Persons Of Spanish Heritage Comprise 18 Percent Texans

Nearly one in five (18 percent) residents of Texas is of Spanish heritage, according to a report from the 1970 census by the Bureau of the Census, U. S. Department of Commerce. It shows that of the State's 11, -195,416 total population, 2,059,671 were of Spanish language or had a Spanish surname. The population of Spanish language is composed of (1) persons who reported Spanish as their mother tongue, that is, the language spoken in the home during childhood, and (2) all members of a household related to the head or wife reporting Spanish as mother tongue.

The census report, released by the Department's Social and Economic Statistics Administration, shows that 1,723,531 (84 percent) of Texas' population of Spanish heritage lived in urban areas. Among the 23 urbanized areas, the El Paso area had the greatest number, 190, -582 or 56 percent of the total population. However, Brownsville urbanized area with 45, -115 persons of Spanish heritage and Laredo with 60,084 had the highest proportion, 86 percent in each.

Of the 336,140 rural population of Spanish heritage in Texas, 18 percent lived on farms.

Eight-nine percent (1,840, -214) of the State's Spanish heritage population was born in the United States; 563,877 were of foreign or mixed parentage (514,058) of these persons had one or both parents born in Mexico). Of the 219,457 foreign born persons of Spanish heritage, 193,143 were born in Mexico.

The median age of the Spanish heritage population was 19.3 years, compared with 26.5 years for the population of Texas as a whole.

Persons of Spanish heritage 25 and older averaged 7.2 years of completed schooling, compared with 11.6 years for the total population 25 and older. Among the 600,425 persons of Spanish heritage 16 and older who were employed in 1970, 8 percent held professional, technical, or similar jobs; 14 percent were clerical or kindred workers; 15 percent were in crafts; 16 percent were operatives (Mostly machinery); and 14 percent were service workers other than private household.

Alcohol, Narcotics Speakers At Local Churches Sunday

Still-growing problems of alcohol and drug abuse will be the subject of sermons by representatives of Texas Alcohol Narcotics Education, Inc. (TANE) Sunday July 30, in First Baptist Church at 10:50 a. m.; First United Methodist Church Fellowship Hall, 9:30 a. m. and Church of The Good Shepherd, Presbyterian, 11:00 a. m.

Sonora Schools' "Mr. Punctuality" -- Clarence Self Makes Final Bus Run

When school doors swing open Monday, August 21, for the first time in 22 years, Clarence Self can forget about rolling out of bed before dawn to make a 44-mile bus run with about 25 eager youngsters ready to begin another school year. Since November 27, 1950, Self has been making the round trip daily from old Station B into town to safely deliver a bus-load of students during the nine months school is in session. The Selfs spent the summer months in town while he helped with school maintenance projects.

Known by everyone as "Mr. Punctuality", school personnel have been able to set their watches by his arrival each morning. In his 22 years of driving the school bus, he remembers being tardy only three times—two of those were the results of flats on front tires, and once when the bus broke down. The bus always ran unless icy road conditions prevented it—Self didn't believe in taking chances with his charges.

Mrs. Alvis Johnson Tireless Worker For Cancer Society

For the past 18 years, Mrs. Alvis (Thelma) Johnson has worked tirelessly for the Sutton County Unit of the American Cancer Society, yearly topping the goal set for fund raising in this county. She was recognized as one of the top volunteer workers in the ACS at its state convention in 1966 at Houston. At the time she was one of 20 workers out of 15,000 that were honored.

During the time she has served as Crusade Chairman she has received several citations from the American Cancer Society in recognition of her volunteer services.

It has been Mrs. Johnson's goal to serve the organization 20 years, but the ill health of her husband created the necessity of her resignation. One of the most diligent workers for ACS, Mrs. Johnson has also devoted much time to volunteer work in helping to make cancer dressings, as well as a member of the Hudspheth Hospital Auxiliary and Women's Society of Christian Service in the Methodist Church.

Dr. Charles F. Browne, who has also devoted much time to the Society, will serve as Crusade Chairman this year. The current drive ends the latter part of August, and reports are that the fund raising is $79 short of the 1972 goal.

GRASSROOTS OPINION

ALMA, GA., WIREGRASS NEWS: "Scientists agree that the earth is at least 4.5 billion years old. However, there are varying theories as to its origin. Some have suggested that it was created from a great cloud of dust. Others would have you believe that it was created from a piece of the sun. Frankly speaking, we still prefer the one that begins... In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth."

KENYON, MINN., LEADER: "It was interesting to note during the astronauts' stay on the moon that the lunar rover that carried them to their various destinations cost approximately $10 million to develop and build. It has to be a consolation for those of us who struggle to keep an automobile running, that even at that price, a fender fell off the rover."

LA CONNER, WASH., PUGET SOUND MAIL: "For years we have been infuriated by the excessive tax burden on the property owner—sometimes it has reached the point where we even felt like voting against the most needed and worthwhile local projects. Most of your taxes are services for 'people' rather than 'property owners'. Under our present tax system 'taxation is assuming the ability to destroy.' Some have not made home improvements because that would mean higher taxes—some of the elderly in desperate circumstances have seen careful and hard earned plans for their sunset years go out the window. Whether you are a farmer, businessman or home owner, you are in the same boat on this matter of excessive property taxes... It is time that 'people' (the major recipients of services) pay a fair share of the cost, instead of property owners carrying an unfair burden."

GOODLAND, KANS., NEWS: "Well, the federal government has come up with another one of its wasteful studies. And it is costing $23,000. Believe it or not, but the Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) has proposed a $23,000 study to find out why tots fall off of tricycles. Title of the proposed study, as reported by the Associated Press, is: 'The Evaluation and Parameterization of Stability and Safety Performance Characteristics of Two- and Three-Wheeled Vehicular Toys for Riding.' We have a tot. He falls off of his tricycle. And it didn't cost us $23,000 to decide he was too small to be on it. We would happily pass along this startling finding of ours—for nothing, if Uncle Sam wants it."

GETTYSBURG, S. D., POTTER COUNTY NEWS: "It would be nice if the poor were to get even half of the money that is spent studying them."

THE DEVIL'S RIVER PHILOSOPHER SEZ...

He Dwells At Length, And Then More Length, On Problem Of Mistaken Writers

Editor's note: The Dry Devil's Philosopher on his bitterweed ranch on Dry Devil's River apparently spent a lot of time listening to the Convention, his letter this week indicates. Loss of sleep affects you that way.

Dear editor:
During one of the speeches via television at the Democratic National Convention last week, by the way, you'd think the people in charge would let the speakers know they're talking into a microphone and don't have to shout, everybody has a little knob on his set he can turn to step up the volume if he can't hear, anyway, during one of the speeches I got to thinking about all the newspaper columnists and television reporters who kept saying all last year that Sen. McGovern didn't have a chance of getting the nomination—why I remember some of the best of them asking: "Senator, since you haven't got a ghost of a chance, why do you keep plodding along on such a hopeless trail?"—anyway, and I might say here, when you write a sentence as long as this one it's sort of like making a political speech, when you're finally through nobody knows for sure what your point is or even if you have one, anyway, I got to thinking, some way ought to be figured out to shelter columnists and analysts from having their pronouncements tumbled back on them.

You take me, I write to the Devil's River News once a week, which means I can be wrong 52 times a year, but some columnists write three times a week, giving them a possible score of 156 wrongs, and as for those who write every day or show up on television every day, their score can reach 365. The people with the best score of course are those who write for monthly publications, excluding those who write for an encyclopedia coming out once every ten years.

I have thought this problem over for some time, even to the point of missing three succeeding speeches and fourteen interviews from delegates on the floor, and am in no better shape than if I'd gone ahead and listened, or slept, as some people did.

Anyway, if you now ask me who's going to win in November, Nixon or McGovern, I'll tell you forthrightly that you've come to the wrong man.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:
I am writing this in reply to a recent column in the Devil's. I feel Mrs. Hill's comments about George McGovern are uncalled for.
If newspapers would simply report the facts and let the people decide who to vote for, things would be a whole lot better off. I am sure Mrs. Hill knows more than I do about George McGovern; however, I am also sure that there are people smarter than both of us that could shake President Nixon's foundation a little. I also feel that there are many college graduates that would disagree on the statement by Mrs. Hill concerning the country running out of workers.
I would like to add that I will reluctantly vote for President Nixon, but if Mr. McGovern is elected I will not bury my guns and quit work. Contrary to Mrs. Hill's statement, I believe the United States would survive four years of Mr. McGovern. We have survived more desperate situations. Thank you.
Sincerely yours,
Frank Taylor, Sonora, Texas

Joys of Being an Editor....

Getting out this paper is no picnic.
If we print jokes people will say we are silly;
If we don't they say we are too serious.
If we clip things from other papers we are too lazy to write it down ourselves;
If we don't we are stuck on our stuff!
If we stick close to the job all day we ought to be out hunting up news.
If we do go out and try to hustle, we ought to be on the job in the office.
If we don't print contributions, we don't appreciate true genius;
If we do the paper is filled with junk.
If we make a change in a fellow's writeup we are too critical, and if we don't, we are asleep!
Now, like as not, someone will say we swiped this from some other paper.
WE DID!

GENERATION ON

They hit the road early, these youngsters of today. They cover a lot of miles. At a pretty fast pace. And what they need most are the moral and spiritual values that do not change in a fast-moving age.

The role of the Church and the family is becoming more crucial every day. Wise parents realize their children should have the advantage of religious training. They sense the importance of their own example in encouraging positive Christian principles.

We need not worry about our youngsters growing up so rapidly... as long as they grow up well.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Grounds for Arrest

Two policemen, cruising in a "narcotics neighborhood," saw a man emerge from an apartment house and head for a waiting taxicab. After a quick glance up and down the street, he entered the cab.

Their suspicions aroused, the officers approached the cab and—although they had no warrant—placed the man under arrest. Sure enough, he was carrying a quantity of heroin.

But when the case came to court, the judge held the arrest unlawful and the evidence inadmissible. He said the police had no right to act on what was little more than a hunch.

Under most narcotics laws, officers may arrest without a warrant only if they have "reasonable grounds" for suspecting a violation. This means something more than a vague feeling that something is amiss.

Even a tip from an informer may not be enough. Thus: A narcotics user told police he had gotten his supply from a certain "Joe" at a certain address. Police found and arrested Joe, but again the arrest was held improper.

Reason: the police had no prior experience with this particular informer, hence no special reason to consider him trustworthy, hence no "reasonable grounds" for making the arrest.

By contrast, a court upheld an arrest when the informer had repeatedly turned out to be right in the past.

Of course, direct observation by officers may also provide adequate grounds for an arrest. For example:

A narcotics agent listening at the door of an apartment heard incriminating statements by the two men inside. Meanwhile, another agent peering through a window saw them pouring white powder into typical heroin containers.

These circumstances were enough, a court ruled later, to support the agents in making an arrest.

"A prudent man would be justified," said the court, "in believing that a violation of the narcotics law was being committed."

GUESS WHO?

Although you won't know the little girl, the young boy has lived here well over 35 years. Last weeks guess who was Raymie Jo (McClelland) Thompson, who now lives in Sweetwater.

Grease stains from food on non-washable garments often can be removed entirely by sprinkling with dry starch, then ironing over the starch. Repeat if necessary. Another way is to let the starch remain on the garment several days without ironing.

Accent on Health

When the month of August rolls around, thousands of Texas mothers suddenly realize that only a few more weeks remain until school begins.

Parents with youngsters beginning school for the first time this September look forward to school with a little more excitement, and many mothers whose first-born are going off to school may be a bit bewildered by it all.

In addition to the million-and-one chores that must be performed in getting the youngster ready for school—new shoes, clothes, health examination—most school districts require proof of age for beginning students. A certified copy of a birth certificate is usually requested, reports the Texas State Department of Health.

This fall there will be a quarter-million new first graders in the schools throughout Texas, with the total public school enrollment expected to reach 2.8 million. Continued growth of the school population is expected for the next two to three years, according to the Texas Education Agency.

Anticipating the rush of birth certificate requests, the Records and Statistics Section of the Texas State Department of Health has been prepared for it. Requests already are pouring in.

It takes a sizeable staff just to open the thousands of letters received daily, let alone search out a requested certificate, remove it from the thick volume, make a certified copy, mail it out and then return the original certificate to its proper place.

Years of experience have eliminated nearly every bottleneck. The operation is smooth and fast. Usually the copy is mailed within a day or two after the request is received.

One bottleneck still remaining, however, is the individual who makes the last-minute request. Parents are requested to stop now and write for a certified copy of the birth certificate, or contact either the city registrar where the child was born or the county clerk in the county of birth.

Offspring sharks are ignored by the mother and left completely on their own from the moment of birth.

TIPS FOR OUTDOORSMEN

by Vern Sanford

EARLY WARNING OF STORM

Anytime you go boating, even for a short period of time, take along a small radio. Pocket-size will do.

Follow this habit, despite the fact that you will boat in an area with which you are thoroughly familiar, and you plan a strictly, pleasure-boat ride.

Make it a must to take along a radio anytime you dedicate a day to fishing—and definitely if you're planning to be out all night.

Why drag along a radio when you're going outdoors primarily to get away from things?

Well, one reason is that the radio could be worth its weight in gold, to you. A radio is fine for entertainment—but its wonderful as a weather indicator.

A weather indicator? No station broadcasts weather warning all day long!

Maybe not, but the static you complain about, is in many cases advance warning of an approaching storm. There are other reasons for static too, but those loud flashing, sputtering, heavy blasts of ear-splitting static reflect lightening in the area.

Static Is Your Cue

Not all static is indicative of a storm. Some comes from nearby electric transmission lines or faulty or ungrounded electrical equipment in operation. But sudden bursts of static are warning signs. A radio reacts to lightening long before you can see flashes.

To you who are afloat loud static is a warning to "look for storm clouds". As the static gets louder and more frequent it's admonishing you to up anchor, get moving and head for shore.

Many of us get so engrossed in our fishing that we are not very observant of what's happening about us.

Any storm can be dangerous, but if it's coming from the direction you have to travel it's doubly dangerous. In that event you're not racing with it but against it. And one thing for sure is—you can't outrun a 30-mile wind backed by a heavy rain and still drive the boat safely.

So, start early, be extremely careful on the way back—and tie down securely in your dock or on your trailer.

There's nothing safer than shore when you're in a heavy thunderstorm, unless it's inside a solidly built weatherproof structure.

Above all, don't gather under a tree. It's the most unsafe place to be in a thunderstorm.

September Draft Call Announced

Colonel Melvin N. Glantz, State Director of Selective Service for Texas, today announced the top lottery number for the September Draft Call. The number is 75, which is the same as the number for August.

Glantz explained that enough men with lottery numbers of 75 or under have been added to the available manpower pool during the last month, and that these men will fill the induction needs of the Department of Defense for September. These men have lost deferments by reason of graduation from high school or college, or have reached the end of their procedural delays.

G. W. Stewart, chairman of Local Board No. 110, said that one man is expected to be inducted in the area of this local board in September as a result of this call. In addition, seven men will be issued orders for their Armed Forces Physical Examination.

SOCIAL SECURITY REPORTS
Social security beneficiaries need to report changes affecting their social security status. Beneficiaries generally need to report a change of address, return to work, stopping work, marriage, divorce or death.

To make a report, contact the Social Security Office at 3000 West Harris Avenue (P.O. Box 3808) in San Angelo, or see the representative when he is in your area.

DOUG HARLAN, REPUBLICAN candidate for Congress, 21st Congressional District, stopped here last week to chat with a few people as he toured the towns in this district. A San Antonio, he received his education in Government with a Ph.D. from the University of Texas at Austin. The 29-year-old candidate is not married. He says he is a Conservative, and he will be opposing O. C. Fisher, incumbent.

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE OF BUDGET HEARING
Notice is hereby given that the annual hearing on the proposed budget of the Sonora Independent School District for the 1972-1973 school year will be held in the administrative offices, on Monday, August 14, 1972 at 7:00 p.m.
Ken McAllister, Supt. 2c47

Sonora Schools . . . . . from Page 1

He and his wife, the former Mary Frances Doran were married in Menard, January 24, 1928, and most of their married life has been spent in this county and Kimble County. The house they moved into in 1950 belonged to Sonora schools who kept the property after the country school at Station B was closed. When Self retired this spring, the Board of Trustees voted to give the house to the Selfs, as a token of appreciation for his long service.

During his tenure with the schools, he served under four superintendents, the late E. A. Brodhead, Rex W. Lowe, Ralph Finklea and the present superintendent, Ken McAllister.

As the school grew in enrollment and buildings were added, his duties increased accordingly. When Self was first employed by the schools, only two buses were in operation. The school now owns eight buses, and part of his job was to keep the buses serviced and in good running order. Other daily chores included a trip to the post office and to the bank, and he was long a familiar sight to the people downtown as he hurried about his duties.

During the time for serving of lunch to kindergartners and students in elementary school, Self took his stand in the cafeteria. He channeled the little ones to the right tables, as well as encouraging them to finish meals quickly in time for the next group of students.

Another job that he performed was accepting delivery of new school buses. Bids go out and buses come from different parts of the United States. Traveling by airplane, he went to Richmond, Virginia twice to accept buses and to North Carolina once. He enjoyed the excursions to both places and made the trips alone, driving the buses here within four to five days.

The first nine years that he worked for Sonora Schools, his work included driving the football boys to games. . . . during those nine years he never missed a trip with the team. Now the teams are usually accompanied by one of the coaches who drive, unless charter buses are used. Last October, Self began making plans for retirement, although he would have been eligible for another year with the schools. After school was dismissed each day, he worked on the Eagle Wells ranch, formerly owned by the Sawyer Estate, and he and Mrs. Self managed to take care of the ranching duties. He began work last week for Mark A. Moss of Llano, who has bought the Eagle Wells ranch. Livestock began arriving at the ranch Thursday.

In recalling his years of service at the schools, and especially bus driving, he said he always enjoyed his work. He added that he never encountered any problems with the young people who rode his bus. That is a remarkable statement, but he says it firmly and somehow you know that he didn't have any difficulties.

His dependability and punctuality are going to be missed by a lot of persons who have worked with him. His long accident-free record as well as his willingness to help out wherever he was needed will provide a challenge for those who follow in his footsteps.

Yes, his co-workers will surely miss him, but somehow we are delighted with him as he smiles and says, "It sure is nice not to have to live by a clock anymore!"

Farm And Ranch Safety Week

by DALTON MERZ, Soil Conservation Service
President Nixon has proclaimed this week as National Safety Week. It is important that everyone engaged in agriculture and by everyone whose interests and work are related to agriculture, to focus on the need for greater farm and ranch safety each day of the year.

As President Nixon observes, "Many accidents can be prevented by eliminating hazards and using protective equipment at work, by defensive driving and by general safe practices at home and during recreation". If you think about safety you will be safer. A safe farm or ranch is a productive farm or ranch.

It is time to take inventory of possible hazards on your farm or ranch. Is the farm or ranch safe for kids to play on? Be sure to keep pesticides under lock and key.

Is your machinery and equipment in as good shape as you can get it? Is the house and barn in good repair. Is the Mrs. doing her part in eliminating hazards?

Am I as careful as I can be each day? You can't work your farm or ranch from a hospital bed so think safety.
