Chad Ramsey... A Lively Six-Year-Old Is Learning

We went on a trip from Houston to Sonora. Houston is different. Houston is a large city! Sonora is a small town. I like Sonora!

••• These excerpts may not mean much to the adult reader, but to six-year-old Chad Ramsey they are a means of learning to communicate with his mother, father, two brothers and sister and sharing experiences that he might not otherwise understand. Chad, who is deaf, has been most fortunate to have a mother who spends a great deal of time seeking and searching for ways to broaden and enrich his vocabulary. For instance, the above sentences were taken from a delightful portfolio she designed with color photos depicting their departure from the city of Houston and consequent move to small town Sonora for the summer months.

Captions under the pictures are readily understood by Chad who is able to associate himself and his family with the travel here and scenes around town.

Chad Ramsey was born September 16, 1966 in Houston, and enjoyed a normal babyhood until he became violently ill when he was nine months old.

The illness was diagnosed as meningitis and he was hospitalized for a period of two weeks. Two months later at the age of eleven months he was back in the hospital with another type of meningitis--this time the bacterial type.

Two such close bouts with the dread disease left him with many problems which his parents have discovered with heart-breaking frequency.

Six months after the meningitis had left him, his parents began to suspect he had hearing difficulties. Following tests it was determined that about 95% of his hearing had been destroyed. Additional health problems have beset Chad, such as, double vision, visual depth perception, creating a reading difficulty. But Chad is a brave little fighter and he keeps plugging.

Chad will enter his fourth year at the Houston School for Deaf this fall. The school, a non-profit organization, has a current enrollment of 55 students ranging from toddlers to the first-grade level. A new school is currently under construction and classes to the sixth-grade level will be taught. His parents hope that he may be able to attend public school by the time he reaches junior high school level.

Carol Ramsey took a six-week course at the Houston Speech and Hearing Center to acquaint her with audiogram techniques when Chad's deafness was first discovered. This was helpful she found, but did not compare with the experience she gained last fall when she worked for four months in the school for deaf with four young children.

Here she learned through actual applied practice that each child is a definite individual and hearing problems though related are still very different. She says Chad uses the little hearing he has very well, while another child may not do so.

Jack Ramsey, an employee of Intratex has been away from his family considerably—a situation he finds disturbing but necessary in his line of work. Chad's long, involved illness has been costly, although neither Jack nor Carol dwells on that nor on the hardships they have surely encountered. Jack definitely plans to be in Houston this fall when Chad enrolls in school, since he feels that Chad needs a father's direction also.

Carol says Jack has never let her forget that one psychologist charged the family $200 just to tell them that Chad depends on his mother too much! She is quick to admit that he has had a great deal of over-protection perhaps, as well as over-indulgence from his sis-

Prominent Rancher Dies After Illness

A longtime Sutton County ranchman, Cleveland Thurman Jones, Sr. died June 27, 1972, at 12:05 a.m. in a San Angelo hospital, following a brief illness.

He was born September 20, 1888 in McCullough County, moving here in 1916. Services were held at the Church of the Good Shepherd, Presbyterian, Wednesday at 4 p.m. with the Rev. Homer C. Akers, officiating.

Survivors include his wife, the former Jackie Walker; a daughter, Mrs. Pat Cooper, and one brother Tom Jones of Eldorado. He is also survived by four grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

The News will carry a more complete story on Mr. Jones in next week's issue.

ter and brothers. This is understandable since he is the baby of the family and coupled with the severe illnesses, some spoiling has been inevitable.

This summer for the first time Chad has been taking swimming lessons, under the tutelage of David Wuest and Mark Rousselot, both of whom he likes very much. David would like for him to have additional lessons since he feels that Chad is over-confident at this stage with no fear of the water. Chad has learned to pronounce David's last name, but 'Rousselot' is just a little more than he can comprehend —that name will require more practice.

However, Chad has discovered that there are many words whose meaning are difficult for a little boy who is handicapped to understand. . . for instance, his mother reported that she used the word 'surprise', and it took a lot of explaining to help him understand the meaning of the word. Now he claps his hands and his face shines with anticipation when he hears 'surprise'!

So, in time he will probably be able to pronounce even words like 'Rousselot', with all the love and understanding he has from his family.

Chad thinks David is a good swimming teacher.

Veteran Postal Employee, Schwiening, Retirement Set

Veteran employee Alfred Schwiening, Jr. of the local post office department is retiring effective June 30.

Schwiening, 53, ends a career in federal service which spans more than 28 years in his retirement from the U.S. Postal Service.

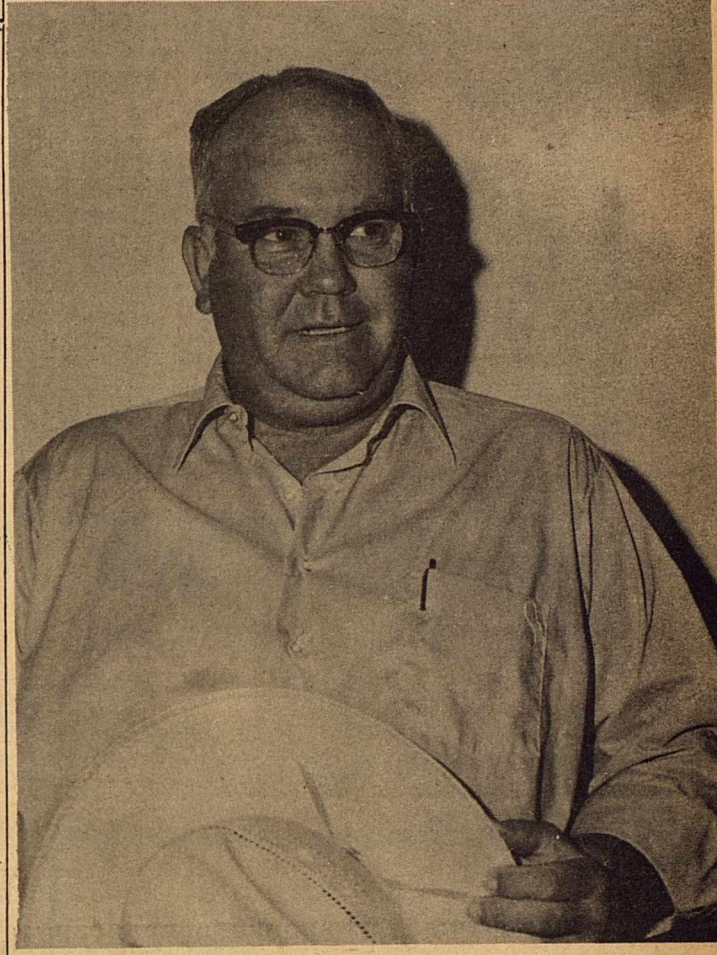

In reminiscing Schwiening recalls the use of wood fires for heating purposes in the building formerly occupied by the late Dr. J. F. Howell, where the post office was located when he went to work for the department. Later the post office moved to the office occupied by the late Jerry N. Shurley, attorney. Fourteen years ago the post office was moved to its present location, adjacent to the First Methodist Church. Central heat and air conditioning replaced the old wood burning stoves and fans formerly used for heating and cooling.

A veteran of World War II, he served in the North Pacific for three years (he says the armed forces forgot he was over there, and that was why he was left so long).

"Junior", as he is fondly called by all the people who know him, has enjoyed his association with everyone here and has made a hobby of giving nickles to little ones who came in the post office. . . which hobby will now have to be curtailed.

he ruefully added. When asked what his retirement plans are, "Junior" said,

"Lady, I'm still on vacation, but it will sure take a lot of getting used to!"

E. J. Hardgrave Sonorans' Father Dies After Fall

Mr. Everett J. Hardgrave, father of R. L. Hardgrave and Jo W. Hardgrave, died June 16, 1972, as the result of an eight-story fall from his apartment at Rio Concho Manor in San Angelo. A ruling of accidental death was returned by Justice Peace Ruth Nicholson.

Services for the veteran retired telephone company official were held Saturday at 11 a.m. in First Christian Church in San Angelo with the Rev. Michael Waco, officiating. Burial was in Fairmount Cemetery in San Angelo under the direction of Johnson's Funeral Home.

Hardgrave, 89, was recently released from a hospital and a spokesman for the apartments speculated he may have grown dizzy while standing at his open window.

Mr. Hardgrave retired in 1946 after serving 35 years with San Angelo Telephone Company, predecessor to General Telephone Company.

A native of Greenville, he was born December 10, 1882. He began his telephone career in Ballinger in 1900 and joined the San Angelo firm in 1910. He served in many offices and owned interest in the company. He added ranching to his circle of activities but continued his interest in developing accounting systems. He lived here for a time before moving to San Angelo.

He was a charter member of the San Angelo Rotary Club and served on the board of the First Christian Church for a number of years.

He was married to Bertram June 23, 1913 to Minnie L. Lewis, a long time teacher in Ballinger schools. She died in San Angelo in 1961.

Other survivors include another son, E. J. Hardgrave of Silver Spring; 10 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

HOLIDAY CLOSING

All offices in the courthouse will be closed both Monday and Tuesday, July 3-4 in observance of the National July 4 Holiday.

The news office will close Tuesday, along with the majority. News items and advertising copy deadline is Monday noon.

Local Count Zegna Award To Hunt Clip

A mohair clip exhibited by James T. Hunt was judged Grand Champion among the five entries here receiving the Count Zegna award at last week's Sonora Wool & Mohair Show. The competition is sponsored by Count Dr. Angelo Zegna of Italy to encourage ranchers and producers to produce extra fine, top quality kid mohair.

Count Zegna is managing director of one of Italy's most famous textile mills located at Trivero, near Milan.

This is the third year the contest has been conducted in South Africa and the first year for Texas entries. The hair is bundled in 150-pound lots and consists of uniform, first shearing kid mohair. A 10-pound sample was taken from the mohair entries and sent to South Africa and the remaining 140-pound lots were judged in competition here.

Although Hunt's entry did not place in South Africa, it was judged the highest of the five sent from here. Count Zegna has indicated his desire to purchase all the five 140-pound lots of mohair at an agreed price of $2 per pound, and they are being shipped to him in Italy. Word has been received here that three gold key rings are being awarded to Hunt, Joe David Ross and George E. (Bud) Smith as special prizes for the three top local entries.

Fred Campbell, manager of Sonora Wool and Mohair, said it is hoped that more producers will enter this phase of the show next year and producers are reminded that the fall kid mohair should be saved for this purpose as entries in the States are held six months for entry in the South African competition in order to fit their seasons.

The African competition is open to interested mohair producers in the United States, South Africa, Turkey and Lesotho, the principle mohair-producing countries in the world.

Grand prize for the Count Zegna award is a rotating gold and diamond trophy valued at approximately $2,800, U.S., with miniature trophies for first, second and third places, which become property of the respective competitors.

SWIMMING POSSIBLE MONDAY NIGHTS

For those who like late evening swimming, David Wuest announces that the swimming pool will be open each Monday from 7 to 9 during the month of July. The regular hours of 2 to 6 p.m. will continue as heretofore each weekday, he added.

Helping to serve as one of the lifeguards at the pool will be Mrs. Ed Lee (Vickie) Renfro, serving with David and his father, Oliver Wuest.

THOMAS GLENN PETTIET, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman R. Pettiet, is participating in a U.S. Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps field training encampment, at Sheppard AFB. Cadet Pettiet is a member of the AFROTC, Texas Tech University at Lubbock. He is a 1970 graduate of Sonora High School.

GRASSROOTS OPINION

SIERRA MADRE, CALIF., NEWS: "Americans have a ready solution for every problem which confronts us: Pass another law. We heap law upon law, and each new statute seems to dare us to defy it or find a way of evading it. We spend more money to pass laws, and more money to break laws we pass, than any nation in the world. And we think that the only way to correct all this is to pass another law. The something that makes laws work is definitely missing. We have become so involved in legality that morality is forgotten. And the result is more and more laws in a vain effort to keep us from being inhuman to each other. This is not progress."

HERBOS, IND., PORTER COUNTY HERALD: "Recently we learned of an editor of a small town weekly newspaper who found himself short of material with which to fill the columns, so he had his composer set up the Ten Commandments, which were printed without editorial comment. After the newspaper was published the editor received a letter, as follows: 'Cancel my subscription; you're getting personal'... some people just always seem to have a guilty conscience."

SOUTH BOSTON, MASS., TRIBUNE: The most certain way to convince yourself that history is continually repeating is to read the editorial comments in newspapers of 25 years ago.

NILES, ILL., SCRAP AGE: "A search by the IRS! How diligently does the IRS search for a taxpayer who has a refund coming? Apparently not as much as when he owes the government. When the IRS office in Albuquerque gave an 'unable to locate' list to the newspapers, an editor spotted the name of a U. S. magistrate who holds court across the street from the IRS office."

FREDONIA, KANS., WILSON COUNTY-CITIZEN: "An advertising firm suggested that the Post Office Department could make up its deficit without belaboring the public, by selling advertising on its postage stamps. One distillery company not only promised to buy a large amount of stamp advertising, but offered to make the government's glue bourbon flavored besides! The only trouble with advertising stamps, however, is that you might mail Sears Roebuck's check with a Montgomery Ward stamp or your Wheaties coupons with a Post Toasties stamp!"

ALEXANDRIA, VA., JOURNAL STANDARD: "Crime is going up in New York because so many cops have been assigned to guard other nations' UN delegates... it does seem that the U. S. must be policemen for the world."

The Devil's River Philosopher Sez... Lafest Public Opinion Poll Shows Mistrust Has Gone Wild In U.S.

Editors note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his dry bitterweed ranch starts out on one subject and winds up on another in his letter this week.

Dear editor:

This is supposed to be the age of mistrust, half the people say they don't believe what the government says, the government says half the time it can not believe what the people say, young people don't trust older people, older people don't trust young people, no country really trusts another country, and so it goes.

But I guess the climax was reached week before last in that public opinion poll which showed McGovern leading Humphrey in California by a lop-sided majority, only to have the actual voting result in just a slim margin.

But when that happened, the pollsters had a ready answer. They said the poll was right but a lot of voters voted the other way just to prove the poll wrong.

You mean to say we've carried mistrust so far that there are now a lot of people in this country who, when asked by a pollster how they're voting, will tell him wrong just for the amusement of seeing their answer turn up as an inaccurate statistic?

This keeps up and it'll just about put the public opinion polls out of business.

To change the subject, I just discovered that there was one piece of information President Nixon brought back from his trips to China and Russia that has gone almost unnoticed. In promoting trade with the two countries, he said that one of the things they're particularly interested in buying is computers.

This is encouraging news, it's great news. Any time a country needs more computers it means it's got more problems than it can solve. You take a country that's still adding on its fingers and using a pencil and long division to figure up its national debt and life is simple and orderly there, but when the problems get so big only a computer can handle them, look out. I don't object to the use of computers, what I object to is thinking up problems big enough to require one.

Yours Faithfully,
J. A.

There's more to being a good teacher than a knowledge of the subject.

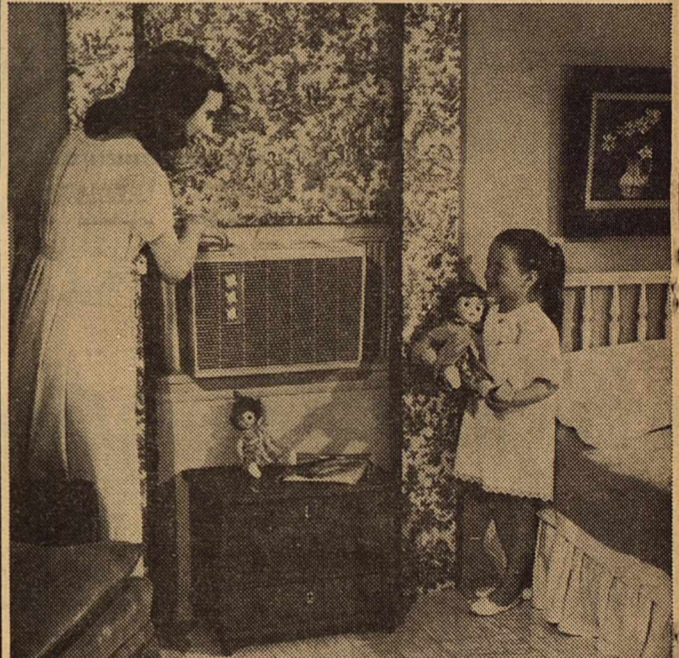

Is now the time to buy land?

Acquiring that farm might seem more practical with financing through the Federal Land Bank. Land is easier to pay off when costs are amortized over extra years with a long-term Land Bank Loan. Your total cost of borrowing, too, can be less. Ask us for help: We know land values; we will inspect the property. We will then try to make a loan that meets your exact needs.

WESTERMAN DRUG
Cecil Westerman Would Like To Be Your Pharmacist

An illuminating commentary on our times appeared recently in The Wall Street Journal. It was written by the author and critic, Edmund Fuller, and was entitled "What Ever Happened To Good Taste?" (Mr. Fuller died a few weeks after this was published; therefore it has the character of a thoughtful valedictory message.)

Without sermonizing or agonizing, the author calmly pointed out the many areas in which good taste is simply nonexistent among us today.

He made clear what he meant by "Taste": "Taste is judgment, a sense of fitness, in which time, place, and context make vital difference. We used to respect certain places, people and occasions. It was understood that speech appropriate to the barracks or the locker room was not appropriate at the dinner table or the drawing room.

He expressed his conviction that many potentially strong authors have succumbed to the use of needless vulgar obscenities. The result is they do not convince; their realism is invalid. As John Mason Brown once said, "If realism isn't real, then isn't it trash?"

He also dealt with the current prevalence of nudity on the stage and screen. "So long as actors are willing to risk their health by playing naked on drafty stages and audiences are willing to pay to watch them, I wouldn't interfere, but I will not call it art. There is a large paying market for bad taste, with many to exploit it."

He was especially effective in reminding us of the interaction between consequences: "The vulgarizing of speech and manners in much current fiction, film and drama lends an air of acceptability to the spreading indiscriminate coarsening to talk. It is absurd to suppose that the seeming acceptability of promiscuous sexual behavior and violence to which those arts expose us does not at least ease the practice of it to some who might otherwise hesitate."

The Past, the Present, and GOD

Especially on Independence Day, we tend to regard our problems as unique, don't we? And in the bustling, troubled world of today we think of the past as pleasant and serene.

This "rush-hour" scene of 1900 seems miniature when compared with the urban traffic jams of today. But it illustrates that the "olden" days were not entirely rosy. Indeed, sanitation was poor, infant mortality prevalent, roads unpaved and one-room school-houses common.

Yet our ancestors, with an optimistic spirit based on faith in God, met and solved these problems, and we are indebted to them.

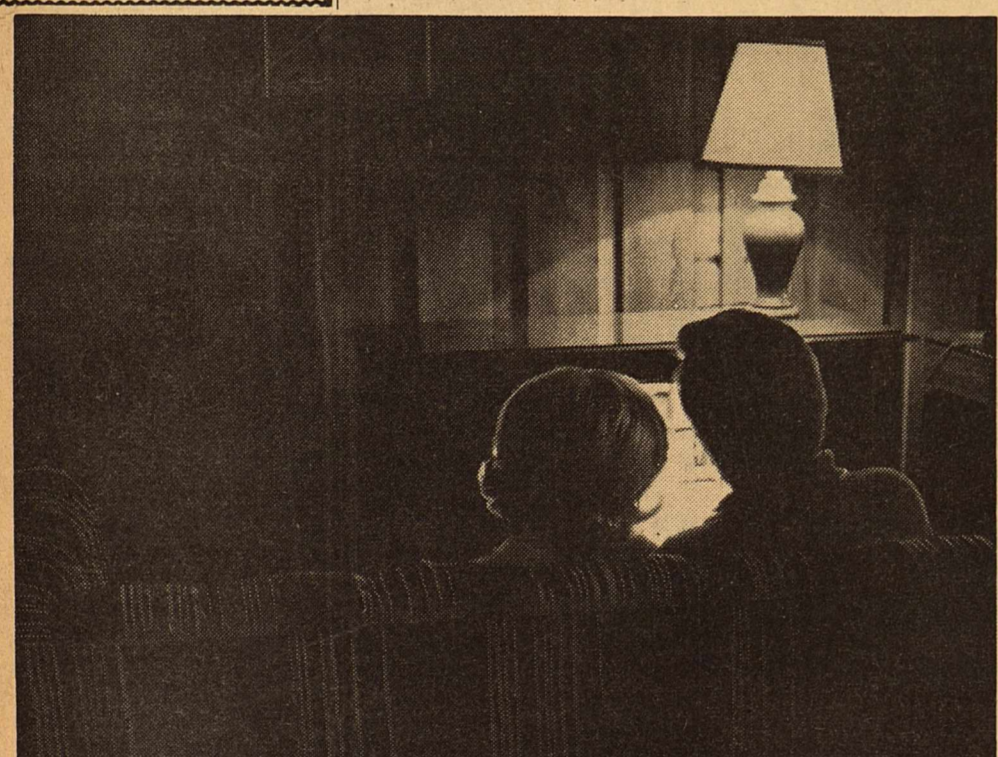

Today we face a different set of problems, and there's another big difference: the impact of the Church on our lives has waned. YET TODAY WE NEED THE CHURCH MORE THAN EVER—to provide us with a voice of hope and understanding.

The cooler the home, the warmer the marriage.

Marriages may be made in heaven, but it's hard to keep them heavenly when it's hotter than blazes.

That's where central gas air conditioning comes in. It can bring you together. All summer long. As close as you want. All summer long.

And it won't cost you much either. In fact, if you have gas heating in your home, you could easily have half a central air conditioning system already. Because you may be able to use the duct work and furnace blower you already have. That saves about fifty percent on installation costs.

That's just part of the savings. Gas costs less to operate than electricity. And gas air conditioning owners get special low rates during the long hot summer months.

But you'll save more than money with gas. You'll save time and energy, too. Because with central gas air conditioning there are fewer moving parts. Fewer breakdowns. Fewer repairs.

This summer, have central gas air conditioning installed. For love's sake.

Coffee Break

By Shirley Hill

This Tuesday, the 4th of July will mark 169 years since the initial Independence Day of 1776 when our forefathers adopted the Declaration of Independence and launched the United States of America as a free and independent nation. This is not long in the history of nations, yet many of us seem already to have forgotten some of the main reasons this declaration was signed. We hear those who condemn and demand their rights without bothering to exercise responsibility; ask for the fruits of their labors without working for them, and are unwilling to stand up for what they, as Americans, should believe in. It is time a respectful salute to a passing U.S. flag came back in style. With styles changing like they do from day to day, maybe this is possible.

Let us make this Independence Day serve as a reminder to all of us that the ideals of freedom, liberty and justice, upon which this nation was founded, are not to be taken lightly. HAVE A HAPPY AND SAFE FOURTH OF JULY—AMERICAN STYLE.

Our News Letter BY O. C. FISHER

IF A FREE-FOR-ALL preferential election were held now 51.1 percent of voters in the 21st district would favor President Nixon.

That's according to the tabulated results of our opinion poll, just completed. Of the more than 100,000 ballots mailed out (including many sent to husbands and wives jointly), 31,000 replies were received. It can be safely assumed that the results reflect a fairly accurate cross-section of public opinion in our 30-county area.

Next to presidential preference is Governor George Wallace, preferred by 18.1 percent, followed by Humphrey with 6.7 percent, McGovern with 5.7 percent, and Kennedy next with 2.2%. Only 12.2 percent were undecided or did not desire to express a preference.

A total of 88.7% oppose amnesty for draft dodgers, while 9.1% favor it.

63.3% believe more tax money should go for pollution control, and 28.9% think otherwise. Many insist affected industries should do more.

A $2 minimum wage is opposed by 59.4%, and 38.8% approve.

Slightly under 3 percent favor forced busing, and a whopping 97% want no part of it. On this same issue practically none were undecided.

The proposed guaranteed annual income concept is opposed 91.6% with 8.2% favorable.

Much dissatisfaction was shown toward the OEO, with 79.9% recorded as thinking that program has not been worthwhile. The Peace Corps fared better. 54.2% think well of it, and 39.8% are critical.

A national health plan, which would cover everyone, is opposed by 79.9%, while 17.9% support that approach. Many answers registered strong belief that the present medical and hospital program is far too expensive, and favor better controls over costs.

Reward Offered For Conviction Of Bird Killer

Reward... $500 for information leading to the conviction of any person shooting a bald eagle in Texas or any other state.

The National Wildlife Federation started the bounty program in 1971 and one such reward has already been paid, according to an article in NWF's Conservation News.

The reward is paid upon verification that the claimant assisted in obtaining a conviction in the shooting of a bald eagle.

The claimant must request the reward in writing to the National Wildlife Federation, 1412 16th Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20036, within six months after conviction.

National outlook for the bald eagle is bleak. As few as 3,000 to 4,000 birds are estimated to live in the contiguous 48 states.

Hard pesticides and diminishing habitat continue to take their toll. The southern species of bald eagle found in the eastern half of the United States is classified as an endangered species by the United States Interior Department.

Texas Awarded Grant Funds For Alcohol Program

Texas is the first state in the nation to be awarded Federal formula grant funds for prevention, treatment, education and rehabilitation programs to deal with alcohol abuse and alcoholism. The Texas Commission on Alcoholism estimates that there are 425,000 alcoholic persons in Texas, equivalent to 3.8 percent of the State's population. The $1,631,247 grant to Texas covers F.Y. 1972. A total of $30,000,000 was appropriated for the nation under the Comprehensive Act for formula grants to the states.

Sonorans Have New Problem

A new problem has come to Sonora. For the first time Walnut Caterpillars have been found on pecan trees in Sonora. These worms do not make a web like the bag worms. They devote all their time to eating. In addition to bag worms, you should watch your trees for signs of Walnut Caterpillars. They eat the leaves, leaving the center vein of the leaf and the leaf stem and are usually more destructive than bag worms.

At the first sign of Bag Worms or Walnut Caterpillars, call SAUNDERS PRAYING SERVICE, 387-2480. 100% kill guaranteed. Adv.

This week's Guess Who might be considered good news for light weight boys. Shown here he was a freshman in high school and weighed 65 pounds. Now being one of the Broncos biggest fans, he is 6 ft, 2 inches tall and has two sons, both well over 6 feet and all weighing over 200 pounds each. Last week's guess who was Rex Ann and Turney Friess.

tion. Although the clip was not judged a top winner in the competition there, Hunt, Joe David Ross and George E. Smith will receive gold key chains for their South African entries.

Sonora Colt 45's

The Sonora Colts dropped a 5-3 decision to Junction in the first round of the Junction tournament.

Henry Mata gave up only one earned run in absorbing his first loss of the year. Trailing 4-1 in the eighth, the 45's rallied to pull within one run when Pete Salgado and Larry Bob Moore came up with run-producing hits following a lead-off single by Erasmo Lumbereras.

The 45's will play host to both Junction and Eldorado this weekend with a 2 p.m. starting time stated for the opener.

Looking Back . . .

INDEPENDENCE DAY IN 1923 was probably a torrid one, but note the white shirts and ties of the men. The tent in the middle of the street and the flags were part of the celebration. The absence of paved streets and the board sidewalks were the norm for Sonora

49 years ago. Utility lines and the tin lizzies show modernism was already on the march. About 1929 the board walks came up, as the old yielded itself to the new. This panorama shot of the city is a picture of three main streets in Sonora, with Main Street in the middle, the present C. G. Morrison Store end of Concho Street on the left, and the old Chevrolet building part of Concho on the right.
