Broncos Advance To Regional Play

by KAY KERBOW

Milton Noel picked up an otherwise lifeless offense as he ran for two touchdowns in the 4th quarter. Out for three weeks with a hamstring pull, Noel came into the game early in the fourth quarter and got the ball rolling. His efforts proved to be the turning point of a game that might have gone either way as the Broncos managed a 23-6 verdict over a scrappy Goldthwaite Eagle unit.

The underdog Goldthwaite Eagle unit must be applauded for their heroic play against the much larger Sonora team. The defense did a superb job by containing the explosive Sonora offensive unit until the fourth quarter when the Broncos superiority prevailed.

The Broncos first score came on a one yard quarterback sneak by Eddie Sutton after Arnold Samaniego returned a punt to the Eagle 28 yard line. Mike Taylor's point after was good, and the Broncos went ahead 7-0 with 2:19 remaining in the first quarter.

Football Tickets

Tickets for the Sonora-Aledo Regional game at Bobcat Stadium in San Angelo, Saturday may be purchased at the Chamber of Commerce office Friday and at Foodway Saturday until 1 p.m.

James Pollard, high school principal, announced that these firms have agreed to sell the tickets as an accommodation to the general public, since the high school office closed Wednesday for Thanksgiving.

Jimmy Cade and Milton Noel combined to give the Broncos excellent field position and ultimately a touchdown. Noel intercepted a Johnny Johnson pass but bobbed it, luckily into Cade's hands and he progressed to the Eagle 28-yard line.

The tough Goldthwaite defense stiffened and held the Broncos to fourth and eleven, forcing Sonora's Taylor to kick a 27 yard field goal. The half ended 10-0 in the Broncos favor.

The second half was almost a repeat of the first, but Noel's fourth quarter rambles broke the game open.

Goldthwaite put together a 73 yard drive, consuming nine minutes with 21 plays, but the heralded Bronco defense held and Sonora took over on its own 16. Sonora easily marched the length of the field with Noel accounting for the majority of the yardage and he scored from six yards out, carrying the entire right side of the Eagle line with him. The PAT was bobbed but Sonora led 16-0.

Another Goldthwaite threat mounted but Johnson threw once too often and Sonora's Rick Street grabbed it at the one.

Noel thrilled the fans at San Angelo stadium with an 87 yard scamper straight up the field to give Sonora a comfortable 23-0 lead after Taylor's PAT.

Johnson and team finally put together a scoring drive as they went 63 yards for their lone score. Sam Watson took the ball over from the four but the try for two failed and the game ended 23-6, Sonora's win.

The Sonora defense proved to be unyielding when the chips were down thwarting the Eagles all night long. The Eagles picked up 311 yards, but the going got tough against the Bronco defense when they got close to the goal line.

The Broncos will play Aledo in San Angelo Saturday night at 7:30 in the regional contest.

BRONCOS WILLIE GUTIERREZ AND EDDIE SUTTON exhibit unrestrained joy along with their teammates when they were awarded the Bi-District trophy after defeating the Goldthwaite Eagles in play last Saturday night at San Angelo stadium. Head Coach Jerry Hopkins and other high school coaches were on hand to join in the victory celebration. Sonora Broncos meet the Aledo Bearcats in San Angelo Saturday night in the Regional contest. Aledo defeated Lake Dallas last week to win bi-district and advance to regional competition against Sonora.

Grassland's Restoration And Effect On Wildlife Publication Released

by E. L. Seidensticker, SCS

The Soil Conservation Service has just released a new booklet "Grassland Restoration and its Effect on Wildlife". This publication discusses the important and valuable wildlife aspects of grassland restoration.

The grasslands of Texas are a great renewable resource. A majority of our wildlife are produced on the state's 118-million acres of grassland; but so are cattle, sheep and goats.

How can landowners best manage their rangeland for both wildlife and livestock? What effect, if any, does brush control have on wildlife? What are the habitat requirements to produce bigger and healthier game animals? These are some of the questions that the booklet attempts to answer.

The publication explains the habitat requirements, both food and cover, for deer, turkey, quail, pronghorn antelope, doves, song birds and other wildlife. The booklet also discusses habitat manipulation, or brush control, and its effect on wildlife. Some types of brush control can be very beneficial to both wildlife and livestock. Another very important aspect discussed in the booklet is the harvesting of game animals. Game animals and birds are a part of the crop produced on grasslands. Like any other crop, they should be harvested to keep them in balance with the food and cover available.

Game animals play a very important part in the economy of the Edwards Plateau. The Edwards Plateau soil and water conservation district is also interested in preserving this great natural resource. Interested ranchmen may obtain this booklet from the local Soil Conservation Service Office in the Sutton County Courthouse.

The most effective single force in building a good community is a good newspaper.

Thanksgiving Day 1970

The spirit of Thanksgiving encompasses many principles and ideals which deserve daily as well as annual tribute. Certainly, Thanksgiving Day is a meaningful and cherished holiday, and it is right that we have set aside a special occasion to count our blessings and good fortune. In so doing we are continually grateful that we live in a land where people can still laugh, dream, hope and speak their minds and worship as they please.

Our Founding Fathers had great vision. They saw for the future of our country a promise of hope, right, justice, freedom, and equality for men and women who braved the dangers to enjoy these blessings from God. And all but the most cynical would have to admit that our Nation has made extraordinary progress in striving for these goals. No other country has ever done more to promote the spiritual and material needs of its citizens.

A noted American author and editor once stated, "There never was a land that better deserved the love of her people than America, for here never was a mother-country kinder to her children. She has given to them all that she could give. . . Millions upon millions of men have lived here with more comfort, with less fear, than any such numbers elsewhere in any age have lived. Countless multitudes, whose forefathers from the beginning of human life on earth have spent weary lives in unrewarded toil, in anxiety, in helplessness, in ignorance, have risen here, in the course of even a single generation, to the full and secure enjoyment of the fruits of their labor, to confident hope, to intelligent possession of their own faculties. Is not the land to be dearly loved in which this is possible, in which this has been achieved?" Truly, this American was imbued with the spirit of Thanksgiving.

Our nation does possess a heritage which is unique in the history of man. But today this heritage with its religious ideals and moral principles means practically nothing to many Americans. They do not seem to recognize nor appreciate the rewards of self-government. To them, duty, individual responsibility, enterprise self-respect and obedience of the law are tenets of oppression. They demand and expect "the good life," but without personal sacrifice or effort. The true meaning of Thanksgiving, as experienced in the humble and devout tribute by the early settlers, is lost on them.

Let us earnestly join in the observance of Thanksgiving. But let the spirit of Thanksgiving not be a scheduled sentiment which we turn on once a year. Rather, let it be an abiding testimony, a recognizable symbol of our daily faith—our faith in ourselves, our faith in our country, and our faith in God.

He Wants To Know What Happens When The Whole World Can't Meet Its Debts

Editor's note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his bitter-wood ranch on Dry Devil's River reviews the world's financial situation this week, more or less.

Dear editor:

To get my mind off some bills needing to be paid last night I turned to a newspaper I'd been saving and found an article that made me feel better immediately.

According to it, 93 nations are in debt to the United States. have been for years, and very few are even keeping up with the interest. In fact, the last time the government figured up the interest was in 1965, when somebody did it apparently just to be doing, you know, busy work, and it amounted to $20,691,309,517.10. Nobody is quite sure what the total of interest and principal is and nobody really wants to know, since most of it will never be paid.

Anyway, it runs into the billions of dollars and the reason it's not being re-paid is that all 93 nations are head over heels in debt to themselves, aren't taking in enough tax money to meet their own budgets.

In fact, there's not a country on earth that's not going further and further in debt, including the United States, and I got to wondering.

What happens when the whole world goes broke? Who forecloses and what does he do with it when he gets it? Auction it off?

I can see the ads now: "To be sold at public auction: 210 repossessed nations, a few demonstrator models, all on an as-is, where-is basis. All terms cash. Seller makes no warranties as to the condition or working order of any of these items."

You can see this would be a holy mess and something ought to be done to head it off. We can't allow the whole world to lose its credit rating.

I'm going to give it some serious thought, just as soon as I get out from under my own debts and get some free time to think. Don't wait on me. Yours faithfully, J. A.

Good Handling Of Deer Can Save The Venison

So the fun part is over. You've shot your buck deer. What now? Proper handling of a deer carcass can mean the difference between an assortment of tasty chops in the freezer or a total loss of valuable meat.

Prospective deerlayers should bone up on deer skinning and processing procedures.

Game Management Officer Grover Simpson of Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, says the first thing the successful hunter should do after shooting a deer and making sure it's dead is to tag the animal. Then without delay, the deer should be field-dressed.

One important note: Contrary to popular belief, there's no need to cut the deer's throat to bleed it. The bleeding will be accomplished during the field dressing process.

The carcass is then rolled onto its side, and the layer of meat which is holding the entrails to the ribs is cut all the way down to the backbone. The deer is rolled over and the process is repeated on the other side. The entrails then can be pulled from the body cavity.

Then the deer is lifted by the hind legs and propped up on its back with rocks or some other suitable object, so a knife can be used to separate the bones of the pelvis. Then the carcass should be hung by the antlers or head for about 20 minutes to allow blood drainage. If no tree is handy, turn the deer with the check

The deer is propped on its back and an incision is made from its pelvic bone clear through the rib cage and as far up the neck as possible, with care taken not to puncture the entrails. The windpipe is cut as high up the neck as possible and is pulled downward.

The skinning can begin at once. (If the deer is to be mounted, it should be hung by its hind legs) The skin comes off more easily while the deer is still warm, so the animal should be skinned within two hours.

To remove the skin, cut it down the inside of each leg to the middle of the body. Then the skin is cut around the neck as close to the head as possible. Then the skin is pulled away from the neck. A knife must be used to separate the skin from the legs and other places the skin sticks tightly to the meat.

The deer should then be taken to camp and hung in a tree by the hind legs for four or five hours. This allows the tiny blood vessels to drain back and out toward the heart region.

The carcass should be wrapped in a sheet or cheesecloth and kept hanging until cool. It may then be cut up as desired.

A fuller explanation of the process, with accompanying illustrations, may be obtained from the Department's headquarters at the John H. Reagan Building, Austin, Texas 78701.

THE MOST VALUABLE PART OF YOUR TANK IS GONE WHEN YOU HAVE IT PUMPED!

This is important! When someone calls at your home with a truck and tells you that your tank is almost full, that is correct. It has to be full to be filtering properly, and the most harmful thing you could do would be to have it pumped, for pumping destroys the most valuable part of your tank. Pumping doesn't clean your lines or eliminate odors and you pay an enormous price for the harm done.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Lipstick: A Job Hazard

Near the end of her lunch hour, a stenographer sat down in the company lounge to put on lipstick. But she lost her balance and fell, suffering a back injury. Could she collect workmen's compensation?

The company insisted that the girl was not entitled to compensation because she was not "on the job" when hurt. Nevertheless, a court upheld her claim.

"Applying cosmetics was not an abandonment of her employment," said the judge. "It added to her comfort and self-esteem, and thereby permitted her to more efficiently concentrate upon her duties."

Generally speaking, workmen's compensation covers injuries that occur not only during the work itself but also during other activities closely related to the job. For example, it applies while an employee is getting a drink of water or going to the lavatory.

In fact, workmen's compensation may apply even before the day's work has begun. Take this case:

A hotel waitress, arriving early, headed first for the powder room to change into working shoes. On the way, she slipped and broke her arm. Even though she had not yet been on the job, she was held entitled to workmen's compensation—because changing her shoes was so closely related to her work.

However, the law usually will not approve a compensation claim if the victim's activity was in violation of company rules and regulations.

In another case, a bakery worker was injured while trying Everyone loves a bargain—whether it's Mother in the local supermarket, or Dad laying in a supply of shotgun shells for the hunting season or Junior buying his candy bars at three for a dime. And what fun it is to tell our friends of the lucky purchase—even if, in the final accounting, the results are somewhat dubious!

But think of the many bargains about which we have no doubt — really big, genuine bargains... like the beautiful color of leaves on an autumn day or the aroma of roast turkey that's in the kitchen stove at this very minute. And, since it's Thanksgiving, it is only appropriate that we should mention the tremendous bargain of our heritage and freedom.

When you come to think of it, we are always getting more than we are giving. We are on the receiving end. The biggest part of our life — the overwhelming part of our life — is what is given to us.

Let us then become conscious of our moment-by-moment dependence on God, the awareness of life as a gift. For what is religion but receiving, seeing, believing, praising and thanking God?

A&M - U of T Honor Prisoners

Two arch football rivals, the University of Texas and Texas A&M University, have united in dedicating their traditional Thanksgiving Day gridiron clash in Austin Thursday to Americans who are prisoners of war or missing in action in Southeast Asia.

At least 25 graduates and former students of the two universities are among the 1500-plus American servicemen who are missing in action. Some 430 of the 1,500 are known to be prisoners.

A dedication statement prior to the game will call the crowd's attention to the fact that some of the men have been in prison longer than six years, and that North Vietnam is ignoring her Geneva Convention agreements regarding humane treatment of war prisoners.

The Memorial Stadium ceremony will include a "Missing Man" flyover by four Air Force RF-4 Phantom jets from Bergstrom AFB, Texas. One aircraft will peel away from the formation in honor of Americans from all the armed services who are missing or imprisoned.

Reserve Officer Training Corps cadets from the University of Texas will be at the gates collecting spectators' signatures on petitions to North Vietnam requesting humane treatment for the prisoners.

Specifically, North Vietnam has never disclosed a full list of the prisoners; has not released the seriously ill and wounded, has not allowed a free exchange of mail between the prisoners and their families and has not allowed impartial inspection of her prisons.

Welcome Wagon Hostess Named

Mrs. Billie M. Cockrell has completed a course of training in San Angelo preparing for the position of Sonora's Welcome Wagon hostess.

Mrs. Cockrell resides at 1604 Tayloe Avenue and is one of 6,000 Welcome Wagon hostesses who make more than a million calls annually on families in more than 4,000 cities.

Welcome Wagon calls on families on occasions as when they move into a new home, when there is a new baby, and when an engagement is announced. They also participate in special events such as golden wedding anniversaries, installation of new civic and governmental officials, visiting dignitaries, and other occasions important to the family or community.

With her "most famous basket in the world", Mrs. Cockrell will extend to the families upon whom she calls the hand of friendship and helpfulness.

Mrs. Cockrell has lived here for 12 years.

A Bishop Looks at Life Great People

By Everett H. Jones, Retired Bishop of the Episcopal Church

One of my favorite ways to approach the season of Thanksgiving is to remember the "great people" I have known. I use the phrase in a special sense. I do not refer primarily to those who make headlines (though some of these may be included) but I am thinking of those, prominent or obscure, who have somehow enriched my life.

This enrichment has come to me through their generous friendship, or their habit of loving concern for others, or the way they have met crises and responsibilities in their own lives.

My list of great people begins with those I remember out of childhood and youth, — relatives, teachers, ministers, friends and fellow-students. The thing they all have in common is that they made me feel "accepted"; they believed in me more than I believed in myself; they helped me see my own potentiality.

The list grows to include those with whom I have been associated in the different places where I have lived, in the work I have done, in the causes in which I have been interested. It is not limited to the past but includes many persons I know and touch in my life today.

Homemakers Nutrition Recipes

This is the tenth in a series of recipes presented by Mrs. A. E. Prugel, homemaking teacher, as an aid to homemakers in preparing low-cost, nutritious meals.

MASTER MIX:
A real time saver for a homemaker who has little time or energy for food preparation is the Master Mix. It can be stored at room temperature and will keep for six weeks without refrigeration. It meets many needs from breakfast to supper and in between and it can be used for everything from bread to dessert.

Recipe:
9 cups sifted all-purpose flour; 1/3 cup double acting baking powder; 1 tablespoon salt; 2 teaspoons cream of tartar; 1/4 cup sugar; 2 cups shortening which does not require refrigeration; 1 cup nonfat dry milk.
Stir milk, baking powder, salt, cream of tartar and sugar into flour. Sift together 2 times into a large mixing bowl. Cut in shortening with a pastry blender until the mix is the consistency of corn meal. Store in covered containers at room temperature. To measure the master mix, pile it lightly into cup and level off with a spatula or table knife.

BISCUITS:
3 cups master mix, 2/3 to 1 cup water.
Add water to the mix all at once, stirring 25 strokes. Knead 15 to 18 times on lightly floured board. Roll 1/2 inch thick. Cut. Bake on baking sheet at 450 degrees 10 to 12 minutes. Makes 18, 2-inch biscuits. You might like to add about 1 tablespoon fat to these biscuits to make them lighter; either oleo, shortening or bacon drippings.

NUT BREAD:
3 cups mix, 1/2 cup sugar; 1/2 cup chopped pecans; 1 cup milk; 1 egg; raisins if you wish.

Stir sugar and chopped nuts into mix. Combine milk and beaten egg. Add to the mix, stirring until well blended. Add raisins. Pour into 5x8 inch loaf pan. Bake at 350 degrees for one hour.

CARD OF THANKS

We want to thank all our friends and neighbors for the nice cards, letters and gifts while in Houston. Also for the kind deeds and gifts after we returned home. God bless you all.
Lonnie and Myrl Taylor. 1p

I reach out to include those heroes who speak to me in a special way out of their writings or from the pages of history. They are very real even though I have not met them face to face; they have qualities I admire; their thoughts have helped to shape my thoughts.

As I contemplate the list I have made I am filled with a sense of wonder and gratitude that God has been so lavish in His distribution of great people. Why not make your own list as part of your Thanksgiving?

Snips, Quips, And Lifts

by LOTTIE LEE BAKER

Oh dear, dear November— You've lots of pleasant things— And not the least of these is the joy Thanksgiving brings.

—Fall is the season when you find out who won—the moths or the mothballs.

—Then there was the computer that refused to work until it was promised two circuit breaks a day.

—You're middle-aged if, when the air is springy you're not.

—Imagination is what makes politicians think they are statesmen.

—Inflation hasn't ruined everything. A dime still makes a good screwdriver.

—Gold is just another method of beating around the bush.

—Poise is the ability to talk fluently while the other fellow is paying the check.

—The difference between a junior and senior executive may be as much as forty pounds.

—Teen-agers aren't interested in putting their shoulders to the wheel—they just want to get their hands on it.

—FISHERMAN: A guy who thinks a fish should bite on a fancy lure just because he did.

—If you think you don't have any friends, just rent a cottage on the beach sometime.

—Sometimes I sit and contemplate the rat race I am in, but the awful thing about it is I'm afraid the rats will win.

—Moderation is the silken string running through the pearl chain of all virtues.

TEEN SCENE

By KAY KERBOW

We're going to have to build a new trophy case for our numerous trophies. The ones we've got are already filled to the brim, but if we keep winning trophies I'm sure we'll find a place to keep them!

One more trophy was added Friday night when the Broncos won the Bi-district title by defeating the Goldthwaite Eagles by a 23-6 margin. This win entitles the Sonora Broncos to advance to the Regional play-off against the Aledo Bearcats in San Angelo stadium Saturday night at 7:30. Aledo defeated Lake Dallas 33-7 to entitle them to advance to Regional.

Football spirit is high at SHS and the students live from game to game. Not only the students and team members have this spirit but also the faculty and administration exhibit the spirit that has created the Bronco tradition—winning!

We will be the home team against the Bearcats, a position many say is bad luck, but the Broncos will show everyone that a good team is a good team no matter which side of the field we sit on!

Nearly all of the players are healthy this week—knock on wood! Kerry Joy's knee seems to be better and according to Dr. Joy, he will be ready for action Saturday night in almost tip top condition. Milton Noel's leg must be on the mend as he ran an 87-yard touchdown! If it's not perfectly healed, I guess everyone will have to settle for a 50 yard run Saturday night.

Bruce Kerbow saw a little action prematurely against the Eagles as he was tackled by a Goldthwaite pass receiver as Kerbow stood on the sideline. Kerbow wasn't hurt but the asphalt strip along the sideline has a dent where he flipped and hit his head and landed in a theatrical pose facing the stands. Talk about a grandstand player! THE WILD BUNCH FROM ROBBERS' ROOST posed in Fort Worth for photographer Schwartz and this picture became their undoing. Seated l to r are Harry Longbaugh, Ben Kilpatrick and George Parker alias "Butch Cassidy". Standing are Will Carver and Harvey Logan alias "Kid" Curry. So ex-
