Sonora Foods Now Under New Management

One of Sonora's oldest firms changed management November 18, when Mitch Trainer began operation of Sonora Foods which has been managed and owned by Louie Trainer since November 18, 1935.

Trainer and Earl Lomax opened Piggly Wiggly in 1935 in its present location, with Lomax operating the grocery firm while Trainer served in the armed forces during World War II. Following his discharge from the service, Trainer bought the Lomax interest and continued operation of the establishment under the Piggly Wiggly trade name until two years ago. The firm name was then changed to Sonora Foods.

With the retirement of Trainer from the grocery only four other local businesses remain that have operated continuously the same number of years or more—the First National Bank, Barrow Jewelry, Style Shop and Sonora Motor Company.

Trainer, who has recently been ill, is retiring upon recommendation of his family physician. He said his plans at this time are indefinite. He and his wife, Metha, expressed appreciation to their customers who have patronized the store through the years.

Young Mitch Trainer is a 1969 graduate of Sonora High School, and a son of Mr. and Mrs. James D. Trainer. He attended college for a year and has been employed in the grocery business in Fort Worth for the past two years. He and his wife, Jeannie Sue, have recently returned to make their home here.

The grocery will be in the same location at 105 Main Street, and the store will now be known as Mitch's Sonora Foods.

350 Attend Local Hunting Party At 4-H Center

Three hundred fifty-two registered guests attended the 12th annual hunting party sponsored by the Edwards Plateau Game and Wildlife Association, the Lions Club and the Chamber of Commerce. Guests were served a meal of wild game, supplemented with goat barbecue.

Local merchants and the three sponsoring organizations provided door prizes valued at $735.50. A program on white-tail deer hunting was given by Bob Ramsey, a former wildlife biologist. Ramsey now ranches near Mountain Home.

Edwards Plateau president, Bill Whitehead, expressed appreciation to all persons who helped to make the party a success; to the various committees for their assistance, and to those who donated the game for the meal, as well as the goat for the barbecue.

Door prizes were awarded as follows: (Cont'd. to page 7....)

CLEVER DECORATIONS ARE ALWAYS enjoyed by those attending the annual hunting party and this year's decorations were designed by Mrs. Bill Whitehead, assisted by Bill Stewart, who did the "leg running", according to Tina.

One of the largest crowds ever attended the party, which was held after the season opened in order that more hunters could enjoy the hospitality.

Screwworms Still Problem

Screwworm infestations continue to be a serious problem over much of the state, and livestock owners are urged to inspect and treat all animal wounds, says County Extension Agent D. C. Langford.

Although colder temperatures are beginning to slow down screwworm activities in the Panhandle and certain other areas of the state, many sections of the state have not yet recorded sufficient prolonged cold to hamper the troublesome livestock pest, he adds.

A short cold snap will cause the flies to become inactive for a time, but as the temperatures rise the flies again become a problem. Several successive days and nights of sub-freezing or near freezing temperatures are necessary to deal a crippling blow to screwworm flies, the agent says.

Livestock owners therefore will need to continue their vigilance against new screwworm outbreaks. "It's still important to collect samples of all cases and send them to the Mission Screwworm Eradication Laboratory for identification." Locations of all known cases are needed for the future planning and treatment by eradication program officials. "They need a permanent record of hard-hit counties and areas," emphasizes Langford.

The current screwworm outbreak began reaching epidemic proportions in the spring and has continued through the summer and fall. Texas recorded 1,832 cases during the week ending November 11. At mid-November, total screwworm confirmations in the southwestern states reached the 94,173 mark, an all-time record. Texas had 89,587 cases by that date, with only 3,186 non-screwworm samples being processed at the Mission Lab this year.

Cumulative totals for 1972 on November 15 showed Arizona with 2,268 cases; New Mexico, 1,253; Oklahoma, 1,035; California, 18; Arkansas, 6; Kansas, 3; Florida, 2 and Louisiana, 1.

By becoming a member of the Texas Nursing Home Association the Lillian M. Hudspeth Nursing Home has agreed to abide by the TNHA Code of Ethics and to join with the state organization in its efforts to raise nursing home standards and to improve patient care in Texas.

TNHA is the professional association of licensed nursing and custodial care homes in Texas. Its membership is made up of proprietary and non-proprietary homes. All members of TNHA are also affiliated with the American Nursing Home Association.

The areas of activities in which TNHA engages include information, education, publications, representation, public relations, and many others. TNHA's prime objective is to work for the professionalism of nursing home personnel with the care of the patient as the ultimate consideration.

Byer said he will probably return here two or three times next year to check the gauges. Another employee, John Mittel, will return to fulltime ranching.

The Byer family moved here from Riesel, and Mrs. Byer, Ann, has been working in the sheriff's office. The Byers and their children, Lee Ann and Keith, will make their home in Riesel after the first of the year.

GRASSROOTS OPINIONS

NORTH VERNON, IND., SUN: Government could be a far worse headache than it is for those operating it. Suppose Congress passed a tax bill that included a money-back-if-not-satisfied guarantee.

WELLINGTON, OHIO, ENTERPRISE: Don't worry about trying to 'keep up with the Joneses'--just sit tight and in a few years you will meet them coming back.

MARYSVILLE, CALIF., APPEAL-DEMOCRAT: Speaking of spending abroad, Congress made 1971 a record year for foreign travel. Members of both houses and staff spent $1,114,386 in public funds on trips abroad, according to a Congressional Quarterly study of congressional travel, up from $825,118 the previous year. More than half the membership of Congress--221 representatives and 53 senators--at sometime during the year was abroad on official business. Neither budget deficits, business at home nor an approaching election year, it appears, can stay a dedicated legislator from his self-appointed foreign jaunts.

WEST POINT, MISS., TIMES LEADER: You know, we have a feeling that the American people are about ready to cry 'enough' of this open anarchy in the streets which moves freely under the false umbrella of 'peaceful demonstrations'. You can't preach 'anti-war' by waging war. ALL patriotic citizens are anti-war! War is never an ideal solution to anything. But you can't promote world peace by running down and tearing down your home nation.

MCGREGOR, IOWA, NORTH IOWA TIMES: "Everywhere we hear that a dollar doesn't go very far these days. Well, actually it does. It goes to Vietnam, Formosa, Pakistan, South America, the Philippines and Outer Space."

BRANSON, MO., WHITE RIVER LEADER: "I would like to hear just one presidential candidate make an honest statement, maybe something like this: 'This is what I'll try to do if I am elected if congress goes along with it, the supreme court will allow it, my party endorses it, and the polls show it is what most of the people want.'"

CHASKA, MINN., HERALD: "Did you notice a story in a recent issue of the daily newspapers? It was the young man, I forget exactly where, that a few months ago had asked a judge to put him in jail so he could kick the drug habit. Now he's on record of asking the same judge to let him out of jail because drugs are easier to get and more plentiful inside the lockup than out. So what's the answer? I for one sure don't know, but I do believe as long as there's a lot of money being made in drugs the traffic will never be stopped. If somehow the profits can be taken from drugs, the problem will just go away in a short time."

BOGALUSA, LA., NEWS: "Labor shortages in some sectors of the Soviet economy have some forecasters predicting a serious labor shortage by the year 2000 and the possibility that many will be called out of retirement to take up the slack. That's one possible job boom that isn't likely to attract many migrant laborers."

An aroused Sonora Broncos charged the Ozona Lions here Friday night and left them weak and disillusioned on the short end of a 26-7 defeat. The game was a game of rugged line play and vicious tackling and blocking which enabled George Wright and Bobby Scott to break away on four beautiful touchdowns and put Sonora in a three-way tie with Menard and Ozona for second place in District 6-A.

Although not indicating the end of the drought, a general rain of about an inch in Sutton County Sunday and Monday promised ranchmen some relief.

Sportsmen's guns soon will be booming, but hunters will go out with a more serious purpose than in many years because the meat they bring home will supplement the limited supply of beef, veal, lamb, pork and mutton available for civilians the coming year.

A Bishop Looks at Life

A Message To Youth

By Everett H. Jones,
Retired Bishop of the Episcopal Church

Two weeks ago in this column I wrote about the need for those over thirty to listen long and carefully to those under thirty. I tried to summarize what it seems to me the young generation is saying today.

Now I would like to summarize the message that I as a "square" of the much older generation have to say to my much younger friends:

"There was a time I was put off by your appearance, your vocabulary, your often arrogant self-assurance. I am beyond that now. I have come to see how much fineness of spirit, spiritual seeking, genuine idealism are beneath those shaggy haircuts and sloppy clothes.

"I can understand your disillusionment with the values and practices you see in the world around you. You are making, in a new way, a very old discovery, i.e. that man is a sinner and that all human institutions are full of imperfections.

"In getting your message across to my generation you often handicap yourselves by forgetting that you, too, are fallible and that there are limits to your experience, your knowledge and your wisdom.

"I think you are especially wrong in thinking that the world is so new and different that you have little or nothing to learn from the generations before you. A great philosopher once said, 'He who does not learn from history is doomed to repeat the mistakes of the past.' It may be that we need some new interpretations of old moral principles and standards, but our new version will be infinitely better if it combines the best insights of both the past and the present.

"I can understand your desire at times to 'drop out' of the confusing world around you, but we so much need your divine discontent, your honesty and courage. Please keep looking for those places in which you can make your creative contribution!"

I like what John D. Rockefeller 3rd recently said, as a spokesman for my generation: "A unique opportunity is before us to bring together our age and experience and money and organization with the energy and idealism and social consciousness of the young. Working together, almost anything is possible.... There is a VISTA slogan which captures this spirit: 'If you're not part of the solution, you're part of the problem.'"

THE DEVIL'S RIVER PHILOSOPHER SEZ....

He Thinks He Has Discovered A Way To Get The Whole Country Out Of Debt

Editor's note: The Dry Devil's Philosopher on his bitterweed ranch on Dry Devil's River gets into international finance and maybe over his head this week. Dear editor:

Now that the election is over by a landslide (the day after it was over an intellectual-type neighbor of mine went into town and told his barber "Give me a haircut quick that'll make me look like a Republican") we can get down to normal discussions, and I got interested in an article I read on the celebrated grain deal with Russia, which I can discuss objectively as I don't grow any grain. I lose money on higeria. According to it, while it's true the Russians, caught without enough grain to feed themselves, bought one billion dollars worth from us, they borrowed half the purchase price, 500 million dollars, from us to buy it with. At the same time, seeing as how they still owed us two billion dollars for material we let them have during World War II, they agreed to settle that debt, I guess to keep their credit rating up, and the terms we agreed on were seven cents on the dollar, to be paid back before the year, 2,000.

I have been thinking this over, sort of letting it sink in, and have come to two conclusions: (1) American farmers unquestionably can out-produce Russian farmers and (2) Russian financiers unquestionably can out-think American financiers.

I'll tell you, if I could just locate a banker that operates on the international level there's no telling how far I could expand my operations. If he'd lend me say $50,000 and then 25 years later come around, clear his throat, and say the note really ought to be settled and how about paying it off at seven cents on the dollar some time in the next 25 years, and in order not to offend me how about another loan of $10,000 to buy groceries with, I'd say that's the banker I've been looking for all my life.

You know, as I understand it, practically every unit of government in this country and every other one on earth is in debt, along with millions of private citizens, and I was just thinking, why don't we all settle for seven cents on the dollar and get everybody out of debt and back on his feet?

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

THIS GROUP OF BROWNIES as well as a group of Girl Scouts visited patients at Hudspeth Nursing Home last week to sing holiday songs for the entertainment of residents of the home. Mrs. Patrick Reardon, neighborhood chairman, is shown here with the girls. The Girl Scouts and Brownies have expressed appreciation to the Lions for a recent donation of $300 to help cover operating expenses and to purchase camping equipment. This donation is above the $600 contribution from the Lions to El Camino Girl Scout Council that is made annually.

Permit Necessary Placing Outdoor Advertising Signs

The Texas Highway Beautification Act which controls all outdoor advertising signs, except on-premise signs which advertise any activity conducted on the property upon which it is located, became effective June 29, 1972.

This Act was passed by the Second Called Session of the Sixty-Second Legislature last spring and affects only Interstate and Federal Aid Primary Highways. The act requires that no person may erect or maintain a sign within 660 feet of an Interstate or federal-aid primary highway in Texas without a license to engage in outdoor advertising.

In addition to the license, the sign owner must have a permit for each sign he has now or which he plans to erect.

Generally speaking, the sign industry is aware of the provisions and contents of this Act. It is felt that this is not the case for the independent businessman who does not advertise through a major sign company. All outdoor advertising firms, businesses, and individuals who erect and maintain off-premise advertising signs within 660 feet of a controlled highway are required to conform with provisions of this Act.

Prior to the approval of a permit application and the issuance of a permit plate and decal it is necessary that an outdoor advertising license be obtained from the Right of Way Division, P.O. Box 5075, Austin, Texas 78763. The outdoor advertising license cost is $25, and the license application must be accompanied by a bond in the amount of $2500 for each county in which a sign is to be located with a maximum bond of $10,000 for firms with signs in more than three counties.

The license is valid for an indefinite period of time and does not need to be renewed. Anyone planning to put up a new sign on the controlled highways should check with the district office (if the sign is to be put up in this area) at San Angelo, with J. A. Snell, P. O. Box 1841.

Coffee Break

By Shirley Hill

James D. Gardner of the Meridian Tribune had an interesting column last week on hunting entitled "Instructions You Must Have For Your Hunting Trip". Thought some of you hunters and locker plant operators might like to know these interesting tips.

1. First you need a fast car so you can beat the other hunters to the best spots. That will give you a chance of being killed before you get out in the woods. It saves some other hunter some ammo and the mess

Snips, Quips & Lifts

by LOTTIE LEE BAKER

-Worry is just like a rocking chair; it gives you something to do but doesn't get you anywhere.

-Money still talks, but you have to increase the volume if you want to get the message through.

-Living without faith is like driving in a fog.

"I know we're traveling faster than sound", the passenger said, "because the stewardess slapped me before I got a word out of my mouth."

-Success is a Journey. Not a Destination.

-Most folks want everybody regulated except themselves.

-There are some things in life that man keeps groping for—faith and hope and the light switch by the door.

-Just about the time a woman thinks her work is done, she becomes a grandmother.

-There is no indigestion worse than that which is caused by having to eat your own words.

-Some people grow up and still remain juvenile and delinquent.

-Bubble, bubble, toil and trouble. Took a wife, expenses double. Where is the guy who cracked the pun that two can live as cheaply as one?

-Success is the ability to get along with some people, and ahead of others.

-A budget is a system in which you worry before instead of after you spend it.

SUBURBANITE: A man who hires someone to mow his lawn so he can go and play golf for exercise.

-Don't speak of electricity in your hair. It may call attention to the fact that it is connected with a dry cell.

-Men are like steel; when they lose their temper they lose their worth.

8. On the way home, stop at a tavern, so you can tell the other liars how you killed it. And be sure to stretch your kill into at least a mile.

9. Be sure to stay at the tavern until you are sure the locker plant you want to hang your deer in has been closed down for the night and the operator is sound asleep. Call him now and tell him to get right down, as you must get your deer into

CAN WE WORK TOGETHER?

In our town a factory employs most of us. But we live under the pall of smoky chemical fumes.

Both labor and management attend our church—and they are concerned about pollution and our environment. They know it is a human dilemma. We must have jobs; we must have the products we make. And taxes from the factories support schools, clinics and public works. These are realities.

But we cannot continue destroying in the process of creating. It is God's world and we are the caretakers. That's also a reality.

As Christians we will seek the answer under God in His Church. We will work together and build a better world. Will you be in church next Sunday?

GUESS WHO?

This weeks 'guess who' has been around for several years, or perhaps we should say has been 'tinkering around' several places around town. Last weeks 'guess who' were twins Ora (Mrs. Bobby Granger) and Carrie (Crites).

THE PILOT OF THIS PLANE, BILL STOELZLE of Albuquerque, New Mexico, completed a smooth belly landing as he was forced to land here Sunday about 6:30 p.m. at the local airport after both engines failed. Stoelzle was flying two couples back from Austin to Las Cruces, New Mexico, when the plane began to lose power out of junction. No one was injured in the landing. Both couples left from San Angelo in a rented car for Las Cruces, while the pilot remained here to assist FAA in the investigation. Cause of the engine failure will probably not be determined until the engines can be examined more thoroughly.

Walking Through Glass

Leaving her dentist's office, Martha headed for the lobby of the building. But as she reached the exit, she mistook a glass panel for the door and pushed right through it.

Cut and bruised, Martha decided to seek damages from the owner of the building.

"The door is glass and so is the panel," she complained in a court hearing. "It is all very confusing."

But the building owner saw no good reason for her confusion. He pointed out that the door had a metal frame, a hydraulic mechanism, and a handle—all plainly visible. Result: Martha's claim was turned down. As one judge put it:

"The injury was due to her own lack of care. She was the author of her own misfortune."

The growing use of glass in homes and buildings has led to numerous lawsuits in which someone inadvertently "walked through glass." In homes alone, such accidents happen about 40,000 times a year.

How alert does the law expect you to be in discerning danger? One key factor, as in the case above, is the presence of visible features that should put a reasonably careful person on guard.

Another factor is your familiarity with the premises. A woman shopper barged into the glass panel beside the door at her neighborhood supermarket. But a court rejected her damage claim largely on the ground that she had been using the same door for years without any difficulty.

However, in other circumstances, inattention may well be excused. Consider this case:

An eight-year-old child, visiting at the home of some family friends, ran into a sliding glass door. But it seems that the lighting was poor, and that the door—kept spotlessly clean at all times—had no telltale fixtures to make it noticeable.

A court accordingly found no fault with the youthful victim. Ordering the home owner to pay damages, the court said he could easily have called attention to the hazard with a strategic strip of colored tape.

TERLINGUA CHILI COOKOFF INSPIRES TV COMMERCIAL

The famous Terlingua chili cookoff, held annually in the big bend area of Southwest Texas, has inspired the J. Walter Thompson Company, Ford's advertising agency, to create a 60 second commercial based on the cookoff itself. The lead character is an old prospector, "Gramps", who, because he has a secret ingreredient prepares his chili out on the prairie and almost misses the cookoff. No need to worry—Miss Ford Country, the heroine, gets him to the cookoff in time by taking a shortcut over some rough, bumpy roads. The commercial was produced for Texas Ford Dealers.

Slob Hunter Not Needed

Anyone who has spent time in the outdoors knows what a "slob" hunter is. The slob hunter's handiwork is everywhere.

The slob hunter is the fellow who gives the real sportsman a bad image. He used rural mailboxes for target practice. He kills more than his limit and fabricates justifications for his hunting buddies.

After all, he says, there are other hunters somewhere who didn't get their limit.

He doesn't limit his killing to game. He shoots everything that moves, although inanimate objects are by no means safe. He is out to do some shooting, and he finds targets everywhere.

Being the superficial type, the slob hunter cares little for the outdoors. That's why he leaves such a mess behind.

Most slob hunters know enough to make a fire, but putting it out is usually too much trouble.

If a slob hunter has children, he does his best to pass his sloppy traits on to the next generation. He gives the kids .22s or BB guns in hunting camp and urges them to go out bird hunting. It doesn't matter that all birds except the English Sparrows, European Starlings and pigeons are either game birds or protected by law.

The fine points of sportsmanship are lost on the slob hunter. He is out to kill game. Hunting for it is done with as little exertion as possible.

The sport of hunting can do without the slob hunter.

SOCIAL SECURITY BENEFITS STUDENTS

One out of every 14 college students in the United States receives social security benefits, according to J.M. Talbot, social security manager. These benefits are paid to full-time unmarried students between 18 and 22 who are children of retired or disabled parents receiving social security benefits, as well as those surviving a parent who worked under social security enough to be insured under the program, he explained.

Although the students may continue receiving benefits throughout a summer of non-attendance between semesters, Talbot added, the benefits end if the student's school attendance drops below full-time during the college year.

A college or university load of at least 12 semester hours is considered full-time, Talbot said. Attendance at a business, technical, or high school of at least 20 hours weekly is also considered to be full-time, he added.

All social security student beneficiaries must notify social security if their school attendance is reduced.

CITY EMPLOYEES WERE BUSY MONDAY adding a festive air to the downtown area as they placed Christmas decorations on the Main street. Merchants have been busy stocking shelves with many things to please the Christmas shopper. Profit sharing coupons are being given by several businessmen, and the first drawing will be held Saturday at 4 p.m. Two-$75 prizes in gift certificates from Barrow Jewelry, the Ratliff Store, First National Bank, Neville's Dept. Store, Home Hardware, Westerman and G. C. Morrison will be awarded.

VIRUSES GIVE CLUES TO HUMAN CANCER

How do viruses cause cancer? One way to find out would be to study cancer viruses that have certain properties under some conditions but not under others. Then by altering the conditions the various properties could be isolated and analyzed.

At The Salk Institute, in San Diego, researchers are doing just that. They are studying temperature-sensitive viruses, which make the cells they have infected behave like cancer cells about 89 degrees but not at 102 degrees. The work is being done with cancer viruses that infect rodents, not humans.

A virus is in some ways an incomplete organism—it has inside of it the necessary information for reproducing itself, but it does not have the chemical machinery for using that information. It has genes, and an outside protein coat, but little else.

Cells, on the other hand, have the additional machinery as well as genes, which is why they can reproduce by themselves. A virus reproduces by using a cell—it breaks into the cell, it uses the machinery to reproduce, and then the new viruses break out, killing the cell.

When a cancer virus infects certain cells, however, something different happens: it merely stays inside, and its genes alter the workings of the cell. In the whole animal, this results in cancer. In the slightly different conditions of a laboratory dish it results in a state scientists prefer to call "transformed."

Attempts are continuing to determine the precise mechanism of action of the virus in causing malignant transformation. It is hoped that such experiments will cast light on the origins of human cancer.

IT'S TOO COMMON

In most of the United States, the poinsettia is a prized Christmas flower. In Hawaii, however, it grows so profusely that it is considered too common for such an important holiday. Potted orchids, anthurium or the orange-and-blue flower called "bird of paradise" are Hawaiian holiday favorites.

Department Of Public Safety Cites Lighting, Reflector, Trailer Brake Law

The Texas Department of Public Safety has released information on trailer brake requirements and lighting and reflector requirements on trailers for the benefit of those persons who use trailers.

TRAILER BRAKE REQUIREMENTS

Pursuant to amendments of Senate Bill #21, Fourth Special Session, 62nd Texas Legislature:

1. Trailers, semitrailers, and pole trailers with a gross weight of 4,500 pounds or less are exempt from brake requirements.

2. Trailers, semitrailers, and pole trailers with a gross weight in excess of 4,500 pounds and which do not exceed 15,000 pounds and operated at speeds of 30 miles per hour or less are not required to be equipped with brakes.

3. Trailers, semitrailers and pole trailers with a gross weight in excess of 4,500 pounds and which do not exceed 15,000 pounds and operated at speeds in excess of 30 miles per hour must have brakes acting on both wheels of the rear axle.

4. Every motor vehicle, trailer, semitrailer, pole trailer, and combination of such vehicles equipped with brakes shall have the braking system so arranged that one control device can be used to operate all service brakes. This does not prohibit the use of additional control devices to operate brakes on towed vehicles.

5. Surge or inertia brake systems may be used on trailers and semitrailers with a gross weight of 15,000 pounds or less to satisfy the requirements in paragraph 4.

6. Under all conditions, the combination of vehicles must be capable of complying with the performance requirements contained in subsection (k) of the Act. (Generally, if the trailer in the combination is 3,000 pounds or less, the combination must be able to stop within 40 feet when traveling 20 miles per hour; if the trailer in the combination is in excess of 3,000 pounds, the combination must be able to stop within 50 feet when traveling 20 miles per hour.)

The following chart, prepared by the Texas Department of Public Safety gives daytime and nighttime lighting and reflector requirements on trailers:
