Broncos Win Regional Against Nocona Indians

Shotwell Stadium, Abilene—the site, plus a beautiful night for football and a score of Sonora 34, Nocona 7—made smiles on the faces of Bronco fans as plentiful as leftover turkey and dressing.

Credit for the Regional Championship Friday night goes to a fine team effort, particularly the offensive and defensive line. The highly regarded Indians gained only 127 yards during the contest while the Broncos rolled up 431 total yards.

Sonora captains for the evening, Frank Taylor, Rick Street and Freddy Gonzales, won the toss and the Broncos received the opening kickoff. Milton Noel returned the kick to his own 49 but fumbled the ball and Nocona recovered.

The Indians made two first downs but were forced to give up the ball on the Sonora 22. From there the Broncos drove 78 yards for the first score. The final three yards were made by Steve Street and Henry Mata's kick gave Sonora a 7-0 lead with 5:47 left in the first quarter.

The Broncos next possession gave them the ball on their own 23 and used only seven plays in a 77-yard drive. The final 25 yards came on a pass from Mark Rousselot to S. Street. Mata made good his kick and the Broncos led 14-0 with 11:49 left in the first half.

After the kickoff Nocona was unable to move the ball and a short punt gave Sonora first and ten on their 41. The Broncos used ten plays in their 59-yard drive. Noel scored from two yards out. The PAT was blocked, giving Sonora a 20-0 lead with 5:34 left in the half.

Nocona received the kick, returned it to their 24, made two first downs, but gave up the ball as Rick Street intercepted a pass and brought it back to his own 47. Rousselot passed to S. Street for 12 yards and a TD. Mata kicked the extra point and gave Sonora a 27-0 halftime lead.

SECOND HALF

The third quarter was scoreless with each team having possession of the ball three times with neither able to mount a sustained drive.

The Broncos final score of the game came at the end of a 54 yard drive with Noel going in from the one. Mata's PAT was good, making the score 34-0 with 4:54 left in the game.

With 30 seconds left on the clock and many of the fans leaving the stadium, Nocona blocked a Sonora punt, picked up the ball and went 22 yards for their only touchdown. The extra point was good and made the final score 34-7.

Gonzales took the Nocona kickoff on his 15 yard line and behind good blocking and a fine bit of running, dashed 85 yards for the TD. This exciting run was called back with off-setting penalties.

The most effective single force in building a good community is a good newspaper.

GRASSROOTS OPINION

ADEL, IOWA, DALLAS COUNTY NEWS: "I often wonder... what would happen to some able-bodied persons, who find it more profitable to relax on the relief rolls rather than work, if we who do work, fold up someday. What would happen to the army of idlers who are living high on the hog at our expense. I sorta figure it's time to get some of them off their 'rear' and get some callouses on their hands."

NORWALK, CONN., HOUR: "Two San Francisco policemen have discovered where the action is. Disguised as skid row bums, the men donned dirty clothes and spent their time lounging around flop house doorways. The disguises must have looked authentic because in the course of the first five nights, the officers made arrests for homicide, 13 strong armings, two car thefts and two burglaries. Even for San Francisco that must be something of a record, but it helps prove a point. There is a tendency to look upon skid row areas as a sort of no-man's land, where anything goes and the rest of the community doesn't much care as long as it doesn't spill over into other sections. The extent to which such crime flourished has been amply demonstrated by two officers on one small beat in one large city."

Within days, a group of dissenters went marching in defiance of the new ordinance. Hauled into court, they claimed that the ban was unconstitutional.

"Not so," replied the city. "Under our charter, we have the authority to keep the public peace as we see fit."

But the court decided that the ordinance was indeed unconstitutional, and that the paraders could not be punished. The court said:

"It has been customary from time immemorial, in all free countries, for people to parade together. These processions are among the incidental conditions of city life, and are as much to be expected as any other public meetings."

Of course, an outright ban on all parades is not common. Very common, however, is a requirement that paraders must first get a permit. Is this lesser restriction constitutional?

Mainly, it depends on the ground rules under which the permits are issued. In one city, the mayor had unlimited discretion as to who could have a permit and who could not. This arrangement, tested in court, was thrown out as unconstitutional. The court said the right to march was too precious to be subject to the whim of any official.

But under the rules in another city, the mayor could not refuse a permit unless the marchers would be interfering unduly with the rights of other citizens in the use of the streets.

This time, when a religious sect put on a parade without a permit, a court upheld the law and fined the paraders for disobeying it. The court said the right to march, like all other rights, could be confined within reasonable limits.

THE DEVIL'S RIVER PHILOSOPHER SEZ...

He Wants To See The President Set-up New Post -- Secretary Of Recall

Editor's note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his bitter-wood ranch on Dry Devil's River has become aware of how many items are being recalled these days, his letter this week indicates.

Dear editor:
When I read in a newspaper last night that 87 tons of cornbread mix had been recalled by the Food and Drug Administration because it contained too much of something called aflatoxin, I began turning over in my mind the things I can think of that have been recalled in recent months.

These included soup, tuna, detergents, swordfish, cereals, lipstick, toys, airplanes, automobiles and a few diplomats. There may have been others that escaped me but this gives you an idea of how the recall business is booming.

If it keeps up the President may have to establish a new cabinet position to be known as Secretary of Recall. Several columnists have suggested that it would be simpler to check foods before they leave the plant, rather than waiting till they get on the grocery store shelves, but this takes all the drama out of it. There's no news value in cornbread suppressed, but cornbread recalled, that's a headliner. If the President does establish a Secretary of Recall I can foresee many opportunities for the office other than those involving foods, cars, and such like.

For example, there are some votes I cast for certain people over the past few years I'd sure like to recall. At the time they seemed like good, sound votes, passing any standards set by the Food and Drug Administration, but after the candidates got into office or on the grocery store shelf as you might say, I could tell right off they contained botulism if not worse.

You can say sure, but you can recall them at the next election. That's right, but that's a mighty long time to have to put up with contaminated cornbread or politicians.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Primera Iglesia Church Enrolls In Program

The Primera Iglesia Bautista Church has enrolled in the 1971-72 Texas Baptist Town and Country Church Achievement Program, according to Clinton Watson, state program director. The new program is sponsored by the Missions Support Section of the Baptist General Convention of Texas. It is designed to stimulate interest in a church's total ministry by providing growth incentives. Churches and their pastors making outstanding achievements during the year will be honored by the Concho Valley Baptist Association and at the annual convention of Texas Baptists next year in Abilene.

Ray E. Garnett, pastor of the local Primera Church, will lead the church to adopt goals for advancement in the areas of a better local church, a better community and a better world.

No church may enter the program if its community's population exceeds 2,500 persons, the director said.

Everybody and his cousin too... notice the lone man in the foreground of the picture. He must be wondering if he will ever get his shopping done. Even with his back to us he looks confused and bewildered.

Most of us have felt the pangs of loneliness in the midst of a crowd. Surrounded by people, we couldn't escape that feeling of utter desolation. It may engulf us in a busy department store, a crowded supermarket, a jam-packed subway, but suddenly it strikes... this feeling that no one cares about us or about our burdens.

When our hearts cry out for assurance that somebody cares, we can always turn to the truth and love revealed by the Holy Word of God: "Lo, I am with you always."

At the heart of the universe there are great resources of strength. Discover them for yourself by worshipping each week in the church of your choice.

Medicare 'Carry-Over' Provision Is Explained

Doctor bills for October, November, and December may in some cases be counted toward the $50 annual deductible for both 1971 and 1972 under the "carry-over" provision of the medical insurance part of Medicare, according to social security officials here.

The deductible is the first $50 of covered medical expenses accumulated in a calendar year, a social security spokesman said.

"Before any payment can be made by Medicare," he said, "your record must show that you have met your deductible. So, as soon as your bills come to $50, attach them to a 'Request for Medicare Payment' form and send them to the carrier that handles your Medicare claims."

The "carry-over" rule helps the beneficiary who might otherwise have to pay the $50 deductible twice in a short period of time—at the end of one year and at the beginning of the next year, the spokesman said.

"Even if you have not met the $50 deductible before October," he said, "be sure to send in all the bills for covered services you receive in October, November, or December. They can help meet the deductible for 1972."

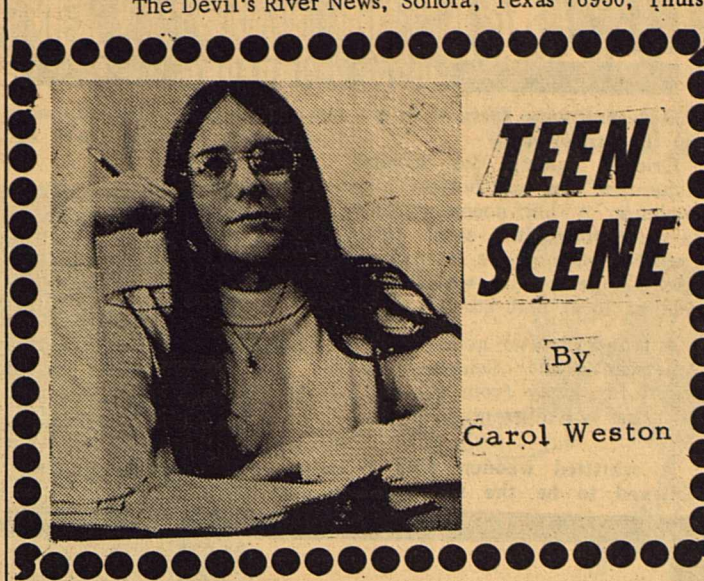

The medical insurance part of Medicare pays 80 percent of the reasonable charges for covered expenses after the first $50. The program is funded by individual premiums that are matched by the Federal Government. The hospital insurance part of Medicare is financed by regular social security contributions. Medicare is administered by the Social Security Administration of the U.S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare.

The Nocona Indians fell to the mighty Broncos 34 to 7 last Friday evening, in the battle which was to decide the Regional title.

The Broncos jumped right in and placed themselves on top of Nocona early in the game, with a great amount of spirit and ability from all of the players.

Both the Sonora offense and defense played very well Friday, and quite a few of the other boys were able to play against the Indians, all of whom did a really good job when they were playing.

The defense did a very fine job against Nocona and were able to hold their own throughout the game. The defense also did its usually outstanding job, pushing through the Nocona defense time after time to gain yardage and points for the Broncos.

The undefeated Broncos will now be given their chance in the quarter-finals as they play Crowley in Brownwood Saturday night, beginning at 8.

Tickets for the game are now on sale in the High School office and at Foodway, and are priced at $1 for students and $2.50 for adults.

Annuals are now on sale in the High School office. Prices are: $6.50 with your name on the front—down payment of $3.25, and the plain annual will be $5.50, with a $2.50 down payment. Plastic covers for your annual may be ordered at the time of your payment

Fifth Year Of Good Deer Antlers

In spite of hot weather in West Texas, hunters here were able to kill some fine bucks with good antlers during the first weekend of hunting.

This hunting season marks the fifth straight year antlers have been good, in spite of the drought during the peak of the antler-growing season.

But the rains came just in time, and as a result bucks have been averaging six to eight points. There have been numerous reports, however, of 10- and 12-point racks. One 17-point buck was killed on the former Jim Merck ranch by Buford Linley of Grafford.

A few hunters have already used all their deer tags. The mule deer season opened November 27 west of the Pecos River.

your electric investment

Chances are, you never thought about the value of the electric distribution system that serves you. How much do you suppose is invested in the electric meter, service connection, poles and wires just to serve you? And how about the miles of line that bring electricity to your property—what's your share of that? And the transformers? And the trucks and the line equipment, and the electric utility property and building? What's your guess?

■ Your electric utility investment is a sizeable and growing amount. As your local, publicly owned electric utility, it is our responsibility to use and maintain this investment wisely. As a citizen-owner, you should know that we value your electric utility investment.

■ Nationally, America's public power systems have an average investment of more than $1,000 for each customer served—$1,034 to be exact. And this figure is growing rapidly. Ten years ago the investment for each customer was $596—about half that of today. In 1971 we estimate

A Bishop Looks at Life

"Overflow Living"

By Everett H. Jones
Retired Bishop of the EPISCOPAL CHURCH

Some years ago I read a book about preaching entitled "Preaching Out of the Overflow." The author discussed the various ways in which a minister could keep his mind so well-stocked with spiritual insights that he would always have more than enough to say.

The title has stayed with me because it suggests a basic characteristic of the Christian life. When beginning to see all that God has done for us, we overflow with gratitude. We realize that we are infinitely indebted to Him, and each day becomes an opportunity to put gratitude into action by word and deed.

"Overflow Living" represents the difference between dragging ourselves from one daily duty to another and rejoicing in every new chance to say "thank you."

I have a business friend who tries to spend at least 15 minutes in the early part of each day in prayer and meditation. He tells me that more and more the time is spent in thanking God. He has learned to be more aware of God at work in his own life and in the world around him. He says this meditation period sets the tone and direction for the whole day.

I am reminded of the incident when Jesus healed the ten men who were lepers. (St. Luke 17: 11-19). After the healing he sent them to the priest, who was the health officer of that day, so that they could be restored to the life of the community. After this procedure only one returned to give thanks, and to him Jesus added: "Were there not ten cleansed? But where are the nine?" And he added: "Go thy way: they faith hath made thee whole."

This tenth man was healed in both body and soul; there was a wholeness in his life the other nine did not have. It was the wholeness of gratitude joyfully and actively expressed. He had learned the secret of "overflow living."

NEWS for OUTDOORSMEN

by VERN SANFORD

Here are some facts of interest to outdoorsmen:

Cricket raising for bream fishermen now has become big business. A half-dozen cricket farms through the south produce something like a million crickets per year, which are sold at local bait stands.

A true saltwater goose is the American brant. Seldom is it found far away from the sea. They are not migrants to Texas.

A whittled wooden plug is believed to be the first ever tossed at a bass. That happened less than a hundred years ago... back in 1889.

You can always identify a copperhead snake by the pit on each side of its head. That's the reason they are called pit vipers.

Chukar hunting is permitted far into the winter months where they are legal game.

Texas has planted them, but they are not yet in shootable numbers.

Most public parks now have signs prohibiting dogs. If you are taking a long vacation trip, it might be best to board the pooch.

You can make cheap and effective fishing sinkers. Use spent .22 shells. Drop a small-size paper clip or a piece of empt wire into the shell. Then fill it with molten lead, solder or a mixture of water and pure cement.

Watch those little sandpiper birds along the water's edge. They are always tipping their heads or their tails and have the nickname of "teeter-tails".

Texas fishermen are learning to use poles like those in Florida for moving their boats over sand bars and through moss beds. These can be the kind that pole vaulters use, with a foot added at one end.

A snapping turtle feeds only under water and it cannot draw its head or tail into its shell.

Empty, quart-size ice cream containers, the round kind, if filled with water and placed in your deep freeze, can be used to cool your portable ice chests. Provides drinking water, too, when melted.

There is economy in buying chunk ice for your chest instead of the crushed variety. It costs much less and lasts a good deal longer.

If you want to add to lake-side beauty, take along a few dime packages of flower seed when you go fishing. Strew them at good places along the banks of your favorite stream or lake.

When taking a camera into a boat, drop it into a plastic bag and put a rubber band around it. This gives the delicate mechanism of the camera protection against spray.

Soil Conservation Service To Name Temporary Worker

Si Richmond of the District Soil Conservation Service of San Angelo said that someone will be appointed in a temporary capacity to serve in the local SCS office of the late Mr. E. B. Keng, possibly within the next few days.

Mr. Keng, who died November 25, had served in the local office for the past 30 years.

Richmond said that the permanent selection of someone to replace Mr. Keng will not be made until after January 1. The San Angelo, Eldorado and Junction work units will handle necessary work until a temporary employee can be sent here, he added. The local County Agent and personnel in the ASCS office will assist those persons needing information from the SCS office.

ACCENT ON HEALTH

New properties on human blood have been discovered by researchers working at the University of Texas in Austin and Galveston which may have profound influence on the diagnosis of certain disease conditions.

Dr. George B. Thurston, a professor of mechanical engineering and physics at UT found that blood possesses an elastic structure which must be disrupted before normal flow can take place.

"It is already known that a close relationship exists between the viscosity (thickness) of blood and coronary heart disease and peripheral arterial diseases," said Thurston. "An exact measurement of the blood elasticity may provide a more precise index to this thickening condition."

Such information is needed to understand the behavior of the distribution of blood in the circulatory system. It is also necessary for the design of devices used in cardiovascular surgery, including artificial heart valves, circulatory assist pumps and artificial hearts.

"In the artificial pumping of blood, it is well known that the blood becomes damaged," said Thurston. "It is possible that one origin of this damage rests with the sticking between the red blood cells, which form the elastic structures."

The blood studies are being continued to explore further the influence of commonly used additives, such as aspirin, upon the elastic property of the blood.

In other research in Texas, scientists at the UT Medical Branch in Galveston have discovered that snake venom causes, among other reactions, abnormal-looking red blood cells. The cells have become spherical and grow spiny projections, or burrs, all over them. No one yet knows why.

Ted Bond and Dr. M. Mason Guest of UT Galveston undertook the venom-blood research after receiving requests from clinicians across the state for information. It seems some snake-bite patients bleed and continue to bleed, and others don't.

The researchers discovered that some venoms cause clotting. Others completely defibrinate, or destroy all the fibrinogen--the plasma protein necessary for coagulation of normal blood. The cause has not yet been found due to the complex chemistry of snake venom, which contains enzymes and non-enzymic proteins.

Meetings Set To Explain Predator Control Referendum For Ranchmen

Sheep and goat producers in Sutton County are encouraged to attend one of the upcoming meetings regarding a referendum on predator control proposed by the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association.

The meeting schedule is as follows: December 13, Community Room of the First National Bank, Uvalde; December 14, Rainbow Room of the Stephenville Savings and Loan Association, Stephenville; December 15, District Court Room, Fort Stockton; December 16, University Center, San Angelo State University, San Angelo; and December 17, County Court Room, Fredericksburg. All meetings will begin at 2 p. m.

The meetings will be a joint venture by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and the TSGRA, according to County Agricultural Agent D. C. Langford. The role of the Extension Service is to explain the provisions of the Texas Agricultural Check-off Act of 1969. This will be done by John J. Seibert, Extension economist at Texas A&M University.

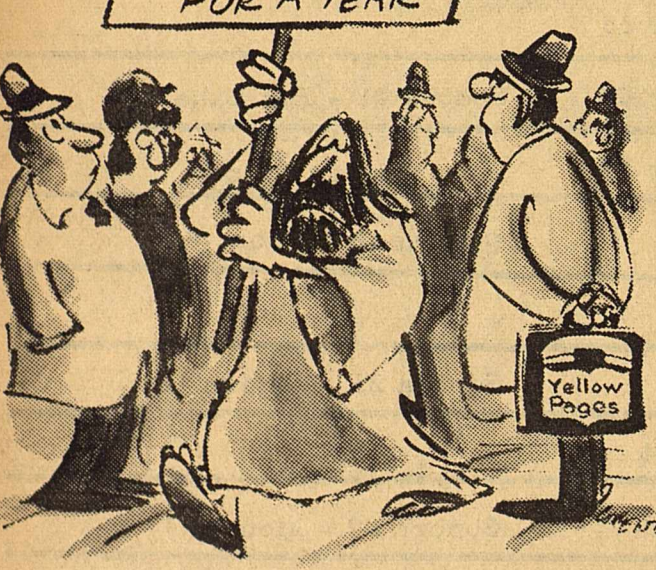

The district agricultural agent in each of the respective Extension districts will preside at the meeting and will explain Extension's educational responsibility as related to the check-off act. A representative of the TSGRA will explain the association's proposed referendum.

The proposed referendum will involve sheep and goat producers in 73 counties in the far west and west central areas of the state. These counties have 16,704 producers and 5,578,000 head of sheep and goats. According to the TSGRA, this is 81 percent of the producers and 97 percent of all the sheep and goats in the state.

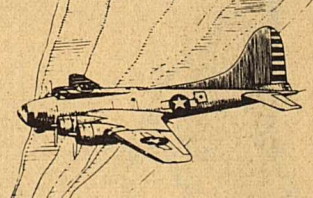

If the State Commissioner of Agriculture certifies that the referendum will be conducted, an election will be conducted by mail ballot next spring. A board of directors will also be elected at that time. If the referendum passes, maximum deductions will be 20 cents a head for sheep and 10 cents a head for goats. The assessment will be made on all animals coming off of pasture or producer-owned lambs going into feedlots.

"Dead Man" lives to collect social security

Following a B-17 crash in World War II, Alan Grimshaw of North Dartmouth, Mass., was officially declared dead. Several months later, however, his name appeared on a prisoner-of-war list.
Today, he is collecting monthly retirement benefits based solely on the social security credits he got for his military service.
Service in the military earns social security credit--not just for retirement and Medicare later, but also for survivors and disability protection now.
