JOHN BUTTERFIELD, BAND DIRECTOR of Sonora High School Bronco Band proudly displays the sweepstakes trophy after the band won a first in concert and sight-reading at the Ballinger U. I. L. competition last week. Fans were on hand to greet the jubilant band members and to offer congratulations. Butterfield was high in his praise of the band members for their commitment to dedication and the discipline necessary to achieve this honor. The sweepstakes trophy is the first won by a band in the history of the high school.

Bronco Band Blitzes To Sweepstakes Honors

A triumphant Sonora High School Band returned here accompanied by a welcoming committee of several local fans, Friday night from Ballinger after they received a Division I rating in both concert and sight reading. The Eleven Class A bands performed in the University Interscholastic League meet at Ballinger. Standards are set by the state and the bands are judged on the basis of individual performances, not in competition against each other, said band director John Butterfield.

Happy 50th Anniversary To Florence And Haynie

A Methodist minister moved here in 1921 with his five daughters and when he left just four years later, two of his daughters had married local young men. One of his parishioners remarked that it looked like "... that preacher did all right, at least he married off two of his daughters!"

One of the daughters, Florence married Gus Haynie Davis March 30, 1922, and they will be celebrating their 50th wedding anniversary this month. Their two daughters, Mrs. John (Dell) Tedford and Mrs. Harold (Marjorie) Wagner of Houston, will honor their parents with open house at the Davis home Sunday, April 2.

When Florence Matthis arrived in Sonora with her father in 1921, she moved here with the family from Elgin. However, she was not a complete stranger to this area as her father, the late Rev. L. C. Matthis served as presiding elder (now known as bishop) in San Angelo in 1912. He had a colorful career... lawyer, newspaperman in Brady, finally the ministry, and after retirement... writer and poet.

The family arrived with all their furniture and personal belongings as Methodists didn't furnish parsonages during that era, consequently the move required the use of three large trucks. The entire family was expected to be in church Sunday morning to meet the congregation, and be dressed in the 'family best'.

Florence has some delightful memories of that first morning when the family stood at the front of the sanctuary and were greeted by the members... in those early days a preacher and his family were thoroughly scrutinized. She also recalls

Twenty-Second Easter Pageant Set In Junction

The twenty-second annual Easter Pageant sponsored by the Men's Bible Class will be presented Easter Eve, April 1, in the natural amphitheatre at the foot of Lover's Leap one mile southeast of Junction.

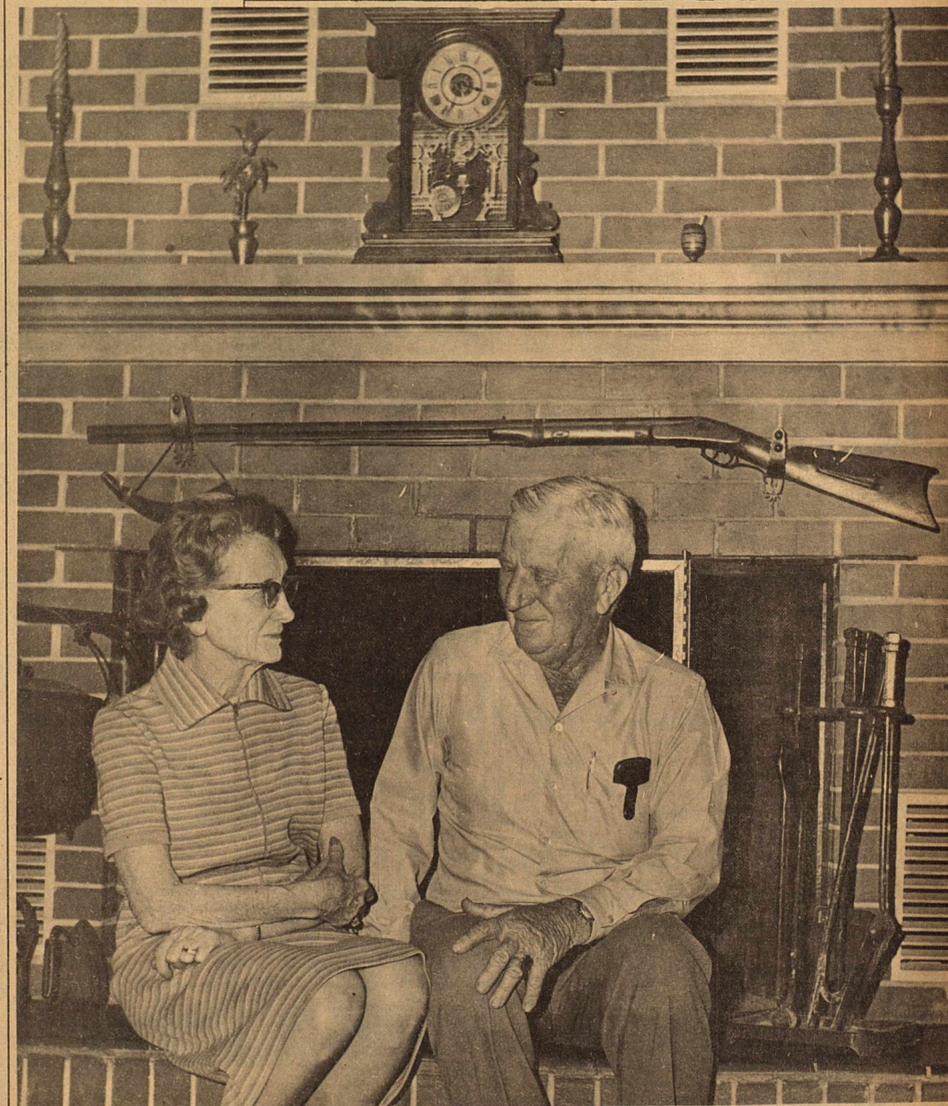

Starting at 10 p. m., the pageant will climax with the resurrection and ascension scenes shortly after midnight.

More than 100 amateur performers will pantomime the last week of the life of Christ on earth supported by changing lights, script readers and background music.

Spectators will watch from cars in the valley between Lover's Leap and Cedar Creek. Boy Scouts will direct parking and distribute free programs. No admission is charged.

Free coffee will be dispensed from the chuckwagon of the late Ranger Gully Cowser after 4 p. m. Food and soft drinks will be available at a service club concession stand. Mrs. Hamp Johnston is director. General chairman is B. C. Camp. Chairmen are from the Men's Bible Class, a non-denominational group which meets each Sunday morning in the Texan Theatre.

Performers of all ages are from various walks of life.

FLORENCE and HAYNIE DAVIS relax as they sit on the hearth in front of the fireplace. This room is one of their favorites in their home. Complementing the beauty of the area are many mementos of the past. Hanging on the fireplace is a gun used during the Civil War days. Directly below the gun is a powder horn. A clock on the mantel was a wedding gift to Haynie's parents.

Bruce Kerbow Spearheads Bronco Win Of Division IV San Angelo Relays

Coach J. T. Hill's Sonora Broncos, spearheaded by the outstanding performance of Bruce Kerbow, captured the Division IV San Angelo Relays Saturday, March 25, emerging from a tight four-way race with 53 points.

Sophomore ace Kerbow highlighted the Broncos' efforts as he finished the meet as the only triple winner, and broke two records along the way. He outshined Eldorado's Archie Nixon, who won two events and finished second in two others.

Kerbow who won the high jump Friday in record 6-1 fashion, returned Saturday with a 15.4 first place finish in the 120-yard high hurdles and then nudged Wall's Bennie Holik for top honors in the 330-yard intermediates.

The young bronco cut a full second off his previous best this year as he won in 39.4, a new division record. The old mark was 40.2 set by Laney Cook in 1967.

Also winning first place for the Broncos was Steve Street, who finished first in the 100-yard dash with a time of 10.2. Broncos Wade Richardson, John Weston, Street and Wesley Richardson were first place winners in the 880-yard relay with a time of 1:33.5. Wade Richardson won the pole-vault with a vault of 11-4.

In the sprint medley relay Sonora was fifth with a time of 4:03.0. Richard Bernal placed fifth in the 100-yard dash with a time of 10.6, with the top five runners separated with only .4-second time.

The Broncos placed second in the mile relay with a time of 3:31.8.

Wall school placed second in the relays with 46 points; Kress, third with 41 and Eldorado, fourth with 40 points.

Indications are that the production of mohair in this area has dropped 25 percent from totals of one year ago. The production this year is 240,000 pounds as compared with 327,000 pounds for the spring of 1932. Loss in volume may be good news, as it should result in a raise from last year's disastrous levels.

A very enjoyable occasion was held at Cedar Hill school house Saturday night when the friends of Mr. and Mrs. Terry Baker gave them a miscellaneous shower complimenting their marriage last week.

Harold Friess won first place at the Ozona track meet in the 440-yard dash with the winning time of 54 seconds. The Sonora mile relay team, composed of Friess, Troy White, Lacey Smith and G. W. Archer placed fourth.

73 YEARS AGO
April 22, 1899 The Devil's River News carried the following article:

An election to decide whether Sonora shall incorporate for school purposes, will be held in Sonora on Wednesday May 3, 1899, at the court house in Sonora. The election is ordered by Judge J. O. Rountree to whom a petition signed by 20 qualified voters, has been presented praying that said election be held.

The Sonora Mail Line gives notice that they will not take letters outside of the mails from Sonora in the future. They do not like to refuse to accommodate the people in this matter but as they are subject to fine they do not wish to run any risks. Do not ask them to violate their rules.

C. M. Deere returned from Juno Tuesday. In Juno he preached to a large congregation on three nights and on the last night two professed religion.

T. W. Rushin of Menardville who has been trapping wolves in the North Llano country was in Sonora Monday. He has been trapping for E. E. Sawyer and R. T. Baker. For the former he caught 26 wolves, for the latter 7 wolves but has only started work at Bakers.

E. F. Vander Stucken returned Saturday last from a very enjoyable visit to San Antonio. It commenced raining at Lampasas about 6 o'clock Friday and Felix could not sleep that night listening to the rain drops on the car top. Felix and Jinks Blocker went halves on a wish about the rain and both got their wish.

The associate editor and publisher of the Devil's River News, better known as Steve Murphy, left for San Antonio Tuesday where he will enjoy the Battle of Flowers.

THE CRUCIFIXION by Richard Hook from Taylor's Bible Story Book

THE CRUCIFIXION

"God paid a ransom to save you from the impossible road to heaven which your fathers tried to take, and the ransom he paid was not mere gold or silver, as you very well know. But he paid for you with the precious lifeblood of Christ, the sinless, spotless Lamb of God. ... Because of this your trust can be in God who raised Christ from the dead and gave Him great glory."

The Devil's River Philosopher Sez..... He Cleans Off His Desk And Uncovers Wide Assortment Of Un-used Clippings

Editor's note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his bitter-weed ranch on Dry Devil's River has cleaned off his desk, his letter this week reveals. Must be spring. Dear editor:

A man's desk, like a state capitol, ought to be cleaned out every once in a while to see what's worth keeping and what's ready to be gotten rid of.

For example, here's an item under a pile of old newspapers on my desk saying a Japanese automaker has developed a device that automatically stops the engine of a car if an intoxicated driver sits at the wheel. It's a special platinum plate at the center of the steering wheel which is highly sensitive and sends an electronic signal to switch the engine off if the driver has alcohol on his breath. Maybe so, but has it occurred to the inventor that what this would result in is a tremendous increase in the sale of surgical face masks?

Here's another, from a politician dodging the busing issue: "Quality education is the issue. The better educated we are, the better we can live together." That's true, except for the fact some of the biggest squabbles on record have occurred between multi-degreed professors at some of the biggest universities. I won't mention high school faculties, scientific societies, or medical conventions.

Speaking of busing, if that issue is settled, will the next issue be car-ing? You know, outlawing the use of a car to get to school. Everybody has to walk. Of course, I can see a lawsuit now claiming it's unconstitutional unfair for a pupil living across the street from his school to get by with having to take only fifty steps while a pupil 12 blocks away has to walk a thousand times further. This could be answered by the argument that the across-the-street pupil would really not have an advantage because he would be at home doing his chores longer than the 12-block-away pupil, since it would take him only a couple of minutes to get to school before the bell rings.

This would be answered by the question from modern-day kids: What's a chore? By the way, the politicians aren't going to have much trouble in complying with the truth-in-advertising rules in this year's campaigns. There's so much scandal around that regardless of what one candidate says about another, he's likely to be telling the truth. Yours faithfully, J.A.

THE DAVIS HOME ABOUNDS with many lovely antiques. This bedspread was designed by a Houston woman from a portiere Florence found in an old family trunk. Braid used to join the curtains was carefully dyed to blend perfectly with the soft rose shades predominant in the portiere.

THE R. WALTER DAVIS HOME became the home of Florence and Haynie Davis and this was their first home before building their present home. They have lived their entire married life in this same location. With life expectancy increasing, 50th wedding anniversaries are not as rare as they once were; however, probably few persons celebrate a golden wedding anniversary in the same location where they first set up housekeeping. The San Angelo roadway passed close beside the Davis home and the Davises said it was a rare occasion when a car passed without having to stop for water or tire repair. They have a beautiful lamp that was constructed from a head-lamp from an early-day Ford car, probably lost by some motorist and later found in the big draw close to the house.

WHEN THIS BED WAS PURCHASED for Dell, Marjorie was not the least impressed, in fact, she told her mother not "to put any old thing like that in my bedroom". Now she deals in antiques and prefers not to be reminded of that early remark.

THIS CHARMING BENCH once graced the waiting room of a railroad station. It isn't the most comfortable seat to be found, but the benches were probably built more for durability than for the comfort of passengers. The Davises restored this bench as they have a number of things now used in the home. J. L. Davis, once sheriff of Sutton County, was also owner of a butcher shop. In the kitchen of the Davis home, the large wooden chopping block is still used by Florence. She also utilizes a wooden bowl that Haynie's mother used for mixing bread. Lovers of antiques and even those who just cherish things of the past can appreciate the smooth, satiny wood that is found in most of the desks and tables in the Davis home.

THE DAVIS HOME IS FILLED WITH OUTSTANDING antiques, but Florence laughingly says that when she and Haynie set up housekeeping they used old things out of necessity, but in a few years the "old" things became "antiques". This beautiful hall tree has a drip pan on each side to hold wet umbrellas. The drip pans have not been used much in dry West Texas, Florence is quick to add.

As the School Board election approaches, I would like to urge each voter in Sutton County to exercise his right to vote. In this election, you have a choice.

I believe you owe it to yourselves, your neighbors, and most of all to your children, to let your choice be known by your vote.

As I have told many of you, please vote for me if you feel you can, but above all, VOTE on Saturday, April 1, 1972.

Thank You,
Bill Sewell

"What is Easter, Mommy?"

"Is it the time when bunnies get born?" I looked at my little daughter, appalled.
 Did she really think of Easter in terms of sugared eggs, fluffy bunnies and pretty candies? Had I given her the impression that for grownups Easter is a time for new clothes, flowered hats and fragrant corsages? Surely, at some time, I must have told her the real story of Easter. Or had I?
 I was really flabbergasted at my negligence—it took my little daughter to make me realize it. I dismissed my house chores and sat down right then to tell her the glorious Easter story of the Resurrection. I told her what hope this event brought for all of mankind—with its promise of eternal life.
 I might add that the next week I enrolled my daughter in church school. And my husband and I started attending church again. We haven't missed a Sunday since.

A Bishop Looks At Life

WHO WAS TO BLAME?
 By Everett H. Jones
 Retired Bishop of the EPISCOPAL CHURCH

The three hardest words for a person to say are these: "I was wrong."
 In any situation, whether it be a family crisis or an international conflict, we tend instinctively to put the blame on someone else. We look for a scapegoat; the last place we want to look is within ourselves. We are masters at dodging our own responsibility.

These thoughts are brought to mind as we remember again the events of Holy Week and Good Friday. The cruelest and most unjustified shifting of responsibility for these events has been to blame the Jews. During much of Christian history we used the term "Christ-killers". I thank God we do so no longer.

A close study of the record will show that many forces combined to put Christ on his cross. There was the religious intolerance of the Pharisees, who felt that their place of religious leadership was being threatened. There was Pilate's fear for his political future in the Roman Empire. There was the pleasure-loving irresponsibility of Herod, who saw Jesus only as a magician. There was Pilate's fear for his political future in the Roman Empire. There was the pleasure-loving irresponsibility of Herod, who saw Jesus only as a magician. There was the unfaithfulness of Judas, and the disloyalty of Peter. There was the fickleness of the followers who shouted "Hosanna" on Palm Sunday and then cried "Crucify Him" on Good Friday. There was the apathy of the crowd who saw the cross and passed by on the other side.

It is clear that Christ was crucified by forces that are still at work in the world—and they are at work in us. In this sense, it is accurate to say that we ourselves crucify him again and again.

There is a popular television comedian who is fond of saying "The Devil made me do it". There is truth in these words, but here again is a dangerous evasion of personal responsibility.

As we stand before the cross there is only one valid response to all that it has to say: "Father, forgive me."

The group, under the direction of Mr. John Butterfield, received first division ratings in both their concert and sight-reading performances Saturday which, added to their first division in marching, brought them Sweepstakes honors.

Easter Seal Appeal Ends Easter Sunday

Contributions to the Easter Seal Appeal should be sent to Mrs. Erma Lee Turner, Sutton County Easter Seal representative as soon as possible, she reported. The 1972 appeal ends Easter Sunday.

The 1972 Easter Seal Appeal will finance the Easter Seal Society's rehabilitation program for crippled children and adults in Texas. Last year the Society helped over 22,000 disabled persons through its program of assistance in finding and making effective use of services for the disabled and their families.

As Easter Seal representative, Mrs. Turner is the person to contact for services from the Easter Seal Society. She can be contacted at the County and District Clerks' office.

The reason truth makes such slow progress is that it's in competition with pretense.

electricity for today and tomorrow...

Every year there are more and more ways that you use electricity to make life more convenient, more comfortable and more productive. And every year there are more people to depend on electricity.

That's why we plan ahead for larger power demands—long-range plans that include your children's needs as well as your own. Higher production and better living for you today—for others tomorrow—depend on plenty of low-cost power.

We believe that with careful planning, intensified research and determined efforts, electric energy will be a positive force in meeting your growing needs tomorrow and for generations to come.

Does your hot shower end in the middle of your hot shower?

And, as if that isn't bad enough, you've got three kids and a very irate wife prepared to tar and feather you for using up their hot water.

Maybe it's time to move up to a larger gas water heater. Gas water heaters are easy to buy. Easy to install. And they recover hot water up to twice as fast as electric water heaters.

Make the decision. You'll stop getting into hot water with your family, and start getting into hot water with your shower.

IN THE SCHOOL BOARD ELECTION SATURDAY, APRIL 1

And I Hope You Will Vote For James T. Hunt

I feel that I am qualified both educationally and through varied business experience to do a competent job for you and your children. And I want to give my time to this effort.

I have always identified with our school and our community. I have two children in Sonora Elementary School, so naturally I am interested that they have the best education they are capable of absorbing. But I am not just interested in my children, I am interested in your children also. I am interested and concerned about all children in the Sonora School District because it is our responsibility to give these children the best education possible within our means.

It goes without saying that to do a good job as a school board member it is essential that a member attend the meetings of the board, but his interest can't be confined to these two hours each month. I promise if I am elected to this office I will be available to talk to anyone about our school and its policies and will welcome an opportunity to get opinions from everyone and explain what the school board and the administration are attempting to do.

I pledge to you that I will do my best to fulfill the responsibilities and duties if elected to your school board. I hope you will place an X by the name of James T. Hunt. The last name on the ballot.

vividly how the boy friend she left behind in Elgin was worried because he felt she was moving to a rugged, outlaw part of the world. The first night the family arrived there were a couple of incidents that almost convinced her that perhaps she had arrived in uncivilized territory.

She remembers that her father was called out the night of their arrival after two unpleasant occurrences. She especially recalls a shoot-out in a local saloon. However, the family adjusted quickly, and it was not long before she was being courted by one of the "Davis boys".

Haynie made his initial appearance here in 1899 as a small child when his parents came to visit his father's half-brother, J. L. Davis on his ranch. The late Mr. R. Walter Davis told his brother he would like to buy the ranch if he ever decided to sell. In November, 1903, J. L. chose to sell to Walter, and later a partnership was formed between the father and two of his sons, Haynie and the late W. L. (Tom) Davis.

The recollection Haynie has of his family's move to Sonora in 1903 varies from that of Florence, as his family arrived by rail, coming first to San Angelo. Both families migrated originally from Elgin, and their parents had known each other before coming to West Texas. Haynie's father rented a railroad car for the family's journey and the two wagons, a buggy and horses were loaded in the car, along with household items. When the train rolled into San Angelo, Mr. Davis and two of his sons rode the long 65 miles to Sonora in a covered wagon, while Mrs. Davis, Winnie (Mrs. Harold Saunders) and the youngest boys rode in the buggy.

In 1919, before Florence and Haynie were aware of the other's existence, the Walter Davises returned to Austin to make their home. They had a son at the University of Texas and another son attending A&M. Haynie and Tom reached an agreement several years later, with Haynie settling on the ranch where his parents lived originally, while Tom moved to the ranch about five miles north.

Although their parents were friends, Florence and Haynie had not met before they moved here. Interestingly, though, as was the custom during their childhood, both families acquired the services of a nursemaid, a negro girl named "Charity". She cared for Haynie when he was a baby and after the Davis family moved from Elgin, she worked for the Matthis family and took care of Florence as a small child. Florence has fond memories of Charity, and she visited the Davises as long as she was physically able before her death.

Haynie is a 1915 graduate of Sonora High School, graduating with the late Frank Decker, Stanton Word, Merton Shurley and Rose Word. He left for A&M in 1916, quitting in 1917 to enlist in the Navy, where he served during World War I. After his discharge, he returned to the home place, which he eventually acquired. Following his marriage to Florence in 1922 in Ballinger, he and Florence have continued to live in the same location where they first set up house-keeping as newlyweds.

Both have been active in this community all their married life. He has been a diligent worker with Boy Scouts. She is a past president of the Sonora Woman's Club, is a charter member of the Board of Directors of Hudspeth Memorial Hospital, besides working in the P-T-A, and the local library. Both have devoted tirelessly of their time and services to offices and duties in the Methodist Church. They are still very alert—two people who are constantly on the move—Haynie with ranching and Florence as always busily engaged with a number of projects.

Years ago Florence began preserving newspaper clippings, pictures and other mementos of the family's past. They have compiled the information into an intriguing and informative scrapbook, with articles and pictures dating back to 1903. The book is covered with an especially designed cowhide cover.

In reminiscing, they recalled that they held no significant observance of their 25th wedding anniversary, but on the 26th they returned to the hotel in Ballinger where they had honeymooned.

It took a lot of managing on Haynie's part with the hotel manager, but they were able to obtain the same room where they had stayed the first night of their marriage. The next morning they were pleasantly surprised when they came downstairs to breakfast to find a special table placed in a prominent spot for them in the hotel dining room. The hotel staff rolled out the 'red carpet' and gave them exceptional service. The hotel has since been demolished otherwise they would be tempted to journey back to the same place for this 50th anniversary of their marriage.

The Davises many friends will be calling Sunday to help them observe the happy occasion. Friendly folks, everybody always uses the back door to drop in for a visit, but this time Florence says the daughters insist. "Mama, please see that everyone comes in via the front door!"

was made by the Rev. A. B. Wagner, pastor of the church. The voters assembly of the Women's Missionary League will meet at 1:30 p. m. Subject of the message is "He Is Risen".

"A cordial invitation is extended to all", said the Rev. Mr. Wagner. EPISCOPAL CHURCH Special services have been held nightly at 7 at St. John's Episcopal Church all this week.

The Rev. Ray Nations, rector of St. John's said he plans a special Maundy Thursday service at 7 tonight. GOOD FRIDAY

In reminding people of the community to attend the Good Friday services at St. John's, the Rev. Mr. Nations submits the following:

"It does not matter what religious denomination we claim nor if we do not claim any. It does not matter if we never attend church, occasionally attend church, or if we are among those who attend church every Sunday, each of us have been affected by the events which occurred on a hill outside of Jerusalem about two thousand years ago. Most people who believe this also believe that they contribute something to the Holiness of Good Friday and Easter by attending church on the anniversary of these days as they are celebrated today. Unfortunately the Holiness of these days has nothing to do with us or what we do. They are considered Holy by most of Christendom because of the events which happen on these days and we can contribute nothing to them. But we can receive much from them if we do something about them.

We can honor these days with our presence in the church of our choice, there to join with our fellow believers in Jesus the Christ in worship to God and in thankfulness for His presence in the world. Good Friday and Easter are the most profound evidence that man has of this presence of God in the world. The crucifixion of Jesus on Good Friday and the empty tomb on Easter morning are miracles without precedent or equal in the world simply because they are the sure evidence of God's presence in the world. Some would disregard Good Friday, turning away from the honor of the crucifixion which was suffered by the "Good Man" Jesus but without the crucifixion, Easter is meaningless.

There is a real sense where Good Friday is necessary for Easter to be. The greatness of the resurrection is not degraded by the humiliating death of the cross—it is enhanced. Only through our appreciation of the pain of the cross can we share in the joy of the triumphal resurrection. If we can go on the evidence of the past, we cannot share in this joy alone, we must join with our fellow Christians both in the shadow of the cross on Good Friday and in the light of the empty tomb on Easter morn. Can believers do less than gather together to do honor to the Holiness of these important events; Good Friday and Easter?

* The suggestion has been made that a well-fed race of human beings might lose its initiative.

Is now the time to buy land?

Acquiring that farm might seem more practical with financing through the Federal Land Bank. Land is easier to pay off when costs are amortized over extra years with a long-term Land Bank Loan. Your total cost of borrowing, too, can be less. Ask us for help: We know land values; we will inspect the property. We will then try to make a loan that meets your exact needs.
