Del Rio TV Corp. Answers Letter From Rousselot

In a letter received by Mayor Norman Rousselot September 22, Glenn Scallorn of the Del Rio Television Cable Corp. elaborated on three points of the television cable system operation and future plans of the company for its operation in Sonora.

Due to the many questions asked Rousselot by Sonora subscribers, the mayor had written an inquiry to Scallorn September 17, seeking answers to three questions.

Scallorn said that a misunderstanding was responsible for the delay in the installation of a cable to the Sonora Golf clubhouse. The clubhouse has been without television since it was moved to its new location several months ago. Scallorn promised to send a crew to Sonora in the next two weeks to build the line.

Scallorn reported that new microwave equipment is now on location but cannot be installed until construction permits are issued by the Federal Communications Commissions. He promised that as soon as permission was received that installation would

Whether you are aware of it or not, a "will" has already been prepared for you. Known as the "statute of descent and distribution," it is a plan drawn up by your state legislature to be used after your death in case you fail to make a will of your own.

How does this prefabricated will divide up your estate? Generally speaking, it follows a kind of law of averages, dividing things up the way an average person probably would. In theory, that makes sense.

But in practice, the use of cutand-dried rules can have some startling consequences. For example: In one case, a youth who murdered his father was held entitled to his estate. Under the state statute (since changed), a son's rights were automatic-no one having thought about the possibility of murder.

In another case, a woman was awarded her husband's estate even though she was living in adultry at the time of his death. To out-raged objections by his relatives, the court replied:

"It is unnecessary to discuss wisdom or morality. It is sufficient that the legislature has declared the rule by which the right of the parties must be determined "

True, there are extreme cases. But the prefabricated will also works out badly in many everyday circumstances. Take the situation when a man dies, leaving small children and only a modest

In most states, if he has not made a will of his own, only part of his estate would go to the widow-the balance going directly to the children. For the widow, this could mean years of going through court procedures for permission to spend the children's money on the ordinary exspenses of life.

The trouble is not that the lawmakers, in drawing up a prefabricated will, don't try to be fair. Rather, the trouble is that they cannot possibly forsee the particular needs of each individu-

They cannot know, for instance, that one of your children needs more protection than the others, or that you would like to make a grateful bequest to an old friend, or that you want to lend your support to a favorite charity.

No prefabricated will can possibly take account of such things. In fact, nobody can but you. A public service feature of the American Bar Association and the State Bar of Texas. Written by Will Bernard.

Family Health and Safety Concern of Brides

More than two million brides will be starting new households in 1969. Among their first chores as homemakers will be planning home safety and family health.

Certainly a new bride and bridegroom should select as soon as possible a family doctor who can become familiar with their medical history and keep tabs on their growing family. Keep your physician's phone number on the telephone together with any others you need in an emergency - your pharmacist, your fire and police departments, and your local hospital.

The Council on Family Health, a non-profit organization sponsored as a public service by leading members of the drug industry to promote home safety and family health, suggests that the new bride establish good safety habits on the storage, care and use of medicines.

Following are some safety rules for every homemaker: 1. Plan the contents of your medicine chest. Keep medicines and toiletries in separate cabinets, or, if they must be kept in one cabinet, store medicines on the upper shelves and toiletries on lower shelves.

2. Divide the medicine section into two parts - one for medicines that are to be taken internally, and the other for those medicines that are applied ex-

Fall Is The Time To Plant Bulbs

Plant hardy bulbs and bulb-like structures early in the fall for a brilliant display of colors in the home landscape for next spring, advises County Agent D. C. Langford.

The hardy bulbs include daffodiles, hyacinths, crocus and

In general all bulbs should be planted deeper in light soils than in heavy soils, reminds the county agent. They will do well in good garden soil if there is sufficient drainage. Poor soil can be improved by adding organic matter and fertilizer provided drainage is adequate, he says.

Bulbs should be planted to group varieties in masses to provide a good display of color. An effective way to use bulbs is to plant them in the flower borders along with perennials. After the bulbs have bloomed, the perennial foliage will hide the maturing bulb foliage as it deteriorates. Other good spots for bulbs are around terraces, in foundation plantings, at driveway entrances or in woody areas to help naturalize them.

When purchasing bulbs, Langford suggests you make sure you are getting disease free material. Diseased bulbs usually look moldy and discolored or are soft and rotted. Beware of the so-called bargain bulbs since they are usually of poor quality or small and frequently are the source of garden diseases.

A Bishop Looks at Life "Beginning A Day"

By Everett H. Jones, Retired Bishop of the Episcopal Church

The late Billy Rose once said, 'There ought to be a better way of beginning a day than by waking up." We can all understand what he meant, but there is not much we can do about this bodily necessity. However, there is much that we can do to give a good start to the day soon after we wake up. Indeed there is good evidence that we determine the quality of our daily life by the quality of our early morning Some of the wisest words I know on this subject are found in a book by George S. Stewart, 'The Lower Levels of Prayer." He writes: "Begin the day by offering it and yourself to God. Look at the day as an individual thing that begins and ends with completeness in itself; then take this thing, this day, and offer it to God to be a day for His use-The day at once becomes a unity and life becomes unified. However many distracting duties come into this day, both mind and emotion are dominated, not by them, but by the sense that you have only one thing to do-namely to act in obedience to God with regard to them.'

I find personal help in calling to mind what happens in a symphony orchestra before the conductor arrives and the concert begins. Each member of the orchestra is busily engaged in tuning his particular instrument to be sure that he will contribute. in however large or small a degree, to the beauty of the music just ahead. So the early morning can be a time of "tuning up" of coming into harmony with God and His purpose; this is a time when I can decide anew to be a faithful instrument in God's orchestra of love and service.

Here is a suggested morning, resolve, to be said early and repeated often in the stress of the day: "Help me, O God, to live this day a simple, sincere and serene life, repelling promptly every thought of discontent, anxiety, discouragement, impurity, and self-seeking. Help me to cultivate cheerfulness, compassion, carefulness in conservation, diligence in appointed service, fidelity to every trust, and a childlike faith to You."

The coarse metallic pot scourers are wonderful for scrubbing potatoes before baking. Set one aside for that use-especially if your family likes the tasty baked shells of potatoes.

ONE IDEA OF GOD At the entrance to the valley where they buried their kings an ancient and industrious people carved the Sphinx. This was their idea of God: the body of a lion, suggesting power . . . the face of a man, suggesting personality . . . the whole amazing image suggesting their belief in a MIGHTY deity who could be KNOWN. Today, in our churches, we worship God as Jesus Christ revealed Him: almighty but merciful . . . knowing and eager to be known . . . loving man and seeking man's love . . . saving all who believe in their Can the ancient Sphinx have any significance for men and women like ourselves who have before us the Gospel and example of Christ? Only this: As long as it remains, the awesome Sphinx will remind us of man's search for God. Just as our own church bells remind us of our opportunity to know, love, and serve Him!

The Lion's Club leases the pool from the City each year, with the city furnishing the water and electricity for the pool.

The Lion's Club provides the chemicals for the operating of the filter system of the pool and secures an individual to run the pool under contract to them.

Bob McMinnn ran the pool. Besides seeing that the pool was run properly he was lifeguard. McMinn is responsible for the general maintenance of the pool and surrounding grounds. June er, is the new county committeeman elected by the 412 eligible voters to the ASCS. George Wallace is first alternate, with James Hunt, second alternate. Close in the election were the other three candidates, George Brockman, Dick Street and Bill Morriss.

Bill Wade Elected By ASCS Voters

Bill Wade is married to the former Fannie Sellman of Sonora. They have three children, Vera Beth, a freshman in San Angelo University; John, a Sonora high school freshman and Pat, in the fourth grade. Along with his ranching Wade is a conservationist and is probably best known for the feeding of the wild turkey and deer that inhabit the ranch. The Wades are Metho-few yards, Ozona was forced to punt. The punt was blocked and the Colts took over.

After 2 plays Bruce Kerbow bulled his way into score, and David Wallace made the conversion attempt. From then on Sonora had little trouble in scoring. Playing outstanding defense were Ladd Turner, Willie Fay and Jack Sykes.

Bruce Kerbow 20 pts., Billy John Fay 8 pts., Larry Cade 6 pts., and David Wallace 4 pts., were the Colts scorers. As the buzzer sounded at half time the Colts were on their way to a victory with a 22-0 lead.

The Colts came back strong in the second half giving up only 6 points, while scoring 16 points. The Colts will host the Big Lake Owlets September 25 here at 5 p.m.

28 To O Saturday

By Alan Harris The 7th grade Colts beat Ozona 28-0. They rattled the Cubs early in the first quarter by a 50 yard run by Alan Harris. Paul Browne scored the extra points. Then the Colts held the Cubs and they punted.

The second touchdown came on a pass from Paul Browne to Albert De Hoyas. Alan Harris went over for the extra point. Late in the second quarter Paul Browne again scored with a 10 vard run but the extra point attempt failed.

The third quarter was scoreless as fumbles hurt both teams. The Colts scored once again in the fourth quarter as Alan Harris crossed the goal from approximately 20 yards out. Again the extra point attempt failed.

The Colts will play Big Lake here at 5 p.m. Thursday.

Sonora "B" Team Sweeps Past Ozona

By Rick Hill

After a three day delay the "B" team finally opened their season. In the tradition of true Broncos, they swept past the Ozona Lions for a 12-0 victory.

Through the passing of quarterback Mark Rousselot and the catches of right end Charles Cooper, the "B" team somehow managed to revive from a slow first quarter and score twice before halftime. The touchdowns came on a pass to Cooper and a five yard dash by Rousselot.

The "B" team challenges the Reagan County Owls in Big Lake next week.
