Neal will replace Billy Gosney who was principal of the Junior High for a number of years until recent board action rejected the contracts of both Gosney and his wife, Mary Lynn. The contract conflict was, according to board members, a conflict of interest following the purchase of a local business by the Gosneys.

The school board has retained the services of an attorney for legal counsel following a recent request from a local attorney on behalf of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Gosney, who have requested a hearing on the matter of their contract rejection. The hearing has been scheduled for 4 p. m. on Monday, June 17.

At an earlier meeting of the board, presentation of plans were presented regarding the renovation and remodeling of the high school auditorium. These plans were tabled until further study could be made.

Bids on a number of used typewriters, belonging to the school and being offered for sale, were rejected and board members placed a minimum price of $25 on each machine.

PERSONNEL Among other personnel employed by the board and subject to assignment, will be Mr. Donald Patton. Patton, who is from Nueces Canyon, has been employed as assistant to head coach, Bill Bundy. Mr. Patton was employed to teach in the elementary school. Others who will teach at the elementary level are Mrs. Bill Tittle, Mrs. Jan Glasscock, Mrs. Linda Wallace and Mr. and Mrs. Rene Gallardo, who will teach bilingual education.

David Patton, junior high school teacher, was hired as textbook custodian, in addition to his regular duties.

Three teachers who were employed at an earlier meeting, Wayne Gerner, Karla Malone and Betty Jo Barrett, have withdrawn their applications for positions.

J. T. Hill was approved as a drivers education instructor to assist Mr. Bill Mayfield in the driving phase of the course. Pending the investigation of Superintendent Ken McAllister, approval of air conditioning for the offices of all principals, will be made by board president, Mrs. Dorothy Pope. Information on bids revealed that West Texas Utilities was low bidder.

CAFETERIA NEWS Trustees approved the USDA application for commodities for cafeteria use and the purchase of a mixer and warming unit in the amount of $1912.60. The school lunch program will pay $1234.00 of the cost.

The accepting of bids for an electric oven was also approved and purchase will be made through the non-food lunch program. The raising of cafeteria prices for the 1974-75 school year was approved and school lunches will be as follows: Kindergarten-third grade, 45¢; fourth-fifth grades, 50¢; sixth-twelfth, 55¢; adults, 75¢, and visitors, $1.25.

GRASSROOTS OPINION

FINDLAY, OHIO, REPUBLICAN COURIER: "American housewives may occasionally get a little miffed at the prices they find in their friendly neighborhood supermarkets, but at least they don't have to waste much time on their rounds, as shoppers do in the communist countries. A Polish newspaper... (has) reported that a family in that country spends 6.5 hours a week standing in line for one thing or another. These were the average waits: To make a bank withdrawal, 45 minutes; to send a postal money order, 30 minutes; to buy a piece of meat, 40 to 45 minutes; to reach the fruit and vegetable counter, 15 minutes. The annual total for the country is 2.5 billion man hours, enough to increase Poland's gross national product by 20 percent. All that waiting would not be tolerated in America, where people are so impatient they honk at the car ahead of them the moment the traffic light turns green. With the exception of the long waits at the gas pump, that is."

HEPPNER, ORE., GAZETTE-TIMES: "You heard about the shoot-from-the-hip ecology nut who devised this bumper sticker for his VW: 'Eat a beaver, save a tree.'"

GREENSBURG, KANSAS, KIOWA COUNTY SIGNAL: "Apparently the Russians aren't going to sell our wheat back to us at a huge profit. At least that's the latest report out that we have read. That would be a pretty good trick to sell us back wheat that they haven't even touched yet and make about $4 per bushel to boot. And we Americans are supposed to be such sharp wheelers and dealers. The USA bought Alaska from Russia for less than two cents an acre and I suppose they want to get even."

MONTROSE, CALIF., LEDGER: "Some congressmen suggest that the way to whip the gasoline shortage is to ride bicycles. Imagine turning serious matters such as war and economics over to people like that! Use of bicycles should be encouraged because it's great exercise, and would take pressure off the streets. Doubtless, it would help the fuel problem a little, but as a solution, it's ridiculous. The way to whip the fuel shortage is to develop more fuel, in Alaska or Australia or wherever... And let the congressmen go off peddling their bikes instead of helping to complicate the problem..."

TRENTON, GA., DADE COUNTY SENTINEL: "Try this... next time you read in the paper about 'the government gave'..."

"the government lent... 'the government supplied...' just substitute the words 'taxpayers' of the United States for the word 'government'.

MARION WISC., ADVERTISER: "Many people yell about our president and ALL politicians... their morals are bad... and then laugh about people who take off their clothes in public... It sure makes a person wonder!"

News Letter

By O. C. Fisher

While the fuel supply outlook is vastly improved, with mid-East imports now back to normal, we are still not out of the woods. Increased demand along with reduced imports from oil in Venezuela, Canada and oil producing countries, will keep the shortage squeeze on.

The only way to cope with this problem is to increase domestic production. The Alaska pipeline, which will help, will not be completed for at least two or three years. About $2 billion in new oil shore leases have been approved recently. Now wildcat drilling has been revived due to increased price of crude oil and gas. Deregulation of gas prices at the wellhead would be very helpful, but that is proving difficult to come by.

Pending actions in Congress can be helpful or harmful. Punitive taxes on the oil industry can discourage exploration. Removal of depletion allowance, if approved, will hurt. Rollback of oil prices, tentatively rejected in the House, would be a setback for producers.

In opposing these various measures which would reduce or destroy incentives for more drilling we from the 7 or 8 oil producing states are often voted. Some members would seem to prefer an issue rather than a solution. High profits by the oil companies, due largely to foreign investments, are played up by opponents to make the entire industry a whipping boy to placate constituents, when more than 80% of new discoveries is made by high risk efforts by the small companies and the independents.

One thing is certain: high prices at filling stations will remain high unless more domestic oil is produced. And without adequate profit incentives there is little hope that additional oil and gas will be discovered. Actions in Congress can make the difference.

A Bishop Looks at Life

By Everett H. Jones, Retired Bishop of the Episcopal Church

ATTRACTIVE GOODNESS
It is not only our business as Christians to follow high moral standards but to do so in such a way that we make goodness attractive. Through the centuries people have been won to Christ by seeing his winsome spirit embodied in some person, or persons, around them. They have been led to say, "I want to share the secret that makes these people the way they are." We who represent the church in this generation must have failed badly in this respect or there would not be so many people, especially young people who are "turned off" by religion as they see it in practice.

These thoughts have led me to think about the people I know whose goodness is attractive. Who are they and what are they like?

They are people who would protest if you even called them Good. They have a basic humility which keeps them aware of how much more they might be, how much better they want to be.

They are people who think out rather than in. They avoid talking about themselves and their problems. They are looking for chances to help, to listen, to be involved in constructive ways. They are genuinely interested in people, all people and all their needs.

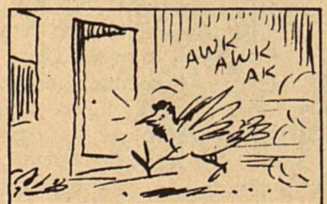

They are more interested in making others happy than in trying to reform them. They do not tell people what they should and should not do. They try to show them what it means to be a good friend.

They have a sense of humor and laugh often, frequently at themselves. They can laugh because they do not take themselves too seriously and also because they believe God is alive and at work.

They are reluctant to criticize or condemn other persons. This is because they do not know all of the sufferings and temptations faced by other persons.

They are quick, on the other hand, to express praise and appreciation. They tend to see the positive rather than the negative, to be hopeful rather than defeatist.

They do not flaunt their religious faith but they are ready and willing to bear their witness at every appropriate time.

Viewpoint

BY T. DRISKELL

Travel, they say, broadens one, and if it is in the Southeastern U.S., and one is fed by old friends, they are so right. I went to Atlanta to see an old friend who was on the critical list, with such expectancy that he would will me his antique clocks that his recovery left some sorting out of emotions needed.

While in the area a generous course in climatology was administered. I always thought Houston and San Antonio were hot, but after two days in Savannah I almost required my long drawers when I got back to Houston. Hot and sticky as it was, however it was one of the nicest trips I ever took, and reaffirmed that a genuine interest in antiques still exists. I visited six old homes which are to be sold near Atlanta, Savannah, and Charleston, fabulous old buildings spanning the years from 1790 to 1850. An expert, as you know, is a complete idiot more than five miles from home, and in that light I possibly qualify as knowledgeable on antique clocks so I looked at them for an Atlanta trader.

Although my purpose was clocks, I could not help but observe the architectural evolution from the serene, stately, simplicity of the late 1700's to the gingerbreadly havoc of a decorator gone berserk under the influence of the drive to outdo, or was it overdo?

The late 1700 structures were wonderful, solid oak flooring of boards four inches wide, so solid I could jump up and down in the middle of an upstairs room without inducing a quiver. I cannot agree about automobiles, but where buildings are concerned— they just do not build them like they used to.

A house which has been in one family's hands since 1790, who took care of their solid wood furniture and did not replace it until it was worn out is an antique fancier's dream. Two of the houses were that— a collection of American antiques to stagger the imagination, all in their place chronologically and architecturally. The moist climate is good for wood, and care and wax leave an almost dreamlike patina.

Several pieces tickled the imagination, a walnut crib with rockers and names with an occasional date leaves an aura of awe and curiosity. How many children slept therein? What happened to them? Where are they now? Certainly a fertile realm for the imagination.

Four-poster beds with canopies in such profusion that one becomes blasé about them, but the linen laundry problem was probably sufficient justification for slavery. Traveling by horse or carriage in that hot weather must have been quite a chore.

The clocks were magnificent, twenty seven of them ranging from Alsop's, Muges, Osbourne, and a Thompson fake of about 1870 or 1880 to a Big Ben Alarm of 1966. The Osbourne and the Alsop were particularly fine, perfect mahogany cases with only a little sunlight fading. Looking at fellow viewers, was even more impressive, an antique dealer from Philadelphia, a man from New Haven, Connecticut; a lady from Virginia Beach, and an auction firm representative from San Francisco. I estimated that both the Osbourne and the Alsop would fall in the $4500 to $6000 class with the Thompson fake a question mark. Looking over the lady viewers with diamonds resembling obscene automobile headlights (without dimmer switches) raised a doubt whether my estimates were high enough.

I would like to go to some of these auctions. Not to buy anything, but to see how things sell. There is an ingrained hunch that my entire assets would not buy a screw that holds the door hinges, but it would be nice to watch. Curiosity is of course a factor—what will the silver service sell for? What about the Meissen fruit bowl, the percussion shotgun and so on? I think I will go and watch.

The Devil's River Philosopher Sez....

Another Desk Cleaning Results In Uncovering A Few Watergate Items

Editor's note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his bitterweed ranch on the Dry Devil's River, turns over some notes he says he has been accumulating recently.

Dear editor:

A desk, like Congress, I guess, ought to be cleaned out every once in a while. Here are some notes I cleaned out of mine:

For weeks a neighbor of mine has been demanding to know what I think about Watergate. Well, I'll tell you, I have now read a good portion of the transcripts and I am fairly convinced that President Nixon had absolutely no fore-knowledge that the Watergate burglars were going to get caught. Some politicians who have been straddling the fence for years are now finding out it was made of barbed wire. Around here we call the T.V. show "Face The Nation", "Two-Face The Nation", and "Meet The Press," "Dodge The Question." "Issues and Answers" is known as Confusing the Issues and Answers.

There's something to be said for a man who is smart enough to know he's not smart enough to be president. Probably need more of 'em.

The proof of the pudding no longer is in the eating. It's in the results of its scientific nutritional analysis and the effect it has on mice when they're fed nothing else for months.

The word Watergate will now go down in history as a new word with a lot of awful meanings and I was just thinking, what if that building in Washington had been named the Sonora building? School children for years to come would be learning that Sonora was a word standing for burglary, unlawful bugging, moral decay, defiance of the Constitution, obstruction of justice, perjury, bribery, confessions of guilt, jail sentences and no telling what all before the year is out. Historians would refer to it as the dark days of the Sonora Era.

It's awful to contemplate and just goes to show how an innocent name can be turned into a word with terrible implications. Let's change the subject.
Yours faithfully,
J. A.

STEPHENS TO TOUR EUROPE
Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Carroll Stephen and children, Shelly and Kevin, visited with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Stephen recently. The Stephen family, who reside in Cottonwood, Arizona, will visit in Missouri before departing on a 35 day tour of Europe.

This past Sunday, the club had a Scotch Foursome Tournament. Wanda Neville, Johnny Howard, Clayton Hamilton, and Kay Cotten were the first place winning team. But second place was in a four way tie and a sudden death play-off was necessary. After a hard fought battle, the team of Mitch Mitchell, Father Mike Fernandez, Dr. C. F. Browne and Mike Sipes won second place. Third place winners were John Cotten, Beverly Howard, Tommy Thorp and Lawrence Finklea. —GN—

This weekend there was another tournament in Ozona, but for the ladies this time. Poochie Olson and Sammie Espy won first place in the championship flight. Wanda Neville and Elaine Donaldson tied for second place in that same flight, while Bobbie Fawcett and Chicken McMullan won second in the first flight. —GN—

Don't forget the big Father's Day tournament this weekend. It is being held through the courtesy of Schlitz, and Luneta and Raymond Morgan are hosting the event.

HARD FIGHTING SECOND PLACE winners: Mitch Mitchell (and friend), Father Mike, Dr. Browne and Mike Sipes.

A Matter of Priorities

A well known politician, of the liberal spending persuasion, is quoted as once saying that taxes are the price we pay for civilization.

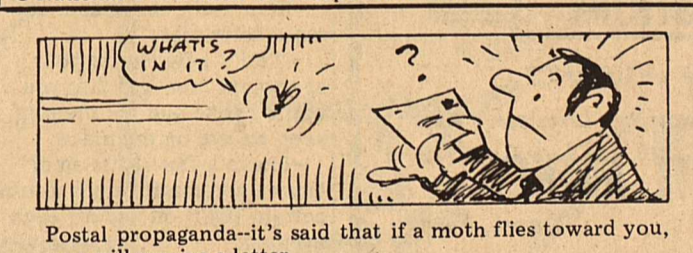

But there is coming more and more the question of just how civilized can you get, if that is a valid guideline.

According to surveys taken by the National Federation of Independent Business, taxes loom high on the list of major problems considered critical by the nation's independent business people.

The smaller enterprises, usually not able to use all the tax dodges available to the big conglomerates, are more conscious of the tax bite not only from their own standpoint, but also due to the closer relationship they have with their customers than enjoyed by the board chairman of a big international corporation.

Tax Foundation, Inc. recently came out with some most interesting figures which indicate the average American works longer to pay taxes than for any other expense of living.

According to these figures, and it should be injected that Tax Foundation, Inc. is not only an astute but conservative research operation, the average American out of an eight hour work day spends two hours

STATE CHAMPION Junior Range Judging Team members, Rick Powers, Brad Johnson, Julie Stewart and Rex Surber were coached to state honors by Dalton Merz. Others assisting in the coaching capacity were Mrs. Mickey Powers and Mrs. Penn Baggett. Rex Surber was high individual in the state contest with Rick Powers placing third in individual ratings.

BUSILY PREPARING FOR THE Sonora Wool and Mohair Show were Rex Surber, Rick Powers, Brad Johnson, Paula Friess, Julie Stewart and Pam Powers. These and other 4-H'ers prepared for some weeks in advance by grading wool under the auspices of coaches Dalton Merz, Mrs. Mickey Powers, Mrs. Penn Baggett and Corky Schwiening.

A SELECTION OF IVIES, PINE TREES, CACTI and many other varieties of indoor and outdoor plants grace the newly built green house where Mrs. Bob (Robbie) Teaff spends her idle hours. The green house was built adjacent to the house and Robbie states that she knew absolutely nothing of plants when she began the project some time ago. One of the most interesting and eye catching plants in the room is the Hoya Bella (pictured), a large vine type plant with clusters of pale pink star shaped blossoms. Robbie says she has had the plant some three years and the first time it bloomed she thought someone was playing a trick on her and had adhered a plastic flower to the vine, as the wax-like appearance of the bloom has an artificial look. What seemed to be one of Robbie's favorite plants was a large rubber plant that son Carl had won when he was a junior in high school.

YOUR LAWN

You needn't be put out about putting in a new lawn, no matter how green you are at it. As long as you follow these suggestions, you can have an exquisite carpet of gorgeous grass comparatively quickly!

First, the groundwork. Loosen the soil, level it and break up the clods. Lime and fertilize with a balanced, slow release fertilizer. Some lots don't require lime, so have your soil analyzed. Work in the fertilizer.

Next, you need good seed. For best results, select an improved variety of permanent grass. If you're buying a mixture of seed, among the best are those that contain at least 40 percent Merion Bluegrass. Its long roots and broad, dark leaves are growing in popularity all over the country. Be sure you get premium quality seed—bargain priced seed can prove to be no bargain at all!

Use a spreader to sow the seed so the seed drops evenly at the rate you require. Top dress with a light application of mulching material and roll with a light roller for a firmer seedbed, better moisture control, faster germination and an earlier lawn. Water immediately, and to stay on top of the situation, keep the topsoil moist until the seeds germinate.

If you plant your lawn properly, and give it tender loving care there'll be no reason for the grass to look greener on the other side of the fence.

Come to the Land Bank for a long-term loan at reasonable cost

...and for other advantages you might find even more important.

Extra years in which to repay and an interest rate kept as low as possible are big reasons farmers and ranchers choose Land Bank financing. But your Land Bank also recognizes that each borrower needs a loan carefully planned to meet individual needs. A better loan—and better loan service. Come to us for both.

The Consumer Alert

by John L. Hill
Attorney General

Vacation bound? There's a chance you might also be heading for trouble if you haven't taken certain precautions before leaving home.

Law enforcement experts and our Consumer Protection Division attorneys say that what is working time for most folks is working time for many burglars, pickpockets and con men. They suggest that you plan in advance to burglar-proof your home and to guard against possible thefts or consumer frauds on your trip. While the number of such occurrences is small compared to the number of vacationers, it only takes one bad experience to ruin a trip.

Here's a list of things to check before you leave:

—Stop mail, newspaper and other deliveries.

—Tell a neighbor or your apartment manager that you will be gone and ask them to keep an eye on the place.

—Leave a few lights on or buy an automatic timer to turn certain lights on and off each evening.

—Cut your lawn just before leaving and, if you will be gone a long time, have someone cut it while you're away.

—Check all windows and doors to make sure they are locked. A sliding glass patio door can be more securely fastened by wedging a stick at the top or bottom of the door.

—Check with your local police if you plan an extended vacation. Many forces offer a close patrol of homes where persons are away. If your police force does, you will need to tell them what cars or person, if any, will be making authorized visits to your house.

—Have your telephone put on vacation. Your callers will be told that the telephone has been temporarily disconnected at your request, and you can have them referred to another number if you wish.

—Avoid mentioning to casual acquaintances or strangers that you will be on vacation. Also, avoid telling your newspaper society editor of your trip until you have returned.

—Before leaving, engrave all valuables in your home and those you will be taking with you in the car with your driver's license or social security number. Some police forces will loan you an engraver to mark your belongings and will register your number with their master list. This may discourage burglars from taking your goods and can make identification of recovered stolen goods much simpler.

After taking precautions to secure your home from burglars while you are gone, don't let down your guard when you get into the car and drive away. There are a few things to remember during your trip too.

—Make sure you have your car serviced and thoroughly checked before leaving and always get out of the car to watch when having it serviced on the road. There are a few unscrupulous persons who sometimes take advantage of tourists with out of state license plates. If your car was given a clean bill of health before you left, you can better evaluate warnings about faulty fuel pumps, air filters, batteries, etc.

—Take traveler's checks or use credit cards, and keep a list of your credit card numbers in a safe spot.

—Men should avoid keeping billfolds in back pockets, or at least button the pocket if possible. To discourage pickpockets, use the inside coat pocket or a money belt.

—Women should select a purse with a secure clasp or zipper and keep a hand over the opening when carrying it.

—Don't wear unusually expensive or flashy jewelry or display large rolls of bills.

—Never boast of wealth or possessions or tell strangers your home town or address.

—Check valuables at your motel with the desk for safe-keeping.

You could be taken advantage of in more subtle ways, too. Many people spend large amounts of their money on vacation souvenirs without examining them carefully. Many souvenir items are cheaply made, over priced, and of little or no practical value. Try to set a limit on the amount of money you spend on things you're likely to throw away or put in a closet later.

If you are a consumer with a problem, contact the Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division, your county attorney or district attorney, or your local Better Business Bureau.

Gordon Sinclair, a Canadian broadcaster who has become one of America's best loved men, was presented with the "Man of the Year" award by Sarah Coventry, the internationally known direct-selling jewelry firm.

Mr. Sinclair authored "The Americans," an outspoken defense of the United States which is currently climbing to the top of the hit record charts. With remarkable generosity he donated his royalties to the American Red Cross. This action—so in keeping with his words—was especially appreciated by Sarah Coventry, a company with a strong charitable concern.

Sarah Coventry's President Rex Wood presented the "Man of the Year" trophy in Toronto saying, "We salute you for your meaningful commentary and contributions to the American people."

PENNIES From Heaven, Piggy Banks Pickle Jars And Old Socks

One of the most patriotic acts Americans of all ages can perform today is emptying the family piggy banks, according to Jack Neill, president of First National Bank.

Neill said the nation faces a penny shortage that costs taxpayers millions because people are withholding some 30 billion pennies from circulation.

This means that nearly half of the 62 billion pennies the U.S. Mint has produced in the last 15 years are in hiding, Neill said. The mint is still producing one-cent coins at a rate of 35 million a day, he added, yet there still aren't enough pennies to go around in many areas of the nation.

Neill urged that families start gathering these pennies that are hiding in pickle jars, old socks and piggy banks and bring them into the bank so the nation can get Mr. Lincoln back among the people where he belongs.

June has been declared Penny Redemption month by the mint in an effort to cure this artificial shortage, he added.

"For every $25 worth of pennies cashed in at the bank, the U.S. Treasury is going to forward an Exceptional Public Service certificate to the individual or group responsible," Neill added.

Miss Leon Matthis Named Outstanding American Teacher

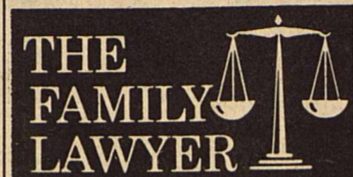

Chosen as an Outstanding Elementary Teacher of America for 1974 is Miss Leon Matthis, teacher in the Albert Baxter School of Bellflower, California.

She was nominated by her principal, Mrs. Elizabeth Cooke, earlier this year and was selected for this honor on the basis of her professional and civic achievements.

In announcing the award winners to the administrators, Dr. V. Gilbert Beers, Director of the outstanding elementary teachers of America program, stated, "The men and women chosen for this high honor have explored new paths, developed new insights and effectively communicated their knowledge to their students and colleagues. They are exceptional teachers." Guidelines for selection include an educator's talent in the classroom, contributions to research, administrative abilities, civic service, and professional recognition.

Miss Matthis had worked in public schools of Texas, Colorado and Central California and is now a resident of Bellflower and assigned as Miller-Unruh Reading Specialist grades 1-3 in Albert Baxter Reading Lab.

A graduate of Sonora High School, Miss Matthis began her teaching career in Lometa and later taught in the Christoval School. She is the sister of Mrs. Haynie Davis and the daughter of the late Rev. L. C. Matthis, who held pastorates in the West (later called South-west) conference for 44 years.

"All My Worldly Possessions"

People who write their own wills often have a weakness for flowery phrases. Unfortunately, literary style does not count in the interpretation of legal documents. Take the case of a well-meaning widow who left "all my worldly possessions" to a beloved friend.

Clearly, this included her personal belongings. But did it also include a sizeable piece of real estate that she owned?

Several relatives turned up in court, insisting they were entitled to the realty. After years of litigation, the beloved friend lost out. The court said that, as nearly as it could figure out from the context, the widow had not intended the disputed language to cover real estate.

In another homemade will case, the phrase "personal things" proved to be a stumbling block. A woman left "my jewelry and other personal things" to her two sisters.

But a brother promptly laid claim to her stocks, bonds, and cash, which he said were not "personal things." However, there was evidence that the woman had often spoken of her "things." Accordingly, the court decided they were all included in the bequest to the sisters.

Even the plainest of words can turn out to be ambiguous when put under close scrutiny by rival claimants to an estate. Major court battles have been waged over the meaning of "house," "farm," and "barn," not to mention "if," "and," "or," "to," and even "et cetera."

True, homemade wills sometimes do work out satisfactorily. But generally speaking, disposing of an estate is no job for an amateur. The person who writes his own will won't be available when it goes into effect, to explain what he meant. Too often, that becomes the business of the courts.

Cindy Cavaness Named Ambassador

Miss Cindy Cavaness, daughter of Milton Cavaness of Sonora and Mrs. Francis Archer of San Angelo, has been selected along with 27 other area college women to serve as an ambassador during the second annual Fiesta del Concho in San Angelo.

Ambassadors are chosen by a selection committee, based upon their interest in community and college activities, and must have completed one year of college study.

Three days of whirlwind activities are scheduled for the young women, focused on the main Fiesta weekend, June 13, 14 and 15.

Ambassadors will be honored with numerous parties and will be formally presented at the Formal Fiesta Dance at the San Angelo Country Club on Thursday, June 13.

On Friday afternoon, June 14, the young women will attend a 1874-1974 Style Show and Tea at Fort Concho. Later they will travel along the Concho River aboard decorated sailboats in the traditional River parade in San Angelo's Santa Fe Park.

Saturday, the ambassadors will attend and participate in Fort Concho activities including tours, a barbecue lunch, pioneer crafts displays, and many other scheduled events.

Finally, on Saturday evening, the ambassadors will be honored at a reception following the pageant performance of "The Land and The River".

Other activities scheduled during Fiesta time, June 7 through 22, include open bowling, antique auto show, regatta, Mexican-American dance, Western dance, AAU National Diving Championships, home tours, food booths and street dancing, canoe and kayak races, Merchants Fiesta Day, static and Calvary displays, hoop races, horseshoe throwing contests, an old-fashioned shoot-out, gymkhana, prayer breakfast, tennis tournament, foot races and square dancing.

Ranchers May File For Wool Incentive Payments For 1974

"Many wool producers have the idea that the Wool Payment Program is no longer active." However, that's not true," said Cliff Elder, executive director of the local County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

"Wool producers may submit their sales documents on wool and unshorn lambs and file an application for payment on 1974 marketings at the county office," Elder stated.

Wool payments were not required in 1973, because the national average price received by producers was 82.7 cents per pound, compared to the incentive payment price of 72 cents per pound. Absence of payments during 1973 may have started a rumor that the program had lapsed, added the ASCS director.

The Agriculture and Consumer Protection Act of 1973 extended the Wool Payment Program through December 1977. The incentive program price level remains at 72 cents per pound, as it has been since 1970.

"ASCS will make payments on 1974 wool only if the national average price received by all producers falls below 72 cents per pound. The final determination of national average price will be made in March 1975, concluded Elder.
