Screwworm Control Measures

by D. C. LANGFORD, County Agricultural Agent
Co-Ral and Korlan sprays are primarily used as preventive measures in controlling screwworms. Animals which have susceptible wounds at the time of spraying are given some protection until the wounds have begun to heal. These materials do not act as a systemic insecticide to control screwworms which may later infest a fresh wound on the animal.

Worms in infested wounds at the time of spraying are usually killed by these materials and they will provide some control of adult screwworm flies thus reducing egg laying up to two weeks following spraying in the absence of heavy rains.

Most of the control achieved by a spraying program is the result of the direct spray contact of worms in wounds, or as a control against adult flies before they have an opportunity to deposit eggs on fresh wounds. Heavy rains for all practical purposes can wash the effective residue off of the animal. There is no accurate means of determining

Fellowship Christian Athletes Group Planned Here

An organizational meeting for the formation of a chapter of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes here will be held soon, announced Coach Jerry Phillips, head basketball coach at Sonora High School. Coach Dave Porter will assist Phillips in the organization. Approval for the formation of the local group was given by high school principal, James Pollard.

The national organization is open to all young boys of high school age who participate in any high school sport, including managers, etc. Athletes and coaches across the United States are discovering the importance of sharing spiritual truths and mutual encouragement through the huddle—fellowship program of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

Members of the huddle (high school age group) are the FCA's local implementation of its national purpose—"... To confront athletes and coaches, and through them the youth of the nation, with the challenge and adventure of following Christ and serving him through the fellowship of the church and in their vocations."

The main purpose of the "huddle" is to find ways to make athletes aware of God's presence and grace, and then to share with others the challenge and adventure of following Christ. The first word in FCA is "fellowship". Christ's love in and through the members makes this fellowship unique. The FCA is not, however, a substitute for the Church and its youth program, rather an arm to strengthen and assist it.

The athlete and the coach have a unique "ministry of influence". The FCA wants them to use this ministry to strengthen the church, school, community and nation. In 1971 there were 1,430 huddles and fellowships nationwide, with a number of well-known college and high school players in all sports as members.

exactly how much rain is required to wash the residual spray from the hair coat, but close observation of animals will reveal the need for additional spraying to control flies. The normal spray interval between applications of Co-Ral and Korlan is two weeks.

There is some degree of danger in spraying with Co-Ral or Korlan at the same time that animals are drenched.

Many spray and drench products warn against drenching animals at the same time they are sprayed with stress-producing, organophosphate materials such as Co-Ral or Korlan. The producers best guide will come from the product label on both the spray container and the drench container in determining which products may be used at the same time.

Co-Ral and Korlan are effective as a systemic control of grubs in cattle if the material has been applied for 24 hours or longer before a heavy washing rain.

There is no way of preventing all screwworm cases except by the eradication of the screwworm fly through the sterile fly program.

Ranchers are urged to continue to treat all animal wounds and to spray animals at critical times such as, shearing time or when screwworm cases become a problem in an effort to keep screwworm losses at a minimum until the sterile fly program can eliminate the problem again.

According to screwworm officials we cannot expect the current outbreak of screwworms to be brought under control until after we get a winter kill of screwworm flies.

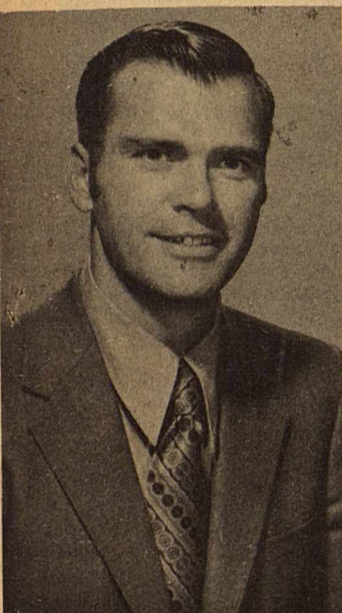

Good moisture conditions and early calving will add to screwworm problems in Sutton County, which continues to have 10 to 35 cases daily, but good management practices such as checking and doctoring new born calves daily, will help offset the problem.

Social Security Sets Oct. Increase

The new 20% increase in social security benefits will begin with regular checks for the month of September to be delivered early October, according to J.M. Talbot, social security manager.

"No application is needed for the 20% increase," Talbot said. "The Social Security Administration will refigure payments for everyone getting social security benefits and pay the increased benefits in the October checks."

Persons needing information pertaining to social security may call toll free by dialing "Operator" and asking for "Enterprise 2058".

Dr. Walter J. Paschall has opened an office in the Sid Peterson Memorial Hospital Building in Kerrville. His practice will be limited to diagnosis and treatment of diseases of the eye. A graduate of Baylor University College of Medicine in Houston, he served as Flight Surgeon in the U.S. Navy Flight Surgeon School in Pensacola, Fla. He completed his residency in Ophthalmology at Indiana University Medical Center. He and his wife, Jan, have three children. The family moved to Kerrville from Bellflower, Calif.

A Tribute To Sunday School Teachers - And To One Especially-Mae Ward

This is a salute to all Sunday school teachers who seldom are recognized for their efforts, but usually taken-for-granted, and for the sometimes frustrating task of teaching Sunday school week after week.

There are many who have worked unselfishly in past years, teaching various classes Sunday after Sunday, but this is to spotlight one person in particular... Mrs. Rip (Mae) Ward, who has taught classes at the First Baptist Church for more years than most of her fellow members can recall.

When we began this tribute to Mae, we had been told that she was giving up teaching a class... the Gleaners, but since making a survey with several of her co-workers we learn that she will teach, only this time it will be the Fidelis Class... older women in the church. Mrs. Jamie (Carol) Parker will teach the Gleaners. Mae is busier than usual right now—sending the Albert Wards three children to school while her son, Albert, and his wife, Cynthia, are in San Angelo where Cynthia is receiving treatment for injuries suffered in a recent automobile wreck.

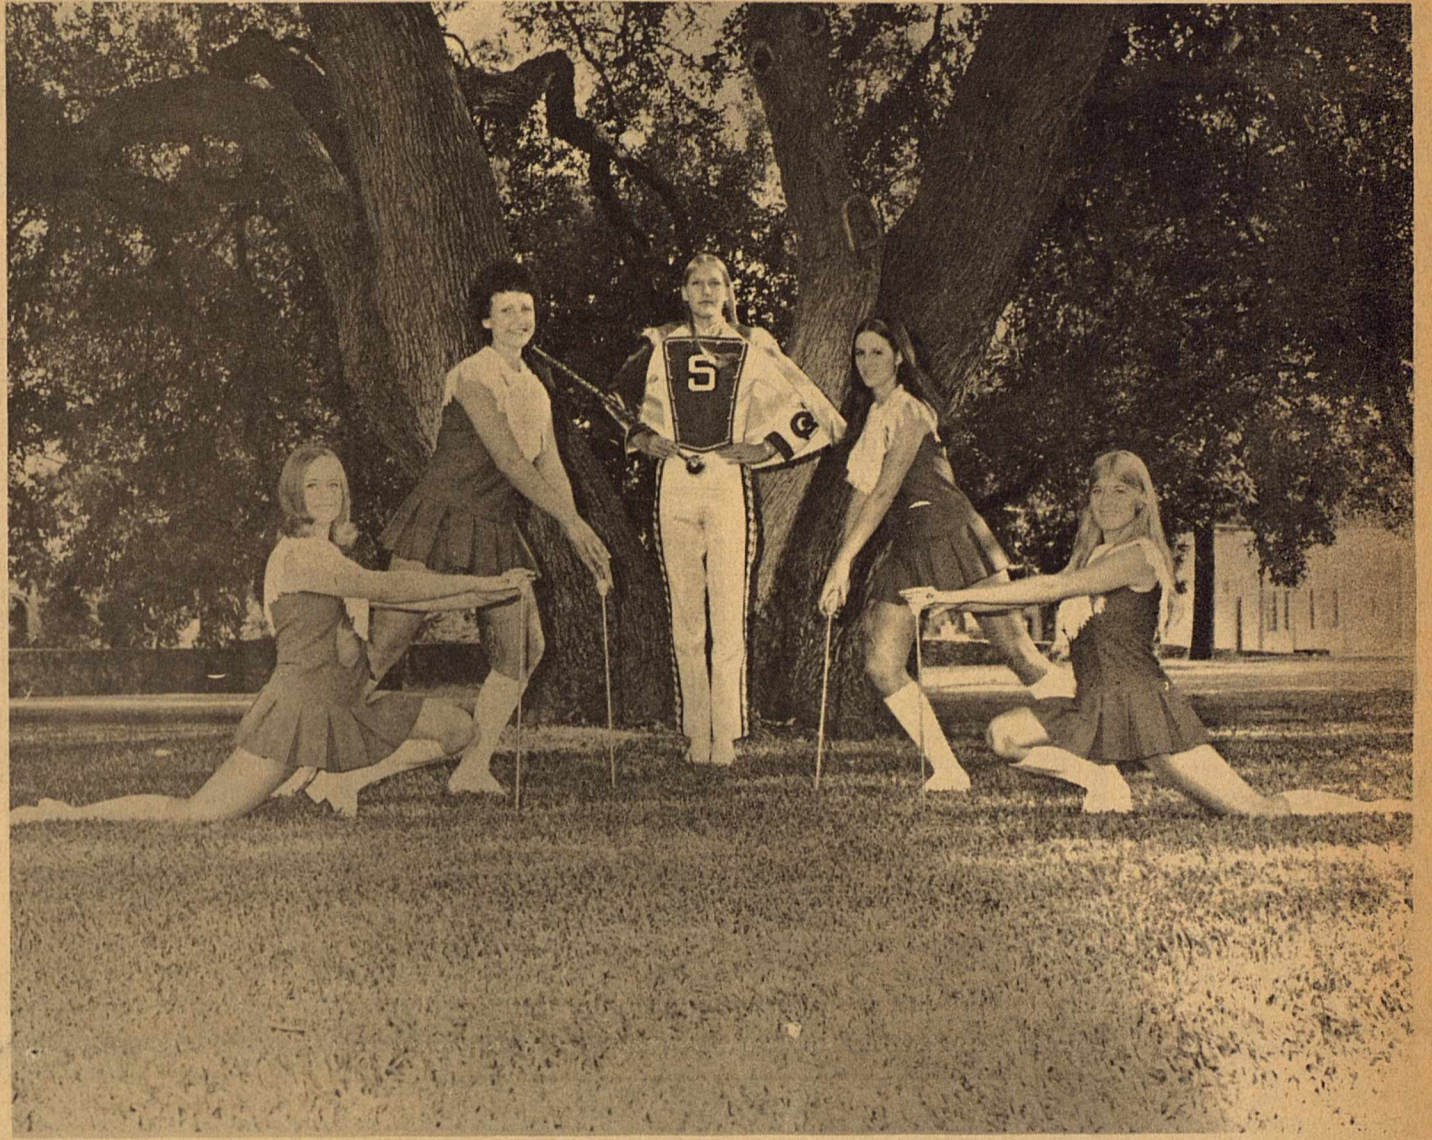

Mrs. Erma Lee Turner said Mae was her teacher when the family moved here in 1943, and she taught for sometime before that. Mrs. Turner said the class was not called "Gleaners" then, but was made up mostly of young women in the church who had graduated from high school... gradually the class consisted principally of young mothers in the church.

Several people were contacted and when asked about the services rendered by Mae (no one calls her "Mrs.") not a single person failed to mention that she does many things in her church other than teach a class. Most emphasized that she is a person to depend upon... in fact, it seems that teaching a class has been one of the "minor" contributions to her church.

Most of the churches in our community could probably name someone in each church who has been as devoted a worker as Mae has been in the First Baptist Church, and this is a good time to recognize those people. In these hurry-up days when folks never seem to have time to help out with much of anything, these efforts of Sunday school teachers should be doubly appreciated. Most—like Mae—are there every Sunday quietly doing her job the best way she knows how—with no fanfare, and scant praise.

A special thanks to Mae and others of these unsung heroes for a concern for others... a willingness to freely give of their talents for God's work. He must have a special love for Sunday school teachers.

LEADING THE BAND DURING HALF-TIME ceremonies and helping to cheer the Broncos on to victory at the Coahoma game Friday night at 8 p. m. in Coahoma, will be twirlers Debra Hard, Glenna Chadwick, drum majorette Pat Garmon, twirlers Melissa Gibbs and Cindy Cavaness. The band under the direction of John Butterfield, has been working hard for some-time preparing for this years work.

Lions Set Annual Sale

The annual Lions Club auction sale will be held September 26, with Lem Jones, auctioneer of Glendale, Arizona, again in charge of dispensing the sale items. The free barbecue will be held at 6:30 p. m. at the 4-H Center, with the sale to follow after the meal.

Club vice-president Hershel Davenport announced the principal committees to help with the sale. Other Lions will be called upon to assist.

Local merchandise solicitation will be under the sponsorship of Lions Jo Hardgrave, chairman, and Doyle Morgan, Richard Franklin, Nick Anderson, Tom Nevill and James McLaughlin. Livestock solicitation committee members are D. C. Langford, chairman, George Brockman, George Wallace, James Hunt, Gene Wallace and A. E. Prugel.

Ranchmen are urged to start picking out goats for the sale. They may be delivered live to the Branding Iron Smokehouse on any butchering days before the sale date.

Out-of-town merchandise solicitation will be handled by Lions Norman Rousselot, chairman, Jamie Parker, Alex Binford and Bill Morris.

Planning the meal and serving the large crowd expected will be Kyle Donaldson, chairman, Nolan Johnson, Larry Hill, Cullen Luttrell, Leo B. Merrill, W. B. Dillard, Ray Barlemann, Carl Hard, Gene West, Luther Creek and Joe Stewart.

Assisting Colonel Jones in the auction ring will be Herbert Fields, Lin Hicks, Jimmy H. Harris and Jo Hardgrave. Bookkeepers will be Warren Hemphill, Mrs. Lea Roy Aldwell and Milton Cavaness.

The annual auction sale is the only fund raising activity carried out by Sonora Lions. The excellent support of the sale by the community has enabled the club to sponsor many worthwhile projects over the years.

Shooting Birds On Telephone Poles May Curtail Service

General Telephone Company reminds hunters, with the opening of dove season September 1, that shooting at birds on telephone poles or lines may disrupt telephone service and endanger many people who depend on their telephones during an emergency.

Damaged communication lines often do more than disrupt weekend plans, it was pointed out by General officials. In some instances, a heart attack victim could lose his life.

In addition to carrying emergency messages, telephone lines may be guiding planes, serving radar tracking stations, or connecting several missile sites. Each minute a telephone is out of order, the safety of many people may be threatened, which is reason enough not to shoot birds on telephone lines or cables.

All hunters are urged to maintain and exercise caution.

GRASSROOTS OPINION

FULTON, MISS., ITAWAMBA COUNTY TIMES: "The people who work for a company have a far larger stake in its success or failure than the people who own it. U. S. Government figures show that most companies pay out more than ten times as much in wages, salaries and employee benefits as they do in dividends to stockholders. If a company doesn't do well, a stockholder may have to go without his dividend, perhaps lose part of his savings; but an employee may lose his job and his means of earning a living!"

RUSKIN, NEBR., LEADER: "For a long time this country has been trying to improve the poor man's lot by raising the minimum wage. It has only succeeded in spawning two more categories of parasites—the lazy reliefers at the bottom and the lobbies overpaid officials at the top."

NAPOLION, OHIO, NORTHWEST-SIGNAL: "I reckon it's a good thing that outer space is infinite. Man has not been aware of his ability to litter the vast area to a saturation point, but you gotta give him credit for trying. 'Tis said that already man has a couple thousand discarded devices floating in the heavens."

GETTYSBURG, S. D., POT-

TER COUNTY NEWS: "Just what is the destiny of our inflated dollar? Three Harvard professors took the dollar to task in a recent research problem: Based on the dollar being worth 47¢ in buying power in 1970, they figure by 1990 it will be worth approximately 6¢ in honest to goodness buying power. I guess when the dollar inflates down to a big fat 'zero', we'll all return to the forest to fight the squirrels for whatever nuts are left on the trees!"

WANTAGH, N. Y., SEAFORD CITIZEN: "We often wonder if parents take the time to warn their children of the dangers of shoplifting and vandalism. Quite often young people decide they are out to defy the 'establishment' by setting out to steal or destroy. Not only are they in danger of ending in jail, but also, of finding themselves with a police record because they did something on a dare or a thrill. Parents should check on articles brought into the home, to be sure they have not been taken out of a store without permission. The saying, 'Where are your children tonight?', holds true more than ever. Trust; but know what is going on!"

SPIRIT LAKE, IOWA, BEACON: "There would probably be a greater number of scientific breakthroughs each year if so many scientists were not engaged in trying to develop the ultimate washing powder."

GREENSBURG, KAN., KIOWA COUNTY SIGNAL: "A government report shows the cost of living for the average urban family of four is now $10,971. There were no figures for rural areas, but we can assure them that the cost of living out this way is a lot less than $10,000 as there aren't that many even making that kind of salary. I can imagine there are thousands of families in the urban areas that don't see $10,000 a year either. It makes us wonder how the government takes a survey and what they consider 'average family'."

A Bishop Looks at Life

THE END OF A DAY

By Everett H. Jones, Retired Bishop of the Episcopal Church

I have just watched the end of a day. I was seated high in the Sangro de Cristo Mountains near Santa Fe, looking across the Rio Grande Valley as the sun disappeared behind the distant Texas peaks.

The end of this day did not come suddenly. It seemed to me that Lord Sun knew another day's work was nearly over and made gradual preparations for his departure.

Well in advance clouds began to gather, as though to attend the Lord Sun on his way. At first these clouds were gray and dark, but little by little they were streaked with brilliant colors—pinks and reds and lavenders. The colors shot through the growing twilight; they seemed to tell the world the end of a day is not all sadness but also filled with radiant beauty.

Then I noticed there were clouds above me and in the distance on either side. They were joining in the heavenly celebration as they reflected the colors of the sunset; the result was a delicate blending of gray and mauve. Still further off, dark clouds had shining silver linings.

I let my imagination run wild. I personalized the scene and heard Lord Sun saying that in these clouds and colors he was reviewing all that he had seen of joy and sorrow in one day's journey.

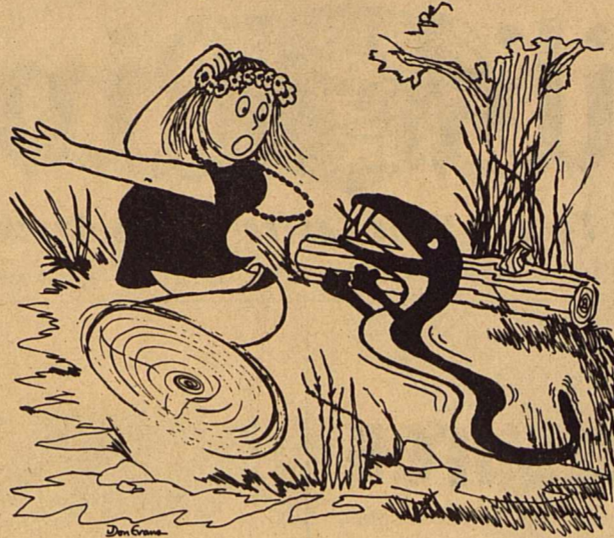

He seemed to say: "This is what life is like—a strange mixture of tragedy and ecstasy. But the colors outshine the clouds. There is cause for praise and thanksgiving!"

And I remembered that he could not be overcome with sorrow at his departure. It was not just an ending but also a beginning. There was work awaiting him on the other side. O Father, You have taught us that the heavens declare Your glory, and that the earth shows forth Your handiwork. You speak to us through the wonders of Your Creation. Help us to come to the end of our day with dignity and gratitude and quiet confidence.

THE DEVIL'S RIVER PHILOSOPHER SEZ.....

He Comes Up With An Idea For Holding All Future Political Conventions

Editor's note: The Dry Devils Philosopher on his bitterweed ranch on Dry Devils River has some reflections on national political conventions this week. Dear editor:

The trouble with politicians is that they frequently are too far behind the people.

Take the national conventions. Everybody knew there were going to be demonstrations outside the hall in Miami Beach, had known it for four years, and while there's nothing like a televised confrontation outside the hall to break the monotony of a roll call vote inside, the costs of controlling such things are getting out of hand.

As I understand it, it costs the city of Miami Beach at least two million dollars just to provide all the extra police protection, not to mention the cost of hauling in all those buses to form barricades, and with many stores boarded up and closed and hometown people afraid to venture out, it's almost impossible to make a profit out of a convention any more.

But since there seems to be no way around holding one and since any city hereafter is going to think twice before letting one in, and I certainly don't want one held out here on this farm, the thing for the politicians to do is build a permanent convention hall recognizing the facts of life.

Build it, before all states pass zoning laws against it, out on a prairie somewhere, but underground, with fifty-mile-long tunnels leading to it from all directions. Once inside, a delegate couldn't come out till somebody was nominated.

With some of the tunnels only decoys, so a few policemen dressed up to look like delegates could roar in by car, circle around and come out another exit out there on the prairie, demonstrators would be hard pressed to make much of a scene. Oh, it'd be all right for one of the cars now and then to slow down long enough for somebody to stick an ice pick in a tire, and just to keep in the spirit of the thing the tires could be filled with tear gas. The networks are entitled to some consideration in holding up their ratings.

If they're going to continue to hold conventions, politicians have got to wake up to the times we're living in. Everybody except them knows it's no longer practical to hold one out in the open.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Cusenbary have returned from a two-week tour to Alaska, and into the Arctic Circle. They visited Kotzebue, a typical Eskimo town, and from there went to Nome, just across from Siberia.

They visited in Anchorage, Juneau and Sistaeka, the capitol of Russia when Russia owned Alaska. The Cusenbarys enjoyed a three-day inland boat passage tour back to Seattle, Washington.

Dorothy reports that the scenery was the most magnificent they have seen. A lover of historic items, the only thing she found disturbing was in visiting the museum in Sistaeka where she noticed that citizens there had preserved Russian relics profusely, with little emphasis on U.S. items or history.

SUMMER HOURS
Monday - Friday 9 a.m. - 5 p.m.

People are so busy here and there that they often fail to perceive the beauty and grandeur of Creation.
A storm at sea, a beautiful sunrise or a full moon riding in a clear sky are but commonplace aspects of the weather. Towering mountains, a great waterfall or a far-spread fertile valley are but features of the landscape.
Blessed is the man gifted with the vision and understanding to see the deeper meaning of Nature's matchless wonders.
For behind all the wonderful phenomena of earth and sea and sky is the pattern of a sublime plan which stirs the awe and challenges the imagination of man. There can be but one answer to the marvels and wonders of the universe—God! The Church brings man into spiritual relationship with his Creator.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

(The following letter was received from Mr. and Mrs. Ralph P. Bovy of Newbury Park, California.)

On a rainy afternoon of August 12, 1972, we were driving toward Junction, Texas, when a sudden flash flood hit us on Highway 290 about 20 miles east of Sonora.

It was our misfortune, as we met an onslaught of running waters across the highway, to have lost control of the car, ending up in the Lillian Hudspeh Memorial Hospital, with cuts, contusions and bruises. The car was a total loss.

In relation to this event, we were most fortunate to have met Dr. C. F. Browne at the hospital. He is a real people's doctor with great humor. Nurse Mary Lou Gilly compassionately met us at the emergency door.

While convalescing at the hospital, we met so many good, kind people who staffed the hospital. In addition we also became acquainted with other understanding people of your town—Texas Highway Patrolman Hill; Justice of the Peace, Mar Adams, Mr. Pettiet of Pettiet's Auto Supply, Adjustor Ben Mittel of San Angelo, Allstate Insurance, and young Charles Browne who graciously took us to Midland Airport to catch our plane. All played a part in our lives—all helped in their own special way.

The people who stayed with us at the scene of the accident, attending to our needs in the 1 1/2-hour downpour, rendered a very meritorious act. Our deep feeling of gratitude, for help extended to us during our stay in Sonora, cannot be measured in words, but is recorded in the Good Book by the Almighty. Many helped us whose names we can't recollect.

We thank you for being so understanding and compassionate during our confinement. You can all be proud of your hospital, Dr. Browne, your nurses and your staff. Although we had the accident, we were most fortunate to have it near Sonora, Texas.

Gratefully yours,
Ralph and Florence Bovy

Green News

Golfers, Golfers everywhere, and I think that a good time was had by all—I think that you could safely say the annual Labor Day Tournament was a complete success.

The tournament was made up of four flights. Winners in the third flight were Lea Roy Aldwell, first; Lee Patrick, second; Bill Means, third and Lawrence Finklea, fourth. Second flight winners were Kyle Donaldson, first; Jackie Sharp, second; Bud Smith, third and Cullen Luttrell, fourth.

First flight winners were Clayton Hamilton, first; Wayne Herrmann, second; Ken Braden, third and Tommy Thorp, fourth. Championship flight winners were George Johnson, first; J. W. Neville, second; Shorty Taylor, third and Durwood Neville, fourth. George Johnson also won medalist.

Trophies were awarded to each of these individuals. The trophies this year were donated by the following merchants: Westernman Drug, First National Bank, Neville's Department Store, Elliott Insurance Agency, Morgan-Hunt Insurance Agency, and Ratliff's Department Store, Home Hardware, Devil's River News, Foxworth-Galbraith Lumber Company, Twin Oaks Motel, Thorp's Laun-Dry, and Braden Motor Company, Gulf Restaurant, Bob Teaff Company and the Hurry-Up. Many, many thanks to the merchants for donating the trophies. They were very nice and we do appreciate it.

The ladies also had a two-day play. Winners Sunday were Marilyn Bloodworth, first; Lucille McMillan, second and Suzy Rosford, third. Monday winners were Jo Neville, first; Elaine Donaldson, second and Muriel Brown, third.

The highlight of the whole weekend was the delicious fried chicken supper we had Monday night. If you missed it, believe me you missed a good one. Many, many thanks to our cooks, L. P. Bloodworth, W. B. McMillan, Whiskey Hill, Ken Rosford and Kyle Donaldson.

For a long time it has worried me how L. P. and W. B. played golf in those long aprons. Well, I finally found out that while we were out there playing golf and having fun they were out there cooking all day so we could have something to eat when we finished. These guys do all the cooking which includes the big invitational tournaments, and that's lots of cooking. We do appreciate it and thanks so much.

It was also brought to my attention that Marlon Elliott of Elliott Butane donated, and has for the last several years, the butane bottles for the big cookers. Thank you.

A short business meeting was held after the supper Monday, and four new directors were elected. They are Jo Neville, Lucille McMillan, Durwood Neville and George Johnson.

These new directors will replace Sammie Espy, Monica DuRussel, Earl Johnson and W. T. Black. The other directors are Bud Smith, Pete Thompson, Milton Cavaness, Wayne Herrmann, Kyle Donaldson and Norm Rousselot. Donaldson and Herrmann have served as tournament chairmen and have done a great job. This is a big responsibility and they have handled it well.

Carroll Ratliff was awarded an unusual award this weekend, and I think it would be worth mentioning.

I believe it had something to do with the shirt he had on—really was bright! He was awarded one golf ball for having the most colorful attire. I understand it came all the way from Singapore.

Glad to see Ed Grobe back out playing again. Swing sweet, Ed, and take care of that hand.

by CAROL WESTON

Following several weeks of preparation, the Broncos met McCamey August 25. Our varsity made two touchdowns while McCamey made none, and the Junior varsity made two touchdowns, holding their opponents to one.

Despite uncomfortable weather conditions throughout both games, it was evident that the Broncos are going to have another successful season.

The Junior High and Junior varsity will play Junction here this Thursday evening. The 7th grade will begin at 5, the 8th grade at 6:30 and the Junior varsity at 8 p. m.

The Band began last year to give special recognition each week to two members for their performance throughout the week. This year they will be selected by John Weston, Johnny Gonzales, Glenna Chadwick and Carol Weston, this year's band officers, on the basis of attitude and performance.

Meddling with Merchandise

To lift her spirits, Virginia decided to become a bleached blonde. She stirred two bleaching products together and applied the mixture to her hair. Result: scalp burns.

In short order, she demanded damages from one of the manufacturers. But at the trial, the company pointed out that its directions warned against mixing the product with anything else.

"The fact remains," said Virginia, "that a bleach should not become dangerous merely by being mixed with another bleach."

However, the court turned down Virginia's claim. The judge said she had meddled with the merchandise at her own risk.

With increasing frequency, manufacturers are being held liable for harm inflicted by their products. But if the consumer had substantially tampered with the product before using it, that usually will let the manufacturer "off the hook."

This is true even if there is no specific warning against tampering.

GUESS WHO!

If you miss this 'guess who' you might as well quit guessing. Bet everyone will recognize this bright-eyed youngster (who still is mighty young!) Last weeks 'guess who' was Mrs. Lonnie (Julie) Pollard.

BAND NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Gibbs would like to thank those parents who cooperated in last weeks concession stand donations and say that the club proceeds were very good.
