THE UNUSUAL MID-JANUARY ARRIVAL of two swans on the Bill Savell ranch caused much speculation among the family members and friends. Everyone wonders why the swans chose to make their appearance during such prolonged dry weather. This small pond of water, caused by overflow from the windmill water supply, probably seemed to be an oasis in the desert to the swans, since there has been no measurable rainfall in Sutton County for over 100 days. When Doyle Morgan asked Bill how the swans came, Bill replied, "well, I'm not sure whether they walked in or flew in, although I am certain of one thing—they sure didn't SWIM in!"

Mrs. E. P. Carroll's Mother Dies

Three other daughters and two sons also survive, as well as twenty-seven grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

School Board Meets

School Board members met Tuesday in a called meeting to accept the resignations of Jerry Hopkins, Dennie Hays and Mrs. Mike Puckett.

Superintendent of schools, Ken McAllister, said the Board accepted the resignations and persons interested in the openings should contact the superintendent's office.

All Angora goat producers and other interested persons are invited to attend, said D. C. Langford, county agent.

The program with Fred Campbell emceeing, includes speakers Robert Kensing, James Bassett, E. B. Keng and James Hunt, who will report on the European trip that was sponsored by the Mohair Council.

Mothers' March Set Wednesday

The National Foundation March of Dimes Mother's March will be held in Sonora Wednesday evening, January 27, announced Smith Neal, chairman of the drive. Mrs. Edwin Sawyer is chairman of the Mothers' March this year.

In 1969, Sonorans gave $719.29 and in 1970, they gave $948.25. Mailers have been sent to residents and coin envelopes have been distributed through all three schools—Elementary, Junior High and High School.

The Sutton County chapter solicits in three ways: Mothers' March, mailers sent to residents' mail boxes, and coin collectors sent to students in the schools. Through these three methods every citizen in Sutton County will have an opportunity to contribute.

"Some time Wednesday evening, some mother from your own neighborhood will call at your door for your contribution to aid in the fight against birth defects and the continued aid to polio victims. You might assist them by leaving your porch light on," Neal added.

Internal parasite control with Loxon will be discussed by a Cooper representative at 2:30 p. m., with Hunt's report to follow.

The young women—chosen by their individual school faculties and student bodies as DAR Good Citizen award recipients, were selected on the basis of dependability, service, leadership and patriotism. The 14 honorees are eligible for the state award.

Miss Mounce, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Mounce, is a member of the National Honor Society. She is a member of the Speech Club, editor of the school newspaper and a member of the annual staff. She is also a member of the high school choir and her church choir. High school principal James Pollard praised her highly for her work in the school and the community.

Jacoby, Langford Top Exhibitors At 4-H Show

Judges Dr. Frank Orts and Jim Gray for the on foot placings of carcass lambs for the 23rd annual 4-H Show and Sale were amazingly accurate in their placements in comparison with the placings of the slaughtered lamb carcasses.

The show held Saturday at the 4-H Center, found Renee Rousset's finewool lamb carcass entry being judged champion after placing first in the on-foot judging. Dean Saunders' second place entry also stood in an identical place in live judging of the finewool class.

Tony Renfro, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wallas Renfro, improved his standing in the carcass judging over on-foot competition by taking first in the crossbred carcass event after placing second in the live judging.

Scott Jacoby, 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Jacoby, and a high school senior, walked away with top honors in the fat lamb classes. Jacoby, a member of the Class A state champion football team, exhibited the champion finewool club lamb, champion and reserve crossbred club lambs and champion pair of finewools. The lambs were bred by his father.

Double honors went to Roger Langford, son of county agent and Mrs. D. C. Langford. Young Langford had the reserve champion finewool entry and also the reserve champion pair of finewool lambs.

John D. Cook and his sister, Prissy, children of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Cook, took several honors when Prissy exhibited the champion finewool market lamb and the reserve champion crossbred lamb. John D.'s entries won the reserve champion finewool market lamb and champion crossbred market lamb placings.

Rosettes were awarded to Susan Schwiening, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Corky Schwiening, when she showed the champion Rambouillet ram and

Church Of Christ Minister Leaving

Mr. Mike Puckett, who came here as minister of the Church of Christ in August of 1969, plans to leave this week for Azle, where he and Mrs. Puckett will make their home while he attends Texas Christian Brite Divinity School at Fort Worth. Mr. Puckett plans to do graduate work in theology for a master degree.

Mrs. Puckett, who has been teaching music in the elementary school, will teach in the Azle schools.

Mr. Puckett will deliver his final sermon at the Church of Christ Sunday. Another minister for the church has not presently been named.

Sunday Opens 4-H Club Horse Play

The first Play Day for the 4-H club horse program has been set Sunday at 2 p. m. at the Louis Powers arena at the Powers Livestock Sales grounds. Birl Davis, chairman of the program, made the announcement.

Dennis Dunnam will show a movie film entitled "Quarter-horse Activities".

Davis said Billy Galbreath has been named arena instructor for barrel racing, pole bending and western pleasure. Louis Powers and Bill Whitehead are arena instructors for roping events.

Persons interested in horse judging may contact Davis or County Agent D. C. Langford. Davis added that those persons not having a horse to show, may sign up for judging.

RESOLUTION ADOPTED

In other city business, the commission adopted a resolution opposing application of the AT&SF Railroad to abandon the railway line from San Angelo to Sonora.

Opposing the abandonment, the council noted that the railway line first came to Sonora in 1930, and has been used continuously since then as a means of shipping livestock and other commodities to the area.

Mayor Rousset said copies of the resolution will be mailed to senators and congressmen in the district, as well as rail officials and other influential persons in an effort to discourage the action.

Head coach and athletic director, Jerry Hopkins, is leaving Sonora after a ten-year tenure with an amazing record that includes three state championships. Hopkins record for the ten years stands 108-23-3.

Also leaving with Hopkins, is line coach, Dennie Hays, who has taught and coached in Sonora schools for the past eleven years.

Superintendent of schools, Ken McAllister, said a replacement for Hopkins has not been found. McAllister said Hopkins resignation will leave the schools with a vacancy difficult to fill. McAllister was high in his praise for Hopkins as a man with outstanding abilities not only in the coaching field, but as a leader of young men and women in the schools.

Hopkins will be taking over a team that was 5-3-2 last year as he replaces head coach Neil Hoskins. Hays will replace line coach John Cotton, who is going to Irving with Hoskins. The Seguin team in District 29 4A faces San Antonio MacArthur, 1966 won state 40-14 over Schulenberg.

A HIGHLY SUCCESSFUL record by these two coaches, Jerry Hopkins and Dennie Hays, in the Sonora schools comes to a close as the coaches prepare to go on to larger schools. They are moving to Class 4A Seguin. Their ten-year tenure in Sonora stands 108-23-3, winning three state championships in the Class A division. The Hopkins family will move this week, but Hays will return here on weekends until the current term of school ends. The Hopkins are members of the Baptist Church and the Hays family are Methodists. Hays has served on the Board of Stewards and is superintendent of Sunday school. Mrs. Hays also taught Sunday school and is a member of the church choir.

Hopkins, Hays, Famed Team Football Coaches, Leaving

There will be 13 coaches in the school system under Hopkins, and eight in the high school with the addition of Hays.

Hopkins has compiled a fantastic record in his years as a coach, and a football and basketball player. When he came here in 1960 he directed the Broncos to bi-district where they were felled by Wink. That year he was the choice for third place for West Texas Coach of the Year. In 1970 he was selected as West Texas Coach of the Year after leading Sonora to their third state championship and their fourth trip in the last five years into State finals.

His coaching staff was selected to coach the South All-Star team last year at Houston's Astrodome. Rated as underdogs, Hopkins' team won 35-19 over the North team.

In 1966 the Broncos beat Schulenberg 40-14 for their first state title in the school history. Two years later the Broncos beat No. 1 ranked Path in a close game by a score of 9-0.

"Grassroots Opinion"

ANAMOSIA, IOWA, EUREKA: "Nuclear power plants herald an era—the atomic energy... But never before did man consider the side effects of what he was doing... For the first time in the development of a new science, and the building of a new industry, almost more time, effort and money is being used to limit the side effects on man and his environment, than on reaching the goal... It's a great scientific step. Man has unlatched the secret and power of the atom. He will harness it to make electricity to light his home and cook his food and bring him music. But it is a great historical step too, because he has learned to protect nature, and himself, while enjoying the fruits of his harvest. Truly man is making strides ahead. He may yet become really civilized."

WALTHAM, MASS., NEWS-TRIBUNE: "There are few things more permanent than a temporary tax."

SIKESTON, MO., STANDARD: "The government in Washington is awakening to the fact that it is the people at home who have to rebuild the cities, restore order to the streets, seek reconciliation between the races and oversee the education of our children." Representative William A. Steiger said, "After thirty years of power and responsibility flowing toward the federal government, we can see today that the tide is beginning to run the other way. Back to the state and county and town and city and village and back to the private citizen organizations... If our cities are in fact to be rebuilt, our water purified, our children educated, the single greatest engine of progress is voluntary action... private citizens coming together to get a job done."

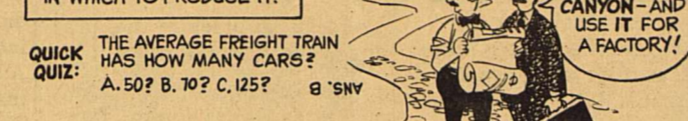

GOSHEN, IND., NEWS: "Don't ever sell Billy

Graham short... The evangelist, who has a knack of saying a lot in a few words, scored another TV triumph when interviewed... and the subject of sex education came up. He said he thought prudish sex instruction, and he stressed the prudent, might be appropriate at the high school and even junior high school levels but not with third and fourth graders. Then he summed up the school situation in eight little words: "They've ruled out prayer and ruled sex in." And that just about says it like it should have been said long before now.

QUAKERTOWN, PA., FREE PRESS: "In all the dissension today between young and old, liberal and conservative, black and white, it is reassuring to some degree to take a long look back to our nation's beginnings. At the time of the American Revolution it is estimated by many historians that about one third of the colonists were against a split with England, about one third were for such a division, and the other third didn't really care which was the fledgling nation went. And in some ways, things haven't changed a great deal."

COVINGTON, TENN., LEADER: "An interesting illustration of how advertising men work overtime to draw your attention to products they want you to buy; 'Media Decisions', a magazine for experts in advertising and marketing, published a special report as to how colors influence consumers... Didn't know that advertisers went to so much trouble to please you, did you? But they indeed do, and that is the 'big secret' of success in the American free enterprise economy. Since you, the consumer, are the boss, the producer must do everything he can, in competition with others, to please you, both with the contents of the package and the attractiveness of the label."

They're a bit more determined than the Italians, but so are we. I think the Greeks are splendid, the way they are defending themselves. If only they can hold out against the Germans, it may mean the

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Lost at the Laundry

Katherine went to the neighborhood laundry to pick up her week's wash. But the proprietor greeted her with bad news.

"We had a burglary last night," he said, "and your bundles were stolen. I'm afraid you are just out of luck."

But Katherine decided that he, not she, ought to bear the loss. Filing suit for damages, she pointed out that the back door of the laundry had only the flimsiest kind of a lock, even though the building had been burglarized before. The court found the proprietor guilty of negligence, and ordered him to pay Katherine's claim.

When you leave clothing at either a laundry or a dry cleaner, you are creating what the law calls a "bailment." The company, as the bailee, must take reasonable care of your belongings. Although not to blame for an unavoidable loss, it is liable for a loss it could fairly have prevented.

Suppose the company tries to protect itself by a notice saying it is not responsible for losses of any kind. Does that make a difference?

Most courts will recognize some limitation, but not a total denial, of the company's liability. Furthermore, a notice has no legal effect unless it is properly brought to public attention.

In one case a laundry inserted into each finished bundle a small printed notice, placing a dollar limit on its liability for losses. But when a customer demanded payment for some missing items, the company was held liable in full. The judge said the dollar limit could not be part of the bailment contract, because it was not even mentioned when the clothing was first brought in.

On the other hand, the company too is entitled to "notice" of what it is accepting responsibility for. In another case, a man negligently left a ring in the pocket of a suit he sent to the cleaner. The ring vanished, and he put in a claim against the company for compensation.

But after a court hearing, his claim was turned down. The court said he could not blame the company for losing what it did not even know it had.

A Bishop Looks at Life Can We Have Hope?

By Everett H. Jones, Retired Bishop of the Episcopal Church

Much as we want to live in hope, and important as hope is to motivate our plans and purposes, this is not enough. We must find reasonable foundations on which to build our hopes; we do not want to live in a fool's paradise.

Are there such foundations? Here is why one person (this writer) continues to have hope:

Our problems are large and baffling, but in recent months I sense a more honest and realistic facing of these problems, both by government and by the public at large. We are going beyond dissent to the causes of dissent; we are going beyond ecology as a fad to genuine concern and action to preserve "the quality of life."

I find comfort in the Biblical assurance of a "saving remnant" that will survive God's judgment. (See Ezekiel 8). Again and again Christian civilization has been saved by such a remnant. In the midst of our disillusionment and the many evidences of moral deterioration, I find a minority of sane, conscientious, committed people. I pin my hopes to this "saving remnant" in the churches in the homes, in the ranks of modern youth, in colleges and universities, and in the halls of government.

Always in history there has come, in time, a movement of moral indignation when men see their highest values being debased and ignored. Today there is arising such a revolution in behalf of beauty; there is disgust with the sheer ugliness of so many aspects of modern life. (The tremendous response given to the recent television series called "Civilization" is one expression of a desire to enjoy and preserve the best in our human heritage.

Perhaps one of the strongest reasons I continue to have

Farmers, Ranchers Only Groups Who Have Solved Problem of Over-Crowding

Editor's note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his bitter-weed ranch on Dry Devil's River immodestly lays claim to the solution of a problem this week.

Dear editor:

Try it. It doesn't make any difference what subject you're talking about, somewhere in the world it's a problem something ought to be done about.

For example, I was reading in a newspaper last night I salvaged from a Christmas package it was used to keep some cups and saucers from breaking — two of them came out all right except for a few chipped places—that dogs are becoming an unmanageable problem in cities.

That's right. The dog population, the article said, is increasing faster than the human population, which most people claim is increasing too fast itself, and as a result city officials don't know what to do. You take a city with a million people and a million dogs, counting those roaming the streets, dogs, that is, although some people come under this category too, and you have got a problem.

But of course dogs and people are just part of the problem. There are too many cars, too many airplanes, too many wars, too many countries, too many diseases, in fact, if you'll survey the entire world you'll find that there's just one group that has had the sense to understand the problem and keep its head. It's farmers and ranchers.

You don't find there're too many of us farmers and ranchers.

Farmers and ranchers saw the problem of endless multiplication and over-crowding years ago and began cutting back. Where cities tried to put two dogs where there was room for just one and three cars where

NEWS for OUTDOORSMEN

By VERN SANFORD

Here are some facts of interest to outdoorsmen, as compiled by Savage Arms:

Whooping cranes at the Aransas National Wildlife Refuge now total 56, for a new record. There were only 15 in 1941.

Deer shed their coats twice each year, trading light, comfortable summer attire for a heavy, insulated hide to see them through the winter.

Burrowing owls raise one brood of offspring each year, both parents sharing in the duties of hatching the eggs.

When only 30 days old female meadow mice are ready for motherhood, they are capable of producing litters of five to nine offspring each month.

During the winter months, snakes hibernate in dens below the frost line to keep from freezing to death. They have no control over their body temperatures.

Salamanders will grow a new leg if an old one is cut off.

Speed and endurance are the European hare's primary defense against danger. It has been clocked at 60 miles an hour over a 100-yard stretch.

More than 250 species of foreign game birds have been stocked in the United States for hunting purposes.

An estimated 4,500,000 big game animals were living on 187,000,000 acres of national forests and grasslands in 1968. In 1928, the estimate was 900,000 animals.

Gypsy moths were first introduced in this country in 1869. They now infest most of New England, eastern New York, New Jersey and eastern Pennsylvania.

Although snow fleas have existed for several million years, little is known about them, including their diets. It is believed they feed on either microscopic algae or diatoms.

A rare ocean inhabitant, the oar fish, grows to 14-foot lengths and weighs as much as 250 pounds. It normally lives at depths of 1,200 feet, and only five have been washed ashore in the last 100 years.

A Pacific Ocean fish, called the saury, ranges from 6 to 15 inches in length and is akin to the smelt in flavor.

World's largest member of the grouse family is the Auerhahn. It attains a weight of 15 pounds and a wingspan of 5 feet.

Four national forests in Texas have a total net acreage of 658,023 and cover part of eleven East Texas counties.

Armadillo, once found only in the Mexican border region, have now immigrated as far north and east as Oklahoma and Mississippi.

TEEN SCENE

By KAY KERBOW

School's usual schedule was broken by the excitement of elections held during the last few weeks. Mr. and Miss Personality, Mr. and Miss SHS, and class favorites were chosen putting an end, at least for awhile, to the every day process of getting an education.

Mr. and Miss SHS were chosen first as the teachers and administrators selected Mr. and Miss SHS from the senior class. This honor was chosen by the students last year but since Mr. and Miss Personality was added and was to be a student election, it was decided that Mr. and Miss SHS be chosen by the faculty. This year Mr. and Miss SHS are Kay Kerbow and Scott Jacoby, both members of the senior class.

—SHS—
Trouba Teaff and Eddie Sutton, also seniors, were elected to the honor of Mr. and Miss Personality by the entire student body, but not before a run-off election was held indicating the competition involved. Junior nominees were Pat Mooney and Frank Taylor, while the sophomores elected Gayle Glimp and Joe Eustace. The freshmen candidates were Humberto Villarreal and Sandra Trevino. These freshmen were the candidates involved in the run-off.

Class favorites are chosen by each class instead of the entire school and is considered quite an honor to receive. The class of 1971 chose Dottie Hollmig and Scott Shurley as their favorites, while the class of 1972 selected June Alexander and Matt Davenport. The class of 1973 honored Sarah Allison and Terry Mitchell and the class of '74 selected John Brown and Evangelina Pimentel to be their favorites.

SHS extends its heartiest congratulations to these election winners!

—SHS—
Basketball is in full swing at SHS and, temporarily, football has been pushed out of the front of SHS'ers minds into the memory section. With only one week to work before a game, SHS has managed a 2-1 record and is still in strong contention for the district crown. The varsity's only loss has been at the hands of arch-rival Eldorado in an overtime game in Eldorado last Friday night. According to Bronco team members, they will avenge their loss in their next encounter here in a few weeks.

Friday night finds both the boys and girls at home against Menard and will host Bangs Tuesday night.

Girls varsity players are Trouba Teaff, Becky Tittle, Kay Kerbow, Irma DeHoyas, and Carol Hardgrave, seniors; and June Alexander, Billie Ann Stewart, Jessi McCutchen, and Selma Nell Stubblefield, juniors. Molly

County And State-Wide Declaration Proclaims Jan. 25-31 "3.76 in '76"

Cash income to farmers and ranchers in Sutton County should be more than $6,449,000 by the end of 1976, according to D. C. Langford, county agricultural agent.

This will be an increase of more than $1,000,000 from 1968-69 figures, with beef cattle and hunting contributing a large part of the gain. The projections are based on studies of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and are part of the "3.76 in '76" program, a state-wide project to increase Texas agricultural cash receipts by more than one billion dollars.

Total cash receipts from all agricultural enterprises in Sutton County are presently about $5,685,750, says Langford. The most important ones are sheep, Angora goats, cattle and hunting. They are expected to account for the bulk of the projected 1976 totals.

The county will be aided in its production efforts by the Edwards Plateau economic program. Extension specialists will hold conferences in the area during the year to discuss improved production and marketing of sheep, Angora goats, beef cattle and wildlife.

TRAINING PROGRAM SET

A four-night training program designed to give emergency care personnel knowledge to save lives and limbs during the critical period before a patient can reach a hospital, is being planned in Eldorado, beginning January 25. J. B. Brame, M. D., and Charles E. King, of the Texas Health department, will conduct the meetings at the Memorial building in Eldorado.

The school, free of charge, is open to ambulance personnel, policemen, firemen, nurses and others who deal with the care of the sick and injured. The program, offered by the Tom Green Eight County Medical Society and Texas State Department of Health, is open to interested persons. Further information may be obtained from J. B. Brame, M. D., Eldorado.

—SHS—
Seniors are reminded to pay their cap and gown rentals to Mrs. Cook soon.

SHS is sorry to lose Coaches Hopkins and Hays to the Seguin coaching staff but we are indeed thankful to have had their talent and coaching abilities this long. somehow you never seem to have enough electric outlets

- You buy a new blender. Or a percolator. Or an electric carving knife. And there is no outlet to plug it in. Or you get a new television and the nearest place to plug it is 16 feet away. Sound familiar? It happens all too often, simply because someone didn't plan the wiring properly.
- Adequate wiring takes planning. Adequate wiring includes a properly sized electrical service entrance, or fuse box, large enough to handle present and future growth. Adequate wiring includes enough circuits—as well as outlets—to let you use electricity conveniently and safely.

Coffee Break by Shirley Hill

Well, all Cowboy fans suffered a fate worse than death Sunday when the famed Dallas team lost in the last quarter of the game.

I don't think there is a more faithful fan of the Cowboy team anywhere than my spouse. No matter how bad they play, he always finds excuses for them—Sunday being no exception. According to him you can't beat the referees and the second best team in the nation both. But anyway he feels sure next year will be better. So, cheer up fans.

—SKH—
With the suffering of Cowboy fans comes the suffering of Bronco fans after it was announced last week the Seguin Matadors will have the two best football coaches in Texas high school football—Hopkins and Hays. Sonora has suffered a great loss in these two highly skilled coaches and a loss in two nice families, but we feel sure the urge to win instilled in our Broncos by these two men will remain.

TO TURN AGAIN

In winter the pond freezes over, and the old mill wheel is idle. But although the landscape appears dormant, there is hidden life beneath the surface. One day it will be spring again, with water rushing over the mill wheel and corn being ground into meal.

If you have been living in a winter of your own, why not take a lesson from the old mill? The winters of our life are bleak—they are hard to weather. But forever and ever there is the chance to start again. Spring will come and your church will sustain you through doubt and disappointment and give you promise of another chance—another life.

INTEREST IN LIVESTOCK STARTS AT AN EARLY AGE in Sutton county. Typical of some of the small "fry" at the 4-H Show and Sale Saturday was Drew Wallace, son of Mr. and Mrs. George D. Wallace. Trying to reach the lamb for a pat on the neck or perhaps feel of the soft, shorn wool, Drew's arm just won't stretch that far.

HEALTH & SAFETY

Mainly for Mothers

by Carol Hart

CONTROLLING OUR ENVIRONMENT. It seems that almost every day new products appear on the supermarket shelves to clean drains better, relieve headaches more effectively, polish furniture brighter, bleach clothes whiter or kill more household bugs. These and many other new products will necessarily have some effect on our constantly changing environment.

It is up to the "men in white jackets"—scientists, engineers and environmental control officials—to determine that new products can be used by the public without damaging the air we breathe, the water we drink or the land we enjoy. But it is up to every housewife who brings these products home from the supermarket to protect the family's health by treating them with intelligence and handling them with care.

No small child can be expected to observe a warning printed on the label of a medicine bottle or can of cleanser. Even adults jeopardize the safety of their home environment by ignoring instructions, and so accidental poisonings are a major problem. The Council On Family Health, sponsored by the manufacturers of medicines as a public service, has these suggestions for keeping the home safe: —Always keep potentially hazardous substances out of the sight and reach of children. —Always read labels on containers, especially before taking or administering medicines. —Never tell a child that medicine is "like candy." The lesson may come back to haunt you. —Keep a safe, neat medicine cabinet with clean, easy-to-read labels and discard out-of-date medicines before they become a hazard. A family had no direct control over the air or water that enters the home. But it can control the way in which products are used and stored around the house. Protect your family by guarding against accidents in the home environment.

Past District Governor A. E. Prugel presided at the opening of the conference and introduced the present District Governor, Harry C. Wischart. A former Sonora citizen and Lion, Bob Baker of Midland, outlined plans for the District Convention to be hosted by Midland Lions May 7 and 8.

Lions attending from Sonora included Lion Prugel and Mrs. Prugel, Leo Merrill, Hershel Davenport, Cullen Luttrell, John Weston and E. B. Keng.
