4-H'ERS ARE BUSILY PREPARING for the twenty-fourth annual Sutton County Show and Sale scheduled for January 16 at the 4H Center. County Agent D.C. Langford is demonstrating the proper way to ready the lambs for the show. The regular livestock show will start at 9 a.m., Saturday, January 16 with judging of club lambs (trimmed lambs.) Presentation of all awards will be made at 7 p.m. Many local and area businessmen, ranchmen and others contribute to the success of the show annually.

Droughty Conditions Prevail In Edwards Plateau Regions

By E. B. Keng, SCS Technician
Before the end of the 1951-57 drought many ranchmen in the Edwards Plateau soil and water conservation district were saying emphatically "never again will I be caught in a drought with short grass and too many livestock".

Once again, however, many ranchmen are in this predicament. Three dry summers, with above average winter moisture, has seriously reduced the production and ground cover of native grass. Thus far the 1970/71 winter is extremely dry, and expensive feed bills are probable.

With the fluctuating rainfall in the Sonora area, and the historic recurrence of drought, keeping livestock and forage in balance is one of the most difficult tasks ranchmen must face. Too often, by the time drought becomes an established fact, the grass is gone. Markets, salability of livestock, income tax, and other factors complicate the picture.

Most experienced ranchmen will agree that financial losses incurred during drought—from high feed bills, death losses and low livestock production—are vital to success or failure in the ranching business. Many ranchmen never recover financially from losses sustained during drought. With drought in West Texas as certain as the proverbial "death and taxes", what can ranchmen do to alleviate or avoid extreme financial reverses?

There are several guidelines which can help ranchmen to stay ready or get ready for drought. First, moderate to light stocking with breeding animals will help keep the best possible grass reserve on the ground at all times. With a good reserve of strong grass on the ground to catch and use what rain does fall, the short-term drought will cause little concern. Choice breeding animals should make up not more than 75% of total livestock, with the other 25% consisting of dry animals or breeding animals that could be moved quickly.

Are there any dependable clues to indicate when drought reductions should be made? The long-time weather patterns seem to offer the best clues. We depend primarily on warm season grasses for livestock feed. With November through March averaging only about one inch of moisture per month, winter growing vegetation is very undependable.

Historically, we have a primary rainfall and growth peak in April, May and June, and a secondary growth peak in September-October. If a ranchman is short of rainfall in either period, drought trouble is indicated and livestock should be adjusted quickly.

If rainfall is short in the spring lambs, calves and dry animals may be marketed early (July) to conserve grass. The same is true of the fall period. If rainfall is lacking in both spring and fall periods, real trouble is indicated and livestock reductions should be severe to avoid serious overgrazing and heavy feed bills.

With the increasing value of deer in the Sonora area it is even more important to make early adjustments in livestock. Sheep, goats and cattle, with supplemental feed, can survive longer on drought-depleted ranges than can deer.

Rambouillet Sheep Breeders Contacted For India Sale

Fred Campbell, director of District #5 of the American Rambouillet Sheep Breeders Association, Gerald Porter of Ft. Stockton, president, Rod Richardson, Iraan, director of District #4 and Ed Whitesides of the State Agriculture Department flew to Washington D.C. December 23, to negotiate with representatives of the India Government on the sale of registered Rambouillet sheep. Presently there are indications that the sale will be made within 30 days, according to the association secretary.

NEW BUSINESS OPENS
George Richburg of San Antonio, and Joe Wilson have opened a new business here in the Penick building. It will be known as the Sonora Welding Company and will offer a general welding service, as well as custom trailers.

The India Government is interested in purchasing 1,380 ewes and 160 rams.

Letters have been mailed to all members of the American Rambouillet Sheep Breeders asking each member to list the number of animals they have to sale. All animals have to meet health requirements and will be inspected by a committee. A sale of this nature was made in March, 1968 and the Indians are well pleased with the progress the Rambouilleters are making in India, added a spokesman for the group.

Registration Renewal Applications Mailed

If you own one or more of the more than seven million motor vehicles in Texas, some important mail has probably come your way early in January.

It is your registration renewal application. This is the second year of operation for the new, easy computerized registration procedure devised by the Texas Highway Department.

Last year, the system greatly reduced bothersome waits and long lines which plagued vehicle owners at county tax offices and substations in years past.

Prospects are that the system will work even better this year.

Also, it is not necessary to present last year's registration receipt of the certificate of title. The renewal application you will receive in the mail is all you will need.

Registration begins February 1 and continues through April 1.

The renewal application arrives in the mail in a slender envelope marked, "Important—This is Your License Plate Renewal Application."

The application is a three-part form with instructions printed on it. One important thing to remember is THE CARD SHOULD NOT BE TORN APART.

After the registration period begins February 1, each vehicle owner can take the renewal application and the fee to his county tax office, or he can order his plates by mail.

If the owner wishes to register his vehicle by mail, he should send the entire three-part renewal application, the fee and an additional $1 to the local county tax office as early as January with the understanding that his license plates may not be mailed until February 1.

The additional $1 charge covers cost of handling and postage.

If owners are to receive their plates by mail before the April 1 deadline, then they must send the renewal form, fee and $1 for each vehicle to be registered to the local county tax office by March 1. This allows 30 days for delivery of the plates before the April 1

FIRST BABY BORN HERE ARRIVES Jan. 2

An Ozona mother, Mrs. Margaret Villareal, gave birth to the first child, a boy, born in Hudspeth Memorial Hospital for the year of 1971. The baby was born January 2, at 8:15 a.m.

Duplicate Bridge Winners Told

Seven table Mitchell was played at the Sonora Duplicate Bridge Club Monday night at the Sonora Golf Club building.

North-South winners were Mrs. Lou Hilmer of San Antonio and Vivian Mears. Tying for second-third places were Mrs. Joe Luce, Mrs. Brooks Sweeten, Mrs. Merlin Davis and Mrs. Johnnie Davis, all of Rocksprings.

East-West winners were Mrs. Jack Whitworth and Mrs. Jack Harris, first; Mrs. Stubbs and Jack Harry, second, and third, Mrs. J. E. Tatum and Mrs. J. E. Epperson, all of Rocksprings.

Playing bridge were three tables of players from Rocksprings, one table from Eldorado and two and one-half tables from here.

The next game is planned for January 11 at 7 p.m., and all bridge players are welcome, according to Miss Mears.

registration deadline. If the owner decides to go to the county tax office or substation, he will find shorter waiting lines.

All he needs to take with him is the renewal application and the fee. He will then receive his new plates and part of the form as his receipt.

Another part of the form is retained by the county and the third is sent to the Motor Vehicle Division of the Texas Highway Department in Austin.

However the owner may decide to register his vehicle, by mail or in person, use of the renewal form will be more convenient and timesaving.

The current registration system is the product of much work and planning. The system began to take shape in 1967 with the installation of the first computer equipment by the Motor Vehicle Division of the Highway Department.

Sonora Volunteer Fire Department Elects New Chief For Coming Year

Sonora firemen elected Darcy Carroll their Fire Chief at the December 23 meeting. He has been a member of the department for thirteen years and has served as assistant chief five of those years. He has represented Sonora by attending Firemen's Training School for three years and has been an instructor at the school for two years. Carroll is a past president of the Hill Country Firemen's District Association.

J. C. Luttrell, immediate past chief of the local organization, presented his resignation at the meeting with the following statement:

"Due to health and business reasons I have resigned as Fire Chief of the Sonora Fire Department, but will continue as a member and devote all the time I can to helping the department.

I want to thank all Sonorans and Sutton Countians for their excellent support of our fire department. We now have the best equipped and best trained volunteer fire department in Texas.

I also want to congratulate all our citizens for being so careful with fire during the summer months and for a fire-free Christmas".

Bill Collins, Lions Speaker Tuesday

The Lions Club program January 12 should be both interesting and informative. The speaker, Bill Collins, who is with the Industrial Development Division of Lone Star Gas Company, will discuss "Rural Texas—10 Years From Now".

Collins will use some of the latest census information along with research data from his company as well as the Texas Industrial Development Board, in an effort to predict what the future might be for Sonora. The Lions urge interested persons to make an effort to attend this meeting.

Alfred Schwiengings Observe Sixtieth Wedding Anniversary December 30

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Schwienging, well-known, longtime Sonorans, observed their 60th wedding anniversary December 30, at their home.

The couple married December 30, 1910 at the home of her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. George S. Allison. The Rev. J. D. Worrell, pastor of the Sonora Methodist Church at that time, officiated.

After their marriage, the couple went to the ranch that Mr. Schwienging had leased on the North Llano river, below what is now commonly known as Camp Allison. There they lived for eleven months before moving to a ranch in Sutton County. Later they bought a ranch on Epps Creek in Sutton County, where they continued to live until they moved to town to send their children to school. The Schwiengings still own the ranch, but he has retired from active ranching. Mrs. Schwienging was born here and has lived here all of her life, except for a few years spent on the ranch. She met her future husband at one of the old-time Llano barbecues and dances.

He is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schwienging of Mason County, and came with his parents to the Sonora area when a young man. He is a member of the Sonora Masonic Lodge and is a Shriner.

During World War I, he directed Red Cross work and has been active in community affairs. He was elected a City Commissioner in 1932 and re-elected in 1946. In December, 1947 he was named mayor of the city to fill a vacancy. In 1948 he was elected mayor and served until 1959, when he resigned because of ill health.

The Schwiengings have seven children. They are Mrs. Neil (Mary) Wilson, Harold Schwienging, Alfred Schwienging, Jr., Curt Schwienging, Sr., George S. Schwienging, Mrs. W. H. (Margaret) Barker and Mrs. Hut (Kathleen) Moore. They have thirteen grandchildren and sixteen great-grandchildren.

"Inherit The Wind" Presented Tonight

Tonight, Thursday, at 8 p.m., the curtain will rise on "Inherit The Wind", the speech club's second performance of the year.

For four and a half weeks the actors and crew have worked diligently to perfect their performances, in order that they may share with the audience their enjoyable experiences working with the ideas behind the play.

James Buchanan and the cast encourage all to attend what they believe to be, an entertaining performance of "Inherit The Wind" in the high school auditorium. Tickets, available at the door, are $1 for adults and 50¢ for children and students.

Approximately fifty high school students head up the cast and crew. Play production is being designed and directed by Buchanan.

He Has A Prescription For Improving The Country, Just Maybe, In 1971

Editor's note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his bitter-weed ranch on Dry Devil's River has a prescription for 1971.

Dear editor:
A long about this time of the year it's customary to try to look ahead and predict what's going to happen in the next twelve months, or anything to get your mind off what happened in the last twelve, but the prediction business is in poor standing these days, nothing seems to turn out the way the experts forecast, from V letnam to the economy to the football season, so I thought I'd switch.

Instead of saying what's going to happen, I'd like to suggest what ought to happen.
And if you put it in one sentence, what the world needs most in 1971 is to re-discover the ability to kid itself.
Everybody takes everything too seriously, from college students to world statesmen. All the leaders are afraid they're going to say the wrong thing or pick up the wrong fork. They have the idea everything you do has to be exactly right, everything you say has to be written down in advance.

I want to thank all my dear friends for their Christmas cards, gifts, flowers and visits during the holiday season. Sorry I cannot acknowledge each one of them personally. Mrs. Frank "Mama" Turney 1c18

A Bishop looks at Life Life Is Choice

By Everett H. Jones
Retired Bishop of the EPISCOPAL CHURCH

Recently there has been much discussion of the latest revolution in the world of television.

I refer to the growing introduction of the cassette, the small cartridge-like device that can be put in a slot on the television set to provide a movie or other program of one's choice.

On the one hand, there is joy in the new freedom to have programs suited to one's taste. These might be for children or for the elderly; they might be documentaries, travelogues, a course in religious education.

On the other hand, there is fear that the freedom will be abused and that there will be a new market for pornography, violence, nudity, and other harmful programs.

The discussion in this area points up the fact that we live increasingly in a world where there is a vast range of choice. It is difficult to enumerate the number of choices we make in a single day. Think of the choices one has in terms of books and magazines to read, automobiles to drive, or types of clothes to wear.

What a variety of food we can buy in a super-market! We can travel to any number of points in the world, and we can choose the way we prefer to get there.

It all means that even more than we realize life is a series of choices. These choices include those all-important ones that have to do with one's philosophy of life (or religious faith), one's choice of a life-partner, and one's choice of a vocation. They even include how long to wear one's hair, or how high to raise the hemline.

The beginning of a new year is not a bad time to meditate on God's incredible gift of freedom to His children. In a sense, this freedom is the mark of a man; his use of it is what makes him or breaks him.

This is true because no matter how free we are in life to make choices we are not free from the consequences of the choices we make.

Do you believe in the tremendous capabilities of man? Christians do . . .

Do you, on the other hand, believe that man is quite helpless to overcome many of the forces that threaten his progress? Christians do . . .

How can the same religion support such contradictory views?

Well, we take for granted that a tank-load of gasoline will propel an automobile many miles. But there are cold mornings when we can't even get the engine started. What is missing?

A spark! A continuing series of sparks! Never over-simplify the functioning of the human soul. Like the internal-combustion engine it can be powerless when denied the fire that unlocks its energy.

To be himself — to be all that God intended him to be — a man needs God.

Bring your hopes and frustrations to church next Sunday.

Copyrights And Copycats

To the would-be writer, few things are as precious as the words and ideas he has put together into a manuscript. Disquieting thoughts of literary copycats may cross his mind. Wouldn't it be wise to rush his manuscript off to Washington and have it copyrighted?

usually found on the back of the title page of a book).
Only after publication will the Copyright Office accept the material for registration. The registration, although not a copyright in itself, is useful in establishing the writer's rights in case of dispute.

Then what does protect his manuscript before it is published? It is protected, very effectively, by an ancient rule of law often called "common law copyright."
Under this rule, the writer owns his work automatically—just as the man who builds a bookcase owns it automatically. He need not go through any particular formalities in order to establish his rights.

Nor must he keep the manuscript secret to protect his "common law copyright." He may let friends read it. He may submit it to editors for possible sale. By doing so, he no more gives up his ownership than a person gives up ownership of a watch by submitting it to a jeweler for appraisal.

Furthermore, his ownership has no time limit. While an ordinary copyright cannot last more than 56 years, a "common law copyright" may last indefinitely—so long as the work remains unpublished.

In one famous case, an unpublished story of Mark Twain came into the possession of a collector. But his plans to publish the story

NEW YEAR—1971
It's fine to rever each passing year and know it holds memories sweet,
But looking back won't supply the lack, and it only brings defeat.
Why sit and pine? The present's so fine, and there's much work to do.
Let "The Good New Days" be your favorite phrase and that spirit will see you through.

TEEN SCENE

By KAY KERBOW

Monday morning brought an end to the lazy, fun-filled Christmas holidays and found all SHS'ers back at work rather reluctantly, I might add. With all the confusion to be seen, one might think it was the first day all over again—in a way, I guess it was.

If SHS has as good a year in 1971 as it did in 1970 all will be well, but I really can't see any way to improve last year. After all, 1970 saw SHS as the Class A State champion in football and what's better than that?

—SHS—

Finals are over much to the joy of all students—over until next semester's end, anyway, but that's a long way off, or is it? If this semester goes as fast as the last one, then all students better start cramming for the finals all over again!

The six weeks will officially end Friday. Report cards will be given out next Wednesday. All scheduled changes must be made before Friday so if you need to change and haven't you'd better get a move on.

—SHS—
Basketball is in full swing now since football has been concluded. All the boys were looking forward to relaxation after 15 weeks of football preparation but with two-a-day practices during the holidays, they didn't have time or energy to relax.

Their first game was Tuesday night in Junction as the girls' "A" and the boys' "A" and "B" traveled to Junction for the contest. District play for both girls and boys begins tomorrow at Bangs.

It's always interesting to watch the boys play basketball, a supposedly non-contact sport, after months of the very physical sport of football—especially in the first few games. Quite a few plays are made that no one would find in a book of orthodox basketball plays.

The boys hope to be district champs this year after finishing behind Mason last year as the second place team. Mason again appears to be the one to beat in boys' action, while Eldorado is once again predicted to rule girls' action.

—SHS—

James Buchanan and his speech club will present "Inherit the Wind", a trial drama, beginning at 8 p. m. in the high school auditorium tonight, Thursday, January 7.

Cast in leading roles are Rick Street and Rick Hill with Bruce Kerbow, Sarah Allison, Matt Davenport, Sandra Mounce, Roger Langford and "Rudd" Berger also playing substantial roles.

This play is along more serious, thought-provoking lines than was the past speech club production "Showstoppers". This production requires real acting ability and proper direction.

After long hours of rehearsal and personal sacrifice the speech club extends a personal invitation to everyone to see the play. Their reward comes from the knowledge of doing a good job for an audience. Tickets are on sale from any speech club member or at the door.

—SHS—

SHS wishes to express sorrow for the death of Marty Martinez, a recent graduate of Sonora High School and extend their kindest wishes to the family. Marty graduated last year and was a member of the Varsity football club and was well liked by all the students and faculty.

NOTES, COMMENTS

Thomas Dodd, Sen. (D-Conn), on narcotic control bill: "It will duly punish the youngster who experiments with marijuana; but it will not ruin him for life."

Paleolithic drawings of archers indicate that bows and arrows are an invention of at least 20,000 years ago.

ALONG WITH HAPPY NEW YEAR greetings, Rex Merriman's Gulf service station employees extended hearty congratulations to the winning Sonora Broncos, adding their felicitations to the 1966-68-70 State Champs.

1971. You've changed. We've changed.

Change. That's what it's all about this year. And that's what we mean by putting you first.

These are uneasy times. There are major concerns. About pollution. About safety. About the economy. About your hard-earned dollar. We know.

For the past 10 years Chevrolet research people have questioned thousands of people on every subject from rising taxes to the size of the glovebox in their cars.

We've found that price and maintenance costs, trade-in value and quality have become tremendously important.

Your car has to work. It has to last. And each new model must have more built-in value.

At Chevrolet, we understand. You want meaningful change. And our aim is to give that to you, as you'll see in the 1971 Chevrolets.

Caprice. The biggest, most luxurious Chevrolet ever. A complete change.

Bigness in itself is nothing. But if it allows you to lengthen the distance between the front and rear wheels (which we did), then you've got something.

You've got a smoother ride. The idea in the 1971 Caprice was to give you the looks and comfort of a six- or seven-thousand-dollar car, without asking you to pay anywhere near that much for it. And above all, to build in as much dependability and security as possible.

So we changed the body structure for 1971, too. We made it stronger. And we made it quieter by putting a double layer of steel in the roof.

Caprice, as you can see below, is a lot of luxury at a Chevrolet price.

Vega. The littlest Chevy ever. It wasn't changed from anything.

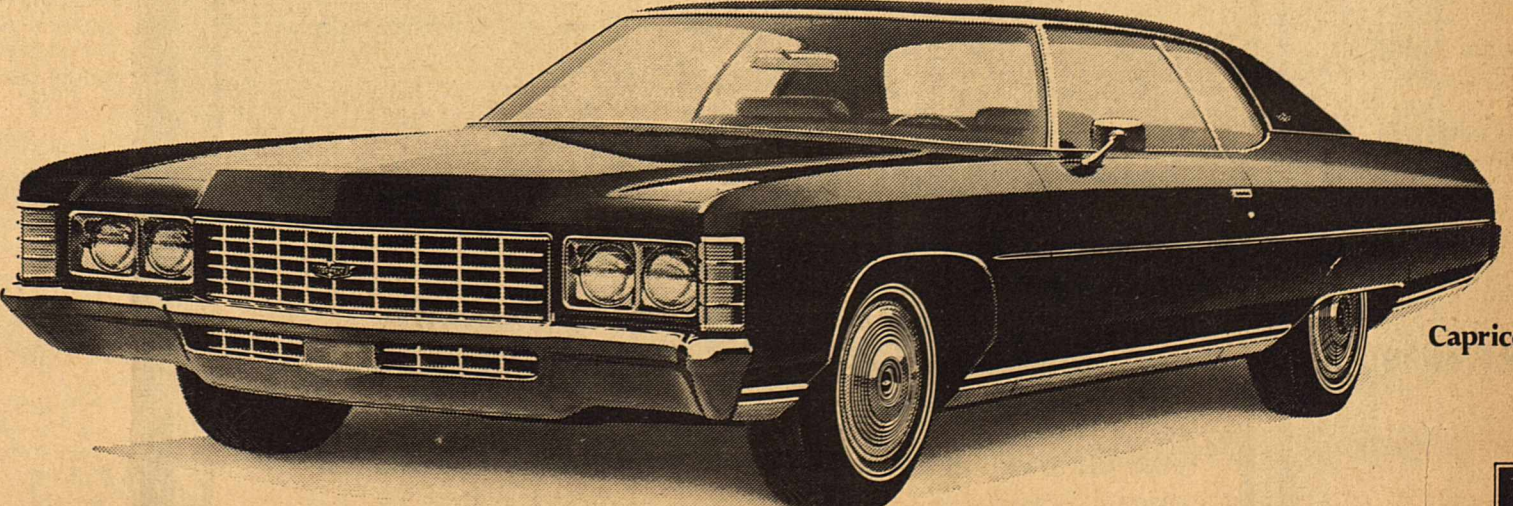

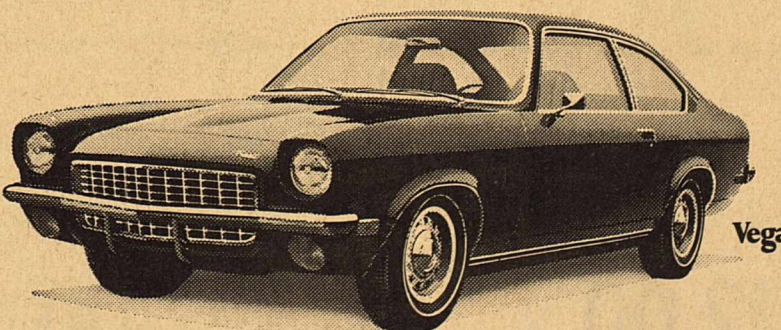

Before building Vega, we read everything we could get our hands on about little cars. We talked to owners. We studied little cars up one side and down the other and, literally, tore them apart. We found out what made them tick, or why they didn't tick.

What ticked were gas economy and dependability. What didn't were underpowered engines, cramped quarters and getting blown around in the wind.

In our little Vega, everything ticks. It's not just another little car. You didn't want that. It's one little car that does everything well.
