least two respects, the play and the picture are somewhat misleading. In these versions, the King is presented as a person often cruel and insensitive. The present King, His Majesty Bhumidol Adulyadej, who has just celebrated the 19th anniversary of his coronation, was born in Cambridge, Mass., in 1927, while his father was a student there. He is loved and venerating almost to the point of worship. He is a strong and intelligent leader. His eldest daughter has been accepted as a student at M.I.T., where she will major in physics.

The other impression needing correction is that this country has fear and suspicion toward foreigners. This is no longer true. Nowhere have we found such warm friendliness, especially toward Americans. While Bangkok is a city of three million persons, it has the personal kindness of a small town. Whether on the city streets or along the "klongs" (canals) of the Choa River, the Thai people are eager to give a smiling welcome to their thousands of visitors.

The work of the international friendship begun by Anna Leonowens a century ago has been amazingly successful.

Add a couple of ripe bananas—thin sliced—to hotcake batter. Especially good with maple or cane syrup.

ACS Dedicates Annual June Meeting To Memory Of Mrs. Doc (Elva) Rape

The annual meeting of Sutton County unit of American Cancer Society was dedicated to the memory of Mrs. Elva Rape, when the group met June 2 at 7:30 p.m. at St. John's Parish House.

Mrs. Alvis Johnson, president, presided at the meeting and the invocation was given by the Rev. Stuart Firmhaber, pastor of Hope Lutheran Church.

Reports of the treasurer, Mrs.

Dorothy Baker, and the secretary, Mrs. Alice Jones, as well as the report of memorial chairman, Mrs. Joe Hull were given. Mrs. Hull reported from September, 1968, to May 1969, a total of $1007 had been given with $428, sent to Austin.

Mrs. Ben Cusenbary, vice president, reported on district meeting attendance and on cancer reduction projects. Persons contacted this year through talks and films shown to various groups and in school number 1317.

In Mrs. Johnson's annual report to the membership, she told of attendance at annual and crusade meetings; she expressed thanks to John King for publicity given in the newspaper, and she expressed special appreciation for the work done by Mrs. Rape, service chairman.

Dr. Charles F. Browne stressed in the medical report that help is available for known cancer patients from the State organizations, and that early detection is needed for cures.

Since 1953 Sutton County has extended its quota for each year and has "bettered our best" in 11 consecutive years.

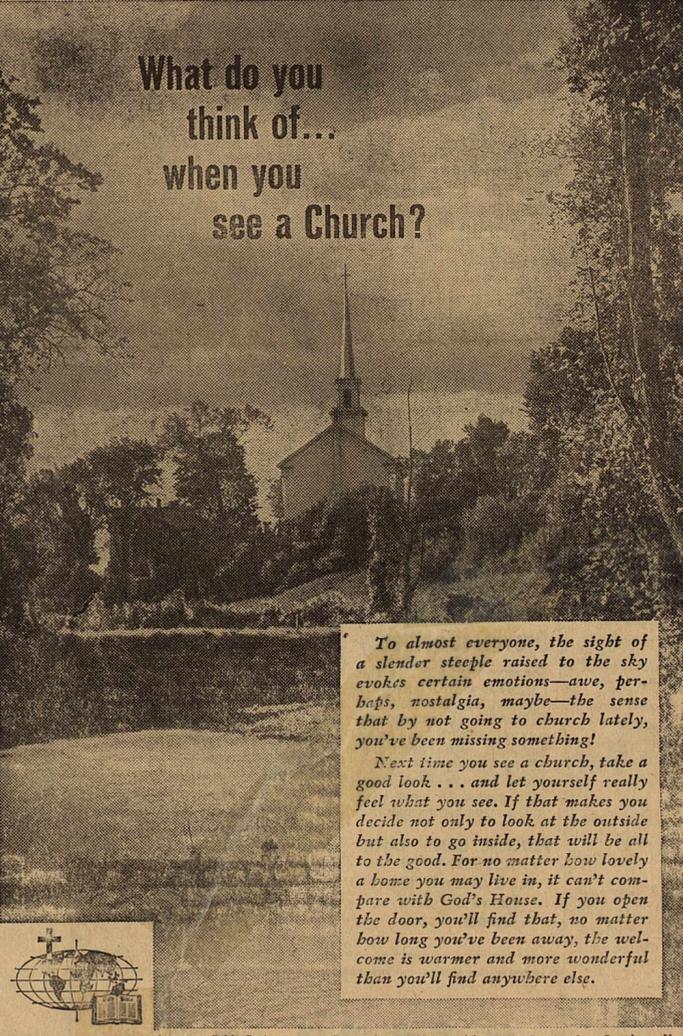

Elected as delegates to the district meeting in June were Dr. Browne, Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Cusenbary, and Mrs. Myrtle Sellman.

In order to pay homage and honor to Mrs. Rape, Dr. Browne then dedicated the annual meeting to her memory. Mrs. Rape had worked with the ACS for 16 years. A resolution dedicated to the memory of Mrs. Rape was prepared by District 4, Texas division of ACS. This resolution was read by Dr. Browne, and was then presented to members of the family.

Members of Mrs. Rape's family attending as honor guests included Mrs. Carl J. Cahill, Mrs. C. W. Trainer of Mertzon, Mrs. Leo Richardson of Iraan, Mrs. Blake Brown of Del Rio, Mrs. James Netherton of Del Rio, and Mrs. Harold Dutton of Junction, all of whom are Mrs. Rape's daughters, and her grandson and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Cahill.

Hostesses for the event were the officers of the local organization. Refreshments were served and Miss Cee Wee Johnson poured punch, assisted by Miss Beverly Johnson. During the refreshment hour, Mrs. Dutton read several poems dedicated to Mrs. Rape's memory.

The Rev. Ross T. Welch dismissed the group. The next meeting is planned for September 8 in the office of Dr. Browne.

What do you think of... when you see a Church?

To almost everyone, the sight of a slender steeple raised to the sky evokes certain emotions—awe, perhaps, nostalgia, maybe—the sense that by not going to church lately, you've been missing something!

Next time you see a church, take a good look . . . and let yourself really feel what you see. If that makes you decide not only to look at the outside but also to go inside, that will be all to the good. For no matter how lovely a home you may live in, it can't compare with God's House. If you open the door, you'll find that, no matter how long you've been away, the welcome is warmer and more wonderful than you'll find anywhere else.

Teaching Someone to Drive

On the day Margaret got a learner's permit, her boy friend Fred took her out for a driving lesson. As they approached another car, waiting at a stop light, Margaret suddenly froze. Worse, so did Fred.

Result: a collision, with considerable damage to the other car. In due course, the driver filed a damage suit against Fred.

"I'm not liable," Fred protested in court. "A driving teacher does not guarantee that his pupil will drive carefully."

Nevertheless, the court held him liable—not for Margaret's bad driving but for his own bad teaching. The judge said Fred should have made some effort, either by word or gesture, to avert the crash.

According to law, if you take on the responsibility of teaching someone to drive, you also take on the responsibility of doing so with reasonable care.

However, the law does recognize that a teacher's control has practical limits. In another case, after the driving lesson was supposed to be over, the pupil—acting on impulse—started the car again and jerked forward. The teacher shouted a warning and pulled the emergency brake, but not quickly enough to avoid hitting a pedestrian.

This time a court ruled that, while the teacher did have special responsibility, he had fulfilled that responsibility by his efforts.

Nor are you held to a teacher's responsibility if you do not, in fact, occupy that role. Thus:

When an accident resulted from the improper parking of a car by the roadside, a claim was filed not only against the driver of the car but also against his passenger. It seems that, while the driver was parking the car, the passenger had remarked:

"There. I think you are far enough off the road."

But the court ruled that the passenger could not be held liable for merely giving bad advice. The judge said the occupant of the car does not take over the role—and the responsibility—of a teacher, just trying to be helpful.

Texas lawmakers have written the record of the 61st regular session, but their toughest job—levying the taxes to pay for what they have ordered—remains to be done.

In adopting a $2.8 billion one-year budget (for 1970), they invited a special session to complete appropriations for 1971 and to decide on the inevitable major tax bill. Legislative leaders, Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes and House Speaker Gus Mutscher, claim the latter will be smaller if the finance showdown can be delayed until next year.

Gov. Preston Smith, who holds the key to the timing of the special session, has made clear from the start that he feels the Legislature should face up to a biennial budget and the raising of needed revenue. He could veto the single-year bill and call another session immediately—or accept it and schedule the remaining financial work whenever he pleases.

Many all-time legislative records have toppled at this session. Certainly, the 61st session passed more legislation than any before it, and it was committed in advance to spending more money.

A multitude of laudable ends are attained. Giant strides were made in the field of education. Teachers for a $61.9 million pay raise. Overhauls were ordered in the field of vocational and technical education. Three new medical schools, a dental school, and two new nursing schools were authorized. Also, three new universities, plus an experimental upper branch level college in Laredo. Never have so many new higher educational facilities been launched in a single session.

A master water plan got all the legislative support it could expect. Workmen's compensation controls were approved over air and water pollution. A constitutional amendment to legalize the sale of liquor by the drink was submitted, along with many other proposed changes in the constitution. State employees got a 6.8 pay raise.

Texas' 61st Legislature was a busy, productive session. It was a liberal-spending one with the bills yet to be paid.

"The citizenship of Texas will applaud our work at this session and give us their full support when we return to appropriate and finance the second year of the biennium," concluded Speaker Mutscher.

LAW ENFORCEMENT PLAN ADVANCED—Texas' new State Criminal Justice Council has recommended a comprehensive $1.1 million law enforcement plan that covers a wide scope of activities.

Governor Smith will analyze it before it goes to the U. S. Department of Justice for approval and funding under the Federal Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act of 1968. Funds for a two-year operation must be committed by June 30.

Texas received $234,000 for riot control and $830,350 in planning money six months ago.

Council voted priority funding to these programs: Prevention of juvenile delinquency, education and training in all elements of the criminal justice system, regional and statewide information and communication systems, community relations programs, experimental and demonstration projects to test and evaluate new approaches to solving problems in criminal justice system.

Approved funds will be disbursed to 21 geographical planning regions of the state. Congress now is considering funding which will provide Texas more than $11 million in action money, plus planning aid for next year to develop a long-range plan and begin putting it into effect.

COURTS SPEAK—An order by the Midland District Court to jail nine union members for picketing the Texaco plant at Port Arthur was invalidated by the State Supreme Court. House of Representatives followed up in a matter of hours by passing a bill directing that lawsuits to halt picketing and strikes must be filed in the counties where the labor dispute arises.

Supreme Court ordered an Austin trial before August 1 of Clyde Durbin Jr. charged with killing two University of Texas students early this year.

Third Court of Civil Appeals affirmed a lower court condemnation award of $247,526 against Austin in connection with Decker Lake and a park area east of the city.

BEAUTIFUL BEAUTIFUL TEXAS—Governor Smith will keynote a one-day workshop June 11 to stimulate the preservation and enhancement of natural beauty in Texas. This second annual clean up and beautification conference of the Beautify Texas Council will be held at the Villa Capri Motor Hotel in Austin.

Other speakers will include O. P. Schnabel of San Antonio, president of the Council, DeWitt Greer, chairman of the State Highway Commission, R. H. (Dick) Hackendahl of Washington, D. C., director of the National Clean-up, Paint-up, Fix-up Bureau, Mayor C. P. Waggoner of Grand Prairie, Earl Rudder, president of Texas A&M University and Reagan Brown, sociologist-community improvement specialist with the Texas Agriculture Extension Service.

New Superstitions Still Popping Up

Old superstitions, unlike old soldiers, do not fade away. They are replaced by new superstitions and new misconceptions, says TODAY'S HEALTH GUIDE, the American Medical Association's manual of health information for the American family.

This is particularly true of superstitions and misconceptions about health. New scientific advances and discoveries breed a whole new crop of health superstitions.

Some of the new ones cataloged in the health book are—
Today, we have the mistaken idea that necessary and harmless chemicals used in processing foodstuffs may cause mysterious diseases like cancer. (They won't.)

We see people afraid to cook with aluminum utensils for fear of poisoning the food. (They will not.)

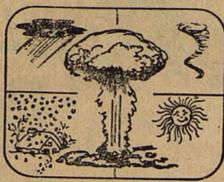

We observe people who refuse to wear glasses, and others who shun much-needed hearing aids. (Both are completely accepted by society today.)

People oppose fluoridation of public water supplies because the same chemical has also been used for poisoning rats, overlooking the fact that the whole difference lies in the matter of dosage. (Fluoridated water is completely safe.)

Many people blame climatic changes on the atomic bomb; past generations attributed such changes to artillery fire, to the use of radio and television. (The bomb has not changed climate.)

Countless mothers live in fear for their children's lives because a heart murmur had been reported. Although murmurs should be checked by a physician most heart murmurs are harmless.

There is still active opposition to the use of immunizing procedures, such as vaccination and immunization, because of superstitious dread of introducing a poison into the system. (The vaccines now in general use are safe.)

There is a modern cult of naturalism which holds that only "natural foods" are wholesome because foods grown with the aid of chemical fertilizers are inadequate. (This isn't true.)

Many harbor prejudices against canned or frozen or otherwise processed foods, and even advocate eating raw food exclusively. (Processing does not affect foods substantially, nor does proper cooking.)

problem and to advise and act as a coordinating agency through which business and industry, government, public and private organizations may work together to solve the problems of Texas beautification.

ATTORNEY GENERAL RULES

—A person not registered as a voter is ineligible for election or appointment as an independent school district trustee. So advises Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin in ruling on a Spring Creek school election issue. A similar opinion was returned earlier following a Honey Grove controversy.

In other recent opinions, Martin held that:

—Texas Foundation School Fund Budget Committee must include cost estimates for the school program training all prison system inmates over and under 21 years of age who are not high school graduates.

—A bill providing for private road construction and maintenance in counties of 10,000 to 10,050 population is unconstitutional as a local and special bill.

—Bexar County is required to advertise for competitive bids on all purchases including road machinery, although some emergency buying is expected.

—State funds cannot be used for payment of group insurance policies for legislators and their dependents.

—An act to prohibit corporations from engaging in farming or ranching (allowing a 10-year period to sell interests) would be constitutional.

—State treasurer must publish information on unclaimed funds over $50 held and owing by life insurance companies.

APPOINTMENTS, HONORS—Davis W. Tees, assistant city manager of Arlington, is now with the Institute of Urban Studies of the University of Texas System.

Brig. Gen. Carl F. Schupp II, assistant Texas adjutant general received legion of merit award for service.

Temple Banker S. R. Greenwood is new chairman of Governor's Committee on Aging.

Major General Max H. Specht of New Braunfels assumed command of Texas State Guard, replacing Maj. Gen. Harley B. West of Dallas.

Governor Smith has named A. Ross Rommel of Houston as his safety administrator and Tom Bishop of Austin as assistant traffic safety engineer.

Governor and Mrs. Smith will lead Odessa Chuck Wagon Gang and Texas delegation to Klondike Days in Edmonton, Alberta, Canada, July 16-20.

Musicians Bob Wills, Tex Ritter and Ernest Tubb were named "country music ambassadors of good will from Texas," after being honored by the Legislature.

Texas Ranger Captain James M. Ray of Lubbock is the new chief of Criminal Law Enforcement Division of the Department of Public Safety.

GRANTS APPROVED—Follow Through Head Start grants have been extended to seven Texas school districts by order of the governor.

Districts benefiting are Corpus Christi, Dimmitt, Fort Worth, Houston, Rosebud, San Diego and Uvalde.

Follow Through program will carry benefits of pre-school Head Start training into primary grades of public schools to make sure children maintain their gains.

SHORT SNORTS

Texas Highway Commission included Harlingen, Midland and Grand Prairie in the Traffic Operations Program to Increase Capacity and Safety (TOPICS).

Rio Airways Inc. seeks certification to serve Brownsville, McAllen, Corpus Christi, Houston, San Antonio and Austin, says the Aeronautics Commission.

Texas business activity in April reversed its downward trend and the inflation danger now increases, said University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

State Senator Henry Grover of Houston says he will run as a Republican nominee for the U.S. Senate in 1970 if Congressman George Bush doesn't run.

Accent On Health

Many Texas cities come face to face with one the annoying problems of urbanization—solid waste disposal—July 1 when a Texas Air Control Board regulation goes into effect prohibiting open burning.

The regulation affects cities of more than 5,000 population, but cities of any size in a Standard Metropolitan Statistical Area may not burn refuse in open dumps. The regulation actually became effective on January 3, 1968, but cities received an 18-month grace period to totally comply with the law because of the extensive work and great expense involved, reports the Texas State Department of Health.

A federal official has estimated that it will take an additional $750 million per year over the next five years to provide Americans with satisfactory collection and disposal of household refuse, garbage and other solid wastes. These services already are costing the public more than $4.5 billion a year.

Americans are known as the world's worst wasters, and three factors contributing to this are: population increase, urbanization and affluence. Affluence leads to the philosophy in our society that it's cheaper to manufacture a new item than it is to reuse an old one.

The multitude of different disposable containers seen on a grocer's shelves is but one example of throw-away material. Forty-eight billion cans and 26 billion bottles are produced annually in this country, and virtually all are discarded. More than six million junk automobiles a year contribute to the refuse problem.

In Texas, studies have shown that an average of some 1,600 pounds of refuse per person is thrown away each year, reports the Health Department. This is about two cubic yards of compacted solid wastes. In Dallas, according to one study, there are almost six pounds of refuse each day per capita.

Once trash is collected it may be burned, disposed of in landfills (buried) or composted into a usable soil conditioner.

The landfill method is considered the most economical of acceptable methods. During the past few weeks a series of seminars on municipal refuse collection and disposal equipment has been given in 10 different cities by the Division of Sanitary Engineering of the State Health Department. Emphasis was on sanitary landfills—a day to day burying of refuse. This allows marginal land to be reclaimed for such uses as parks, golf courses and botanical gardens.

Norris Loeffler Attends Council

Norris Dean Loeffler, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Loeffler, director of development for St. Stephen's Episcopal School in Austin, is participating in the 28th annual conference of the International Council of Industrial Editors at Boston, Massachusetts, June 8-13.

Loeffler represents the Society of Austin Industrial Editors as a Director of National Affairs on the ICIE Board. A past president of the local group, he also serves as secretary and archives chairman for the seven-state District 5 division of the editors' organization. This group also is conducting business meetings during the period of the conference.

Featured speakers on the Boston program include Rudolph Flesch, noted author-educator; R. Heath Larry, executive vice president of US Steel Corporation; Marshall McLuhan, communication theorist, author, and educator; Edward C. Bursk, editor of Harvard Business Review; and Whitney M. Young, Jr., executive director of the National Urban League, who is being honored as ICIE's "Communicator of the Year."

Loeffler is editor of the St. Stephen's Bulletin, quarterly magazine of the co-educational day and boarding school of Austin.

4-H Group Attends Bandera Contest

Sutton County 4-H Wool and Mohair judging teams attended the Bandera contest June 7, and the novice team placed first in mohair judging, and third in wool judging. The group placed first as the overall high novice team.

Participants were John David Cook, who also was 1st high individual in mohair and 3rd in wool, Larry Finklea, Marsha Finklea, and Mike Street.

MRS. KENNETH KORDZIK and Mrs. Jerry Don Balch supervise this group of youngsters at the Vacation Church School co-sponsored by the Methodist, Episcopal and Presbyterian churches last week. About 45 children were in attendance each day along with 16 leaders who worked with the children. Final ceremonies were held Friday morning in the church sanctuary for the children and parents. Mrs. Mickey Powers said the school was well attended.

Agri-Tour's Traveling Display Unit Scheduled To Be In Sonora June 24

The Texas Department of Agriculture is sending its popular Agri-Tour mobile unit to this area for the Miss Wool of America pageant at the San Angelo Coliseum June 26, and the unit will be in Sonora for display Tuesday, June 24, in front of the courthouse.

The trailer's appearance is made possible through the cooperation of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association, The Mohair Council of America and the Texas Department of Agriculture.

The 56-foot traveling side show will be open to the public during the visit to Ozona Monday, Sonora Tuesday, and Eldorado Wednesday through arrangements of Monte Summer, district 8 inspector. A tour of the van will serve as the program for the Downtown Lions Club when they meet on the twenty-fourth.

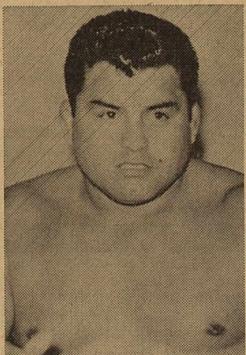

Operators of the colorful presentation are Mr. and Mrs. Jess Moreland, who have traveled thousands of miles throughout the state with the exhibit.

For this show the Texas Agri-Tour is designed to familiarize Texans with the fiber products that are produced in the state. Texas Agriculture Industry combined with the Texas Department of Agriculture in a joint effort to bring the story of the state's agriculture to the public through Agri-Tour. Agriculture Commissioner John C. White said that the Texas Agri-Tour is expressly designed to promote high quality Texas agricultural products. The exhibit features a narrated color slide program that tells the story of Texas fibers. Of special interest will be the color slide style show of the 1969 Miss Wool and Mohair of Texas pageant at the Apparel Mart in Dallas, May 26, and the garment display.

A NEW OUTLOOK IN RURAL AMERICA

Rural communities all across America are changing. New industries are moving in; modern schools and hospitals are being built—shopping centers, recreational facilities, libraries, water systems.

This community development doesn't just happen. In many cases it begins when rural electric people spark efforts to make their area more abundant in opportunity. Rural electric people know that thriving rural communities help make our nation strong.

We are pledged to progress—committed to making life better for our consumers, our community.
