Longtime Sutton Rancher, Businessman O. L. Richardson, Sr., Dies Here Sunday

Mr. O. L. (Verlew) Richardson, Sr., died at 1 a. m. August 20, 1972, at Hudds Memorial Hospital after a short illness.

Mr. Richardson, the oldest of five children, was born March 23, 1892, in Junction, the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Richardson.

After attending Junction schools, he graduated from high school there and went to a business college in San Angelo. Finishing school in San Angelo, he went to work for Schriener Hodges as a bookkeeper. Later he kept books for Alexander J. Home until he went to France to serve in the United States Army during World War I.

While in France, Mr. Richardson was in the Motor Transport Corps where he drove a supply truck. He served as corporal, and was in the service for 18 months. When he returned to the United States, he entered the ranching business in Kimble County.

On June 30, 1920, he married Miss Esther Simon, daughter of Kimble County pioneer ranch family, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Simon. The Richardsons moved here in 1921, and the home they lived in was built by them in 1925. They moved to their present home in 1927. He came here as a bookkeeper for the Sonora Mercantile Company, and that same year accepted a job as bookkeeper for the City Garage. Later he worked for the late T. L. Benson as a commission man for seven years.

In 1933, Mr. Richardson built the Gulf Service Station and operated it until the U. S. highway 290 was moved. He became active in the ranching industry and operated an insurance business.

A member of the Lions Club, he also held a 50-year membership in Deo Ora Masonic Lodge. Years ago he was a member of the choir of the First Methodist Church, and he served as superintendent of Sunday School for the church for a period of eight years. City Meet Studies Electrical Rate, Other Issues

In a called meeting of the City Commission Wednesday, August 16, the motion was made and adopted that City Manager Alex Binford secure the services of a competent person to make a rate study of the city's electrical, sewer and water charges. Binford has also proposed that the electrical system needs updating and the commission voted to give him permission to proceed with investigation of necessary funding to carry out the proposal.

After some discussion on the closing of 8th Street and inspection of the street by the commission, the commission denied the request at this time.

Appearing before the commission opposing the closing of the street was Joe David Ross, who pointed out that the street may be needed for accessibility to future business property.

Also meeting with the commission was John David Fields who requested the city's permission to proceed with plans whereby he might have some use of the airport for his proposed airplane sales business.

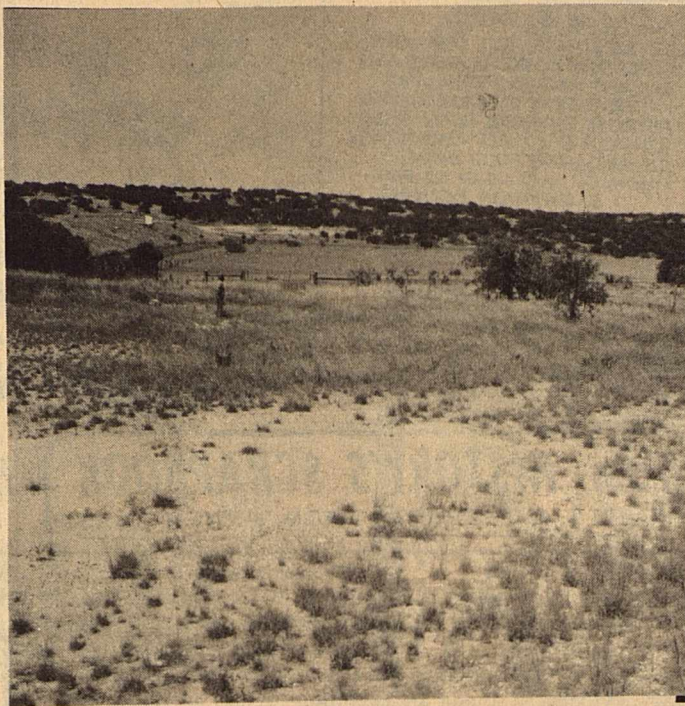

The commission agreed to meet with Fields at the next regular meeting in an effort to reach an agreement on the undertaking.

WEED SITUATION

Mrs. Louis Powers met with the commission requesting the city enact an ordinance whereby privately owned lots, vacant or unoccupied, might be cleared of weeds, etc. by the city and charges made to the property owners.

No definite action was taken, although the commission expressed concern in regards to the unsightly appearance of these areas. It is hoped that FLOOD CONTROL STRUCTURE NUMBER 13, just east of town, caught 56% of its capacity last week as heavy rains fell. Though records of damaging floods in 1925, 1930, 1932, 1936 and 1938 are available, a major flood has not occurred since Sonora was founded. The dams are designed by the U. S. Soil Conservation Service to prevent floods from a 100-year frequency flood. Ozona in June, 1954 had such a flood which claimed 15 lives and caused more than $12-million in damages. During such a flood, the emergency spillway in the foreground of the above picture would flow water, but would not be expected to top the dam. The flood control structures are inspected at least annually by Soil Conservation Service personnel to insure that they function properly.

NOVEMBER 19, 1957, 4 to 6 inches rain fell on Dry Devils River watershed which flooded the Sonora Airport. Principle spillways from the flood control structures on Dry Devils River watershed continued to flow water down Dry

Lowrey Draw And Dry Devils River, Tamed

by Dalton Merz
The Lowrey Draw and Dry Devils River watershed project took the brunt of heavy rains last week in the Sonora area and prevented an estimated $1.5 million in flood damages to about 100 homes and businesses, according to W. B. McMillan, chairman of the Edwards Plateau Soil and Water Conservation District.

Dalton Merz, District Conservationist for the U. S. Soil Conservation Service, said a recent check of flood prevention dams on Dry Devils River showed that all were holding back massive amounts of water that would have otherwise rushed down the river with devastating force, causing possible loss of life and tremendous property damage.

Lester Byer, hydraulic engineering technician, with the Agricultural Research Service reported that site number 13 structure on Lowrey Draw caught 174 acre feet of water which is 56% of its capacity.

The dam could hold back an additional 141 acre feet which would give almost an added equal amount of flood protection from twice the rainfall that we received.

Of the other sites, site number 12 was 37% of its capacity, site number 9 was 7% of its capacity and number 11 was 14% of its capacity.

Byer said, "the Hospital Draw that runs through Sonora into Lowrey Draw would have caused extensive damage to homes, utility lines, roads and bridges if flood retarding dam number 13 had not been built". He said the gauges on Lowrey Draw watershed averaged 3.90 inches in 1 1/2 hours.

Similar reports were received from Archie Mittle and Bill Tittle. Tittle said he received 4.50 inches of rain Friday and Saturday, August 11-12.

The heavy rains underscored the value of conservation work done by farmers and ranchers in preventing erosion and sediment damages. Rangeland with a good cover of grass had little damage. Bare, overgrazed rangeland suffered severe damage, Merz said.

Because of the foresightedness of men such as the late E. B. Keng, Fred T. Earwood, Joe B. Ross and other members of the board of directors of the Edwards Plateau S&WCD, people here have been spared agonizing flood damages such as the residents of Seguin and New Braunfels experienced earlier this year.

Time For 4-H'ers To Make Livestock Selection Soon

Boys and girls who need assistance in selecting or obtaining livestock for 4-H projects this year should contact County Agent D. C. Langford in the near future.

Classes at the county show this year will include carcass lamb classes, market lamb classes, breeding sheep, Angora goat, Beef heifer and other classes if there should be a need.

Other 4-H activities for the year will include livestock judging, horse judging, wool and mohair judging, grass and range judging.

4-H members will exhibit horses at the Sonora Junior Horse Show and wool and mohair at the Sonora Wool and Mohair Show.

Plans are being developed to expand the Sutton County 4-H Club program to include more activities and projects.

All boys and girls between the ages of 8 and 18 inclusive, are invited to join the Sutton County 4-H Club, Langford said.

There is a need for additional adult leaders to assist the various 4-H project and activity groups. All adults who are willing to help should contact the County Agent.

Other survivors include her daughter, Mrs. Billy Spencer of Austin, and two other brothers, B. C. Davis of Austin and Wallace Davis of Houston.

Named as directors were A. E. Prugel, J. D. Cook, JoHartgrave, Lin Hicks, Larry Hill and Gene West, Ken McAllister was named Lion Tamer; Jimmy Harris, secretary, John Eaton, Tail Twister, and the Rev. Clifford Hancock, cripple children director.

Plans for the current year were discussed, and it was decided that special emphasis be given to eye conservation and hearing disabilities.

A loan program is being worked out that will enable local citizens to borrow the cost of eye glasses and hearing aids should they prefer not to accept such free of charge.

THESE KINDERGARTENERS PLAYED HAPPILY MONDAY morning as teachers watched the children on the opening day of school. Unfortunately, not all were as happy as these shown here, as one small boy and girl were loudly calling for 'Mama' while being comforted by Mrs. Roper and Mrs. Porter. They were not the only ones having problems, however, as one teacher was heard to remark that the first day of school is always utter confusion. . . "even the seniors act as if this were their first day in school". By Tuesday everything had begun to settle down to normalcy once more, and the 1972-73 school year was officially underway.

Improved Auto Insurance

Surveys have indicated that although the public really doesn't know what the term "no-fault", means, as applied to auto insurance, a majority favor it because they think it will speed claims and reduce their insurance costs by cutting out lawsuits. Insurance authorities describe no-fault insurance simply as "a form of insurance in which all auto accident victims would be paid for their injuries, regardless of who caused the accident".

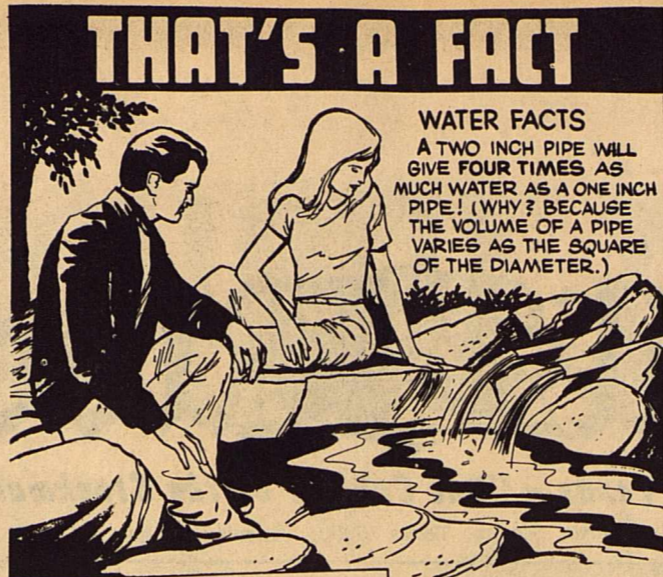

Life magazine published "a handy guide" to what no-fault insurance is all about. It describes how, in states where no-fault insurance is in force, victims are reimbursed for losses-medical bills, loss of income and the like—up to specified limits, above which the injured person is entitled to take his case to court.

Life points out that the main objection to no-fault is that under a pure no-fault plan an accident victim gives up his right to sue for another person's negligence. To rectify this weakness, major segments of the insurance industry have developed proposals for modified no-fault insurance systems that preserve the principle of driver responsibility for the injuries and property damage inflicted on other people in order to achieve the goal of assuring that all accident victims are paid promptly and without controversy for their injuries.

Irrespective of complexities of reforming insurance laws, both insured and insurers have a common interest in preserving the institution of private insurance coverage. The leadership of the insurance industry in seeking to lower costs, improve service and upgrade coverage is the best protection the public has against the usual pattern being followed of a reform movement becoming a crusade for a government take-over, in this case, of the vital function of providing auto insurance protection.

He Takes A Non-Progressive Look At Plan To Explore Earth's Inner Depths

Editor's note: The Dry Devil's Philosopher on his bitterweed ranch on Dry Devil's River may be getting in the way of progress again, his letter this week indicates.

Dear editor: Although it hasn't been established how high up a man owns space above his land, it is generally conceded that he owns as far down as you can go however an item I read in a newspaper last night may unloose a legal bag of worms on that point that even the Supreme Court won't be able to handle.

According to this item, scientists, I suppose may be having discovered that once you get a hundred thousand miles out in space, going any further is about as fascinating as adding another story on a hundred-story building, are now turning their thoughts to the inside of the earth.

They want to see how far down they can go, to see what down there, bring back rock samples, that sort of thing.

This is all right with me, a man can spend his time like he pleases, even devote his entire life to playing chess, so long as it's him doing it and not me, but here's the situation: if these earth-digging scientists go far enough down they're going to be trespassing on everybody in the world who owns as much as one city lot. If a man owns everything under his land, all the way down to the center of the globe, then what he owns is a piece of the earth shaped like a pyramid tumbled upside down, and naturally at the very center everybody's land narrows down to something less than needle-point size.

This invites some of the most squabbling the world has ever seen.

Say for example oil is discovered right at the center. Who could figure out what share goes to what individual, what share to what nation? Or say there's molten gold there and if everybody could get his share he'd never have to work again, or if it was divided among everybody nobody would ever have to work again?

There are times when it can be argued that it's a pity the earth isn't flat and that Columbus didn't sail off the edge of it as he was warned instead of discovering America. At least it sure would have saved us a lot of money in foreign aid, foreign wars, etc.

Yours faithfully, J.A.

A Bishop Looks at Life LIFE'S OPEN PLACES

By Everett H. Jones, Retired Bishop of the Episcopal Church

One of the joys of climbing a mountain, even if one goes only a small distance, is that after one has plodded along there is suddenly a vast new open view of the world around.

This may have been in the mind of King David when he was listing God's blessings in his personal life: "He brought me out into an open place." (II Samuel 22:30 RSV)

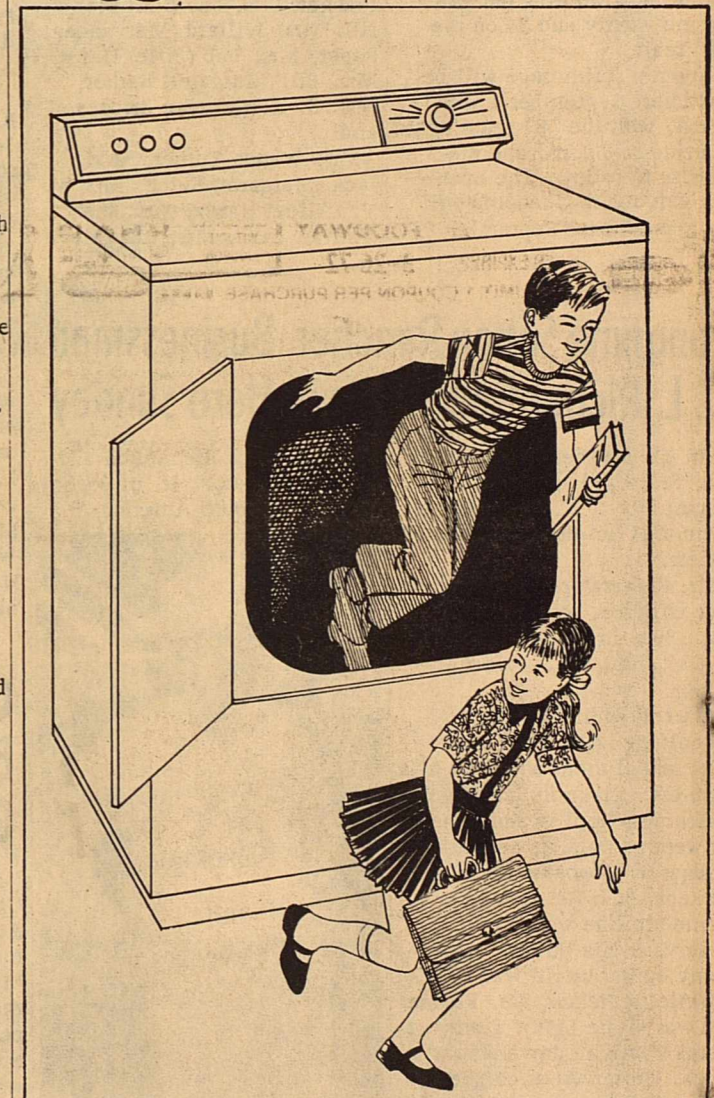

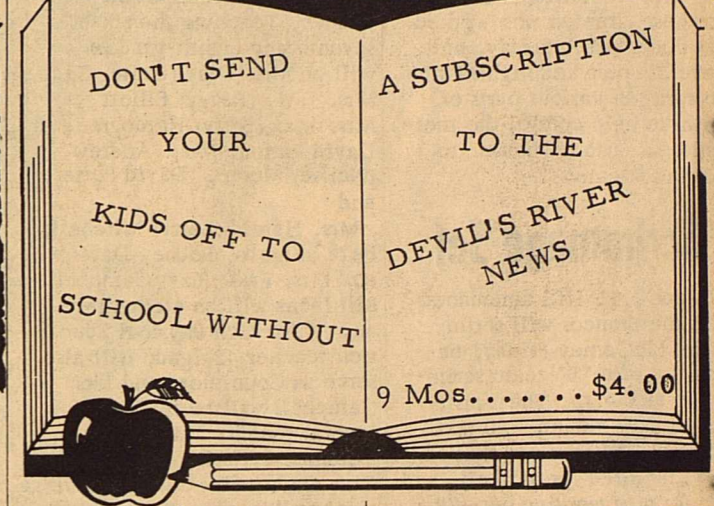

Again and again we go through the experience of feeling cramped and confined, as though life is closing in on us and as though there is no avenue of escape. Then we find the darkness has lifted and a bright new outlook is spread before us.

It happens when we have spent some time in a hospital racked with pain and burdened with self-pity and defeatism. There comes the day when God's healing power enables us to be on our feet again. How thrilling it is just to be able to walk around!

It happens when we have an important decision to make and we go through a period of being pulled back and forth in confusion. If we are wise enough to discuss the matter with a few trusted friends, and to lay the whole problem before God with a prayer for His guidance, there is an inner compass that begins to point steadily in the direction we should go. This is God bringing us out into a large, open place.

It happens when we have carried for a long time a guilty conscience, along with a paralyzing sense of shame and self-hatred. There comes the day when at last we are ready to make full and open confession, asking forgiveness from God and from those we have offended. It is like coming out of prison into the freedom and joy of a new start in life.

There are two important things to remember: God is always waiting to lead us into new large and open places. Our business is to recognize this miracle of His love when it happens, and to lift our hearts in thankfulness.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR Dear Sir: I would like to take this opportunity to express my feelings on your recent partnership golf tournament held August 5-6. I have been to many tournaments over the previous years and I would say that this one will be remembered longer than any. I would like to offer a pat on the back to your Sonora golf members for a job well done, not only in controlling the play on the course, but the other activities as well. Mr. Kyle Donaldson and Mr. Wayne Herrmann should be commended for their work as co-chairmen of the tournament. Also, a special thanks to Mr. Tommy Thorp for his unselfish interest in all the out-of-town golfers. There are many others to mention, but of course this would be impossible. So, I would like, in closing to express my appreciation to all of you, golfers and non-golfers alike, for your wonderful hospitality extended us during our stay. A fine tribute to a fine town. Sincerely, Morris Taylor, Del Rio, Tex.

Yellowing Plants May Signal Lack Of Iron

If ornamental plants around your home are yellowing between the leaf veins, iron deficiency in the soil is the likely problem.

According to County Agricultural Agent D. C. Langford, iron deficiency causes leaves of ornamental plants to become light green, yellow or white between the veins. Iron chlorosis, as the condition is called also causes the needles or scales of conifers to turn yellow.

"The more severe the deficiency, the paler the color," notes Langford. "In extreme cases, the plant turns brown and eventually dies."

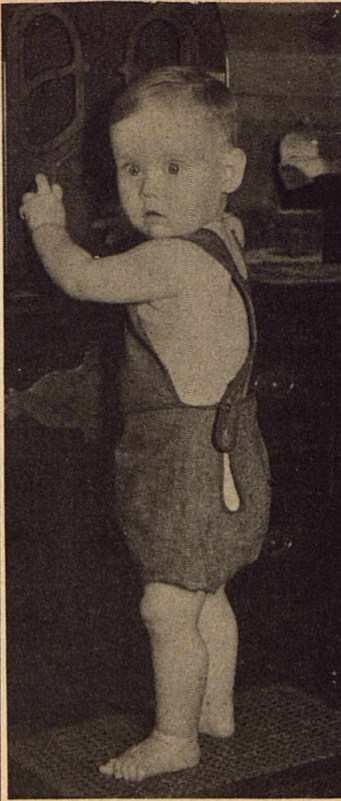

Even though soil may contain sufficient iron, high pH or excess lime in the soil may prevent the iron from being available to plants.

Where iron is deficient, iron chelates or organic compounds containing a soluble form of iron may be applied to the soil or plants. Ferrous sulfate, also called copperas, is one such organic compound. These supplemental materials are available at most garden supply stores.

Langford emphasizes to apply iron at the first sign of a deficiency. Iron-containing materials can either be worked into the soil around the base of the plant or be dissolved in water and sprayed onto the foliage. In severe cases, plant recovery will be slow following applications.

Zinc deficiency shows up often in pecan, peach, plum, flowering quince and apple trees as well as in pyracantha.

For further information about iron deficiency and soil pH problems with ornamentals, contact the county Extension office. Two pamphlets that are available are L-164, "Soil Reaction (pH) Ranges," and L-435, "Iron Chlorosis."

Emphysema Country

One cigarette upsets the flow of air and blood in your lungs. Years of smoking can cause emphysema. And in the last decade, deaths from emphysema almost tripled in this country.

To investigate the relationship of smoking and emphysema, two prominent researchers—Dr. Oscar Auerback and E. Cuyler Hammon—studied whole-lung sections from autopsies of 1800 men and women. Then they checked the lungs for the degree of emphysema that might be present. Later they found out from relatives the smoking habits of the dead persons.

How closely did smoking habits correlate with the extent of emphysema in the lungs? Very closely.

Of the persons who had never smoked regularly, 90 percent had no emphysema at all. The air sacs, where oxygen and carbon dioxide are exchanged, were not damaged and torn. The walls of the small blood vessels around the air sacs were not abnormally thickened. In contrast, of the persons who smoked 20 or more cigarettes a day for years, 99 percent had some degree of emphysema. And twenty percent of these smokers had advanced emphysema. Their lungs looked lacy, dotted with holes where thousands of air sacs had ruptured and broken.

Among persons with the same smoking habits, the degree of emphysema in their lungs increased with age and number of years they had smoked cigarettes.

Other studies cited by the U. S. Surgeon General show the chances of dying from emphysema are 25 times greater for people who smoke two packs a day than for nonsmokers. Find out more about ways to quit smoking from your local tuberculosis and respiratory disease association. It's a matter of life and breath.

Brush, Range Field Day Set In October

Texas A&M University will host a statewide Brush Control and Range Improvement Field Day October 5 at the Chaparral Ranch near La Pryor in Zavala County.

The field day is designed to provide landowners and ranch managers with information on brush control and range improvement practices, according to Garlyn Hoffman, range brush and weed control specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Among the brush control practices being used on the ranch are aerial spraying, both standard and low volume and the use of drift control additives; mechanical methods; and burning. A land conversion program is also underway.

The field day is being co-sponsored by Zavala County agricultural agencies and the Texas Range Improvement Association and Society for Range Management.

Coffee Break

By Shirley Hill

Have you ever had the honor of using your teenage boy's car for a few days? If not, you sure don't know what you're missing.

While my car was in the garage for well over a week, son Ric was generous enough to let me use his from eight to five. Of course, there was a stipulation. The car was only mine during those hours. As soon as his work day ended at five, if I didn't have my errands tended to I had just lost out.

But the most amazing part of the whole operation was the fact that I worried so much about being involved in an accident. Kept trying to figure out how I would explain why I was carrying in my car a pair of dirty blue socks, red house shoes, a blanket, throw pillow, a litter bag in the floorboard with big red letters reading HELP, cans, bottles, candy wrappers, six Playboy magazines, a roll of toilet tissue, hair brush, wallet (no money), last week's mail and a (ugh!) spit can balanced on the dash.

And the way that gas disappeared. Figured it would be nice of me to keep the car in gas while I was using it. No way. I don't have that kind of money. Whatever amount I put in on a given day, the gas tank still read the same next morning—E.

And Heaven forbid if I had a flat. I might have had to open the trunk.

—SKH—
Mr. and Mrs. Michael Crouch of Timpon visited over the weekend with her parents and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Granger and Mr. and Mrs. Wes Granger. Also visiting the Grangers were her mother, Mrs. Wilson Allen and their son, Bobby Wayne, of Bryan.

Mrs. Albert Ward, who has been confined in a Fort Worth hospital for a number of weeks following an automobile accident, has been transferred to the Clinic Hospital in San Angelo. We are certainly glad Cynthia is doing so well she can be moved close to home.

Mr. and Mrs. Pat Finley of San Angelo visited with Mr. and Mrs. Bill Cartwright Monday.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. John Ward recently were their daughter-in-law, Mrs. John Allen Ward and their granddaughter, Ann, from Philadelphia, Penn.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Seale and sons of Houston visited with Mr. and Mrs. Bill Savell and other friends Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Seale had been in San Angelo visiting with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Lovelace.

Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Parker of Carrollton and Joe R. Lancaster of Lewisville are visiting Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Hudson this week.

Visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Logan this week are Mrs. Logan's daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Wright of Tucson, Arizona.

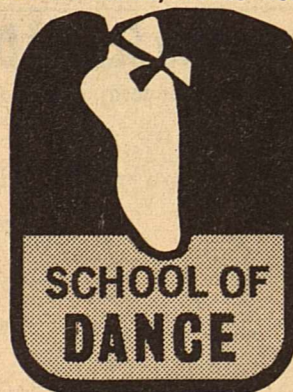

Beatrice and Sue Noriega have returned from a 5-day visit in San Angelo where they visited their brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Hector Noriega and nephew, Adrian.

Green News

The Ladies Golf Auxiliary held their luncheon last Wednesday. There were 19 members present. Hostesses for the luncheon were Nancy Allison and Marie Aldwell.

After the luncheon eight ladies traveled to Ozona to play golf. They teamed up with Ozona ladies and played. Prizes were won by Elaine Donaldson, Jo Neville and Sammie Espy.

Several different prizes were given to the ladies at the luncheon. Elaine won the low score of the month with a 63. Sammie won the Nassau play for the year and Ann Herrmann was the most improved player of the year.

—GN—
The ladies have been playing a tournament, match play, and I think the winners have finally won—

Championship Flight—1st place, Sammie Espy, 2nd, Bobbie Fawcett.

First Flight—1st place, Elaine Donaldson, 2nd, Muriel Brown. Second Flight—1st place, Nancy Allison, 2nd, Ethel Olson.

—GN—
New officers for the auxiliary have been elected for the year and they are: Muriel Brown, president; Lucille McMillan, vice president; Elaine Donaldson, secretary, and our faithful treasurer, Pauline Thompson. Thanks, Pauline. Yours truly, the reporter, will remain anonymous until we see how the job works out.

Plans are now being made for our Sonora Couples Tournament, September 15-16. Should be a good tournament so get yourself a partner.

—GN—
Golfers are back out playing again after the rain. Repairs are being made as the rain caused some damage. It created some hazards also, such as mosquitoes as big as horse flies. However, if you can swing and swat at the same time there should be no problems.

I think most of us can stand a little inconvenience when it makes the grass grow. The golf course looks great after the rain.

We do have some fellows that play golf too but since my husband hasn't asked me to join his foursome lately, I don't know much about what is going on. The only reports I get are some kind of mumbly when he walks in the back door about his "game isn't what it should be".

Next week, guys, there will be a Men's Partnership in Eldorado. Election of officers will be the first of September, and I will try to do better.

—GN—

My knowledge of golf consists of—you get this long stick and knock this white ball around in the weeds until finally you get to this nice green grass that has a hole in the middle of it with a flag sticking out, and you are trying to knock the ball in this hole and when you have done this, you have accomplished what you started out to do.

Therefore my terminology of the game is a little rough, but with the help of friends, my dictionary and my "Golf Digest", someday you will read the "Green News", and I will have it all right.

—GN—
P.S.: Play hard in Eldorado next week "dear husband", and I will put your name in Green News!

GET UP... AND GO

Does the alarm clock get you up? No, it merely tells you it's time to get up. Whether you get out of bed is a matter of discipline.

Church bells don't bring anyone to church. They simply remind Christians where we ought to be on a Sunday morning. The rest is a matter of discipline.

Such discipline, whether it calls you to work or to worship, is fundamentally a trait of your own character. It begins with earnestness, it is strengthened by habit, it is directed toward any responsibility or opportunity which you value.

The value a person puts upon God and his own soul usually determines whether he worships each Sunday, or now and then. Put another way: the man who knows what worship and inspiration can mean in his life never is hesitant to get up and go.

And, of course, discipline has special meaning for a Christian: those who lived and worked with Christ were DISCIPLES.

THE FLOOD WATERS from last week's rains at structure No. 13 have been slowly released through the principle spillway to prevent downstream flooding.

Road blocks were in effect for several days in Sonora following the heavy rains which fell Friday and Saturday, August 11 and 12. These three girls enjoyed the fine clear water discharging through the principle spillway of the watershed dams upstream.

HOSPITAL DRAW, a branch which runs into Lowrey Draw, received minor damages from last week's heavy rains.

Teen Scene

School opened Monday with mixed feelings of anticipation and dread by students and faculty alike—anticipating renewed friendships cut off by the summer's activities and dreading the long months of preparation and work awaiting all.

—SHS—

Teddy Coker, president, opened with an address to the student body of 240.

Mr. James Pollard, principal, introduced Bruce Kerbow, Cathy Boyd and Teresa Moon-ey, this year's student body officers, and briefly discussed a few school policies and schedules for the coming term.

—SHS—

Besides the many that have disappeared, quite a few new faces are present on campus among both students and faculty. Those on the faculty, including John Tedford, English, Speech and Drama; Jane Baker, Library; Donna Benson, Business Administration and Math; Bill Harle, Social Studies and Assistant Coach; Tom Barclay, Math, and Tally Kelso, girls basketball, were introduced by Mr. Pollard.

Dismissed, students, teachers and administration began to settle down and become acquainted with another year at SHS.

The freshmen began the year properly (according to senior standards) with a chorus of the 'school song' from the rock wall and pulling the few weeds left by last year's freshmen.

Sophomores looked laughingly on, glad to fill the role of 'onlookers' for a change. Juniors, no longer 'dumb freshmen' or 'stupid sophomores', have earned the title of 'upperclassmen', and are prepared to share with seniors a feeling of superiority during their last years of high school.

—SHS—

The Broncos, after two weeks of preparation, will scrimmage McCamey this Friday evening in McCamey. The Junior Varsity game will begin at 6, with the varsity following.

Gillespie Co. Fair At Fredericksburg

Gillespie County Fair, oldest exposition in Texas, will run from Friday through Sunday, this week, according to president of the organization, Rudy Olfers.

Horse racing will be the feature each afternoon with seven purse races slated. Band music will be provided by Fredericksburg High School Band, and Pehl's Old Time Fair Band on Sunday. St. Mary's High School will play a nightly concert in the grandstand.

The fair opens with a giant parade Friday morning, at 10, with floats, bands and many other features.

Reserved seats may be purchased any day of the fair from the Fair Office.

SOME RESIDENTS ANXIOUSLY watch rising flood waters of Dry Devils River and Lowrey Draw invade their homes after a 3.5 inch rain-fall May 12, 1967. The thirteen watershed dams above Sonora protected this same area last week where only minor damages were reported when four to six inch rains fell in two hours. The watershed flood prevention dams were completed in 1961.

Young People Recount Perception Of Europe

AUSTRIA
by BILL FINKLEA
This article submitted by Bill Finklea is the fifth in a series of articles by the six young people who visited Europe this summer in a 43-day People-to-People visit. Bill is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Finklea. His story follows:

Austria—What a relief to get into Austria after being in Communist Russia! The relief first came on the Austrian Airlines. The food was fairly good, the temperature in the plane wasn't too hot or too cold, and the stewardesses were nicer than the Russians.

On June 29, we had a tour of the city of Vienna. We went to the Schoenbrunn Castle. It is the home of the famous Hapsburg family which was in power for hundreds of years. The tourists can only see the first floor of the castle. All of the rooms were very elaborate in decor. In the back of the castle, there was a famous fountain of Austria and a beautiful garden.

We saw many places of interest including the St. Charles Church, Staatsoper, Scholtenkirche, and Rathaus. The same afternoon we went to Prater amusement park. It is the site of the world's largest ferris wheel, which is called the Big Wheel. It took ten minutes for it to make a complete turn. At the top of the Wheel you have a good view of Vienna. Then we had some fun at the amusement park.

The next day, June 30, we took off in our touring bus to the Little Alps, which could be seen from our windows at the hotel. We went to Forchlenstien Castle that is on the top of a mountain. It looks impossible to get to it. In the castle there were many of the original belongings of the inhabitants. There was a water well on the grounds that took 30 years to build and is about 300 feet deep. After we visited the castle, we went to the Iron Curtain between Austria and Hungary.

After seeing the Iron Curtain, we lunched in one of the restaurants. Nearby, we toured the beautiful winery in Austria. Seeing the process of wine making from vine to glass was most interesting. The grapes came from the beautiful vineyards in that area. In fact, most of the countryside was covered with vineyards.

This ended our tour of Austria, one of the most beautiful and interesting countries we visited. It was one of the countries that I would like to make a return visit.

JUST VISITING...

Visiting in San Antonio last week was Mrs. Miers Savell. She visited her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. S.E. Hamilton and Mrs. J.H. Bridges.

IT'S A GREAT RESPONSIBILITY AND A CHALLENGING TASK TO MOLD THESE YOUNG MINDS. SOMETIMES A THANKLESS POSITION BUT SATISFYING TO THOSE WHO ARE DEDICATED TO THE TEACHING PROFESSION.

THE DEDICATED TEACHER RECOGNIZES THIS CHALLENGE, KNOWING THAT SUCH DEDICATION TRANSMITS TO STUDENTS A DESIRE TO LEARN, TO EXCEL, AND TO BECOME BETTER PEOPLE. OUR SONORA TEACHERS ABLY MEET THIS CHALLENGE, AND THROUGH THEM, TOMORROW'S CITIZENS EMERGE.

WE AT SOUTHWEST TEXAS ELECTRIC CO-OP ARE PROUD OF THE SONORA SCHOOLS AND OF OUR AREA TEACHERS, WHO WORK WITH INSPIRATION AND DEDICATION TO BUILD BETTER CITIZENS FOR WEST TEXAS. WE, TOO, ARE PROUD TO HAVE PART IN THE GROWTH AND DEVELOPMENT OF THIS AREA.
