James Buchanan Has Leading Role In Production

Sonora High School's speech and drama coach, James Buchanan, will play a leading role in George Bernard Shaw's "Pygmalion," one of three plays to be presented by the Summer Repertory Company at Texas Tech University in Lubbock.

Buchanan will portray Prof. Henry Higgins, the phonetics expert who wagers that he can transform the Cockney flower girl, Eliza Doolittle, into a social butterfly. "Pygmalion" won the Academy Award as a motion picture and reached a new high in popularity as the hit musical "My Fair Lady".

The 60-member company is composed of students enrolled in the theater arts program at Tech.

John Tedford Heads Wool Show Music

Sonora's John Tedford is in charge of the musical production for the Miss Wool Show in San Angelo, Friday night.

Tedford has written and arranged several musical numbers specifically for the wool show in coordination with the theme "Winter Wonderland". The twenty-three piece orchestra is composed of members from San Angelo, Sweetwater, Odessa and the Abilene areas.

Tedford said for the first time ten professional singers from Dallas, who are members of the Dallas Summer Musicals, will stage some things with the Miss Wool contestants and present some vocal music. Tedford rehearsed 8-10 hours Monday with the group in Dallas, then flew to San Angelo, Tuesday with them, where additional rehearsals were held.

Peter Wolf is creating the scenic design. An outstanding designer, he has designed sets for several Broadway shows. When the audience enters the coliseum the beautiful scenery should present an atmosphere of the magnificent winter wonderland theme as projected by this foremost designer.

Others working in the production include John Davidson, who Tedford says is a delightful person. Davidson is a minister's son and his wife, Jackie, and their son will probably accompany him to San Angelo. One of Davidson's exceptional qualities is the ability to ad lib readily, helping persons working with him feel at ease on the stage.

Art James, who emcees the show, is another very personable person. Tedford said they were very careful to select persons that had worked well as a group heretofore.

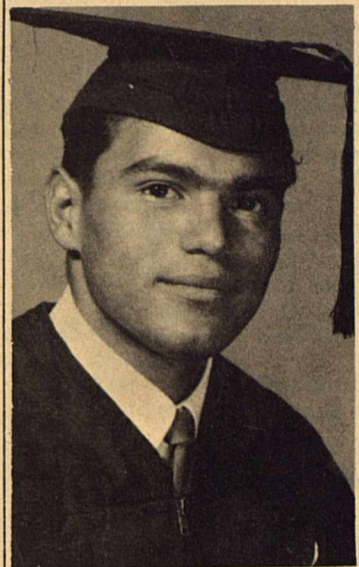

He feels that the show is very good, although the group has worked under difficult circumstances with the Jim Nabors show running in Dallas at the same time. Tedford was unable to use the Dallas Summer Musicals orchestra for this reason.

The pageant this year will not be televised, therefore it is totally audience orientated and should prove to be a good, fast-moving show, particularly stressed to please the audience.

The production Friday night should be well-attended by persons in the area, as it will afford many the opportunity to hear for the first time the work of a local outstanding young musician, whom Sonoras should be proud to claim.

Tom Hughes, nationally recognized producer and managing director of Dallas Summer Musicals, is heading the production.

One of the twenty Miss Wool contestants will be crowned Miss Wool of America at the national pageant.

copal and Presbyterian churches, who co-sponsored the church school. The Rev. Mr. Weston said the school was well attended and much enthusiasm was displayed by the teachers as well as the children who attended.

The most effective single force in building a good community is a good newspaper.

"Grassroots Opinion"

ST. HELENS, ORE., SENTINEL-MIST CHRONICLE: "That same mind that developed the Zip Code must still be lurking in a dusty filing cabinet somewhere deep in the reaches of the United States Postal Department. Who else would have come up with the stupendous idea of eliminating the name of the town from postmarks and substituting 'U.S. Postal Service' and another number? Mr. Mind, wherever you may be, it's just downright frustrating to get a postcard from somebody who's supposed to be basking on the shores of Waikiki and find the postmark says 'U.S. Postal Service'."

CARTHUR, CALIF., GAZETTE: "Did you see in the paper the other day where the Los Angeles County Air Pollution Control officers went down to the International Airport to enforce the new State law which prohibits aircraft from spewing too much smoke into the air? They stationed themselves strategically at each runway, binoculars and stop-watches in hand, to catch the carbon-spewing jets. . . but they found they had a bit of a problem; the smog was so bad it was hard to see the aircraft, much less the exhaust! No citations were issued and the inspectors returned to headquarters to mull over what to do next in the Smog Capital of the World."

BUTLER, MO., BATES COUNTY DEMOCRAT: "We're just as tired as anyone else of hearing about all that is 'wrong' with this country, but a development in New York City. . . DOES make one wonder what's the use. A religious commentator on a radio station reported. . . that a certain major church in New York is raising upwards to $100,000 to employ round-the-clock armed guards to protect the church from theft, vandalism and other criminal elements. Then, on top of this the United States Senate building is damaged extensively by a bomb explosion. Is there nothing sacred anymore?"

BELTON, TEXAS, JOURNAL: "A wise suggestion has been made to move the Paris peace talks to the DMZ in Vietnam. The advantages would be obvious. If you were stationed in Paris with all expenses paid, would you be in a hurry? On the other hand, if the negotiators from both sides were sitting out there in the middle of things, somehow the talks would be accelerated. Not everything could be settled at once, but it is a safe guess that a cease-fire could be arranged rather promptly."

CEDAR CITY, UTAH, IRON COUNTY RECORDER: "Once upon a time there was a teacher who didn't want an increase in pay; a carpenter who didn't ask for union wages; a man who healed the sick and afflicted whether they had insurance or Medicare or whether they didn't; who traveled around the country feeding the people, and they crucified him."

Talk Games Liven Family Travel

An automobile trip can be fun for the entire family, if—and it's a big "if"—the children are occupied. Adults are accustomed to sitting for long periods of time. Anyone who tends to forget how irritable and "squirmy" active children can become during a trip will be quickly reminded of it on the first long family excursion by car.

Here are several verbal travel games compiled by the editors of the Mobil Travel Guide. These games have been handed down for a couple of generations and they appeal to youngsters.

- *Tall Tales—Have one person begin a story, but stop before he is finished. The next story teller must then continue, changing it in any way he wishes, and this continues until the last person is left to provide the end of the tall tale.
- *Car Cards—License plate numbers and letters are used as poker hands. As in poker the best hand wins. No flushes though! The letters J, Q and K stand for Jack, Queen and King. Each player in turn uses the license of a passing car as his hand.
- *Animal, Vegetable or Mineral—A player thinks of something which he identifies to the others only as being animal, vegetable or mineral. The other players may ask a total of 20 questions which could be answered either "yes" or "no" in an attempt to guess the object.
- *Name Chain—Each person, in turn, must name a state, city or country using the last letter of the place named by the previous participant as the first letter in the name he selects. Example: John names Illinois, you must select a name starting with "S".

Alpha Hunt—Divide players into two teams with each getting one side of the road for this exciting match. Using Highway Advertising signs only, find each letter of the alphabet, progressively, selecting only one letter from each sign. The team completing the entire alphabet first wins.

I See Red—Choose an object inside the car and announce to the others the color of the object you have in mind. For example, "I See Red," the others have to guess the object you have selected. The one who guesses right gets to choose the next object to be guessed.

Anytime you travel with children, set and enforce rules for them. Make it a kind of game—challenge them to see who can follow the rules best. For safety, all children should wear seat belts while car is in motion. Hands, arms, feet or heads should not be put out the window. Nothing should be thrown in or out of the car. Rough-housing in the car must not be permitted, and the driver must be left strictly alone to drive.

The Devil's River Philosopher Sez... He Starts Out To Solve Part Of The Litter Problem, But Backs Away

Editor's note: The Dry Devil's Philosopher on his bitterweed ranch on Dry Devil's River tackles the garbage problem this week, not too successfully. Dear editor:

According to an article I read in a newspaper last night which I'd already looked at once but was better than the re-run I'd already seen three times on television, some ecologists were up in arms in some city, I forget which, because members of a woman's garden club served refreshments in paper cups.

Cold drinks, they contended, should be served only in returnable bottles or re-usable glasses and the women ought to be ashamed to be contributing to the garbage problem.

They said they had nothing against garden clubs but the members ought to join the national drive to cut down on the millions of tons of disposable containers now plaguing the nation.

I have been thinking about this and I guess the ecologists are right, but they shouldn't stop with paper cups.

For example, what I'd like to see is a returnable automobile. The throw-away models are cluttering up the junk piles of the world.

The same goes for refrigerators, washing machines, box cars, baby beds, etc. I don't know about Congressmen. They're very few returnable ones. When one gets beat he rarely returns home to the people he claims he loves, he gets appointed to a job and stays on in Washington. They tell me there're hulks of ex-Congressmen scattered all over the place.

Or getting back to paper, take postage stamps, a small item you might say, but do you know how many billions are used every year? There's no need for the post office department to print up thousands of tons of stamps and ship them around to all the country's post offices, then haul them back one at a time on letters where they'll be thrown into the receiver's wastebasket with the envelope. All the post office needs is a machine that'll read numbers. You write your Social Security number on the envelope where the stamp goes, the machine reads it, charges your account and adds it to your income tax.

You might say, yeah, but what are you going to do about people who forge other people's Social Security number on their letters, and my answer is, let's change the subject.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Miss Angie Moore Marries Jack Wright, Jr. Saturday

Miss Angie Neill Moore and Jack Howell Wright, Jr. were married Saturday, June 19, at St. John's Episcopal Church with the Rev. Ray Nations, rector, officiating at the double ring ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Andrew A. Moore and Mrs. Adine Wright of San Angelo, and the late Jack H. Wright.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a formal ivory organza gown with full skirt flowing into a train. The fitted bodice and long, fitted sleeves were of Alencon lace with re-embroidered pearls in orange blossom design. She wore a headpiece to match, with elbow length veil. She carried a prayer book which was covered with a white orchid and a cascade of Stephanotis.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was Mrs. Martha Moore and Miss Joyce Hafmann of Rowena was maid of honor. Miss Linda Pelzel of Ballinger, Mrs. Glen Henderson, sister of the bridegroom of San Antonio, and Miss Marsha Finklea, niece of the bride, were bridesmaids. They wore flower headpieces and carried parasols matching their dresses. Flowers were carnations, blue comflowers, lavender asters and ivy.

Glyn Jameson of San Angelo, was best man and groomsmen were Duke Wilson and Jerry McBurnett of San Angelo, Larry Jameson of Silver and Andy F. Moore, brother of the bride. Bill Finklea and Lawrence J. Finklea were ushers.

Miss Elizabeth Cooper of San Antonio and Larry Finklea served as acolytes.

Mrs. W. T. Hardy, organist, provided traditional wedding music.

Immediately following the wedding a reception was held at the Sonora Golf Clubhouse. Featured on the bride's table was the three-tiered cake, topped with a bride and bridegroom. The cake was circled with greenery. A centerpiece of white stock, white daisies and carnations with baby's breath and fern in a silver epergne decorated the table along with white candles in silver holders.

In the houseparty were Mrs. Duke Wilson, Mrs. Richard Cooper, Miss Shane Henderson, Mrs. Paul Law, Mrs. Jack Neill, Mrs. Lawrence Finklea, Mrs. Glyn Jameson, Mrs. Jerry McBurnett, Mrs. Bryan Hunt, Mrs. Lea Allison, Mrs. W. T. Hardy, Mrs. John Fields, Mrs. Bill Fields, Mrs. J. B. Ross, Mrs. Mack Cauthorn, Miss Evalyn Folley, Mrs. Willie Miers, Miss Kay Ellis, Miss Carolyn Cooper, Miss Judy Law and David Law.

The bride is a graduate of Sonora High School and attended Angelo State University and San Angelo Business College. The bridegroom is a graduate of Monterey High School in Lubbock, and attended Texas Tech University and served four years in the U. S. Air Force. He is presently attending Angelo State University. After a short wedding trip to Del Rio, the couple will be at home in San Angelo.

REHEARSAL DINNER
Mrs. Adine Wright, the bridegroom's mother, and Miss Evalyn Folley, aunt of the bride, hosted the rehearsal dinner Friday night at the Sonora golf clubhouse.

A bridesmaids luncheon Saturday at the W. L. Miers home was given honoring the bride-to-be. Hosting the party was Mrs. Miers and Mrs. Lawrence Finklea, sister of the honoree.

A Bishop Looks At Life The Closer View

By Everett H. Jones, Retired Bishop of the Episcopal Church

At one time we had a maid in our home who was faithful in her duties but frequently she hid books I needed in strange and unusual places. When I needed one of these books it was of no help to give her the title or the subject; I had to describe the color and design of the jacket.

All that a book meant to this maid was what she saw on the outside. I think of her, again and again, when I see people judging by the cover instead of by the contents.

We do it with people. How often you have heard someone say, "I was completely wrong about that person. Now that I know him (or her) better, I feel entirely differently."

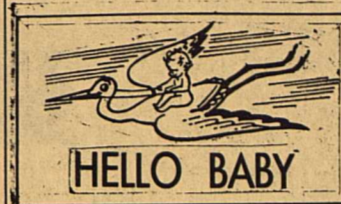

We do it about the Church. There are those who say that the Church today is dead, or that it is hopelessly divided, or that it is filled with extremists who seek only to disrupt its normal life. But there is more to be said.

From my own knowledge of the Ecumenical Church, I see people who still find the bread of life through their regular worship and prayer. I find people who are sustained in crises and guided in daily decisions by their faith in God. I know countless devoted and loyal Churchmen who are working and praying to know God's will for these times.

We do it about colleges and universities. There are many who talk as though campuses today are scenes of constant riots and demonstrations, carried on by young people with long hair, sloppy clothes and bare feet. No distinction is made between those who look like hippies and those who are hippies.

Lately I have seen a letter from a woman who graduated many years ago from a well-known college for women in New England. She has recently lived close enough to audit nine courses at her alma mater. She writes: "It was one of the most rewarding experiences of my life. The students are delightful, brilliant, and alert, and my notes are filled with some of their provocative thoughts. While I deplore the 24-hour visiting rule, it is in keeping with the desire of students everywhere for freedom in making their own rules. It is refreshing to note that while the vote was so overwhelming for these rules, only a few so far have chosen to live in this kind of dormitory."

The least we can do in these troubled times is to refrain from final judgments until we have had the closer view.

Mother of the bride

In a few minutes she will be walking down the aisle. Bruce will be at the altar to meet her, and when they walk out of the church, they will be man and wife.

Even though we have been planning the wedding for weeks, it is hard to believe the time is really here. It seems like only yesterday — though actually it was twenty years ago — that our little girl was christened right in this same church.

What an all-important part of our lives this church has been! I have turned to it both in times of joy and times of sorrow. So has our daughter.

Now, as I slip into my place in the first pew on the left side of the aisle, it is with the wonderful feeling that this church is a part of her, too, and that its teachings will stay with her forever. I could not ask for more.

YOUR HOROSCOPE FOR JUNE: In June, the sun will enter the sign of Cancer the Crab (Moon Children, for the squeamish), and a mysterious lady will tell you that astrology is out and reading tarot cards is the latest thing in the occult. Ever read your horoscope? On occasion I do read mine, and everyone else in the family. Most times they are written to apply to almost anything you wish, if you turn them around enough times. The horoscope for June was rather interesting and brought to mind some of the things written about witchcraft and the like. Now being rather simple-min-

electric heat pump heats your home [and cools it too!]

There is growing interest in the electric heat pump—and for a good reason. The heat pump is a remarkable device that uses about one half as much electricity to heat your home as a conventional electric heating system. So, an electric heat pump can mean substantial savings on your winter heating bills.

The operating costs for summer cooling are about the same as with a conventional central air conditioning system. During summer a heat pump works like a regular air conditioner. A blower pulls hot air from the house and passes it through a filter to remove dust and dirt. The air then flows across a cooling coil to cool and de-humidify the air. It then moves through ducts to all rooms in your home.

During winter months this cycle is reversed. Heat is removed from outdoors and pumped inside to heat the house. This is the feature that surprises most people, until they realize that there is always some heat in winter air. (Scientists call the point where no heat exists "absolute zero". Above this point—459° below 0° Fahrenheit—there is heat in the air.)

For the heating cycle, the heat pump does an unusually efficient job. The only electricity it uses is to run the fan and the compressor. This is why heating costs are dramatically lower.

Original installation costs for a heat pump are usually slightly more than for separate heating and central air conditioning systems. But depending on your installation, costs may be about the same—or even less than for separate systems.

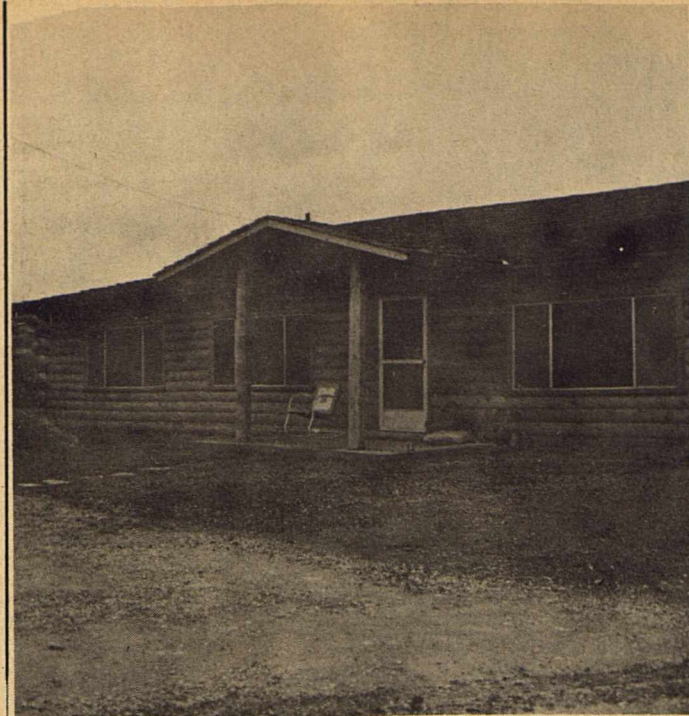

A properly engineered heat pump, large enough to do the job, will mean savings to you in the long-run.

THE SPACIOUS RANCH HOME OF Mr. and Mrs. Elba Adams was recently completed on their ranch at the North Llano. The cedar shake shingles add to the split-log construction. The entrance to the home is gained by the more than 60-foot long den. The interior of the house features the exposed logs and beams with birch wood trim. The four-bedroom, two-bath home is covered throughout with red carpeting containing black flecks. A Spanish decor is used in the furnishings. A breezeway connects the large kitchen to the two additional bedrooms, bath and utility room.

Four months of picnic food is no picnic.

Get central gas air conditioning and bring back meat and potatoes. Some days you wouldn't even boil an egg. Let alone cook a meal. But with central gas cooling you can cook a banquet. Without heating up your home. With central gas air conditioning, it only costs a little to add a lot to your living.

First of all, you'll save in installation costs. Because you just add a cooling unit to your existing central gas heating system. But that's just part of the savings. Gas costs less to use than electricity. And we give you a special low rate for central gas air conditioning during those sweltering summer months. When you need central air cooling the most. So go ahead. Have central gas cooling installed. And save the picnic food for the great outdoors.
