

MRS. LYNDON B. JOHNSON PRESENTED the third annual Lady Bird Johnson Award for Highway Beautification to Cullen Luttrell, Texas Highway Department maintenance construction supervisor for Sutton and Schleicher Counties. The presentation was made October 11, at the Lyndon B. Johnson State Park. Shown here with Luttrell and Mrs. Johnson are former President Lyndon B. Johnson and special guest, Arthur Godfrey, environmental leader and well-known radio and television personality.

Godfrey is an ardent conservationist, active in leading the fight against the deterioration of the environment. He serves on both the President's Citizens Advisory Committee on Environmental Quality and New York State's Governor's Council of Environmental Advisors. He travels frequently to speak on this subject before civic and youth groups, and is the editor of a recently published anthology entitled "The Arthur Godfrey Environmental Reader".

Texas Hwy. Beautification Award Goes To Luttrell

The third annual Lady Bird Johnson Award for Highway Beautification was presented to J. C. (Cullen) Luttrell, (as everybody in Sutton County knows by now) at Stonewall last Wednesday, October 11. Cullen took a lot of ribbing from the other four contestants who accused him of bribery as he presented Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson with a package of blue-bonnet seeds. Of course, the bribery was a little late, since the first-place winner had been chosen sometime prior to the actual presentation of the award.

The winning of the $1,000-check along with the handsome plaque, came as a stunning and pleasant surprise to Cullen, as well as to his wife, Pauline. In her excitement, Pauline failed to get a picture of the presentation—due to camera difficulties (?).

An audience of nationally known conservationists, including Texas Highway Department officials and maintenance men, and representatives of the press from all sections of Texas gathered in the Lyndon B. Johnson State Park near Stonewall to witness the ceremonies, and as guests of Mrs. Johnson (by invitation only) for the program and luncheon. Among the esteemed guests was Arthur Godfrey, well-known radio and television personality. Excitement had been building up for a long interval for Luttrell following his selection as one of the five finalists from among 20 nominations throughout the 25 highway districts in

DPS Issues Special Personal Cards

Colonel Wilson E. Speir, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, reported that almost 7,000 Texans have obtained special personal identification cards since the DPS began issuing them September 1, 1971.

The cards, which were authorized by the 62nd Texas Legislature, are laminated and contain a color photograph of the holder. They are the same size as a Texas drivers license.

"These cards are especially valuable to those persons who do not hold a Texas drivers license, but who need some sort of official card to help establish their identity. Applicants have included the elderly, persons too young to obtain drivers licenses, and blind and handicapped persons. All Texans are eligible, however," Speir added.

In order to obtain a personal identification card, the applicant must appear at a DPS drivers license field office, execute a special application form, present a birth certificate or other documentary evidence of identity and date of birth, be fingerprinted and pay a statutory fee of $5.

VETERANS DAY

Veterans Day will be observed on October 23 in most states across the U.S. All veterans of the Armed Forces have been honored on this day since 1954 when Armistice Day, commemorating the end of World War I, was changed to the broader observance of Veterans Day.

With resurging patriotism, this observance is marked by parades, speechmaking and flags waving from millions of homes and public buildings. Citizens pay special tribute to all members of the nation's Armed Forces—past and present. Pride in having served our country in time of need comes from a deep understanding of the true greatness of our nation. In the light of this understanding, many have made the supreme sacrifice to help win and hold the blessings of personal freedom, opportunity and responsibility we now enjoy.

As Americans honor veterans of our Armed Forces this October 23, they will be reaffirming their support for the tradition of sacrifice and dedication to duty that alone will keep alive the power and the will of the U.S. to make a better world.

CALENDAR OF FACT AND OPINION

"The plain truth is that the ecology of nature is pretty severe on man, and man is constantly trying to modify it. Let's be honest: God put the worm in the apple; man took it out. God put the cockroach in the cracker barrel; man took it out. God put the potato bug on the potato; man took it off. God put the termite in the timber; man took it out. God put the malaria-laden mosquito in the backyard; man took it out. God put the mildew on the rose; man took it off. God put the parasite in the pork; man took it out.

How far back to nature do our ecologists want to go? Or, if they are honest with themselves, do they really want to go at all? Let's be honest about it." —Secretary Earl Butz of the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

"I find the great thing in this world is not so much where we stand, as in what direction we are moving..." —Oliver Wendell Holmes.

High Spots, a California-Pacific Utilities Company publication, notes that, "Hunters have traditionally worn red clothing for protection. But new tests prove that red does not show up as well as either yellow or fluorescent orange. Red appears as black at dawn or dusk and can't be distinguished by color blind hunters.

Yellow can be seen a little better, but still does not show up as the sun is going down. Best of all if fluorescent orange which stays visible longer after sunset than all other colors, and is easier to see by persons with abnormal vision. Many state laws still demand red or yellow for hunters, but if you have a choice in your state, choose fluorescent orange clothing."

THE DEVIL'S RIVER PHILOSOPHER SEZ.....

He Comes Out Vigorously For Law To End Big City Football Black-Outs

Editor's note: The Dry Devil's Philosopher on his bitterweed ranch on Dry Devils River tackles a serious problem this week, approximately. Dear editor:

Everybody has heard about the blight of the cities, the ghettos, the inner city turmoil, the power failures, the crowded schools, crime in the streets, burglaries, triple-locked apartments, drugs, police corruption, high taxation, un-repair streets, garbage pile-ups, hopeless traffic jams, pollution, cross-town pupil busing, corruption, near bankruptcy, but how desperate big-city life finally has become has just now come to light.

It's the television blackout of home games.

As I understand it, if you live in a city big enough to have a professional football team, the only way you can see your team play at home is to buy a ticket to a seat in the stadium. No home games are televised in the home city. Any T.V. station reaching the city is blacked out as far as that game goes, although it's free to carry a game from some place on the other side of the country. Basically, it's like saying you can follow the Sonora Broncos to out-of-town games but can't see them play at home.

This is the final blow that has made big-city life unbearable, and Congress is trying to do something about it. What it's trying to do is pass a law requiring the black-out to be lifted when the game is a sell-out, which is so reasonable it probably has no chance of passing.

In Washington, for example, I understand the Redskins' games are completely sold out for the rest of this season, but the only people in Washington who can see them play at home are the people who have tickets, leaving the hundreds of thousands of other Redskin fans gnawing their fingernails on Sunday afternoons.

Obviously Congress has got to do something about this or it will bring on the total collapse of big cities. People will flee then to the country where they can see any game they please, and you get that many people scattered out over the country and not even the country will be a fit place to live.

Congress is on the right track and this anti-black-out law ought to have top priority. We've got to keep city people in the city, except for the occasional desirable ones who're smart enough to move to Sutton County, although I'm not sure all of those have been checked on.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

Hospital Auxiliary

by JAN VANDER STUCKEN

Mrs. Charles F. Browne entertained the Lillian M. Huds-peth Hospital Auxiliary members and guests with an awards luncheon at her home Monday. Certificates were awarded to members for service at the nursing home.

Mrs. Browne, president, pre-sided over a short business session at which time the mem-bers voted to accept life mem-berships in the organization.

Plans were made to have the projects committee have a memorial case made for the Chapel, now under construc-tion.

Plans were made to improve the garden area of the nursing home.

SHERRIS SYKES, eight-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sykes of Odessa, won first place with her fire prevention poster in John Ireland Elementary School in Odessa, where she is a third grader. About 1800 posters were turned in from the 25 schools in Odessa, and her poster won second place in that group. In a special award assembly the John Ireland principal was given a plaque for outstanding Fire Prevention work achieved by his student, Sherris, who was presented an AM-FM radio at the same time by the Odessa Firemen. Sherris is the grand-daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Sykes.

FLIGHT SOUTH

It was only a faint sound at first, but it grew louder and louder. Then I knew what it was and rushed from the house.

High overhead, dark against the bright autumn sky, a flight of geese winged instinctively toward the south. Large wings flapped in graceful rhythm, and raucous honks of conversation brought a nostalgic ache to my throat.

"Bon voyage," I called, saluting with my whole heart the brave creatures who flew so unswervingly through uncharted skies.

And I wondered at us humans. How we doubt and fear and flail about, worrying about tomorrow and a dozen other somethings! Our course is not unknown. God promises abundant life if we but follow Him.

Your church is your guidebook to God. Worship there and find the security that comes from within, the result of understanding God and one's relationship to Him.

Is Now The Time To Buy Land?
Acquiring that farm might seem more practical with financing through the Federal Land Bank. Land is easier to pay off when costs are amortized over extra years with a long-term Land Bank Loan. Your total cost of borrowing, too, can be less. Ask us for help: We know land values; we will inspect the property. We will then try to make a loan that meets your exact needs.

OUR NEWSLETTER

By O. C. Fisher

The 2nd session of the 92nd Congress has ended. With mixed results, it weathered the cross currents of a Presidential election year which is never good legislative climate. On the minus side, far too much money was spent; on the plus side, some good bills were enacted, national defense was upheld, and our strategy in Southeast Asia was supported.

AS CHURCHILL SAW IT. The late great Winston Churchill is rated as a master of the parliamentary system in the art of government. Speaking of parliamentary duty, he once said: "First, do what is right and necessary for the honor and safety of one's country, second, is duty to constituents; and finally, it is only in the third place that a man's duty to the party or program takes rank." Then he added: "There is no doubt of the order in which they stand in any healthy manifestation of democracy."

THE SCREW WORM OUTBREAK—a major scourge in the ranch country of the southwest, continues with little evidence of relief. For some time the Entomology plant in Mission has been producing sterile flies at 200 million per week capacity, with 170 million of them being dropped each week on this side of the Rio Grande. But apparently it takes some time to obtain noticeable results. With frost coming soon, the job will be made easier.

The USDA estimates this program since its inception has saved livestock producers in the southwest about $800 million. As a result of a joint agreement with Mexico, the outlook for future control is vastly improved. The Mexicans have agreed on an all-out joint battle.

USDA entomologists believe the screwworm problem will be under control in our affected area next year.

SS REPRESENTATIVE SETS VISIT Johnny Grammer, field representative for the San Angelo Social Security office, has scheduled his October visit here.

He will be at the County Courthouse today (Thursday, October 19) from 9 a. m. to 11 a. m. Anyone who wants to file a claim for benefits, get information, or transact other business with the Social Security Administration may contact him at this time.

Persons who are unable to meet with him are encouraged to call the office in San Angelo. Local residents may call toll free by dialing "Operator" and asking for "Enterprise 2058".

A Bishop Looks at Life

ANOTHER HEART

By Everett H. Jones, Retired Bishop of the Episcopal Church

One of the joys of turning regularly to the wisdom of the Bible is that a verse, or even a few words, will suddenly bring a flood of light on one's personal life or the condition of the world.

I had this experience recently as I read in the Old Testament what happened when Samuel anointed Saul to be king of Israel. The words that leaped from the page and lodged in my mind were these: "God gave him another heart." (1 Samuel 10:9)

"Heart" in the Bible means a man's inner being, his outlook on life, his purpose and commitment. For example, the Psalmist prays: "Create in me a clean heart, O God; and renew a right spirit within me." (Psalm 41:10)

Also, in the Bible it is only God who can reach into this inner recess of a man's being to do what needs to be done. A man can cleanse his outer body but only God can cleanse the heart.

Furthermore, the condition of the heart is not fixed or final. It is capable of change and renewal. God can give man "another heart" again and again—and He is ever ready to do so.

Is there a better way to describe the need of our time than to say we need "another heart"? This would bring a new moral climate into the world, a new understanding between races and classes and nations, a new resolve to create a world of brotherhood and peace.

As we see tensions develop in a family, between man and wife or between parents and children, the need beyond all the technical jargon of psychiatry and sociology is for the family as a whole to have "another heart."

When we find a young person in bitter revolt against the world around him, or in total confusion as to who he is and where he is going, the great need is to surround him with enough love and guidance so that he will seek "another heart."

When you and I ask, in this troubled era, what one solitary person can do to make a difference, God's answer may be: "You can refuse to let your heart beat in echo to the discord around you. You can let Me give you a 'spiritual transplant'—a different approach to every situation you face. You can have another heart."

how to Save money on your heating bill

Start with good insulation. The cost of heating a fully insulated home can be as much as 55 per cent less than the cost of heating an uninsulated home. Proper insulation requires less heating energy and reduces the size of the system required to heat your home. It also increases the useful life of the heating system because it operates less of the time.

HERE'S WHAT YOU CAN DO TO SAVE MONEY ON YOUR HEATING BILL:

- Check the insulation in your attic floor. It should be the equivalent of six inches of good thermal insulation. If it's settled, add more.
- Check and replace worn or frayed weather stripping around doors and window frames.
- If cracks or leaks have developed under the eaves or around windows and doors, seal them with caulking compound.
- Close the fireplace damper when not in use. For economy, use your fireplace sparingly, because house heat goes up the chimney even if a fire is burning in the fireplace.
- Keep doors and windows closed whenever possible.
- Storm windows and storm doors keep heat in, as do double layered thermal glass window panes.
- Turn off thermostats and close doors in unused rooms. Turn down your thermostat when you leave the house unoccupied overnight.

- Clean or replace furnace filters regularly and keep air ducts clean.

WHEN YOU BUY

When installing a new heating system, select the size that adequately heats your house. A system that's too small or too large will be uneconomical. If yours is a forced air system, well insulated air supply and cold air return ducts (especially those on outside walls or under floors) will conserve heat.

ANOTHER HIGHLIGHT of the program at Lyndon B. Johnson State Park, was the presentation to Mrs. Johnson of an oil painting by Mrs. Willard Dyer of Round Rock, depicting the first roadside park in the State—and in the United States. It is still being enjoyed today by travelers on State Highway 71 in Fayette County. The painting of the park, which was built in 1930, was commissioned as a special gift for Mrs. Johnson by the Texas Good Roads Association. Dewitt C. Greer, chairman of the Texas Highway Commission, made the presentation and expressed the Commission's gratitude to Mrs. Johnson for her continuing interest in the highway beautification program.

CULLEN LUTTRELL, recipient of the Lady Bird Johnson Award received a handsome plaque which cited him for "his contribution to the beauty of Texas highways through landscaping, preservation of wild flowers, and maintenance of rest areas." He also received Mrs. Johnson's personal check for $1,000.

ed from Europe, and in comparison how much more she enjoyed traveling in Texas with her family where they have the opportunity to stop at roadside parks... just meeting the ordinary people you would never have the opportunity to do so otherwise... sharing a few moments, watching your children play together... and just generally loving each other and enjoying the beauty of nature". No sound was heard for a few moments as everyone pondered on the remarks and felt the sincerity of this beautiful young woman.

Around 11:30 the crowd moved to the spacious auditorium—with comfortable seats and air conditioning—where a slide show of the five maintenance men at work, along with comments on their philosophy of roadside beautification was enjoyed. The audience seemed completely at ease as the words "The 1972 Lady Bird Johnson Award For Highway Beautification" flashed on the screen, but lo, no sound! For several minutes the theatre was quiet, then the booming voice of former president Johnson thundered, "Liz, where's your audio?"

Liz Carpenter, the most dynamic person one could ever hope to meet, replied... "this has got to be the first time I was ever caught speechless!" After watching her in action all morning, it was easy to go along with that statement, so the entire audience roared with laughter, as Liz got busy and the Parks men had the audio going in short order.

As soon as the slide show of about 15 minutes was complete, the finalists along with Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, Godfrey and other important visitors were seated on the stage. The finalists, Melvin Bayless of LaGrange; Milton C. Campbell of Ralls; Rinaldo Rivera of Falfurrias; Harold Smith of Rusk and of course, Cullen, were visibly excited as they sat there and listened to the short speech by Godfrey. Godfrey complimented the men, and those who work under them, on their efforts and work.

With hand-lettered certificates presented to Smith, Rivera and Campbell by Mrs. Johnson, the excitement mounted on our row, as only Cullen and Bayless remained. When Mrs. Johnson called out the name of Bayless as runner-up, the big grin popped out on Cullen's face (after he recovered from shock) and as he realized he was first-place WINNER!

Mrs. Johnson after making the presentation to Luttrell then stepped aside and said, "there's a man in my life who always has the last word"... and Lyndon Johnson received a standing round of applause as he stepped to the speaker's stand. He said he isn't in the speech-making business these days, and "...there are lots of folks who probably feel that I have already made too many speeches".

In a very relaxed, jovial manner, he touched on many things including a remark about the future president of United States, saying that "...regardless of who is elected, Republican or Democrat, he has my whole-hearted support in the carrying out of this awesome responsibility".

In a lighter vein he told of the old black lady in Alabama who was being interviewed on her 93rd birthday and when asked what she contributed her long life to, she replied, "...when I walk, I walk slowly, when I sit, I sit loosely... when I feel a worry coming on, I go to sleep". Mr. Johnson said this is his philosophy now, although he admitted the sleep 'bit' was the hardest.

Mr. Johnson announced that the maintenance foreman in the vicinity of the Lyndon B. Johnson State Park is not eligible for the award, so he said he was making his own award... "the LBJ Maximilian Daisy Award to Rufus Jones, the maintenance foreman in this area". The award was a $500 check and a Texas-sized Stetson hat. In making the presentation to Jones, Mr. Johnson said Jones had suffered a heart attack in the past year and "his attack and mine were probably brought on by having wives who made us plant too many wildflower seeds!"

Following his gift to Jones, two more hats were presented to members of the Fredericksburg Standard newspaper, along with wildflower-printed scarves, and finally a gift to Godfrey. As Mr. Johnson presented the gift to Godfrey, he said, "I took a small part of my pension check and bought this little gift for you".

Everyone seemed to enjoy the ceremonies and appeared reluctant to leave the relaxed atmosphere that prevailed throughout the award presentation. However, Mrs. Johnson announced that lunch was being served and lines were formed for the serving of the delicious meal.

Guests had been treated earlier in the morning to bite sized bits of exotic barbecued Auodad sheep, along with a cold drink if desired. The main luncheon consisted of barbecue beef and chicken, cabbage slaw, potato salad, pinto beans, hot pumpernickel and white bread, spread lavishly with creamed country butter. Dessert consisted of homemade peach ice cream and various delicious cookies.

Each table seated about 8 to 10 persons and the tables were covered with yellow tablecloths and baskets of wildflowers. The tables were marked "Lady Bird Johnson table"

.. "Lyndon B. Johnson table" etc., honoring various ones of the distinguished visitors present. The Luttrells were seated at Mrs. Johnson's table along with Congressman John Pickle and his wife.

Just prior to eating, former President Johnson announced that it was Congressman Pickle's birthday, and everyone was asked to sing "happy birthday", (can't say much for the singing!), but Pickle seemed pleased and he was later presented with a birthday cake with one candle to honor his birthday.

Heading the selection committee for the award was Professor E. Urbanovsky, chairman of the Department of Park Administration, Horticulture and Entomology at Texas Tech. Others selecting the winners included Roy White, architect of Austin; Ed Harte, publisher of the Corpus Christi Caller-Times and Glenn Biggs of the First National Bank of San Antonio. Many representatives of the Texas Highway Department were on hand for the ceremonies and to attend the great luncheon.

We were seated at the table with Professor Urbanovsky who told us that the amount of rainfall was considered as a factor in making the selection for first place. The selection committee took into consideration that the average rainfall is much lower in this region of Texas as compared to that of East Texas and the Coastal region, consequently growing flowers, trees and other plants is somewhat more difficult.

District Engineer J. A. Snell of San Angelo, complimented Luttrell and his men highly on their efforts commenting that Luttrell has "diligently" devoted 30 years to the department and has spent much time establishing native plants in the rest areas. As he said, "scarcity of water has not dampened his spirits in his never-ending job of helping nature create beauty".

This writer has tried to present a smattering of "behind-the-scenes" features of the outstanding day for the Luttrells, hoping to preserve for them some of the memories of the very pleasant day. We feel sure the highlight of the day for them was the actual moment of the announcement of the selection of the winner... as for me personally...

It was a delight to meet the former first lady and to see how charming she is, and to observe the 36th President of our great country in an informal atmosphere. However, I was really the most impressed with Lucy Nugent, and that whiz of a lady, Liz Carpenter. Having a bit of experience as an executive secretary aeons past, I was very much aware of the tremendous job she has in keeping things running so beautifully, but always cleverly remaining in the background (so well hidden, in fact, that I have no picture of her). She even found time to stop briefly and remark to me, when she saw my name tag. "Oh, you are from the Devil's River News. How intrigued I was when I saw the name of that newspaper, I think that is the most charming name I ever heard for a newspaper, and how I would love to work for the Devil's River News". Swelled my head a bit, believe me!

GUESS WHO!

We really don't expect to fool very many of you with this weeks 'guess who'... his face is just too familiar, even if this is a picture taken from his college yearbook and given to us by one of his classmates.

Last weeks 'guess who' was Alice Kames.
