Square--The Sheep Shearer And His Crew Are Hard Workers In The Industry

Big Arturo "Square" Sanchez heads up two sheep shearing crews, and it is rather refreshing to find a man truly dedicated to his work and proud of his profession. In this age of exceptional emphasis on the 'white-collar' job, Square unhesitantly tells you he is a sheep shearer. It is evident he is happy in his work as he is quick to praise the 20 or more shearers who follow him from way down in South Texas to South Dakota's northernmost

'Square" grew up in the sheep shearing business. His father. Joe Sanchez, was a shearing 'capitan' now semi-retired. The hard work and long hours were not new to Square when he formed his own business. Square feels that sheep shearing is an art and he works constantly to improve techniques, and hopefully upgrade the work of his crew, as well as contribute to etter wool prices for the producer. A young man, and a bachelor, Sanchez does everything he can to keep his crew members comfortable and happy. Since a great deal of his work is being done in South Dakota (where he just learned this week that eight inches of new-fallen snow was on the ground) he has converted two former school buses to house and feed the crew and keep them warm and contented when the day's work is finished. Cooking facilities and seating arrangements for the meals are provided in one of the buses. Pablo Tovar, from Mexico, is an excellent cook Square says and keeps the meals prepared for the shearers. The other bus converts to bunk beds for the crew, and it has most of the comforts of homes since it is equipped with electricity, television and stereo to provide entertainment for the men when they are working far out in the county, miles away from

Most of the shearing crew are native Sonorans, and pay is high for the men, especially for those who have mastered the art so well. Many shearers can handle 200 or better sheep per day, and for the 'greenhorn' who has no knowledge of the amount of work required to wrestle a sheep down and get the wool off, it is difficult to comprehend the strength and determination required of these men to shear 200 sheep a day. Some of the shearers who are ble to perform so well include

Ernest Barrera, brothers Junior, Milton and Salvador Castillieia. Rafael Herrera, Jr., Alberto Luna and Tino Martinez. Sanchez says Alvardo Martinez is one of the neatest shearers he has ever seen, and he averages from 125 to 150 per day. Sam Galindo, another of the 'neat' shearers averages about 150. One of the newest and youngest members of the crew, Chano" Sanchez, who is 17years-old, and a novice averages around 80 a day already. Presently Sanchez is opera-(CONTINUED... PAGE 6)

REV. VON DELL DRINKARD

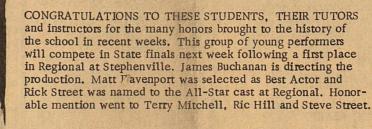

Primera Baptist Church To Hold Revival Services

Primera Baptist Church will have a week of "old time relig-ion" meetings from May 1 through May 6, according to the Rev. Ray Garnett, pastor of the church. Services will be held at Liberty Park at Chestnut and Galindo Streets, beginning 7:30 p.m. each day.

The evangelist will be the Rev. Von Dell Drinkard of Central Baptist Church of Odessa. Music director will be Pat Ragsdale of First Baptist Church in Eldorado. Mark Hayes of Baylor University will be the organist.

"If you like Bible preaching and want to enjoy some of the best music this side of Heaven, plan to attend these services", said the Rev. Mr. Garnett. Everyone is invited to "come as you are and bring a friend". In case of bad weather, the services will be held at Primera Baptist Church, located at Chestnut and Santa Clara streets.

CAPTURING THE REGIONAL LITERARY TITLE individual competitors walked away with five first and two second place awards. Going to State as first place winners are Ric Hill in prose interpretation; Michelle Rousselot, poetry interpretation; Janet Pope, persuasive speaking; Carol Weston, informative speaking and Joe David Nance in ready-writing. Second place winners included Jimmy Weston and Rick Street. Blaine Crawford and Jim Pollard also placed in the Literary meet.

GOING TO AUSTIN NEXT WEEKEND as members of the track team are Steve Street, Wade Richardson, Bruce Kerbow, Wesley Richardson, John Weston and Richard Bernal. Altogether there will be a total of 27 students representing Sonora High School in the various areas of State competition, the largest number ever to represent Sonora in a State meet in Class A.

notes that, "Mortality rates for men are turning upward, while those for women appear to be leveling off or going down, according to a report from the National Center for Health Statistics. The trend for excess mortality for men, moving upward throughout the century, appeared to level off during the mid-1950s, then turned upward again during the 1957-68 period. The report, said the excess mortality for the resident population of the United States has contributed to the sharp decline in the sex ratio (male persons to 100 female persons). This ratio dropped from 106 in 1910 to 95 by

As I understand it, a Washington commission after a year's study on the effect of television on children has reported that America should take a second look at the sort of T.V. fare being served up to its youngsters. Too much violence, crime and that sort of thing.

Aside from the fact that you can indeed get a second look at the program, now that the season for re-runs has started, I have been thinking about this matter and have come to the conclusion the commission should broaden its investigation. It should now make a study of the effect on the world on children.

There's far too much violence, crime and that sort of thing going on in the world to allow children to be brought up in it. How can we expect children to grow up and be as good as we are when today's news is

The cooler the home, the warmer the marriage.

Marriages may be made in heaven, but it's hard to keep them heavenly when it's hotter than blazes.

That's where central gas air conditioning comes in. It can bring you together. All summer long. As close as you want. All summer long.
And it won't cost you much either.

In fact, if you have gas heating in your home, you could easily have half a central air conditioning system already. Because you may be able to use the duct work and furnace blower you already have. That saves about fifty percent on installation See Your Gas Air Conditioning Dealer.

That's just part of the savings. Gas costs less to operate than electricity. And you get special low rates during the long hot summer months.

But you'll save more than money with gas. You'll save time and energy, too. Because with central gas air conditioning there are fewer moving parts. Fewer breakdowns. Fewer repairs.

This summer, have central gas air conditioning installed. For loves sake.

What Sanchez is trying to do is not new, but he says conditions today are far more favorable than in earlier years. He wants to establish in the shearing business a more thorough system for separating the good wool from the less desirable wool at the shearing floor. For vears the tags have been separated on the shearing floor, but Sanchez would like to see the other poor parts of the fleece taken out at the same time so that only the best wools are placed in the main bag. The tags, bellies and other less desirable parts of the fleece would be sacked together.

It is Sanchez's contention that if those main bags contained only the prime wool they would bring the producer a premium

Sanchez says the way his crews operate, this can be done without extra cost to the producer. The crews shear in a row on a platform, with a curtain alongside the platform. The tags are tossed under the curtain, the better wool to the other side. He says it would be just as easy to flip the rest of the poor wool to one side with isn't discouraged however, as he feels that shearing crews must continually search for more efficient methods of handling wool and that, in time, the more thorough sorting on the shearing floor is going to be accepted. He says he has found excellent acceptance among the Texas growers for this

Square believes in advertising ...if you see his buses you will crossed know them by the signs painted line and deadly voltage crackled on the well-kept buses.

If you were around here in the early 1960's you will know how Square got his nickname...if not, we can share this bit of information with you. He acquired the nickname while playing football in Sonora High School. The name is descriptive. Square tops six feet considerably, has shoulders that barely fit thru an ordinary doorway. He says he has lost weight since his high school

The 150-pounder ruefully replied...." Dad, you served in World War II... if you had seen an army tank bearing down on you, would you have met it head on?"

Well, Square who works along side his men still looks that big and it's pretty easy to see that he is most likely a contributing factor along with his crew of shearers who can handle 1800 sheep on a good day. With hydraulic sackers and modern equipment and some producers paying 70¢ per head for shearing.... shearing has come a long way!
