TS&GRA To Conduct Mail Balloting Regarding Predator Control Program

Livestock producers in Texas have been battling predators since 1909. You would think the predator problem would be licked by now but it appears to be worse," says Sutton Allison of Fort Stockton, president of the 5,000-member Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association.

In an effort to bring about more effective predator control in Texas directors of the TS&GRA voted unanimously to sponsor a referendum in 73 sheep and goat producing counties to allow a deduction to be checked off on sheep and goats sold to provide funds to finance a stronger and more effective state-wide predator control program. The 73-county area has 97 percent of the sheep and goat population owned by 81 percent of the state's producers.

The referendum is to be conducted by mail ballot and to be valid, ballots must be postmarked no later than midnight March 28. Permission for conducting the referendum was granted to the Association by the Texas Department of Agriculture at the conclusion of a hearing held January 7 in Austin. Ballots were mailed to producers between March 10 and March 13.

If a producer fails to get a ballot by mail, extra ballots will be available in county agents offices or in county judges' offices in counties not having an Extension agent.

The ballot will also include names of nominees for directors to the commodity board that will supervise the predator control program if the referendum is approved. Each qualified voter will vote for a nominee representing his respective district and three directors at large.

District nominees are: District 1—Sid Harkins, Sanderson; District 2—C. W. Hemphill, Valera; District 3—Clyde Earwood, Del Rio; District 4—Hartwin H. Holmstrom, Georgetown and Paul Dreiss, Jr., Comfort; District 5—Armer Earwood, Sonora and Alton Williamson, Menard; District 6—Frank K. Courtney, Jonesboro and Joe L. Jackson, Ranger. Nominees for directors at large are: Vestel Askew, Sonora; Bert Dennis, Gall; I. C. (Tiny) Earp, Crane; C. T. Holekamp II, Junction; Monte Noelke, Mertzon; Robert R. Ramsey, Hunt; Bit Terry, Del Rio; and Louis Woodward, Girvin.

The first organized movement in Texas to effectively reduce predator losses came in January, 1909, when members of Wool Growers Central Storage Company of San Angelo passed a resolution asking the State Legislature to pass a bill to compensate "hunters and trappers" for their service in trapping and killing wolves and coyotes in West Texas. The Bounty Law of 1911 ultimately was passed at the next session of the Legislature.

Texas has had some kind of predator control program in existence for more than 60 years, but sheep and goat ranchers contend that if predators are not controlled more effectively their multi-million dollar industry will be virtually wiped out.

A group of local citizens attended the Board of Education meeting Monday night when the board met at 7 for the purpose of electing teachers for school year 1972-1973 at the top item of interest on the agenda.

President of the Board of Trustees L. P. Bloodworth, welcomed the thirteen persons attending the meeting but advised them that the members had always declined to discuss personalities in open meetings. He said, "We have always refrained from this. We call in the principals and if a teacher's work is up to par and the principal recommends the teacher be rehired, we act according to the recommendation. We feel that the administrators are responsible for evaluating the personnel, and it is upon this evaluation that we base our decision whether or not to retain a teacher."

Some of the group reported that they did not come to pressure the board into making a decision about the hiring or rehiring of teachers, more specifically a girls' basketball coach; however, "it seems as a community, we are most interested in winning".

In the executive session that followed the open meeting, all personnel were reelected with the following exceptions, as released by superintendent Ken McAllister: —Ray Mason was reelected as classroom teacher, but was released from coaching duties

Approximately 300 persons heard Grant Teaff, head of the athletic department of Baylor University, Friday night when he spoke at the All-Sports banquet at the 4-H Center. Teaff, who spoke on "self-tackling" was introduced by former Bronco athletic director, Bill Scoggins.

Dick Street, president of the Booster Club introduced out-of-town guests and Jimmy Hugh Harris presided as master of ceremonies. Honored at the banquet, which was given by Booster Club members, were students who participate in tennis, golf, track, girls' track, girls' basketball, boys' basketball—both B and varsity, and members of the "B" and varsity football teams. Also honored were all coaches of the various departments.

Two special awards were presented. The Nathan's Award, presented annually to a member of the high school sports and to the athlete chosen by his teammates, was presented this year to Richard Bernal. Members of the coaching staff annually select the best all-around athlete. Rick Street was chosen for the honor this year.

FHA Chapter To Sponsor Fund Raising Crusade

To celebrate St. Patrick's Day members of Sonora Chapter, Future Homemakers of America will be sporting green in the form of "Shamrocks for Dystrophy" tags as local citizens join the rest of America in the 3rd annual nationwide fund raising crusade to benefit Muscular Dystrophy Association of America.

In the spirit of St. Patrick, who performed miraculous cures as well as chasing snakes out of Ireland, FHA members will be handing out green Shamrocks for Dystrophy tags. In return, they'll be asking for some of your "green" to help research scientists perform a modern miracle by finding cures for muscular dystrophy and related neuromuscular diseases. Members will be downtown selling tags between the hours of 10 and 11 a. m. and 1:30 and 2:30 p. m. Friday. There will also be canisters in various stores on that day. Let's put St. Patrick back into St. Patrick's Day and in the spirit of his kind of charity, bestow upon the victims of muscular dystrophy the precious gift of hope and perhaps life itself, said Mrs. A. E. Prugel, local chairman of the drive.

for the 1972-73 school year. —David Porter, Mrs. Herbert Fields, James Buchanan and Mrs. Wanda Turner, were rehired subject to removal of deficiencies for a certificate.

S. Teaff, Bill Tittle and George Wallace approving the policy. Bloodworth voted to accept the proposal to break the tie vote.

The policy reads, "... any person who is 65 years old, or will become 65 during the 1972-1973 school year, or will reach the age of 65 during any school year, will be required to retire effective at the end of that school year, or the school fiscal year. ALTOONA, PA., MIRROR: "An American welfare state would be no match for the Soviet warfare state; so as we see our national resources being channeled increasingly into welfare and the Soviet's increasingly into warfare, we should be able to see what's cooking before it boils over."

WEST POINT, MISS., TIMES LEADER: "There's old Mr. Silverbean, pushing 80 and still at the wheel, who is given to changing lanes without flicking on his turn signal. One makes allowances for that. Old folks tend to be forgetful, and besides, Mr. Silverbean started driving long before there was such a thing as a flashing turn signal. There's also young Suzy Brighteyes, however. She, too, weaves from lane to lane without signaling. Not much excuse for Suzy. Anyone who learned driving in recent years yet fails to signal is just plain --and perhaps lethally--careless."

Nothing stands still, but nothing successful progresses unless it has a solid foundation.'

VINCENNES, IND., VALLEY ADVANCE: "A person loaded with money is said to be a 'fat cat'. Maybe there's more to the saying than we realize. A nutrition expert from the University of California tells us the nation's household pets are better fed than the members of the family--the human members, that is. Come to think of it, not many of us two-legged critters have our choice of nine delicious flavors when we sit down to eat. Whatever our shortcomings, never let it be said that Americans are beastly to their pets."

MOVILLE, IOWA, RECORD: "Probably one of the biggest troubles with so much federal regulation these days is that many of the people directing the federal programs are long on theory and short on business experience. There are plenty of men who can sit back and tell you how things should be run...but businesswise these theories aren't worth a tinkers dam. It looks to us like we need more successful businessmen in government offices to help direct the programs successfully."

Acquiring that farm might seem more practical with financing through the Federal Land Bank. Land is easier to pay off when costs are amortized over extra years with a long-term Land Bank Loan. Your total cost of borrowing, too, can be less. Ask us for help: We know land values; we will inspect the property. We will then try to make a loan that meets your exact needs.

PHILOSOPHER SEZ... Take A Look At The U. S. Reporters' Reports On The Visit To China

Editor's note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his bitter-sweet ranch on Dry Devil's River has been listening to the reporters' summaries of their trip to China, his letter this week reveals.

Dear editor:

A lot of columnists who didn't get to make the trip to China have been complaining that nobody has found out what actually took place over there, if anything, but they were looking for the big things when they should have been looking for the little things.

For example, on his return, Walter Cronkite, in summing up some of his impressions which didn't include what went on at the summit talks since he couldn't find out any more than you and me what went there, said he couldn't get over how clean the streets of Peking were, and contrasted them with the streets of New York and other big cities where I understand it's considered unsanitary for children to play hop-scotch.

He pointed out also how 200,000 Chinese turned out one day to shovel the snow off Peking's streets.

Well, I'll tell you. If 200,000 New Yorkers tackled their streets some morning it'd make a difference too.

But what I wanted to know, and what the television reporters never thought to ask, is, what would those 200,000 abledodied Chinese have been doing if they weren't shoveling snow? Don't they have regular jobs?

Also, the reporters and the other visitors too couldn't get over the immensity of the ancient Chinese Wall, the 20-foot-high, 40-foot-thick monstrosity running for thousands of miles over mountains and through valleys and built over 2,000 years ago by 300,000 slaves.

If you'll give me 300,000 slaves who'll work for a bowl of rice a day, and 50,000 other slaves who're growing and delivering that rice at the same rate of pay, no telling what I could build... maybe a paved highway to every house in the country and a rock fence around every farm and ranch, provided somebody would furnish the wheelbarrows and the whips.

But that was ancient China. How about modern China? I don't know a thing about it, same as the reporters who've been there, but there must be some people over there who, looking out the window from beneath their warm cover on a winter morning, sure hate to see it snowing.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Fairly Free Private Enterprise

Curbside flower vendors became so numerous in a certain community that the regular florists began to complain about the competition. Finally, the city council passed a tough licensing law aimed at knocking the street vendors out of business.

But when the new law was tested in court, it was held null and void. The court said the city simply had no power to regulate a business as harmless as selling flowers.

Private enterprise, while not wholly free, still has considerable vitality. A city's "police power" does not include blanket authority over all kinds of business activities, just because they happen to be within the city limits. On the other hand, a city may indeed impose restraints on a business that has a real potential for harm. Consider the case of a man who started a telephone answering service. According to a city ordinance, he and his employees were supposed to submit to photographing and fingerprinting. Challenging the ordinance, the man said it was unfair to "single us out." But a court saw two ways in which a telephone answering service could be harmful:

- 1) by the misuse of confidential information about subscribers; and
  - 2) by the encouragement of immoral activities.
- Upholding the city's requirements, the court said:
- "There is a reasonable basis for distinguishing this type of business from others that are not regulated."

Another ordinance, covering private detectives, went still further. Under its terms, they had to put up a special bond and get a character clearance from the police department.

But again, a court decided there were enough possibilities for mischief in this line of work to justify the city in taking precautions. As one judge put it: "A statute to promote the public safety is valid, although it may interfere with individual freedom. Individual freedom must yield to the public good."

extra wiring

important savings

When you build a new home, wiring is easy to install and relatively inexpensive. Extra circuits, extra outlets cost little. But to add them now to an older home can be a major home improvement expense. Holes must be cut... wires pulled through walls... refinishing... repainting. Sometimes, the old service entrance, or fuse-box, simply doesn't have the room for new circuits and must be replaced.

Advance planning is the answer to this expensive remodeling problem. When you build a new home, assume that you will add new electric appliances later. Install plenty of extra outlets and circuits. Make sure that your electric service entrance has extra, unused capacity. Assume that you and your family will want additional electrical equipment in the years to come, and plan for it.

Producers Advised Voting Important
Commissioner John C. White reminded sheep and goat raisers in 73 West Texas counties to vote before midnight March 28 on a proposed predator control program.

Voting is by mail and is being conducted by the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association. Commissioner White authorized the referendum under provisions of the Texas Commodity Referendum Law.

Voters will decide whether or not to allow deductions of 20¢ a head for sheep and 10¢ a head for goats to be used in the predator control program. Nine members of a board to administer the fund also will be elected.

"It is important for sheep and goat raisers to make known their wishes on whether or not to conduct a predator control program," Commissioner White said.

Our News Letter

BY O. C. FISHER

Chances for effective anti-busing legislation during this session took a nose dive last week when the Senate voted 50 to 47, and again 48 to 47, against an amendment which had teeth in it. The amendment provided: "No court shall have jurisdiction to make any decision, enter any judgement or issue any order the effect of which would be to require that pupils be transported to or from school on the basis of their race, color, religion..."

After tentatively approaching this amendment 43 to 40, at a time when several pro-busing Senate presidential candidates were out campaigning, the absentees were rushed back to the Capitol to turn the tide--and defeat the anti-busing amendment.

If you haven't seen the Caverns of Sonora, or if you haven't attended a Sonora Fling Ding, you don't know what you have missed!

Another of the annual Fling Dings, which was celebrated several days ago, attracted 2,000 guests. Featuring big name bands, this event has become the biggest social gathering of its kind in Southwest Texas. The annual event provided a pilgrimage for the hundreds of those who gather at Sonora each year, there to mix and mingle with scores of friends.

Aside from the Fling Ding, the Sonora Caverns afford visitors from all over the country a rare opportunity to view one of nature's magnificent wonders, aptly described by Bill Stephenson, past president of the National Speleological Society, thus: "It's the most beautiful known in the world."

Named to the Board of Equalization were Stanley Mayfield, Nelson Stubblefield and Dick Black with Philip Jacoby as alternate.

SENIOR TRIP
High school principal James Pollard reported that the Seniors had requested they be permitted to observe senior day and also make an out-of-town trip to Arlington the day following. The board rejected the proposal since they voted last year to limit senior sponsored activity to one day only.

DELINQUENT TAXES
King reported that reminders had been mailed to persons whose taxes became delinquent February 1. Some discussion was held in regards to hiring another attorney to replace the one the school now employs to pursue collection of delinquent taxes. No action was taken at this time.

SPECIAL MEETING
The board will meet March 20 at 12:30 p.m. in a special called session at the office of the superintendent.
