SELF-TREATMENT FOR CATTLE

New Mexico researchers say that beef and dairy cattle can treat themselves against worrisome flies by walking between burlap sacks loaded with approved insecticides such as 3 percent Ciodrin or 1 percent coumaphos.

The best place for rubbing against the sacks for dairy cows is the milk parlor's exit chute. For beef cattle, good locations are gateways leading to water, salt, and resting areas

CULLEN LUTTRELL, maintenance foreman of Sutton County Texas Highway Department, was installed as president of the Downtown Lions Club when installation of incoming officers was held at the June 30 meeting. John T. King, former publisher and owner of Devil's River News, served as president of the Lions last year.

Tom Bond Resigns Uvalde Parks, Recreation Directorship June 15

Tom Bond, former Sonoran, and brother of Frank Bond, who moved to Uvalde several years ago, resigned as Uvalde Parks and Recreation Director June 15. Bond, who has been instrumental in numerous youth programs in Uvalde, retired for health reasons from the post which he held since March of 1961.

Active in all phases of work with young people, Bond was one of the organizers of the Uvalde Summer Recreation Program which was started four years ago, and has been a member of its board of directors. The Uvalde Leader News stated that Bond has been the city's go-between with the summer programs, obtaining city facilities and keeping them up.

City manager Jack Caffall of Uvalde said of Bond, "He's the kind of man that if you wanted to see him early in the morning or late in the evening when the sun was still up you would find him working somewhere..."

The Uvalde Quarter Horse Association expressed their gratitude for Bond's help in their activities when they honored him at their annual banquet. The group presented him a Stetson hat and a life-time membership in their organization.

Bond also has lifetime memberships in the Uvalde Chamber of Commerce and the Quarterback Club. Tom Bond Field, the city baseball diamond, located at the recreation complex on Garner Field Road in Uvalde, was named after him four years ago because of his work in the local baseball program.

He has also been active in Boy Scout work, and has been a vestryman at St. Philip's Episcopal Church in Uvalde, since he and his wife, Zora, moved there in 1948.

Bond said he will rest a little now, but still plans to keep a hand in Uvalde's activities--the many which he helped to pioneer and others that have grown because of him, according to the Uvalde paper.

Don't forget to attend the Junior Rodeo — July 9, 10, 11.

MIKE WUEST INSTRUCTS this group of youngsters in the fundamentals of beginners swimming lessons. Swimming lessons are being taught to youngsters of different age groups by Mike, David, and their father, Oliver Wuest. Classes run for two weeks, with final classes scheduled to begin July 20. Parents interested in registering children for the classes should do so before July 20, and registration is being conducted at the pool.

4 Buildings Purchased For School Classrooms

A contract has been let to Southwest Building Systems of San Antonio, for four steel classrooms at a cost of $30,688 for a turn-key job. In recent meetings of members of the Board of Trustees, bids were taken from various concerns for construction of the buildings with Southwest Building Systems being the low bidder. These classrooms are 24 by 32 feet each and are air conditioned.

The present playground equipment will be moved under the trees on the side by Dr. C. F. Browne's clinic. The existing playground will be used for placement of the buildings since this was the most level ground and the logical place for them with less expense for foundation work, according to board members.

Plans are for the temporary buildings to be ready for use when school opens in August. MRS. WUEST SCHOOL NURSE
In other action taken by the Board, Mrs. Oliver Wuest has been hired as school nurse. She will work with local doctors in carrying out school immunization programs and other health needs of school children.

Miss Louise Stevens of Marfa has been hired to teach typing and shorthand in the high school. Miss Stevens will also have charge of the yearbook, according to Ken McAllister, superintendent.

Billy Gosney, formerly principal of L. W. Elliott School, has been named the Junior High principal to replace Bob McMinn, who resigned to accept a position in Durango, Mexico.

MRS. MOHLER, READING CLINIC
A new remedial corrective reading program in elementary school is being established for the coming school year. The reading clinic, which will be free, will probably be set up in Central Elementary School's present library room. Mrs. Grosse Mohler will have charge of the class, assisted by an aide, who has not been named, said McAllister.

There is a need for additional funds. Persons desiring to contribute may do so at the First National Bank with Warren Hemphill.

School Conducts Labor Workshop

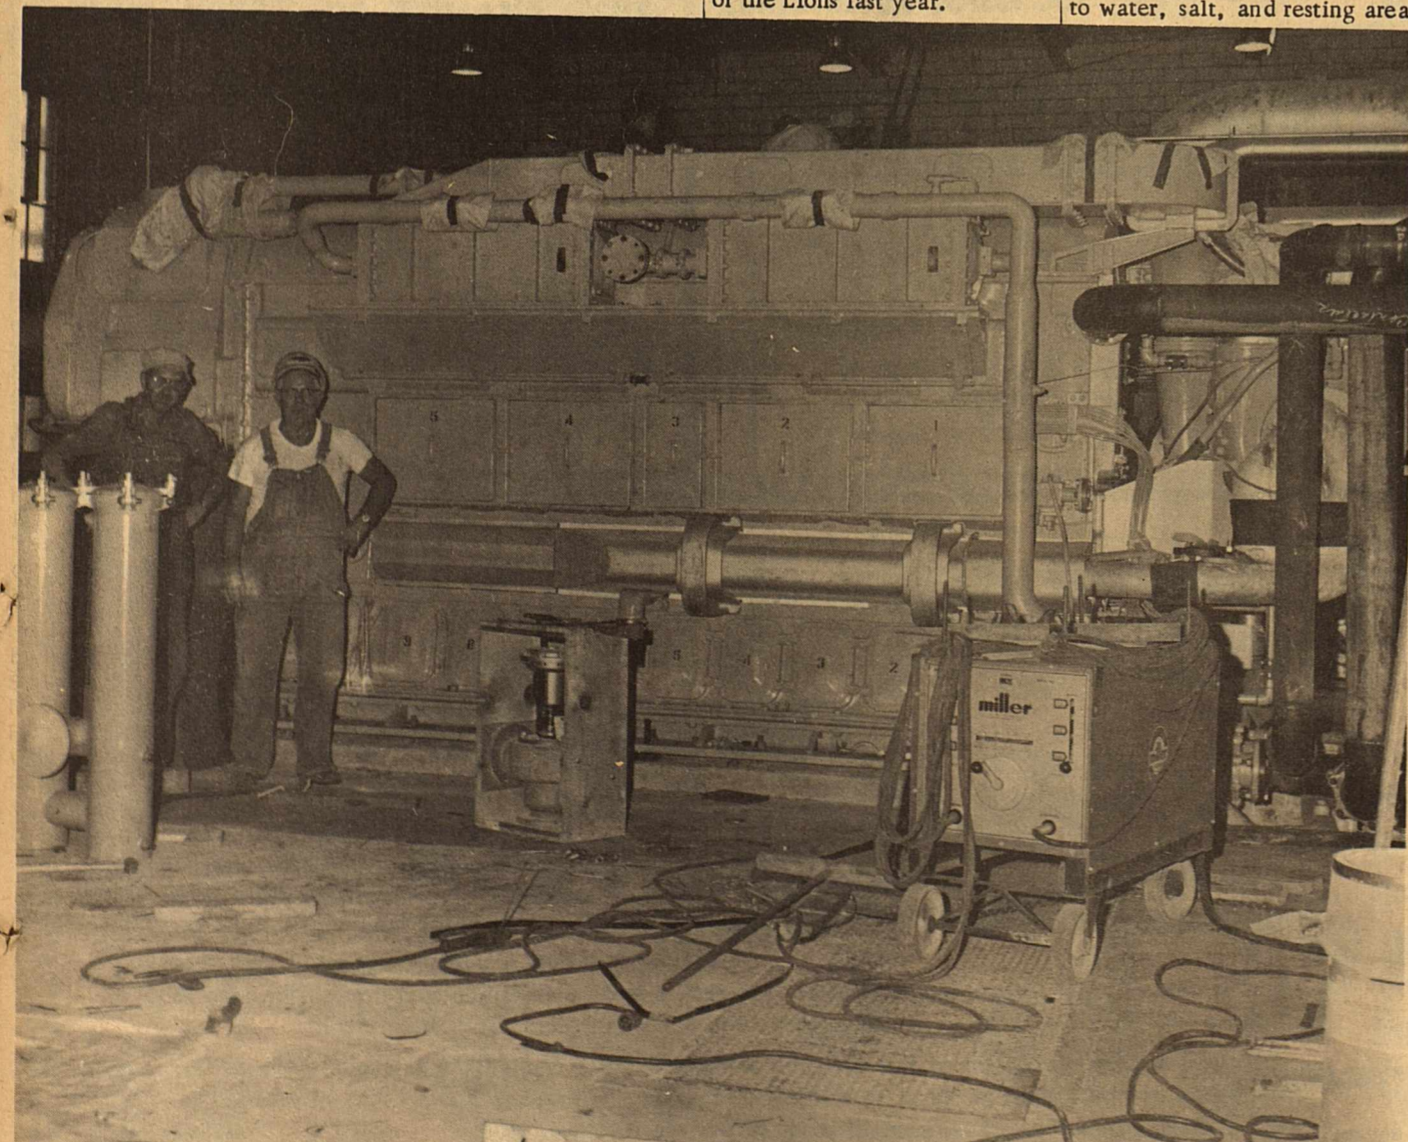

Low Bennett of the Hillyard Custodial Supply Company is instructing the schools' maintenance personnel in the stripping, sealing and waxing of floors. The school continued Tuesday and Wednesday.

The two-day workshop, conducted by Bennett consists of the proper use of materials, the proper methods, demonstrations and actually doing the work under his supervision, along with lectures and the showing of films.

The maintenance of a school plant is a big business and is rapidly becoming bigger, due to the skyrocketing costs of labor and material, said Ken McAllister, school superintendent.

GIBBONS TO LEAD SERVICES

The Rev. Dr. Kermit Gibbons, district superintendent of the Methodist churches in this area, will be the speaker at the First United Methodist Church Sunday Dr. Gibbons of San Angelo, will bring the message in the absence of the Rev. John Weston pastor of the church.

SAM ODOM, MAINTENANCE SUPERINTENDENT and Freeman Terry, foreman in charge of installations, representing P&B Contractors of Goodland, Kansas, are shown in front of the engine being installed at the City Power Plant. Jimmy Hugh Harris, city manager, says construction is well underway and is due to be finished July 21. The nine cylinder dual fuel Fairbanks Morse generator is being installed mainly for the purpose of insuring carrying capacity of the power plant load which has been growing over the years. The load increases approximately nine percent yearly, and with the installation this will take up the growth and insure capacity. The total installed cost is $247,000. George Sharp, factory representative for Fairbanks Morse is shown in the background.

THIS OLD AUTOMOBILE was displayed at the Fort Davis courtyard where an old-time Fourth celebration was held last Saturday. Townspeople dressed in costumes popular at the turn of the century and a barbecue was held on the courthouse lawn following sack races and other games.

We Each Have A Choice In Solving Nations Environmental Problems

Solving environmental problems is more than a test of industry and technology. It is becoming a test of whether U.S. citizens are worthy of the freedom they have enjoyed for nearly two centuries. In meeting the need to adjust our pattern of living to the requirements of nature, the question is, will we do it voluntarily as a free people, or by compulsion. The less responsibility shown by the individual, the more compulsion will enter the picture.

News releases from Washington, D. C., tell of the concern of the U.S. Bureau of Land Management over the despoliation of the California desert by hordes of visitors from the Los Angeles area with its population of some 10 million persons. Because of "toothless laws", a vast area of 16-million acres is becoming a city dumping ground.

Tin cans and mounds of debris are rapidly ruining the landscape. Motorcycles, dune buggies, four-wheel-drive vehicles and other off-road machines are wiping out rare plant life, archaeological sites and centuries-old Indian trails. Historical landmarks are being plundered.

Motorcyclists and dune buggy drivers are smashing through sheep farms, trampling cactus and other forage and disrupting the breeding groups of game birds, deer and big horn desert sheep.

Stiff laws are being advocated to protect these public lands. At the same time, a program is being established to develop an intensive public education campaign to make people more aware of their responsibilities for maintaining the beauty of the land. Thus, we have a choice. We can act as responsible citizens or face laws that will grow in oppressiveness in direct proportion to individual irresponsibility and increasing population.

UNHEALTHY TREND

A top New York producer of plays was interviewed by U. S. News & World Report on the decline in the New York theater business. The current season is noted by the producer as... "the worst year ever... in terms of the number of shows running..." He expresses the fear, "... that ultimately the Government might have to subsidize all of it... or we won't have a theater at all."

Thus, the theater may join the growing roll of enterprises of all kinds; civil, cultural and private, that are coming to depend on federal sustenance. There is an unhealthiness about the trend that should arouse the concern of every thoughtful citizen.

How far can dependence on government spread without crushing the fragile structure of freedom and individual responsibility?

Homemakers Nutrition Recipes

(Editor's note: This is second in a series of articles by Mrs. A. E. Prugel, high school home making teacher, being submitted as an aid to homemakers to cut food costs.)

As the days become hotter, cooking becomes less interesting. When friends drop in to visit, it is nice to have a refresher to serve them. Children who are bored with nothing to do often eat to pass the time. Rather than letting them content themselves with sweets, encourage them to use milk for snacks. With a bit of imagination they will concoct drinks which will become neighborhood favorites.

And don't forget the older members of the family. As we grow older we need less food to burn for energy but we still need as much for body repair as we did at 30.

Nonfat dry milk does not contain either vitamin A or vitamin D. Vitamin D must be present before your body can use the calcium you get from milk, so be sure to insist older people walk or sit in the sun for a short time each day.

Try these coolers for a hot summer day:

MILK ON THE ROCKS

2 cups nonfat dry milk, 3 cups water, 2 tablespoons honey or other sweetener, 2 cups crushed ice, 1 pint strawberry ice cream, 2 tablespoons lemon juice.

Dissolve nonfat dry milk in water. Mix well, honey and lemon juice. Add to milk the honey, lemon juice, and crushed ice. Serve at once. Top each serving with ice cream. Makes 6 servings.

MOLASSES MILK

1/2 cup dry milk, pinch of salt, 1 cup water, 1 tablespoon molasses OR 1/8 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/8 teaspoon nutmeg, 1/2 teaspoon sugar.

Mix dry ingredients. Mix water with molasses, add dry ingredients to liquid and beat, stir or shake until smooth.

PEANUTTY MILK DRINK

1/2 cup peanut butter, 1/8 teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons sugar, 1 cup water, 1 tall can (13 fl oz) evaporated milk.

Mix salt and sugar with peanut butter. Stir in water, a little at a time, mixing well. Stir in evaporated milk until smooth. Cover and chill in refrigerator. Makes four servings.

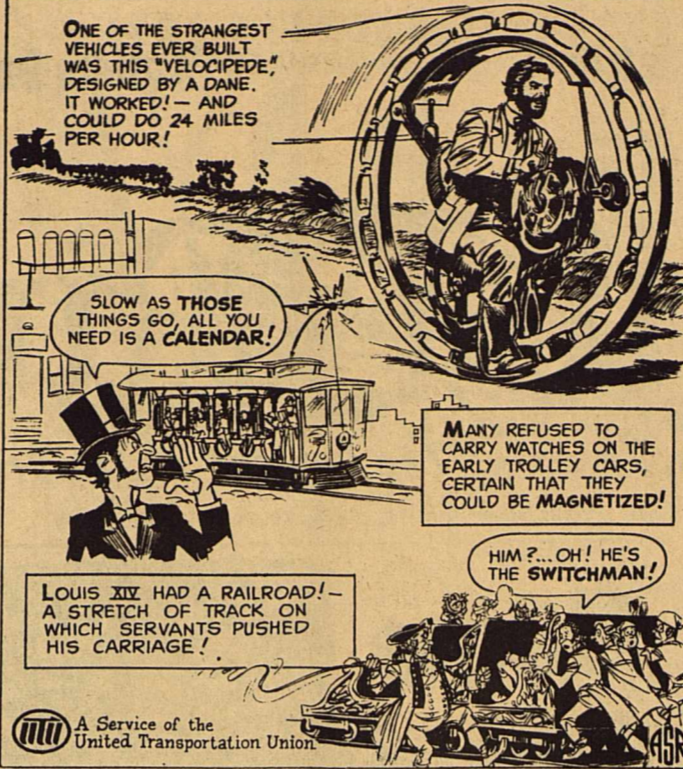

TS&GRA Plans 55th Convention

Former Texas Governor John B. Connally will address the annual membership banquet at the 55th annual Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association convention in San Antonio, July 20-22.

Convention headquarters will be the St. Anthony Hotel in the downtown proper. Registration will get underway at 10:30 a. m. Monday, July 20, in the lobby.

For the ladies, the Woman's Auxiliary to the TS&GRA has a luncheon and style show on the agenda July 21. The advisory board will meet from 3-4:30 p. m. Monday, July 20. Auxiliary past presidents will breakfast Wednesday, July 22.

The new politics, a youth movement also known as the "New Congress Movement," grabbed headlines recently. Headquartered at Princeton, it established a sort of computerized clearinghouse to supply information to student workers and their chosen candidates across the country.

Joining in the movement, some college heads announced plans to suspend classes for two weeks before the next General Election to enable their crusaders to saturate chosen districts where Congressmen are not acceptable to them.

Already, accompanied by fanfare and ballyhoo, thousands of these students have tested their strength with the electorate. They picked recent primaries in two districts for initial battlegrounds—the 14th in New York and the 15th in New Jersey, represented by veteran Congressman John Rooney of Brooklyn and 4-term Ed Patten across the bay in New Jersey.

The press reported that, with the accent on youth, well over 1,000 students fanned out over Patten's district, ringing doorbells, buttonholing prospects and buzzing telephones. Their candidate's well-to-do father put up $150,000 for a down-payment on campaign expenses, and hundreds of workers received up to $20 per day for their services.

The primary results: Patten was handed the most overwhelming victory of his long political career!

In the case of John Rooney, it was about the same story. Again, with the accent on youth, the well-financed opponent was off and running with an endorsement at a meeting of students from 61 campuses. Press headlines acclaimed the thrust of the New Movement. The campaign was described as a model of organized effort. And literally hundreds of student volunteers moved in.

When the votes were counted the Brooklyn Congressman won by a landslide!

But the New Congress Movement is not dead, according to reports from Princeton. The movement is said to already have stored more than 10,000 student names who are available for voluntary campaign help, eager to swing into action.

Apparently what the New Congress Movement overlooks is that most Americans are much smarter than these people give them credit for being. If elected incumbents at all levels need to be replaced, the people have a way of taking care of that without any assist from the outsiders, who really have so little to offer.

THE DEVIL'S RIVER PHILOSOPHER SEZ....

He Has Made A Great Discovery About Television News Programs

Editor's note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his bitter-weed ranch on Dry Devil's River must have his television set back in working shape, his letter this week indicates.

Dear editor:
Being unable to find a newspaper yesterday although I looked everywhere, that is everywhere I could see from my rocking chair on my front porch, I went inside the house late in the afternoon and turned on the television set for the first time in a long time and will admit I learned something I didn't know before.

Now I knew that in the summer time the networks re-run their winter and spring programs on the theory I guess that if Hamlet is worth seeing more than once so is Festus, but yesterday was the first time I discovered that they re-run their news programs too.

It's a fact. Here came Huntley and Brinkley telling us their names although I caught on to who they were years ago, and then they gave exactly the same news they gave months ago.

For example, they reported that Israel fought off an Arab attack with the loss of one Jeep and three canteens while destroying eight Arab planes, and in the same skirmish, which the Arabs said the Israelis launched, the Arabs said they destroyed ten Israeli tanks and shot down ten planes.

Then they switched to London where a newscaster in a trench coat standing in the wind outside some building reported a new proposal for peace in the Middle East is being discussed.

In Viet Nam they ran the film of the reporter dodging bullets, falling once more to tell us what was happening to the camera man.

Getting around to the home front, they reported the cost of living went up three-tenths of one percent last month, the stock market fluctuated, another freight train had derailed, Agnew had spoken, there was a riot in Memphis or Los Angeles, I forget which, more studies are being made to halt inflation, pollution has shown up off the shore of whatever coast it was they had their camera trained on, the urban crisis is still the urban crisis, etc.

It's a fact. The networks are using re-runs on their news-casts. All they're changing is the shape of David Brinkley's tie.

There's nothing to the report, is there, that the football leagues aren't going to play this fall, just re-run last season's games?
Yours faithfully,
J. A.

The story of P. K. Wrigley and THE LOCOMOTIVE

One day P. K. Wrigley was riding on a train with a friend and the conversation turned to the chewing gum business. The friend, who had an eye for saving a penny, suggested now that Wrigley chewing gum was so well known and had such a large distribution that it might be wise to dispense with the advertising, save that expense and make that much additional profit.

"I could ask the conductor of this train the same question," replied the financial genius, "This train is now going 60 miles per hour, so why not disconnect the engine? Advertising in merchandising is what a locomotive is to a train. It is the power which keeps it going."

A Bishop Looks at Life

WHAT AMERICA MEANS

By Everett H. Jones, Retired Bishop of the Episcopal Church

As a Christian minister I have often been asked to speak on what God means to me, what Christ means to me, or what prayer means to me. Today I want to speak on what America means to me. (I believe this would have been a valuable exercise for each one of us this past Fourth of July!)

America means, first of all, my homeland. I am a child of America just as I am a child of God and the child of an earthly family. It is as natural for me to love America as it is for me to love God or to love my own family. There is a deep inner emotion of joy and pride when I say, with Sir Walter Scott, "this is my own, my native land." But my love for America does not blind me to her failings. Indeed it is because of my love that I want America to be more than she is; it is because of my love that I feel keenly America is not now living up to her potential for greatness. Nations lose their way just as individuals do. They forget their heritage and lose sight of their God-given destiny. America today is in a time of confusion and moral bewilderment. Like the Prodigal Son in the Biblical story, it has gone into a "far country." We feel this here at home and other nations feel this about us.

Nations, like individuals, can come to themselves. They can rediscover their true role in the life of the world. They can rise out of conflict and division, out of false value and abuse of power; they can have a creative new beginning.

This is my prayer for America. My love and my faith tell me that we in this land have a basic unity of purpose beneath our divisions; we have a soundness of character that will reassert itself. I believe this because I believe in God's redemptive power. For the Prodigal this power came thru repentance, humility, and awareness of need. It will come to us on the same terms. God is ready to reclaim us when we are ready to reclaim Him.

GEARS and GADGETS

Huge gears turn ponderously—meshing with others which turn still others, and power is born, energy released. Today more and more gears and gadgets make living more and more luxurious. There are machines to do almost everything. Appliances entertain us, teach us, train us.

One thing remains individual. There's no "dial-a-matic" gadget for God, no pushbutton gimmick. Man's search for meaning in his life is still his own responsibility. When man only dreamed of flying and the fastest way to travel was by horseback, God's Church was the source of all goodness and joy. It's no different today. In a world where man races for the stars, the Church remains the well-spring of truth. Attend your church. Find faith and the good life.

THESE NOVICE JUDGES have walked off with first place honors in three area 4-H judging shows this year—Brownwood, San Saba and Bandera. First place awards were won in the wool and mohair, junior division judging. The 4-H participants are John David Cook, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Cook; Mark Hemphill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Hemphill; Marsha Finklea, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Finklea and Susan Schwiening, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Corky Schwiening. Schwiening, who has coached the group, is shown in the background.

Insecticide Use Widespread With Approaching Warm Weather

With warmer weather insect pests will increase, and this means, says County Agent D. C. Langford, insecticide use will also become more widespread.

Since insecticides come in many forms, it is important to know some of the terms used to describe them. There are dusts, wettable powders, soluble powders, emulsifiable concentrates, oil solutions, granulated materials and aerosols and spray bombs, explains the county agent.

Dusts don't mix with water and should never be used as sprays. They come as dry powders ready for use.

Wettable powders are for spray use. They contain a wetting agent and may contain up to 85 percent of the actual ingredient.

Soluble powders are chemicals which readily dissolve in water. They can be applied with low-pressure, low-volume sprayers. Emulsifiable concentrates are liquids carrying the insecticide in a suitable solvent and emulsifier. They can be applied with low-pressure, low-volume sprayers.

Oil solutions are ready for use and may contain from a half to 10 percent active ingredients. Granulated materials are ready to use insecticides in or on particles of a carrier. They are useful for controlling soil insects.

Aerosols and spray bombs contain one or more insecticides, an oil solvent and a propellant gas. The bombs produce a fine mist or a coarse spray. Fine mists, aerosols, are used to control flying insects and the coarse spray bombs for leaving a residue of the insecticide.

In addition, baits, insecticide-fertilizer mixtures, insecticide-herbicide mixtures and moth-proofing agents are some of the special formulations available.

Regardless of the form of the insecticide used, Langford emphasized the need for following label directions to the letter and using them only for the purpose stated on the label. All should be stored out of reach of children.

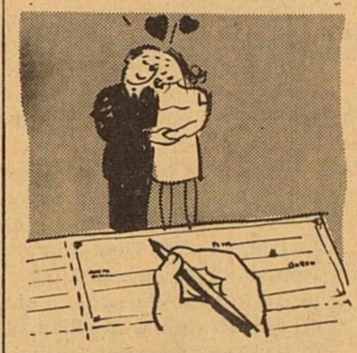

THE FAMILY LAWYER

"Ify" Marriage

"I do love you enough to get married," said the young man to his girl friend, "but frankly I don't care for the financial burdens that go with it. Suppose we make an agreement that your father will continue to be responsible for all your expenses after the wedding."

The girl and her father promptly agreed to this arrangement, and the wedding bells rang out. For a time, she was content to receive regular checks from her father.

But when the bloom of love began to fade, she decided that—despite the premarital agreement—her husband would have to start supporting her himself.

And, after a hearing in court, the judge ruled that she was entitled to make such a demand. He said a husband's duty of support is an inherent part of the marriage relationship. Not even by a premarital agreement, said the judge, may a husband escape an obligation that is imposed by law.

True, the law does allow some "ifs" in the marriage contract. As to matters less basic than support, the bride and bridegroom may indeed enter into a premarital agreement that will be binding. For example:

A widower, planning to remarry, obtained an agreement from his fiancée that in case he died, certain property would go to the children of his first marriage.

After he died a few years later, the second wife tried to back out of her agreement. However, a court held it binding, seeing no reason to let her out of a contract "understandingly and voluntarily entered into."

But a premarital agreement will not stand up if it is not "understandingly" entered into. The woman is entitled to know, before putting her name on the dotted line, the essential facts of her prospective husband's financial condition.

In one case, a man induced his fiancée to sign away certain inheritance rights in his estate. She did so after being told that he was worth about $100,000. In reality, however, he was worth more than $500,000.

Result: a court held afterward that she was not bound by the agreement. The judge said she could not have "understandingly" agreed to give up potential rights of which she was not even aware.

Sonorans Bid Aloha To Two Fine Families . . .

THE JOHN T. KING FAMILY will leave here sometime this month. King, formerly publisher and owner of the Devil's River News, is a University of Texas graduate with a degree in journalism. Mrs. King, also a UoT graduate, is a certified public accountant. The Kings with their daughters, Holly and Ellen, are vacationing in Corpus Christi. They have lived here for the past seven years and have been active in civic and community affairs. They are members of the Methodist Church where King has served on the official board. He is also immediate past president of the Lions Club and has been active in the Chamber of Commerce. The Kings were honor guests at an open house party given by the News employees.

THE ROBERT McMINN family was honored at a going away party June 30. The party was held on the lawn of the Stanley Mayfield home and swimming was enjoyed in the Mayfield pool. A picnic supper was served by members of the Presbyterian church. After supper the McMinn family were presented with a silver bowl with the inscription, "To the Robert McMinn from the Church of the Good Shepherd." The McMinn family is moving to Durango, Mexico, where McMinn will be director of a school there. He was formerly junior high school principal here.

FILLED DATE NUT COOKIES TREAT THE COOKIE JAR CROWD!

February is the month of hearts—and here's a sweetheart of a recipe for filled date nut cookies! Friends and family alike will love this crisp, crunchy cookie with its delicious imported date filling. You'll love the easy preparation. It takes just minutes to prepare the dough, 12 minutes to bake the cookies—and no time at all for them to disappear!

Of course filled date nut cookies will be favorites the year 'round! To keep the cookie jar full and the crowd around it happy, the home economists at the Bordo Products Company suggest that you prepare a double recipe and save half for baking later. Just leave half the dough, wrapped in waxed paper, in the refrigerator or freezer until needed; then simply slice and bake. Bordo imported dates retain their flavor well during both freezing and baking, and your cookies will be a fresh, fragrant taste treat any time you serve them.

Filling:
1/2 lb. Bordo imported diced dates or whole dates cut up
1/3 cup water
1/4 cup sugar
1 cup chopped nuts (pecans generally used)

Dough:
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1/2 cup brown sugar
1/2 cup granulated sugar
1 egg, beaten
2 cups unsifted all purpose flour
1/2 tsp soda
1/4 tsp salt

Filling: Cook imported dates, water, and sugar together for approximately 5 minutes over a low to medium heat. Water can be added if needed. Stir constantly. Dates will soften and blend into the mixture, which will be almost smooth and slightly thickened when "done." Remove from heat; add nuts and set aside to cool.

Dough: Cream butter with brown and granulated sugars. Add beaten egg. Sift dry ingredients together, add to egg mixture, and mix well. Chill. To make cookies: When thoroughly chilled, place dough on a lightly floured board (or between two sheets of waxed paper). Roll to 1/4 inch thickness. Spread dough with imported date nut filling and roll as for a jelly roll. Wrap in waxed paper and place in refrigerator. When thoroughly chilled, unwrap, slice very thin (approximately 1/4") and bake at 350° for 12 minutes or until lightly browned.

Yield: three to four dozen cookies.

The bride chose a formal gown of diamond white silk chiffon organza over peau. The semi-rounded silhouette was designed to show a natural waistline. The gown had a mandarin neckline with long bishop sleeves, Venise lace was used to accent the waist, neckline and cuffs. The semi-belled skirt was enhanced by a wateau train of chapel length.

The head dress was a finger tip mantilla with alencon lace. The bride's flowers were a full bouquet of white camellias interwoven with stephanotis. Betty Kilgore of Dallas was the organist.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Miss Pam Robinson of Lubbock and bridesmaids were her sisters, Miss Sarah Johnson and Miss Rebecca Johnson and Miss Mary Feagin of Lubbock.

Dr. Alan Dale Eads of Scottsdale, Arizona, was the bridegroom's best man and groomsmen were Bill DeOre of Dallas, Charles Crowley of Lubbock and Jody Durham of Bellaire, Mike Nicholson and Richard Reed of Lubbock, along with the bride's brothers, Craig and Scott Johnson, served as ushers.

Summer picnics will be easier if foods are used that can be prepared and frozen ahead of time. Fillings that freeze well include peanut butter, cheese and cheese spreads, and pickled or smoked meats. 100-Year-Old Texas City Of Jefferson Reeks With Nostalgia

On autumn nights, cool winds whip rustling leaves from giant oaks and shower them on the porch of the Excelsior House where almost 100 years ago Presidents Grant and Hayes were among the hotel's patrons.

The sound of leaves falling, almost imperceptibly like rain, seems to echo in the imagination, conjuring up nights long ago when Jefferson was a brash and booming riverport.

On many of those nights music and laughter filled the grand ballroom of the Excelsior House as men in waistcoats and their ladies in hooped skirts danced for hours.

A young and beautiful girl among them was called "Diamond Bessie" Moore because of the splendor of the jewels she wore.

But the jewels were gone that winter afternoon when townsmen found her shot dead and left lying in the snow and decaying leaves of the nearby forest.

There followed the murder trial of her lover, Abe Rothschild. The trial dragged on for seven years until finally a jury proclaimed Rothschild "not guilty" and he fled Jefferson a breath ahead of angry citizens.

It is told that Rothschild was never known to be seen again in Jefferson. But years later a stranger appeared in town and went to the grave of Diamond Bessie. He found the grave well attended.

Surprised, the stranger turned to the aged caretaker and asked "This girl had a bad reputation. Why does the town take such care of her grave?"

The caretaker approached the stranger, according to the legend, and replied, "Because she was some mother's daughter."

Each spring, the Jessie Allen Wise Garden Club recreates the Rothschild murder trial as part of its annual historical pilgrimage. The 22nd pilgrimage was held this year May 2, 3, and 4.

It evolved from the "Queen of Mardi Gras, held in the 18-70's when the town had a population of 35,000 and was the second largest city in the state.

During the pilgrimages of today, visitors tour Jefferson's past, including eight white-columned mansions of the Civil War era. Townspeople in antebellum costumes stroll the grounds of these homes.

The flow of visitors swells on the days of the pilgrimage, but Jefferson offers a continuing attraction and a fascination for travelers who bring their imaginations with them.

Breakfast, southern style, at the Excelsior House is in itself enough reason to visit the old town.

Diners are seated at glass-topped tables in a cozy breakfast room with a view of a fountain and a courtyard where Grant once stood on the scarred bricks.

It is the only meal served at the hotel. But the ham, eggs, grits and hot breads are a delight.

For dinner there is Roy Butler's Riverfront Restaurant, housed in a 100-year-old brick warehouse.

The barbecue is brought to a delicious turn in a huge earthen oven, like those that soldier-of-fortune Butler found in China in the years before he and his wife moved to Jefferson.

Visitors tour railroad financier Jay Gould's private railcar, "Atalanta," named for the Greek goddess of speed. The women of the garden club discovered the car lost on an obscure siding at nearby Pinner's Junction. They restored it, just as they did the 110-

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

BY VERN SANFORD

Most Texas anglers are aware of the fact that cool rains and cold winds, which drop temperatures of lakes and streams, have an effect on fish.

Every angler should recognize that as temperatures decline, so does the metabolism of most game fish. Result is a slowing of the reflexes and a diminishing of the appetite.

This doesn't mean that the fish stop feeding. No siree! It's just that they won't react to a lure that's moving too fast. So, slow it down so the fish can catch it easily.

Proper lures for you to use under such circumstances are baits that can be retrieved slowly. These include plastic worms, weighted spinners with a #5 blade, surface lures that make a commotion via a hollow head or spinners, and floating-diving lures.

Fish can be anywhere, depending on whether the water level is high or low. So, try them in the boondocks, in deep channels, where streams flow into a lake, off rocky points, and in shallow bays or coves.

In cool weather fish begin bunching up, so when you happen onto such a spot . . . live it up . . . for that is the place you have been looking for.

The famous 36-year-old words of an imaginary Indian, who scolded the waste of the white man, returns for a new generation still concerned about the destruction of natural resources.

The Indian's letter of disgust first came into print in The Farmer-Stockman magazine in May, 1940. It has since been frequently and widely quoted. The letter was originally written by O. I. Enfield of Arnett, Oklahoma as an entry in a contest conducted by the magazine. Readers were invited to write a story to go with two photographs: one of a dilapidated farmhouse, the other of an eroded field. Enfield's letter follows:

"Both pictures show white man crazy. Make big teepee. Plow hill. Water wash; wind blow soil. Grass gone, land gone, squaw too. Papoose gone. No chuckaway, no pig, no com, no cow, no hay, no pony. Indian no plow land. Keep grass. Buffalo eat. Indian eat buffalo. Hide make teepee, make moccasin. Indian no make terrace, no build dam. All time eat. No hunt job, no hitch-hike, no ask relief. No shoot pig. Great Spirit make grass. Indian no waste anything. Indian no work. White man heap loco."

Lt. and Mrs. Claude T. While there they also visited in Jal, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clent Kniffen, Rita, David, Keith and Wendy. They also visited Bob Lettingham, formerly of Sonora and Eldorado.

Lorie Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Davis of Stephenville, visited her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Davis for a week. John David Fields, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Fields, is working as field secretary for his fraternal organization. He took the job for a year, and his duties will consist of considerable traveling to different states.

Odom were her mother and aunt, Mrs. L. O. Biggs and Mrs. C. V. Ball of Marble Falls.

The Rev. and Mrs. Lea Roy Aldwell spent the July 4 weekend visiting Mr. and Mrs. Amer B. Whitehead in Ciudad Acuna, Mexico.

Mrs. Johnny Hamby is visiting in Sonora. She lives in Kingsville with her son, John Stanley Hamby.

Mike Ellis, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Lea Roy Aldwell, is in New York City for a month's seminar studying at the Presbyterian Hospital and Columbia University. While in New York City he is also visiting Mr. and Mrs. R. Edward Aldwell. GLASSCOCK REUNION

Fifty-three members of the Glasscock family attended a family reunion at the Jamie Glasscock ranch in Sheffield July 3-5. All family members attending were from Texas, except the Jim D. Green family of Eureka, California and Johnny Glasscock of Santa Ana, California.

Mr. and Mrs. John T. King, Holly and Ellen are vacationing in Corpus Christi this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Nevill and Mr. and Mrs. John Ed Nevill and children of Eastland, spent the holiday weekend in Fort Davis and vicinity.

Changes In Store For Texas Farmers

Many changes are in store for Texas farmers during the next decade, according to an article written for the Texas Business Review by associate editor Robert H. Ryan.

The magazine is published monthly by the Bureau of Business Research at the University of Texas at Austin. Ryan predicts a stronger trend toward consolidation of small farms into larger ones, increased mechanization and livestock production, greatly improved grain crops, and the use of new techniques such as agricultural surveying by airplane and satellite to determine irrigation and fertilizer needs. Also predicted is expansion of income from such activities as hunting leases, catfish farming and forestry.

Museum News

Mrs. Paul Turney and Mrs. Sim Glasscock kept the Miers Home Museum open last Thursday.

A number of people called during the opening hours and they included Bill Stallworth, Ward and Suzanne Stallworth of Houston; Mrs. George Phillips; Mrs. Thomas Gibson and Lynn Gibson of McAllen, and Mrs. D. T. Womack of Kingsville, O. G. Babcock, Mrs. Joe Brown Ross and Joe William Ross and Mrs. Ben Cusenbary. The museum is getting a number of more interesting items daily, according to Mrs. Cusenbary, president of the Sutton County Historical Society. A recent addition of interest was the land compass used by Mr. Edgar C. Saunders when he first started surveying in Sutton County. The compass was sent to the museum from a man in Brady.

Mrs. Bryan Hunt will open the museum this Thursday for the benefit of the public from 3-5 p. m.

Joyce Hearn-Luther Chalk

Marry At Methodist Church

Miss Joyce Hearn and Luther Chalk were united in marriage at the First United Methodist Church, July 3 at 6 p. m. The Rev. John Weston, pastor of the church, officiated at the ceremony.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Hearn, and the bridegroom's parents are George D. Chalk and the late Mrs. Chalk.

The bride wore a blue and white lace street length dress. Attendants were Mrs. Quinton Rogers of San Antonio, who served as matron of honor and the best man was Allen Hearn, cousin of the bride.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

Both are graduates of Sonora High School, and the bride is employed at the First National Bank.

Following a short honeymoon to Fort Davis, the couple will be at home here.

Six-year-old Robert W. Patch, who designed a toy truck, was the youngest inventor ever to receive a patent.

Wiener Sauerkraut Salad

Shredded white cabbage soaked in brine brings a twinkle to an old German's eye, especially when it's served with sausage! Wiener Sauerkraut Salad will also bring a twinkle to a young homemaker's eye as this delicious main meal costs less than a quarter per serving! Radishes and green pepper are added for color and crunch. And the salad is served cold with a sour cream-mayonnaise dressing.

A whole pound of wieners makes this a meal in itself. Because the wieners are fully cooked when you buy them, all you need do is slice them, combine with the other ingredients and serve. Here's a quick tip for slicing wieners from Ellen Edwards, home economist from Oscar Mayer & Co. First remove package from the refrigerator and separate the twin units. Using a sharp knife, cut crosswise through links, package and all, in thin slices. Pop pieces in salad directly from the package. This eliminates the time and trouble of removing each link and slicing it individually.

Wiener Sauerkraut Salad

- 1 package (1 lb.) Oscar Mayer Wieners
- 1 can (1 lb.) sauerkraut, drained
- 1 bunch radishes
- 1/2 green pepper
- 1/2 cup dairy sour cream
- 1/2 cup mayonnaise

Cut wieners into thin slices. Slice radishes and chop green pepper; toss all with sauerkraut. Chill thoroughly. For dressing, blend sour cream with mayonnaise and add to salad. Makes 5 servings.

Looking Back . . .

MAUDS SALOON was a landmark in Sonora for many years. (It was offered for sale as early as 1895. In 1899 there was a bowling alley in connection with it.) Pictured, left to right, were John McNicol (the first surveyor), Goerg Mayfield, unidentified man, Charlie Bryson, man not positively identified, Jim Barton, Jeff Pierson, Boosie Sharp, and Nath Thompson.

The identification of Mr. Thompson is not certain. Some persons believe the bearded man standing next to Jim Barton to be Uncle Johnny Johnson; however, others say that Mr. Johnson was a younger man at the time this picture was taken. The picture is dated as an old one by the kerosene lamps used for lighting.
